Wait a minute... By Kerry Craig

We have arrived at that time of year when both the trees and the clocks change and they both lose something.

Early next Sunday morning, 2:00 a.m. to be exact, we will lose that hour last Spring we gained with the change to Daylight Savings Time as we revert to Central Standard Time.

Now we have discussed this many times, all the procedures and the best times to do all this changing of the hour.

So, by now, we all know how to set our clocks back one hour. If you forget that little chore, you are sure to be the talk of the congregation at church when everyone finds out you were there an hour early. It might even get the preacher to checking into what inspiring little thing he included in his sermon last week that was so effective in getting your attention.

The trees are donning their Fall apparel. The most striking display is along side U. S. 83, just past Guion, where the trees are already a brilliant red and brown. Soon our countryside will be ready for a pleasant afternoon drive just to see the colors of nature.

Another thing that is on the minds of lots of folks this time of year is the Presidential election.

Either I have been missing something, or, the political advertising from the major parties is not as evident as in years past.

It just could be that coverage of the top two candidates, and their running mates, is not getting the "lead story" status from the major networks this year. It seems that two, or three whales have been getting the lion's share of news coverage as well as attention from the world's super powers.

All this may sound a bit fishy but, to some is undoubtedly a welcome relief from all the political potshots that we normally are subjected to every four years.

As the election draws near, one might well be aware that the election of our nation's chief executive is only a small part of the ballot. There are, in some instances, local races to be decided along with those on a district or statewide basis, and there are the constitutional amendments to be voted on.

Read those amendments carefully before voting for, or against, any of them. Make sure you know what you are voting on.

Blizzards stun O with 3-0 win

In what had to be a thriller, the Winters Blizzards kept a capacity homecoming crowd on its feet with a 3-0 win over the Ozona Lions in District 6-AA play.

It was a standing room only crowd in Blizzard Stadium that was on its feet throughout almost the entire game which was dominated by both the Blizzard and Lion defensive teams.

As the first and second quarters ended the score was tied at 0-0. The same was true for the third period as the defenses held the opposing offensive teams to minimal yardage.

The fourth quarter saw the Blizzards get on the board with a 22 yard field goal off the toe of Richard Lett with just over three minutes left in the game.

The Ozona Lions took over and the pressure was on the Blizzard defense to keep Ozona from scoring and to put the Blizzards into the race for the second place play-off birth in District 6-AA.

The Lions drove to about the one-foot line before being shut down by the Blizzards's goal-line defense. In a third-down position with only a foot to go for Ozona, the Blizzards blew through the Lion offensive line for a sack and a seven yard loss.

The loss left Ozona in a fourth down and goal situation with the goal line some seven or eight yards away and the game at stake. In the final play of the game, Ozona tried to throw a

Get your lawn in shape for spring

Homeowners can take steps now to get their lawns in shape for next spring.

Weed, disease and insect control along with fall fertilization can help get lawns off to a fast start next year.

Chinch bugs, white grubs and armyworms must be controlled during late summer and fall. Insect damage weakens turf and allows weeds to invade the lawn. Timely applications of insecticides such as diazinon, Dursban and/or oftanol will control must lawn insect problems.

Fall fertilization maintains the lawn's green color and promotes early spring green-up. A dense, vigorous turf produced by proper fertilization also keeps winter weeds from invading lawns.

Applying a complete fertilizer per cup for canned pumpkin. But that's before you add the sugar, milk, egg and pie crust for the pie.

with a 3-1-2, 4-1-2, or similar ration of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash at a rate of 1 to 2 pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

If winter weeds have been a problem in past years, apply a preemergence herbicide for additional protection against weeds. Products containing atrazine, benefin, bensulide, dacthal or similar materials provide preemergence control of many winter annual weeds. Some preemergence herbicides are available in formulations with fertilizers, which simplifies applications.

Always follow label instruction in regard to grass species and rates of application when using herbicides. Materials containing atrazine should not be used around trees and shrubs.

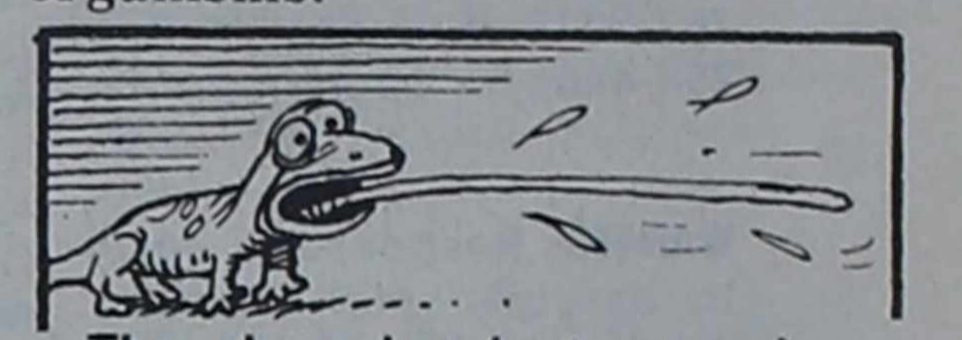

As far as disease control is concerned apply a fungicide on St. Augustine lawns to prevent damage from brown patch. Not only is brown patch unsightly, but weeds will invade the lawn in disease-weakened areas. Also, spring recovery is delayed in areas damaged by brown patch.

Fungicides containing PCNB (Terraclor, Ortho Lawn Fungicide), benomyl (Benlate, Tersan 1991) or chlorothalonil (Daconil) control brown patch when applied according to label instructions.

Raise the mowing height in October 1-1/2 or 2 inches for bermuda lawns. The taller grass provides more cover and insulation for the growing points of the grass and reduces the chance for winterkill.

Another fall task for homeowners is to remove excess accumulations of grass clippings or tree leaves from the lawn. The excess debris from these sources increases thatch accumulation and creates a favorable habitat for insects and disease organisms.

Home Queen, Mrs. Buford (Margaret) Baldwin during half-time activities and the successful homecoming reception after the game attended by over 100 WHS Exes and their families. It was a very exciting, fun-filled homecoming.

