- 4:40 Greetings from visitors and an all 'round "Arkansaw Chat."

Announcements.

Doxology and benediction.

This is only a provisional program for the day. It is subject to change to suit the demands of the occasion—it shows that a rare treat from first to last is in store for those who attend. Other features in the way of specialties will be added as needed throughout the day, to make the program replete with high class, inspirational, pleasing entertainment. Many high-class entertainers whose names do not appear are expected to be present and render numbers as needed.

H. Baldwin,
G. A. Best,

Committee.

I KNOW SOMETHING GOOD ABOUT YOU

Wouldn't this old world be better,

If the folks we meet would say:

"I know something good about you,"

And then treat us just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy,

If each handclasp, warm and true,

Carried with it this assurance,

"I know something good about you!"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,

If the good that's in us all,

Were the only thing about us,

That folks bothered to recall?

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,

If we'd praise the good we see?

For there's such a lot of goodness,

In the worse of you and me.

Wouldn't it be fine to practice,

That good way of thinking too—

You know something good about me!

And I know something good about you!

An old journeyman printer came to our office some time ago. When fed, he sat down and talked to us. He has been from ocean to ocean more than once—he has at some time worked in almost every printshop on this continent. He gave us the above lines, asserting that they were original with him. Be that as it may, the lines are so full of helpful, happy sentiment it would be well for us to ponder them.

Be on time—don't miss a single feature of the program.

Greetings and Welcome

EVERYBODY IN OAK CREEK COMMUNITY JOINS AS ONE PERSON IN AN OPEN-HEARTED, UNSTINTED

Welcome To Everybody

To Our Community, To

THE ARKANSAWERS' REUNION

MAY 28, 1933

May every Arkansawer and all their friends have one of the happiest days of their lives, and when you shall go back to your homes, may every recollection of the day bring you only

Golden Memories

This is the Welcome and the wish of all our citizens to all who come.

OAK CREEK COMMUNITY

Dr. J. D. Sandefer, Abilene, Texas, President, Simmons University, who speaks twice at the Arkansawers' Reunion, at Oak Creek, May 28. At the morning hour Dr. Sandefer will deliver an address on "Arkansawers and Good Citizenship." In the afternoon he will lecture on "Phunny Phools of Racansack." In other words, at the morning hour those present will hear a heart-searching address on patriotism and the real philosophies of life—and in the afternoon the speaker will lecture on "the foolosophies of the Old Bear State." If you have ever heard this eloquent and equally humorous platform speaker, you already know that you cannot afford to miss hearing either of these addresses.

Simmons University Cowboy Band will be at the Arkansawers' Reunion at Oak Creek, Sunday, May 28. This famous band will play at intervals throughout the day, rendering a sacred concert in the early afternoon. Another such opportunity will not come to the people of this part of West Texas, in a long time. The Arkansawers consider themselves most fortunate in being able to have the jolly Cowboys as entertainers for the vast throngs that are expected to be present.

DIRECTIONS TO OAK CREEK

The Enterprise has had inquiries as to the best route by which to reach Oak Creek. So, we give directions from every direction.

Any coming from east of Coleman can come to Crews and Winters, provided there has been no rains just preceding the day for the reunion. If it has rained and there is likely to be mud it might be best to come via Ballinger, then to Winters, or get directions at Ballinger. The above also, of course, is directions for any coming from south or west of Ballinger.

Those in Taylor county or anywhere north of Winters will come to Winters and get directions. The road will not be difficult to follow and if the weather is dry, the roads will be excellent.

Those coming from west of Bronte or from the Sweetwater section of country will turn east on highway 70, two miles north of Bronte—just north of a little filling station; travel east three miles to where the road intersects a road running north and south; take the north end of the road, and turn to the left when you interest another road running north and south; when you intersect a road running east and west, take the east end—and before you know it, almost, you will be at Oak Creek, where, from indications at this writing, the happy throngs that will greet you will run literally into hundreds and hundreds.

