Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

Did you miss me last week? I was gonna be here but, like some wise man once said, "The best laid plans of mice and men often go astray." The same just might be true for me.

Now, for the past six, or so, years I have been using the same computer terminal to write what I write. I have done so with some degree of success—until last week.

After spending some time getting my thoughts together, I got settled in my favorite chair at my favorite computer terminal and started transferring my thoughts into print.

Before taking this any further, let me remind you that Tuesday evenings around here cover the area between very busy to hectic. It was in this time frame that I began to write.

With this computer, when one finishes writing something there is a ritual that must be followed exactly. There are three buttons that must be pushed, one after the other in proper order, and one button that must be pushed after each of the above mentioned buttons are pushed.

If this is not done exactly, it can cause serious mental disturbances deep within the computer and release the full fury of this plastic, electric monster. It doesn't get mad. It gets even if you don't follow the ritualistic steps.

Guess what? I missed one of those little buttons somewhere along the line. You know what else happened? All those thoughts, the ones that filled up all those little bits and bytes of the computer's electronic memory went away.

There was no big to-do, no noise or flashing lights, not even a little bitty explosion. The CRT screen that looks like a small television didn't even flicker.

The end result was that we missed out on our visit last week. I had gone to lengths to tell about our abbreviated vacation and all the wonderful things we enjoyed. Things like a zoo visit when the temperature is around 104 or so.

You missed out on hearing all the neat little things that one does to pack into the trunk of a slightly larger than mid-sized car designed for a family of three all the things needed for a week or so by a family of seven. And how that became a featured attraction among those other travelers who just thought they had problems cramming all the stuff into their trunks.

My problem was not getting all of everything into the trunk. My problem was just getting the lid closed.

You also did not hear about how you fit three full sized people into this same, slightly larger than mid-sized, two door auto along with three mid-sized people and one really little people.

It, in a way, reminded me of last years adventure to the deer lease.

Something happened in our community this past Saturday that will, in all probability, happen only one more time.

Our railroad is going away. The engine came to town Saturday morning bringing three grain cars and it took five away.

That same engine will return and hook onto those three cars and when it leaves, it will be for the last time.

In ways it is understandable for the trains to stop coming but, in other ways, it is really sad.

In looking back into our history, we find many references to the great celebrations when the railroad came to town.

As ours goes, it is going quietly. Without fanfare the Abilene and Southern will become only a part of our history that no longer exists.

About 13 years ago, our community won a valliant struggle

(See Wait Page 10)

Last rail cars to Winters

A Union Pacific locomotive brings the last three cars to Winters before the Abilene and Southern ceases to exist. Five hopper cars were taken back to Abilene last Saturday and the three cars that were brought to town will probably leave sometime this week.

After the final trip by the train, Winters will no longer have a railroad.

The final visits by the train will be noticed by only a few and, after this week, there will be no visits to notice—or miss.

Winters lake claims second drowning victim

A six year-old Winters youth became the second person to drown in Winters-Elm Creek Reservoir since the lake was completed some five years ago.

Jerron Michael Jackson, the six year-old son of Jerry Mack and Patricia Jackson of Winters, apparently stepped off an underwater ledge Friday afternoon while on a family outing at the lake.

The child disappeared in water thought to be between eight and ten feet deep. The youth was pulled from the water by rescuers about 30 minutes after he stepped into the deep water.

The child was rushed to North Runnels Hospital by ambulance and, after resuscitation attempts failed, was pronounced dead.

Funeral services for Jerron Jackson were held Monday in the Winters Funeral Home

Chapel with burial in Northview Cemetery.

The first drowning at Winters' new lake occurred just as work was being completed on the park area at the lake when a construction worker lost control of the tractor-backhoe he was operating.

The tractor plunged into the deep water near the park carrying the operator to his death.

Medicare schedules inspection at North Runnels Hospital

It was only a year ago that inspectors from the Texas Department of Health visited North Runnels Hospital to make what was termed a "routine inspection" to insure that the local hospital was adhering to the multitudes of Medicare regulations.

Hospital officials were notified Tuesday that an inspection team would visit North Runnels Hospital on Thursday and Friday, September 8 and 9.

As a result of that visit, the inspection team, gave an unfavorable report that led to a formal letter advising of decertification of the hospital within 30 days, an action that would force the hospital's closing.

That visit, and the findings were shocking to hospital officials as well as the entire community.

The findings of last year's inspection team, along with its inconsistencies, were brought to the attention of state legislators as well as Texas' Congressional delegation in Washington D. C.

Subsequently, the district director of the Medicare program quickly granted North Runnels Hospital an unprecedented extension of the threatened decertification date.

Program heads with the Texas Department of Health were almost too quick to deny that the inspection team that visited Winters came with the intent of closing the hospital.

A member of that inspection team, two weeks earlier, had commented that they were going to close the Winters hospital. The comment had been made while in the presence of hospital personnel in San Angelo.

The Winters inspection of last year focused attention on the lack of definite guidelines for hospital inspections, no specific policy for interpretation of Medicare rules, the majority of which did not involve patient care and the health care services provided by the hospital, and gross inconsistencies of the inspection teams.

Last year's visit, and its unfavorable report, forced the hospital to spend literally tens of thousands of dollars in replacing programs that, a year before, had been recommended by an inspection team member. Also, the hospital was forced to rewrite, amend, and add a large amount of paperwork in order to meet the guidelines.

Hospital officials said Tuesday that they felt confident that the hospital was in compliance with the Medicare rules in all areas. Concern was expressed over the liberal interpretation of the Medicare rules which, in the past, was left almost entirely up to the inspector's discretion.

Looking good

Although rough around the edges, the 1988 Winters Blizzards looked good Friday evening as they hosted their first scrimmage of the new season with Hawley.

The Blue and White "won" the scrimmage which gave coaches the opportunity to see what areas needed more work and improvement before the start of the season.

