Chamber to hold reception Sunday

A public reception Sunday afternoon will honor Delores Heller, outgoing executive director of the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce, and introduce her successor, Shelly Nutt.

The reception, to be hosted by the chamber's board of directors, will be from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Center.

"It will be a combination thank-you reception for Delores and a welcome-aboard reception for Shelly," Chamber President Layne Myatt

Heller, who has served 16 years as the chamber's top administrative officer, submitted her resignation in August, effective this Saturday.

Nutt, 29, former secretary of the Texas Corn Producers Board and business manager of the Country Club of Dimmitt, was chosen Oct. 6 from a field of six applicants for the chamber post. She has been working with Heller in the chamber office since Oct. 16.

DAI stockholders to vote on merger

Dimmitt Agri Industries will hold a special stockholders' meeting next Thursday, Nov. 2, in which the membership will vote on whether to go ahead with a proposed merger with Tulia Wheat Growers.

Merger talks between boards of directors of the two companies have been ongoing for several months. The two companies recently signed a definitive merger agreement which was to be submitted to the stockholders of each organization. The agreement was submitted to Tulia Wheat Growers stockholders on Oct. 17, and it was approved. It will now be submitted to stockholders of Dimmitt Agri Industries.

The merger, if approved by Dimmitt Agri Industries' stockholders, will include a co-op cotton gin in Briscoe, a feed mill in Tulia, fertilizer facilities at both locations, and 5,273,000 bushels of cooperative grain storage which can be used by farmers and ranchers in Swisher, Briscoe and Armstrong counties.

Dimmitt Agri Industries would benefit with an expanded farmer base and territory, diversification, ample grain storage capacity to handle its needs far into the future and the opportunity for more savings for its current stockholders, according to general manager Don Graham.

Tulia Wheat Growers and Dimmitt Agri Industries have been working together since 1992 when Dimmitt Agri leased the grain facilities for additional storage capacity and assisted Tulia farmers and ranchers in maintaining the cooperative presence in that area. During the ensuing three years, Dimmitt Agri Industries has provideed markets for farmers and ranchers and has provided them with additional savings of over $468,000.

"Tulia Wheat Growers and Dimmitt Agri Industries have three years of working together. It has proven the compatibility of the organizations and much more could be accomplished by putting them together," said Graham.

recognized two of its outstanding members Monday night by presenting them with 4-H's highest award—the Gold Star. Then the pair each earned a $150 4-H scholarship from K-Bob's Steakhouse in Dimmitt to honor their successes.

Winners of the 1995 Gold Star Awards were Tawnee Matthews and Coby Summers, both members of the Flagg 4-H.

Other top awards presented Monday night included the 4-H Silver Star Award to Junior 4-H'er Kaci Schulte; the Danforth I Dare You Award to Terri Beth Teaschner; "Friend of 4-H" Award to K-Bob's Steakhouse, represented by Jolene Gleghorn; and the Outstanding 4-H Adult Leader Award to Beth Schulte.

Castro County Judge Irene Miller presented the awards to Summers and Matthews during Monday night's 4-H Achievement Banquet.

"I have known the first recipient (Matthews) for the past five years. It is my opinion that she is a very strong spirited young lady, a leader Castro County 4-H and a hard worker," said Miller when presenting the award to Matthews.

Matthews has been in the Flagg 4-H for eight years. She is currently president of the club and is on the Castro County 4-H Council. She also has served as secretary and treasurer of her club.

Her projects have included beef, swine, sheep, clothing, method demonstrations and livestock judging.

Matthews has competed at State 4-H Roundup as a member of the livestock judging team, earning fifth place honors. The past two years she has received fourth and eighth place honors with a meat science method demonstration. She has won many ribbons and trophies exhibiting livestock at the local, state and county levels.

In introducing Summers, Miller described him as "a very hard worker who is devoted to the many projects in which he is involved."

The active nine-year Flagg 4-H'er has served as president, vice president and reporter of his club, and has been a member of the County Council, serving as reporter and second vice president.

Summers has been involved in many projects including beef, horse, swine, sheep and trap. He has competed in the horse judging contest at State 4-H Roundup the past two years. His work with show steers has earned him many local, county and state honors.

Miller praised all 4-H'ers for their work and dedication to projects, and applauded the parents of those

"I know that behind each 4-H'er are the parents. I know that you are the ones that give your child the little nudge when he doesn't want to continue. You are the ones that give the words of encouragement when your child is discouraged and you are the ones that give the praise for the goals that are reached," she said.

The Danforth I Dare You award is presented each year to a 4-H'er who has displayed excellence in character well-balanced personal

According to Paula Graham, who serves on the Castro County Child Protective Services Board, DHS is considering moving caseworker Donna Stump from her Dimmitt office to a Hereford location. Stump will still be responsible for children in Castro County, but she will have to work out of Hereford. Her office is currently located in the county's office building in the 200 block of Southeast Third Street, and DHS is paying rent to the county for use of the building.

"It just doesn't make sense," Graham told commissioners Monday. "That means that every time Donna gets a call to check on children in Castro County, she'll have to drive all the way from Hereford. That could mean several trips a day."

Graham said DHS has said it can no longer afford to pay the rent for an office for Stump, and it has cut the salary for her secretary.

Castro County Sheriff CD Fitzgearld asked commissioners about constructing a storage compound on the county's vacant lot across from the Expo Building.

Fitzgearld said he would like for the area to be 150 x 150 feet, surrounded by chained-link fence. It would be used to store impounded vehicles and other items.

Fitzgearld said he thinks he can get the chained link fence at no cost, except the county would have to pick it up from Kelly Air Force Base at San Antonio.

The only problem commissioners had with the plan was that they had promised the city earlier this year that it could construct a softball field on the lot, but no work has been started yet.

