Wait a minute... By Kerry Craig

Modern technology is a wonderful, amazing thing. I think.

That six-bit word, technology, has given us things like tiny radios and televisions, electronic gadgets in space, gee-whiz gadgetry on all sorts of things. Other marvelous mentions include the hold button on the phone and phones with no wires. Another mysterious marvel is the computer-or is it?

When they work, all is fine. When they don't work-well, that is another story.

One of ours went south two times recently. Once last week, and then again this week.

In times like these, when we find that we have placed almost total dependency on these wonderful, amazing, magic machines and they work as they should, they are time-savers. When they come un-wound, we

Winters Council oks 3% tax increase

Following a public hearing attended only by members of the Winters City Council, the council adopted the 1986-87 budget and approved a three-percent increase in city taxes.

General Fund, as approved Monday, includes anticipated revenues of $594,903 and expenditures of $586,880.

According to City Administrator Scott Epperson, the budget approved by the council, does not contain any salary increases for city employees.

Epperson said that the overall budget is $7,613 higher. However, he said, the budget was reduced to $6,048 to begin with. Then insurance was increased by $13,661 to cover a possible 30 percent increase, such as was experienced this year.

The other major portion of the city's budget is Waterworks budget revenues of with $590,000. Expenditures of $249,429 are anticipated in the budget along with an additional expenditure of $329,749 projected for debt service.

Along with the adoption of the budget for the next year, the council gave unanimous approval to a three percent increase in the effective calculated tax rate.

City officials said that the 1986 tax rate will be 64.5 cents per $100 assessed property value, up from the 1985 tax rate

The three percent increase raising the tax rate to 64.5 cents per $100 is an increase in the effective calculated tax rate of 62.62 cents per $100.

The increase from the actual The total budget in the city's tax rate of 1985 is 0.9 percent. The total taxable value for the City of Winters for 1986 is $38,468,805.

> City officials expect a potential revenue from the tax levy of $248,123. The total tax levy for 1985 was $243,968.

In other action Monday, the council approved independent contractors for 1986-87.

The contract for maintenance of all cemetaries was awarded to Blas Lugo. The contract for the city parks was awarded to Albert Sudduth.

Jack Davis was awarded the contract for maintenance at the Winters Community Center. The contract for Fire and Police dispatching went to Jack and Frances Davis.

The contract for the reading water meters was again awarded to Ferrell Dean Hamner.

Before ending the meeting, Mayor Randy Springer advised council members of a called meeting of the council on Thursday, September 25, at 6:30 p.m. The meeting will be to consider police personnel disciplinary action.

Those discussions will be held in an executive session in accordance with the Texas Open Meetings Law.

was meeting. I missed the meeting. I need to say thanks to the city administrator. Scott Epperson dropped by with the information on the meeting Tuesday. Thanks, again.

In case you missed it, Summer ended early Tuesday morning. Fall fell.

It's the time of year when some critters start looking for a place to stay until next year. Among those critters are snakes, of all kinds.

There was the king snake that really got the wife's attention this week when he tried to squeeze past the air conditioner into the house. Boy, did he ever get her attention-and she got mine.

Those folks looking for that sneaky snake down on the rivers better hurry. If they tarry, the snake will hide until next Spring and the Fish and Wildlife folks will be able to say that the snake is nowhere in sight, maybe he is nearly extinct.

Another snake that is moving about now is the rattler. There have been reports of some really biggies. Watch out for these. I can't let this next item wait until next week completely. It is the latest installment in the saga of the steak.

I thought that the Rev. Turner and I had reached a compromise agreement to settle the year-old wager. I've been had again.

Through Gary's efforts, I received a packet of information (press releases I thought) from the American Cancer Society a week or so ago. There was a card in it to sign and send back with the big envelope. I did.

That packet of information was not a bunch of press releases. Gary tricked me into sending the first few installments of our story to the state office of the American Cancer Society. They sent me a letter this week about all the goings-on.

