Dear Ed: For years now, you have been promising me that you would soon be driving up to my door to present me with millions of dollars.

At times, sir, you have sent me letters every week and every month telling me to watch for you and your big fancy car and all the big bucks. Also those pretty girls.

All along I felt that you would keep your promise I've felt that way for years. You know? It really can make a person feel important to know that his name is the one selected by some big computer somewhere and that he would get all those wonderful offers to buy something along with your personal visit and millions of dollars.

I could understand your using the cheapest postage class possible in order to save even more money to give to me.

Now, Ed, the time has come. I have received a most important message—one that could be of quite some concern to all of us. It has been revealed to me that if you do not show up in my driveway and make me a millionaire by December 1, 1988, I will be subjected to a terrible fate.

Although that fate has been revealed to me, I'll not elaborate here for fear of causing a severe case of depression for those that visit regularly with me here.

Hoping to see you before the first of the month, I remain, Sincerely yours,

For the past seven years, I have been following our Winters Blizzards. Most of that time I have been on the sidelines with our team, a position that provides one with an opportunity to hear not only what our team is saying to itself and what the coaches are telling the players but, also, what the fans are saying and how many fans there are to support our team.

Five years ago, we had a super team and the fans gave their support in a big way.

This year, we have another super team and, again, the fans are there. It really makes everybody feel good to have the stands on your side full. Especially when, after driving or riding a hundred miles or so, you look up to find you have more folks on your side than the other team does—and you are in their town.

But, what of those years when the old football just didn't bounce right. When our team's record had fewer wins than losses where were the fans and their support.

Our teams knew that lost feeling when they looked up only to find the visitors brought more fans than we had.

These team members, along with their fellow students are in the final stages of their first learning experience to prepare them for life.

What message are we sending these young folks? That they can expect support when things are going good and that when things are not so good they find themselves alone?

Ten years hence, what will these folks do—when their children are on that team that is enjoying a winning season, or when they are losing. What kind of lesson are they being given an opportunity to learn?

Football, basketball, or the other interscholastic sports are all practice games in which we hope our youth are preparing themselves for the real deal—the game of life.

As we write, on Tuesday (See Wait Page 10)

Excuse me guys, I just gotta score again!

Blizzards blast by Eldorado Eagles 36-0

There was nothing subtle about the Winters Blizzards' desire to make it into the bi-district play offs this week when they hosted the Eldorado Eagles in Blizzard Stadium. The Blizzards rushed for some 280 yards and 36 points while holding Eldorado to only 90 yards and keeping the Eagles out of the endzone.

Although it had to be the Blizzards' ultimate performance for the season, it was not without some scary moments when the Blue repeatedly fumbled the ball early in the first quarter of play.

The win boosted the Blizzards' district standing to the runner-up playoff with the Stanton Buffaloes in a game to be played in Winters this Friday beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Blizzards didn't really get into gear last Friday until the second period of play when they tallied for 10 points.

Following half-time, the Blizzards took command of the game leaving no doubt in anyone's mind who would come out the winner. In the third period the Blizzards added two more touchdowns. In the fourth two more touchdowns, complete with PATs were added to the board.

Eldorado led in the statistics only in penalties, losing a total of 52 yards on six penalties while the Blizzards were penalized two times for a total of 28 yards.

Also in the stats, Winters gained 88 yards passing while the Eagles got about one-fourth the yardage in the air. To name the outstanding players, one would have to use the entire team roster with super performances turned in by the entire crew.

This week, the Blizzards will have to go to work again when they host Stanton's Buffaloes, District 5 AA champions. The Buffaloes last week defeated Marfa in what must have been a scoring free-for-all by a score of 43-25.

Stanton is 82 on the season and 5-0 in district while the Blizzards are 3-7 for the season and 4-1 in district.

It was the luck of the toss that brought the bi-district play-off game to Winters. In discussions between the schools, after exploring the possible play-off sites, officials agreed to toss the coin for home fields with Winters winning the toss.

Kick off time in Winters will be 7:30 p.m. Friday. Tickets for the game are available at the school administration office during regular business hours.

Time Changes Everything

The Runnels County Historical Commission is conducting a marker dedication at the townsite of Marie on Sunday, November 20, at 2:30 p.m. Marie is located 18 miles west of Winters—take Highway 153 to Poe's Corner, then travel on Hwy. 384 until the telephone tower is passed, turn left on county road; travel one mile south and one mile east.

Neuman Smith, Commission Chairman, will be master of ceremonies and J. T. Henry, Mayor of Bronte, will be the speaker. Mr. Henry is a native of Marie. Wesley Campbell will give the invocation and Charlsie Poe will introduce guest, Norma Gentry, sponsor, will present the marker dedication to the pioneers who settled this land. A reception will follow in the Gentry home nearby.