The court decided to talk with city officials before taking any action on Fitzgearld's request.

Homecoming nice, except

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank all my friends from the Class of '75 for a great 20-year class reunion. As we drove in from Dallas, I told my three children about being raised in the town of Dimmitt. I told them that Dimmitt was a friendly, small community, and a place where everyone knows everyone. I also told them that I wish they could live in Dimmitt.

To my disappointment, one small incident happened Friday after the Bobcats' Homecoming game. My 14 - year - old son, a freshman, was invited by his cousin, who is a freshman in Dimmitt High School, to attend the Homecoming Dance. After paying to get in, he was later approached by (an adult sponsor) who asked him what his age was and where he was from. My son told him he was 14 and was a freshman from Dallas. (The sponsor) told him he was not welcome and asked him to leave the dance because this dance was for Dimmitt students.

My son was in shock and surprised by the way he was treated. He could not remember my parents' phone number so he walked back to their house. Everyone knows how cold it was Friday night, so you can imagine how he felt walking home frightened, confused and humiliated. He just couldn't understand what it all

His grandparents were very surprised when he walked in and told them he was "kicked out" of the dance. My family actually thought he was joking. He somberly went in the house and sat down without any more words.

You see, Rojelio lives in the big city of Dallas. My husband and I are very protective of him and cautious of any activities he participates in. Therefore, when we allowed him to go to the Homecoming dance in Dimmitt, it was without hesitation. We thought, "Great, it's a small school dance and the people are so 'friendly' and they care about the kids." We also knew that my brother, Coach Ortiz, was going to be a sponsor that evening.

My husband and I were at our class reunion mixer that evening and never imagined my son would have been treated so unfairly. I don't understand why a person would be judged by his size (he's small built) or where he is from. I also understand there were other students from out of town at the dance who were able to get in.

May I suggest that, at the next high school dance the school has, an announcement be made either at the pep rally or in the newspaper

Terri Beth Teaschner's book on Fashion Review placed fourth at the state level while Colby McDonald's work on Energy Management was judged second best at state.

Landowners can get help with water management

Castro County farmers can receive help in developing and following a water quality management plan.

According to Gary Hunter with the Natural Resources Conservation Service, a water quality management plan is developed with the operator and field office personnel in the Dimmitt field office. After the plan has been developed, it is sent to the Running Water Conservation District for approval by the board of

A water quality management plan, when developed, will meet the specifications of a resource conservation plan with the Natural Resource Conservation Service and it will cover all fields that are included in an operating unit.

One of the main reasons landowners should develop a water quality plan and follow through with it is because it would ensure that a producer's operation would comply with the state's water quality laws, according to Hunter.

Another benfit to having a water quality plan is there will be a limited amount of cost-share assistance which will be available on a firstcome basis to producers who have water quality problems.

Such practices as establishing waterways and terraces, planting pastures, installing irrigation pipelines, installing center pivots on "B slope ground," will be used in developing a water quality management

Santa's Open House planned

The Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce annual Christmas Open House promotion has been scheduled for Nov. 16 from 6 to 9 p.m.

The theme of the annual event will be "Santa's Open House," with Santa scheduled to visit with children at the gazebo on the courthouse square.

Merchants wishing to participate in the promotion are asked to donate $50 to the Chamber. The enrollment fee covers advertising, door decorations, Santa's fee, and Dimmitt Dollars that will be given away to persons registering at participating businesses.

A chamber spokesperson said businesses also are encouraged to hold a special three-hour sale and feature a Mystery Sale Item on the Open House night.

"The point of the Mystery Sale Item is to encourage customers to come in to your business to look around and either find the Mystery Sale Item or ask what the Mystery Sale Item is," the chamber spokesperson explained. "The idea is to pique the curiosity of your customers, so don't reveal the mystery ahead of time."

Arredondo is honored

Delia Arredondo has been named student of the week at Dimmitt Middle School. She is in Mrs. Damron's and Mrs. Spring's rooms.

Arredondo is the daughter of Juan and Juana Arredondo. She was born Oct. 5, 1985, in Guymon, Okla.

In her free time she enjoys doing "seatwork things" or reading, and her favorite book is Give Us a Great Smile, Rosy Cole. She enjoys attending Dimmitt Middle School because of the library—"I like to read a lot." Her favorite animal is the panda and she wants to be a basketball player when she grows up.

Arredondo says she admires her father and she lists something she does well as "listening to my parents." She wishes she were better at English and her favorite food is pepperoni pizza.

Lively, Edwards exchange vows Saturday in double-ring ceremony

Jeana Brooke Lively and David Justin Edwards exchanged wedding vows Saturday in a formal, doublering ceremony performed by Dr. Richard Chaffin at the Oakwood United Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Roy and Carolyn Lively of Lubbock.

Parents of the groom are Jack and Jan Edwards of Dimmitt.

The church was decorated with arched and spiral candelabras holding votive candles. Two sprays of white gladiolas, deep red roses and stargazer lilies accented the area along with foliage. The pews were marked with burgundy and ivory ribbon and tulle bows.

Luis Gonzalez, organist, and guitarist Hans Schoppa accompanied soloist Chris Starcher in performing The Wedding Song and One Hand, One Heart.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a romantic gown of ivory brocade designed by Golden Gate Bridal. The bodice featured an off-the-shoulder neckline adorned with a pearl edging, short capped sleeves and a basque waistline. The full ballgown skirt flowed to a chapel-length train highlighted with hem lace.

She wore a floral wreath highlighted with pearl sprays, double pouf and two-tiered fingertip veiling.

She carried a full colonial bouquet of ivory and shaded pink roses, rosebuds and miniature lilies. Burgundy, ivory and gold ribbons cascaded from the bouquet.