Miles, Rowena area burglaries reported

Runnels County Sheriff's officers are investigating two separate burglaries in Miles and near Rowena.

In Miles, burglars broke into the Highway 67 Cafe sometime Friday night and forced open coin operated vending machines and took a small amount of cash.

On Saturday, a burglary was reported at the old Handy's Liquor store on U. S. 67 between Ballinger and Rowena.

The sheriff's department said that windows were broken out and that the burglars took a number of tools and a quantity of copper wire.

The sheriff's department also said that it is investigating the destruction of about 10 mail boxes along F.M. 2133, near Ballinger.

Officers said that the boxes were destroyed by vandals sometime over the weekend.

With the vandalism involving mail boxes, federal investigators from the Postal Service are expected to join in the investigation.

Abilene man jailed after leading police in chase

Charges of driving while intoxicated, fleeing to elude peace officers and driving without headlights were filed late Saturday against a 33 year-old Abilene man.

Steve Davidson was placed in the Runnels County Jail after officers finally stopped him near Ballinger.

Winters Police officer Ken Riehl said that he noticed the pick up, driven by Davidson, in about the 800 block of North Main in Winters. He said that the vehicle was travelling at a high rate of speed without headlights about 11:30 p.m. Saturday, and that the truck was making rapid lane changes.

By the time the pick up reached the south city limits of Winters, officer Riehl had clocked the vehicle at speeds in excess of 70 mph in an area limited to 45 mph. When he attempted to stop the vehicle, the driver sped up.

The chase reached speeds of over 85 mph before deputy sheriff Randy West and Texas Highway Patrol Trooper Scott Warren attempted to stop the pickup with a rolling road block.

Officers said that Davidson's vehicle almost crashed into the sheriff's department vehicle when it slipped out of the roadblock.

A second attempt to stop the truck was made by officers about seven miles south of Winters and the driver managed to continue to elude officers.

Officers finally stopped the truck with a third roadblock only after the truck almost struck the patrol car driven by deputy West.

In other police activity, Chief Tim Dexter said that an arrest for public intoxication led to additional charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle against Danny Trevino of Winters and also against a juvenile subject.

Chief Dexter said that the charges were in connection with the theft of a vehicle belonging to James Grant about two weeks ago.

Bond for Trevino was set at $5,000 on the felony charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The charges against the juvenile were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Blood Pressure Screening cancelled for September

North Runnels Hospital announced Tuesday that, due to circumstances beyond their control, the regular blood pressure and blood sugar screening clinics will not be held during the month of September only.

The screening clinics will resume, on their regular schedule, in October with the first to be held on Tuesday, October 13.

Hospital administrator Rita Mason said that response to the blood pressure and blood sugar screenings had been better than expected and said that she regretted that it was necessary to not conduct the tests in September.

Mrs. Mason said that the staff of North Runnels Hospital wanted to extend its appreciation for the response to the screenings and for the cooperation with the schedule change.

Food Pantry

All wanting to participate in the food drive meet at First Baptist Church at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Winters Food Pantry is in need of cans of food for distribution to individuals and families in need. In a meeting with the Food Pantry board of directors last Monday, Vista Worker Alice Hale said, "We have not been able to buy cut-rate cans of food from the Abilene and San Angelo Food Banks. Their supplies have dried up and they have none to sell. We can still buy bulk items there, like sugar, dried beans, and so forth. But their canned goods supply is gone, and for all practical purposes, our is too."

The Pantry Board took action to ask the Winters Citizenry to respond to the need with donations of canned goods. Board members expressed hope that a barrel could be placed in local supermarkets for shoppers to donate cans of food following check-out.

The Ministerial Alliance is planning a combined effort on the part of the churches to canvass the town on Sunday, August 28 in a canned food drive.

Any one wishing to donate cans of food may take their offerings to the Food Pantry located in the Multi-Purpose Center or to any of the local churches.

Abilene's Roy A. Jones II wins award

Roy A. Jones II, religion and military editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, has been named recipient of the 1988 Texas Baptist Communications Award.

The award, presented annually by the Baptist General Convention of Texas Public Relations Advisory Committee, recognizes an individual from the communications media who has made an outstanding contribution to the religious life of Texas.

While the award selection committee considers from each nominee a broad range of supporting material, it was particularly impressed with Jones' sensitivity and in-depth coverage of stories ranging from a 10-year controversy in the Southern Baptist Convention to a pastor who recovered after being diagnosed as having cancer from his neck to his toes, said Thomas J. Brannon, BGCT director of public relations.

Jones will be honored at a luncheon in Abilene on September 9 and will receive the award at the BGCT's 103rd annual convention in Austin in October.

"I consider myself the luckiest person in the world to work for a newspaper that gives me the freedom to pursue stories that I feel are important, not only to the religious community, but to the community as a whole," said Jones.

He had covered the courts for 18 years and "was happy doing it," but when Editor Glen Dromgoole asked him to consider being religion editor, Jones said he would accept the goal of making religion news the best-read part of the paper.

"When I came here in 1985," said Dromgoole, "we weren't doing much with religion, but when I looked at what was distinctive about Abilene, religion stood out."

"He (Jones) is one of the most conscientious reporters I've ever known. He really cares about, not only what he writes, but for the people he writes about."

Jones gives the credit to his co-workers at the Reporter News and to the Lord. "I seek divine guidance for most of my stories," he said.

"When I get a writer's block, I pray, 'Lord, what is it you want me to get across in this article.' Time and time again, He makes it clear to me."

With three denominational universities and 125 churches in Abilene, Jones admits, "I have to pray a lot. I try to give all denominations their fair share."

Another of his goals was "to help our varied denominations work together to better serve the Lord." Last Christmas the Abilene Association of Congregations which he helped organize gathered 25 tons of food for needy families.

He also helped establish and serve as vice president of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes in Abilene. While in Austin studying for his bachelor of journalism degree in the early 1960's, Jones also helped revive the University of Texas chapter of the FCA.

