Luke Trammell, West Texas Outlaw, Says, He Killed John Lamkin, at Blackwell

Mystery surrounding the foul-est murder ever committed in the annals of West Texas crime was cleared up Monday when Luke Trammell, West Texas desperado, confessed to the killing of John Lamkin, night watchman at Blackwell, on the night of May 31.

Several clues were followed out and several arrests made, but each time the party, or parties, arrested established their innocence.

John Lamkin, night watchman of Blackwell was found in the early morning of May 31 in an unconscious state, in the streets, suffering from gunshot wounds. He was rushed to a Sweetwater hospital where he lingered and suffered for some weeks before he died. He never did regain consciousness sufficient to give the inside story of the shooting.

But a gasoline station near where the night officer was found had been broken into which was a silent witness as to the cause of the shooting.

The people of Blackwell were incensed and a reward of $550 was raised among the citizenry of the town for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties.

The rangers, with Captain J. M. Robbins, with headquarters at San Angelo, took charge and have worked incessantly on the case ever since.

Trammell with his two brothers, Doc and Dave, of Coleman county, were committing depredations promiscuously in Runnels, Coleman and adjoining counties and had spread terror over a large section of that part of the country. He and his brother, Doc, were apprehended by officers in Coleman county and Doc was killed. Dave is still at large. Trammell was taken to Abilene for safe-keeping where he has been confined in the Taylor county jail.

When Trammell made his oral confession to the ranger captain the rangers took him to Sweetwater where he made a written confession to District Attorney George Mahon.

The officers took Trammell to San Angelo Tuesday night where he was kept till Wednesday afternoon at which time he was returned to Abilene.

John Lamkin was one of the best and most faithful peace officers in all this section. He had been night watchman for several years and always sought fearlessly to do his duty.

Since the guilty party has confessed to the crime, it seems, only a short time is needed, after court meets, to mete out punishment according to law to the guilty culprit.

GRANDMOTHER HENSON DIES

Mrs. Annie Price Henson died at the home of her daughter, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. McCleskey, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, September 6, 1933, after a lingering illness of months.

Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Abernathy, and was born at Cassville, Missouri, November 22, 1861.

December 12, 1876 deceased was married to John N. Henson. Her husband preceded her, departing this life, August 26, 1920.

Deceased with her husband and her parents came to Texas in an early day, landing in Hamilton county in 1884. In 1889 deceased and husband moved to Erath county, locating at Green's Creek. From that time they made their home there and at Stephenville—thus for more than forty years she made her home in that immediate vicinity. Nearly two years ago deceased had grown so feeble and her failing health she came to make her home with Dr. and Mrs. McCleskey.

And writing as one who knows as to the affectionate attention given her day and night, everything that love and skill could do, was done constantly for her comfort. But, old age had come on apace, and childhood had come again. Hence to all of us who knew "grannie" Henson, and loved her, we thought of her as we would of one in innocent childhood. So, when death came the other morning and took away her pure, sweet, gentle spirit and left the tired frail body so peaceful in the sleep of death, we did not sorrow as "others who have no hope."

Deceased and husband had born to them twelve children, ten of whom survive to mourn the going away of mother. The children are W. T. Henson, Stephenville; Mesdames R. R. McCleskey and J. W. McCleskey, Bronte; Ollie Henson, Cisco; Mrs. Rena Williams and Miss Mabel Henson, Corpus Christi; Miss Bessie Henson, San Antonio; Dee Henson, Breckenridge; John Henson, Dublin, Mrs. Gertrude Lattimer, Dallas. Besides, she is survived by two brothers and several grand children and a host of friends all over Erath county and at Bronte who are lonely because she is gone and will walk this earthly way with them no more.

An ambulance came from Dublin. Following a brief religious service at the home, Wednesday afternoon, by Rev. Wallace N. Dunson, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church, the body was taken to Stephenville.

Thursday morning, the plan was to hold religious services in the First Methodist church of Stephenville and then put the body away beside the companion of her young womanhood, there to sleep and rest undisturbed amid the scenes and the people she had known and loved for more than a third of a century.

