By Kerry Craig

The journalism profession has reached a new low, in my opinion. That may seem a bit strange for me to say, especially since I fit into that category most of the time.

Dan Rather's evening news, the other day, had to be the most glaring example of a newsman whose fame has gone to his head. It seems his attention to self-importance has overshadowed the major network's attempt to project the evening news and its "anchorman" as some one America can trust.

It is not real becoming for a newsman to get into a shouting match with the person he is interviewing. It becomes somewhat less appealing when that shouting match is on live television broadcast across the nation.

But for some newsguy to get into a shouting match and argument with the man who is in the second highest office in the land, well, it looks like Mr. Rather is losing control.

Regardless of the reason, any responsible newsman just naturally knows better.

Now Dan should know better. He is a native Texas son. To me he, at one time, was a highly respected news reporter.

In days gone by, in the days of playing radio station newsman, Dan was just like hundreds of us, dedicated and hard working.

Since becoming a superstar on tv, he has really brought out the importance of the channel selector and the on-off switch on the television set.

You know, people are funny. There are some that are sad. And there are some that just really make other folks downright mad.

Over the past few years, we have talked about folks that dump things they don't want on someone else—pets, trash, etc.

Well, they are at it again. Take a look at the roads that lead to the dump. They call it a "sanitary landfill"—well it is a landfill. The road leading to it and the roads around the dump are rather less than sanitary and they are being filled.

For some strange reason, there are those that just haul their trash to the vicinity of the dump and dump it.

These folks are either insensitive and uncaring, or they just don't think.

We can well imagine just how loud they would scream if the rest of us did to them what they are doing to the rest of us.

You know, that just might get their attention.

I would bet there are names in some of that trash that has been dumped on the roads around the landfill. How would it be if all that trash along the roads were loaded up and hauled back and dumped in the front yard of one of the names found in the trash along those roads.

Bet you could hear the scream clear to Abilene. "How dare somebody dump trash in MY yard?"

"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," is something these folks probably haven't thought about. Another thought that might have escaped them is that this is about a fair play.

The meeting Monday of the hospital board with the Ballinger doctors could well be one of the top events of the year for our community.

The addition of these two physicians to the hospital staff will make North Runnels

Another grass fire

Wingate and Winters firemen were called Tuesday afternoon to the Bishop Boys Ranch near Wilmeth to battle a grass fire on that burned only a few acres before being extinguished.

In the past few weeks, firemen from all across this area have been busy with grass fires. Some of the fires were small ones but, some were maior fires that burned hundreds, if not thousands of acres of grass and range land.

The dry, windy conditions have made the area almost like a tinder-box. All that's needed is just a spark and another fire is roaring across the pasture, out of control.

Ballinger Doctors apply for N. R. Hospital staff

In a special meeting Monday of the Board of Directors of North Runnels Hospital, Doctors Antoine Albert and John Psutka of Ballinger said that they were applying for associate medical staff privileges at North Runnels Hospital in Winters.

As the result of differences with the board and administration of Ballinger Memorial Hospital, the doctors contacted the Winters hospital seeking the extension of staff privileges.

North Runnels Hospital, in late 1987, announced that the Labor and Delivery Department and Nursery at the hospital would be closed and Dr. Richard Thorpe, at the same time, announced he would stop his obstetric practice due to extremely high malpractice insurance premiums.

Dr. Antoine Albert told the Winters hospital board that he would continue to deliver babies. Last Friday, three days before the Monday meeting, the Ballinger doctor delivered a baby at North Runnels Hospital.

The hospital board and medical staff gave approval to the extension of associate staff standing to Dr. Albert and is reviewing the application by Dr. Psutka. Hospital officials said that the review was only a formality and that no problems were expected for the addition of Dr. Psutka to the associate medical staff.

North Runnels Hospital Administrator Rita Mason said Tuesday, "We welcome the doctors into our hospital. They have been on the staff in the past. We will work with the doctors and extend to them every medical courtesy. The medical staff, the hospital board, and the hospital staff are looking forward to working with both Dr. Albert and Dr. Psutka."

Mrs. Mason said that Dr. Albert has already delivered one baby at the Winters hospital and that he had a patient scheduled for surgery on Wednesday of this week.

