—Man and Woman of the Year to be honored at celebration

Chamber of Commerce banquet this Saturday

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce annual banquet is Saturday, February 3, at the Community Center, starting at 7:00 p.m.

This will be a night of good food, fun, and fellowship for the entire community.

Highlighting the evening will be the naming of the Man and Woman of the Year. Last year's winners, retired pastor Jim Hanson and Winters Enterprise editor Jean Boles, will be making the presentations.

A delicious meal of grilled chicken, wild rice, black-eyed peas, salad, cobbler, tea and coffee will be served by J.C.'s Catering. Entertainment will be provided by Classic Tradition, a barber-shop quartet from Abilene.

According to Carolyn Scarborough, Chamber Secretary, there are a few tickets still available which can be purchased at the Chamber office at 118 West Dale or by calling 754-5210, or from any Chamber director including Dale Montgomery, Gail Williams, Saam Geistmann, Jane Bourdo, Ruth Cooper, Rhonda Black, John O'Connor, Aref Hassan, or Janice Pruser.

Advanced tickets are only $10 each. Tickets at the door will be $12. Support the Chamber and enjoy a wonderful evening.

Head coach Robin Byrd going to Menard

After an eight-year record of 69-24-1 with the Blizzards, head football coach and athletic director Robin Byrd is leaving Winters to go to Menard.

"I felt like it was time to move on," said Byrd, who led Winters to the playoffs six of his last seven years. Winters is coming off its first losing season since Byrd's first year in 1993. The Blizzards finished 4-7 after a bi-district loss to Goldthwaite, but won three of five district games last season to make the playoffs as a third-place team.

Byrd sports a career record of 184-80-1 in 22 seasons as a head coach at Wink, Mabank and Palestine Westwood, and was selected from 89 applicants, according to Menard superintendent David Deaver.

When asked why he chose to go from a class 2A school to a smaller 1A school, Byrd said, "I don't coach 'A's, I coach kids." He added, "Menard has a good tradition of being in the playoffs. It's been winning; it's a good program."

Byrd, who didn't teach any classes at Winters, believes he will be teaching three classes at Menard. He says he's certified to teach social studies and says, "it's good to get back in the classroom." He will also coach track and golf.

With a population of around 1,600, Menard is located 75 miles south of Winters on Highway 83. The Yellowjackets missed the playoffs last season for the first time in ten years, and Coach Quinn Conley was reassigned after eleven seasons as head coach. Some sources said the reason for Conley's reassignment was "somewhat political," but Byrd said, "I don't worry about that. I've been fortunate in the places I've been and that hasn't happened to me. I wasn't looking because I was worried about that. That's all just part of the business."

Byrd continues, "I'm sad to leave Winters. This community has shown great support. But I'm excited to go to Menard."

The Board of Trustees of the Winters ISD is expected to accept Byrd's resignation during their regular meeting on February 12, when Byrd will officially begin his duties at Menard. His wife, Sherry, who works as a secretary at Winters Elementary, will remain in Winters and finish out the school year.

Byrd also adds, "I've enjoyed my association with the coaches here at Winters, and I wish them good luck. I'd like to see Coach Lipsey move up to my replacement."

Lipsey, who has coached at Winters since July, 1990, served as Byrd's offensive coordinator for the past eight years, and said he's "definitely interested" in the position.

Council approves $100 thousand for Community Center renovation

Also approves 180-ft. cell tower to be erected

Using a $20,000 grant, a $60,000 loan, and $20,000 worth of in-kind work, the Winters City Council approved a $100,000 renovation for the Winters Community Center.

During their regular meeting Monday night, Jan. 29, the Council discussed the renovation project and how to pay for it. The $60,000 loan is for 25 years at a 5% interest rate from the U.S. Department of Agriculture — Rural Development and either increased fees or a 1¢ tax increase will repay the loan.

Tommy Russell, Mike Meyer, and Steve Esquivel voted for the renovation. Councilman Jimmy Butler voted against the motion.

Butler stated, "I don't think we should borrow money if we don't know how we're going to pay it back."

Russell and Meyer advocated that the renovations will possibly attract more use of the Center.

Included in the renovations are $7,000 for bathroom and kitchen area, $31,500 for heating and cooling, $13,000 for a vinyl curtain to divide the Center into two areas, $6,000 for three refrigerators and three stoves, and $25,000 for front and back arch canopies with brick columns.

Mid-Tex Cellular requested that the City allow them to build a self-supporting digital cell site at the corner of Broadway and Meeks. The 180-foot tower will be located in the northeast corner of the present City Maintenance Yard.

Ray Hooker of Mid-Tex Cellular said that this should bring better reception to Winters for cell phone usage. The Councilmen gave City Manager Aref Hassan permission to negotiate a ten-year contract for a $500 per year lease with Mid-Tex Cellular. Hooker stated that once the tower arrives, it will take approximately nine weeks to construct.

Jimmy N. Butler asked to purchase the alley that runs east and west, between Lamar and Albert Streets. City Attorney Ken Slimp said that records will have to be checked to see if the alley is closed, and if not closed, an ordinance would have to be approved before being able to sell the property to any adjoining property owners. The Council agreed to pursue the request, with Councilman Butler, son of Jimmy N. Butler, abstaining.

Hassan presented copies of a municipal code which showed bank depositories to be bid at least every five years. The Council had requested that this be done every two years, and it is now time. The Council approved to let bids for bank depository.

In another not-much-discussed agenda item, the Council approved a personnel policy revision. This revision added Martin Luther King Day as a holiday for city employees. The revision also allows for Mondays and Fridays to become holidays when any holiday falls on a Tuesday or a Thursday. For example: if the 4th of July is on Tuesday, city employees will also get Monday as a holiday.

Councilman Butler also opposed this motion.

To put some finality on the Alderman-Cave water bill discussion, Water Superintendent Jack Davis, Jr. had the water meter in question tested in both Abilene and San Angelo facilities. San Angelo rated it 100% accurate, and Abilene rated it 98% accurate, which was within the limits of the American Waterworks Association. The Council moved to accept these test results as accurate.