"My life has been deeply influenced by Christian coaches such as Grant Teaff and Darrell Royal," said Jones. Coaches and athletes have such an opportunity to witness for Christ."

Jones said one of the most humbling experiences of his life was being chosen in February for the state's foremost reporting honor, the Headliners Foundation Newswriting Award, for a story on the crash of a B-1B bomber assigned to Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene.

He also has earned several newswriting awards from the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, including first places for spot news twice and for features and short stories. He led the team which took first place in investigative reporting for an expose leading to resignation of a state senator for fraud.

His other "most humbling" experience was being ordained as a deacon this year by First Baptist Church, Abilene, where he and his wife, Trish, and their four children are active.

Besides serving as a Sunday School teacher and in other capacities in his church, Jones has also served as a lay missions volunteer in Mexico and Brazil.

Which businesses must comply with the new plant closing law?

Dear Commissioner Nabers: Could you find out the specifics of the new plant closing law. I don't think it applies to my company but I need to be sure.

R. J. Baytown, Texas

Dear R. J.: The primary thing to remember about the plant closing law is that it only applies to employers with 100 or more employees. Once this initial criterion is met, the following rules apply.

1. An employer must provide 60 days notice of a plant closing which will result in 50 or more workers at one site losing their jobs. Plant closing is understood as the permanent shutting down of a facility or the permanent elimination of jobs.

2. 60 days notice is required for impending mass layoff. Layoff is defined as the closing of job positions for 6 months or more. Notice is required under the mass layoff provisions if: —a. 50 or more workers at one site lose their jobs and the affected workers make up 33% or more of the total workforce or, —b. 500 or more workers lose their jobs even if that number does not represent a third of the workforce.

Companies that fail to give the mandated notice will be required to pay each affected employee the equivalent of a day's pay plus fringe benefits for each day that notice was not given. Further, the company would be obligated to pay the local community $500 a day, up to a maximum of $30,000.

The Department of Labor is responsible for advising employers of their obligations under the new law but has no enforcement authority when it

Ten free white flowering dogwoods

Ten free white flowering dogwood trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during August, 1988.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's efforts to encourage tree planting throughout America.

"The white flowering dogwoods will add year-round beauty to your home and neighborhood," John Rosenow, comes to ensuring compliance. Any recourse sought for violations of the law must come from civil suits filed in federal court by affected workers, labor unions, or communities.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: Texas Business Today, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

the Foundation's executive director, said. "Dogwoods have showy spring flowers, scarlet autumn foliage, and red berries which attract songbirds all winter."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to Ten Dogwoods, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by August 31, 1988.

VA Questions and Answers

Q. I understand that there have been some changes in the Veterans Administration's Home Loan Guaranty Program. Did the amount of the maximum VA guaranty on a conventional home loan change?

A. The Veterans' Home Loan Program Improvements and Property Rehabilitation Act revised calculations for determining the percentage of the loan guaranteed by the VA. Previously, the maximum VA guaranty on a conventional home loan was $27,500. Under the new law, for loans of $45,000 or less, 50 percent of the loans is guaranteed. For loans above $45,000, 40 percent of the loan is guaranteed, up to a maximum of $36,000, but not less than $22,500.

Q. Why is it necessary to have a property appraised under the VA home loan guaranty program?

A. The law requires that the amount of a VA guaranteed loan may not exceed the reasonable value of the property, construction, alterations, improvements, or repairs, as determined by the VA. In order to make this determination, the VA requires an appraisal of the property by a designated appraiser.

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. What causes the milk sauce for my scalloped potatoes to curdle?

P. H. Minneapolis, MN
A. Chemical interaction of potatoes and milk tends to cause milk to curdle. Some experts say you can minimize the possibility by heating the milk (don't boil) and then adding to potatoes.

Q. What causes cake mix to be lumpy?

J. McN., Graysville, TN
A. If cake mix is stored in a humid area, it may become lumpy. Slow beating will help break up lumps. While some small lumps may be visible in batter when a cake has been mixed according to package directions, they will disappear during baking.

Q. How can I prevent my banana or date bread from having a sticky top after storage?

M. W. Boyden, IA
A. For storage, cool bread completely on a rack before covering. If weather is humid, almost all quick breads become sticky and little can be done to prevent it.

Tip of the Week: For more tender corn on the cob, cook in unsalted water with 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 tablespoon lemon juice for each gallon of water.

Q. How do you substitute whole wheat flour for all-purpose?

Mrs. V. B. Oklahoma City, OK
A. Because whole wheat flours vary from being very coarse to fine, there isn't a general guideline. Whole wheat flour absorbs liquid differently than all-purpose flour. For best results, use recipes designed for the flour you want to use.

Q. I have an Australian recipe for Pavlova that calls for corn flour. Can I use cornmeal or all-purpose flour instead?

E. B. Euclid, OH
A. Yes. As long as low acid vegetables have been processed in a pressure canner according to directions and the seal is still intact, reheating in microwave is a quick and efficient method. You may want to refer to a microwave chart for timing.

Q. What's the procedure for freezing beets?

S. T. Palmyra, WI
A. Select deep, uniformly-red, tender young beets. Remove tops leaving 2 inches of top and wash. Cook until tender. Chill. Remove skins. Slice or dice large beets. Package in moisture/vaporproof wrap to freeze.

A. Neither cornmeal or flour are direct substitutes for corn flour. Corn flour also is known as "masa" and is sold as "masaharena."

Q. Sugar that I stored in a newly washed ceramic canister became too hard to remove. What can I do?

Mrs. H. M. St. Mary's, PA
To soften hardened sugar wedged in a canister, soak the whole canister in a bowl of warm to hot water until sugar dissolves. If sugar still won't budge and you want to save the canister, pour hot water over sugar and discard the dissolved mixture.

Tip of the Week: Don't add fresh pineapple or its juice to gelatin because the enzyme bromelain in fresh pineapple prevents jelling.