Serving as maid of honor was Amy Walker of Lubbock, the bride's college roommate. Bridesmaids included Ginger Lively of Seabrook, the bride's sister-in-law, Rhonda Staggs of Lubbock, friend of the bride; and Holly Edwards of Dimmitt, the groom's sister.

Bridal attendants wore two-piece suits of hunter green shantung designed by Jordan. The jacket featured a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves, and the sheath skirt was floor length.

They carried colonial bouquets of dark red and ivory roses and mums accented with ivory and burgundy streamers.

Best man was Randy Nutt of Dimmitt, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Clint Lively of Seabrook, brother of the bride; and Scott Stahl of McKinney and Colin Cobb of Tulia, friends of the groom. Ushers were Brandon Story and Shane Story.

After the wedding, a reception honoring the newlyweds was held at the church with Mendy Houchin, Heather Greene, Jennifer Curry, Kathy Burian, Jodi Stary and Tassie Rhodes serving as members of the houseparty.

The bride's four-tiered wedding cake featured a basket weave design accented with rosebuds and babies' breath.

The groom's chocolate cake also featured a basket weave design and

DHS Class of '50 has reunion

By FLOYCE GEORGE

The Dimmitt High School Class of 1950 had its 45th-year class reunion Oct. 13, 14 and 15 at the Ramada Inn East in Amarillo. With a present count of 33 in this class, 13 members were present, plus 10 spouses and other guests.

Traveling the most miles to be with the class were Dorothy (Winkle) Weathers and her husband, Bill, from Renton, Wash. After many years with Boeing & Co., Dorothy and Bill are retired and enjoy staying in Arizona a lot in the winter months. They have three children and two grandchildren.

Olan and Louise Kirby are also retired and at present live in Kerrville.

Attending the reunion for the first time was Standlee Fulfer of Cypress, near Houston, where he and his wife, Betty, are in the ranching business. Stan also is in the commercial construction busi-

The class was also glad to have Charles Thompson here for his first class reunion. Charles is semi retired from farming but still does some ranching at Roff, Okla., where he lives.

After living in Alaska for 30 years, then in Hawaii seven years, Charles and Irene Houtchens flew in from Surprise, Ariz., which they now call home. Charles was teasingly called the nomad of the class.

Since he lives in Amarillo, Guy "Gus" Ziegler didn't have far to travel. Gus has been an appraiser for the county for some years and is planning to retire soon. Gus has three children and five grandchild-

Also living in Amarillo are Ken and Pat (Tate) Truelove. They have a son, Brent, in Amarillo. Also, Pat has just recently moved her parents, Curtis and Marie Tate, to Amarillo. Pat and Ken travel quite a bit, having returned from a trip to Australia and New Zealand a few days before the reunion.

Seven class members from Castro County attended:

Dale and Elsa Maxwell farm north of town and also have a gift shop in Amarillo. Also, they plan to work some on a mail route out of Hereford that also delivers Routes 1 and 5 out of Dimmitt.

Willis A. and Rosalie (LaPlant) Hawkins are in the farming business and live near Easter. They have been married since 1981, and between them have nine children and 19 grandchildren.

Fred and Bobbi Bruegel live west of Dimmitt and, even though they have recently sold their grain and feed business, Fred is still employed at the grain company and they also have farming interests in Castro County. The Bruegels have five children and seven grandchildren (so far!). Fred is greatly appreciated for taking the initiative back in the '70s to get the class reunions started and for contributing so much to their success.

Jack and Charlene Howell, who also live west of Dimmitt, are in the farming and quarter-horse business, and Jack is also one of our fine local auctioneers. The Howells were missed this year at the reunion as they were tied up with harvest. Jack is another who has been very instrumental in our reunions.

Kenneth and Ruth (Sheffy) Jackson of Dimmitt have recently retired, having sold their ditching company, and are enjoying a more leisurely lifestyle. They also enjoy traveling and taking grandkids to the lake. Ruth and Kenneth have three children and seven grandchildren.

Bob Simpson lives north of Dimmitt and even though he is retired he still has farming interests. Bob's plans for the reunion had to be canceled at the last minute due to a detached retina in one eye. Bob had to fly to Dallas Friday; he had surgery Saturday and was able to come home Monday. Bob is doing fairly well but was very disappointed at having to miss the reunion.

Jimmie and Floyce (Carpenter) George also live in Dimmitt. They have one daughter who also lives here, and three grandchildren. Jim, having been in real estate for 25 years, is enjoying a fairly widespread reputation as a good Realtor, and has no plans of retiring. Floyce still has the mail route and does plan to retire in the next year or so.

Others from Dimmitt who were unable to attend were Sammy Hardy and Marzelle (Beavers) Powell.

Those coming by Saturday for the evening meal and visiting were Twila (Kirby) Parker of Olton, a longtime friend of the class, and Tisha Tate of Canyon, granddaughter of Jim and Floyce George.

Several of the class members who live elsewhere wrote or called in regrets for not being able to attend. They were Mona (Simmons) Kirby of Easton, Kan., Della (Teague) Dow of Bernard, Mass., Melba (Johnson) Smith of Georgetown, Lanell (Walthall) Gunter of Odessa, Elzeda (Smith) Funch of Houston, Melba (Rusty Sevier) Pugh of Torrance, Calif., and Rev. Taylor Norman (the class valedictorian) of Pearland. Roy and Shirley Henderson of Begata, Texas, thought they would be in this area on harvest and could come by, but didn't make it.

Two class members passed away in 1994 - Earl Billingslea of Goldatna, Alaska, and a local favorite, Mona (Brock) Merritt. They were both dearly missed. Earl had been here for all the reunions in the past, even though having to come management is the key to stopping the spread of gray leaf spot next year, according to one of the country's leading experts on the corn disease, which has lowered yields in fields from Iowa to Kentucky this year.