— including Saturdays

Public Library extending hours

The Winters Public Library is adding hours to their schedule. The library will now be open on Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 12 noon in addition to their regular hours of 1p.m. - 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Carolyn Scarborough, librarian, says the library will continue to be open on Saturdays for the next few weeks to determine if there is a need in the community for these additional hours.

All facilities will be available on Saturdays. This includes access to all books, audios, videos and computers.

"Come on in and check out our new selections," said Mrs. Scarborough. "And remember, we still offer internet access to our patrons at no charge."

Egan, Conner named to Weather Modification group

Runnels County Commissioners, in a special meeting on Tuesday morning, tabled action on two agenda items having to do with the West Central Texas Weather Modification Association.

The items were tabled because of changes being made in the interlocal agreement and the by-laws of the association.

The Commissioners appointed County Judge Marilyn Egan and Randall Conner of Winters as representatives of Runnels County on the board of the West Central Texas Weather Modification Association.

During the January 30 meeting, Commissioners also approved the submission of an Emergency Shelter Grants Program application by Central Texas Opportunities, Inc. The grant application will be submitted to the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs. If approved, the grant would assist homeless people in the counties served by Central Texas Opportunities.

Oil Bidness

By Reg Boles ©2001

You may have heard by now that a super-sized oil company has attempted to swindle the State of Texas out of a lot of royalty money!

Why, even the Attorney General of Texas finds the situation dire enough that filing suit is in order.

But, wait a minute, have we heard the whole story?

Probably not.

Turns out the whole argument is over a dirt road.

It seems that in a large oil field here in Texas straddles a state right-of-way that became a dirt road and then a paved one. The state claims that royalties are owed for the length (and width) of the road through the oil field.

The oil company claims that the right-of-way existed when the lease was signed and that no royalty was payable on the mineral rights under the road by contract.

The state has summed up the total production from the field and allocated it to the mineral acreage under the road. The total royalty that would be payable under such an arrangement would be tens of millions of dollars. The suit filed by the Secretary of State is to recover that amount plus interest.

It is helpful to consider how these situations are typically handled in the oil field. Some history is in order, first.

The United States is the only country in the world where mineral rights can be privately owned. But, there are certain properties where the mineral rights are held by public agencies, organizations, and governments themselves.

A right-of-way is an example where a government may own the mineral rights. Sometimes, those rights-of-way become roads. But, the minerals owned under the roads are not always paid a royalty. In fact, they can be waived by the government in question, or there can be common law applications that preclude payment. (Common law says that someone who does not claim their rights to something that is publically being possessed by another may lose their rights to that something.)

The oil company claims that several of the above apply. They say the state waived their rights, and, even if they didn't, non-payment of royalty has been going on too long in broad daylight (common law application) to only now claim damages.

As you can see, it is a legal dispute that will be settled in court.

As you can also probably see, it is not a simple case of a big bad oil company trying to get away with something. There are in fact two sides to this story, both having some merit.

We will keep you updated on developments surrounding this case. We haven't even touched on why these types of suits are just now being brought, but suffice it to say that, given a little time, an idle attorney can create some fee-paying work for themselves if they put their mind to it.

From The Well

By Pastor Jim Hanson

Pastor Jim Hanson

I'm thinking of you. I do, often. Every week. Before I write the column. And during it. I try to picture you in my mind...those of you whom I know, and, those whom I don't. I try to think of things that might start a conversation with me. Even if we don't ever talk about it. You might think about it. And that's enough thanks for me.

But, the reason I am writing this column is because of a book I bought not too long ago. It's written by a friend of mine, who is now pushing 80 years old. But his spirit is ever young. He has pastored, taught at Seminary, led countless retreats and workshops, taken thousands of people on tours to Germany, the Holy Land, the Orient... you name it. The title of the book, however, has nothing to do with any of the above. Rather it is a series of letters. And the title is "I'm Thinking of You."

The book was conceived long before Herb wrote it. In 1983, while returning from a trip to Japan and China traveling on a 13-hour flight and very much concerned about a heart problem, he found in the group travel escort by the name of Barbara...a guardian angel. As she ministered to him, he wondered, "Who gave this woman such a compassionate spirit? Who are this woman's parents?" Twelve years later, he wrote the letters to Barbara's mother, Bonnie.

In that period of time, Herb had heart surgery and an operation for prostate cancer. More than that he experienced the life-giving support of family and friends, a doctor who told him of the healing power of enzymes, joy, and laughter...and drew pictures of healing, calling attention to each step in his recovery. His well became filled with healing images, the healing power of touch and prayer, and above all else, the abiding presence of a loving God.

So, when he heard that Barbara's mother Bonnie had had the same kind of surgery as he, and that she was not healing quickly...he remembered. The flight. The person who had stayed with him every second of the way. And, "Who are her parents? Who gave her such a spirit? And, in a moment of deep Holy Spirit power, force, and love, he made a commitment to write Bonnie 12 letters, one a day. To pass on to Bonnie what her daughter had done for him. Each letter was a healing for her. And each letter was a healing for him.

I'd love to include several of them in this column. But, there isn't room. So I'll just include most of one. This time. And its title is "Prescription for Laughter."

"Thank you for reminding me of our last time together. I forgot how much we laughed until you mentioned the fun. And fun is medicine.

"Today I had a checkup. My doctor and I talk when I have my checkups. Today he told me about a natural medicine deep inside the brain. Before I was born, while I was growing inside my mother, the medicine formed as enzymes in my brain. Enzymes can flood the bloodstream, flow to nerve endings, heal body cells. The key is the thoughts and words we choose.

"The medicine is always present. We can release it with a hearty laugh, a song, a smile, a glad thought, by whistling or humming a favorite tune. Joy sets the medicine flowing. Within seconds, healing pours through the body. Everyone has access to this personal medicine.

"Do you watch the news with amazement, as I do, seeing poor and starving children smile when given the smallest portion of food? Suddenly they are laughing and playing, their faces transformed by their joy. They giggle to get well.