Q. I home-can my vegetables. When it's time to eat them, can they be microwaved?

Mrs. M. C. Kennett, MO
A. Yes. As long as low acid vegetables have been processed in a pressure canner according to directions and the seal is still intact, reheating in microwave is a quick and efficient method. You may want to refer to a microwave chart for timing.

As Bob Bullock

Dear Bob Bullock: I have a word processing business in my home and I use supplies such as printer ribbons, paper, and computer mailing labels in my business. My supplier says these items don't qualify for sales tax exemption on my resale certificate. Could you tell me why? B. M. D. Austin

Dear B. M. D.: I'd be happy to explain. You can issue a resale certificate in lieu of sales tax to your supplier if the item you buy will become a tangible part of the final product. Examples of such items include paper, mailing labels, and report covers. Since work processing is a taxable service, your customer pays the sales tax when he buys the final product from you.

However, items you buy for your own business or personal use are taxable to you, not your customer, at the time of the purchase. This would include items such as typewriter ribbons, printer ribbons, and computer hardware and software.

Dear Bob Bullock: I need to know if sales tax is due on tire balancing, and if so, under what circumstances. C. C. Austin

Dear C. C.: Sales tax is due on tire balancing if the balancing is done at the time of the tire sale. However, if a customer brings his car in to have existing tires balanced or rebalanced, then the charge is not taxable.

Here's why. If you balance tires at the time of their purchase, the labor to balance the tires is a service in connection with a sale, so sales tax is due. But if you balance tires that are already on the car, it's an automobile repair, which isn't taxable.

LETTER TO PARENTS

ATTACHMENT B

Dear Parent or Guardian:

The Winters School serves nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for 1.25/1.40 and breakfast for 1.25. Children from households that meet Federal income guidelines are eligible for free meals or reduced-price meals at 30 for lunch and 30 for breakfast. To apply for free or reduced-price meals, complete the enclosed application, sign it and return it to the school.

FOOD STAMP/AFDC HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" for your child, you only have to list your child's name and food stamp or AFDC case number, print your name, and sign the application. Since you have already given income information to the welfare office, the school can confirm your eligibility.

ALL OTHER HOUSEHOLDS: If your household income is at or below the level shown on the enclosed scale, your child is eligible for either free or reduced-price meals. To apply for meal benefits, you must provide the following information and sign the application: (1) list the names of everyone who lives in your household. Include parents, grandparents, all children, other relatives and unrelated people who live in your household, (2) list the social security number of each adult age 21 or older. If an adult does not have a social security number print "None", (3) list total monthly income and amount of income (BEFORE deductions for taxes, social security, etc.) each person received last month and where it is from, such as wages, retirement, or welfare. If you have a household member for whom last month's income was higher or lower than usual, list the person's expected average monthly income.

VERIFICATION: The information on the application may be checked by school officials at any time during the school year.

REPORTING CHANGES: If you list income information and your child is approved for meal benefits, you must tell the school when your household income increases by $50 or more per month ($600 per year) or when your household size decreases. If you list a food stamp case number or AFDC number, you must tell the school when you no longer receive food stamps or AFDC for your child.

FOSTER CHILD: Your foster child may be eligible for meal benefits. If you wish to apply for meal benefits for a foster child, contact the school for help with the application.

NONDISCRIMINATION: Children who receive free or reduced-price meal benefits are treated the same as children who pay for meals. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

FAIR HEARING: If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the result of verification, you may wish to discuss it with the school. You also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official:

915/754-4415 Johnny Bob Smith, P.O. Box 125, Winters ISD, Winters, TX 79567
(Name, Address, Telephone Number of Hearing Official)

CONFIDENTIALITY: The information you provide will be treated confidentially and will be used only for eligibility determination and verification of data.

REAPPLICATION: You may apply for benefits any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now but need to apply later in the year, please fill out an application at that time.

You will be notified when the application is approved or denied.

Sincerely,

Dear Betty Crocker

Q. I'd like to increase my 2-loaf bread recipe to make 10 loaves. What do you recommend?

Mrs. M. T. Byron, CA

A. Most recipes can be doubled, but if there is dough for more than four loaves at a time, it's difficult to knead dough effectively by hand. If you have a mixer with dough hook, or use the food processor, each 2- or 4-loaf batch is quick to process.

TIP OF THE WEEK

Use leftover gravies and sauces with vegetables, pasta, meats and hot sandwiches.

Q. How can I make hush puppies that don't fall apart?

Mrs. L. H.

Jacksonville, IL

A. Be sure to measure flour precisely. If there's too little flour or extra liquid, batter tends to disintegrate in the hot fat. Also, see that cooking fat reaches required temperature. Hot fat causes batter to set quickly.

I am not at all superstitious, but I would not sleep 13 in a bed on a Friday night.

Chauncey Depew

WHAT INCOME MUST YOU LIST ON THIS APPLICATION: List all income received last month by each person. You must list: all wages from all jobs (the total earned BEFORE deductions for taxes, social security, etc.); retirement or pension income for anyone in your household receiving this income; and the other income types listed below. If you have household members for whom last month's income was higher or lower than usual, please list that person's expected average monthly income for this year. For example, self-employed people like farmers and seasonal workers should list average monthly income.

You do not have to give social security numbers, but if you refuse your child cannot receive free or reduced-price meals. The social security numbers may be used to identify you for verifying the information you report on this application. Verification may include audits, investigations, contacting the State employment office, food stamp or welfare office, and employers, and checking the written information provided by the household to confirm the information received. If incorrect information is discovered, a loss of benefits or legal action may occur. These facts must be told to all household members whose social security numbers are reported on this form.

The Crop Connection

Richard Minzenmayer

General Situation

Most of the dryland cotton has reached or is fast approaching cut-out. Many fields are like a flower garden right now. Bollworms are still "spotty" and boll weevils continue to increase. Many fields which have not been taken care of have up to 100% punctured squares. Spider mites continue to increase in the Veribest area.