Dr. Erik Stromberg, plant pathologist and gray leaf spot specialist at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in Blacksburg, Va., says the curent situation with farmers favoring a few high-yielding varieties which are highly susceptible to the disease is contributing to the spread of the fungus.

"What this is teaching us is that you can't go after yield and more yield and ignore the rest. There are considerations," said Stromberg, who is a member of the North Central Region Corn and Sorghum Disease Committee. He has been studying gray leaf spot since 1982.

Switching to more tolerant hybrids and rotating hybrids that have different agronomic characteristics is essential to reducing losses from gray leaf spot, Stromberg added.

"Government mandates are in place concerning tillage practices that might not allow plowing under residue," Stromberg explained. "As for rotating to beans, that might not help either, because the fungus can travel hundreds of yards by air."

In fact, Stromberg documented an infestation spread from one farmer's field to his experiment station plot, 1-1/2 miles away.

When selecting hybrids this season, Stromberg recommends looking at company and university data on the susceptibility of hybrids to gray leaf spot. In Stromberg's evaluation, hybrids are graded on a scale from one to five, with five being the most susceptible.

"In areas that are at risk, I would not recommend planting a susceptible hybrid no matter what the yield "It really doesn't matter whether potential of that hybrid," said many people will consider planting windbreaks on their property.

Properly designed, a windbreak can reduce heating costs for homes and businesses, provide protection from the wind for people and livestock, reduce wind erosion and provide wildlife habitats.

The Dimmitt Natural Resource Conservation Service, located at 114 W. Belsher in Dimmitt, can provide assistance in planning windbreaks around homes, farmsteads, ranch headquarters, feedlots and other areas.

"Waiting until next spring or summer to install a windbreak means another year's delay in reaping the benefits," said Gary Hunter, district conservationist with the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). "Trees and shrubs used in windbreak should be planted as soon as possible after they arrive, somewhere around April 1."

Hunter said planning now will enable landowners to get the type of tree they want.

"Many of the more popular species ordered through the Soil and Water Conservation District are only available in limited quantitites and they sell out quickly," Hunter said. "These seedlings are provided at a very low cost, but their use is restricted to eligible farmsteads. The Earth United Methodist Other varieties also are available commercially."

Bradford and Seale attend regional UMW convention

Mildred Bradford and Mattie Seale, both of Dimmitt, represented the United Methodist Women from First United Methodist Church at the 22nd annual meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference of UMW Friday and Saturday in Abilene.

The conference area includes churches from the Texas Panhandle to Midland and from Baird to Vernon. This year's conference was held at St. Paul United Methodist Church in Abilene.

Theme for this year's conference was "God's Mission in our Time," and those attending celebrated a year of spiritual growth, study, service, fellowship and giving.

"We enjoyed the special music during various parts of the meeting," said Bradford and Seale. "On Saturday morning Nikki Kenley (daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Paul Kenley of Dimmitt) performed a solo and we visited with her for a time."

The featured speaker at the convention was Frances O. Nixon of Little Rock, Ark. She told of her work as a board member of Camp Aldersgate, a project offering unique opportunities to people with special needs and their families.

In honor of Freddie Nixon, local units of United Methodist Women made and contributed craft items for the annual fish fry and craft sale at Camp Aldersgate.

Leading the worship and Communion service for the meeting was Rev. Carol Cumpton, pastor of United Methodist Church at Rule-Sagerton.

Other activities included a memorial service, election and installation of officers, a pledge service and a Saturday noon luncheon hosted by the women of St. Paul United Methodist Church. Presiding at the sessions were conference president, Peggy Wright of Abilene; and vice president, Barbara Edwards of Plainview.

Last Friday night, the Dimmitt Bobcats looked adversity in the face in a key District 2-3A battle at Bobcat Stadium against Shallowater.

Adversity must be uglier than any mask planned for Halloween next week. Ugly enough to make the Bobcats run and hide from the Mustangs in a 26-2 loss.

Shallowater spoiled Homecoming before a huge Dimmitt crowd, one of the largest here in many years. The Mustangs had some help, with an atrocious non-call setting up one Shallowater score. Another questionable call cost the Mustangs a touchdown later in the game.

The Dimmitt offense, which had rolled up over 300 yards a week earlier at Floydada in the conference opener, was shell-shocked Friday. The Bobcats had just 142 yards of offense. The Dimmitt defense, including the 47 yards on the non-call, gave up 384 yards.

Dimmitt's only score came in the second quarter after the Mustangs scored their third TD of the night for a 20-0 lead. Jay Lusk's extra point kick was blocked and Jason Wooten scooped it up near the 5-yard line. Wooten got three great blocks downfield and ran into the Shallowater end zone for two points for the Bobcats.

Only one other time, also in the second quarter, did Dimmitt come close, but Will Sanders was just short with a 36-yard field goal try.

The rest of the night, the Bobcats played within earshot of their end

"We talked to the kids many times throughout the week about field position," said Dimmitt coach Danny Chisum. "We talked about it all through practice Tuesday and Wednesday. Obviously, we didn't do a good job on field position, and Shallowater did. It seemed like we started on about the 15 yard line all through the second half."

Shallowater scored 26 points despite sloppy play on its part. The Mustangs lost a fumble, had two passes intercepted, and were flagged 16 times for 141 penalty yards.

"They still didn't call all of the holding and stuff," Chisum said. Dimmitt's Arturo Silva was injured by one illegal block (it was called), and his status may be doubtful for this week's game at Friona.

Chisum was steamed about the non-call on an obvious offensive pass interference. The non-call let Shallowater move to the 4, where a Dimmitt player was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct for questioning the action of the big Shallowater split end.

"There is no way that a receiver can grab a defender and throw him to the ground and say it was incidental contact," Chisum said.

