Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

I knew, somehow, that it wouldn't work. I knew that Ed would let me down.

Only a few weeks ago, in an open letter to the guy that is supposed to drive up to my door with millions of dollars for me, I revealed the fact that something dreadful would happen to me if I didn't get a visit from Ed and a few million bucks for free by the first day of December.

Time has all but run out for me and there has been no word from Ed, or the money.

By Thursday I will have to face the reality of what is to come—I will never, ever, become a millionaire.

As far as Ed is concerned, after all those promises over all those years, the only thing he has given me is enough junk mail to fill a big barrel.

By now, I would even be satisfied with the money spent just to send me the promises of something too good to be true.

I am so depressed at this point that I cannot remember how many years he has been promising to make me a millionaire, much less try to figure out how much he spent on postage.

Speaking of figuring things out and thinking of things you never thought about knowing and not really interested in finding out, I spent some time at the computer and calculator the other day thinking about our railroad that is no more.

Boy, did I ever come up with some mind-boggling figures.

Let us assume the distance of the railroad track that is being taken up is 35 miles. That, alone, adds up to 184,800 feet from here to Abilene.

Without counting the side tracks, the total footage of the two rails, 35 miles long, adds up to 369,600 feet of track.

One of the guys digging up the track said that the track weighed 90 pounds per yard and, after some time at the computer, I figured that the track would weigh 30 pounds for foot.

Now I punched all these interesting figures into the wonderful, amazing, magic computer and found that there is approximately 11,088,000 pounds of steel between Abilene and Winters.

When we get into that many pounds of something, we just naturally convert the pounds to tons. Okay, there is approximately 5 million, 544 thousand tons of steel in the railroad that is going away.

Now, by this time somebody is probably wondering how many cross ties there were, and how many spikes to hold the rails to the ties.

Well, lets see. The ties are about six inches wide and about six inches apart and there are about four spikes driven into the ties under each rail.....

Give me some time on that one.

Christmas Season opens Saturday

The Annual Christmas Parade and Sno Queen Contest will be held Saturday, December 3, 3:00 p.m. All Parade Entries must be registered with the

Gold Star awards won by 4-H'ers

Gold Star awards were presented to 26 area 4-H members Monday at the annual District 7 Gold Star banquet in the Houston-Harte University Center at Angelo State University.

Keynote speaker was Dr. Don Shaw of Abilene. Shaw is a dentist, and American Cancer Society board member and a member of the Westside Lions Club. He is also a graduate of "Leadership San Angelo."

The Gold Star award is the highest 4-H honor provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service on the county level. Recipients are selected by a committee in their home counties on the basis of personal development, leadership and achievement in 4-H projects and activities, and contributions to the overall 4-H program.

District 7 includes 17 counties located in the West Central Chamber Office. Line up for the parade will begin sharply at 2:30. Please be at the Winters State Bank on South Main by 2:30 p.m.

portion of the state. The district awards banquet is a cooperative event held annually by West Texas Utilities and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Recipients of the gold Star Awards and the counties they represent are: Deron Robinson and H. A. Belk of Runnels; Denise Brown of Nolan; Jeff Wilkes of Coke; Rachel Phillips and Rhett Gurthrie of Coleman; Nancy Kalina and Robert Benton of Concho; Andrea Eilers, Kristina Fritz and Brent Roder of Gillespie; Will Larremore of Llano; Jamie Carlson, Heather Carlson and Danny Hurd of McCulloch.

Also David Lee Zimmerman III and Lisa Runge of Menard; Bonnie Herrington and Francisca Helm of Mitchell; Kari Bilbrey and Bodie Kirk Gilstrap of Schleicher; Jill Starr and Jason May of Taylor; and Annie Ahlschwede, Robert Pritz and Scott Sementana of Tom Green.

Winters EMS Association to sell emergency house lights

Members of the Winters Emergency Medical Services Association and new EMT students will be offering, for sale, the "911 Emergency Flash-Lite".

Many times the response of an emergency vehicle is delayed when drivers have difficulty locating homes, particularly at night when house number are impossible to see or directions to the house are unclear.

The "911 Emergency Flash-Lite" creates a beacon which signals approaching emergency vehicles, helping the driver find the home more quickly.