When Norman Gentry, of Midland, retired she returned to Marie and built her home within the walls of the old rock store building still standing. Other houses have been erected and Marie lives again.

Marie was named in honor of Buck Gentry's wife, Norma's great aunt, when the post office was established by Walter C. Bass on May 8, 1906.

The first store at Marie was moved from Norton, across the steep bank of Oak Creek, by a

Mr. Turner, located on what was called the Gentry place. The community was growing to the west, after six months the store was moved about a mile to the northwest.

The Marie store was once a frame building, and then a modern brick structure. After standing vacant for years it is now the basis for a modern home.

In connection with the post office, Bass operated a general store bought from Turner who established it in 1902. The next owner Isaac J. Wright, lived on a year.

In the fall of 1908, Charlie and John Black bought the store from Wright's widow and ran it until 1915. Charlie sold to John who razed the old store and erected a rock building where he continued in business until 1938. John was postmaster from 1908 until 1939.

At that time W. A. Land leased the store from John and operated it for two years. He was postmaster until the office was closed June 14, 1941. The first mail was brought from Maverick by a Mr. Thompson on horseback. When the railroad came to Bronte, the mail was brought first to Marie and then to Maverick and Norton by Walter McLaughlin.

The first school at Marie was built down on Oak Creek and called Center Point, but in 1902 it was moved to the corner of Seay's ranch and an addition built on the north end with a Woodman Hall over the addition. There was another one teacher school built down south on the Gentry place. In 1915, when school was out, the building on Seay's ranch was razed and a two teacher school built close to where the old store stood—northeast of the store on the side of the hill. It lasted from 1916 until 1938 when it was moved to Bronte.

The school building was also used by the churches, a Baptist Church was organized in 1903, first called Center Point, but later changed to Marie. For some time Charlie Black was the only member and was later ordained as a deacon. When the church was dissolved the members went to Bronte.

The Blacks originated in Germany and from the family Bible it was learned that the name had been changed from Schwartz to Black, the English meaning. Charlie Black came to Runnels from Milam County in 1899, and built a house at Marie in 1900. He bought a farm and later sold John a corner of it to build his home when he arrived later.

There were three houses in Marie; one at the gin, one at the blacksmith shop and one south of the store. Built in 1904, the steam press gin that used cordwood for fuel was bought by Bill Glenn the following year and operated by him until 1916. Cotton seed was hauled to Ballinger until the railroad came to Bronte. Sometimes there would be as many as 15 or 20 bales on the yard at once. Glenn sold out and the gin was operated one more year. Harding had the blacksmith shop until he left in 1910.

Hunters urged to donate venison

Texans who harvest more venison during the upcoming deer season than their families can use may want to give the excess to the Salvation Army.

Dr. Don Steinbach, wildlife and fisheries project supervisor for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said harvesting deer is an important tool in game management and conservation.

He said increased doe harvest is needed in some areas of the state to bring deer populations more in line with food supplies.

"This venison, if it exceeds the need of the hunter's family, could be donated to the Salvation Army, Steinbach said.

Maj. Kenneth Brewer of Dallas, of the Texas Divisional Headquarters of the Salvation Army, said donations of venison can be accepted at 46 Salvation Army Corps Community Centers for us in feeding indigent families and transients across Texas.

"These centers will accept deer that are field dressed to fully processed, but the more completely processed carcasses will be most appreciated to reduce operating costs," Brewer said.

Steinbach said hunters should be sure to follow rules in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Hunting Guide concerning a legible hunter's document, tags or permits when donating a deer carcass.

He said these guides are available from all hunting license dealers.

Steinbach said persons desiring more information about the deer carcass donation program should contact the nearest Salvation Army Corps Community Center in Texas.

Celebrate Veteran's Day on November 11th

In observance of Veteran's Day Friday, November 11, 1988, the Winters Veterans of Foreign War's Post 9193 and the Ladies Auxiliary have planned activities to be carried out through the week preceding Veteran's Day. Through remembrances and education the V.F.W. reminds the public of the sacrifices of the men and women who have served our country in the service in the past and in the present.

To quote from an article in the Abilene Reporter News by Pete Worley, "Only the best physically, mentally and morally are called to war. The tragedy is that only the best are fit to be killed. These citizen soldiers went to war, at the behest of Congress, in defense of freedom all over the world, and they became the best fighting men history has ever known. They came home as veterans. These are the men who were the best when they went to war. God only knows what condition they were in when they came back. The veteran is something special, he is our charge; he is our responsibility. He answered our call when we needed him first in war."