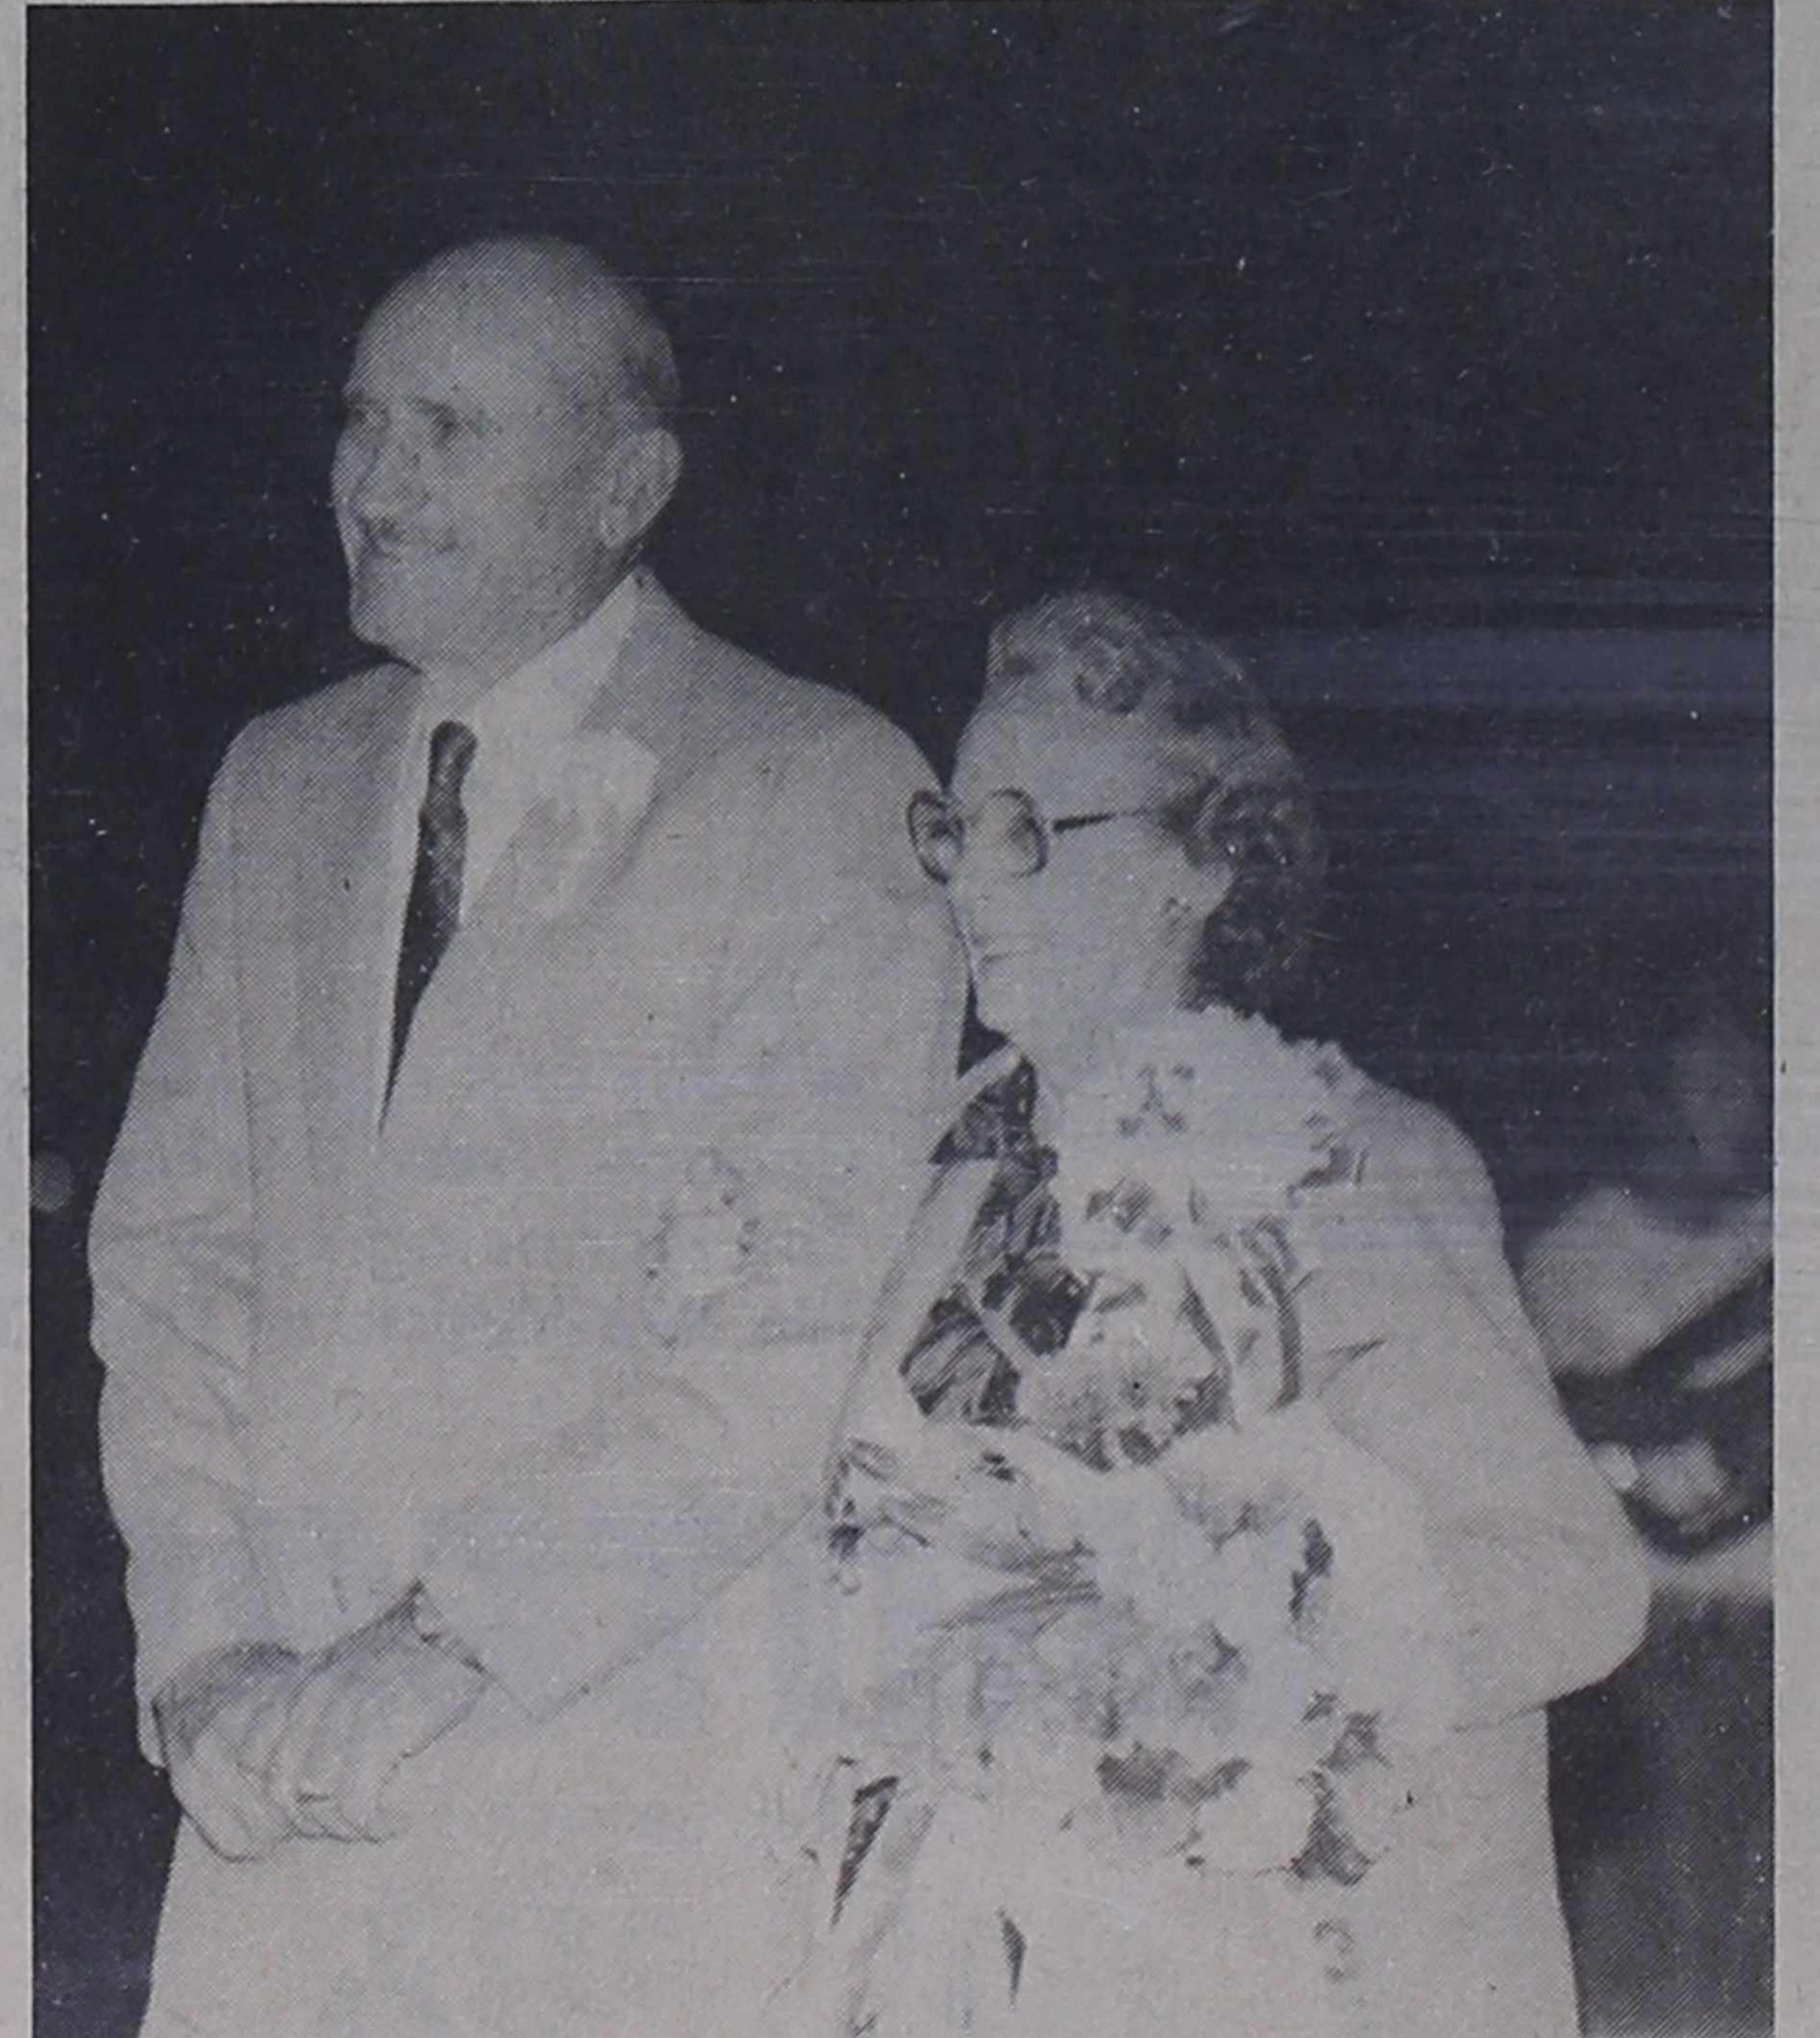

Over 170 WHS Exes registered before the kick-off time and the release of the blue and white balloons was spectacular!

This year homecoming exes honored the 50th anniversary class of 1938 which was highlighted by the class member to the class of 1951 for having the most members present at the reception. They were presented a "spirit stick" and led all the exes in a spirit yell.

A "special thank you" to all the WHS EXES who attended the homecoming activities. Also "thank you and appreciation" to the businesses who decorated for homecoming; also the WISD personnel for all their help and corporation with the Ex-student Association.

Letter to the Editor

Gentlemen:

I, along with some friends, have been visiting your fine City for some 30 to 35 years—especially during hunting season. We have known the Hoppe families (Calvin, Bill and Glen) for those many years.

On October 15th I purchased some things at Wes-T-Go on Main Street. I had on coveralls—and in putting my money clip back into my pocket—I missed connection and it fell out in the parking lot. I missed it that event and phoned Zelda at the Wes-T-Go (having met her several times at Bill Hoppe's cook-offs) to see if the money clip had been found. She and Tammie said some lady had found it and turned it into them. I picked it up.

I don't think this could have happened in Dallas—the return of the clip—in fact I am sure it would not have happened. I have no way of thanking the lady who turned it in as she did not give Zelda her name. If you think of any way to thank her—and to let her know—I would very much appreciate it.

Sea World sets new schedule for fall

Sea World of Texas has adopted a five-day per week schedule for fall and winter instead of being open every day, according to Sea World of Texas Chairman George J. Becker, Jr., however the 250-acre marine life showplace in San Antonio has extended its hours on Fridays and Saturdays.

He said the park will be closed on Mondays and Tuesdays during the fall, winter and early spring months. The revised park schedule is 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays and 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays.

Hours will be expanded for holiday periods such as Thanksgiving and Christmas.

"Since Labor Day and the end of the very busy summer vacation season, we have found that most of our guests visit the park during the middle or latter parts of the week," he explained. "We feel it is simply good business to adjust our hours accordingly."

"At the same time, we have decided to close later on Fridays and Sundays at the urging of guests. For instance, this will enable families to enjoy our Cypress Restaurant buffet at their leisure and still have plenty of time to see our marine animal shows and educational exhibits."

Sea World days and hours of operation will expand further next spring with the arrival of a new vacation season, Becker said.