"So it is with you and me today. We laugh, and the medicine cabinet opens inside. Today I prescribe for you and me: have a good laugh, do something joyful. Have fun. Hear a joke. Listen to a song. Hum. Smile. I believe I'm alive because of all the laughter enzymes so often released in me.

"When I was five, I crawled out on the limb of a mulberry tree to get the ripest berries. I discovered I couldn't get down on my own. The fire department came to my rescue. The whole town came out to cheer me down. That was my first time out on a limb.

"You were born with the gift of laughter. The 'ha-ha' in you is older and stronger than the 'oh-oh.' Have fun."

Thank you, Herb. For thinking of Bonnie. And thinking of us. And causing us to think of the gift of laughter. And the God who gives us "tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people."

BISHOP MICHAEL PFEIFER, O.M.I. (center right), of the Catholic Diocese of San Angelo, and REVEREND DR. OBIOMA DESMOND OBI (center left), of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church in Winters, met with the church's congregation to discuss the development of a parish mission statement and the development of goals and activities to carry out the parish mission. This was Bishop Pfeifer's first visit in Winters with Father Obi.

Bishop Michael Pfeifer visits Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church

by Mike Kozelsky, Parish Press Secretary

Bishop Michael Pfeifer, O.M.I. of the Catholic Diocese of San Angelo, visited Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church in Winters on Sunday, January 14, 2001. The visit was his first since the arrival of the church's new pastor, the Reverend Dr. Obioma Desmond Obi. Bishop Pfeifer and Father Obi concelebrated the 9:00 a.m. mass.

During his homily, the Bishop congratulated the parish on its accomplishments and encouraged the parish to pray and work for more vocations to religious life. He discussed the long standing shortage of priests and other religious in the church, in general, and in West Texas, in particular. He commented that the presence of "international" priests, such as Father Obi, has been a blessing to the diocese of San Angelo, and he thanked Father Obi for his service. He also commented that the long-term solution is an increase in the number of vocations among Catholics of this diocese.

Following mass, the congregation gathered for a group picture with the Bishop on the lawn of the church. Refreshments were served in the parish hall, followed by a meeting with the Bishop and the Pastoral and Finance Councils, and the Youth Group.

The main message of this meeting was the development of a parish mission statement and the development of goals and activities to carry out the parish mission. The Bishop encouraged the establishment of an "Agenda for Jesus" in Mount Carmel Parish and asked that each person present answer the question, "What does Jesus ask you to do?"

The Catholic community of Our Lady of Mount Carmel of Winters, and Father Obi wish to express their warm gratitude to Bishop Pfeifer whose pastoral visit was an inspiration. He is wished well in his pastoral and administrative duties in the diocese.

Chamber Memo

Classic Tradition, a barbershop quartet from Abilene, will be the entertainment at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet this Saturday, February 3, at the Winters Community Center.

The banquet will start at 7:00 p.m. and will be a night of good food, fun and fellowship for our community. The meal will be grilled chicken, wild rice, black-eye peas, salad, cobbler, tea and coffee.

Advanced tickets are only $10 each and can be purchased from the Chamber or any director, or at the door for $12.

Congratulations goes to Winters Flower Shop and More for being named the new Business of the Quarter.

We also welcome a new chamber member, Flutter Farm Butterflies, owned by Doddie Drake. She has butterflies for release at weddings and special events. You can visit her web site at www.butterflyoccasion.com.

Circus is coming to Winters

Yes, it's circus time! The American All-Star Circus will be appearing in Winters on Sunday, February 4, at the Winters Community Center at 1:30 and 4:00 p.m. Doors open one hour before showtime.

This show features spectacular acts from around the globe — Italy, England, Spain, and, of course, the great USA.

Children 12 and under are always free, with tickets available at local merchants. Adults are $7 at the door.

There will be something for everyone — a show for children of all ages.

The shortest living twins stand 34 inches tall.

INTRODUCING an Old Friend

On January 1, 2001, four of Texas' most respected agricultural lenders,

First Ag Credit FLBA, Ag Credit of Texas PCA,

Wichita Falls PCA and El Campo PCA joined forces to create

First Ag Credit, Farm Credit Services.

For years, the Land Bank has served the real estate borrowing needs of rural Texans, while PCA has provided production and equipment financing. At First Ag Credit, we believe you deserve a convenient full-service Farm Credit lender. Secure, strong and able to meet the changing financial needs of rural America. That's why we are combining our resources to provide you with the most competitive short- and long-term lending products available.

First Ag Credit. Our name is changing, and our financial services are expanding. But you can count on the same friendly, knowledgeable staff in the same convenient Land Bank and PCA locations that rural Texans have depended on for generations.

First Ag Credit. First in the Field.

Coach's Comments: For 3 quarters I thought it was going to be like the last game—real close. But the 4th quarter we were fresher and the pressure defense started to take its toll on the Bearcats. For the fans who are seeing more turnovers—it is true. But we are pushing the ball harder and pressing more, so it will make us a better team.

Happy Valley millionaires still the same people

by Deb Pritchard, assistant editor

Many local folks remember the significance of Super Bowl weekend a year ago—some better than others! And since that weekend, some folks around these parts don't have to watch and dream about "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire"—because they are millionaires!

Exactly one year ago Sunday, the Publisher's Clearing House Prize Patrol knocked on Ginny Jackson's door, backed by glaring lights and cameras, and handed her a poster sized check for $21 million, a dozen long stemmed roses, and a balloon bouquet, all in Happy Valley, Texas.

This Super Bowl, Ginny and her husband Calvin, better known in these parts as Cheesy, hosted a "small" gathering of friends and family to watch the game and enjoy a fish fry in celebration of last year's event.

Yes, it was all real last year...and yes, she did receive the $1 million installment she was promised for the first year. And yes, she will receive $525,000 every year for the next 30 years. And yes, she will receive a $7+ million balloon payment at the end of 30 years.

Ginny, a homemaker, and Cheesy, a concrete contractor, say, and I have to agree, they are the same people they were a year ago. Though Cheesy does admit, "you don't have a choice—everything changes...financing, taxes, lawyers, financial advisors...because if you don't...," he shrugs.