Activities in the Winters Public School are:

Second Grade: A coloring contest using the illustrated book "The Pledge of Allegiance".

Third Grade: Received a coloring and activity book titled "About Alcohol and Other Drugs" and "Just Say No" buttons.

Fourth Grade: Received patriotic coloring books titled "Sweet Land of Liberty".

Fifth Grade: Received a Video Tape on Drug Abuse and a quiz. Visits were made to the Scholarships offered to high school seniors

DeVry Institutes will offer 40 full-tuition and 80 half-tuition scholarships at a total value of $1.42 million to 1989 high school graduates throughout the United States.

According to DeVry Chairman Dennis J. Keller, each full-tuition scholarship, valued between $18,544 and $19,905, and each half-tuition scholarship, valued between $9,270 and $4,952, may be used for application fees and tuition toward a Bachelor's degree program in Electronics Engineering Technology, Computer Information Systems, Business Operations, Telecommunications Management or Accounting. The scholarship can be applied at any of the nine DeVry Institutes in the United States. (Not all programs are offered at each institutes.)

Finalists will be determined on the basis of SAT, ACT or WPCT scores and will be announced in April of 1989. Scholarship recipients will be chosen on the basis of those scores, high school academic achievement, extracurricular activities and an essay. Announcement of winners will be made shortly thereafter.

Applications are available at the Admissions Office at each DeVry Institute and must be returned by March 31, 1989. Keller said scholarship recipients will receive a plaque to commemorate the honor, and a similar plaque will be presented to the students' high schools for permanent display.

The number of scholarships granted to each DeVry Institute will be determined by the number of applications received by that school. Each campus will have the opportunity to award at least one scholarship to an outstanding student from the area. All 1989 high school graduates are eligible, with the exception of the immediate families of DeVry employees.

For further information, students should contact their high school guidance counselors, or write to the Office of Admissions at the local DeVry Institute. Campuses are located in Atlanta (Decatur), Chicago and Lombard (IL), Columbus, Dallas (Irving), Kansas City (MO), Los Angeles (City of Industry), Phoenix, and Woodbridge (NJ).

Soccer results

The final day of the fall soccer league was filled with exciting play as the Rangers defeated the Winters Mustangs in an exciting game, 3 to 2, and the Gunners edged past the Winters Gremlins, 2 to 0, in Under 10 play. In the Under 12 division, the Lazars soundly defeated the Winters Wolverines, 7 to 0.

We want to wish the U10 and U12 winning teams good luck as they participate December 3 and 4 at the Regional Tournament of Champions in Midland. If they win there, they then travel to the State Playoffs in Grand Prairie.

Congratulations to the U10 division winner, the Rangers, coached by Byron Daverlein. Even though the Rangers tied with the Gunners for top honors, they will be our representatives since they defeated the Gunners two games to one during their season confrontations.

Our congratulations also go out to Emil Gonzales and his Cosmos team. They won a tough age division as the Lazars and the Wolverines challenged them all the way.

It's time to prepare for winter

The heating season is not far away and Lone Star Gas Company recommends a heating system efficiency and safety check be made before cold weather arrives.

All natural gas heaters should be adjusted properly to ensure the most efficient and safe operation. Here are a few steps most consumers can take.

- * Check, replace or clean filters now and at regular intervals during the heating season.
- * Check the main burner or burners and the pilot light for a blue flame. A yellow flame indicates an air mixture adjustment may be needed.
- * Clean dust and dirt from the air registers.
- * Check the exhaust vents for proper venting of exhaust gases. * Check to make sure the heater has an adequate fresh air supply for efficient combustion.

If adjustments or repairs are needed, a qualified heating contractor or a Lone Star Gas representative should be contacted.

If your gas furnace is several years old, it should be inspected by a professional each year.

Today's natural gas furnaces are much more efficient than those sold just a few years ago. Many older units will operate at 60 percent efficiency. Newer models are much more efficient, with some rated at over 95 percent. A new high-efficiency gas furnace will often pay for itself in just a few years.

WTU puts lower winter rates into effect

Customers of West Texas Utilities Company will see approximately a 12.5 percent drop in their rates beginning with this month (November). The reduction is the result of using the lower winter rates, which will be in effect six months.

Using higher summer and lower winter rates is part of the States' plan to encourage energy conservation during the summer when air conditioning creates the peak demand on electricity use.

According to WTU local manager Gary Moore, "a residential customer using 476 kilowatt hours of electricity a month, the average for November 1987, will see his bill go from $43.53 to $38.02." Other customer groups will see similar reductions Moore said. Since mild fall weather has reduced many customers' cooling and heating use, the actual decrease in the electric bill from September when average use was 906 KWH to November will probably be around 50 percent.