The Ballinger doctors told the North Runnels Hospital Board that they also had staff standing at St. John's Hospital in San Angelo and that they would give their patients a choice of admission to the Winters hospital or the San Angelo hospital. Both doctors said that they planned to keep their practices and offices in Ballinger and work through the Winters hospital.

Winters hospital officials indicated that the addition of the Ballinger doctors would mean an increase in the number of patients in the Winters hospital which would mean an increase in the nursing staff.

The increase in the nursing staff should be well received following a reduction in the nursing staff some months ago.

Another area that could see an increase in activity at North Runnels Hospital is surgery. Hospital officials say that surgical procedures are now scheduled on Wednesday of each week, however an increase in the number of surgery patients could mean an expansion to more than one day of surgery each week.

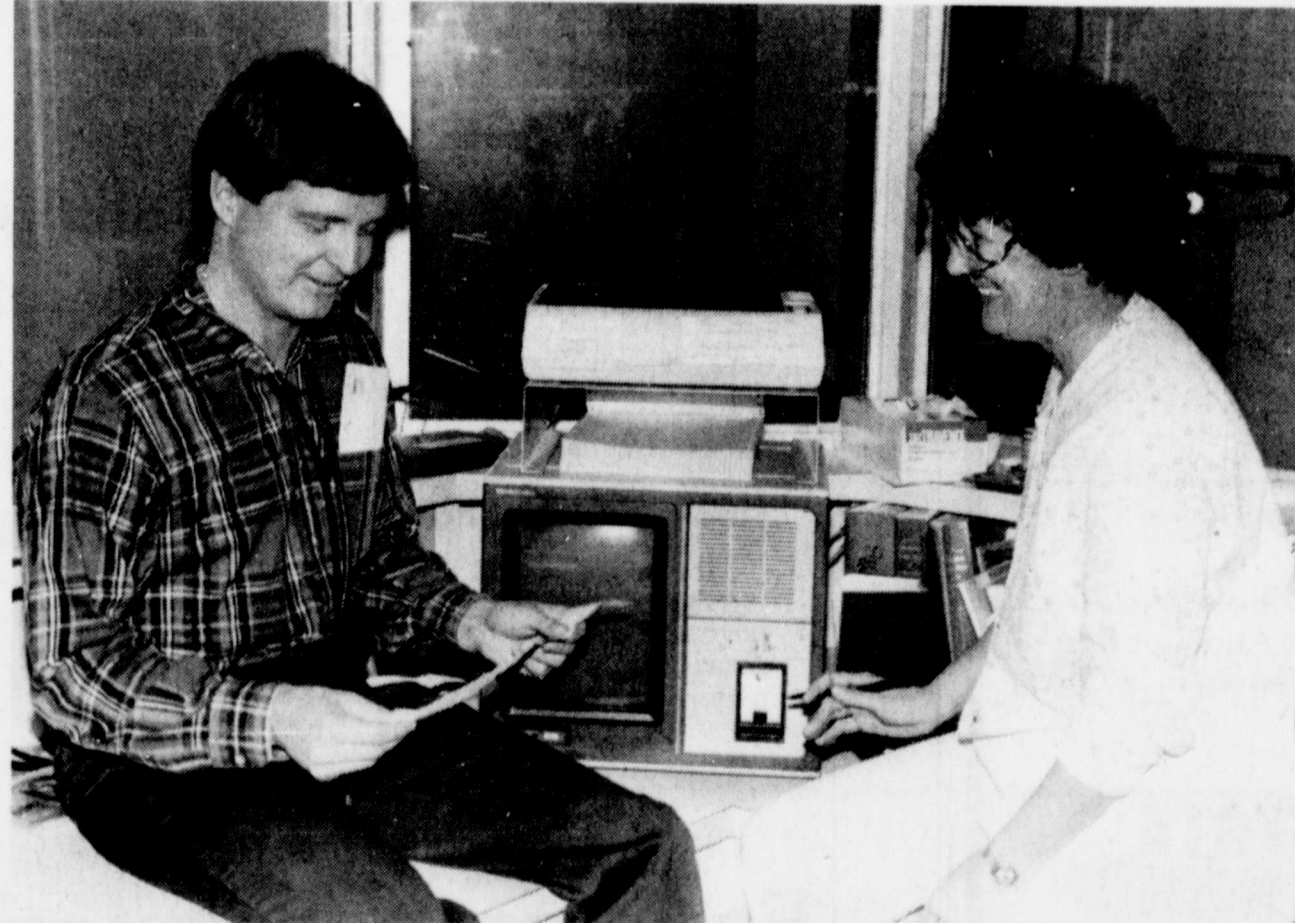

Local medical officials and hospital board members indicated some excitement about the proposed addition of two doctors to the associate medical staff and the potential for an increase in the number of patients at the hospital which would mean an economical shot in the arm for North Runnels Hospital and for Runnels County.