I have been called to the meeting of all the top honchos of that society in Austin. They are going to provide me with a meal, banquet style.

They told me that our efforts would be recognized state-wide. Now, if I can only get Gary to make the trip with me. Whatever they decide to do, he deserves half of it.

Blizzards fall to Pied Pipers 21 to 0

The Winters Blizzards wrapped up their pre-district play in Hamlin Friday with a loss to the Pipers. The Blizzards, now 0-3 for the season, will open district play this week against the Indians of Jim Ned in Tuscola.

In Hamlin, the Blizzards did everything except get into the end zone. The stats indicated the Blizzards were ahead of Hamlin in first downs, 12 to 11. The Blizzards gained 17 yards passing while Hamlin threw for eight yards.

The Blizzards will have a good shot going into their district play against Jim Ned. The Indians barely survived the season last year and have a season winlose record that equals the Blizzards' this year.

With the start of District AA play, the kick-off time is moved up to 7:30 p.m. in Tuscola.

Double Coverage

This is a small world after all. There are two families in this area who have first hand knowledge of Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi who took over the government with a bloodless military coup in September of 1969.

Charlie Blackshear and his brother, Bob, were on the last plane out of Tripoli on their way home to Malta for a four day break from their work in the oilfield on the Sahara Desert. They were employed by Intairdrill, a U.S. based oil company.

The two men saw nothing unsual, all was quiet at 2 a.m.-no tanks or planes in sight-and they knew nothing about the turnover in government.

The next airplane to arrive was carrying Felton Jackson from Malta back to his work in the oilfield. He was accompanied go on to the desert, but Terry was kept at the Mediterranean Hotel for two weeks under a 7 o'clock curfew. He was not supposed to leave the hotel at all. Soldiers were just 13 year-old boys. They shot into the air or at just anything, and even came into the hotel firing.

24 hours. Felton was allowed to

"I was about to go crazy," said Terry's mother, Bobby Sue Jackson. "I didn't know what had happened and I couldn't hear anything." The first thing Gadhafi did was to cut off communications with the radio station on Malta. The U.S. Air Force boys told me all I knew."

Mrs. Jackson, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob King, continued her story as we sat in Mary Jane Blackshear's living room. The two have been good friends since Malta days. Memories came thick and fast. "After Terry was released we didn't hear anything else. Gadhafi just took over and began to change the country. He built a lot of government housing and cleaned up the slums. I'll give him credit for that - it's all the good he did." "He studied law in the United States for nine years in preparation for taking over his government," said Mary Jane. "I've always wondered what happened to their good King Idris. Gadhafi and his revolutionaires went in that night and took him out of the country. He was supposed to have been on vacation, but we never saw him again."

"Gadhafi went back a hundred years in time that night," said Bobby Sue. "He wanted to do away with everything western honey, cheese stick, applesauce, and return to the old ways. He milk ordered his men to shut all night clubs and take all liquor from the Wheeles Air Force Base, the biggest U.S. installation in the world at that time."

Those people are Muslims and do not drink liquor. Gadhafi passed out the book of Koran to anyone who wanted it. The books free for the asking and the people went back to the old laws.

Ships came in to bring food but in the last few years Gadhafi has stopped all imports, consequently, everything costs three times as much as in the United States. A blouse that sells for $8 Same here, costs $32 in Libya.

While in Malta the Blackshears adopted a baby girl and named her Deedra. They returned home in January 1972, but Charlie had to stay another month because their bank acount was frozen, however the oil company for whom he worked took care of them. The Maltese peope were very friendly and helpful, but now it is different. Gadhafi went and built a Mosque.

The Jacksons moved to Libya in 1971 and left in 1975. "They were good years," Bobby Sue recalls. "No incidents happened and the best school that her Same daughter, Tammy, attended was in Tripoli; an American oil school.'

