Large Congregations Hear Dr. J. D. Sandefer Discuss Prohibition, Sunday

Sunday was a great day in Coke county—for, it was the day that brought a new view to the major portion of the county's citizenship with reference to the repeal of the 18th amendment and the overthrow of prohibition in the United States and especially as it affects Texas.

There has been much slush put out by the minions of re-liquor to the effect that prohibition has proved to be a miserable failure—and that with the "model beer bill" things are going to be run with as much decorum and morality and piety as a ladies' aid society. Many good people have come to believe that those who are peddling such pabulum are sincere and that the 3.2 beer will not even harm a baby, it is so free from alcoholic content.

We do not believe that a single one who heard Dr. J. D. Sandefer, of Abilene, president of Simmons University, speak either Sunday morning at Bronte, or at Robert Lee, Sunday evening will ever believe such propaganda again.

Dr. Sandefer is a great educator—one of the outstanding university presidents of the South. He has sent some fifteen thousand men and women out into the world panoplied mentally and morally for life's conflicts. Dr. Sandefer knows men, he knows the times and conditions of the past, as well as the times and conditions of the present. He did not mince words in dealing with the liquor question. He spoke with consideration for the man or woman who honestly disagrees with him, who took their position in the belief that legalized liquor might be better than prohibition. But he flayed cheap politicians and others who expect to profit out of the miseries of men and helpless women and innocent children, through the curse of intoxicating liquor.

Dr. Sandefer spoke with the voice of a seer and with the spirit of a patriot, as he pleaded with the people to rally. He piled up argument upon argument and fact upon fact, until every plea of those clamoring for the return of legalized liquor was torn into shreds. It would be a benediction could it be, if he could go to every city, village and hamlet and deliver the two addresses he delivered Sunday morning at Bronte and at Robert Lee, Sunday evening.

AWAY!

I cannot say and will not say,
That she is dead—she is just away,
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming: how very fair,
It needs must be since she lingers there,
And you—O you, who the wildest yearn,
For the old-time step and the glad return,
Think of her faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of here.
Mild and gentle as she was brave,
When the sweetest love of her life she gave
To simple things: where the violets grew,
Blue as the eyes they were likened to,
The touches of her hand have strayed
As reverently as her lips have played;
When the little brown thrush that harshly chirred
Was as dear to her as the mocking bird;
And she pitied as much as a man in pain,
A writhing honey-bee wet with rain
Think of her still as the same, I say:
She is not dead—she is just away!

The above are the beautiful lines of that sweet poet, James Whitecomb Riley—except we have changed the gender of the personal pronoun from "he" and "him" to "she" and "her." We print the lines because they are so nearly the heart of the thought of the writer and wife through these several recent weeks. May they bring comfort and solace to the hearts of all parents who are sorrowing the loss, especially recently, of a sweet, baby child.

THE BRONTE ENTERPRISE

D. M. WEST, EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER

Entered as Second Class Matter, at the Post Office, at Bronte, Texas, March 1, 1918, under Act of Congress, August 12, 1871

BEER AND SPEAKEASIES

One of the most freakish bits of current news is that emanating from a large middle western city, in which the municipal government has passed out the word that just as soon as the new beer law goes into operation the police department will make a determined effort to put speakeasies out of existence.

It would be hard to find a better commentary on the kind of law enforcement that some big cities have been getting from the police.

Leaving aside all questions of graft and ordinary inefficiency we have here a tacit admission that the existence of the illegal liquor traffic has in the main, simply been winked at. To be sure practically everybody knew that already; but it never got admitted quite so boldly before.—San Angelo Standard.

And the question is: if the police department, or law-enforcing part of the government, whatever the political division may be, did not strive to be faithful to their oath of office with reference to law enforcement, will they be true with legal booze flowing? It is a reasonable conclusion that those who winked at the law before will wink at it, should legal booze come again. For, the man who will solemnly take the oath of office as a law enforcement officer then, allow himself, for any reason, except his honest conception as to law infractions, to be interfered with in the discharge of his duty, forfeits his right to the confidence and respect of the people through whom he was commissioned.