The "911 Emergency Flash-Lite" is a simple device and very easy to use. It screws into any normal light socket, such as an inside lamp or an outside porch light. It converts your normal porch light into both a standard porch light and a secondary use: a flashing light in case of emergency.

It can alert neighbors to a need for help or if you call an emergency service, such as fire, police, or ambulance, it identifies to them which house they are to respond to.

With the simple gadget installed in a porch light, it operates the porch light under normal conditions by simply turning on the light switch, but should an emergency arise, the light switch is turned on twice within a couple of seconds and will continually flash until the switch is turned off again.

People can get emergency equipment to the right house faster by notifying an emergency agency when you call for help that you have a "911 Emergency Flash-Lite" and simply go to the house where the light is flashing.

The "911 Emergency Flash-Lite" can be obtained by contacting any Winters EMT or student in the current Winters EMS Association/TSTI class or by contacting North Runnels Emergency Service at 1102 North Concho or calling 754-5775. The price is only $12.95.

Commodities to be distributed

Central Texas Opportunities, Inc. will distribute USDA Commodities in Winters at the Winters Multi-Purpose Center Thursday, December 8, from 3 to 5 p.m. Items available this month are butter and flour.

CTO has no control over what items are available or the quantity of the items. Allocation of all commodities depends on the availability of food items from the USDA.

Home of the Seventh Generation

When Perry Poe bought his house recently in the Bluff Creek area fourteen miles north of Winters, he was not aware that he was stepping backward in time to an era that was rich in history and included his ancestors.

Aerial view of Perry Poe home

His great, great, great grandfather, Henry Clay Mitchell moved with his family to a farm in the vicinity in 1887. They came in a wagon from Whitewright.
Before 1900 the Moro Community was established at the foot of Flat Top Mountain in South Taylor County. This was strange because Moro Mountain was located fifteen miles to the east. The little village consisted of a general store which housed the post office, a blacksmith shop and several houses.

By 1895 a widow, Elizabeth Elliott, had secured a contract to carry the mail on the Guion to Moro Route, about fifteen miles, which paid $100 every three months—and the carrier furnished transportation.
Mrs. Elliott bought the 25 acre farm that now belongs to Perry and Jeannine Poe. She lived there for 40 years or more, rearing her family and carrying the mail. Although the farm now has a modern two story house, Perry razed a small barn that had probably been hers. Several clumps of thriving oak trees dot the farm and shade the yard where children play.

The Daniel Elliotts and their seven children traveled more than a thousand miles from their native Kentucky in a covered wagon for Mr. Elliott's health, but he did not improve and died in 1894, less than a year after his arrival. The family continued living in a log cabin on a ranch in the Shep area, and worked for the owner. The oldest son, LeRoy, took his father's place, but when the rancher, who had killed a man, whipped LeRoy Mrs. Elliott feared for their lives and appealed to neighbors. Three men took their guns and wagons and moved the family to a house on the C. M. Hunt ranch where they lived rent free until Mrs. Elliott was able to buy her home near Moro.
Mrs. Elliott continued carrying the mail. As each child became sixteen years old he could be sworn in as a substitute carrier to assist his mother. At one time or another all the children helped carry the mail.
The children also worked at such jobs as were available in a farm and ranch area. LeRoy was thrown while breaking horses on the Jim Wood ranch. When his mother learned he was hurt, she hitched the horses to the wagon and went after him. Neighborhood men sat with him that night. Early the next morning they told her that LeRoy had died. They buried him by his father on the southern slope of Flat Top Mountain in the Bluff Creek Cemetery. It was 1896.
The Widow Elliott's path crossed that of H. C. Mitchell after his wife, Susan Mariah, died in August of 1902, when his son, James, and her daughter, Alza Dean, were married in December under the sheltering oak trees in her front yard.
Tragedy again struck the family with the death of Alza in 1910, her four year old daughter two years later, and her husband in 1917. The three remaining Mitchell children went to live with their father's brother, Henry. The oldest, Margaret, died last year, and is buried by her parents and little sister, James Mitchell and Irvin and Beatrice Schroeder continue to live on the Mitchell farm in the Draso Community.
The Perry Poes had an eye for the future when they bought a home with a 25 acre yard. They already have a nice wheat crop growing and the grass in the yard established. When they entertained the Poe clan at Thanksgiving there was room for their three girls, Amber, Erica and Amanda to play with cousins, Jeneá and Bethanie. And Matt, the lone boy cousin, kept busy riding the four wheeler. The girls are looking forward to owning a pony, or two, or three.
A fitting climax to the day was the visit to the quiet Bluff Creek Cemetery lined by sturdy cedar trees that protect the graves and shelter the birds that sing above them. The influence of these staunch pioneers who struggled to establish their homes and provide a better life for their children lives on.
It makes us conscious that our roots are deep and strong.