Immunization Clinic to be held in Winters

There will be an Immunization Clinic held by the Texas Department of Health on Wednesday, February 3, from 9:30 a.m. until 12 noon and 1:30 till 3:30 p.m.

The location of the clinic will be 100 Grant Street in the Professional Building, Suite 108.

For more information call 754-4945 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon, Monday through Friday.

This is real neat

Dr. Richard Thorpe and Billie Brown, RN, expressed their pleasure with North Runnels Hospital's new cardiac monitoring equipment.

The cardiac monitor allows the nurses to closely monitor patients in the hospital's intensive care unit from the nurses station.

The new equipment has already proved that it is well worth the nearly $20,000 price-tag replacing the obsolete and not-dependable monitoring equipment in the intensive care unit.

Ballinger Chamber sets Feb. 25, banquet date

The Ballinger Chamber of Commerce Annual Membership Meeting and Banquet will be held Thursday, February 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Ballinger School Cafeteria. Tickets are available for $8.50 at the Chamber office or from any Director, Junior Chamber Board Members or the Women's Activity Committee.

"I think we have changed to something different this year and our membership and guests will have a very pleasant evening," said Jerrie Wiley, Banquet Chairperson and the 1988 President of the Chamber.

Five new three year Directors have been elected this year and began their terms January 12.

The are: Elaine Paske, Rudy Halfmann, Carol Stokes, Curtis Dixon, and Ed Odom. Serving in a one year capacity, fulfilling other Directors expired terms are, David Ueckert and Pam Halfmann. Hold over Directors serving with the newly elected seven are: Calvin Howell, Lynn Schwertner, Larry Lange, Doug Taylor, Jerrie Wiley, C. J. Robinson, Tom Barkley, and Ken Drake. Rodney Flanagan was in his last year of a three year term and had to resign due to his responsibilities of his job causing him to be out of town especially on Board meeting days.

Sudderth files candidacy for State Education Post

Ben Doyle Sudderth, 55, a resident of Comanche County announced that he will be a candidate for the State Board of Education, District 14 in the March Democratic Primary.

Sudderth has lived in Brown and Comanche Counties all of his life and has practiced law in Comanche for over 30 years. He served in the State Legislature for 2 terms. In making his announcement Sudderth said, "Lately the trend has been to increase the costs of operating the school, but at the same time reduce state funding. It is absolutely necessary that the people of this state, the local school boards, and the school personnel all work together to achieve the common goal of quality education in Texas. As a member of the State Board of Education I would work with the Legislature in an effort to solve some of the perplexing problems facing those trying to carry out present policy. I believe that our schools are doing a good job of getting dollars worth of education for a dollars worth of funding. It is probably the most cost efficient of all State bodies. Education is a historic issue in this state.—one of the reasons Texans declared their independence from Mexico was the failure of the government to support public education. Education was important in 1836 and it remains a very important part of our government a little over 150 years later. What we do the next 10 years in the field of education will in all probability determine what our state does the next hundred years in the world economic arena. I want to be on the front line working to make our system the best."

Sudderth graduated from Howard Payne University with a major in Business and a minor in Education. He holds a doctor of Law degree from University of Texas School of Law and is well known throughout West Central Texas as a Trial Lawyer. He is married to the former Anne Keith of DeLeon.

They have 1 child at home and 5 grown children. Sudderth has served as President of the Chamber of Commerce, President of the Comanche Jaycees, as a Legislative Consultant for Trade and Professional Associations and has held many other offices in local and business organizations.

County team places 3rd. in Special Olympic Tourney

The Ballinger-Winters Special Olympics basketball team placed third in the Area 14 Special Olympics Basketball Tournament in Abilene Saturday, January 23. This qualifies the team to go to the North Zone State Tournament in March in Abilene. The tournament was held at the ACU gym in Abilene.

