T. N. CARSWELL WILL SPEAK ON NRA, IN BRONTE

Hon. T. N. Carswell, secretary of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, on invitation of our citizens, will speak in Bronte, on the NRA program, Tuesday evening, August 29, at 8 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Mr. Carswell "knows his NRA," and therefore will give all our people exact information with reference to the duties of those whose residence is in a town the size of Bronte. Hence, it behooves everyone to be present and get exact information on this program—for, after a while when the government checks upon the activities of the people, there will be no excuse-making as to lack of knowledge as to what was expected, allowed. You had better "be safe than sorry." Then, too, it is a matter of loyalty to one's country to fall in line with the effort that is being made to bring the country back to normalcy.

Remember the date and place and be present.

BABY GIRLS BORN

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Eubanks, Monday, August 21, 1933, twin girls. Mother and girlies are doing fine—but it is reported that the family physician, a nerve specialist and two nurses have been giving John constant attention, since, as he demands that everybody call him "dada." Anyhow, congratulations to the proud parents and best wishes for the two young ladies.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Coalson, Monday, August 21, 1933, a baby girl.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tannehill, Monday, August 21, 1933, a baby girl.

The "Supremacy of Woman," it seems is to become a reality, from the number of girl babies being born, in spite of all that poor, down-trodden man can do.

LAD BREAKS SHOULDER

Casualty No. 1 in football circles of the Bronte school for 1933-1934 has been recorded.

Daughty McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald, had the misfortune to get his shoulder broken, in a game, Tuesday afternoon.

The lad is game—he is going right on to school.

HIS BROTHER DIES

Sam Miller, brother of our fellow-townsmen, A. D. Miller, died at the family home in Winters, Sunday afternoon, August 20, 1933, after a lingering illness from cancer, for more than a year. Deceased suffered very much through the months before death came and brought relief.

Deceased was born November 1877, making him to be in his fifty-sixth year when death claimed him.

Deceased is survived by his wife and three children, all of whom are married, to mourn his going. The children were all present at the funeral. He is also survived by three brothers and two sisters.

Following religious services at the Winters Church of Christ, of which he was a faithful and consistent member, conducted by Elders Johnson and Mickey, the body was buried in the Fairview cemetery at Winters.

The Enterprise joins with his friends in sympathy to our local townsman and the others of the bereaved family in deepest sorrow in this dark hour.

Mrs. Lucille Cumbie from Portales, New Mexico is a guest of the Cumbies this week.

Voters In Saturday's Election

All who are qualified voters will be called on, Saturday, August 26, to cast their ballot on the Liquor Question in Texas, again.

That some will vote for the return of legalized liquor is evident—the anti-American millionaires who are willing to sacrifice the youth of the land in order to shift the income tax they are paying, the brewers and other liquor manufacturers, the bootleggers, gamblers, lewd women—and—we regret to have to admit it—some good, honest, noble people.

BUT, WHO, REALLY, SHOULD VOTE AGAINST THE RETURN OF INTOXICATING LIQUOR?

1. Those who sincerely believe that the Christian ministry of evangelical Christianity is a worthy group of worthy leaders. It is known to all that ministers of evangelical churches such as the Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and the Disciples, are, almost without exception, not only against the return of legal liquor, but they are doing all they can to stem the current of evil influences that are operating to bring liquor back and thus give it and the debauchery it will bring, respectability. Hence, everyone who believes in the worthiness of the above Christian ministry who votes consistently, will walk by the side of these sacrificing preachers and vote with them against the curse that legal liquor is sure to bring. Wet propagandists have been quoted as saying that "the d—ned preachers and women shall no longer dictate as to booze."

2. Every member of every evangelical church should vote against the return of legal liquor. In the first place, every such church member, either by oral acceptance, or common consent in accepting the expressions of the church of which he is a member, has pledged himself against liquor as an intoxicating beverage—therefore, for all such church members to be consistent with the letter and spirit of the law of their churches regarding liquor, they will have to vote against its legal return.

3. Members of secret fraternal orders who vote consistent with their lodge obligations will vote against liquor. There are two or three sporting fraternal orders, the purpose of which organizations is to let their members have unbridled license to do as they please with reference to drinking, revelry, and even debauchery, every member of which will, of course, vote for liquor. But such faithful fraternities as the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Woodmen and so forth—the fundamentals of everyone of such lodges are against liquor. So, those who are members of those lodges who vote consistently with their lodge responsibilities Saturday will vote against liquor.