Cotton

Bollworms and Budworms

Tobacco budworm trap catches continue to increase and budworm larvae can be found in some fields. To date we have not had any problems controlling bollworms, and hopefully this will continue. I think cotton which is cutting out and is not putting on new small squares and leaves, will be much less attractive to moths laying eggs. If you have low numbers of squares on the plant, small worms have a difficult time surviving.

Cotton which is lush in the top should be watched closely for worm infestation. A lot of the irrigated cotton is getting big and rank. It is going to be more difficult killing worms in this type of cotton because of poor insecticide coverage. It is very difficult to get good coverage in cotton which is chest tall and lapping in the middles. In order to kill insect pests they must come in contact with the material. Be sure you are getting good coverage.

Some of the producers with irrigated fields are talking about watering and pushing their cotton crop till the 15th of September. I think this is a Big Mistake. We are operating on borrowed time right now as far as insecticide failures to. To push your cotton into September to make that extra 1/4 bale may end up costing you 3/4 of a bale.

We should be managing our crop to bloom out of the top now. The insect pressure is not going to do anything but get worse.

Boll Weevils! Boll Weevils!

Boll Weevils!

Weevils continue to increase and we are experiencing the F2 generation emergence now. There is much more field migration associated with this generation. You simply cannot afford to sample fields less than twice per week now if you are planning on controlling the late season weevils.

Many producers have asked the question, "How much longer do I have to protect my crop?"

In fields that have reached peak bloom, we still need 3-4 weeks protection to be safe from weevils. Bolls which you expect to make should be protected from boll weevils until they are 12-15 days old (a white bloom on Sept. 1 will be a 15 day old bote on Sept. 15).

There has been some complaints about Guthion® not working well. You spray one day and found live weevils in the blooms the next day. This is not uncommon. These weevils are migrating into treated fields and going to the blooms. The bloom has bloomed that same day and does not have insecticide in it. Once the weevils start moving around on the treated surface, they will die.

In order to properly time boll weevil treatments we need to use all of the information we have available. This includes looking in blooms for adult weevils and picking up squares on the ground with grubs in them to try to determine when the next bunch of adult weevils will be emerging. It takes about 18-21 days to complete a boll weevil generation this time of year. When the adult female weevil emerges, she feeds for 4-5 days before beginning to lay eggs. Eggs require about 3-4 days to hatch into a grub, the grub feeds for 7-14 days and the pupal state lasts about 3-5 days. When the grubs get about 1/4 inch long, only about 4-6 days remain until the adult will emerge.

Spider Mites

(Information from Dr. Tom Fuchs)

Spider mites are occurring in more fields each day. Mites infest the undersides of leaves where they suck sap and removed the green pigments from the leaves. When mite populations become heavy, plants often become reddish or maroon in color. Spot treatments can be effective if the infestation is found early enough. It normally takes 2 applications of insecticides at 7-10 day intervals to clean up a heavy mite problem with insecticides such as Azodrin or Curacron. Comite has also been used effectively when used in high gallonage of water by ground. (25-40 gallons) Capture has looked good in our test work also.

Spider Mite Biology

Preoviposition	1-2 days
Larval	2 days
Nymphal	5 days
Adults	5-10 days

Generations can be as little as 5 days, but usually take 7-14 days.

New Pyrethroid

A new pyrethroid has just received a conditional label for use in cotton. The product is called Caputre and is marketed by FMC Corporation. It is effective on bollworms/budworms, boll weevils, aphids, spider mites and several other pests. One major problem for us is that it can be legally used only in a "closed

pay raise for teachers

The Texas State Teachers Association announced last week it will ask the state legislature for a $5,000 across the-board pay raise for all Texas teachers and will work for a 20 percent hike for other education employees.

Speaking at a state Capitol news conference Thursday, TSTA President Charles Beard said it is a myth that significant progress has been made in teacher salaries as a result of education reform in Texas.

"The fact is that in relative terms, teachers' salaries have been slipping faster than the price of Texas 'crude,'" Beard said. "Our national ranking in pay has tumbled from 21st in the nation in 1984 to 27th in 1988."

Beard said teachers feel "betrayed" because they were told that by submitting to TECAT testing, taking on more responsibilities, implementing a more stringent curricula with less flexibility, accepting a merit pay system and rigorous evaluations they would be rewarded with significantly higher salaries.

Not only are current teachers meeting higher performance standards, Beard added, but tougher requirements for becoming certified to teach public school are firmly in place.

"The quality of education is up and we can assure it will stay up so long as we can attract and retain quality teachers."

"Teachers have responded to every challenge," Beard said. "Student test scores are up at every level, but the legislature hasn't improved the salary schedule in more than four years and most school districts have let the local share decline."

Beard added that 20,000 teachers are already at the top step of the state salary schedule and another 15,000 will reach the top step in 1988-89.

"If the legislature doesn't act,

4-H Leadership Lab

Twenty three 4-H'ers who will be serving their respective 4-H Clubs as in-coming officers, attended a Leadership Lab on August 12. They participated in workshops defining the responsibilities of their offices and planned club activities, programs and community service projects for the new year.

Those attending were (front row right to left): Jana Wilson, Dusty Hohensee, Bridget Mansell, Doug Hohensee, Jennifer Bickel, Carlene Tinkler, and Misty Tucker

Christy Strube, Brandy Tucker and Leslie Moeller

These 4-H'ers represent all of the 4-H Clubs in Runnels County: Ballinger 4-H, Rowena 4-H, Winters 4-H, Miles 4-H, Norton 4-H and Runnels County 4-H Horse Club.

Runnels County Farm Bureau sponsored the Leadership Lab held at Hords Creek Lake.

these 35,000 teachers will not qualify on the state minimum schedule for an increment in the next biennium.

"The state can not depend on local school boards to supplement teacher pay because last year eight of every nine school districts either froze or cut the base pay for teachers.

"The long and short of it is that Texas must begin not to dig itself out of a hole or it may never get out of it," the TSTA President said.