And, too, everybody at Oak

THANKS TO EVERYBODY

There has been more or less of work in planning and arranging the program and in caring for the many minor details, as is always true with reference to an occasion, such as the Arkansawers' Reunion. Everybody has done his part nobly.

The program committee has been fortunate indeed in being able to arrange the excellent program that is offered. Talent excelled nowhere has been secured. And one of the happiest features about it all is that Creek will be there to give you a real, genuine West Texas welcome. Be there by the time the program begins if you can—for every feature is going to be delightfully entertaining.

those who have been secured were enthusiastic about having the privilege of contributing to the day's program.

The Enterprise also wants to thank the Oak Creek people for their fine co-operation in this general gathering. They have done all and will continue to do all they can till the day's celebration is over. To our newspaper brother editors all over this section who have so generously opened their columns and advertised the "Arkansawers' Reunion," we say "thank you."

And last but not least to all the progressive business men and firms who have generously advertised in this issue of The Enterprise making it possible for this final issue which is given over to the reunion, carrying its program and presenting the pictures of some of the entertainers of the day—to each of you, gentlemen, on behalf of the "Arkansawers," we say "thank you."

The Brock children—"Tootsie" and her little brother, Jay. These children sing and the little boy plays the accompaniment on the guitar. They will help to entertain the Arkansawers and their friends at the Arkansawers' Reunion at Oak Creek, May 28.

METHODISTS EXCLUDE BEER SELLERS

The following press reports were sent out the other day:
"If and when 3.2 beer becomes legal in Texas, any Methodist who persists in selling it will be excluded from membership in the church, Bishop H. A. Boaz has announced.

"Methodists found guilty of selling the beverage will be 'disciplined' first, the bishop said. After that, failure to desist from the practice will result in the culprit's dismissal from the church.

"Anybody knows that 3.2 per cent means alcohol and alcohol means intoxication. Our stand is the same as it always was. The church handled that question long ago when it decided to close its doors to any person dealing in such liquors.

"Many persons wondered what effect his edict would have on a nationally known Houstonian who owns most of the city's hotels. He is a pillar of the Methodist church and his hotels are preparing to sell beer."

Some fine questions arise:

First, will the church in which Dr. Boaz is a bishop, dispose of the particular member in Houston, to whom the above article makes reference—or will the charge often made these days, and which charge is too often true, namely, a man with money can do as he pleases in all the churches, and go unmolested, because of his money and liberality in his contributions to the church of which he is a member—or will Dr. Boaz and his co-bishops enforce the rule of the church, against the rich and the poor alike?

Second, is not Dr. Boaz and his church, as well as all other religious denominations thus holding, inconsistent, if they will allow their members to vote for intoxicating liquor to be sold? In other words, is not the church member of any of the churches that forbid their members to sell intoxicating beverages, just as culpable who votes for liquor to be sold, as the one who stands behind the bar and ladles it out to the drunkards? The one who sells it has that privilege because it is granted him by the permission of the church member who votes for intoxicants to be sold.

That sure is an interesting question—one we would like to have the views of "Uncle Bill" Kellis on. "Uncle Bill" says that in theory he is a Baptist but holds no communication with any religious denomination. And just to go a little farther with the line of reasoning, if it is consistent for a church member to vote for legal booze and for a church member to sell legal booze, then, is it not consistent to allow the preachers in these several churches to drink this fine, wholesome (?) Democratic booze? In fact, is it not consistent for the preachers not only to drink the "deadly poison," but why not allow the preachers to sell it? By the way, if it is consistent and best to have booze, why not have it sold under the auspices of the churches and let the preachers sell booze through the week and then preach on Sunday? It seems, that would be beautifully (?) consistent—for, as the poor drunkards die, the preachers could bury them.

The matter of consistency in this question, we confess, is all too deep for us—so, we pass it to you, "Uncle Bill." What do you say is the consistent thing to do, under the circumstances?