Although the park will be closed on Mondays and Tuesdays, Sea World of Texas' business offices will be open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

EAT, DRINK, AND BE BURIED.

Go ahead. Live it up while you can. Eat anything and everything you want, from those processed meats to fatty dairy products to that extra measure of salt. But do it soon. Because poor eating habits can lead to high blood cholesterol, which can result in clogged arteries, a damaged heart, and an early death. The American Heart Association urges you to eat sensibly. Avoid food high in fat, salt and cholesterol. Avoid eating too much. It could keep you from an early grave and let you live it up a little longer.

Choose the right pumpkin for carving, eating

The Texas pumpkin crop may be small, but it offers just what you need for Halloween carving, fall decorations or eating.

The word "pumpkin" is derived from the Greek word "pepon" which means "cooked by the sun."

This summer's drought in the midwest cooked the pumpkin crop a little too much, and both the size and number of pumpkins coming from that part of the country was reduced by half.

All this is good news for the producers in Texas who raise the fall vegetable in irrigated fields. With only about 1,500 acres of pumpkins, grown mostly in the south plains area, Texas wasn't exactly a giant in the pumpkin market—until this year.

"This is the height of the harvest and producers are getting good yields and excellent quality pumpkins," said Dr.

Roland Roberts, a vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock.

"Where in past years the market for Texas pumpkins was primarily within the state, this year they're being purchased by buyers as far east as New York state and in the southern states," he said.

For consumers, the reduced supply of pumpkins means prices may be a little higher and the selection a little smaller.

Choose your pumpkin based on its intended use. The Hosen variety are the large pumpkins used mostly for carving.

The miniature Jack Be Little and Munchkin variety pumpkins make excellent fall decorations. They work well for party favors, carving contests or painting on jack o'lantern faces.

If you're a pumpkin pie purist with an urge to make one from scratch, look for a high quality sugar pumpkin.

Roberts said the best pie pumpkins are in the 5 to 8 pound range, very deep orange, firm and heavy. Some brown flecking on the skin is also a sign of a high quality sugar pumpkin.

According to Extension nutrition specialist Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a microwave oven can make fresh pumpkin pie preparation easier. Cut the pie pumpkin in half vertically. Scoop out the seeds and membranes. Place one half, cut side down, in a glass baking dish.

Microwave on high uncovered, 10 to 15 minutes or until tender, rotating the dish once or twice. Repeat cooking the other half. Cool the pumpkin halves until they're easy to handle and scoop out the pulp. Then process the pulp in a blender of food processor until smooth.