On the other hand, Ginny says, "You get a better attitude—a better outlook on life. You've got more freedom and less stress." She did say Cheesy has developed a new stress since he is the one in charge of the finances, and the headache that goes with it. "I just do the best I can," he said, "and bear it. There's a lot of paperwork involved...people just don't realize."

One stress in his life that has been eliminated though is his concrete business. "I gave it to my foreman," said Jackson. "Do I miss it?" he repeats the question with a hearty laugh. "No, I don't miss it and I sure don't miss Mondays and Fridays. Mondays because you never knew who was gonna show up (to work) and Fridays because I had to write the checks. I don't miss having to go to (San) Angelo every day." "And working 12 hours every day," adds Ginny.

Ginny has learned to enjoy long bubble baths in addition to watching "Days of our Lives", and going to hockey games. However she admits she hasn't gotten used to Cheesy not working—being home all day long. "He's on the phone all the time. He's not settled down into retirement life. He hasn't learned how to relax yet...and I'm a lot more relaxed." She does point out though that Jackson "doesn't complain quite as much."

They both agree that the first two months of their new-found wealth was a constant request for money. "Some real wackos came out of the woodwork," said Ginny. "They were weird in their expressions—and I was called a few names I wouldn't repeat!"

Cheesy tells of a letter they received sent in care of the Wingate Baptist Church. "These two sisters were in bad shape (health-wise) and wanted us to send them $50,000 for one and $20,000 for the other. Then they'd take out a loan and pay us back. The only problem was, we got the same letter from another address in Nevada."

Ginny laughs and shakes her head when she recalls the woman who contacted them from Florida. "She said she knew she was supposed to win the prize though she was out of town on vacation during that (Super Bowl) week and they (the Prize Patrol) couldn't find her. So she said we should send her 1/2 the money because it should be hers!"

A real estate broker wanted to sell their land so they could move to a "more secluded place." Like a wooded homestead in Happy Valley—West Texas—USA isn't secluded! "We heard from every Edward D. Jones broker in Texas and one from Tennessee—wanting to manage our money," said Cheesy.

Ginny is quick to acknowledge that they have had some legit requests from churches, an orphanage in Abilene, even an animal shelter in El Paso. They have shared some of their windfall with the church (Ginny is a member of Holy Family Catholic Church in Abilene), missions, and various charities.

As would be expected, they have enjoyed some luxuries of their own. Remodeling of their home, which was already planned before the multimillion dollar giveaway, "just grew and got bigger." It has been completed including a basement, great room, multipurpose utility room, den/office, and a three car garage.

Plans have been drawn up for a house "on the coast" where Cheesy enjoys deep sea fishing and Ginny just likes to get away and walk near the ocean. Cheesy recently returned from a fishing expedition in Venezuela. He has purchased a shallow water boat to enhance his fishing expeditions.

Ginny also received a Lincoln Navigator as part of her prize package, which she and Cheesy drove to Manitoba, Canada in August—their first trip together since they've been married. Gone nearly three weeks, the trip there took about four days before reaching their destination—the home of Scott Chartier, a former semi-pro hockey player for the San Angelo Outlaws. "We went fishing," said Cheesy.

"He was a real gracious host. I figured he was just a jock that didn't know anything but sports—but he was a real nice person." "With a beautiful little house on the Lake of the Prairies," added Ginny.

The couple then took about two weeks to return home, traveling through the Dakotas, Wyoming, Utah, and Colorado where they visited Ginny's sister in Colorado Springs. "We went to the Olympic training center which was just fantastic," said Ginny. Cheesy really enjoyed a visit to the Air Force Academy.

Still wearing his trademark suspenders, Jackson is noticeably without the gap in his front teeth, but still sports the thick, black rimmed glasses he's had to wear since the third grade. But...he hopes that may not be the case in a few weeks.

According to plans, he was scheduled to undergo Lasik® surgery, "a type of clear lens transplant" on his left eye yesterday. If all goes well, he will have the right eye done within a month. "Then I hope I can throw these <#@%*> (glasses) away," he chuckles.

Both of the Jacksons say they'd like to pay for the eye surgery to be done on both of their daughters, Sara and Jana, who seem to have inherited Cheesy's bad eyes.

As for the girls, both are employed following college educations. Sara (who is married to Chuck Patterson) is a Nurse Practitioner in Boerne. The Jacksons say neither of Sara's bosses even know her parents are millionaires.

Jana received her degree from Angelo State University in December and works at a kennel in San Angelo grooming dogs. Jana's friends want to know "if she's gotten her money yet, and how much does she get?"

While the girls will not want for anything in the future, right now says Ginny, "They're not going to be free to not have to earn their own keep. They need to learn to be independent."

The Jacksons would like to go back to Canada and Ginny wants to travel to the states she's never been to before. And they still haven't taken the trip to New York City yet, compliments of Publisher's Clearing House.

People recognize who they are now, and Ginny still gets congratulated, a year later. "You don't get put on hold as much," said Ginny, "and people are a lot more friendly."

All in all, the new millionaire status has been good for the Jacksons. "It's nice to drive down the road without having to call ahead for reservations at a motel...you don't have to ask how much the room costs—because it doesn't matter," said Cheesy. Ginny adds, "If you see something you like—you can have it."

So while these Happy Valley residents can give meaning to their town's name, life will continue as it has been for the Jacksons. Though they can live "high on the hog", they still seem to prefer to "feed at the same trough" as the rest of us West Texans.

Friendze Stores to help Abilene teacher's wife

Not only is Crockett Elementary teacher Darrell Martin confronted with a change in his present employment, but his wife is needing a stem cell transplant. Receiving the transplant is the only hope that remains for her to live.

Martin has already experienced the loss of one wife to cancer. Besides helping his wife Maryanne face the surgery, they are confronted with the fact that the insurance he has with the Abilene school district will not cover this procedure.