This was befitting—for when only eight years of age she professed faith in Christ and became a member of the Southern Methodist church. In 1889 when she and her husband moved to Erath county they placed their church membership in the Green's Creek Methodist church. And there through the long years as they reared their family they lived and wrought for the good of all and worshiped God year in and year out in their accustomed place of worship, until they grew older and decided to move into Stephenville, only just a few miles away. So, it is no wonder after coming West to make her home here, her request frequently repeated was that she might be taken back, when dead, and be privileged to sleep there in the town and country which she so long had called home and rest there in the quiet place amid the familiar scenes dear to her heart because they were sanctified by a thousand memories.

Deceased and her husband, although they had twelve children of their own, yet they gave shelter and home and education and development and parental love to five other orphan boys

MARRIED

Mr. Wm. R. Johnson of Fort Chadbourne and Miss Della Harris of Blackwell were married at the editor's home, Saturday night, September 2, 1933, the writer officiating in the presence of Mr. J. G. Leach of Blackwell, and the bride's sister, Miss Adrienne Harris, and the editor's wife.

Just as we were ready to retire for the night, there was a call at the door of our home. When we responded we found it to be the bridal couple and the couple who accompanied them.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Harris of Blackwell and is a charming young woman, qualified in mind and heart to be the companion of the one to whom she has given herself in marriage.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of Fort Chadbourne, one of the pioneer families of Coke county. The groom was born and reared in the Fort Chadbourne community; he is a young man of excellent habits and his friends are congratulating him on the winning he has made in the one he has won as his life's companion.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Johnson returned to Blackwell where they will make their home.

C. C. Holder and daughter, Miss Mary Louise, returned from Clayton, New Mexico, Friday, where they had visited Mr. Holder's sister. Mr. Holder's mother, Mrs. Mary Holder from Bakersfield, California, returned with Mr. Holder and Miss Mary Louise and will visit here for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Emma Whitt after an extended visit with her son, H. O. Whitt and family, has returned to her home at Goldthwaite.

Those who have planted fall gardens have fine prospects.

that came their way.

Indeed, a great woman, a grandmother in Israel, has passed. And though she is dead, yet "she speaketh" For hundreds of years will not wash out of the character of the world the strength and grace and beauty her modest, womanly life has contributed to the race of man. "The bravest battle that ever was fought—

Shall I tell you, where and when?—

On the maps of the world, you'll find it not;

'Tis fought by the mother of men."

What Constitutes: "Good Moral Character?"

"What is a democrat?" is a question that has been perplexing the wise ones of the Roosevelt-Garner-Jim Ferguson political brand for some time.

But, a question of real, serious vital importance is:

What constitutes: "Good moral character?"

The famous (and infamous) beer bill has in it the two following provisions:

1. No female or male person under the age of 18 years will be permitted to work in a place where beer is sold.

2. Before a man can engage in the sale of beer, he must be 21 years of age and of GOOD MORAL CHARACTER.

But, what is "Good Moral character?"—that's the question.

What kind of person is one with "Good moral character?"

Who can, and who will dare to answer?

And will a person with sure-enough "good moral character" engage in the low and questionable calling of selling beer?

What questions—questions of moment, affecting the destiny of the race.

Who shall determine what "good moral character" is? If left to the brewers and the liquor dealers, they evidently believe—or at least, that is their teaching that one of "good moral character" and only that kind, should sell beer.

Why the above stipulation—that one must have "good moral character" before he can be allowed to sell the damnable poison? No such restraint is thrown as a safeguard around any other calling. Who ever heard of a law restraining the man or woman of questionable life from entering the dry goods or grocery business? No such thing was ever conceived except in the most wholesome, moral-inspiring (?) uplifting calling of vending booze.

The brewers (bless their virtuous hearts! are so afraid that booze-vending by persons who do not have "good moral character" would do hurt to their most worthy and helpful (?) calling—making drunkards of the youth of the land. They demand that all, both men and women, who would sell their non-intoxicating, (?) harmless (?) booze, like Caesar's wife, must be above suspicion.