The Runnels County team played three games. The first game, at 9:15 a.m., Winters-Ballinger played, and lost to, the Sweetwater Bullets A. The score was 28-22. At 1:00 p.m., the second game was against the San Angelo I. C. D. Winters-Ballinger team won the game by a score of 52-47. At 3:30 p.m., Winters-Ballinger played Abilene City Recreation for the third place win with a final score of 63-18.

The highpoint man in each game was Otis Liggins. He scored all of the Winters-Ballinger team's points in each game for a total of 137 points. During the third game, Otis may have broken the area record for the most points made during one game. The record is somewhere in the 60's.

Athletes participating from Winters High School on the Winters-Ballinger team were Otis Liggins, Sammie Little and Jay Vancil. Otis was one of the four athletes to carry the torch during the opening ceremonies. (See Olympics Page 10)

Indian Lore

The part of Runnels County south of the Colorado River is mostly open rolling prairie country, without much water. As a result, until relatively late in the 19th century, events and people seemed to flow around this area, only occasionally crossing it.

By early historic times, about 1500 A.D., migratory bands of Indians wandered into Runnels County, camping along the Colorado and the valleys of the larger creeks. By 1600 regular camps were set up at the Paint Rock site on the Concho River. After that time Indians of various tribes were in and around the Runnels County area until the middle 1870's.

By 1629, Spanish explorers from Santa Fe, among them Father Juan de Salas, had made contact with the Jumano Indians in the San Angelo area.

In 1632, 1650 and again in 1654 Spanish trading expeditions came into the San Angelo area to trade with the Indians, buying up many deer and buffalo hides on the 1,650 trip, some so-called "pearls" were found in the mussels along the lower Concho, and the Spanish are said to have gone some distance down the Colorado below the mouth of the Concho. On the 1,654 trip there was a battle with Indians in Southern Coleman County; the firearms of the Spanish seem to have over-awed the savages and made the victory easy.

In the spring of 1864, Juan Dominguez de Mendoza came to a site which is traditionally believed to have been at the mouth of the Concho and set up a small mission, called San Clemente. He stayed here six weeks, hunting, waiting to have a conference with the Indians of the area. The Indians did not appear and he left.

At the beginning of the 18th century the Comanche Indians were beginning to drift southward from their original homes in Wyoming and Montana, pushing the Apaches out of the Panhandle. In turn the Apaches came south, pushing the Jumanos and others out of the upper valleys of the Brazos, Colorado and Red Rivers.

By the late 1700's the Comanches had taken over the Apache lands, and from then till the final settlement of the Indian problem, Comanches were the Indians in and around Runnels County.

There was not much Spanish activity in the area of Runnels during the eighteenth century.

The coming of American settlers into Spanish Texas in the 1820's stimulated the founding of other colonies, besides that of Stephen F. Austin. Several men were granted contracts to settle families in a large area of West Texas, which included Runnels County. Because of the distance from the settled parts of Texas and the Indians, nothing ever came of the plan—no one was settled under it.

After the establishment of the Republic of Texas, the Western plains became objects of interest to explorers, adventurers and Indian fighters. In 1838 James H. Callahan's Company of Texas Rangers followed the Indian trail out from San Antonio all the way to Big Spring. They struck the Colorado at the mouth of the Concho and traveled on out to the site of Colorado City and thence to the Big Spring area.

In October 1840, Col. John H. Moore led an expedition from Austin up the Colorado River to seek out and punish Comanche raiders on their home ground. They passed through Runnels County and went to a place near Colorado City, where they made a surprise attack on a Comanche Village, and won an easy victory, killing 128 Indians.

In the middle 1840's a group of German noblemen formed a company to bring German colonists to Texas. Unfortunately, they and their agents had an incomplete understanding of the situation in Texas, and the early immigrants under this scheme suffered greatly. The area which had been purchased for the colony was far beyond the settled limits of Texas and in Comanche country. The result of this was the founding of New Braunfels and Fredericksburg. Some of these early German settlers did manage to patent their lands in the area set aside for their colony, but most seemed to have sold their certificates cheaply. A look at the land map of Runnels County will show many German names on lands, especially along the Colorado.