Cooksey said both fresh and canned pumpkin are high in vitamin A and low in calories; 50 calories per cup for cooked, fresh pumpkin and 85 calories

The "Notch"

Perhaps no recent Social Security issue stirs as intense feelings as does the "notch". And yet, it is one of the least understood issues. Even those who feel that they've been adversely affected by the "notch" don't understand it.

The "notch" generally affects people who were born from 1917 to 1921. Under the 1977 Social Security Amendments, which corrected a defect in the old method of computing benefits established by the 1972 Amendments, members of this group have lower benefit rate than those born immediately before them. If the defect had not been corrected, future beneficiaries could have received benefits that would have been higher than their pre-retirement earnings.

At recent hearings on the "notch" issue before the House Committee on Ways and Means, Subcommittee on Social Security, the General Accounting Office (GAO) reported that its investigation showed that the 1977 Amendments had stabilized benefit rates as Congress intended.

Moreover, most "notch" people end up with a higher benefit rate than that of many retirees historically, and of those who were born after them.

The 1977 law was designed to protect the Social Security system by ending the unexpected drain caused by the rapid rise in benefits. That rationale still holds true. At the hearings, both GAO and Social Security officials testified that any effort to change the "Notch" would be costly and difficult to implement. It would tend to extend and unintended windfall benefits to more groups of beneficiaries, and would cost from $24 to $375 billion over the next 10 years.

Finally, it must be remembered that the problem lies with the old computation method, not the new one. People who get benefits under the new method are not getting benefits that are too low. Rather, people getting benefits under the old method are receiving benefits that are too high.

People who have questions about the "notch" should contact the nearest Social Security office.

Crackdown on pothunters at Corps Lakes

The expressions of the archeologists sobered and a hush fell over the group as the overhanging rock on the narrow ledge came into view. To the inexperienced eye, it was just a pile of overturned rocks under a large shelf of stone. But to the experts, it was a lot more.

"Oh my gosh, 12,000 years of history destroyed for a couple of arrowheads," said Robert "Skipper" Scott, an archeologist for the Fort Worth District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Sadly, he had just found what the groups was looking for—evidence of "pot-hunters" at a Corps reservoir.

Pot-hunters is a term commonly used to refer to people who illegally remove artifacts from archeological sites and then sell them in a lucrative black market. Although some dig only to enlarge their own private collections and do not intend to sell their finds, pot-hunting for all purposes is illegal and carries stiff penalties.