Ho, ho, yum! Won't it be dull now?—the legislature is to adjourn next week—(perhaps)—and there will be no Arkansawyers' Reunion to think about, and plan about and talk about. Really, it seems that life will hardly be worth living—for there will be nothing but just one long, continued state of—well, "innocuous desuetude." Selah!

Elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise is a communication from "A Taxpayer" relative to converting some of our state colleges into hospitals. At first thought, that appeals to The Enterprise. The agitation to close some of our state schools had objectionable features. There was the element of obligation of the State to the communities in which the schools are located. These communities made concessions to get the schools and therefore, it was wrong to close the schools. But, if they can be converted into hospitals, they can be made to serve a greatly needed end.

County Agent's Column

Henry Childress, of the Wild cat community, in a conversation with the county agent on last Tuesday morning stated: "these terraces of mine are the best part of my farm. Just look at the rows I have just finished planting right up next to that top terrace. Every row there has as much moisture as those down near the lower terrace. I must say that these point rows are troublesome, but I am not trying to dodge trouble—I am trying to make a crop. And take it from me, these terraces with rows on the water-level are making a new field out of an old one as well as increasing my yields per acre."

One of the prettiest sights in Coke County following the nice rains of the month was the field of Frank Keeney, located north of Bronte. Water was standing from one end to the other of every terrace in his field. No loss of soil or water in the field. "I am well pleased indeed with my terraces, and be sure, Bennie, that you put me down for another date this winter so we can finish this work," said Mr. Keeney.

The third annual meeting of the Four County Pecan Growers Association will be held on the C. B. Metcalfe farm near Tankersley in Tom Green County at 10 A. M., Saturday, May 27th. All Association members as well as any pecan grower not a member of the association is invited to attend. All pecan growers of Coke county are urged to attend. Many prominent pecan specialists of the state will be present.

Dr. Lewis, State Veterinarian of San Angelo, was in Coke county, and with the county agent visited the ranches of Frank Smith, Irvin Cumbie and Milton Wylie. Dr. Lewis was working on diseases of sheep.

Many farmers are reporting heavy damages by rats. These pests may be controlled by using Red Squill Powder (trade name—K R O). Farmers are urged to use meat baits—sardines as a rule being the most attractive to the rats. Mash up the sardines with a fork—oil, sardine and all—and place small baits along the runs of the rats. Check upon baits the next morning. Then skip one night. The third night mix up sardines as before and add the red squill powder according to directions on the can, place baits as before.

Fresh fish, ground meats (such as rabbit, etc) salmon, etc. may be used as bait, but experience has shown that sardines are the baits for rats.

"That wool table sure does the work," said Jim McCutchen, as he watched the fleeces roll around upon it. "I never dreamed that it would get rid of so many tags, and so little wool. Too bad that it was only a model. If that table was about twelve or fourteen feet long you would never get away from here with it." Another time we were fortunate in only carrying the model.

A very interesting display of the work of Mrs. N. M. Arrott of Tennyson, is on display at the First State Bank in Robert Lee. Mrs. Arrott, as the displays show, takes mohair, cards it, spins it on a home-made spinning wheel, puts it in skeins, scours and dyes it, then weaves the finished mohair into rugs, saddle blankets, hooked rugs, what-have-you. Mrs. Arrott is doing a beautiful piece of work in "home manufacturing," and is to be commended upon the delightful manner in which she finishes her products.

COKE'S QUOTA FILLED IN REFORESTATION WORK

Coke county has filled its quota on reforestation recruits.

Coke county was allotted eleven and the number has been supplied. This number has been supplied with five from Robert Lee and six from Bronte.

The county committee for making assignments to this work is, B. F. Bridges for this end of the county and B. J. Baskin of Robert Lee.

Those going from Bronte are J. W. Pruitt, Dee Thurmond McCleskey, Walter Lee Hensley, Calvin McDonald and Ennis Nicholas.