If none but the morally excellent are legally eligible to sell guson "harmlessness," then it the Roosevelt-Garner-Jim Fer-must follow that the more morally excellent they are, more in keeping with the letter and the intent of the law will the arrangement be. Hence, it seems the brewers would make special inducements to get preachers and the teachers and the Sunday school teachers to give up their little, insignificant jobs and become beer-vendors for the brewers and thus engage in a noble calling—not only noble but a very distinct calling—so noble and distinct that none but those of "good moral character" are legally allowed to engage in the work. That is even a much greater distinction than being a preacher or teacher—for, in those, now and then, there are those who are immoral—but, in the noble (?) calling of operating a beer joint all except those of "good moral character" are legally prohibited from engaging in the worthy pursuit. And, too, the federal government, the national democratic party and the Jim Ferguson administration are to see that none but those of "good moral character" shall engage in the noble pursuit. It ought to be that with all these wonderful facts before them, the American fathers and mothers who voted for the return of this nefarious traffic, should put on a mad rush for places for their daughters to get a position in this noble work before all the positions are taken. For, the girl or woman who sells booze in a legal joint will have her credentials as to her "good moral character" against any and all accusers. For Roosevelt, Garner and Jim Ferguson in this wonderful thing they have foisted upon the people have declared that none but those of "good moral character" shall engage in booze selling in Texas—God of our Fathers, upon what times of brazen hypocrisy have we come!

Then, that other provision—none but "females * * * over 18 years old" shall be employed in "a place where beer is sold."

Why did they stipulate girls must be eighteen years old? If they had said "no woman under sixty-five years old" shall be employed, it would at least sound more like sincerity. But, they know that the age of consent in Texas is that of eighteen years. Hence, the dear fellows want to play safe in the promiscuous debauchery that is going to come when the machinery of legal booze is running again. God save the girlhood of Texas!

ANGELO'S EXALTED GROUP

There are fifty-two applicants for beer license in San Angelo. Of this number there are forty-eight white men, three women and one negro—a most distinguished group indeed!

Nearly every hotel and cafe in the town has applied for a license. A few places, however, are going to hold to old-fashioned decency. Soon as the list is complete we are going to print for the benefit of the families of our readers a list of the hotels and cafes that have not taken out a beer license—so, the families of those going from Coke county to San Angelo to do their shopping will be advised of the eating places to which they can go with their families, without their families being exposed to the drinking drunken hoodlums who will infest the eating places where booze is sold. Any hotel or cafe in San Angelo reading this, we will be glad if you will advise us of your intention not to make your place a booze joint.

BITTEN BY RATTLE SNAKE

J. H. Smith of Edith was bitten by a rattle snake, at his home Sunday morning.

Mr. Smith had gone down into a small corn field near his home to pull some weeds for his hogs. He said that he heard something singing, but he thought it was a katydid. But directly he felt a stinging sensation on his lower limb, just above the ankle. He made investigation and found a piece of flesh had been torn out and had begun to bleed profusely. He then began to look for the snake and found it coiled ready to strike again. He called to his daughter to bring a hoe, which she did and he killed the snake and cut off its rattles. He then told his daughter that the snake had bitten him.

Mr. Smith was brought to the Cottage hotel at Bronte and professional attention was given him. He has suffered considerably, but indications are that he will recover soon with no permanent bad after effects.

The American Legion and The NRA

BY H. O. WHITT

Just about fifteen long years ago, some two million broad-shouldered, tin-hatted American doughboys were fighting their way through hades in the Argonne to win an armistice, giving us peace from the weary war of blood shed and suffering. There is no need at this time to tell you what happened. It has always been the case with an American army—a victory.

Some of the best military minds in Europe told our boys that there was not a chance of victory—the enemy had every advantage.

All we had was the staunch pioneer American spirit that does not know the meaning of defeat. All we knew was that there was a job to be done, despite the fact that they had said it could not be done. True, many of the youth of our land failed to return—God rest their souls!—but, they died crying, "Whata U mean: 'it can't be done!'" And it was.