TSTA's proposed $5,000 pay raise over a two-year period can be financed by a portion of the new state education funds being recommended by the State Board of Education combined with local funds.

system", as I understand it. Also, it will be available only in 5 or 15 gallon containers without spouts. These must be punctured with equipment which is part of a closed system. I am not sure of the price but I understand that it is considerable more expensive than most other pyrethroids.

Sorghum

We are currently seeing lots of problems with greenbugs on late grain sorghum. If you have sorghum that is not yet in the hard dough stage, you need to be checking it for greenbugs. Also, if you have sorghum now blooming, you need to watch for sorghum midge. There are midge in the area.

Breast Cancer Detection Unit Available to Area Women

Monday, September 12, 1988 Winters, Texas

A Service of North Runnels Hospital

Call 754-4553 For Appointment

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Appointments may be made by calling 754-4553.

The American Cancer Society has established guidelines for mammography in asymptomatic women. (Women who have no symptoms of disease). Those guidelines have been adopted by the American Academy of Family Physicians, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, and The American College of Radiology. Those guidelines are:

- I. 35-40 years of age. One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age. A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals.

These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A Screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $55.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

From A Goldfish Bowl

By Pastor Steve Byrne

Sometime this year Winters became the place of my lengthiest residence since I graduated from high school. Four and a half years. That means I have lived a number of places and have left some very special friends behind.

But you know how it is. You always intend to get together with them. Yet you get involved in things in your new life, your new community, your new stage in life. And you never quite get around to making good on all those good intentions. There is never enough time to go and visit and keep in touch. Especially when you have kids in school and work on Sundays.

August was my month to hit bases with some very special people in my past. Fred, my old history professor, who later became a good and close friend, and who had more to do with my going into the ministry than any clergy person. Byron and Deanna, close friends from my first parish. Bob and Sue and their family. Bob was the first congregational president of the church we started in Odessa.

It was a blessing to have time to set and talk over old times and to get caught up on the feelings, events, and years that have distanced us.

I guess I am like everybody else. I wonder from time to time what would have happened if I had made different choices in life. What if I had pursued an M.B.A. in management instead of choosing the seminary? What if I had accepted the call to x church instead of y church? What if I had made the other choice instead of the one I made.

Spending time with these very special people in my life made me realize how gracious God is to have placed These Particular People in my life. How special they really are to me. I am relatively sure that God would have placed other people in my path had I chosen another direction. And they would have been equally important and special.

But it wouldn't have been Deanna and Byron, Bob and Sue, and Fred. And I realized that I wouldn't have taken anything for the friendship I have enjoyed and still enjoy with These Particular People.

The roads we took, the decisions we made, have brought us all to where we are. We can often see the painful consequences of taking the paths we did. Maybe we really WOULD have done some things different. Yet somehow it all gets reconciled (or close to it) when God leads us to see all the gifts of grace that He has placed in our way. The very Special people and relationships who have enriched our lives.

Just another little glimpse of God's love and grace in the midst of a world that too often doesn't make sense and won't seem to reconcile itself for us. Another reason to give thanks.

J. M. McCrosky

J. M. McCrosky, born May 23, 1908 in Miles, Texas, passed away May 23, 1988 in Glen Rose, Texas.

Services for J. M. McCrosky were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 25, 1988 in the First Baptist Church with interment in Oak Grove Cemetery in Walnut, Springs, directed by Martin-Pitts Funeral Home.

He died on his 80th birthday.

Mr. McCrosky was superintendent of the Wingate school in the 1940's. During the World War II years when many of the high school boys were volunteering and being drafted for service, Mr. McCrosky gave encouragement to the student body in many ways. Many necessities were rationed—gas, tires, shoes, sugar, etc.—but that did not keep activities down at the Wingate school, because Mr. McCrosky created his own fun things for the students. To name a few, Community Day on April Fool's Day and the daily assembly in the auditorium. The assembled group pledged allegiance to the flag and sang patriotic songs, "God Bless America", "Texas Our Texas", "Star Spangled Banner" and others.

Mr. McCrosky was respected and loved by those who knew him.

If any of his former students and friends would like to contribute to a memorial to the scholarship fund which has been set up in his honor, donations may be sent to: Mrs. J. M. McCrosky, Box 858, Glen Rose, Texas 76403.

Following is a letter from Beth McCrosky, the wife of J. M. McCrosky, written to a former student.

Dear Friends, Thank you for your card and note. You were always very special to J. M. and we liked hearing from you and others of our Wingate friends. That was a very special time in our life, our five years there. I'm grateful for all the good times we had together, almost 52 years! As you can see from the enclosed he died of cancer on his 80th birthday. That is a long life if spent as usefully as he spent his. The graciousness of former students and co-workers, as well as many other friends, has been sustaining and a comfort to me. Locally, a scholarship fund has been set up as a trust fund for a perpetual scholarship each years, as a memorial to his work here. The endowment was not completely set up when he died, but three scholarships were given at graduation in his memory. This will be an annual grant to a worthy student. As you know, his students were very dear to him and he wanted the best for them.

I'm trying to adjust to the loneliness but I'm grateful I was able to take care of him when he needed me.

Was nice to hear from you. Thanks again for your nice remembrance.

Sincerely
Beth McCroskey

RRC levies fines

The Railroad Commission assessed a total of $65,050 in administrative penalties last week to six oil and gas operators for problems under Commission well plugging rules.

The largest of the penalties, $29,000, went to Timber Creek Oil Company of Grand Prairie for 58 inactive and unplugged wells on the C. M. Gillespie lease in Navarro County. The Commission order also directs that the wells be plugged within 30 days.

In a similar case, Lou Beal and Merle Rodgers, doing business as Beal Operating Company of Coleman, were penalized a total of $22,000 for 22 inactive and unplugged wells on 10 leases in Coleman County.

