Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

While contemplating all the current events at home and abroad, trying to shake the chill from the Sunday and Monday frost and still trying to get the mud off my high-top brogans and straining the gray matter for some topic to discuss this week, I considered a number of things.

There is the Holy war between the well-dressed television preachers—or you could call it the un-Holy war on Pray TV.

All bunk. It's just a struggle for power—and money.

All those guys might take lessons from Bro. Roberts. Without a fight he got his millions from his followers after he told them his boss would take him away if he didn't get the big bucks. He got his money and didn't cause any big stink among his peers.

Let us look at the standings in the war. Falwell got PTL. Pat Roberts didn't get much support for his race for the White House, and Bakker just got out—and his alleged girl friend got paid.

It all really seems to be a lot of to do over money. You know, folks telling you how God needs your money—and they give you their address.

Then there is all the uproar and resignation in Abilene. The top cop quit after a row with the city manager and one faction of the council is upset with another.

To top all that, the candidates for the city election there are not just standing on the sidelines watching.

Something sounds familiar about all that.

Warren Dodson was their police chief for about 30 years. Jim Blagg has been city manager for a couple of years, or so.

The chief is much liked and respected by his officers and the residents of Abilene. The same is not quite true of the city manager.

This story still rings bells.

I wonder if the news-types in the big city (the ones looking for the big scoop) will devote as much attention to their own problems as they did to their neighbors.

One thing for sure, our problems have gone away. We have now got some good folks who have become neighbors in our community.

Among other things that we could talk about might include the latest in Washington with all that to do. We could talk about the State Legislature. We might even talk about the weather—we would have to leave out all the bad, four-letter words though.

Oh yeah, there is the wet-dry mess up at the Gap, and the fued over permits for peddlers at the flea market there. Those folks might consider the thought, "If it aint broke, don't fix it."

Something else we might discuss is the time change—again.

That's right. We start Daylight Savings Time Sunday morning at 2:00 a.m. Well, I'll just set my clock ahead one hour before I go to bed and be on time Sunday.

Since the battery ran down in my educated, synchronized, digital chronograph that, along with telling the time and date, told what time it was somewhere else and what day it was there, and rang an alarm, and had a 43-page instruction book for setting the darn thing, I got a good Waterbury and stay on time—simply.

There really are a bunch of goodies that we could dissect here but, I found something even better.

There, right beside my computer terminal, was a thing from the Texas Department of Health. It was one of those things that tell how much a "minor inconvenience" does and how much it frustrates you.

Say "NO" to drugs

The Winters Lions Club presented awards to six Winters Elementary School students last week at the conclusion of a drug-awareness poster contest.

The first place winners received a plaque and a check and the second and third place winners received checks.

City, school, hospital elections are Saturday

Voters will go to the polls Saturday to vote in races for two Winters City Council seats, the office of Mayor, three seats on the Winters Independent School District Board of Trustees, and four places on the Board of Directors for the North Runnels Hospital District.

In the city election, the seats held by Sandra Griffin and Lloyd J. Gilbert. Both Griffin and Gilbert will be seeking election to their first full terms on the council after being appointed to fill out unexpired terms.

They are being opposed in their election bids by John Boyd Bedford and Ted M. Butler. Winters Mayor Randy Springer is unopposed in his bid for re-election.

By the end of absentee voting in the city election, a total of 10 ballots had been cast.

The voting place for the city election will be the Winters Fire Department at the Winters City Hall.

In the North Runnels Hospital District election six candidates are running for four seats on the hospital board. Of those six candidates, only two are incumbents. Board members Lanny Bahlman and George Mostad are not seeking another term on that board.

Incumbents Randall Boles and Bob Webb are seeking re-election and are on the ballot along with Kerry Craig, 41, editor of The Winters Enterprise and an Emergency Medical Technician, Phillip Colburn, 27, farmer, Randy Nolte, 32, Paramedic and owner of North Runnels Emergency Service and Archie Jobe, 35, owner of the Country Cobbler.

In absentee balloting in the hospital district election, 10 votes were cast.

The voting place for the North Runnels Hospital District election will be the Winters Chamber of Commerce office.