Felton worked nine years in the Libyan desert and liked it better than any place, but radicals were killing people right and left. The family then moved to Mallorca, Spain.

While living in Tripoli, Bobby Sue said that she often saw Gadhafi walking in his yard. He lived in a modest village. He was only 27 when he took over the government. A tall, handome man, but a fanatic. He patterned his life after Hitler and believes Russia will stand behind him. As late as 1982, he still wanted the American oil company there. He knows his people are ignorant and poor and they would be unable to purchase jet fighter planes and finance terroists without American money.

Our neighbors in East Texas think they have the beautiful lakes but they don't have one thing on Oak Creek when it's as full as it now is. If you haven't been to the lake you should come see it for your self. Bring your boat an take an hour or so and explore the creek area above the old railroad bridge. Marion and Larry Ramplee of Southampton, England are visiting the Bob Webb family for three weeks.

Some of the highlights of their trip have been going to the West Texas Fair and Rodeo in Abilene, seeing Lake Buchanan, and Austin LBJ Library, the Capitol, and by the Governor's Mansion, then on to San Antonio to see the Alamo and visit the River Walk. Another great thrill was going to Alamo Village and watching them shoot scenes for Thirteen Days to Glory.

The Italians had built modern buildings with beautiful furnishings. Gadhafi ran them out of the country and destroyed all their furnishings. He also established new laws about the use of hashish. It is against the law for young men to use it but old men can sit on the street and smoke their pipes. "Let the old have the old ways but the young men will do what I say," said their new leader.

Everyone enjoyed the "Suk", an open market where everything but food could be bought. The Berbers, a nomadic tribe, that live on the desert brought their gold in and traded it for money when they needed it to buy something. The Arabs don't put their money in banks. Anyone could purchase this gold at nominal cost.

Mrs. Jackson thinks that the U.S. Air raids on two Libyan cities April 15 of this year was one of the best things we have done to slow Gadhafi down. Of one thing she is sure, the baby that was killed was not his, the incident was used for propaganda.

The Felton Jacksons left Libya in 1975 for Mallorca, Spain. They have lived in several South American countries and now reside in Quito, Ecuador. Their daughter, Tammy, and husband, Randy Wall, also live there. He is employed with Halliburton. Terry is employed with an insurance company in Abilene.

The Blackshears are quite content to live back home but would like to visit Malta again sometime. They have two more children, a daughter, Loy, who is 12 and a son, Perry, nine. Deedra is a senior and a cheerleader in Winters High School.

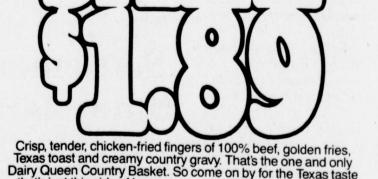

Mrs. Jackson looks forward to time when they can return home. "There is just no place like to good old U.S.A.!" she said.

Limited access to child's records

The address of the Elementary principal office is: 712 N. Heights St., Winters, Texas 79567.

Certain other officials from various governmental agencies may have limited access to the records.

A record of disclosure of personally identifiable information is maintained and available for the parent's inspection. Some items of information are directory in nature and may be released to anyone, without consent, unless the parent objects to its release in writing within 10 school days after the issuance of this notice. Objections to release of any or all directory information should be directed to the principal within thirty school days of receipt of this notice. The following is directory information: a student's name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, awards received in school, most recent previous school attended, and other similar information. Objections to release of any or all directory information should be directed to the principal.

If a parent believes that the student records should be corrected, the parent may request amendment of the records. If the District refuses to amend the records, the parent has the right to a hearing and to place in the student's record a statement commenting on the information.

The parent has the right to file a complaint if they feel that the district is not in compliance with the law regarding student records.

Copies of records are available at a cost of $1.00, payable in advance. Parents may be denied copies of records after their children reach the age of 18 and are no longer dependent, when their children are attending an institution of post-secondary education, or if they fail to follow proper procedure and pay the copying charge. If the student qualifies for free or reduced-price lunches and the parents are unable to view the records during regular school hours, the copying charge for one copy of the records will be waived upon written request to the record custodian.