4. School teachers, almost without exception, are outspokenly against liquor. Therefore, all who believe in the ideals of the school rooms of American school teachers, if they vote consistently, must vote against liquor—to vote for liquor is to counteract and contradict the teachings of the youth in our American and Christian schools. Mr. and Mrs. Voter, with your recollections of American ideals, how are you going to vote?

5. Every man who is the father and every woman who is the mother of a boy or girl should vote against the return of liquor. You should not want any other section of Texas cursed with an evil you are not willing to have in your own community. There will be no liquor sold in Bronte legally, regardless as to the outcome of the election Saturday in Texas as a whole. If you are not willing to furnish your sons and daughters as the fuel to keep legal liquor selling, then, you should not vote for it. If you are not willing for your boys and girls to become drunkards in order to get a little revenue to help these anti-American millionaires who have brought this election on, if you vote consistently, you will vote against liquor's return. All who are older remember the "Triangle of Evils" that were always without exception, sound where liquor was available, namely, drunkenness, gambling, and prostitution. Wherever you find one you will almost always find all of them. Have you a boy to sacrifice upon the altar of drunkenness, or a girl to sacrifice to the lust and greed of men? If so, you can at least with some degree of consistency vote for the return of liquor, gambling and houses of shame. But, if you are not willing that your son or daughter shall be thus sacrificed, then, you cannot consistently vote for the return of liquor.

VOTERS, WITH AMERICAN BLOOD IN YOUR VEINS, THINK UPON THESE THINGS BEFORE CASTING YOUR BALLOTS, SATURDAY

If the groups mentioned above vote consistently, liquor will be forever doomed in "the land of Houston, Travis and the Alamo," and the white flag of temperance and sobriety will continue unfurled to every breeze and our boys and girls will be free from the awful curse of legalized liquor on every hand, wherever they go, to tempt them and lead them astray.

Mrs. E. A. Bell and little daughter, Thelma Jean, with Mr. and Mrs. Dyke Snyder and children of San Angelo spent the week last week with Mrs. Vernon Wade of Kerrville. Mrs. Wade returned home with them and will visit here for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Clark, and Wayman Percifull and Miss Malvina Percifull of Christoval, returned Friday from a week's visit with the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, George, at Amarillo and Lucene and Gallegas, New Mexico, and other relatives. All report a most delightful visit. Mr. Clark says that around Tullia and Happy and that section of country, everything is literally dead from the continued drouth. But, in New Mexico he says he saw the finest corn he ever saw. The visitors to New Mexico went up a mountain that was about 6,000 feet high. They traveled up some three miles in their car. They report George and Lucene doing fine except Lucene recently had an attack of appendicitis, but seemingly is doing all right now.

Don't forget that subscription.

Miss Hattie Coffee of El Paso is a guest of Miss Rosa Lee Ivey. These young ladies have been room mates and most intimate friends for some years.

Mesdames F. S. Higginbotham, Daisy Heckman and Pearl Boynton and Miss Lottie Ivey were in San Angelo Wednesday for medical advice and treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Price of Lubbock were week end guests of the parents of Mr. Price, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Price, and other relatives. Their many friends were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Price again.

The editor and Mrs. Editor made a hurried visit with relatives at Hamlin first of the week, spending a night there, first of the week. Believe us, folks, they have fine crops in that section of the country. From some ten, on, far as we went, the feed crops were fair and the cotton was simply immense. However both feed and cotton are late and with no rain within the next week or so crops will seriously deteriorate.

Mrs. Luther Holman from Boulder City, Nevada, Mrs. Luther Mae Wyatt from Blythe, California and Mrs. Golden Donovan from Midland were guests this week of Mrs. E. T. Holman and family and other relatives. Mrs. Luther Holman is the mother of Mesdames Wyatt and Donovan. They departed for their homes Wednesday night.

The Enterprise has received copy touching Saturday's election, from both sides of the issue, asking that same be used this week. Some of it came from Dallas and was good reading, but the author failed to give his name—hence, we could not use it. Therefore, we have left it all out.

The hum of the cotton gins is heard in the land again, reminding that this is "away down South." But the yield is going to be very poor indeed. If there is not better yield everywhere else than here, we cannot understand where any nearly 13,000,000 bales of "the pride of the South" is coming from, as per last government report.

Don't forget that subscription.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS PICNIC

The JOY class of the Baptist Sunday school gave their social entertainment Wednesday evening in the form of a sundown picnic at the Key park.

A lunch consisting of sandwich salads, red beans and potato chips, followed by deserts of cake and lemonade, carried in class colors, pink and green, was spread at 8 o'clock.