The above with five from Robert Lee departed Saturday. Albert Davis of Bronte went two weeks ago which makes the county's quota.

They went to Big Spring, wherever they went for acceptance. Acceptance means that they were examined as to physical fitness and other requirements. After a few days there, if accepted they will go to Fort Bliss for training in the work they are to do. After the training period they are assigned to actual work in the forests. It is thought that Coke county's quota will be sent to New Mexico.

The enlistment is for a period of six months and the position carries with it a salary of $30 per month with all expenses, such as board, clothes, laundry, sickness expenses, and so forth.

Each one who is accepted however agrees to assign $25 per month of their salary to dependent relatives at home.

The Enterprise wishes Coke county's group of "forest-builders" a delightful sojourn wherever they are sent and a safe return home.

THE WOMAN'S PROGRESSIVE CLUB

Mrs. Clint Duncan was hostess to the Womans Progressive Club, Thursday afternoon, May 20.

The last program of the Club year, which was on "Good Health" was rendered.

Roll call was responded to with some recent improvements in medical science.

Mrs. O. H. Willoughby told of some things the federated clubs have done for health improvement; Mrs. T. M. Wylie read a paper on "Early Medical Scientists;" Mrs. R. L. Keyes gave "The Life of Sir Grenfell;" Mrs. J. D. Leonard discussed the "Hygienic Progress and Needed Sanitary Improvements in Bronte," and one of Edgar Guest's poems was given by Mrs. B. P. Williams.

The Year Book for 1933-34 was presented by the president, Mrs. Lucy Warner, to Mrs. Frank Keeney, who has served the Club for six years as president, and to all past presidents and charter members of the Club, which was organized twenty years ago. The course of study is comprised of seventeen programs, covering "A Year of International Relations Through Travel." One each on Texas

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

WHY NOT STATE HOSPITALS?

A week or so ago a prominent citizen of Texas, in a letter in the Dallas News, admitted that the state had too many state colleges, and that several were created not out of any need but to satisfy the "gimme" clamor of this and that section, and inquired that now we have these 16 state colleges, what could we do with the plants, if any were closed?

It seems that question stands as the great obstacle in merging any of the schools—the spectre of fine buildings standing empty. So many of our citizens prefer to maintain them saddled on the taxpayers of the state, absorbing funds from public schools, just because they would hate to see the buildings empty and idle. That is a strange philosophy, but it is the situation.

How many of our people ever thought that Texas has n't ONE state hospital, so far as I know, for treatment and surgery, which patients of modest means can patronize? We look after the unfortunate in their mental derangements and after the tubercular, but no institution is provided for those who lack means to enter high-price private hospitals.

A college plant could be changed into a hospital at very little cost, and the cost to the state would likely not exceed 25 per cent of the operation of the colleges converted.

The sentiment for merging or eliminating state colleges began only a year or two ago, but while it had a phenomenal growth, was not strong enough to impel the present legislature to do much substantial adjusting. But the sentiment will be strong enough by the meeting of the 44th legislature.

Louisiana maintains two state hospitals. Why not Texas two or three?

A Taxpayer.

A BOUQUET FOR HIM

"I'm just a P. B.—that is a 'plain bum.'"

He was a one-armed man, with his clothes soiled and his face begrimed and his hair disheveled—indeed, everything about the man indicated that he was speaking the plain truth about himself.

Our first thought was that he had called to ask for money with which to buy food.

But not so—it was Friday afternoon. Last week's issue of The Enterprise had not long been in the office. Our readers had only had time to get their papers from the office.

"I have walked down here to your office to get a copy of 'The newsiest and best edited little country weekly in the southwest,' according to what a man up the street just now told me. He was reading his copy and was not through with it. I told him that if he was speaking the truth, I wanted a copy of the paper. He told me to come down here and I could get a copy."