Other penalties assessed included a total of $9,000 to Strand Energy Corporation of Dallas for one unplugged well each on the T. Brandt, Bowden "A", and R. Boyd leases, Brown County; and $4,000 to J. C. Powell, Jr. of Albuquerque, New Mexico for two wells on the Billie D. Schultz lease in Williamson County.

Two companies agreed to penalties without admitting any violation of Commission rules. Navarro County Joint Venture of Allen agreed to a $500 penalty for five wells on the J. B. Bradley Estate lease, Navarro County; and W. F. Thompson Oil Co. of Knox City agreed to a $550 penalty for two wells on the W. F. Franklin Lowrance lease, Knox County.

To date in 1988, the Commission has levied more than $700,000 in pollution and well plugging penalties. Last year, the Commission assessed some $794,000 in such penalties.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The City of Winters will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1987 by four (4%) percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on September 6 at 6:30 p.m.

FOR the proposal: McGuffin, Griffin, Sims, Bernal, Bedford

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: None

(Names of all members of the governing body, showing how each voted on the proposal to consider the tax increase and, if one or more were absent, indicating the absences.)

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on August 11, 1988. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$18,111	$18,062
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	$18,111	$18,062
Tax rate	$.671	$.60 (proposed)
Tax	$121.52	$108.37 (proposed)

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would decrease by $ 13.15 (Thirteen & 15/100 Dollars) or Eleven (11%) percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would decrease by $.071 (11%) per $100 of taxable value or Eleven (11%) percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Immunizations needed for school and good health

Are your children immunized? You should ask yourself this question for two important reasons, says the Texas Medical Association.

First, children must receive vaccinations for six diseases—diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, mumps, and rubella—before they can enter Texas elementary and secondary schools. Also, pertussis (whooping cough) vaccination is required for children less than five years of age, and certain vaccinations must be given to children who are entering day or child care centers.

Secondly, and most importantly, TMA urges parents to immunize their children because the vaccines protect them from disease that can cause permanent disabilities or even death.

The immunization series should begin when a child is two months old. The process continues until they are about five years of age, and booster shots for tetanus and diphtheria continue throughout life.

For more information about immunizations, contact your physician or the local health department. For a free brochure, Immunizations, Investing in a Healthy Future, write Texas Medical Association, Public Relations Department, 1801 North Lamar Blvd., Austin, Texas 78701.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization with more than 28,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state.

item, said Fonseca.

"If your child is growing rapidly, buy sizes as large as possible without being ill-fitting. Clothes with adjustable straps and waistbands, raglan sleeves, stretchy fabrics, deep hems, dropped waistlines and two piece outfits provide more room for growth."

"You may be better off waiting to buy clothes as your growing child needs them. This can also give your youngster time to see what the other kids are wearing and feel happier about his or her choices in school clothes."

It started out as a routine trip for Donna Pugh of Houma, Louisiana. Routine, until her light truck was sideswiped. According to Donna, who was eight months pregnant at that time, "My truck did a 180-degree turn before slamming into a large steel pole. Fortunately, my two-year old son, Cody, was strapped into his car seat and I was wearing my safety belt. Without our restraints, both of us would have been seriously injured or killed."

Today she says, "Thanks to our belts, I now have two beautiful boys and they have a healthy mom."

The safety belts which saved Donna's life have been standard equipment on all cars sold in the U.S. for the last 20 years. Over and over, safety belts have proved to be remarkably effective in helping the human body withstand the violent impact of motor vehicle crashes. The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) estimates that safety belts have saved more than 8,000 lives and prevented 95,500 injuries in just the last five years. Even more lives could be saved and injuries avoided, if belts were worn correctly and on every trip. The enactment of safety belt use laws in thirty-two states and the District of Columbia has resulted in a record number of Americans buckling up. Forty-three percent of Americans wear their safety belts regularly, and usage is even higher in states with belt laws.

Today's belt systems are easy to use and designed to offer comfort and some movement without compromising protection. The lap and shoulder belt combination, for example, is engineered to offer maximum protection so that crash forces are absorbed and distributed across the strongest areas of the body—the bones of the hips and shoulders. The shoulder belt portion is attached to a retractor mechanism that is designed to let the webbing move freely in and out, except during sudden deceleration, when it locks automatically, keeping occupants in place and preventing them from striking the dashboard, windshield or other hard interior components. Belts also prevent motorists from being ejected, a frequent cause of death or injury for people not wearing belts.

People come in all sizes and modern belt systems are engineered to adjust as necessary. However, the very features that make belt systems fit comfortably and convenient to use can, if used incorrectly, make them less effective.

The most common and dangerous form of misuse by adults, is placing the shoulder belt under the arm. This eliminates the critical protection the shoulder belt provides in keeping the upper portion of the body from pitching forward and striking the steering wheel, dashboard or windshield. Another serious mistake is locating the shoulder belt behind the back which also allows the body to pitch forward.

Excess slack is another problem. American car manufacturers have installed tension release devices which function like a window shade, enabling motorists to relieve some excess pressure exerted by the shoulder belt. But too much slack defeats the belt's purpose. The shoulder belt should be comfortable but snug across the chest. Excess slack should be eliminated by tugging on the shoulder belt, or pulling it out slightly, and the releasing it quickly.

Lap belts and the lap portion of lap/shoulder belt combinations should always be worn low and snug across the bones of the pelvis and not up across the soft organs of the abdomen. Are lap belts effective? Studies have shown that the overall fatality risk of back seat passengers is reduced by 17 to 26 percent with lap belt use. This is because people are prevented from being thrown against each other or ejected from the car. An estimated 660 lives could have been saved and 10,200 serious injuries avoided in 1987 if back seat belt use had been 100 percent. People who want to add shoulder belts for extra protection in the back seat should contact their dealers or a manufacturer's representative.

Children travelling by car have special needs, and they are protected by laws in all fifty states and the District of Columbia. These laws require small children (usually up to age 4) to ride in approved child safety seats or to use safety belts, whether they are in the front or back seat. Again, when lap belts are used, they should be placed as low on the lap as possible, under the abdomen.