Games under the supervision of the social vice-president, Mrs. C. H. Preston, were enjoyed following the lunch.

The teacher, Mrs. Frank Kee-ney, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers in class colors.

Members present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brey, Cumbie Ivey, Ray Ivey, Chas. Baker, Oscar Long, C. H. Preston, Roe Williams, J. B. Mackey and Mesdames Carrie Williams, Homer Good, Cova Collier, Frank Kee-ney, Frank Grimes and Mr. Henry Gully.

Visitors were: Misses Nell Lowry, Mary Beth Hoover and Mrs. Lucile Cumbie of Portales, New Mexico.

Mrs. Frank Grimes,
Class Reporter.

BRONTE BOY MARRIES

The many old-time friends of Books Robinson residing in and around Bronte will receive the news of his marriage with all good wishes for him and his bonny bride.

Mr. Robinson was married at Lawton, Oklahoma, at high noon last Sunday, August 20, 1933. The Enterprise failed to get the name of the bride, and anything concerning her, except that she is one of Lawton's popular young ladies.

The groom will be remembered as the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson formerly of Bronte but now of Duncan, Oklahoma, and is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald.

Mrs. Ben Gilbert and little son, Bennie, and Mrs. Gilbert's nephew, Hugh Clayton, returned to their home at Dallas, Monday, after a visit with Mrs. Pearl Boynton. Little Bennie had spent the summer here with his aunt and so did not care much whether he went home or not.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dunson and daughter returned to their home at Waco, Thursday, after a few days with Mr. Dunson's brother, Rev. and Mrs. Wallace N. Dunson. Mr. Dunson's sister, Miss Buren, who had been a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Dunson for some weeks returned home with them. Miss Dunson will be missed in the social circles of our young people, as she made many friends while here, and many will look forward and wait for her coming again for another visit.

Prof. J. W. Fletcher and family have returned to Bronte to make their home after many "years of wandering." Prof. Fletcher began his work as teacher in Coke county several years ago, teaching his first school at Union. Since he went away Prof. Fletcher has held some important places as superintendent of schools at Des Moines, New Mexico, O'Donnell, Texas, and other places. Prof. Fletcher and family have been back in Bronte several weeks, but he and the editor did not contact each other till Wednesday morning, at which time Prof. Fletcher made us a delightful call.

NOLAN COUNTY ROUND UP TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Things are just about in perfect order at the Double Heart ranch, for the Second Annual Nolan County Roundup, which is booked for Friday and Saturday, September 1 and 2.

Ollie Cox, owner of the Double Heart ranch, is managing this big western occasion. But, in reality, Sweetwater and almost the whole of Nolan county have joined in to make it a real worth while event.

No expense is being spared to have a program that will be full of thrills and a group of the most daring cowboys and cow girls have been arranged for, such as is rarely seen even in this part of the West. And much publicity has been given the occasion. The management is running in this issue of The Enterprize the second installment of advertising—the first ad appearing two weeks ago.

Mr. Cox has everything in "apple pie order" at the Double Heart ranch, which is located ten miles this side of Sweetwater, on highway 70. A big time is expected.

FARM FOR RENT

I want to rent my farm for 1934. With the renting of the farm I want to lease my teams and tools. I have a good deal for the right party. See me at once.

G. C. Bell,
Bronte, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch McCleskey and Mr. and Mrs. Milton McCleskey from Dublin were week end guests of their mother, Grandmother McCleskey and other relatives.

MRS. ALICE GENTRY DIES

Mrs. Alice Gentry died suddenly at her home near Carlsbad Wednesday morning. The body was brought back to Marie Thursday where funeral services were held and interment was in the Norton cemetery.

Deceased was 56 years old and leaves two sons, and other relatives to mourn her going. The sons are Evan Gentry of Norton and Will Gentry of Carlsbad. She was a gracious woman and has many friends who will sorrow at her passing.

INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Oliver Pittman of Bronte was seriously injured in a car wreck at some point west of San Angelo, Wednesday afternoon. He is in a hospital at San Angelo and is suffering from fractured skull. The Enterprise has not been able thus far to get the facts as to the wreck.

ATTENTION!

Don't neglect your eyes. If they burn, headaches, or objects blur when reading or doing close work, have them Properly Examined and glasses fitted if needed.

If your child's eyes hurt, or they are backward in their school work, have their eyes examined at once.

I will be in BRONTE, TEXAS, SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, at the City Drug Store, to examine eyes and fit glasses.