METHODIST CHURCH

Announcements of services at the Methodist Church, Sunday April 9th:

Sunday school 10 A. M.
 Preaching services 11 A. M.
 Epworth League 6:45 P. M.
 Interest in our services is growing. Last Sunday we had a record attendance at Sunday school. Let us see that it is even better this Sunday. If we are to make our church and Sunday school services what they should be, it is going to take the loyal cooperation of every member.

The greatest institution in this town, outside the home, is the church. It should be center of the town's interest and the great attraction for everyone. If it is to be such, we must lay aside many other things and make some sacrifices worthy such an institution.

The preaching services should concern us very much. They are God's means of grace thru which He imparts divine wisdom and direction. Let us not neglect any of these services. There is a tendency in some places to stay away from the evening services. Let us not be guilty of this great neglect. The evening, as well as the morning sermon, represents some of the best thought and devotion of your pastor. So let us make these services what they should be by being in our respective places with prayerful hearts.

Remember your "self-denial" envelopes. Let each member of the family make some sort of contribution every day.

"The Church with a welcome

T. J. TIDWELL SHOWS IN SWEETWATER NOW

Springtime which is carnival time is here again. And in Sweetwater this week the carnival spirit is rife. It is all due to the fact that the T. J. Tidwell Carnival Shows are having their opening week there this week.

T. J. Tidwell is a West Texan—he is a Sweetwaterite, if you please.

Mr. Tidwell, owner of the show is a citizen of Sweetwater and is proud of that fact. He owns his home there and has been a resident for many years. Therefore when Mr. Tidwell closes a season with his shows he goes to Sweetwater to winter. Hence it has become a custom for Sweetwater to expect nothing else than that the T. J. Tidwell Shows have their season opening week in Sweetwater—sort of a home affair, you know, and everybody would be mad if the "old home town show" didn't have its opening stunt at home.

Hence this week things are lively in Sweetwater. The T. J. Tidwell Shows this year far excel anything heretofore. The devices are all new and every show is a worth-while show.

The T. J. Tidwell shows and all Sweetwater join in a welcome to all to that city this week.

TAKE OFFICES IN THE ENTERPRISE BUILDING

Dr. Looks, dentist, of Miles and Dr. Chambers of San Angelo have taken offices in The Enterprise building.

Dr. Looks will be in Bronte on Wednesday of each week, at which time he will give attention to the dental needs of all who call on him. Dr. Looks has a wide reputation at Miles as a capable dentist.

Dr. Chambers will be in his Bronte office on Tuesday every other week. Dr. Chambers is known to all our people as a capable physician and surgeon. Dr. Chambers' next day in his Bronte office is Tuesday of next week.

SELLS IMPROVED MEBANE COTTON SEED HERE

W. A. Stroman of San Angelo passed through town Thursday, an old-time friend of the editor Judge Stroman is a lawyer and also owns an abstract office in San Angelo. Mr. Stroman's brother is a pure seed man—he has given the past several years to developing cotton seed. He now has a pedigreed cotton seed that has made a wonderful record.

The Stroman brothers have formed a company known as the Stroman Brothers Seed Company.

Read the ad of the Stroman Brothers Seed Company in this issue of The Enterprise and see what they claim for their seed.

ALDERMEN ELECTED

Tuesday's city election for the election of two aldermen resulted in the election of B. F. Bridges and C. C. Glenn. Both were elected to succeed themselves.

The Child Reader

by MARJORIE BARROWS
 Editor, Child Life Magazine.

One afternoon many years ago a wharf rat on San Francisco Bay wandered into the Oakland Public Library.

Marjorie Barrows

There, opening a bound volume of a children's magazine, he stumbled upon a story. It was a story about a boy like himself—a runaway, a gang leader of wharf rats, who had certain semi-piratical adventures, but who, after a hard lesson, learned of better ways of living his life.

That boy was Jack London. The experience of this famous writer occurs, in a rather less dramatic fashion, in the life of every boy or girl.

Careful investigators have discovered that next to persons, nothing has more influence on children than what they read. If a hero they admire acts under certain circumstances as they themselves would like to act, they'll remember it.