In 1847 large numbers of Lipan Indians, from Mexico, came north and camped along the Colorado and Concho Rivers. In this same period, and especially after the discovery of gold in California, the Concho River area was an important link in the trails west. The immigrant trails came to the San Angelo area, out the middle Concho, then across to Horsehead crossing on the Pecos, and on to California.

The first sustained migration into Runnels County was into the northern part of the county, especially in the northeast. The families came from the areas east and northeast of Runnels, the so-called Cross Timbers area. Until the Germans and Czech's began to go into Southern Runnels County in the 1890's, all that area south of the Colorado was considered only cattle country.

Those who have read my book Runnels is My Country, will note how many more settlements there were north of the river. It began with Daniel W. Hale, a Civil War Veteran, who

When the railroad came to Abilene in 1881 and lumber could be shipped for building, Hale moved his new store down into the valley and named it Content, "for the contentment of this valley."

The first school was taught at Content in 1882. The town boasted a two-story hotel by 1888, and eight years later a teacher's convention was held there.

When the railroad came through in 1909 it missed the town of 250 people by a few miles and stores and homes were moved out of Runnels County to the town of Goldsboro. Today only a few settlers remain.

Blizzard Basketball Roundup

Winters Varsity boys were host to Goldthwaite boys on January 19. The game was a hard fought battle with the final score being Winters 55-Goldthwaite 54. Scoring for Winters were, Chuch Patterson, 13 points; Chris Rives, 12; Chris Bahlman, 7; Tommy Selby, 6; James Self, 5; Houston Guy and Bryan Green, 4 points each; Wayne Poehls and Dan Killough, both with 2 points each. Five of 17 free throws were hit for an average of 29%. This was an exciting game which contained a countless number of big plays and went down to the final second and a last ditch shot missed and we were able to secure the district win for ourselves. There was some sickness running thru the team and we had some men step in and take over when they were needed. Overall it was not one of our best games of the year, but we needed a victory and this one came at a very good time. Again our inability to shoot free throws is killing us. Goldthwaite hits 14 of 18 and we can only manage 5 of 17. We were very fortunate to come away with the win shooting this poorly. There was a possibility of an additional 18 points just in free throws and the game would not even have been close. In order for us to be productive we are going to have to hit on these free throws or find ourselves on the short end. I believe we won this game because of our tremendous fan and student body support. So stay with us and continue to lend us your support. Coach Tom Selby

The Blizzards traveled to San Saba January 22 coming home with a loss of San Saba 70-Winters 56. Scoring for the Blizzards were, James Self, 15 points; Tommy Selby, 11 points; Chris Bahlman, 6; Dan Killough, 5; Wayne Poehls, 4; Chris Rives, 3; Houston Guy and Brent Green, 1 point each. Thirteen free throws of 27 were made for an average of 49%. Chris Rives made 3 of 4 for 75%; and Wayne Poehls 2 of 3 for 66%. About the only thing good I could say about this game was that we played hard and never let up. It was just one of those nights when things were not going well for us. We don't match up very well with San Saba and we will try to make some changes when we meet them in the last game of the season. Our free throw shooting was a little better as we hit 13 of 27 but when we play Bangs Tuesday night we probably will need to hit around 90-100% in order for us to be in the ballgame. We have played all the teams in our district now and it seems as though Bangs, Coleman and possibly Jim Ned are in the running for a play off birth. We have decided we are going to be the one who decides the outcome as we plan on upsetting some of these people's apples and throwing this district into a wide open mess. This is one of our altered goals we have set along with playing the game the way it should be played and enjoying it. Coach Tom Selby

On January 25 the 8th grade girls played Coleman in the Winters gym. The final score being Winters 24-Coleman 11. High scoring girls were Michelle Cortez and Kim Deike, both with 8 points. Others scoring were, Paige Polston, 5 points; and Susan Bryan, 1 point. Two of 12 free throws were made for an average of 16%. This was a very good game for the girls. I think it was probably one of the best defensive games they've played. They played team basketball. Improved season record to 7-5, district record 4-1. Coach Whittenburg