noon entertainment.
Lynn and Carrol Faubion, Dallas, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Harvey Mae and Noble Faubion. Aubrey Faubion, Melinda Kraatz and her friend, Tasha, came on Sunday.

December 2. This puppet show is designed to teach that although some children are disabled and different, they can do things the same as you and I.

The Texas Education Agency accreditation team visited the school last week. The school personnel is extremely pleased with the good report they received. The official report will be given in about a month.

The Wingate Pirates traveled to Lohn, Texas for the first basketball game of the season. The Lady Pirates defeated the Lohn Eagles in an exciting game by a score of 22-21! High scorer for the Lady Pirates was Jamie Reyes with 11 points. The girls were evenly matched so the game was pretty close all night. "We learned a little more about teamwork and that will help us further along in the season."

The boys also defeated the Lohn Eagles by a score of 40-28. Jim Soto scored in double figures with 17 points. Vennie Reyes scored in double figures with 10 points. "We were able to let all the kids play. Everyone got a little game experience."

The Pirates will host the Winters Breezes (7th) on Monday, November 28 at 6 p.m. in the Pirate Gym at Wingate. Come out and support our team!

The fifth and sixth grade students have received interesting informative letters from their pen pals in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin. In this way students learn about the environment of people in other states.

Mrs. Babb and Mrs. Dyess, lunchroom service, prepared a delicious Thanksgiving meal Thursday, November 17. The school staff was happy to have a number of the business people as guest for this traditional meal.

School will dismiss early Wednesday, November 23 for Thanksgiving holidays. Classes will resume at regular time Monday, November 28. Have an enjoyable Thanksgiving.

We're back at school after an enjoyable Thanksgiving holiday. Now we are looking forward to December and the Christmas holidays.

Last week concluded the second six weeks of school. Students will be receiving their report cards this week. Keep your fingers crossed and hope everyone passed.

We are proud of the students who continue to read and report on library books and we hope more students will be motivated to read.

Cody Jones read and reported on twenty library books and received his second certificate. Debbie Baize read and reported on twenty library books and received her second certificate.

Ray Lee Luera read and reported on fifty library books and received his fifth certificate. Keep up the good work, Ray Lee.

Congratulations, Cody, Debbie and Ray Lee!

Donna Pohl, library consultant from Education Service Center, will visit the Learning

Resource Center, Tuesday, November 29. Mrs. Pohl makes a routine visit each month. The Learning Resource Center has recently obtained a TV and VCR which is a teaching tool for the teachers.

Kindergarten through sixth grade students are enthusiastically preparing posters for the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation Contest. Students enjoy competition. They hope to be winners.

The puppet show, Kids on the Block, teaching how children cope with disabilities, will be presented by Education Service Center on Friday, December 2, at 9:30 a.m. in the school auditorium. Parents are welcome to bring pre-school children to this program which will last about 30 minutes. This is a most informative program as well as entertaining.

Admission to all home basketball games is 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. The next home game is with St.

John's Monday, December 5, at 6 p.m. Both boys and girls will be playing. The Wingate 3rd and 4th grade teams will be showing their basketball abilities by playing at half time.

Sue Baize is supervising the concession stand with hamburgers, chips, drinks, candy, pickles, etc. for snacks during the games.

Everyone come to the basketball games and support our Pirate teams! Where else can anyone go for entertainment for the cost of 25 cents or 50 cents? See you at the game and the concession stand.

Too late for last week

Two of our residents are in the hospital in Abilene. Myrtle Smith is in Humana and Inez Danford is in Hendricks. We hope for them to be better soon and back with us again.

We are happy to have a new volunteer added to our program. Betty Colburn is sharing her time with us on Wednesday afternoon and bringing our Bible Study. We look forward to this Betty! We appreciate so much our volunteers who make our days a little brighter.