In what seemed a blatant attempt to even things up, an apparent Shallowater touchdown pass later in the game was waved off and ruled incomplete by the same official. The official ruled, from the middle of the field, that the Mustang receiver had been forced out of bounds. The head linesman, who was on top of the play, said the receiver did not go out of bounds, according to Shallowater coach Keith Kitchens.

"If they were trying to even things out, they should have given us the ball at the 2," Chisum said.

Chisum felt the no-call had a definite bearing on the game, letting the wind out of the Bobcats. He didn't dwell on the no-call, with bigger worries on his mind.

"The kids weren't really ready to play, and neither of our quarterbacks (Jason Wooten and Joey Martinez) had a good night," the coach said. "Really, the whole team was not in sync. The first three times we had the football we had a penalty or shot ourselves in the foot. Shallowater did the same thing, but they were able to overcome and get first downs and eventually a touchdown."

Shallowater scored what would be the only touchdown it would need late in the first quarter. Starting at its 47, the Mustangs kept the ball on the ground for all five plays. Jr. Guzman scored on a counter play from 21 yards out, and Lusk added the extra point to give the Mustangs a 7-0 lead with 1:30 to play in the period.

After holding the Bobcats, Shallowater started at its 46, overcame a holding call and marched to the Dimmitt 22. On third-and-six, Toby Crow batted down a Blane Brown pass, and a fourth down pass was overthrown to give the Bobcats the ball with 8:55 to play in the half.

The Bobcats moved to their 48 before punting. Dimmitt recovered a loose ball at the Shallowater 24. Oscar Rueda picked up 10 yards on first down, but the Bobcats lost a yard on two running plays and a third down pass was incomplete.

"We had a receiver that was wide open and just didn't get the ball to him," Chisum said.

On fourth down, Sanders tried a 36-yard field goal. It was on line but passed just under the cross bar to stop the Dimmitt effort with 3:24 to go in the half.

'We should have gone in at 7-3 or even 7-7, but the last three minutes were very, very long," Chisum said. The Mustangs moved quickly from their 20 to the Bobcat 47. That was when the no-call came on the interference, and Pater Garza scored with 1:32 to play in the half. Lusk added the PAT to make it a 14-0 game.

After Rueda had picked up 18 yards on second down to the Bobcat 33, Wooten was hit by a Shallowater player. Tackle Josh McMenamy picked up the loose ball at the 15 and rambled into the end zone to make it 20-0 with 39 seconds to play.

That was when Wooten scored the two points. On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Wooten rolled the wrong way on a pass play, tried to throw a pass and was picked off by the Mustangs. Two penalties kept Shallowater from threatening.

Dimmitt threatened just once in the third quarter, after a Kalem Thomas interception at the Dimmitt 30. Thomas returned it 39 yards to the Shallowater 31, giving Dimmitt a chance to get back in the game with 4:16 to play in the third.

Thomas gained four yards on first down, and Martinez got a yard on second down. On third-and-five from the Mustang 26, Martinez was picked off by Nick Martin at the 15. Martin returned it 30 yards to stop the threat and to stop Dimmitt for the Shallowater scored an insurance touchdown late in the game when Roberts hauled in a 15-yard pass from Brown. Lusk's kick was not good, leaving the score at 26-2.

Shallowater scored in each quarter last Thursday to down Dimmitt's seventh grade Bobcats 32-0 at Bobcat Stadium.

Shallowater rolled to 275 yards while Dimmitt had only 130 yards.

"Ben Ruiz had a good game, his first since returning from a dislocated elbow," said Dimmitt coach Dean Price. "We had a very poor effort on both offense and defense. We had poor tackling, poor line blocking at times, and the backs ran well at times then other times missed some holes that were open early.

"We need to regroup and play for our pride and our record."

Swifts snatch win from stubborn Mustangs

By JUSTIN BINGHAM

Nazareth's Homecoming celebration was fraught with worry Friday night as the Swifts struggled to overcome a stubborn Bovina team.

The Swifts eventually prevailed, escaping with a 20-14 victory to remain unbeaten in district play, but the team's performance was less than stellar.

The Swifts were penalized for 12 times for 96 yards and the defense struggled, missing tackles, and dropping possible interceptions. Nazareth forced just one turnover, and that was a fumble recovery late in the

"We just can't show up and think we have a game won," said Nazareth Coach Rick Price. "Whenever we do that, we just don't play well.

"Penalties really hurt us, but I have to give Bovina credit. They kept the ball away from us, and they played a good game."

Bovina, which has only won one of its last 35 games, gave the Swifts a run for their money Friday night.

The Mustangs never held the lead, but managed to make it a one-point affair in the third quarter. The Swifts finally thought they had the game in control with a 20-6 lead late in the fourth quarter, but Bovina marched right back to make it a six-point final.

Nazareth's offense gained 343 yards, with Gaylon Schilling completing 9-of-17 passes for 189 yards. Justin Bingham was on the receiving end of several of those passes, including a 70-yard touchdown recep-

SWIFT PRESSURE!—Nazareth defenders Coby Schacher (44) and Matthew Kern (pictured behind Schacher) put a big rush on Bovina quarterback Cruz Marrufo as he releases a pass during the second quarter Friday night. Other Swifts rushing in on the play are James Burnam (75), Malcom Jones (50) and

Cody Annen (72). The Swifts pressured Marrufo all night, and had several chances at interceptions, but weren't able to pick off one pass. Nazareth went on to win the District 2-A showdown and its homecoming game, 20-14. Photo by Anne Acker tion. On the ground, Nazareth gained 154 yards.

Bovina managed 249 yards offense, with 180 of those yards on the ground.

Nazareth got the ball first and Bingham picked up a quick 12 yards, but the play was called back because of a penalty. Then Schilling was dropped for a loss.