Please contact the principal or Superintendent if you have questions regarding this notice. Copies of the District's student records policy may be obtained at the Superintendent's office. Winters Independent School District

RIGHTS OF PARENTS AND STUDENTS FAMILY EDUCATION RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT, 20 U.S.C. 1232g

The Winters School District maintains general education records required by law. The District makes available to parents information concerning their child enrolled in school unless the District is notified that the parent does not have that authority under state law. When the student reaches 18 years of age and is no longer dependent, all rights of the parent are transferred to the student. The parents' right to access and copies of student records under this policy does not extend to some types of material used in educating the student that is not included in the coverage of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974. Some common examples include test protocols and teachers' personal notes on the student that are not shared with other personnel except a substitute teacher.

Parents, the student, and officials of the District with legitimate educational interests are the only persons with general access to the records. "School officals" means any employees, agents, or trustees of the District, cooperatives, or contractual placement facilities, as well as attorneys and consultants retained by the District, cooperatives or contractual placement facilities. "School officials" have a "legitimate educational interest" in a student's records when they are working with the student; considering disciplinary or academic actions, the student's case, or a handicapped student's individual education plan; compiling statistical data; or investigating or evaluating programs. The District also forwards education records on request to a school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll without the parent's permission.

The principal is custodian of all records for currently enrolled students at the assigned school. The Superintendent is the custodian of all records for students who have withdrawn or graduated. Records may be reviewed during regular school hours. The records custodian or designee will respond to reasonable requests for explanation and interpretation of the records.

The address of the Superintendent's office is: 603 N. Heights Winters, Texas 79567

Bob Bullock going to keep doors open

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said he's preparing to take steps to keep the state's door open if the Legislature fails to solve Texas' cash flow problems.

"I'm gearing up some bookkeeping maneuvers to get around the cash shortage this December. I'm not talking about 'no pay', but I am talking about 'slow pay' to make sure the state has enough money to pay its bills," Bullock said.

He said a key element could include extensive use or borrowing the state's special funds which frequently earn from fees and taxes literally millions more than is needed to pay appropriations and expenses approved by the Legislature.

Bullock said such a slow pay policy might delay city and MTA tax rebates, payments to the retirement funds and local school districts.

Bullock said the extraodinary bookkeeping measures would sive play. Last year Hamlin held our of fense to six points, but this year we were able to get our offense moving and up our record to 2-0 for the year.

Hamlin had a large team but we were able to continually get outside of them with our sweeps and quick pitches. Our execution offensively came around as this week we concentrated more on specific plays instead of a multiple offense. We were able to have our quarterback, Craig Slaughter, complete 3 of 6 passes, which also enabled us to run more effectively. Timothy Torres had a fine night rushing the ball as he had touchdown runs of 3 yards, 45 yards, and 64 yards. Timothy had 182 yards by Michael Thornhill's 105 yards rushing. The first half our line and our backs were not working very well but in the second half they seemed to wake up and started to make things happen. Our points after have not been very successful this year as we are zero out of five and we will work on that this week and try to improve in this area.

rushing and was complimented

Defensively we played well in spots as we bent many times but never broke. They seemed to rise to the occassion when an opponent threatens their goal line. Billy Waller and Johnny Willborn had exceptional games defensively for us on the line of scrimmage. They controlled the outside game and forced Hamlin's quarterback into numerous mistakes. Our secondary allowed some passes to be completed on them as a result of not following their assignments and we will work this week to correct those mistakes. This Thursday, the 25th, we will face our old rival, Jim Ned. They are going to be improved greatly over last year, as they were short in the number of kids they had out and this hurt them. We need our fans out to the game as it helps our performance greatly. These kids are the future of our Blizzards and we appreciate you coming out and supporting our efforts.