The 7th grade girls played Coleman in Winters January 25. Final score was Coleman 29-Winters 10. Scoring for Winters was Kayla Priddy, 3 points; Tanya Brockington, Tash Snuffer, Jamie Smith, all with 2 points each; Stacie Deike, 1 point. One of 13 free throws was made for an average of 13%. January 25 the 8th grade boys played Coleman in Winters sending them home with a loss of 44-31. High scoring boy was Greg Tamez with 11 points; Leo Campos scored 8 points; Brandon Boles, 6; Jody Guy, Robbie Cortez, Ahmed Griffin, all with 4 points each; Jaime Perez and Brandon Killough, 2 points each. Six of 8 free throws were made for an average of 75%. Saturday, January 23, the Winters boys played in the Bangs Tournament. The first game was against Brownwood. The final score was Winters 38-Brownwood 11. Scoring in the game were, Albert Bernal and Jamey West, 6 points; Russell Parramore, 4; Richardo Rangel, 5; Josh Awalt, 9; and Ed Bredemeyer, 8 points. Shooting from the free throw line was 50%. The Championship game of the tournament was played against Bangs. Bangs won by a score of 34-17. Scoring for Winters were, Russell Parramore, 10 points; Richardo Rangel, 5; and Ed Bredemeyer, 2 points. Shooting from the free throw line was 100%. The boys took second place in the tournament. Tuesday, January 19 the Winters JV girls hosted Goldthwaite with a final score of Winters 41-Goldthwaite 28. LaTricia Palmer was high scoring girl with 10 points. Others scoring for Winters were, Diana Farias, 8 points; Melanie Smith, 7; Lisa Farias, 5;

Stephanie Powers, 4; Angela McDaniel 3; Heather Brown and Dora Villareal, 2 points each. Five of 12 free throws were made for an average of 41%. The Winters 8th grade boys played Jim Ned in Lawn on January 21. Coming home after a tight ball game, winning by a score of 37-31. Scoring for Winters were Leo Campos, with 13 points; Jaime Perez, 12; Brandon Boles and Greg Tamez, both with 4 points; Jody Guy and Albert Campos, both with 2 points. Baptist Women celebrate Centennial Sixty women of the Runnels Baptist Association celebrated 100 years of W M U work in the Southern Baptist Convention with a luncheon held at the First Baptist Church in Ballinger Saturday, January 16, 1988.

Christine Clark of Miles, president, presided and introduced the pastor's wives as honored guests. Ramona Akins, pianist, furnished luncheon music and gave the invocation. Women of the churches represented were recognized by Bertie Rue Lee, Ballinger, secretary, and the period of their historic gowns announced.

Centennial chairman of the local churches were presented by Charlie Poe, general chairman.

The Centennial hymn, "God, Our Author and Creator" was sung as a solo by Mary Beth Malkowski of Miles.

Three gobblers were stocked at another site at White Oak, while 10 gobblers went to two sites on the Sulpher River in Red River County and five were released near the Angelina River in Nacogdoches County.

Eastern turkeys once ranged throughout East Texas, but were eliminated by the turn of the century. During 1987 the department's restoration program had its most significant year, stocking 116 eastern turkeys at a number of sites. Of those birds, 45 were obtained from other states through the cooperative efforts of the Texas Wild Turkey Federation, the National Wild Turkey Federation and the department.

Runnels County Children's Protective Services Board

This is not necessarily the news. "Good" news that is. It is important information about the "sad" news of child abuse and neglect. Yes, in Runnels county!

In Runnels county last year there were 101 referrals of child abuse and neglect to the Children's Protective Services division of DHS. This averages to be about eight referrals per month. Runnels county has conservatorship of twenty-one children. Of these twenty-one only one child resides in foster care in Runnels county. The other twenty children reside in foster homes outside Runnels county. The lack of foster homes in Runnels county is only one of the reasons why some of our children are served by foster homes in other counties.

Our local board, the Runnels County Children's Protective Services Board (formerly the Runnels County Child Welfare Board), is one of the many county boards representing their communities in developing child welfare and child protective services. The boards are established through a contract between the county commissioner's court and the Texas Department of Human Services. Boards are an entity of DHS for coordinating the use of federal, state and local funds. The RCCPS board is composed of citizens appointed by the county commissioner's court on the basis of leadership and concern for children. Representing your county on the board are Ginny Smith, Jane Alcorn, Ken Slimp, and Beth Rives of Winters; Freda Perez, Lillie Miller, Dorothy Triggs, Steve Caldwell, Don Shepherd, Darnell Holden, Dean Watson, and J. Frank Nance of Ballinger; and Diana Treadaway of Miles.