A 14-yard completion from Schilling to Nathan Hoelting wasn't enough for a first down and the Swifts had to punt. Bovina started its first drive at its own 40, and the Mustangs marched to Nazareth's goal line behind the running of fullback Robert Perez and quarterback Cruz Marrufo.

Marrufo attacked the center of the Swift defense on three consecutive plays to pick up a first down. Then Perez broke outside and finally shoved out of bounds by Bingham at the Nazareth 15.

Two runs by Marrufo put the ball inside the 5, but that's about as far as the drive would go.

Nazareth held the Mustangs out of the end zone, and the Bovina drive netted a goose egg on the score with Martinez on a 44-vard pass, braod unit had to dig their way out of a deep hole, starting off on their own 1-yard line. Coby Schacher and Quentin Dobmeier picked up short yardage to give the Swifts a little breathing room. Schilling found Hoelting with a pass on a third-down play for a 40-yard gain as the first quarter ended.

The drive stalled there and Hoelting had to punt again.

Bovina went three and out and the Swifts regained possession.

Two penalties put Nazareth in a hole, but Schacher managed to pick up a first down. Schilling pitched the ball to Bingham who gained another first down and the offense was roll-

Another penalty and an incomplete pass halted that roll, however, and another Hoeltin punt rolled to a stop at Bovina's 30.

More good defense by the Swifts forced Bovina to punt and this time, Nazareth started its drive on its on

The Swifts didn't waste any time on this drive, scoring on the very first play.

Schilling found Bingham over the middle with a pass completion. Bingham shook off one defender, then raced down the sideline for a 70-yard touchdown. Cody Annen booten the extra point for a 7-0 Nazareth lead with 4:05 left in the first

That's the way the score stayed until the third quarter.

Marrufo and company were stymied by the Swift defense, but an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty against the Swifts turned a big third down play into a first down to keep Bovina alive.

After the penalty, Perez gained 30 yards on a sweep and Marrufo completed a short pass to Jim Prather. Two plays later Marrufo hit Hector Larrea for a touchdown. The extra point was wide, and Nazareth held on to a slim 7-6 lead with 7:11 left in the third quarter.

Nazareth couldn't move the ball and Bovina took over after a punt.

Bovina's offense mounted a drive that chewed up the rest of the third quarter, and the attack was mainly on the ground with runners pounding the ball inside.

A Marrufo pass fell incomplete on fourth down at the beginning of the fourth quarter and Nazareth got the ball back.

Bingham gained 36 yards on a sweep, but another pesky penalty brought it back to the original line of scrimmage.

After a four-yard gain by Schilling on the option, Bingham got the call again, and he gained eight yards on another sweep. An incomplete thirddown pass stalled the drive and Hoelting had to punt.

Marrufo, who had been under pressure from Nazareth's defense all night, was dropped for a big loss by Nazareth's Matthew Kern and Bovina had to punt.

A false start penalty against the Swifts forced Schilling and Company into a first-and-15 situation, but Bingham gained a first down with a quick 41-yard gain around the left Schacher got 15 yards on the next play, then Dobmeier took it down to the 1-yard line two plays later.

Nazareth lost a couple of yards before finally breaking into the end zone when Schilling found room around the right end and raced four yards for the toucdown. Annen's PAT was good, giving the Swifts a 14-6 lead with 6:47 left to play.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Mustang back to receive the kick fumbled the ball. The loose pigskin bounced from player to player before Nazareth's Darren Huckert recovered it at Bovina's 25.

Runs of 10 and 11 yards by Schacher moved the ball inside the 5, then Schacher finished off the drive with a 3-yard touchdown with 1:50 left. Annen's PAT was wide, leaving the score 20-6, Nazareth.

Bovina returned the kickoff to Nazareth's 20, and eventually scored on a 1-yard run by Joe Villarreal. Marrufo completed a pass to Alfredo Vara for the two-point conversion was good for the final 20-14 score.

THE FAVORITES to capture the team title at the District 3-AA cross country meet Saturday at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock are the Hart Lady Horns. Hart runners want district championships

If there is a clear-cut favorite to win Saturday's District 3-AA cross country meet it has to be Hart's Isela Minjarez.

Minjarez has led the Lady Horns throughout the season, and her finishes have been among the top 10 in almost every race, and she is usually first or second in most races.

Hart's girls will run their district meet Saturday at 8:30 a.m. at Mae Simmons Park in Lubbock. The Longhorns, also favored to place high in the meet, will run their district race Saturday, too.

The Hart runners will compete against runners from Abernathy, Hale Center, Springlake-Earth, Lockney, Morton, Olton and New Abernathy will be the main team Hart will have to worry about in both the boys' and girls' races.

Minjarez is favored to take the gold in the girls race and teammate Lisa Rincon should be right behind her. Other team members are Veronica Gonzales, Tylene Garcia, Valerie Key, Teresa Menchaca and Cynthia Menchaca.

In the boys' race, Hart's best medal bets are Mario Guzman and Eric Montemayor. Also competing will be Angel Pantoja, Teddy Gutierrez, Harvey Guzman, Robert Yebra and Adrian Rios.

"Isela has a really good shot at the gold," said Hart Coach Rachelle Wilcox. "She's definitely a frontrunner. Springlake-Earth and Abernathy have good runners, but no one has come close to Isela so far. Lisa (Rincon) should push her the

Lockney hands Hart second district loss

Lockney quarterback Shannon Veal threw just four passes against the Hart Longhorns Friday night.

Unfortunately for Hart, Leal completed all four of those passes and three were to Mike Hernandez for touchdowns.

Hart was able to move the ball against Lockney, but couldn't put the points on the board. Lockney didn't have that problem.