In the Winters Independent School District election incumbents Joe Bryan, Gary Don Pinkerton, and Charles Allcorn are unopposed in their re-election bids.

WISD officials said, late Tuesday, that there was a good turnout of absentee voters for that election.

Rustling, burglary indictments returned

A total of 24 indictments were returned Friday by the 119th District Grand Jury in Runnels County. Those indictments ranged from cattle theft, to the burglaries of several Winters businesses, welfare fraud, to forgery.

Four persons were indicted on charges of making a false entry on a government document. The four were alleged to have made false statements about family income in order to receive food stamps.

Indicted on the charges were Emerine Jonas, Loretta Rodriguez, Quincarlita Logan, and Florinda O. Rodriguez. After the indictments, bonds for the four were set at $1,500 each.

Six persons were named in five indictments alleging felony theft, more than $750 and less than $20,000, in connection with the theft of seven head of cattle from W. D. Kirk. After-indictment bonds of $5,000 each were set for the men.

Named in the indictments were Clent Ardell Dodson, Sr., Clent Ardell Dodson, Jr., Bobby Davenport, John Paul Stuber, Jr., Steven Carlos Edwards and George Wayne Montgomery. Bobby Davenport, John Paul Stuber and George Wayne Montgomery are all being held in the Taylor County Jail in Abilene.

Sheriff's officers said that the arrests and indictments of the men may have cleared up a major cattle rustling operation that worked in several counties.

A number of burglaries as well as a forgery by passing case in Winters resulted in a large number of indictments against a large number of people.

George Mendoza, of Winters, was indicted on charges of burglary of a vehicle in connection with the theft of several guns from a pick up owned by George Mostad. Bond for Mendoza was set at $5,000.

Indicted on a charge of forgery by passing was Felix Rios, also known as Felix Reyes, also known as Bendigro Cruz Rios. He was indicted in connection with an altered check which was cashed at a Winters grocery store.

The illegal alien, from Mexico, also escaped from the Runnels County Jail shortly after he was arrested on the forgery charge. The escape charges were not presented to the grand jury.

Billy Joe Parks, of Coleman and being held in the Brown County Jail in Brownwood, was

Winters' new Police Dept. has been busy

Winters Police Chief Ted Galloway summed up his department's activities for the month of March. The chief said that the report was for the first full month with the new administration in the department.

A total of 70 calls were answered by police officers, of those calls, 22 were to assist citizens.

The department also issued 52 traffic citations and an additional 25 warning tickets.

Seven traffic accidents were investigated, three of which resulted in injuries.

A total of four arrests were made for driving while intoxicated. Three were for misdemeanor DWI and one was a felony DWI which resulted in a grand jury indictment.

One burglary was investigated along with four separate theft cases and the department made three arrests on outstanding warrants.

Galloway also said that investigations by his department resulted in arrests, and grand jury indictments, that apparently cleared at least four burglaries of businesses in Winters.

The monthly report, in a break-down, showed that officers answered 11 disturbance calls, responded to seven burglar alarms and assisted other law enforcement agencies in two cases.

Police officers also assisted emergency medical personnel and fire department rescue workers in freeing a man who had been caught in a grain auger.

The police chief also said that officers answered one call attributed to suspicious circumstances.

I would like to say a heart felt thank you to Jonny and Lana Fulton of the L&J's Sake N Fun skating rink in Winters, for without their co-operation and time in handling the skate for me and MDA we wouldn't have had such a great skate, and success, and also the parents and kids of Runnel County for their skating for us. Our first (1) place winner was Kenneth Merrifield of Ballinger for $335.19, for a new pair of skates donated by

We had 21 skaters and the total amount raised at this time is $906.85 and there is still more coming in. And last but not least, a big thank you to the good people that sponsored the Kids to skate.

Mail order drugs

THIS IS ONE PRESCRIPTION THAT'S NOT FOR YOU!

It's only human nature...

You like to save a few dollars when you shop, don't you? After all, who doesn't like a bargain price in a bracelet or wallet? But, when you buy prescription drugs by mail, do you really want to bargain away your health?