This week the 7th grade will play at 5 p.m., followed by the 8th grade at 6 p.m., which will be followed by our J.V. at about 7:15 p.m.

Ballinger Chamber News

(By Don Bethany)

What a life! Have you ever stopped to think what a Chamber manager or Industrial Development representative goes through trying to sell his town to a new business or industry?

You know, the first impression is usually the one that stays with a new person.

One impression that it takes everyone in a community to contribute to is the impression of collective pride...the pride we have in our families, our customers and businesses, and most important, ourselves.

This impression is represented by the appearance of our communities.

Let me take you on a small tour, along with that "new prospect in town."

Let's start with all the large older homes, our high school, and our beautiful churches.

Gosh! I hope he doesn't notice the vacant, trashy lots. Oh, nohe did notice! Wipe out the impression of all those beautiful buildings he was just shown!

What is the eexplanation? Well, Mr. Prospect, some of those lots are city-owned. Others are individually owned, and some are owned by persons no longer living here.

We are going to start working on them soon. (I would not dare tell him that we have talked for three years - or at least as long as I've been Chamber manager-about those same lots.)

Ok, Mr. Manager, I can relate to that.

Now we are driving through downtown. Goodness! I hope he doesn't look in the alleys. Say, Don-do ya'll have sanitation services in your town?

Yes, sir. See those dumpsters, all in the alley. Look! Just on the other side of those head-high weeds, or that lumber stacked because someone does not want to haul it off.

I hope our sanitation department is not using teams of horses and we grow the grass to on...City Hall?...You are gonna get the blame.

And sure enough, the merchants say, well if the city would get off their ... and clean the sidewalks...they would look nice and then our store would look better.

Surely that prospect' can understand that we have a highway with about 7,500 to 8,500 vehicles passing in 24 hours, and that they threw those two cans down by the oak tree. Say, Mr. or Mrs. Merchant, how long you been in business?

Oh, let me see, says the proud merchant. 'Bout 20 years, I reckon. Ain't never seen business so bad in my life. People just aren't spending money, with the oil and ag the way they Hey, Mr. Prospect, let me take you for a glass of tea. Here, let's take my car. It's right out front. Not bad for service, huh?

After all, he just walked a block and a half to meet the merchant. I wonder why we are going to coffee. Reckon that merchant is going to tell him how bad our economy really is. Well, back at the merchant's, and the prospective new businessman says his goodbyes and how much he enjoyed meeting him.

He says thanks and then adds, I'm on my way to Dallas to pick up my children and wife. I'd like to stop back by Saturday and let them shop.

Great! says the merchant. Just make sure you're here by noon, because we close at that time on Saturday.

The prospect and I are back in the car now and he says, Well I guess I better get on down the road. Show me a service station where I can fill up.

Man, I can handle this. I will take him where I trade. They check the oil, wash the windshield, check the fan belts and even the tires. If there are three of them on duty, they all greet you and go to work.

Man, I'm gonna make a lasting impression that deserves a gold medal!

Be alert to medical emergencies

One out of four persons who are injured or became ill fail to realize the seriousness of the medical problem, according to emergency physicians. And the Texas Department of Health (TDH) warns that the moments lost while a person hesitates to call for emergency help can be fatal.

Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health said, "Emergency medical service (EMS) personnel report that in many cases of serious injury or illness not involving obvious trauma, indecision costs valuable minutes-even dayswhen the victim could be getting help. Some victims still say they don't want to 'bother' EMS, even when they decide they need medical help."

"The fact is that EMS is not always seen as a public service, much like the police with relatively minor complaint about and noise in the neighborhood can delay calling EMS during the first stages of a heart attack or equally deadly illness," Dr. Bernstein said.

Dr.Bernstein cautioned that especially those persons with histories of serious health problems should be alert to the first signs of trouble. He said heart Cecil Halfmann, Garden City, Mrs. Lynn Halfmann, Mrs. James Michalewicz and children, and Louise Michalewicz, came Thursday afternoon.