Hart was hanging in there at halftime, trailing Lockney by a point, 7-6, but the host Lockney Longhorns put on an offensive show in the second half and breezed to a 34-13 District 3-AA victory.

The loss was a costly one for Hart, which dropped a district game to Hale Center last week, too. The Longhorns dropped to 5-2 overall, 2-2 in district play.

Hart won the statistics battle with their biggest offensive output of the season-353 yards. Lockney managed just 338 yards, but those yards came on big scoring plays. Hart just couldn't punch the ball across the goal line. Squandered scoring opportunities and a couple of defensive letdowns by Hart led to the team's downfall.

Hart finished with seven penetrations while Lockney just managed six. Hart had 18 touchdowns to Lockney's 12.

Hart Coach Blair Brown found the loss especially tough to take considering the Horns moved the ball so well against Lockney and had so many opportunities to score.

He was pleased that his team played hard up until the final gun, and never showed a sign of quitting or giving up.

The first series started well for Hart as the defense shut down Lockney's running attack, led by sophomore Devon Phillips.

Hart took the punt, but didn't get to hold onto possession for long. J.R. Lee fumbled and Lockney

Big games on tap Friday

Nazareth at Claude

One of the biggest District 2-A games of the 1995 season will be played Friday night in Claude when the Nazareth Swifts take on the Mustangs in a battle of 2-A unbeatens.

Nazareth, Claude and Farwell all have perfect district marks. Nazareth and Claude will meet Friday night at 7 p.m. Farwell takes on Vega. Next week Claude will play Farwell, then Nazareth will take on the Steers in Farwell to close out the regular season on Nov. 10.

The district race is wide open and anyone can win at this point, according to Nazareth Coach Rick Price.

Clay Cameron's 1-yard plunge in the first quarter lifted Claude to a 6-0 win over Vega last week while the Swifts struggled in a 20-14 victory over Bovina. The Mustangs are 3-3 on the season while the Swifts are 3-

Claude utilizes a multiple-I on offense and lines up in a split 6 on the other side of the ball.

Key players on offense for the Mustangs are quarterback Thomas Justiss (5-11, 155), running backs Michael Pillard (6-0, 190) and Cory Alford (5-9, 180), center Wes Campbell, tackle Thomas Harris (6-0, 160) and tight end Cameron (5-10, 190).

"Their backfield is definitely their strength," said Price. "Justiss is their most dangerous runner. Pillard moves pretty good, too and Alford is probably the hardest runner we've seen all year. Cameron has really impressed me, too. They've just got a really strong nucleus on offense with those players."

"Claude reminds me a lot of us," Price said. "They're not real big or fast, but they play hard.

On defense, Pillard, Alford and Cameron are linebackers and that unit is the team's defensive strong Justiss and cornerback Ryan Wilson (5-8, 135) are the key performers in the secondary.

"The middle part of their defense is strong with the two tackles and two inside backers," Price said. "I think maybe we can attack on the outside, but we'll have to get there fast, because those other guys read well and they can get there quick."

S-E at Hart

After starting off its 1995 season with five straight wins, Hart has fallen on hard times the past two weeks.

The Longhorns must beat one of the top-ranked teams in the state Friday night to have any chance at a playoff berth out of District 3-AA.

Hart will host No. 10-ranked Springlake-Earth Friday night with kickoff set for 7:30 p.m. at Longhorn Stadium.

The Wolverines are undefeated with a 7-0 mark and have managed to annihilate four district opponents so far. They have allowed just 49 points in their seven games, and have scored 188.

Hart won its first two 3-AA games before losing to Hale Center and Lockney the last two weeks. The Longhorns desperately need a win against Springlake-Earth to stay alive in the district race.

To get that win, Hart will have to shut down an explosive pro-I offense featuring running backs Isaac Sandoval (5-11, 140) and Sky Holcomb (5-10, 175), quarterback James Williams (6-1, 170), and receivers Oscar Castillo (5-10, 155) and Chris Spenser (5-8, 150).

Williams is the main cog in the offense, and that's not just because he directs it as quarterback.

In a 32-7 win over Morton Friday, Williams rushed for 174 yards and two touchdowns, and he passed for two more TDs.

The Wolverines sport a big line, anchored by 6-2, 260-lb. John Williams, Shane Been (5-10, 170), Ray Castillo (5-10, 170), A.J. Field (5-10, 170), Benny Alvarez (5-9, 230) and Javier Sanchez (5-9, 175).

On defense, Wolverine Coach Rick Hulett likes the 5-2 with John Williams, Alvarez and Been up front with Holcomb at noseguard and Sandoval at linebacker.

The loser is all but eliminated from the playoff hunt.

"All we have to do is win this week and we're in the hunt," said Dimmitt coach Danny Chisum. "The loss to Shallowater hurt us last week, but if we can win out the worst we can do is be in some kind of tie with someone. someone than no tie at all."

The teams are at 1-1 in the conference. Friona lost two weeks ago to Shallowater, 27-17, in a controversial game. Friona had one touchdown negated by an inadvertent whistle by an official who lost sight of the ball on an inside fake. That call, like the no-call in Dimmitt's game with the Mustangs, took the wind out of the Chieftains' sails.

"Friona is real good and their kids play real well," said Chisum. "Their offense centers around their fullback, Lance Looper. We've seen videos on three of their games and he averages seven yards a carry.

"They are very deep at quarterback because of some injuries they've had. All three of them have had to play a lot, but they're, of course, healthy for

"We have to take the fullback away to be successful. If we concentrate too much on him, though, they'll run the keeper a lot. They don't pitch the ball much, and their line does a great job.

"The fullback is who makes them go, and they had better pay attention if we take the fullback away. We are going to try to do a couple of different things this week on defense to accomplish that, things we haven't done before. It's going to make it hard for them to go 80 yards, whether it's on one play or a long drive.