The "P. B." was given a copy of the paper. In Lord Chesterfield manner he thanked us for the paper, and waving us a good bye, he went his way.

But, the "P. B." left us full of wonder—we wonder what man in this town took that much interest in "the old home town paper" and really has that opinion of our modest efforts at giving the town and all of Bronteland that kind of paper?

Of course, somebody will say, "that Bronte fellow 'picked a load' into that 'P. B.'—that he is 'just a plain, everyday, ordinary prevaricator.'" Well, we won't put it that way—as we are the "person involved." But, we will say, "that Bronte man is a booster of the right kind."

The fact is, if everyone of us as citizens, would be careful always, whether before strangers or not, regardless of conditions, to speak good words for each and every industry in our town and for our town and its people, it would have a most wholesome effect upon our entire community.

If our reader who spoke the kindly words about our publication to the "P. B." will be at the Arkansawers' Reunion next Sunday we will present him a bouquet as the "outstanding booster" of "the old home town"—or if he prefers we will "stuff his maw" with "fat baked hen and dressing" and all the other delicacies of a real Arkansaw-West Texas picnic lunch. For, we daresay, there are those who have been reading the local paper for ten years to whom it never occurred to speak a good word in its behalf.

A PIONEER CITIZEN DIES

G. W. Woullard died at the family residence in Bronte, Friday night, May 19, 1933. Following religious services, conducted by Elder Davis of Angelo assisted by the writer, at the Church of Christ, of which deceased had been a member a long time, the body was followed to the Bronte cemetery by old time friends and neighbors and put away for its last sleep.

G. W. Woullard was born in Alabama, February 16, 1851, making him to be 82 years, three months and three days old when he was called to rest.

While quite young deceased came with his parents to Texas, locating first at Nacogdoches.

Deceased was united in marriage to Miss Sarah Elizabeth Denton in 1869, who survives to go the remainder of the journey of life without him who was her husband and companion for almost sixty-five years. To them were born seven children, 3 sons and four daughters—two daughters having preceded him to the Land Beyond. The surviving daughters are Mrs. G. W. Keessee and Miss Ada of Bronte; the sons are Frank, Fort Worth; Ollie, Midland and Bobe of Bronte. These with their mother and several grand children remain to sorrow over his going.

Early in life deceased professed Christ and became a member of the Church of Christ. To his Christian profession and to his church he remained faithful till the summons came and called him from this earthly way.

About forty-five years ago, deceased came with his family to the Bronte section of country—this was a frontier country then. Deceased and his good wife began with the other frontier families to establish their home and to lay the foundations of civilization. There in his passing, one of the truly old-time citizens of our community passes. The country is better because of his having lived and is impoverished in his going. No more sturdy people ever populated a country than the old pioneers and their families who came in the early day and drove back the indians and the frontier bandits. This generation owes them a debt of gratitude.

Deceased lived far beyond the usual period allotted to one in this life, but greater still his was a worth-while life—for he lived for the good he could do and to make the world better. A genuinely old-fashioned Southern Christian gentleman, of spotless integrity and unimpeachable character. Truly, another good and gracious man has been called from the walks of life. May his body rest undisturbed.

May comfort from heaven be the portion of the aged and lonely companion, the children and grand children and all others who sorrow.

R. G. Rosser of San Angelo was in town today transacting business and shaking hands with friends.

LUTHER BRUTON FATALLY INJURED IN CAR WRECK; OTHERS INJURED

Tragedy stalked abroad on highway 70, between Robey and Sweetwater Sunday night and took the life of C. E. Bruton of Edith and came near causing the death of several others, in a car accident.