That decrease includes the combined impact of lower winter rates and lower use resulting from mild weather. The actual size of a customer's bill is determined by their use.

According to the local manager, the electric company is still waiting for final approval from the Public Utility Commission regarding a request to change the fuel portion of the bill. Fuel is used at power plants to make electricity.

Although the average cost of fuel on the company's many fuel contracts has not changed significantly, WTU faces a December expiration of a very low cost 20 year gas contract at one of its nine power stations. That was for gas at pre-oil embargo prices of 22 cents per mmbtu and has saved customers $350 million. It must be replaced with gas at today's prices which are almost $2 per mmbtu.

Paying for this replacement gas will mean customers using 476 kilowatt hours of electricity will see an increase of approximately $2.95 on the January bill if the PUC completes its review and approval process by then.

The local manager added that since 1985 WTU has lowered the fuel portion of the bill - called the fuel factor - five times, and had six refunds totaling almost $50 million as the result of other fuel contract changes.

The 18th Annual Arts and Crafts Show will be held downtown Winters November 11 and 12 from 9 to 5 daily. Stew will be served on Friday at 127 N. Main (across from Peoples National Bank). Our thanks to Wes Hays, Noleta Rice and Dean Smith for allowing us the use of their buildings this year. And to WTU for supplying the electricity.

The three buildings full of arts and crafts will be Western Auto, Main Street Office Supply and Higginbothams on West Dale. Winters will have a different look now (have you noticed some of the facelifts on West Dale?)

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce invites everyone to come to downtown Winters and participate in the exciting event. Besides being able to see and purchase the beautiful fantastic arts and crafts by people from various parts of the state, there will be sidewalk sales, specials by the merchants, bake sales and a $25 Door Prize. The Door Prize will be redeemable at one of the booths or local merchants.

In addition to all of the above, a Historical Walking Tour has been planned for you. Maps will be available at the show buildings. See more about the tour elsewhere in this paper.

At Peoples parking lot there will be pony rides and face painting. On Friday they will specialize in a Blue and White Blizzard on your face. Saturday at 11 a.m. there will be a Pet Show. Bring pets, anything you consider as your pet. Everyone will be a winner. Costumed pets will be judged also.

Donations can be made to the Rodeo Association for a chance to win $100 in groceries from Sonny's Grocery and Market. On Saturday, hamburgers by

New look

The Winters Woman's Club recently provided mini-blinds for the windows in the lobby and the Emergency Department waiting area at North Runnels Hospital.

Sandy Griffin, representing the Winters Woman's Club (left), and Rita Mason (right), hospital administrator, inspect the mini-blinds in the emergency area. The mini blinds replaced aged and tattered drapes in both areas of the hospital.

Pre-Game Face Painting to Boost Blizzard Spirit

Local face painting artists, Dr. Jimmy Smith, of Pioneer Veterinary Clinic, and Susan Marks, of the Fashion Shop, and their crew of face painters will be adding a little color to the already high blizzard spirit for the bidistrict football game against Stanton this Friday night. The game will be in Blizzard Stadium at 7:30 p.m. The Blizzard Spirit Painters will begin painting faces at 6 p.m., just inside the north entrance gate. A variety of spirit sparkers such as Luv U Blu, pictures of Blizzards, and customized messages for family and friends using jersey numbers of team members will be available.

These great spirit builders can be purchased for only 50¢. Polaroid pictures will be made upon request, for only $2.50. All proceeds will benefit the Winters Rodeo Association, a non-profit organization.

Winters pastor elected to serve on board of trustees at Hendrick Medical Center

A Winters resident was elected to a major position on one of the Texas Baptist Boards during the annual meeting of the 2.4-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas in Austin, October 25-26.

Glenn W. Shoemaker, pastor of First Baptist Church, was elected to serve on the board of trustees of Hendrick Medical Center, Abilene.

Institutions of the BGCT include eight universities, one academy, seven hospitals, four children's homes and four homes for the aging.

The work is supported by the more than 5,000 Texas Baptist churches and missions which will give about $58 million this year.

Besides the institutions, the Convention helps support worldwide missions causes including 7,500 missionaries in the United States and more than 110 foreign missions.

Wait --

evening, we are watching the election returns from across our nation.

We find it quite interesting, if not amusing, to see the way Dan Rather and the other network guys reveal their political leanings. How they take an apparent overwhelming defeat for their candidate and talk at length how there is some elusive ray of hope for their party and candidate even though their own projections are telling them that their guy doesn't have a snowball's chance in - well anyway.