Walter Jacob was honored on his birthday Sunday in the Ballinger Park with a supper and party by all his children and Margie.

Many more birthdays Walter!

The Doug Bryans visitors during the week were, Margala, Chris and Kay and twin boys. John and Jason Smith from Victoria, Dewitt and Frances, Lelon, Brent, and Glen Benny Bryan, Therin and Nila Osborne.

attacks, respiratory distress, strokes, and other illnesses usually have early warning signs that should be heeded.

"Some symptoms are confusing, such as the upper abdominal pain and chest pressure which can be either indigestion or heart attack," Dr. Bernstein said. "But it is unwise for any victim in pain to try to diagnose himself--he needs competent, medical care, and EMS is the fastest."

Dr. Bernstein said other signals of a medical emergency

* Difficulty in breathing or shortness of breath;

Fainting, or sudden weakness;

* Dizziness, or distorted vision and hearing;

* Sudden severe pain of any kind;

Uncontrollable vomiting;

Suicidal or homicidal feelings.

Consumers eating more chicken

According to consumer information specialist Beverly Rhoades, production efficiency has helped control costs so that chicken prices have risen much less than food prices in general over the last 15 years.

Health and fitness concerns have also spurred chicken consumption, since chicken is a nutrient-dense food that's high in protein and low in calories, says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

Convenience is chicken products, such as luncheon meats, weiners, ready-to-eat salads, frozen entrees and dinners and breaded nuggets, strips and patties provide quick cooking dishes that suit busy lifestyles.

feed the horses while they pull the wagons!

Say, while we are downtown will you please stop? I want to visit some merchants.

Oh, good I get a rest from all the questions. We finally found a parking place near the newspaper office because he wanted to check on advertising first.

At least I got within one and a half blocks of the destination. Oh, no, I forgot the sidewalks and the windows in the business district.

Hey! Maybe he thinks it rained this morning and blowing rain messed up the windows.

Don, what kind of program do ya'll have to clean the weeds from the sidewalk? Never mind, I'll ask the merchant...Hang Oh, no! He doesn't have a credit card for my station. We have to go to another one. What am I gonna do?

Here is a station I have a card for. Yep, there he is...the attendant holding up that gas pump. Last time he smiled was when the Carnegie Library had its grand opening.

You remember the old boy. He sticks the nozzle in, comes to the prospect's window, wipes the sweat off his forehead. Maybe if I introduced him to the prospect he'll get the drift.

Say, this is Mr. Prospect. He's possibly going to move to our community.

Why? says the attendant. Just as soon as my kids get out of school, I'm getting out of this town. Feller can't make a living here.

In 10 years this place is gonna be a hole in the road. My biggest mistake was ever moving here. Ok, that'll be $18. Hurray back, y' hear?

Well, goodbye Mr. Prospect...have a good day...And I mean goodbye for good.

Reasons: Each and everyone of us needs to do one thing. Back off. Look in the mirror. We'll find our answer to our lack of pride in our community - that is if we are still in the beautiful community.

If you are really are interested in this community join a local organization doing its best to improve our community-your Chamber of Commerce.

Just one more group - Mr. or Miss High School senior. Soon you will leave, go to college, possibly marry and have children.

And I am real sorry we as a town did not provide something for you to do, because we do not have the money.

We don't dare think about raising a few taxes-too many fixed incomes. Surely you at your age understand that.

Maybe you can attend college and come back. We can't guarantee you a job to make a living-but at least the drag may be bigger for you to ride up and down with your children and count the memories-dead memories.

I'm sure your kids will think your memories are just as corny as they can be. Who cares about that prospect? He was only gonna hire 25 people.

That new manufacturing job would mean with just 25 employees:

An estimated $487,000 in personal income.

A total of 16 nonmanufacturing jobs in town.