ETHICS OF BANKING

By MELVIN A. TRAYLOR
President
First National Bank, Chicago

Melvin A. Traylor

The function of a bank is, after all, a quasi-public one, and the banker who has no regard for the ultimate prosperity of his customers and his community will be very quickly condemned by the common sense of the latter, and will ultimately destroy not merely his own reputation but also bring about the downfall of his community.

In other words, the prosperity of a bank is founded upon the prosperity of the community and country in which it is situated.

Banker in Strategic Position

The banker has always held a strategic position in the business world, and obviously the first requisite necessary is that the banker shall be honest. I do not mean with "honest" merely that he should be honest to the extent that he would not embezzle funds or swindle his customers and clients. The honesty to which I refer must be of a much higher and greater type.

He must be willing to forego momentary advantages because in the long run the specific action may bring harm to his customers or possibly to business generally.

Sentiment in Business

Sentiment in business? Yes, there is nothing else. What is it that prompts agitation for reforms in every avenue of life? Why is it we are interested in better agriculture, better roads, better schools, better community life? It is sentiment; it is affection; it is pride; it is sense of duty.

It is faith, confidence, hope, the intangible that forms the very woof and warp of modern business, and nowhere in so large a degree is this true as in banking, and in no sphere of banking to so great an extent as in the country bank.

Truly the work of the country banker touches the life of the community at every point, from the wedding chancel to the cemetery, and at no point does it touch so lightly as at that of cold-blooded business consideration. It is sentiment from the opening hour until the closing hour, and many hours when no banking can be done.

Advertising Mistakes

A QUESTION before many of us is what change of advertising policy, if any, should be made in view of present financial and business conditions. It is perfectly natural for us to give consideration to some degree of retrenchment, but it is dangerous to let reduction in expenditure be such as to bring about a real gap in the continuity of the advertising. It is a common mistake for some advertisers to think that they can turn advertising on and off, like water from a faucet, and expect it to become immediately effective whenever they are prepared to resume operations. Advertising does not work that way. Temporary conditions should not influence us to make too serious inroads on the program of advertising, which can be wisely conceived only on a long term basis.—Francis H. Elison, President American Bankers Association.

FOLKS, COME TO THE SHOW

Everything is in readiness at Hearn park for the Western Rodeo, next week, August 29-30. No pains or expense have been spared in making every preparation for convenience of the large crowds expected. It will be worth your attending just to see Hearn park and the rodeo grounds. But, greater still, we are going to have a rodeo of such proportions and such thrills you can't afford to miss it. Get ready, folks, for the two big days of frolic and fun and spills and thrills. There will not be another like it till next year when we will give another of the same kind. adv.

WESTERN RODEO GROUNDS ARE READY

Floyd Modgling, manager of the Western Rodeo, and his force of men, have been a busy group the past two weeks, swinging the grounds into number one condition. But, the big job was finished Thursday and now they are waiting for the day when the big crowds are expected to be in attendance. The rodeo grounds are perhaps the best in all the West. They are located in Hearn park east of town. The pens and arena are built of large pine logs.

A BANK REFLECTS THE LIFE ABOUT IT

Loans and Investments on Which Condition of a Bank Depends Determined by the Kind of Business Surrounding It

POLITICAL and popular misapprehensions toward banking are due to little else than failure to realize that it is what the people themselves do that the condition of banking reflects, and that banking cannot of itself reflect events and conditions other than those that actually originate from surrounding circumstances. Francis H. Sisson, President of the American Bankers Association, says in an article in Forum Magazine.

The character of an institution's notes and investments indicates whether it is in the farm regions, a manufacturing center, a mercantile neighborhood or a great financial district, he says, and furthermore, besides identifying the institution as to its locality, a study of its notes will equally clearly indicate the economic conditions surrounding it.

"If a farm district bank's note history shows that its loans rise and fall with the normal cycle of production and marketing of the products of the region, it may be taken as an index of economic good health for the locality," he says. "But if, over a period, the loan volume shows a dwindling trend it may mean a region that is losing ground,—becoming exhausted or being robbed of business by another community. Or if a large proportion of the loans are not paid at maturity but are chronically renewed, or if stocks or bonds or real estate have to be taken as additional security, these too have economic significance, reflecting perhaps crop failures, over-production or inefficient, high cost farming methods in a highly competitive national or world market, such as wheat. Inevitably all these facts are reflected in the condition of the local banks.

City Banks Too

"If the loans of a bank in a manufacturing or merchandising field show a smoothly running coordination with production and distribution they, too, mirror a healthy economic situation. Or there may be here also signs that reflect growing unfavorable conditions, such as excessive loan renewals, over-enthusiasm and therefore over-expansion of credit extended to makers or dealers in particular products, and similar circumstances. Similar conditions apply to banks engaged in financing the activities of the securities markets.