Highland Church of Christ in Abilene has taken the lead to raise $115,000 for her as the hospital requires the payment up-front. Many of the members are planning suppers, garage sales and numerous other benefits to help secure the funds.

Friendze Stores, Inc. of Abilene will also participate by donating a full 15% of all sales on Saturday, February 3, 2001, toward the Maryanne Martin Fund.

Friendze store owner Homer H. Hillis stated that even though he had contributed to the fund personally through Highland Church of Christ, he is "really excited about the Friendze store helping the Martin family and knows the Abilene and surrounding communities will want to participate, also."

Depression seminar Sunday at First Methodist Church

A seminar, "Adventure into Depression," will be held at the First United Methodist Church on Sunday, February 4, from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the fellowship hall. Tony Campbell and the Depression Challenge Team of Fort Worth will be leading the seminar.

According to Don Roath, FUMC pastor, through the outreach of educational seminars in churches of all denominations, the Depression Challenge Team:

- helps people develop an understanding of depression and related conditions,
- helps people who are experiencing depression and related conditions to understand themselves,
- equips family members and friends with knowledge to be understanding,
- identifies the resources that are available to help,
- is available to assist people in getting the help they need and want,

• assists churches as they develop ongoing programs regarding mental health issues.

Tony Campbell, as an adult, was diagnosed with manic depression and anxiety and panic disorders. Mr. Campbell's life has been an uphill struggle, but he says he wishes to ease the pain for those who suffer as he did, and give hope to all those involved—family members, caretakers and sufferers. Mr. Campbell says that he is coming to the church in Winters because "we need to deal with this instead of living in seclusion."

The public is invited to attend this important seminar on Sunday, February 4, at 2:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church. There is no charge for the seminar; however, a love offering will be taken. For more information, call 754-5213.

Medicare information now more accessible

People over the age of 50 may be the fastest growing population on the Internet, and they are increasingly using Internet resources to search for information on such vital issues as health care.

A new survey shows that Internet access among people with Medicare, who are 65 and older, has skyrocketed from 6.8 percent in 1997 to 21.3 percent in 1999.

One website that averages seven million hits per month for health care information is the new and expanded Medicare website at <www.medicare.gov>.

The award-winning website now includes more features and information tailored to meet the needs of the growing number of older online users, as well as family members and friends who help them make their health care decisions.

The new technologies being used at <www.medicare.gov> will load faster for people who use their telephone lines for access, helping them move quickly through the site.

ing, the dedication of the new pavilion at Belle Plaine Cemetery as the Cemetery Association President, a successful year as Squadron Leader for the Big Country Squadron/CAF, and seeing the second story structure of the new house fit perfectly when the crane set it in place. (They said it couldn't be done!)

Highlights for Nancy included expanding her writing markets worldwide, continuing her travels and motivational speaking at schools and conferences, surviving the drought and packing to move. (Follow her on the path to the bath in the garage during "The Great Motor Home Camping Adventure" at her new website, <http://NancyRobinsonMasters.com>.)

We also had grief, disappointments, and loss. We rejoice that the peace, power, and presence of God filled our hearts even in difficult times. One of the most difficult maneuvers for an F/18 Super Hornet pilot to perform takes place one second before being blasted off the deck of an aircraft carrier. The pilot has to lift both hands up and totally let go. Any attempt to take hold of the controls during takeoff will result in immediate disaster. It requires an act of total trust in those in charge of the power to make a takeoff. We're blasting off in 2001, letting go in total trust of the One who is in control.

Richard Sealy Bryan & Cassie Ann Huckaby

Huckaby and Bryan announce engagement, December wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Huckaby of Beeville and Mr. and Mrs. Sealy Bryan of Winters are pleased to announce the engagement of their children, Cassie Ann Huckaby and Richard Sealy Bryan.

Cassie is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Walker of Wingate and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huckaby of Winters.

Richard is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bryan of Norton and the late Mr. and Mrs. Grady Kennedy of Ballinger.

The bride-elect is a 1999 graduate of A.C. Jones High School and is currently attending Angelo State University pursuing a degree in Registered Nursing.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1997 graduate of Texas Tech University and is currently employed as a graduate mechanical engineer at CADCO Architects/Engineers, Inc. of Abilene.

The couple will be married December 15, 2001, at the Church of Christ in Ballinger.

Letter to the Editor

City manager lauds Associated Beef feedlot

April 1, 2001, will be my ninth anniversary of calling Winters my home, and the people of Winters my only family left for me.

I am pretty sure most of you know now that this family member was born and raised in Afghanistan. Yes, I was born and raised in Chardy (in English it means "four villages"), a fertile valley along the bank of the Kabul River.

From the time I can remember, we had all kinds of animals on our farm. Seeing good animals, animal pictures and reading good stories about animals always makes me feel good.

In the January 25, 2001, issue of the The Winters Enterprise I noticed the pictures of many happy kids with their well-fed and well-groomed animals. I enjoyed the pictures. Job well done, Enterprise!

Looking at these pictures brought back a lot of my childhood memories. In one section of the paper I noticed a half-page ad for Associated Beef City (ABC) feedlot in Winters. In the ad I read that ABC has a 25,000 head yard capacity, first class feeding operation, all new construction, and excellent facilities.

I have been there several times and have visited with Bill Morgan, manager, and Teelee Vinson, office manager. I have invited them to come to the city hall and have a cup of coffee with me. I have also asked them to join us at the Industrial Corporation, Chamber of Commerce, and Lions Club.

I am a professional of my field and I know where our potentials are. ABC has a great potential for our economy. I have preached this to our elected officials, Industrial Corporation, Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club. Being a former farmer, I consider our local businesses to be like our milk cow. There is not a single cow to milk in ABC feed lot, but surely they drink a lot of water.

Let us keep praying for a five-inch rain to come in intervals to fill our lakes but does not flood our town. Can you imagine how much our economy will grow if ABC operates in its full capacity? I know one thing for sure — that the city will sell a lot of water to them.