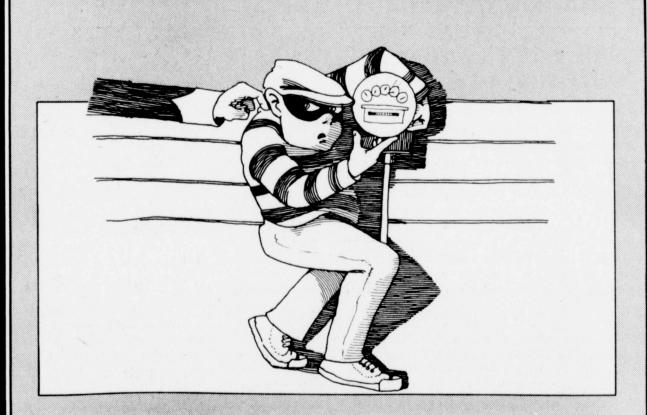

A total of 50 new citizens. Oh. yes-we don't want to grow. A total of 25 new family units, and a 15.2 percent school enrollment increase. About $368,362 in retail sales. Is your town ready for Stacy Dam? Can we handle the growth? Will each of you do your part in preparing for Stacy Dam?

Does our pride in our community really matter? It does to me. I'm gonna do my part.

IS AGAINST THE LAW

Stealing Energy is a Felony

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy Theft is Dangerous

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

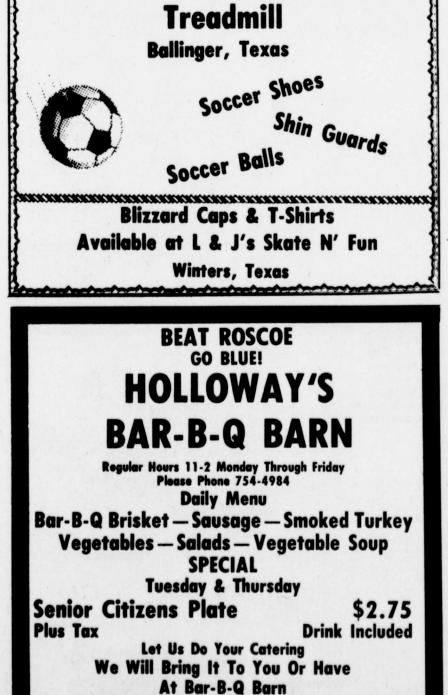

A Crime Against You

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU --- they are also stealing from you, as a ratepayer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU Will Prosecute

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

Southwest Classic set

Many amateur golfers would like to have their swings analyzed, but few can find the time or money to do it.

By visiting the Vantage Cup Scoreboard Center at Fairway Oaks Golf & Racquet Club during the Southwest Classic on September 25-28, amateur golfers can try their hand at the state-of-the-art swing analyzer that is not only fast and fun, but free.

Visitors swing at a fixed ball, and an electronic eye records such information as ball speed, club head angle and distance. This information is displayed on a computer terminal and participants receive a written analysis of their swing.

In addition, visitors can pretend they are Jack Nicklaus or resided most of her life. She was Tom Watson putting for a win in married to Emil Salge the Southwest Classic when S they putt for prizes at the Vantage Cup putting green. Individuals who sink one or more putts will win a golf-related prize.

> Like the swing analyzer, the Vangate Cup putting green is free.

Vantage also is offering a special sweepstakes to introduce its new $2 million Vantage Cup competition in 1986. Any visitor who is 21 years or older can enter the Vantage Cup Championship Sweepstakes.

Randon drawings will be held three time each day and entrants can win Vantage prizes such as golf bags, sweaters and shirts.

Winners are automatically eligible for the grand prize drawing for an expense-paid trip for two to the Vantage Championship at Oak Hills Country Club in San Antonio, Texas, on October 23-26.