"The foregoing is merely suggestive of the infinite aspects of the life outwardly surrounding the banks which form and control their internal conditions. Although these facts seem obvious enough, the discussions and criticisms that have raged about the banks often appear to set them apart as somehow separate from the lives of our people, casting forth a malignant influence upon agriculture, industry and trade from forces generated wholly within themselves.

"The truth of the matter is that the fate of the banks is inseparably interwoven with the fate of the rest of the people and of the nation. What happened to the country happened to the banks and what happened to the banks is in no way different or detached from what happened to the people. They are all part of the same pattern, of the same continuous stream of events. No one element in that stream can be called the cause of business depression.

"If the banks caused trouble to some of our people it was because they were irresistibly forced to pass on troubles that came to them from other people. These troubles impaired the values of their securities and customers' notes—and rendered some unable, in turn, to pay back to other customers their deposits that had been properly used to create these loans and investments. Unless these truths are kept continually in mind there is no such thing as approaching an understanding of the banking problem or of properly safeguarding the very heavy stake of the public in that problem."

The Bank as a Rebuilder

IN place of a 3 per cent loss on an investment of $40,000 a large New York savings bank is now getting 6 per cent profit on an investment of $80,000, because it had the good business judgment to spend $40,000 in modernizing a group of 40-year-old tenement houses on the lower East Side which it was forced to take over on mortgage foreclosure, says an article in the American Bankers Association Journal. A year or two ago the owner, who had always kept up his mortgage payments, began to neglect the property, it became run down and the tenants began to

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Coke ss
 Before me, the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared Mrs. Daisy McCutchen, County Treasurer of Coke County, who being by me duly sworn, upon oath, says that the within and foregoing report is true and correct.
 Mrs. Daisy McCutchen, County Treasurer.
 Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 14th day of August, 1933.
 Willis Smith, Clerk,
 County Court, Coke County, Texas.

106 CASES RELAPSE FEVER

Austin, Texas, August 24.—Relapsing fever or tick fever is sometimes confused with malaria, due to the similarity in the attacks of these two diseases. Relapsing fever is caused by a corkscrew shaped organism that is introduced into the blood by the bite of infected ticks, lice or bedbugs. The State Laboratory is at present doing some research work to determine with more exactness the life cycle of insects and ground animals in connection with the organism causing this disease. One hundred and six cases have been reported in Texas.

Relapsing fever is characterized by sudden onset, intense headache located in the front part of the head and pains in the back and limbs. The fever lasts from three to five days, then slowly declines. The temperature remains normal for about a week, when the fever repeats itself. There may be three, four or more such relapses. One attack protects against later attacks.

The prevention of relapsing fever is based upon sanitation or living quarters, personal and domestic cleanliness and the avoidance of tick and other insect bites. Suitable clothing, worn so as to prevent ticks getting in underneath, is of vast importance in the prevention of tick bites. Hight boots, leggings and puttees that are worn outside the trouser leg are effective, but in spite of their use ticks will crawl up the outside of the clothing. When they are found upon the neck they can generally be removed before biting.

The insects may be removed with the fingers, but a pair of small forceps or tweezers is better. With those instruments the tick can be seized by the head, close to the skin, and removed without danger of leaving the head imbedded in the skin. Care should be exercised against crushing the tick as the contents of the infected tick are dangerous. After removing or handling the insects, the hands should be carefully washed with soap and water.

FALL SUITS

"THE EARLY BIRD GETS THE WORM"

Re-orders on these same suits will cost considerably more... now is the time for action.

PATTERNS—

Plaids, checks and stripes are very smart; in subdued tones for the business man, and with bolder designs for the young fellows. Solid colors still hold their own in dark shades and are good in any man's wardrobe.

STYLING—

Snug waistlines with more freedom in the shoulders gives you that "well-dressed appearance" with plenty of comfort. These are shown in double or single-breasted models. Conservative dressers will find variations in these models that meet with their approval.

FABRICS—

"Close woven worsteds still predominate and are "West Texans' choice" for they do retain their shape and wear longer. Twist fabrics and tweeds are second in choice as well as service.

TAILORING—

Our high requisite for fine tailoring in every S. & Q. suit, regardless of price, has won us many a friend and customer. That's why an S. & Q. suit looks better longer and really retains its shape.

PRICES—

1932 prices were low. These are exactly the same for their corresponding qualities. It's just a matter of how far our early purchases will last into the season before we will have to raise them.