As The Enterprise has gathered information about the accident, Mr. Bruton and his wife and baby boy, and Robert Hickman of Bronte and Miss Christine Thedford of Edith were returning home from Rotan where they had spent the day with friends. It was just after night-fall. About a mile south of Robey as they approached a bridge they met a car going in opposite direction. Mr. Hickman and Miss Thedford were occupying the front seat and Mr. Bruton and family were in the rear seat. Mr. Hickman was driving. The light from the approaching car blinded Mr. Hickman. He veered his car and got off the pavement. The two cars were just ready to pass each other, as the other car came off the bridge. Mr. Hickman saw his car was going to hit the bridge and veered to the left, striking the other car full force. Just what happened then, it seems is not clear to anyone. Mr. Bruton was fatally hurt, dying Tuesday afternoon in a Sweetwater hospital without regaining consciousness. Mrs. Bruton was also very seriously injured, suffering a broken jaw and internal injuries as well as lacerations on her lower limbs. Miss Thedford was also painfully injured, but was able to be returned to her home at Edith Tuesday, where it is reported, she is recovering in a very satisfactory way. Mr. Hickman had only slight injuries to one of his hands. The little baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Bruton had a slight scalp wound and was burned under the arm. When the collision occurred the car of Mr. Hickman ignited and burned up. Had it not been for immediate relief by a farmer, whose home was right at the place, the whole number might have been consumed in the conflagration. Some dogs Mr.

LUTHER BRUTON KILLED

Bruton and Mr. Hickman had tied to the running boards of the car were burned to death.

The Enterprise has never been able to get any of the facts concerning the other car and its occupants further than that the parties were from Stamford and there were three of them in the car. One of the parties was injured painfully yet not fatally and after treatment, he left the hospital.

Immediately after the accident an ambulance was summoned out of Snyder and the injured were rushed to the Sweetwater hospital. The relatives of the injured here and at Edith were notified. Mrs. G. W. Crume, mother of Mr. Bruton, and his brother, Evert, of this place, departed at once. When they arrived at the hospital and found Mr. Bruton was thought to be fatally injured they advised other relatives and friends elsewhere who rushed here fast as they could.

Mr. Bruton lingered in a state of unconsciousness suffering terribly till death came Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock and brought surcease from the pain.

The body was returned to Bronte, to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crume, Monday night by Frank Keeney, undertaker, where it lay until Tuesday afternoon. Religious services were held at the Methodist church, following which the body was carried to Edith and buried there beside other loved ones. The religious services were conducted by Revs. Wallace N. Dunson, N. W. Pitts and the writer. The religious services were largely attended by the friends of deceased and his family from all over the county and elsewhere. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful and the sorrow of the large number present was universal and deep as they mingled their grief with the grief-stricken family.

The following brief biographical sketch was read at the religious services:

"Luther Ewing Bruton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Bruton, was born near Llano, November 23, 1897 and departed this life at Sweetwater, May 22, 1933, mak-

BRONTE SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES THROUGHOUT WEEK, INTERESTING

Smiles and tears have run races with each other in the circles of the Bronte school this week.

There have been smiles and laughter as the teachers and pupils have thought of the fact that vacation time is here and there will be no more school to keep them confined indoors.

But as the hour for closing the session draws nigh there is a sober temper in the minds of all—for they realize that soon, "School days, dear old school days" will be no more.

And especially is this true with the members of the graduating class—for they know that tonight when the last hour of the session ends they will say, "good bye" and go home, a member of the Bronte school student body no more.

The week's closing exercises have been most excellent every-ing him to be thirty-six years, five months and twenty-nine days old when death took him.

"Deceased came with his family to Brown county, where they resided—later deceased came to Coke county in 1914, and made his home here since that time.

"Deceased was married to Miss Era Page in November, 1920, who departed this life Easter Sunday, 1928. To them one child was born, Marjorie, who survives, to mourn the loss of both parents at an early age in life.

"Later deceased married Miss Ruth Cathey, who now lingers between life and death at Sweetwater. To them one child was born a baby boy, who does not yet understand what it is to give up father. Besides these he is survived by his mother, a brother, Evert of Bronte, and two sisters, Mesdames Carl Miller of Brownwood and N. H. Waldie of Robert Lee. Besides these, there are nephews and nieces who mourn his untimely going.