When you buy drugs by mail, here's what you're missing:

- Personalized service from the "drug expert" — your pharmacist — who knows you;
- Which other drugs you may be taking that would interact dangerously with your new prescription
- Whether you might be allergic to the new medication because of the "patient profiler" he/she keeps on you
- Your own "consultant," there in the pharmacy to answer your questions about this medication and other non-prescription items you may want to use
- Access to your pharmacist, in an emergency or on a 24-hour basis or even at home when you, because of illness, can't get to the pharmacy

The next time your health plan describes the "benefits" of mail order prescription drugs, ask yourself these questions:

- What do you do until the medicine arrives in the mail?
- What do you do if the medicine is lost?
- What do you do if the medicine is stolen?
- What do you do when the medicine you take runs out?
- How long will it be before you can be resupplied?
- Do you really want to receive larger than normal quantities of a medicine, which can lead to abuse and waste?
- Do you really deserve fourth-class health care?

Let's face it: Your pharmacist knows you — the nature of your health problem and why you're taking certain drugs to help solve that problem. He/she knows because a patient profile is kept on persons like you who use pharmacy services. Your pharmacist also knows you, because he/she is right there in your hometown, an important part of the business and professional community serving you and your family. The mail order prescription drug business doesn't know you or your special needs, the way your pharmacist does, and does not add to your local economy.

Do you really want to give all this up — the quality of your own health care — to save a few dollars? Think about it for a minute. We believe you'll agree:

RONdom thoughts

By RON BIRK

Goodbye Old Friend!

We encountered each other almost daily for over five years. The two of us traveled together more than 90,000 miles.

In all those years, all those miles, my companion never let me down. We always got where we were going, when we needed to get there.

I had one trusty truck. But now the time had come to part. The age and mileage of my road partner were reaching the point where I wondered how much further I could push my truck. And, to be honest, my wandering eye had been attracted to a younger, more attractive travel companion with far less mileage.

I had purchased the new vehicle and was now cleaning up my old truck to see if I could sell it.

It was a nostalgic experience. As I washed the outside I was reminded of adventures we had been through together.

There was the dent on the side resulting from the vicious surprise attack of a log hidden in high grass. A crease in the front bumper was the embarrassing reminder of the time I got out to close a gate, didn't set the brake, and then watched in frozen awe as my truck slowly rolled away, made a graceful arc to the left, and gently, but firmly hit a fence post.

Various decals and bumper stickers had appeared on the truck over the years. They came off surprisingly easy, but still with little tugs at my heart.

There was an outdated Southwest Texas University parking permit and an SWT Bobcat NCAA Division 11 National Champs in 1981 and '82. On the other side was a "San Marcos Naturally" sticker. All of these were reminders of one residence and one occupation.

Two other stickers told the world of my other profession and other home—"Magnificent Mohair" and "Shop Downtown Pontotoc". Getting the vacuum cleaner I started cleaning up the inside. I was immediately impressed with how much can be stowed away and forgotten in a "king-cab pickup".

I discovered a tattered raincoat, an "Inn Of The Mt. Gods" cap, a space blanket, a dusty tin cup, three Frisbees, a cigar box of cassette tapes, old Campus Ministry newsletters, a fire extinguisher, fur-lined gloves, leaves, the inevitable penny, and a torn sack of "necessary stuff" I had transferred from my previous truck—and never used!

The glove compartment was almost full: maps, checkbooks, receipts, owner's manual, tire gauge, spare glasses, tooth picks, mini-flashlight, and a crumpled sample of "scoured and combed" mohair.

Some of these items went into the trash, but most were quickly placed into my new vehicle.

Removing the collection of rattlesnake rattles from the never used lighter and peeling off the western cartoon mini-calendar from the dash, I thought I was through, that I had everything out. But then I remembered the spare keys in the ash tray.

That was it. The transition had taken place. I had said goodbye to a significant part of my past.

My rational side says it is foolish to get so attached to a piece of machinery. But my sentimental side says—it happens!

My theological side says God doesn't make automobiles and has no feelings towards them. My human side says people make autos, and God makes people. People get fond of their creations, and God is fond of his creatures. Therefore you can build a case for God creating and being fond of automobiles. A shaky case, true, but a provocative one nevertheless.

In any case, I was strongly attached to my truck. It served me well. My thanks and appreciation to its creator(s).