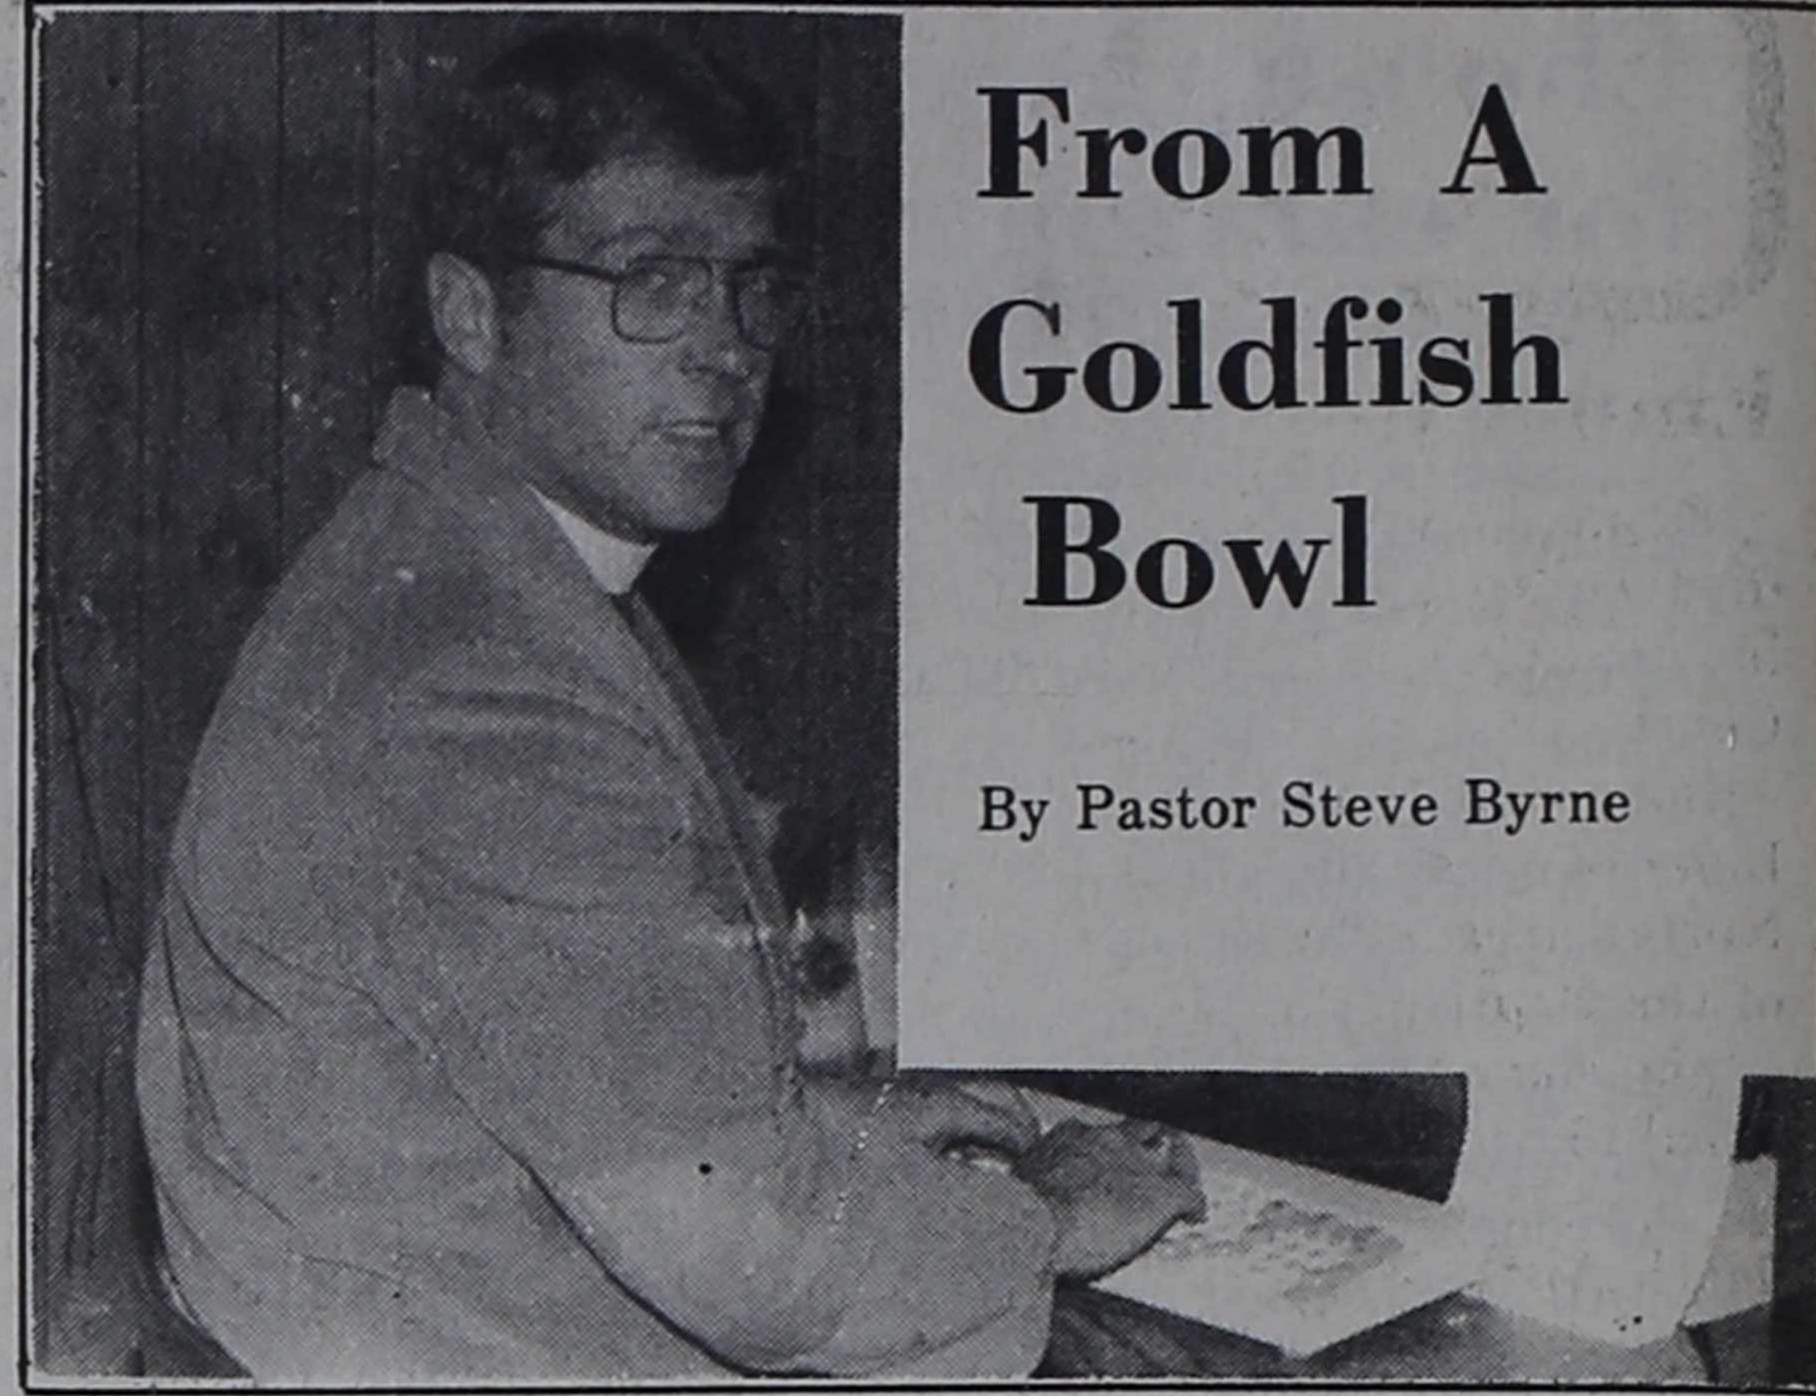

Pot-hunting at Corps lakes is a serious issue and reservoir managers, park rangers and archeologists are committed to curbing the crime. Archeological sites are considered by Scott as a "one shot resource", a source of their knowledge that, once disturbed, is irreplaceable. Their destruction is a problem the court system is finally addressing.

Penalties for disturbing an archeological site on federal lands are stiff. A first offense misdemeanor charge carries a fine of up to $500 and a jail term of up to six months. Subsequent offenses which constitute felonies and are punishable by fines of up to $200,000 and sentences of up to a year, said Larry Banks, Southwestern Division archeologist.

"The Fort Worth District has an excellent record of convictions. In the past three years, of

By Pastor Steve Byrne

I liked Sam Baker. I think it was because he always spoke to me when he saw me on the streets of my original hometown. Not only did Sam greet me, he always called me by name.

Which was kind of odd. Normally the only people that called a 7-year-old kid by his first name were either friends of the family or folks who went to the same church. As far as I knew, neither was the case.

It always made me feel special when I would walk by the pool hall on my way to Knox's Drug Store, the picture show, or the five-and-dime on the square, and Sam would hold up his hand and yell, "Hi, Steve!" from the pool hall which he owned. I would walk a little straighter, a little prouder after that. Some one who didn't have to had actually acknowledged my existence.

It means a lot when you are 7. Especially when they say it the way they talk to normal adults. The pitch of Sam's voice didn't go up an octave like most grown-up voices did for little kids, which only reminded us of our obvious affliction of not being grown-up. It was a gruff voice and I treasured that "grown-up" greeting.

Sam did a lot of stuff he didn't have to. Being a 60 year-old-bachelor in Archer City, you didn't really have to like kids that much. But Sam coached a baseball team of 11 and twelve-year-olds every summer. The Magnolia team. Which almost always won.

Sam was always talking to the high school boys, who congregated at his pool hall. Not to drink beer since Archer City was dry back then. And I doubt even to play pool. But because Sam treated each one of them like they had something to contribute which was valuable in spite of their "minor" status. He didn't lecture or condescend to them. And although he occasionally gave some advice, Sam seemed to respect their right to take it or leave it.

I hadn't thought about him in years. Until the other night when I watched an old re-run of "The Last Picture Show." Larry McMurtry is probably the most famous of all ex-Archer Citizens. And he has never publicly admitted to writing about Sam Baker, I am convinced in my own mind that the Ben Johnson character, Sam the Lion, was my gruff old friend.

Every town needs a Sam Baker. Or a dozen. It gives a place heart and soul.

Next Tuesday is All Saints Day throughout Christendom. The day we think about those who have gone on through death to whatever awaits them. I don't know if Sam went to church or not. I feel sure that God judged him one way or another by what was in his heart. I trust it was a gracious judgement, too.

I do know that I hope my kids remember somebody like Sam when they get older. Some one who affirmed their worth and took time for them, even though they didn't have to. Makes you walk a little taller and believe in yourself a little bit. Even when you're 7.

20 cases filed, 19 have resulted in fines, jail time or both for the offenders," said Scott.

But not all amateur archeologists spell trouble. Banks and Scott both say they respect avocational archeologists—those affiliated with state and local archeological organizations who have been trained in the proper methods to handle sites and catalog their contents.

According to Doug Cox, a Corps park ranger, avocational archeologists work through the reservoir managers and always have the proper written permits.

But a mere "collector" is rarely a true avocational archeologist. "Knowing a lot about arrowheads does not make you an archeologist, any more than knowing a lot of brands of aspirin makes you a doctor!" Scott said.

In the study of archeological sites, the context in which the artifacts are found is as important if not more important than the artifacts themselves.

"In one day, at a small site, a person who doesn't know what he's doing can totally wipe out all the information it contains," explained Banks. He likens an archeological site to a library of rare books. "Each contains information like no other in the world," he said. "If you rip pages out of the books, then the information is lost. Unless you know how to read a site, by digging there, you're destroying it and it's irreplaceable."

The Corps of Engineers encourages anyone who witnesses suspicious activity on federal lands to report it to Corps personnel or local law enforcement officials. As Scott said, "We have a responsibility to protect our nation's legacy."