"Deceased was postmaster at Edith and holds membership in the Postal Employee's Association.

"About 1926 deceased professed faith in Christ and united with the Methodist church at Edith under the pastoral leadership of Rev. W. E. Hawkins."

It was the privilege of the writer, at the request of the family, to speak the last words. We spoke briefly of the fine traits we had always found in deceased. After the religious services, and we had gone out of the church, M. L. Jernigan of Goldthwaite, an old-time friend of deceased, who had come for the obsequies, searched us out, introduced himself, and paid deceased one of the finest compliments we ever heard one man pay another. He said: "Brother West, I want to thank you personally, for the fine, beautiful things you said about Luther. He lived with me for twelve years. I know the boy through and through, and every word you spoke of him is true."

After the religious services, the funeral cars wended their way to the quiet little sequestered country burying place at Paint Creek, and the body was put away for its last sleep.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in this tragic hour. May their hearts have divine comfort!

Superintendent E. A. Hankins and his faculty have whereof to congratulate themselves on the progress the school has made throughout the year.

The Enterprise extends congratulations to the boys and girls who tonight will finish their work as students of the old Bronte High.

Rev. and Mrs. Carl Miller and children returned to Brownwood Tuesday afternoon, after attending the funeral of Luther Bruton. Mrs. Miller is a sister of Mr. Bruton.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Mackey, Monday, May 22, a baby girl.

SUBMITS TO OPERATION

This morning as we go to press the report comes that Pratt Williams will submit to an operation for gall bladder trouble. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams hope that he may undergo the operation successfully and soon be restored to health again.

Pronteland seems to have been especially favored with rain.

TYPHUS FEVER PREVALENT

Austin, Texas, May 25.—Typhus fever or Fourteen day fever is quite prevalent in Texas, according to Dr. John W. Brown State Health Officer. He stated "Typhus fever is of two forms, the epidemic and the endemic. It is the latter form that is most commonly found in Texas and it differs from the epidemic form in that it has a low mortality. This disease is often confused with others and for that reason many cases are not reported as such; it is also called rat fever and mouse fever.

"The symptoms of typhus fever are that the onset is usually sudden with chills, fever, headache, prostration and body pains, the fever rises rapidly and reaches its maximum on the fifth to the eighth day, this usually terminates on the tenth to the fourteenth day by crisis and the recovery is rapid thereafter. An eruption accompanies the disease, starting on the chest and lower neck and becoming general in a few days. Bronchitis and the hacking cough are present in most cases and tend to confuse the diagnosis with respiratory infection or influenza.

"The rat flea which feeds on the rat sick with typhus fever transmits the disease to humans, therefore, rats and mice should be exterminated as the most important control measure in the prevention of this disease. Bodylice and rat mites may also transmit typhus fever. Persons that are sick should be isolated during their illness. All cases should be reported promptly to the health authorities in order that control measures may be started at once."

LAMBS PAID HIM
$57.60 PER MONTH

Abilene, Texas, May 26.—Lambs for 150 days on home ground feed and pasture supplemented with cottonseed meal paid H. H. Robertson of Salt Branch Community in Taylor county $57.60 per month for his time while he carried on his regular farm work last winter, reports C. M. Heald, county agent. His flock of 1532 lambs gained 30.9 pounds per head at cost of slightly more than $1 per head.

"While the profit was small," says Mr. Heald, "the demonstration shows that lamb feeding offers great possibilities to the careful feeder who wishes to convert cheap home grown feed into better than market price. Mr. Robertson figures that his feed, which was weather damaged and could not be sold at market price, brought him $6.35 per ton through the lambs."

The ration fed was ground milo heads, oats, cottonseed meal not to exceed 1-4 pound per head per day, and ground hegira and cane. The sheep consumed 165 tons of milo and 2000 bushels of oats in addition to all the roughage they could clean up and about 30 tons of cottonseed meal.