Therefore, anything my elected officials, the city employees, our civic organizations, our businesses, the community as a whole, The Winters Enterprise, and I can do to accommodate and promote ABC feedlot in Winters, they deserve it. I hope we do not hesitate doing so, as long as it is within our ability, legal jurisdiction, and for the best interest of our community.

PEOPLE WHO READ NEWSPAPERS ARE

BETTER AND MORE EFFECTIVE PARENTS

Santa was late for a friend of mine, but who cares when he brings a new home. Longtime friend and writer, Nancy Robinson Masters, and her husband Bill sent this Christmas newsletter I'd like to share.

HO! HO! HOME! Santa brought Bill and Nancy a new address for the new year.

Of course, Santa forgot the roof, but hey—not everyone gets a White Christmas in their living room. Which means we'll be living in a motor home at the new address beginning January 20 while we wait for either Rudolph or the roofer to get us in the dry. (Bill says to think of it as wintering over at Padre Island without the Island.) Please change your address records so we won't miss anything you send. (A load of sheetrock would be nice.) Our phone numbers are not supposed to change since the new location is less than a mile from the old. (If those numbers don't work, try BR-549.)

How does the Masters Menagerie feel about moving? Check out their comments, along with a few "highlights" from our year just past:

— Ms. Lampasas, Ms. Dublin, Mr. Oreo Bull, and the Bullbabies: "Longhorns never say good-bye. We're just moooooooving on."

— Streak (Flop) Dog: "Load up in the truck, load up in the truck."

— Deaf (Guard) Dog: "ZZZZZZ"

— Pup (I Don't Want to Move) Dog: "Roooooof! Roooooof!"

— Old Ms. Madam (Sausage) Cat: "Shut up and feed me."

— Mr. Cleveland (Plays With Socks) Cat: "You expect me to do WHAT in a box till I adjust?"

— Little Girl (Calico) Cat: "Mouse! Mouse!"

— Mr. (12) Pound Cat: "Don't bother me. I'm ignoring you."

God was so good to us this past year we have to pinch ourselves sometimes to believe it! Highlights for Bill included traveling to Tucson where he completed his lighter-than-air balloon pilot rat-

Former Winters resident now serving at earthquake site in India

Although the devastating earthquake in India is thousands of miles from Winters, Texas, one former resident is in the core of the disaster.

Aaron Foster, 28, son of Earl and Susie Foster of Winters, arrived in Ahmedabad, India, Saturday, January 27, as part of Rescue Net, a division of Youth With a Mission, based out of Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Rescue Net is a faith operated, Christian-based, rapid-deployment training organization which teaches workers how to rescue victims of natural disasters. The group does assessment work and coordinates rescue efforts through all available local agencies in the area needing help.

Via e-mail to his dad, Aaron said that in many disaster situations, some casualties occur because of lack of training by would-be rescuers who die from gas leaks, flooding or electrical shocks.

The younger Foster also said that his organization places great emphasis on providing a safe and secure place for orphans in disaster areas. Foster said that, particularly in Europe, the mafia will quickly gather young girls to sell into prostitution and slavery.

Aaron is currently living on the streets in India and told his father that financial assistance is desperately needed, especially for medical supplies. Anyone wishing to help can send their donations to:

Christ's Church of Abilene, where Earl and Susie are members, helps sponsor their son in his missionary endeavors.

Aaron, an Emergency Medical Technician who plans to continue training to become a paramedic, has been a missionary for the past ten years, including service in Rwanda, Belize, Mexico, Romania, Norway, Sweden, Kenya, Haiti, Uganda and Singapore.

He and his wife, Stella, have two sons, Elijah and Ethan.

First Ag Credit approves $14.7 million cash distribution

The board of directors of First Ag Credit, Farm Credit Services, recently approved a $14.7 million capital and cash patronage dividend to its members. Approximately $9.9 million was in the form of stock retirement effective Dec. 1, 2000, and the remaining $4.8 million in cash patronage will be paid in early 2001. Stock refunds will be applied automatically to outstanding loan balances or placed in funds held accounts.

"The capital strength of the association built through the hard work and performance of our members and their loans allows for this reduction while still maintaining the necessary capital to provide for the organization's continued growth and stability," said Terry Dane, the association's chief executive officers.

The agricultural lender provided the stock refund by lowering the amount of stock that borrowers purchase when they obtain their loans. The directors voted to lower the stock requirement to the lesser of 2 percent or $1,000 of the original loan balance. This stock rate is the lowest allowed by law.

The refund is one benefit the stockholder-approved merger between First Ag Credit, FLCA; Ag Credit of Texas PCA; Wichita Falls PCA; and El Campo PCA/ This consolidation was effective January 1, 2001.

The lowered stock requirement will apply to members of First Ag Credit, FLCA; Wichita Falls PCA; and El Campo PCA. Members of Ag Credit of Texas, PCA, previously had their stock rate lowered to the minimum amount.

Crews News

By Hilda Kurtz

Any lady who knows everything should be told a thing or two.

Bro. Roy and Mrs. Epperson of Ballinger gave the Hopewell Baptist Church services on Sunday, while Bro. Ferris Akins and wife Ramona of Ballinger were on vacation.

Juanita Shields had her belated Christmas dinner in her home on Tuesday night with 18 present. Her brother-in-law, Jack Shields of Aztec, New Mexico, died and was buried on the 29th in New Mexico.

Joe and Betty Pierce were in Tyler during last where they attended the funeral of brother-in-law, Lavada Little. Joe's sister of Houston passed away on Monday, and was buried in Brownwood during the week.

We welcome Joe Riley Sims to our community as of this week. He lives in Mrs. Carolyn Webb's home across the highway from Margie Jacob.

Abe and Pat Giles of Brownwood spent Sunday with Leona and Roy Matthis.

Melvina Gerhart came by for a little visit on Monday.

Tiffany Prater and Eileen Cartwright carried Noble Faubion to his doctor's appointment in San Angelo on Wednesday. Visiting Noble and Harvey Mae during the week were Bernie and Jeff McCoy of Shreveport, Louisiana and Brenda Tyree of Ballinger.