The board cooperates with the Children's Protective Services staff of DHS in developing local resources for children, recruiting foster parents, responding to community needs, and safeguarding the confidential status of all confidential records. The RCCPS board also assists in interpreting the CPS program to the community and cooperates with the state, county, city and school authorities in furthering the education of parents and children.

Budget and financial matters are the board's basic responsibility. In order to provide services and education, money has to be fluent. The state provides the funding for the foster home program, while the board provides monies for special services for foster children that are not supplied by the state funds. The board is appropriated limited funds by the county, but the majority of specialized services provided for our county children come directly from you, the county citizen.

The board has in the past and will continue to generate local funds to provide abused and neglected children of Runnels county with clothing, needed equipment for handicapping conditions, transportation, medical expenses not covered by state monies, swimming lessons, and Christmas presents. Local funds also provide parent seminars and public education information on child abuse and neglect.

The RCCPS board meets every other month and schedules events during the year to either generate funds or educate the public in areas related to child abuse and neglect. The thrust of the board for 1988 is education and public awareness. The first public information session is scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 9, 1988 at 7:00 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church on Broadway in Ballinger. Bit Whitaker of DHS in Abilene will be explaining the new legislation that designates what the Children's Protective Services program of DHS can and cannot respond to related to a child's protection and welfare. The session is open to the public free of charge.

In April, Child Abuse Month, the board plans to sponsor a puppet show on child abuse and neglect in county schools. They also will have a film program entitled, TOUCH, available for presentation in our county schools or civic organizations.

Because of this county's great generosity and support last year, the board will not have to plan a VIP Dinner this year, but will again sponsor the banquet in August of 1989.

A seminar for parents of teenagers has been recommended several times to various board members. In order to meet the needs of our county, the board is planning to sponsor this type of seminar in the fall.

Again, as every December we provide money for Christmas gifts and winter clothing. Several organizations in the county make special donations during December and their concern and support is always appreciated.

Throughout this year we encourage the citizens of Runnels county to become involved by participating in our programs and seminars. This is, indeed, the "good" news: "We, the Runnels County Children's Protective Services Board, are here and ready to assist you, our communities, in providing a safe and healthy environment for "our" children in Runnels county.

Optional:
This is the first in a series of articles that will run in this newspaper, jointly presented to the community by the Runnels County Children's Protective Services Board (RCCPSB) and the Winters Enterprise.

The biggest fresh water fish ever recorded as having been caught with a rod and reel was a 468-pound sturgeon caught in California in 1983.

We're excited about going to the state tournament," said Ms. Nan Orman, who teaches these youngsters in the Winters' Life Skills House.

The teachers and coaches are Linda Fountain and Nan Orman of Winters, Jenny Carothers, head coach, Freda Perez and Shannon Caughron of Ballinger.

Acid-washed jeans are less durable

If you bought this season's fashionable "acid-washed" or "frosted" denim clothing, don't expect it to last as long as the other denim clothes in your wardrobe.

According to Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing and textiles specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, white or acid-washed jeans are washed with volcanic rock that may have been pickled in hydrochloric acid.

"This harsh treatment bleaches the dye to make the surface fibers white. However, it also may reduce the strength and durability of the denim fabric by as much as 25 to 50 percent," she explains.

"If the acid treatment comes after the garment is sewn, it may also have the effect of weakening the seams so they split open easily," says Beard.

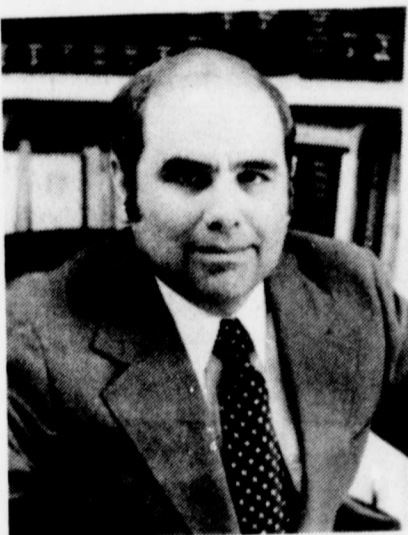

The specialist notes that acid-washed denim clothing is typically higher priced than regular denim, but consumers should understand they're paying extra for the fashion look and not durability.