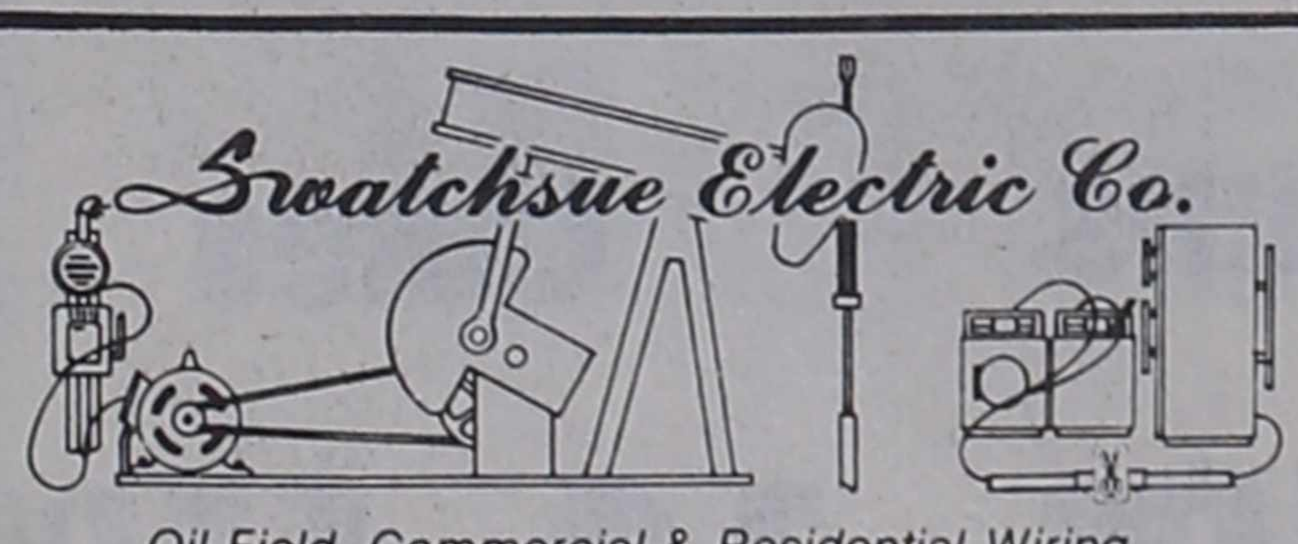

Speedy star: Scientists recently discovered the fastest stars yet found in the universe. According to International Wildlife magazine, these two speedy celestial bodies orbit a neutron star at a blazing 750 miles per hour. At the speed you could travel from the earth to the sun and back in about 40 minutes.

Women Veterans Wellness Day planned

The Big Spring VA Medical Center is planning a Women Veterans Wellness Day on Wednesday, November 9, 1988. This observance is intended to focus attention on the significant contribution of women in the Armed Forces. Because of their traditional roles as non-combatants, the heroism of military women in war has been overlooked, but they too have paid the price for freedom.

Wellness Day is designed for the prevention of illness. Prevention strategies include early diagnosis and education. Gynecologic examinations will be provided as well as cancer screening, mammography, where indicated, and other health screening tests.

Featured will be a panel moderated by Mary Louise Traczyk, R.N., Special Assistant to the Chief of Staff. Panel members are Mary Payne, Chief, Dietetic Service, Patricia Atkins, Assistant Chief, Medical Administration Service, Richard Williams, Chief, Pharmacy Service, Sammy Dennard, Coordinator, Rehabilitation Medicine Center, and Frances Montague, R.N., Supervisor, Nursing Home Care Unit.

The Big Spring VA Medical Center need your help in identifying women veterans in our area. If you are a woman veteran (or know this information about a woman veteran), please call 915-263-7361, extension 212, and give the name and address of women veterans in the area, or mail information about women veterans to: VA Medical Center, ATTN: Mary Louise Traczyk (11C), 2400 S. Eleven Texas thrifts open doors as Olney Savings and Loan Association

Eleven Texas thrifts opened their doors Monday, October 14, 1988, as Olney Savings and Loan Association.

The Central and West Texas thrifts are: Olney Savings Association, Olney; First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Amarillo; San Angelo Savings Association, San Angelo; Odessa Savings Association, Odessa; Southwest Savings and Loan Association, Abilene; Banc Home Savings Association, Midland; Southern Savings and Loan Association, Brownwood; Heart O' Texas Savings Association, San Saba; Shamrock Federal Savings Bank, Shamrock; Petroplex Savings Association, Midland; and Security Federal Savings and Loan Association, Pampa.

The announcement made Friday, October 14, 1988, was for FSLIC's Southwest Plan, which is the active recovery plan of the thrift industry in Texas, expected to be completed in mid 1989.

An infusion of $80 million cash from Mr. Don A. Adam, a Bryan, Texas, businessman and now sole owner of Olney Savings, makes OSLA one of the strongest thrifts in Texas with a risk adjusted capitalization rate of 3.3 percent.

Mr. Alan D. Myers, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer said, "As always, all deposits in Olney Savings and Loan Association are safe—insured under the terms and conditions of FSLIC—with the full faith and credit of the Federal Government."

If any depositor carries more than $100,000, by the combining of these associations, the FSLIC grants a grace period of six months, or up to the first maturity date, for the depositor to work out satisfactory arrangements.

Myers stated, "We are standing by, ready and eager, to answer every question. We invite everyone to call us or drop by and see us at any time."

"At Olney Savings and Loan, we never forget that each of our customers chooses us. Every time we get the opportunity to conduct a business transaction it's one more opportunity for us to get to show our customer how much we want his business and how much we appreciate it," Myers commented.

"Olney Savings and Loan will begin making its history with deep Texas roots. Lead by native Texans, management at the "new" institution believes in hard work, high personal integrity, professional competency at every level, and showing gentle respect for customers and each other," Myers replied. Myers grew up in Olney, Texas, which is halfway between Dallas and Lubbock on Highway 114, and worked at Olney Savings for 30 years before becoming CEO of the "new" Olney.