Seafood a spring food feature

Excellent supplies of farm-raised catfish, gulf coast seafood and canned fish are coming in just in time to match Texans' yearning for seafood as the weather begins to warm. According to reports from Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service marine and fisheries specialists, consumers will find the following fresh seafood available: Texas grown crawfish are in good supply. Retail prices range from $1.50 to $2.70 per pound, depending upon location in the state. Farm-raised catfish supplies are excellent and should hit their peak in April. Regular prices range from about $2.20 - $2.50 per pound for dressed whole catfish and $3.50 - 4.00 per pound for catfish filets. However, some stores have been running specials due to the heavy supplies. Of the gulf coast seafood, blue crab is in good supply. Blue crab is selling at 50 cents each live, $6 per pound for claw meat and $9 per pound for prime lump meat. Other gulf coast fish available in the stores include snapper, grouper, fresh tuna and shark.

Texas Farm Bureau seeking relief for Texas farm operators

S. M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said he had been assured by USDA officials that a new directive on payment limitation would give relief to farm operators.

Under the 1985 farm bill, there is a $50,000 payment limit per farm. Stricter interpretations this year by USDA had jeopardized some farmers who have certain business ties with close relatives.

True and Vernie Glasson, TFB director of public affairs, met Wednesday, March 25, in Washington with USDA officials to request that the interpretations be softened to give relief.

They met with Milton Hertz, administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and two key associates; and separately with Peter Myers, USDA deputy secretary.

Truse said both Hertz and Myers promised that USDA would issue a new directive "within a few days" to all state ASCS offices, clarifying the matter. The new directive would be in addition to one issued March 25 to county ASCS executive directors and committeemen, True pointed out.

"Farm Bureau is not seeking relief for those who may be purposely subverting the intent of the law," True told the officials. "However, USDA's attempt to clamp down on abuses is causing serious concern for many legitimate farmers."

The Farm Bureau leaders cited several actual examples that have been in question. In each case, the USDA officials assured them that the payment eligibility would not be affected, True said.

These examples are:

"(1) Cases where health problems resulted in disability of a father during a crop year. The father and son operate with their own financing, separate equipment, on separate farms. Due to the father's health problems (such as a heart attack), the son has to finish the crop.

"(2) Cases where father and son have separate operations and because of weather problems one of their farms dries up earlier and both operators plant the crop on that farm and then move over to the other farm to plant that crop.

"(3) Cases where two brothers have separate bulk fuel tanks and one brother uses his truck's fuel tank to transfer his brother's fuel to his brother's tractor."

The TFB president also cited a personal example in which he and his brother had helped one another for over 30 years in putting in crops or harvesting crops as family members helping family members, yet having separate farm operations, separate financing and a minimal sharing of equipment.

The USDA officials assured True that both he and his brother will continue to be eligible for separate payment limitations.

The problems with interpretations surfaced in early March during the state ASCS committee meeting in San Antonio. Many producers have contacted the TFB on the matter.

True and other leaders in Texas have been busy in the past few weeks, seeking relief in the way the rules are interpreted. Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and John Datt, director of the AFBF's Washington office, have also conferred with USDA officials on the matter.

Bentsen expects boost to Texas economy from increased Texas-Mexico trade

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said on Saturday that the Texas economy should be helped this year by an increase in Texas exports to Mexico, even though overall U.S.-Mexico trade may deteriorate.

"Improved trade between Texas and Mexico should be a bright spot this year for our state's economy," Bentsen said in releasing a Joint Economic Committee staff analysis of U.S. and Texas trade with Mexico.

"Last year, exports to Mexico through Texas ports and border crossings declined when plummeting oil prices hurt our state's economy and worsened a recession in Mexico brought on by the peso devaluations.

"But this year, Mexico will have more money to spend and they'll be able to buy more Texas products."

"We expect this for several reasons. With the rise in oil prices, Mexico's economy will improve, its foreign debt problems should ease at least temporarily, and benefits will continue from stabilized interest rates."

"When that price of oil goes up, however, it also means that the United States will have to pay more for the oil it buys from Mexico. So the overall trade deficit the United States has with Mexico should increase and will probably go to $6 billion sometime this year."

But Texas itself imports very little of that oil, so the increased price should not hurt our state's trade balance with Mexico."