We want to thank Jo Magee for the lovely lap robes she brought to us. Many hours were put into these and we're so grateful to her for her thoughtfulness.

Thursday was our monthly Birthday Party. We had five honorees, Carl Smith, Bertha Grisham, Ruby Miller, Inez Danford and Cap Nolan. The Church of Christ ladies brought punch and cookies and a great time was enjoyed by all. We had some good entertainment too. If you ever want to hear some good harmonizing from a group of ladies, just look them up. Keep up the good work girls. Betty Pinkerton brought some good 'ole' songs we all remember from years gone by. We loved your organ music Betty. Thanks to all of you for a good time.

Thanks also to Joe and Melba Emmert for their good music on Friday night. We always look forward to seeing you.

Thank you to our churches for their good devotionals. Also thank you for your music Richard.

Thanks to the V.F.W. Auxiliary for the deep fryer. The ladies in the kitchen are really enjoying using it. Thank you Randy and your staff at Springer Pharmacy for the basket of fruit.

Happy Thanksgiving!

It's beginning to look like Christmas here at the Nursing Home. We have our trees up and decorated and some of our doors. Before long it's going to be looking real holiday-ish. We'd like to invite everyone to come by and see our decorations. Everybody is putting out a lot of hard work and we're really enjoying it.

Inez Danford is still in the hospital in Abilene. Agnes Andrae is in St. John's Hospital in San Angelo. We wish for them a speedy recovery and hope they will be back soon. Myrtle Smith came back Friday after a few

Minnis and Faye Mathis

celebrated 40th anniversary

Minnis and Faye Mathis celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving Day in Abilene. They were married November 24, 1948 in Tomball, Texas. They moved to Ballinger in 1951, then to Winters in 1958. Mr. Mathis was born in Novice, Texas and is retired after many years of being self-employed. Mrs. Mathis was born in Teague, Texas and is a housewife.

After eating a Thanksgiving dinner at the Royal Inn, they were surprised with a cake in the home of their daughter. Those attending were their four children and spouses and their five grandchildren: Charles, Mickey and Bryan Mathis of Abilene; Becky and Terry Messerla and Heather of Abilene; Mike, Debbie, Missy and Brandi Mathis of Ballinger; and Rickey, Jane and Jason Mathis of Midland.

Basketball Roundup

November 18 the Winters Varsity hosted the Novice Varsity in the Winters gym, with Winters coming out ahead with a final score of 51-37.

James Self was high scoring boy for the game with 19 points. Chris Bahlamn scored 12 points; Tommy Selby, 6; Brady Cowan, Chris Rives and Dan Killough with 4 points each; and Houston Guy with 2 points.

Two out of two free throws were made for an average of 100%. Tommy Selby was 2 of 2 for 100%.

Season record 1-0.
*****

November 11 Menard Varsity traveled to Winters to take on the Blizzards, only to go home with a loss of 72-37.

Again James Self was high scoring boy with 19 points. Chris Bahlman with 17 points; Willie Belk, 15; Brent Green and Brady Cowan, 6 points each; Tommy Selby, 4; Dan Killough and Rene Cortez, with 2 points each.

Five out of 12 free throws were made for an average of 41%. Willie Belk made 3 of 6 for 50%.

Season record 2-0.
*****

November 22 the Winters J.V. Boys hosted Menard, with a final score of Winters 30 and Menard 19.

Craig Slaughter was high scoring boy with 12 points. Others scoring were, Jason Corley and Keith Gerhart with 6 points each; Richard Lett, 4; and Richard Bryan with 2 points.

Six out of 10 free throws were made for an average of 60%.
Record 1-0.

This was the first game for our J.V. and they did a very good job. This team has a large number of sophomores and juniors, therefore they have a great amount of experience. This will enable them to give many opponents some problems. Their defensive abilities and hustle will keep them in nearly all the games they play and hopefully keep the scoring at a lower level which benefits our team.

November 17 Winters Freshman boys traveled to Clyde, coming home with a disappointing loss of 47-14.

Boys scoring were: Jamie Perez, 7 points; Raul Ochoa, Jodie Walker, and Alfred Fenwick, all with 2 points each; and Jody Guy with 1 point.