Jack Schulze seeks District Attorney's Post in Runnels County

On January 4, 1988, Jack Schulze filed as a Democratic candidate for the 119th Judicial District Attorney's office which serves Runnels, Concho and Tom Green counties.

Schulze's primary objectives in the office are to prosecute felony cases in Runnels County and the district which involve oilfield theft, dope traffic and violent crimes. Schulze's concern for the private citizens and their protection in a small community are paramount in his candidacy and he emphasizes that the people who pay taxes and are law abiding citizens are the voters who elect concerned officials.

Schulze, who has practiced law in San Angelo and West Texas for the past twelve years believes that his record and experience as County Attorney in Reagan County will enhance his abilities as the District's prosecutor. "Having worked closely with law enforcement agencies and having been involved in the Court system with numerous attorneys will result in an effective District Attorney's office. Representing the State of Texas and the people of Runnels County is what the job is all about. It is the District Attorney's job to see that the criminal laws are enforced in the felony courts. It is also very apparent to me that the problems of the smaller communities in the District are certainly sometimes unique and that interest in the local communities is certainly as important as those in larger communities."

Schulze, a West Texas native, grew up in Coleman, Texas and graduated from Coleman High School in 1958. (I still remember those Friday night football games and the competitive spirit of the Winters Blizzards). He attended McMurry College in Abilene where he received his B.A. degree in 1962 and then attended graduate school at Baylor University in Waco until 1965. After leaving Baylor, Schulze taught all the sciences in China Springs High School and then worked for the Shell and Dupont companies in Houston during 1966-74. During his employment with DuPont, he attended South Texas College of Law and received his law degree and was admitted to the State Bar of Texas in 1974. In 1975 he was appointed County Attorney in Reagan County and began his practice of law in West Texas.

Schulze was admitted to practice in the United States Federal Court, Western District in 1984 and Northern District in 1985. He is a twelve year member of the Texas Association of County and District Attorneys. He resides in San Angelo and is married to Tom Green County Commissioner Mary Burk.

Stephen Smith seeking 119th D.A.'s office

Assistant district attorney Stephen H. Smith, candidate for the office of 119th District Attorney, issued Thursday his formal announcement as a candidate for the position.

Smith has served in the district attorney's office as an assistant D.A. for the past two years and for the past year has been the first assistant district attorney.

A graduate of Baylor University and Baylor Law School, Smith has served in the U. S. Air Force as Assistant Staff Judge Advocate and Reserve Staff Judge Advocate, as special assistant to the U. S. Attorney's Office, Assistant Tom Green County Attorney, and as an assistant to District Attorneys Dick Alcalá and Gerald Fohn since February, 1986, and as a criminal prosecutor since 1980.

The candidate for the office of 119th District Attorney says that he is committed to effective criminal prosecution and is concerned about the future of the communities in the 119th Judicial District.

Steve and his wife Beverly have three children, Katy 9, Wesley 7, and Lanna 3. The family is active in the Paul Ann Baptist Church of San Angelo.

Memo from the Chamber of Commerce

Banquet Time, January 28 - Thursday, 7:00 p.m. Tickets are available at the door! We are expecting a good time and look forward to being with old and new friends as we come together to honor people who have contributed a great deal to our community.

Our thanks to some very helpful people who worked hard to make the signs that you have been seeing in all the yards and downtown. Barbie Bradley, Marie Pritchard and Beth Bradley did an excellent job for the Chamber.

Another person who we appreciate greatly is Ray Hale. Ray came in the office this week and repaired our conference table. The Chamber of Commerce, the Cancer Society, and the Elm Creek Water District would like to thank Ray for a job well done. All of these groups meet in the Board room.

You have seen the slogan "Draw the line Texans—Sign up and Vote!" The Secretary of State, Jack Rain, is encouraging Vote '88. He says "Texas is not receiving its fair share from the federal government. We send $1.59 to Washington D. C., just to receive $1.00 back. We can shape the presidential debate by registering to vote, asking the tough questions and turning out on Election Day. Texas deserves better treatment than it currently receives, and you can make a difference." Remember the voters who select our next president also will elect state legislators, county officials, judges and other decision makers. The 1988 elections are vitally important.

The theme for our Chamber of Commerce Banquet is "Election Year 1988". Come to the Convention Hall (School Cafeteria), see your friends and hear George McKinney. Dress is casual, dressy, or how you are comfortable.