The JEC analysis concludes, in fact, that this year or next year Texas will probably have a surplus in its trade with Mexico for the first time since 1982 when the peso devaluations started," the Senator said.

"That surplus would be good news, indeed, for Texas," Senator Bentsen said.

Boy Scouts to fight drug abuse

"Be Prepared" has always been the Boy Scout Motto and the Boy Scouts of America has launched an all out campaign to help young people to be prepared to "say no" to drugs.

This effort will officially kick off in the local Chisholm Trail Council on April 4 according to Don Knecht, Council Scout Executive. There will be special ceremonies at 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 4, where hundreds of Scouts will be gathered for the 1987 Scout-O-Rama. The location for these kickoff ceremonies will be the Old Thornton Building in Westgate Mall in Abilene, and the National Guard Armory in Sweetwater. Scouts, leaders, and spectators will join in the

Donating blood is a safe and simple procedure

The only way people who need blood can get it is from other people. According to the Texas Medical Association, despite much experimentation, there is still no substitute for the genuine thing. Without volunteer donors, there would be no supply of blood.

A new TMA pamphlet, "Blood Donation: Give Blood So Others Can Live!" answers many of the questions you may have about donating blood.

Giving blood is a safe and simple procedure that takes less than an hour and involves no risk of exposure to disease. The process begins with a confidential medical interview.

After the interview, a "mini-physical" is performed which includes taking your temperature, pulse, and blood pressure. A small sample of blood is taken from your finger to determine your hemoglobin content.

ceremonies which will last about 15 minutes. Community leaders will also be involved.

The special effort will extend through 1987, and will feature cooperation with schools, churches, and other agencies involved in the battle against drug abuse. Over 3,000 youth members and 1,000 registered adults are expected to join in the anti-drug abuse programs which emphasize prevention and education.

With the help of Coca Cola and Champion International, special booklets entitled "Drugs, A Deadly Game", have been made available to all of the councils in the United States for their registered youth members. In addition, the Council hopes to make this literature available to non-Scouts as well. There is also a teacher or leader's guide that presents suggestions for review and discussion.

The matter of drug-including alcohol-abuse is nothing new to the Scouting organization, however. For years alcohol and tobacco have been branded enemies in Scouting literature. Chief Scout Executive Ben Love has emphasized four things as "unacceptables" which Scouting will do all it can to eliminate. They are (1) Drug abuse, (2) child abuse, (3) unemployment, and (4) illiteracy.

The Chisholm Trail Council effort will include the 9 1/2 county area in and around Abilene.

Parents dealing with teen depression

Recent highly publicized teenage suicides in other states have once again focused Texas parents' concerns closer to home. "Like adolescents everywhere, many Texas youngsters are under a great deal of stress," says family life education specialist Diane Welch. "This stress may lead to distress and then to depression."

Depression takes many forms and has a wide variety of symptoms. Many mental health professionals think adolescents experience masked depression or behaviors that are indirect evidence of their depression, Welch says. These indirect signs include low school achievement, school phobia, drug and alcohol abuse, anorexia nervosa, social isolation, sexual promiscuity and delinquency. "Parents who are concerned that their child is at risk of serious depression which may lead to suicide should not hesitate to call a local hospital, mental health clinic or suicide hotline for help," she advises.

Computer match generates new registrations

The names of 904 individuals who have received federal Pell Grants-students financial assistance-have been referred to the Department of Education by the Selective Service System. They were identified by a computer matching program as possible lawbreakers, and will be ineligible for additional student financial aid if found not to be in compliance with the registration requirement. This referral was only a partial submission of names. There are plans to make additional referrals in the future.

Through the computer matching program between the Department of Education and Selective Service 37,000 men who either applied for, or received Pell Grants have registered with Selective Service as of March 19. Their identities were discovered by Selective Service through a computer match of Department of Education Pell Grant applicant and recipient lists and Selective Service registration files. It cannot be said how many of those men had been in violation of the registration requirement when they applied for or received a grant. Students whose names did not match a record in the registration database received letters informing them they were suspected nonregistrants, and would be considered ineligible for federal financial assistance if they are required to register and have not done so.