Two out of nine free throws were made for an average of 22%.
Record 0-1.

Our school this year has instituted a full schedule of games for our freshman. We decided these kids needed as much game experience as possible therefore instead of playing on our junior varsity they now have their own games. This enables these young men to play together and grow as a cohesive unit which will help them in the future.

Scout Food Drive was a big success

High winds and chilling temperatures did not stop Scouts from collecting canned goods for the Food Pantry on Saturday morning. We're proud to say that 930 pounds of canned goods were collected. That figure doubles last year's collection. Thirty-five scouts from Tiger Cubs, Cub Scouts, Webelos, and boy Scouts attended the drive.

The Scouts would like to thank the people of Winters for their generous support. We also want to thank the following parents for their help with transportation: Barbara Austin, Christi Byrne, Bobbie Calcote, Diane Arroyo, Debbie Powers, Jana Smith and Vic Santoya.

Boys participating in the Food Drive were:

Tiger Cub-Wesley Calcote. Den 1-Leader, Sarabeth Heidenheimer; Scouts-Aaron Calcote, Austin Jobe, Justin Hollis, Wayne Heidenheimer and Tony Walden.

Important safety tips from Lone Star Gas

You can take comfort in Natural Gas.

Trusting gas for your home is a natural. After all, Lone Star Gas Company has been faithfully serving its customers for more than 75 years. Through the years, we have worked to earn your trust by providing safe, dependable natural gas.

Do you know why gas has a strong odor? Because we have added a harmless odorant to the gas that lets you know it's there. This is for your safety, so if you ever smell the strong odor of gas in your home, follow these rules:

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:

- 1 Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark.

- 1 Put in a new fence.

- 2 Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open for ventilation.

- 2 Install an underground sprinkler system.

- 3 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause before returning to your home.

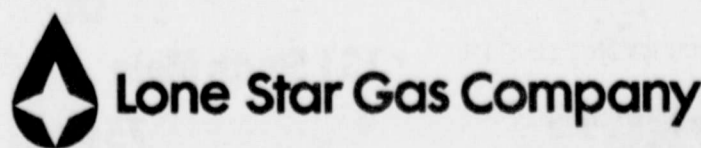

- 3 Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas office. If you smell a gas odor while you're outside, immediately contact Lone Star Gas.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

The safety record for natural gas is impressive, and peace of mind is an important part of what natural gas has to offer. By following these simple rules, you can take even greater comfort in natural gas.

Runnels 4-H'ers bring home the gold

November 19 was a great day for Runnels County 4-H'ers competing in the District 7 4-H Food Show. The event was held on the Angelo State University campus. Youth from 17 surrounding counties competed for top honors.

Of the twelve local 4-H'ers who participated, nine came home with championship honors. Jennifer Bickel and Heather Schwertner, competing in Sr. Fruits and Vegetables and Sr. Snacks and Desserts, respectively, both placed as High Point Champions in their categories and earned the right to advance to State competition in June at Texas A&M.

Other Seniors, Deron Robinson and Kendra McCown, both placed as 3rd High Point Individuals in their classes.

Three intermediates: Jill Frey, Donna Drake and Amanda McCown, also placed as High Point Champions in their categories. Christy Strube received recognition as the 2nd High Point Individual in her

Extension Service offering farm computer training

Farmers and ranchers in central and western areas of Texas can sharpen their computer skills by participating in several short courses conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A short course on "Electronic Spreadsheets and their Use in Agriculture" will be conducted December 7-9. A second short course on "Farm and Ranch Accounting" is set for January 4-6. Both will be at Tarleton State University, Stephenville.

"The short courses are designed to help agricultural producers improve their skills with computers as a step toward increasing their profit potential," said Dr. Ashley Lovell, Extension economist at Stephenville.

Computers can help farmers and ranchers with budgeting, planning and record keeping, Lovell said.

The short course on electronic spreadsheets will involve the use of Lotus 1-2-3 spreadsheet software. The January short course will deal with the basics of preparing financial statements and computerized accounting system.

For registration information, contact Lovell at the Texas

A&M University Research and Extension Service Center, Route 2, Box 1, Stephenville, Texas 76401; telephone 817-968-4144.