With the polls having been closed in Central Texas for just over an hour as we write this, we, too, will make our projection.

George Bush will win the election with a landslide vote second only to that of Ronald Reagan four years ago.

One can feel some sympathy for the loser. To find out that your name carries very little recognition. To know that you will be remembered about as long as the guy that ran against Reagan the last time - and you know, I can't remember his name.

Turkeys and fruit available through FFA members

The Winters FFA will be selling smoked turkeys and Christmas fruit to raise funds for the Annual FFA Banquet and other activities throughout the year.

If you are interested in purchasing a smoked turkey or Christmas fruit contact any FFA member or call 754 4612 before November 11.

Family Fun and Free Groceries

To add to the fun of the Eighteenth Annual Art and Craft Show in Winters, the Winters Rodeo Association will sponsor a "Kid Korner" for "kids" of all ages. Activities scheduled for Friday, November 11 are pony rides, face painting—including "BLIZZARD SPIRIT" for the bidistrict football game that night, instant picture taking upon request, and donations.

Saturday activities will be the same as Friday, with the addition of a pet show at 11 a.m. The pet show will have something for everyone. Each pet will have a chance to win.

Two segments of the show will be devoted to dogs and cats only. The dog segment of the show will include the following divisions: Tallest, Shortest, Longest Tail, Shortest Tail, Most Beautiful, Ugliest, Longest Hair, Shortest Hair, and Best Trick.

The cat segment of the show will feature the same divisions for the cats that are available for the dogs in their segment.

Another segment of the pet show will be the Most Unusual Pet division. Any pet from a bug to a buffalo can enter this division. Even an ordinary pet such as a dog or cat who has unusual characteristics may qualify for this category. The last winner of this division was a Boston Terrier named General Disaster, owned by Cheri Dry.

Certainly the most interesting segment of the entire pet show will be the costume contest! Divisions for this segment are: Cutest, Tackiest, Scariest, and most unique. Participants may have to drag out some halloween costumes for the Scariest division.

Judges for the show will be Sue Barkley, of KRUN, Tim Dexter, Chief of the Winters Police Department, and Hattie Belle Bishop, of Bishop Boys Limousine Cattle Company. The pet show is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. and an entry fee of 50¢ will be charged for each division entered.

THE 1988 ARTS AND CRAFTS EXHIBITION

Historical Tour of Winters

Our Historical Tour is outlined here to give you a glimpse at what is in store for you by attending and being in Winters on Friday and Saturday. Maps will be available at booth buildings.

You can start anywhere, but for the convenience of putting on paper, I am going to start with Melba's Arts and Crafts on South Main. A display of work done by local artists can be reviewed at this point. Continuing north on Main we pass Spill Brothers, an old established business since 1906. Winters Flower Shop was originally a Harness and Saddle Shop run by A. D. Lee. Heidenheimers began as Farmer's Mercantile. Crossing the street to Western Auto housing Arts and Crafts Booths these two days. Passing the Professional Building, once a Dry Goods Store, and then a theatre. Going across East Dale we come to Main Drug, first a furniture, Masonic Lodge was chartered upstairs in this building in 1892. KRUN office building house Arts and Crafts Building No. 2. For many years a barbershop. The Library is at the end of the row of buildings where an exhibit of antique collection can be viewed.

On the public parking lot you will find various activities happening. Across the street at 127 N. Main is where the stew is being served on Friday. Close by is Dean Burns and her artwork for sale. Down on the corner at the old bank building, is works on display by Eloise and Dewey Chestnut. Going west we come to the Chamber of Commerce building with its beautiful white columns. Inside the building is a set of textile designs in an array of fabric and textures depicting the seasons of the Christian Year.

Continuing down West Dale after visiting all the booths at the Higginbotham building on Saturday there will be an antique car collection to view. And on down to Z. I. Hale Museum where a wonderful collection of memorabilia and artifacts are housed. Additional exhibits there on these two days will be one from Fort Chabourne.

Across the street the Rock Hotel will hold its Annual Quilt Show. Next to the hotel is the Drummer building which has been restored. Interesting items there are a horse-drawn hearse and a wicker casket.

And by the way, if you so desire you can take an 1890 horse drawn surrey from the Chamber building to the Rock Hotel area.

I hope you're ready for the days coming up. We have given you only a inkling of the history of our town. When you pick up your maps at the various show buildings in town, you will receive a detailed account of the history of these buildings written for us by our own Charlie Poe.

Artist are invited to show their work

An artist showing will be held November 11 and 12 at Melba's Arts, Crafts and Gifts.

Anyone may participate by entering a painting just call 754-5473 or drop your item by the store.