"We have to be consistent moving the ball this week. We didn't do a good job with either quarterback last week, and the kids weren't in sync.

AND AWAY THEY GO!—Richardson Elementary School students release their red balloons Monday afternoon as a highlight of the Red Ribbon Week anti-drug campaign. Principal Doug Setliff gave the launch signal by releasing a large clear balloon himself. Because of the cold temperature, a low-pressure system and a brisk wind, the helium-filled balloons took off on a low-flying course, and many hung up on nearby highline wires and trees. But most of them cleared the obstacles and drifted off rapidly to the southeast, with individual students' anti-drug notes attached to them. Photo by Don Nelson

Hospital board hears good news

The hospital board heard mainly good news at its October meeting Monday night.

Raye Cooke, Plains Memorial's business manager, reported that insurance clerks have been "working around the clock to get caught up" on insurance filings, and that the hospital is now providing itemized billings to patients seven days after discharge, thanks to cooperation from all hospital service depart-

"All the departments have been really good in working with us to get these charges in," she said.

Cooke also said that 600 delinquent accounts totaling $150,000 have been turned over to a collection agency.

Vikki Laxson, new interim administrator of Castro County Community Clinics, told the board that $150,000 in accounts receivable are now current, and that "I think we're going to be able to collect most of" $80,000 in accounts receivable that are 90 days or more past due.

"The more I review, I think we're going to be better off than I originally thought," Laxson said.

She added that the new Medical Center of Dimmitt, which opened last week, "looks absolutely wonderful. It's a beautiful facility and I hope the community realizes what it has here."

Chief Executive Officer Steve Goode reported that $168,000 has been spent on the clinic to date, including the original purchase $200,000 for the project.

Open house at the new clinic is scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 7 election day—from 5 to 7 p.m.

Laxson, who has been in rural health clinic administration five years, is "on loan" indefinitely from High Plains Baptist Hospital's rural health division to train local clinic staffers, key up the billing program on the new computer system and help get the clinic's administrative office operating smoothly.

The board approved the purchase of two pieces of equipment — a used fetal heart monitor for Plains Memorial for $3,200 and a carpet shampooer for $1,500.

A fetal heart monitor now at the hospital will be moved to the Medical Center of Dimmitt for regular use there, so clinic physicians won't have to send patients to the hospital for the testing.

Goode told the board that the carpet shampooer can be used at the hospital, the clinic and the home health agency building. Previously, the hospital district has contracted with a professional service to clean the carpets twice a year. Goode estimated the shampooer will pay for itself in one to two years and should last for five to seven years.

The contract to lease the Hawkins Memorial Clinic in Hart to Lubbock Methodist Hospital is in price. The board has budgeted the final stages of attorneys' negotiations, Goode reported.

> Goode noted that the lease agreement to Lubbock Methodist is for three years but the district's lease with Robert L. Hawkins on the clinic building will run out next May. He said the hospital district's attorney, Lisa Smith, has suggested extending the lease on the building to cover the contract period with Lubbock Methodist.

After an executive session, the board directed Goode to negotiate an extended lease with Hawkins.

At the suggestion of Dr. B. D. Murphy, Board President Bill Clark asked Goode to devise a way to deal with Medicaid patients who go to the hospital emergency room at night or on weekends for treatment of health problems that "aren't really emergencies." "Medicaid won't pay for it," Dr. Murphy noted, "and it ties up the front office and the nurses."

The hospital has no admissions clerk on duty from 6 p.m. to 8 a.m., Cooke said, so nurses usually have to handle such situations.

Linda Rasor, R.N., director of nursing, said, "We have 200 encounters a month in the emergency room, and I'd say 50 are urgent and the rest are clinic cases."

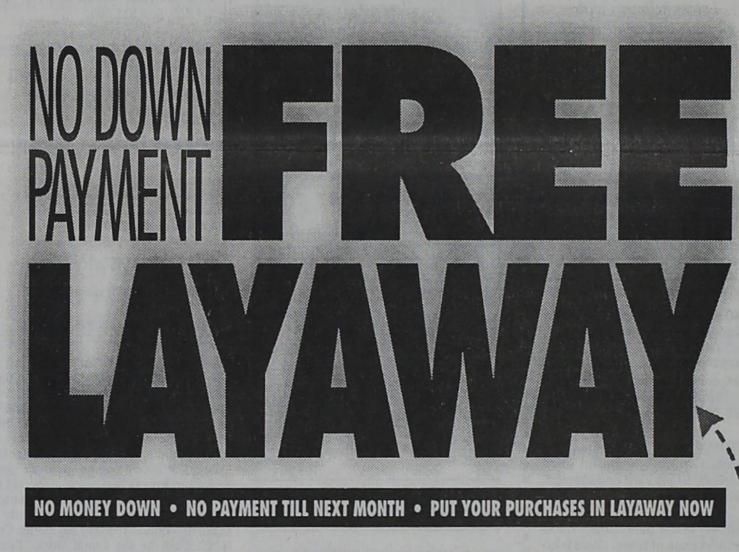

In his administrator's report, Goode also discussed probable future cuts in Medicare and Medicaid. Legislation now being considered in Congress, he said, would and its Medicare reiumbursement by $323,000 over the next seven Leasing out the Hart clinic will help, but the main cuts probably will have to come in payroll reductions, he said.

Easter Lions cancel carnival, haunted house

The Easter Lions Club won't have its Halloween carnival or haunted house this year.

Last year the club held a Halloween carnival at the Easter Lions Community Building but didn't have the haunted house. This year neither event will be held.

"We had a lot of problems this year," said a club spokesperson. "This has been a tough year for farmers, and most of our members are farmers. We're still harvesting and everything is running two or three weeks later than normal. Of course we still care about the kids, but we just didn't feel that we had the time to take it on this year."