Ag youth group updates name to reflect changing times

The National FFA Organization is the new name for the high school group previously known as Future Farmers of America.

"I view this action as a progressive move that needed to be made," said Jay Hays, president of the Student Body at Texas A&M University.

Hays, a former Texas FFA vice president, said delegates to the recent national meeting of the youth organization in Kansas City voted to take the word "farmer" out of the name because it was hurting recruiting.

Hays said that although FFA remains in the organization's title, it no longer reflects farming as a career.

"One might compare the FFA name change with that several years ago of Texas A&M, which no longer stands for 'agricultural and mechanical college' of Texas," Hays said.

"We are not the National FFA Organization, or FFA organization of each state, as a result of action by delegates to the 61st annual conference of the youth group," he said.

Hays is an A&M senior from Wolf City majoring in agricultural education.

Hays said FFA officers and U.S. Education Department advisors to the organization recommended the name change to help reduce a 23 percent decline in membership since the mid-70's.

Hays said the FFA has about 416,000 active members nationwide, with about 54,000 of them residing in Texas.

Memo from the Chamber of Commerce

Are you getting the Christmas Spirit? It's that time of year. Christmas Trees are beginning to appear in the windows. Lights are being put up. People's Bank has lights all around their building and it looks great. We hope lighting the outside of buildings is something more businesses will adopt to do this year. Makes the town sparkle! Are you aware that strings of lights operated on batteries are available. Richard at Winn's tells me this has been a big seller this year.

A Christmas Parade will form at 2:30 on Winters State Parking Lot. Each entry should check in at the Parade Headquarters. A Black and Red Pickup parked on the lot north of Winters State Bank will have number and information for forming the Parade line.

Following the Parade, the Sno Queens will be presented in front of the Chamber of Commerce Office on West Dale. Santa will be joining the crowds there. The Junior High Band will entertain us with music at this location.

Santa is arriving in Winters this year in real Texas Style. You know...a big way...Flying in an airplane! He will be arriving at the Winters Airport approximately at 10:00 a.m. Greeted there by all his young and not so young fans. He will then travel to downtown Winters and sit at the KRUN building, 108 North Main Street, talking with the children, finding out their wishes and wants. Pictures will be available. Santa will remain there until 2:30, at which time he will leave to be in the Parade.

During the day there will be food available downtown, Christmas Sales, Pony Rides, Music and the "Spirit of

Winters Family Planing Clinic set

This program provides free exams for Medicaid clients and charges a small co-pay fee to those who are income eligible. Private patients are welcome to participate.

The clinic is held monthly at 601 W. Pierce, Winters, Texas and Central Texas Opportunities, Inc. of Coleman, Texas is the provider for the Texas Department of Human Services.

For more information concerning this clinic, please call 754-4443.

Blizzards start the season with wins!!

The Winters Blizzard Boys Basketball Team opened the basketball season November 18th with a 51-37 victory over the Novice Hornets.

We were a little rusty for the first game but our press and fast break enabled us to get enough turn overs and points to secure a victory. Our team this year has a good nucleus of experience. We return four starters from last year's team and also have a total of nine seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore rounding out our team. This experience enables us to have a better understanding of what we need to be doing in order to be successful. We are not blessed with the greatest talent in the world but our kids attitudes, desire and determination hopefully will make up for some of our weaknesses. We invite everyone to come out and support these young men in their athletic endeavors.

Coach Tom Selby

RRC levies fines

The Railroad Commission assessed a total of $13,000 in well plugging penalties to five oil and gas operators for problems under Commission well plugging rules.

The largest of the penalties, $8,000, went to Western Oil and Gas, Inc. of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma for four inactive and unplugged wells on the company's Mable Montgomery lease in Shackelford County. The wells have been inactive and unplugged for more than two years.

A similar penalty of $3,000 was levied against Rolling Hills Production of Skellytown for an inactive and unplugged well on the Belle Wisdom lease in Hutchinson County.

Three operators agreed to pay penalties without admitting any violation of Commission rules. Kimleco Petroleum, Inc. of Wichita Falls agreed to a $500 penalty for two wells on the Perkins-Prothro lease, Wichita County; Sydson D'Oro Exploration Company, Inc. of Houston agreed to a $500 penalty for a well on the W. W. Fondren lease, Colorado County.