Three herds of Wheeler county beef cattle fed out in demonstrations last season averaged their owners 81 cents per bushel for corn.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thank-our dear friends and the people generally in Bronte, Robert Lee, Edith, Sweetwater and elsewhere for their many kindnesses shown us in the tragedy that came so unexpectedly and took away our dear husband, father, son, brother and uncle, Luther Bruton. None ever had more kindly considerate friends and neighbors than we have had in the ordeal through which we have passed. To the dear ladies of the Mission Society of the Methodist church, who were so thoughtful in preparing and bringing to our family the day of the funeral the abundant lunch, we express our deepest appreciation. The religious services, the kindly words of sympathy, your tender ministries in putting his body away and the beautiful floral offerings—all brought sunshine to our hearts in the midst of the clouds and will linger with us through all the coming years as a sweet benediction. May God bless you each and all.

Mrs. Luther Bruton and children.
Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Crume.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bruton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller and family.

Mrs. N. H. Waldie and family.

"My husband's tobacco bill was larger than our grocery bill last year," declares a member of the Port Lavaca Home Demonstration Club in Calhoun county. The family put up a pantry according to the 4-H pantry plan.

Such good results have come to Dallas county dairymen from feeding stock beets to cows the last two years that the county agent reports 30 more farmers sowing the crop this year.

Sub-irrigation garden systems have been installed on six Haskell county farms this spring by home demonstration club families. A total of 1155 feet of home made concrete tile was installed at a cost of less than one cent per foot.

GULF REFINING COMPANY

PRACTICAL OPERATION

Extensive Advertising Campaign
Launched By Gulf Refining
Company to Show Its Belief
In Upward Trend of Commerce and Industry

Here's one of the most remarkable stories, as well as one that is of special interest to all the people of Texas. Three years ago the Gulf Refining Company engineers made a discovery of revolutionary importance to the oil industry. A discovery so advanced, so significant, longer-lived motor oil than er, longer-lived motor oil than the industry had ever seen.

This discovery was an utterly new refining process—the now-famous Alchlor Process, exclusive with Gulf. The oil made by it is called Gulfpride.

At first it was possible to produce only limited quantities of this new and remarkable oil. But so amazingly outstanding was its quality that—utterly without advertising and publicity—its fame spread throughout the United States and all foreign nations. It came into universal demand wherever the finest motor lubrication was sought.

Gulfpride has now proved itself beyond question the finest motor oil in the world. This oil is manufactured in the Gulf Refinery in Port Arthur, Texas. It has established seventeen world's records! It has surpassed every set of specifications ever issued for a motor oil, including U. S. Army, U. S. Navy and British Government.

Gulfpride is now in demand in all corners of the earth and shipped to all points from Port Arthur, Texas, where it is manufactured.

The current extensive advertising campaign of the Gulf Refining Company now appearing in Texas newspapers is stressing this oil and, too, the fact that Gulf stations sell three grades of oil and gasoline at three different prices, ranging from the buying power of the motorist who wants a low priced gasoline or oil, but wants the most possible value for the money, to the motorist who wants the very best regardless of cost.

Will Rogers can be heard on the air every Sunday evening on the Gulf Refining Company radio program at 7 P. M. and Irvin S. Cobb on Wednesday and Friday evenings at the same hour. A weekly comic paper is distributed free at all Gulf stations.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our deepest gratitude to his many life-long friends and ours for their continued thoughtfulness to our dear husband, father and grandfather, G. W. Woullard during his last illness and in his death and for your kindly sympathy for us and tender ministries to us in putting his body away. Dear friends, you did for us everything you could. And the recollections of your kindness to us in our sorrow will always bless us through the coming years. The religious services and the kindly words of all and the floral offerings are all treasured up in our hearts. God bless you all.