Vivian Brevard's graveside services were held on the 25th at the Glen Cove Cemetery. Our sympathy goes to her family.

Melvina and Marvin Gerhart went in to Winters and watched grandsons Bryant and Braden Mikeska play basketball on Saturday.

Connie Gibbs was admitted to the Senior Citizens Nursing Home in Winters last Tuesday. He is in room 124 and would enjoy cards and letters. Visiting Georgia on Saturday were Lynda and Travis Ford of Rising Star, Doris Wood, Shane Holden, and Amy Ford of Temple.

Reports from out here on the rain are 6 tenths, 7 tenths, 8 tenths, etc.

Adeline, Katherine, and Luke Grissom enjoyed eating out for a change on Friday evening.

Daughter Hildegard of San Angelo was in Winters on Tuesday to take care of some business and do some shopping. We went out to the cemetery and took up the Christmas flowers and placed new on four graves. After enjoying pizza it was time to head home.

The Crews community potluck dinner will be Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Come one...come all!

Dale and Linda Duggan had a nice visit with Jeff and Bernie McCoy in Abilene this past week. On Monday, Linda Duggan and Becky Brown had supper with Chauncey and Susan Mansell.

Two weeks ago I failed to get a page of news in. I found it on my table and that was when Ruth Pape of Mexico was here visiting friends and spent the day with me. I'm sorry Ruth...guess you missed seeing this in your Enterprise.

Municipal judge accepts community service in lieu of court fines

Anyone wishing to perform community service in lieu of a fine in the Winters Municipal Court should contact Judge Virginia Parr at City Hall.

Permission must be obtained from the judge before work is done. Those who have already received permission, have three months from the assigned date to complete the community service.

Community service may be done at Elm Creek Reservoir (Winters Lake) any afternoon or weekend. For more information on this project, call 723-2081.

Community service for any non-profit organization which allows this type of work is also acceptable, with the judge's approval.

EMERGENCY HELP FROM THE FOOD PANTRY AND CLOTHES CLOSET

For help with food and clothes, the Winters Outreach Center is open from 4:30-7:30 p.m. on Mondays, and from 9:00 a.m.-noon on Wednesdays and Fridays. To apply for assistance, Maudella Reeves is in the Center from 9:00-11:00 a.m. Monday through Friday.

ATTENTION COX COMMUNICATIONS SUBSCRIBERS IN WINTERS

Due to increasing vendor and programming costs, we will be making adjustments to the Limited Basic and Expanded Basic prices. Beginning with the March 2001 cable bills, the following monthly service prices will be in effect: Limited Basic service will change from $10.90 to $11.45 per month. Expanded Basic Service will increase from $14.60 to $15.33 per month. All prices quoted without franchise fees and/or sales tax. Inquiries concerning these changes or any other cable-related issue can be made at the Cox Communications office, 28 West Concho Avenue, San Angelo, or by calling 655-8911. 12-5(3tc)

Police Beat

The information below is taken from reports on file with the Winters Police Department. Some of the information is provided to police by citizens, and in some cases, police have not finished investigating the reports. These reports make up a small percentage of the total calls the Department receives and responds to each week.

Winters Police Department reports received and/or investigated from Sunday, January 21, 2001, through Saturday, January 27, 2001. Winters Police Officers:

- stopped a 1995 Ford passenger car for several traffic violations on S. Main Street. A total of five male occupants were found to be in possession and consuming alcoholic beverages. The males ranged in ages from 14 to 18 years. The driver of the vehicle, a 16-year-old from San Angelo, was issued a citation for driving under the influence of alcohol (a detectable amount). All juvenile passengers were issued citations for minor in possession of alcohol and released into an adult's custody. One 18-year-old, Felix Ponce of San Angelo, was arrested for minor in possession of alcohol and taken to Runnels County Jail.
- received a report of a disturbance in the 500 block of W. Parsonage Street. A 19-year-old female of Winters and a 26-year-old male of Winters alleged assaulting each other. The male showed an injury to his face and claimed he was defending himself against the female. The female stated she did strike the male only after he attacked her. Conflicting stories and a witness for the male who refuted the male's claim of self-defense led to the arrest of both parties. Martha Perkins and Richard Ochoa were taken to Runnels County Jail and charged with assault causing bodily injury.
- observed a 1978 Chevy pickup commit several traffic violations on N. Main Street. The pickup was stopped in the 100 block of N. Grant Street. An odor of alcohol was detected on the driver. The driver was offered and subsequently failed several field sobriety tasks. Anthony Diaz of Winters was taken to Runnels County Jail and booked for Class A driving while intoxicated.
- received a report of an accident in the 600 block of E. Truett Street. A 1998 Dodge passenger car driven by Dedrick Lockridge of Winters collided with a 1976 Chevy passenger car which was parked at the time of the accident. Both vehicles sustained severe damage, and Mr. Lockridge received minor injuries to his face. A strong odor of alcohol was detected on Mr. Lockridge who was offered and subsequently failed several field sobriety tasks. He was taken to Runnels County Jail and booked for driving while intoxicated Class B. Mr. Lockridge's blood alcohol content was nearly three times the legal limit.
- received a report of burglary in the 300 block of S. Cryer Street. A female of Winters reported that between the hours of 9:00 p.m. Monday and 5:40 a.m. Tuesday person(s) unknown had broken out her car window and taken an undetermined amount of money from her purse. Evidence was found at the scene, and this case is under investigation as burglary of a motor vehicle.
- stopped a 1982 Ford pickup on Roberts Street for several traffic violations. An odor of alcohol was detected on the driver who was offered and passed the field sobriety tasks. The driver, a 44-year-old male of Talpa, was released after a license check revealed the male's driver's license suspended for a previous D.W.I. Charges are pending against the male for driving while license suspended.
- stopped a 1999 Pontiac passenger car after observing it skid through a stop sign nearly striking a patrol car. An odor of alcohol was detected on the driver who exhibited signs of intoxication through slurred incoherent speech and slow deliberate movements. The driver was offered and subsequently failed several field sobriety tasks. Fred Poe of Winters was arrested for driving while intoxicated and taken to Runnels County Jail where he provided a blood alcohol specimen over the legal limit.
- received a report of a man with a gun in the 500 block of Wood Street. The alleged suspect was located on Farrar Street and taken into custody. No gun of any type was located, but an odor of alcohol was detected on the driver who was offered and subsequently failed several field sobriety tasks. The driver, Howard Ronald Holt of Winters, was arrested for driving while intoxicated and taken to Runnels County Jail.