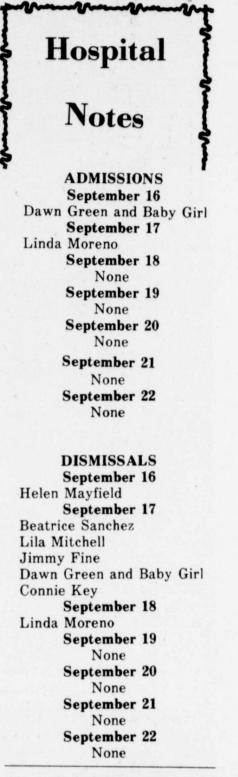

The Vantage Club is the season-long points competition that will determine a national champion for the PGA Tour.

Players can accumulate points in each official money event throughout the season. The winner will receive a $500,000 bonus at the end of the year. Prizes will be awarded through the 25th place, which pays $10,000.

Center also includes a video program narrated by ABC sportscaster Frank Gifford on the Vantage Cup program, a graphic description of the 10 golden rules of golf and a scaled-down version of the Vantage Scoreboard which will also appear at the Southwest Classic.

Golf fans will have the opportunity to view their names on the mini-scoreboard and receive a souvenir photo of the occasion.

Television monitors throughout the center will also provide live tournament coverage.

The District is within oneeighth interest in a final 1,600-ac. tract needed for the construction of the dam, Ivie reported. He said the Texas Department of Highways and Transportation has in hand proposals for rerouting roads and highways around the Stacy reservoir. Preliminary surveys of archarlogical exploration also are underway. There is a good prospect that the U.S. Corps of Engineers will announce its decision on the 404 Permit, required for construction to begin, by late November, he declared. In other matters, the board engaged the Big Spring accounting firm of Lee, Reynolds and Welch to audit the District's 1986 books. The firm currently serves as auditor. More than 75,000 ac. ft. of water was caught in Lake J.B. Thomas and Lake E.V. Spence, Ivie reported, and for the past week releases have been made from the Lake Spence dam to offset some of the high-chloride water spilling from Natural Dam Lake 12 miles west of Big Spring. Spills around an emergency spillway there have dropped from an initial peak of 2,200 ac. ft. per day to some 600 ac. ft., and this may go on for three or four weeks. Had not the dam been raised five feet in July and an emergency spillway cut, unprecedented runnoff in Sulphur and Buzzard Draws would have caused the lake to top and probably wipe out the dam. John Taylor, president, said this might have loosed a catastrophic wall of water some 10 to 12 feet deep through the heart of Big Spring.

Computer course to be held

A Introduction to Computers course will be held at the Winters High School computer lab, Beginning Tuesday, September 30 ending Tuesday, November 25.

Saturday, September 20, three Winters FFA members made another good showing at the Howard County Fair's Prospect Steer Show.

Shane Groves took first place with his Chianina steer and went on to win Reserve Champion of the Breed. He also placed fifth with his Hereford.

Two of our younger members got off to a good start this year. Ashley Allcorn, on her first time to show steers, placed second with one of her Herefords and sixth with her other Hereford. Ben Barker also did an outstanding job showing his Hereford, placing fifth, and fourth with his Chianina steer.

These students were accompanied by their FFA advisor, Mr. Roy Shackleford, and their parents.

Proclamation

Winters Mayor Randy Springer signs the official MDA proclamation as members of the Total Teens look on Monday.

> CITY OF WINTERS OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

WHEREAS, dreaded childhood diseases are killing many thousands of children each year, and

WHEREAS, only medical research provides hope of discovering the still unknown causes of leukemia and other childhood cancers, muscle disorders, rare blood diseases and other illnesses that strike our young, and

WHEREAS, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, founded by Danny Thomas, is the only research center in America devoted solely to basic and clinical research in these catastrophic disease areas, and

WHEREAS, this institution is leading the way to new treatment procedures that have greatly increased the rate of survival, and

WHEREAS, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital depends upon public support to continue this vital work;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Randy Springer, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Winters, do hereby proclaim September 27, 1986 as WINTERS-ST.