The sharing of records between Education and Selective Service stems from provision of Public Law 97-252. An amendment to the Military Selective Service Act requires that men be in compliance with the registration law to be eligible for student financial aid under Title IV of the Higher Education Act. The rationale behind this amendment was that young men unwilling to risk being called to serve the nation in a future crisis should not be allowed to benefit from federally funded student aid programs.

Rep. Gerald B. Solomon (R-NY) sponsored the legislation which has become known as the Solomon Amendment. Mr. Solomon is a strong supporter of Selective Service and his legislation has been instrumental in increasing the registration rate. "Registration is something that I believe strongly in. If a young man is going to accept the benefits that his country has to offer, then he must be willing to accept the responsibilities that come with them. One of these responsibilities is registration."

According to Selective Service Acting Director Wil Ebel, young men who are 18 through 25 years old, must be registered. There are few exceptions. Ebel reports that over 96 percent are complying with the law.

Failure to register is a felony. Besides being ineligible for student grants and loans, nonregistrants forfeit eligibility for appointment to federal employment and job training programs. They also risk criminal prosecution and, if convicted, face a fine of up to $250,000 or a jail term of up to five years, or both.

Savings Bonds sales in Texas up in March

During the first quarter of calendar year 1986, Texas Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds amounted to $94,802,245, an increase of over $13 million over 1985 for 16.4%. T. J. Morrow, District Director for U.S. Savings Bonds Division in Dallas, announced. March 1986 sales of Series EE Bonds were $33,634,254, an increase of 15.1% over March 1985.

Sales of Series EE Bonds amounted to $21,497 during March in Runnels County, Judge E. C. Grindstaff, Volunteer County Chairman, said, which represents 49.0% of the County's 1986 assigned dollar goal.

Nationally, March sales of U.S. Savings Bonds totaled $600 million, 40% above March a year ago and the highest sales for any March since 1979. Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds for the first half of Fiscal 1986 increased 40% over the same period a year ago. Savings Bonds held by the American public reached an all-time high—over $81 billion for the first time ever—to $81.42 billion.

Much of the sales growth can be attributed to the new market-based rate which was effective November 1, 1982. The current rate in effect during the time of these sales (November 1985 thru April 1986) for Bonds held five years or longer is 8.36%. The average rate since November 1, 1982 is 9.69 percent. Bonds held at least five years earn 85 percent of the average rate on five-year Treasury marketable securities during the holding period of 7.5 percent, whichever is more. Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

Information on rates, including the new semiannual rate as soon as it is available, can be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-US BONDS.

Teachers Association wins court battle

The Texas State Teachers Association has won a major court battle that will broaden due process rights for all Texas public school teachers.

In a decision handed down Wednesday, March 25, the 3rd Court of Appeals in Austin ruled that local school boards must afford teachers the opportunity for evidentiary hearings at the local level in grievance and other cases.

"This decision represents a major step forward in assuring that all teachers will be afforded a fair and reasonable hearing of their grievances at the local level," TSTA President Charles Beard said.

Houston attorney Bob Hall, who was retained by TSTA to represent the two plaintiffs in the case, said the decision could result in fewer grievance cases being appealed to the Texas Education Agency and the courts because more cases would be settled at the local level.

The ruling was handed down in a nine-year-old case in which school boards in Crockett and Stockdale refused to grant two TSTA members hearings to discuss board decisions not to renew their contracts.

Sandra L. Ayotte was a high school coach and junior high teacher in the Stockdale Independent School District and Herbert Yielding was a junior high principal in the Crockett ISD when their respective school boards voted in 1978 not to renew their contracts. Both requested hearings from their boards to discuss their termination, but both denied those requests.

Ayotte and Yielding appealed the board decisions to the state commissioner of education, who ruled that neither was entitled to a hearing because their requests for hearings failed to claim violations of constitutional, statutory, or common law rights. The commissioner was upheld by the State Board of Education and a Travis County district judge.

The appeals court, however, ruled that TEA rules did not require a showing of such violations in the request for hearing. In fact, the court concluded that the school boards' refusal to grant hearings made it impossible for either plaintiff to develop facts to assert such violations because neither was informed of the reasons their contracts were not renewed.