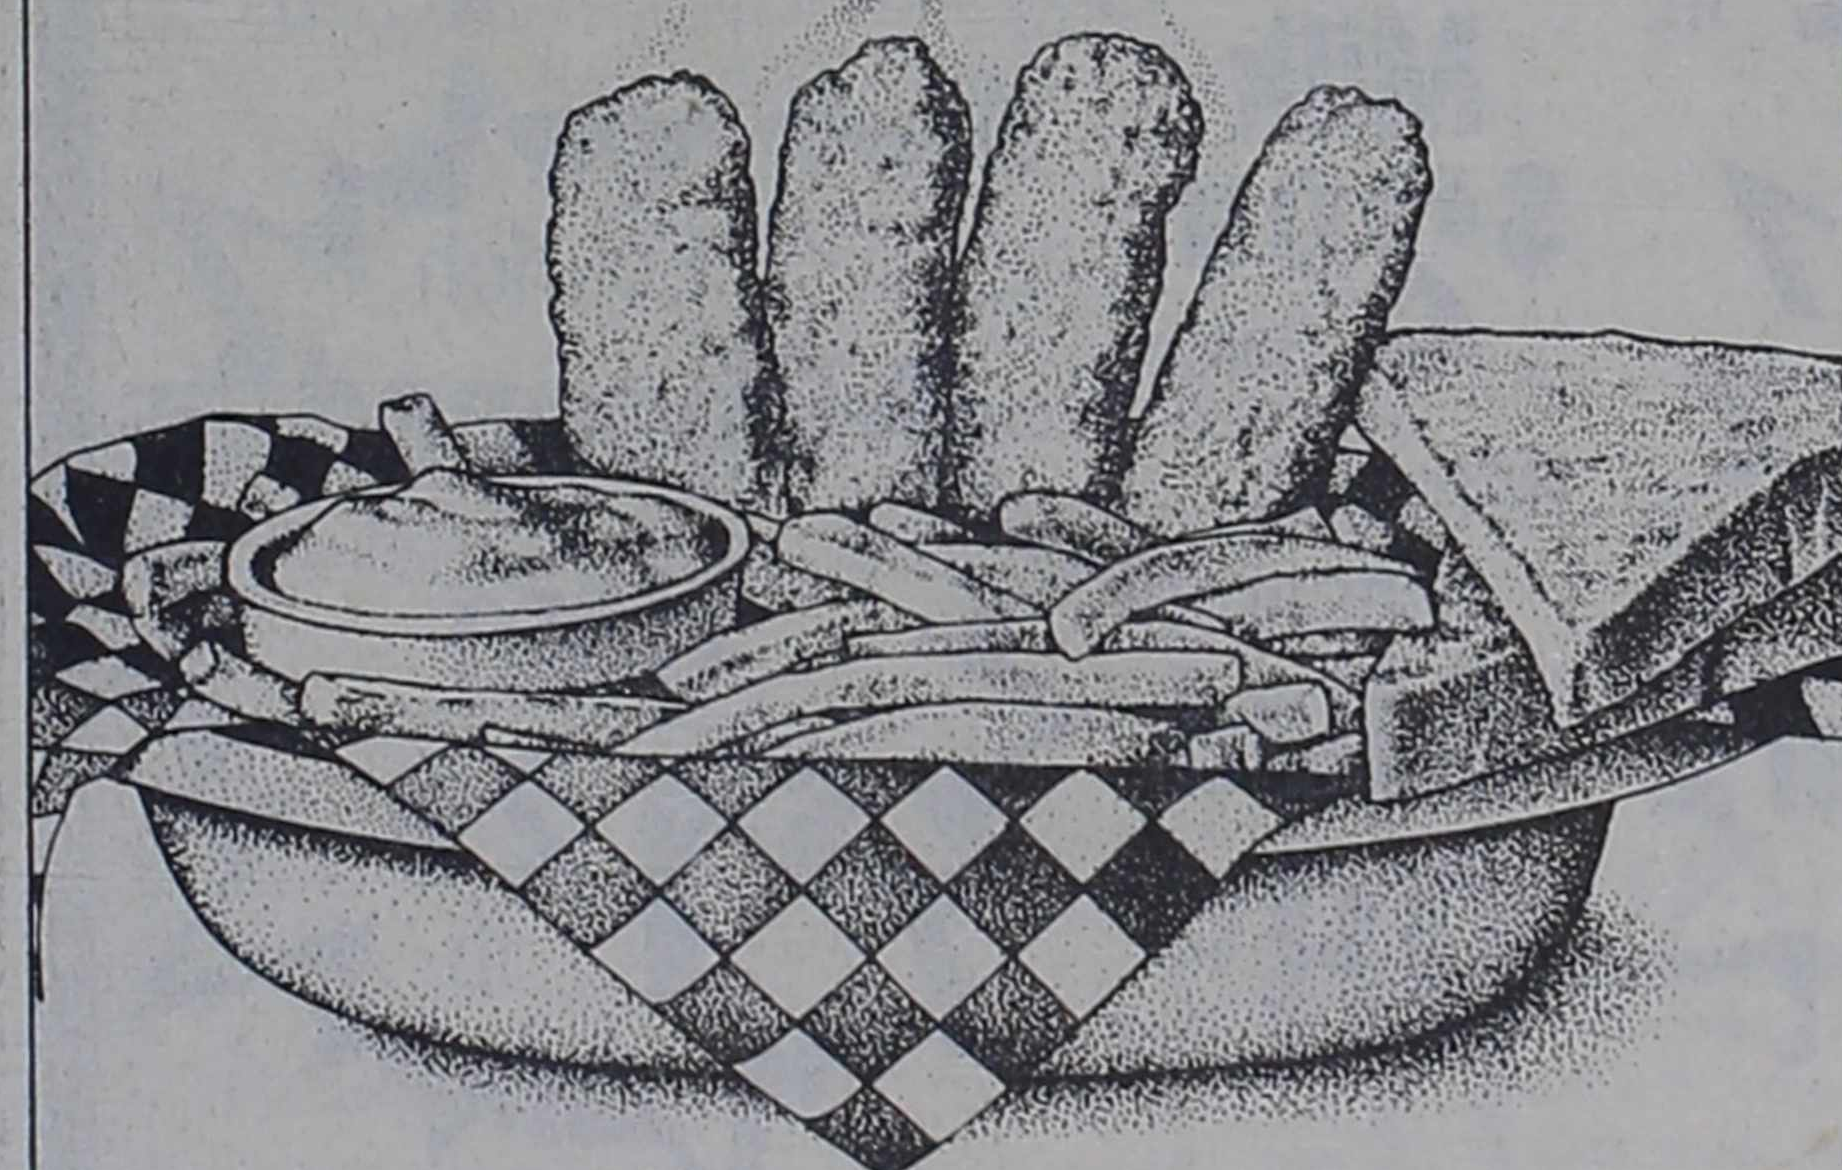

Olney Savings and Loan will specialize in checking, savings and lending for Central and West Texas, serving our customers and each one of our communities with a full range of financial services. We are certainly proud to be a Family Financial Center," he said.

Myers concluded, "We are committed to providing excellent service and special attention to each one of our customers. We are excited about the opportunity to earn the trust and confidence of each "new" Olney Savings and Loan customer.

North Runnels Hospital to sponsor Breast Cancer Detection Unit

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, Texas "The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have Mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art X-ray breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90%-97% survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be made available to local women Monday, November 14, 1988.

The Mobile Unit will be parked at North Runnels Hospital. Appointments may be made by calling 915/754-4553.

For more information you may call the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital at (915) 334-8888/561-9999.

State Board of Education candidates feature in ATPE News

On November 8, Texas voters will return to the polls to complete a process that began last November with the defeat of a statewide referendum that would have relinquished the voters' right to select Texas State Board of Education. It is an election that cannot be taken lightly, for the choices made at the ballot box will directly affect the future direction of Texas education.

In the September/October issue of ATPE News, the official magazine of the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), the candidates for the 15 SBOE seats answer some timely questions on issues of concern to all educators and parents, such as at-risk students, teacher and district accountability and dropouts. Readers are encouraged to photocopy the questions and responses pertaining to their districts so that they may share the candidate's viewpoint with others who are concerned about the future of education in the state.

The September/October issue of ATPE News also contains an article that explains the importance of having legal representation in liability professional rights' cases. Also in the magazine is coverage of ATPE's Leadership Training Workshops, which were held across the state during July and Pollution fighters: In cities around the world there's a growing appreciation for the role of trees as the guardians of fresh air. National Wildlife magazine reports that a healthy urban forest has awesome air scrubbing potential. Researchers estimate a single acre of sycamore trees could help capture 15 tons of pollutants a year.

Preschoolers busy little people

October has been a busy month for the Lutheran Preschool. We had the Winters Volunteer Fire Department visit and tell us about fire safety. We also got to see the firetruck and hold the hose and water an imaginary fire. We spent the first two weeks learning about fire safety and made firemen's hats. The last two weeks we learned about Halloween and on the 25th we had a Halloween Party in the church basement. We had a great time and the "good" witch visited us and gave out treats for all of the good boys and girls. We also fingerprinted and learned about Columbus.

New SWCD Director elected Bentsen names Runnels County Campaign Steering Committee

On the morning of October 14th, while it was still dark and chilly, farmers, ranchers, and government personnel were gathered at the Wingate Gin. Troy, Glen and Butch Pullin and Byron Bauerlein led in the preparation of a breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, and cowboy coffee, which was provided by the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District.