They imitate the Hero. And when the time comes, they'll unconsciously be influenced by that hero's action and try to do likewise. The heroine's kindness, ambition, steadfastness, loyalty, the hero's resourcefulness, quick-wittedness, painstaking qualities, courage, magnanimity, modesty—all these examples "sink in" and are emulated both now and later. One story with hidden character-building values is worth a dozen sermons from parents or teachers.

Let us try to see that this sort of a story, full of plenty of adventure for the boy, full of interesting plots and characters for the girl, is convenient for them to pick up.

Jack London isn't the only one to be tremendously influenced by the printed word.

WEST TEXAS AUTO SUPPLY SEEKS BUSINESS

The West Texas Auto Supply is one of San Angelo's new, hustling business enterprises.

The West Texas Auto Supply is owned and managed by Mr. L. Schuster. And it expresses it mildly when we state that the West Texas Auto Supply is out after business. There is always "something doing" at this place.

In the first place, one will find here one of the best and most varied stocks of auto supplies found anywhere in West Texas.

In the next place, the prices on auto supplies at the West Texas Auto Supply are in keeping with the times.

In the next place, Mr. Schuster is one of those genial spirits—the kind of fellow that when one visits Mr. Schuster's place once, he wants to go back again.

The Enterprise editor called on the West Texas Auto Supply the other day while in San Angelo, and we were so royally treated that we wanted to stay.

Read the ad of the West Texas Auto Supply in this issue and when you need auto supplies the West Texas Auto Supply will be glad to serve you. Read their ad elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise.

Nicknamed!

that's what happened

THE contest for a name and slogans for Conoco's new gasoline is over. The winning name and slogans have been selected and awards made to the contestants listed here.

More than half a million good friends tried sincerely to help us, and we are grateful to all of them for the names and slogans sent us, each of which had a careful reading and consideration.

Even though we have selected and paid for a splendid name, we find we cannot use it or any of the many hundreds of good names submitted.

Here is what happened:

Personality always wins a "nickname." We never thought of that in our anxiety to get a good name for an outstanding gasoline. Bronze was used as a color to make this new gasoline distinctive and to protect our customers. It was liked by everybody—they, you, everybody called it Conoco Bronze. So, try as we might, we couldn't change now. It will always be known as Conoco Bronze. It had too much personality to avoid this popularity rating—"nicknamed"!

Therefore, conforming with contest rules, we are using a name of our own creation, the name used in all the contest advertisements—"Conoco Bronze"—even though it is not the name for which we paid $5,000.

Each user of Conoco Bronze gets a perpetual prize of instant starting, lightning pick-up, greater mileage and power—for it is a great gasoline.

THE CITY OF BRONTE Bronte, Texas

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING THE RUNNING AT LARGE OF FOWLS WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF BRONTE

Be It Ordained By The City Of Bronte:

SECTION 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person to keep and cause allow or permit any chickens, ducks, geese, turkeys or fowls of any kind or description to run at large within the corporate limits of the City of Bronte.

SECTION 11. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not less than one nor more than twenty-five dollars.

Effective on and after date of publication in The Bronte Enterprise.

Passed by unanimous vote this 4th day of April, 1933.

Approved this 4th day of April, 1933.

R. J. Epperson,
Mayor.

Attest:

A. L. McCuiston,
City Secretary.

home in Belton. It had been more than a dozen years since we left that city and since we had seen him. Therefore, it was with interest that we listened to him tell us about the old-time citizens there and what had become of them. It was pathetic, the story he told us about some and the way their lives had come to an end—some of them were members of a saloon clique that controlled Belton at that time. Some of them have suicided, others are broken down mentally and others are physical and financial wrecks. They wrecked Belton financially and the city has not yet recovered from their rule. That was only one and a half decades ago. Indeed, it is true today as when first uttered: "Be sure your sin will find you out."

Jim Dyess, now of San Angelo but until recently of Belton, an old-time friend of the editor, gave us a surprise but very delightful brief call Friday afternoon. Mr. Dyess is with the Temple Trust Company at San Angelo. Mr. Dyess had been to Sweetwater on business. Returning he remembered that the last account he had of us we were in Bronte. He stopped and made inquiry about us and learning we were still here he called to see us. It was a genuine delight to see this good friend of other years when we made our