"Under these circumstances, the agency may not fairly require from either applicant the prescience as to plead his grievance in the written request for hearings," the court stated.

TEA rules require local school boards to afford "aggrieved parties" with full hearings on grievances or controversies involving administrative actions or other problems. Hall said, however, that TEA simply was not enforcing its own rules.

The appeals court remanded the cases of both Ayotte and Yielding to the local school boards for full evidentiary hearings on their grievances.

Hall said the decision will reduce arbitrary and capricious actions by local school officials because those actions now will will be open to board and public scrutiny.

"What TSTA was trying to do in this case was to compel local school boards to conduct rational, fair due process hearings at the local level so disputes can be settled without going to court," he said. "If the school boards do what the court is telling them to do, we can avoid litigation."

To The People of Winters, Texas

First of all Saturday, April 4, is election day and I urge you to go to the Polls and Vote.

I am a Candidate for re-election and I ask for your vote and support. I am filling the term of Ted Meyer (not taking his place, as that would be impossible) and I am proud to be a part of two things that we have done.

First we have re-constructed our Police Dept. by hiring a new Police Chief (Ted Galloway) and also he has brought our Police Dept. to five full time jobs. Ted still has lots of work to do but that all takes time.

Second we have hired a new City Manager (Chuck MacIlvaine) and he is doing us a great job. Chuck has some plans for the future but all of this takes time. I urge you to get behind our City, the Council and Chuck, I support them and help Winters to be a better place to live.

My platform is—I am for anything that will make Winters a better place to live and above all do this without a tax increase. Again let met say to you Go Vote.

Coach Dearen said, "The team did very well considering the cold and high winds. We have only two weeks left before our District meet at Brownwood on April 10. We need some good weather and stay away from injuries between now and district. One area of concern is getting our relay teams in better shape and our timing in the sprint relay. Right now it looks like Goldthwaite, Coleman and us are the top three teams, but Bangs isn't far behind for the team title."

7th Grade Girls Compete in relays

The seventh grade girls did a good job at Breckenridge. This was a tough meet with larger schools entered. Our girls keep improving and trying harder to better their times and distances each week. They placed sixth out of fourteen teams. Graham won the meet, followed by Breckenridge, Coleman, Wylie, Mineral Wells, Winters, Hamlin, Stamford, Archer City, Munday, and Haskell. Also three other teams that didn't score.

Scoring for Winters were:
- Ruby Arroyo, 2-mile, 2nd, 16:06.98
- Ann Vasquez, 800 M., 2nd, 2:55.17
- Carrie Smith, 400 M., 3rd, 1:14.64
- Kimberley Deike, 400 M., 4th, 1:14.64
- (Kimberley Deike, Amada Cortez, Anabel Cabrera, Ann Vasquez), 1600 Relay, 3rd, 5:10.66

The girls should be commended for their efforts. They really have worked hard and their attitude has been great. The seventh grade girls and boys will compete in Jayton on Friday. Field events start at 4 p.m., running finals will be at 4:30.

8th Grade places well at Breckenridge

The 8th Grade boys and girls track teams comted this past weekend in Breckenridge. The kids found out real quick what speed is. The times that were run at this meet were not just fast, they were eclipses, one second they were there and the next they weren't. Considering the 20-25 MPH winds, our times were excellent, but not good enough.

We improved in nearly all events and as far as I'm concern-

Scout-O-Rama set for April 4

The annual Chisholm Scout Show, known as Scout-O-Rama this year, will be held Saturday, April 4, in two separate locations.

Scouting units from the Southern District will demonstrate Scouting skills and fun games at the old Thornton Building location in Westgate Mall and it will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Northern District units will participate in the Scout-O-Rama at the Sweetwater National Guard facility, and the hours are from 2 to 4 p.m.

In both locations there will be special ceremonies at 3 p.m. officially kicking off the Anti-Drug Abuse Program of the Boy Scouts of America in the Chisholm Trail Council. These ceremonies, participated in by community leaders, will last about 15 minutes, and then the ed thats what counts. I compared some of the times that were reun at this meet to some of the times in Varsity meets around the area and a great number of them would have placed in those meets and in two instances the Jr. High times would have won the events.