Parr and Gibbs keep current by attending court clerk conferences

Judge Virginia Parr, city court clerk, and deputy court clerk Saffron Gibbs have been attending court clerk conferences the past six months as required by the State of Texas.

Both Parr and Gibbs are certified court clerks, level 1. They attended a conference and classes in Richardson in October. The clerks received information and training related to economics, wellness, court procedures, managing intergenerational differences, juvenile law, and drug laws.

They attended an association meeting on January 24, in Odessa. The two were assigned to the nominations committee which prepares and mails nomination forms and prepares ballots for all current members in reference to the board's officer elections.

The clerk association meetings are held five times a year, in addition to an annual conference. This is a legislative year so Parr and Gibbs will attend the meetings to keep up with new or revised laws

Stewards of the Soil

By B.D. Davis
Biologist/Land Manager

First line of defense

by B.D. Davis, biologist/land manager

Terraces are the first line of defense against soil erosion in Runnels County. Few producers are fortunate enough to farm fields flat enough that terraces are not required to stem the tide of top soil loss.

Make it a point to look at cropland fields the next time you are driving around. Chances are the fields you see without terraces need them. Observe also how the fields handle water immediately after a good rain. Water from unterraced fields accumulates rapidly and rushes out of the fields unchecked — taking some of our nutrients and rich topsoil with it.

Two lakes near Winters and at least one near Ballinger are now rendered almost useless due to our topsoil washing downstream. Expensive new reservoirs are continually being considered. Some folks think this process of filling up lakes with "silt" is unavoidable. Not so.

Good soil and water stewardship can avoid most of these soil losses and extend the life of lakes. Bare and unprotected soil washes while protected soil does not — it is just that simple. Terraces are not the total answer, but they truly are our "first line of defense."

Terraces either hold the water where it falls or releases the excess in a controlled manner. A well-designed terrace system built to specifications does this job very well. Look around at the various terrace systems. Notice that very few of the terraces are "up to specs" so to speak.

Most of our terraces are worked down by continual plowing. Some are worked down to the extent that they are barely noticeable. Some are totally plowed out and no longer exist. Next time you see a field with an adequate terrace system take a little time to pat this guy on the back and tell him he is doing a good job.

The main drawback to terraces is they cost money both to build and to maintain. They are a pain to work with big tractors and big equipment. They are also a pain to work with little tractors and little equipment.

All of us need to realize the person who does a good job on a terrace system is truly a good steward and he (or she) cares for the land. He does not tolerate the loss of his topsoil and is willing to do this necessary measure to protect it. In short, he puts taking care of his land first and chasing the dollar second.

For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills. Deuteronomy 8:7

by B.D. Davis, biologist/land manager

The following includes notes about bobwhite quail published by the Bollenbach Chair, Oklahoma State University, and from other sources.

Brush

The encroachment of cedar in Oklahoma each year claims 284,000 acres of native plant communities favorable to bobwhites. Stretching an assumption indicates this brush area enlargement represents the loss of up to 5,680 coveys each year. While some types of brush and associations of brush are essential to maintaining quail life requirements, solid stands of cedar offer little. This is easily considered as much a problem in Texas as in Oklahoma.

Heat

From a bobwhite's perspective, grazing that scalps the soil of vegetation creates hell on earth. Ground temperatures on overgrazed range reach an average value of 150 to 155 degrees F in the mid-afternoon. Evidence is mounting that such heat loads are a key feature in quail reproduction.

The incubation temperature of bobwhite nests is 99 to 100 degrees F. Heat kills embryos in eggs when egg temperature reaches slightly higher levels. A bobwhite has the ability to keep eggs warm. However, she (or he) does not have the ability to keep eggs cool enough when temperatures are much higher than 100 degrees F. Bobwhite hens quit laying when maximum temperatures hold steady in the high nineties and low one hundreds during

CHARACTER cannot be developed in ease and quiet. Only through experiences of trial and suffering can the soul be strengthened, vision cleared, ambition inspired and success achieved.

Crop disaster financial assistance available at 60% or 65% of county rate

The Farm Service Agency is accepting applications, beginning February 5, 2001, for the new Crop Disaster Program (CDP), announced Dwaine C. Lange, Chairperson of the Runnels County Committee. The Crop Disaster Program provides financial assistance to farmers who are eligible for compensation for crop losses directly attributed to adverse weather and related conditions.

"Natural disasters are a constant threat to our farmers," said Lange. "This program will help those who suffered losses last year. The sign-up period will begin February 5, and the end of the sign-up period will be announced at a later date, once the program regulations are published in the Federal Register," he said. Producers should be aware that issuance of program payments is pending Federal Register publication as well.

According to Lange, 2000 CDP payments will be calculated at 65 percent of the county rate for insured and non-insured crops. For crops that are insurable in the county, but for which the producer did not purchase insurance, the payment will be calculated at 60 percent of the county rate.

"Funding is not limited for the 2000 CDP, unlike last year," said Lange. "Because it was fully funded, farmers will receive 100 percent of the final calculated payments as soon as program regulations are published—providing their County Office committee has approved their CCC-557 (application), and the producer has provided all the necessary program documentation."

FSA employees will participate in Disaster Assistance training prior to program implementation at the county level to better prepare County Offices to handle the large number of sign-ups expected.

The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to provide disaster assistance through the CDP by Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2001, Pub. L. 106-387.

For more information regarding Crop Disaster Program eligibility and to schedule an appointment to file an application, contact the Runnels County office at 915-365-5757 or visit FSA on the World Wide Web at: <<http://www.fsa.usda.gov>>.