NHTSA's latest observational survey found that 84 percent of children ages four and under were in child safety seats (up from 54 percent in 1985), but one-third of the seats were not being used correctly. Parents and other adults must take the responsibility and the time to make sure child safety seats are used correctly, by following the manufacturer's instructions carefully. The safest place for the child safety seat is in the back seat of the car.

In addition to proper adjustment and use, safety belts and child safety seats should be inspected periodically. Look for twisted webbing, frayed fabric and check to see if the belt is retracting properly. If the belts need cleaning, instructions can be found in the owner's manual. Check child safety seats to make sure that they are installed according to manufacturer's instructions, that the harness is adjusted properly and not twisted, that there are no cracks in the shell and that the harness and buckle are in good condition.

Safety belts and child safety seats used in a crash have been subjected to enormous forces and should be replaced. In addition, malfunctioning or poorly-functioning mechanisms, frayed belts, etc. should be repaired or replaced immediately.

Customer enthusiasm for safety and new technological developments is resulting in more and more safety features being provided as standard equipment. Manufacturers are phasing in lap/shoulder belts for people riding in the rear seats, anti-lock brakes, automatic safety belts and air bags. But keep in mind that even with an air bag, safety belts are a necessity. Air bags provide protection in head-on crashes, but for complete protection in side, rear and rollover crashes, and for even more protection in frontal crashes, safety belts must be used on every trip.

Safety is becoming an important consideration in the new car marketplace. Be an informed consumer who knows what safety features are available—and then take advantage of them. Donna Pugh and her sons are alive today because they were convinced that safety belts make sense and using them every trip is a habit they couldn't afford not to get into. Safety belts are a habit for life.

Breast Cancer Detection Unit to be in Winters

According to the American Cancer Society, one out every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, Texas "The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art x-ray equipment breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90%-97% survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be available to local women, on Monday, September 12, 1988, the mobile unit will be parked at North Runnels Hospital. Appointments may be made by calling 754-4553.

For more information you may call the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital at (915) 334-8888/561-9999.

Deer leases

Deer hunters and landowners who sell deer leases should be interested in a new booklet entitled The Texas Deer Lease.

Mark Lane, Range Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service in Ballinger, said single copies are available for $1 for Texas residents from the Real Estate Center-SC, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

"Every year as deer season approaches, we receive questions about deer leasing," Mark Lane said. "This booklet is an excellent guide for people to use to avoid misunderstandings about what to expect from a deer lease."

Written by Judon Fambrough, an attorney and senior lecturer with the Real Estate Center, the booklet guides both the hunter and the landowner through issues they should consider before entering into a lease agreement. He discussed 21 items that can be part of a deer lease agreement including density of hunters, order deer are taken, use of blinds and feeders, and methods of resolving disputes.

Fambrough also discusses hunter safety and addresses questions about the landowner's liability and offers options for both parties.

Mark Lane said his office does not have copies of the booklet but that they can be ordered from Texas A&M.

The SCS staff of Ballinger gives technical assistance to landowners and operators through the local Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District.

The Real Estate Center was created in 1971 by the Texas Legislature to serve the real estate industry, instructors, researchers, and the general public.

Ted Meyer Park sign installed

Employees of Jedd Manufacturing were busy last week installing the new entrance at Winters Ted Meyer Park.

The Winters City Council named the park in honor of the long-time civic leader shortly after his death last year.

Speaking of Wildlife

Wildlife, in this area of the state is big business. With an abundance of deer, turkey, dove, quail and other game in the area, a large number of hunters from other areas come here to hunt.

These visiting hunters contribute to our economy in many ways, retail purchases and leasing hunting property.

With the start of quail season near, and deer and turkey season only weeks away, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department recently conducted counts on quail to attempt to predict the hunting outlook for quail.

Billy Don Davis, of Winters, is a Wildlife Biologist for the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife. He took time to single out this area to share speculation about the upcoming quail season.

"We in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department conducted counts on quail throughout the state during the first week in August. From these counts we attempted to predict the hunting outlook for quail. I would like to single out our own portion of West Central Texas and share some speculation about the upcoming quail season.

We conducted 41 quail transects, each of which covered 20 miles. From these 820 miles of transects we compare the totals with the totals from previous years.

We all realize that we enjoyed one of our better quail seasons last year. But this coming season does not have as good an outlook. Quail numbers seen this year are 63 percent less than during August of 1987. The numbers of coveys observed was 61 percent less than last year and the average number of birds per covey was 24 percent less.

I personally counted quail in Callahan, Coleman, Concho and Runnels Counties. Few coveys of small birds were observed on any of the transects in any of the above counties except Concho County. But the hatch of chicks in Concho County were fairly recent. These little birds were less than 2 weeks old in all of the five coveys observed on the transect. This situation is not what you normally observe in quail this time of year. These coveys should contain birds hatched much earlier. During good quail years most of the birds hatched in this portion of Texas occurred during the first 2 weeks in June and are fairly large by the first week in August.

The drought conditions that prevailed during the first portion of the nesting season is considered to be the main underlying factor in the reduction of our quail. Although all of us interested folks that have been out in the bushes have probably observed coveys of birds containing relatively large chicks. But in most parts of our counties we see a lot less quail than we would have observed last year at this time.

Any quail biologist will tell you rainfall is critical in the production of quail as it is with many things. Some biologists tell me they do not even need to go to the field, that they can predict the quail prospects by merely looking at the rainfall records.

But rainfall is almost never received in a uniform pattern. This spotty nature of rain usually allows some areas to get adequate rainfall at the right times to promote good quail hatching. This year it looks like some portions of Coke County has a fairly good quail population. And talking to some of the folks over at Robert Lee they tell me that a lot of the county did receive timely rains during the spring.

So when the quail season rolls around October 29, it looks like this little feller might just head for Coke County."