The meet contained 14 teams so there were anywhere from 30 to 42 participants in each event. There were four Class 4A teams and Four Class 3A teams present and the competition was well above average. By running at these extremely tough meets I believe it is preparing us for our upcoming district meet in two weeks.

This week we will be running in the Ballinger Relays starting at 10 a.m. against another strong field. We would like to see a great many specators there lending your support to our youth of Winters. They represent themselves extremely well in a manner our town should be proud of.

show will resume normal activities.

Cub Scouts, Tiger Cubs, Webelos, Boy Scouts, and Explorers, are preparing for these events in two ways. First, many are selling tickets for $1 each. They can earn prizes for themselves, money for their unit needs, and also participate in helping meet the needs of the Council.

The other way the Scouts are getting ready is in the preparation of their demonstrations of Scouting skills and fun games. Some of these are as follows:

1. Homemade games with participation by the spectators.
2. Repelling demonstrations
3. Rope lashings
4. Cub Scout skills
5. Scuba Diving and Canoeing
6. Crafts
7. Folding and displaying the American flag
8. Road signs
9. Plaster of paris imprints
10. Ropemaking
11. Cub Day Camp

These are a few of the exciting things you will see at the Scout-O-Rama.

Winters High School tennis results

Last Saturday in Brady, Melisa Poehls and Tami Belew defeated a team from Lampasas disagreeable.

Mrs. Emry, it is nice to have you back at school after your illness.

Eric Tekell has missed several days of school with an illness.

Mrs. Derington's science classes have a display in the hall showing collections of bugs and leaves.

It is Mrs. Sneed's turn to decorate the hall bulletin board with a theme suitable for April. Israel Vidales and Michael Pritchard, first graders, have received their first certificates for reading and reporting on ten library books. Congratulations Israel and Michael!

Steven Sneed, a first grader, has received his fifth certificate for reading and reporting on fifty library books. He is half way to his goal of reading a hundred library books. Keep up to good work Steven.

There is a poem posted on the library door that is appropriate for printing this week.

Whether the weather be fine
Or whether the weather be not,
Whether the weather be cold
Or whether the weather be hot,
We'll weather the weather
Whatever the weather,
Whether we like it or not.

to earn their second consecutive 3rd place trophy in girls double action. (Last week these girls defeated Menard at the Santa Anna tournament.) Melisa and Tami won their way to the semifinals with wins over Lampasas 6-2, 6-3; and Brady 6-4, 6-4. In the semifinals however, they lost a close match for 3rd against the No. 1 team from Lampasas. Melisa and Tami fought back to take a come from behind victory 4-6, 7-5, 6-3. Both girls played too tentatively in the first set but began to show signs of aggressiveness midway through the second set and won going away in the third. Both girls are really improving each week and have a good shot to get to the regional tournament and possibly farther.

Another outstanding performance was turned in at Brady by Lucy Lugo. Lucy lost her first match in split sets to a girl from Brady but didn't lose another match in two days of play. She defeated a girl from Clyde 1-6, 6-1, 6-3 to take home the Consolation Trophy.

The District tennis tournament will be held in Brownwood this year. Girls are to play April 13 and boys will play on April 14. This tournament will include Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Junior High teams both days. Those who win 1st or 2nd place in the Varsity division qualify for the Regional tournament in Big Spring.

school district election will also be in the Winters Chamber of Commerce office.

In all three elections the races are for at-large positions with the top vote-getters being elected.

Wait --

They were talking about those "child-proof" lids on all sorts of stuff.

Remember the last time you tried to open the aspirin bottle, or a can of spray paint, or a jug of anti-freeze?

Some of that stuff would take an hour and a half and an act of congress to get into.

They said it kept kids out of what they were not supposed to be into.

At our house, with a four-year old running around, we really have no problems with those "kid-proof" lids. After we have struggled trying to open the milk bottle and are thinking of calling in outside consultants, the four-year old pops the top with the greatest of ease—no problem for her.

But for the folks with stiff joints and a touch of arthritis, and those who try to get the lid off in the middle of the night with no lights on just can't quite get the job done.

Don't forget, Saturday is election day for the city, school, and hospital elections. There are several contested races and your interest is needed.

Vote as you please but, please vote.