When most of the food had been consumed, Allen Turner started the business of the day. Carl Smith, District Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Ballinger, announced that Doug Cole would be stepping down this year as a director with the Runnels SWCD after 17 years of service. Edward Bredemeyer was elected by those present to take Doug's place.

After the election, Eva Campos with the Texas Department of Agriculture out of Odessa talked about the Texas Agricultural Hazard Communication Law, also known as the Right to Know Law. Ms. Campos explained what producers are going to need to do in order to stay in compliance with the law.

Allen Turner then thanked everyone for showing up and the meeting was adjourned.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen announced the formation Monday, October 24, of the Runnels County Bentsen Campaign Steering Committee, whose 9 members are pledged to work for his reelection this fall.

Bentsen, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, is a candidate in the November general election.

"Cecil Darby, of Ballinger, has agreed to chair the Runnels County Campaign Steering Committee," Bentsen said in the announcement.

"I'm glad to have his support and the active backing of the other outstanding citizens of Runnels County who have signed up to work for my reelection this year," the Senator said.

"The committee represents a broad cross section of Runnels County, people from every walk of life. I would hope membership will increase in the weeks ahead as the Bentsen organization in Runnels County continues to gear up for the November election."

In addition to Darby, other members of the Runnels County Campaign Steering committee are: Darrel Rains, Jerry W. Willingham, Fred Harwell, Aubrey Faubion, Joe Kozelsky, Ebb Grindstaff, Benjamin Martinez and Randy M. Springer.

For more information contact Cecil C. Darby, Jr. at 915-365-2540.

FmHA activates farm loans for socially disadvantaged persons

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is preparing to activate a loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, acquire land for farming, J. Lynn Futch, FmHA State Director, said.

Under the new program, FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The agency would also be prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory if any are available in that county, Futch said.

FmHA can also provide other loan and technical assistance, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

The new program was included in the agricultural credit act signed earlier this year, Futch said, and funds have been reserved for farm purchases based on the population of socially disadvantaged persons.

The population of such persons range from as low as 1 percent in some New England and midwestern states to highs of 68 percent in Hawaii, 57 percent in

WHS Blizzard Band and Twirlers Blizzards receive high marks

The Winters High School Blizzard band came back a winner! Bands participating in UIL marching contest are rated by three judges independently of each other, on a scale from "1" to "V", a "1" being the top rating. The WHS band came away with a "1" rating from all three judges in Saturday's contest in Abilene.

Those receiving "1" ratings are qualified for state competition in May. All that hard work has paid off for these young people, and we're proud of them!

Our congratulations to the band and their director, Forrest Perry.

In UIL twirling competition, Barbie Bradley received a Superior "1" rating on her twirling solo and Angela Briley received an Excellent "II" rating on her twirling solo. The twirling ensemble, composed of Barbie Bradley, Angela Briley, Melissa Hatler and Ann Hart received a Superior "1" rating.

Band Director Forrest Perry

bined total of $500 in prizes. The winner of first place will receive $300, second $150, and third is $50. There will be a trophy for the best campsite. Entry fee is $50 per team and must be paid to James West at JEDD Manufacturing, 1001 North Main Street, Winters, Texas 79567, phone 915/754-4988.

home canning display will be the entries in the Runnels County Championship Home Canning Contest. Winners of the contest will be announced, and ribbons and the "Runnels county Grand Champion Home Canner" trophy will be awarded at this booth at 11:30 a.m.

At 10 a.m. the ranch rodeo will begin. Twelve teams of modern day cowboys will compete in a modern version of chores performed regularly by the original western cowboys. Events are team roping, branding, double mugging, wild cow milking, and team penning. Entry fee for the ranch rodeo is $100 per team. To enter contact Arch Jobe 915/754-5659, or Andy Smith 915/754-4042.

Two of the main attractions of the day will be a team of horses pulling a covered wagon and another team pulling a surrey. These teams will be conducting tours of the grounds all day on Saturday. A small fee will be charged per person for the wagon rides.

At the same time the rodeo is getting underway, the grounds will assume a country market and county fair atmosphere with the opening of vendor booths and the home canning display. The country market vendor booths will feature homemade items such as toys; Teddy bears, table cloths, pillows, bandanna belts, and Christmas ornaments. There will also be home baked goodies such as; cookies, candies, cakes, pies, and caramel apples. One vendor even said she will sell live ducks! Featured in the Concession stands will be open at approximately 10 a.m. Both the bad guys and the good guys are sure to find their culinary delight with the wide array of "vittles" available. Food vendors will be serving hamburgers, sausage on a stick, soft drinks, iced tea, coffee, lemonade, Bar-B-Q brisket (by the pound or sandwich), nachos, popcorn balls, strawberry candy, peanut brittle, date balls, fudge, and even elephant ears. Yes—Elephant Ears! It seems these elephant ears are an import from the Oregon State Fair, where the "Lady Jaycees" cook them each year. The elephant ears are made of yeast dough and are similar to a cinnamon roll.

pass into the end zone, a pass that was intercepted by the Blizzards to end the game with the final score Winters Blizzards 3 and the Ozona Lions 0.

Coach Danny Slaughter said, "It was a good game, one in which our kids held on all the way, and then held on for dear life after the field goal."

Slaughter said that the Blizzards made a series of four "great plays" right at the goal line with Houston Guy making a sack, Richard Lett knocking down a pass and James Salazar intercepting a pass in the final and most crucial play of the game.

Only two games remain in District 6-AA football action. This week the Blizzards travel to Forsan, just south of Big Spring, to do battle with the Forsan Buffalos. Forsan is now 1-7 for the season and 0-3 in district play.

The Blizzards, 5-2 for the season and 2-1 in district, are in sole possession of second place in the district 6-AA race, being one full game behind Reagan County and only one-half game ahead of Ozona and Eldorado.

Coach Slaughter said that a win Friday is crucial for the Blizzards, who, at this point, are in control of their own destiny. Ozona will play Reagan County and Eldorado will play Wall.

A Blizzard win coupled with an anticipated loss by Ozona and a possible loss by Eldorado would end the district play with Winters in the second place position and a place in the District play-off.

Slaughter said that the game with Forsan is a "need to win game, if we mess around and lose to Forsan, we would have to defeat Eldorado to keep the standing, it is crucial that we beat Forsan."

Forsan's Buffalos fell victim to the Eldorado Eagles airborne attack last week with a score of Eldorado 17, Forsan 14.

The Blizzards will host the Eldorado Eagles in the final game of the regular season next week. Winning the final two games will insure the Blizzards a place in the playoffs.

Last warning issued by police

Winters Police Chief Tim Dexter said Tuesday that police officers will not be issuing any more warning tickets for drivers who fail to stop for a school bus loading, or unloading, students.

Chief Dexter said that on Tuesday, the final three warning tickets were issued for the offense. The next violations of the state law will result in citations being issued.

Winters Municipal Court Judge J. C. Hodnett said that his court will levy the maximum fine for the offense which is $200 per violation, plus all court costs.

The police department has placed heavy emphasis on patrolling the school zones this school year in an effort to reduce speeds and focus driver attention on the fact that he is in a school zone area.

Chief Dexter said that during the month of September officers issued a total of 28 speeding tickets in the school zones.

Two of the speeding in school zone tickets were for speeds over 30 mph, 25 were issued for speeding in excess of 40 mph, and one ticket issued for speed in excess of 50 mph in the school zone.

The Winters Police Chief said that his department would continue heavy patrol of all school zones during the school year.