Friends, history today is repeating itself. We are in the thick of the most important battle in our whole history. Our battle today is against the depression. A battle to give every breadwinner a job and an honest living wage. A battle to feed the poor, starving women and children. A battle to force a permanent Armistice with the forces that brought us to the threshold of destruction. We are just recovering from four years of headache under Hoover and have undertaken a new deal, and a new day to our entire people.

Today, as fifteen years ago, we hear the same old story—it can't be done. The word, "can't" is only used one time by the American Legion. We "can't" fail is the only meaning we know for it. Are you an American citizen, out side the American Legion feeling the same way about it? We are asking again: "What U mean: 'it can't be done?'" It must be done. We as an American Legion believe in our constitution of equal opportunity. The freedom to live, work and learn. Our president is leading a night towards that end—are we loyal warriors? The American Legion has again enlisted for the duration of the war and we are urging that every man and woman get in line. There is no time for slackers. By a "slacker" I mean those employers who fail to enlist under the blue eagle and those consumers who will patronize an employer who does not fly the blue eagle. There may be a few conscientious objectors who would refuse to enlist for political reasons. Friends, in the face of the enemy, we must all be Americans and nothing else. The Constitution under which we live provides the privilege that we can do business with whom we please. Friends, watch that Blue Eagle sign.

The National Recovery Administration has three objectives: A job for everyone who wants it. A decent living wage and to ruin the cut-throat practices in industry and business, which have contributed largely to our present suffering and economic chaos. Surely there is no political barrier in such a platform. The NRA is the medium through which the individual can render his most valuable service. We must place patriotism above self. We must serve in the spirit for which we Americans are famous.

Now, buddies of the American Legion, in a time like this, let not there be a slacker in our ranks. Lets get this America out of the rut and then stand 100 per cent behind our disabled buddies. Friends, boiling it down, shall we approach another winter with millions of weary men and women treading our streets, waiting, waiting for the rainbow of hope, or shall we put our shoulder to the wheel and put America back on solid footing.

The Legion is crying, "Over the top—come go with us!"

They are dealers in extra standard groceries and pure food products.

Enjoying a large and well merited patronage from the city and surrounding territory.

There are few, if any, grocery dealers in this section who have attained a prominence equal to this popular firm for the accommodation of the public. They have an enviable record for cleanliness and sanitation.

Insisting that everything about their places be in accordance with the most modern scientific ideas regarding sanitation have thus assured the public that groceries which come from their store are pure and wholesome. Nor have they seen fit to take advantage of the general tendency to raise prices needlessly, as have many dealers, but on the other hand have been most moderate in selling.

By reason of their fair dealing with the public their patronage has increased until today the firm is visited daily by many, not only from its home city, but from the surrounding territory.

Whenever in need of anything in their line, our readers could do no better than to visit this popular store and be convinced and see the products which they offer in abundance and at prices that are extremely reasonable.

We are glad to compliment them for the policies adopted and to predict for this firm continued prosperity. But what we particularly call our readers attention to is the fact that this is a West Texas concern, operated by honest people and merits a liberal patronage.

BAKER-HEMPHILL COMPANY

BEAUREGARD at IRVING, SAN ANGELO

This Store has the latest Fall Styles now in stock

Low prices for the best goods, is the slogan. Under the direction of a management with wide experience at the head of departments. Quantity purchases mean lower prices. That is the secret of the phenomenal success of this store.

The function of this store is to supply every need of the buying public. There are three phases to this service, and all three are found in the superlative degree in this store. The first and primary interest to the buyer is quality and price. Realizing this the management of the store brings to bear its great purchasing powers in stocking the store with the best goods and latest styles at the lowest possible prices. Those in charge realize that their customers must be satisfied; that if they are not they will withdraw their patronage and advise their friends to do likewise. And conversely, they realize that a satisfied customer is an asset, not only in swelling the volume of business by his own purchases, but by advertising his satisfaction among his friends by word of mouth.

The second feature of the store is courtesy. It is a hard and fast rule among employees of this store that the person who buys a small article must be given the same courteous consideration as the one whose purchase runs into three figures.

The third requirement is service—with a capital S. In a great measure the success of the store is due to the fact that they have in stock every need of both men, women and children. They have fine clerks at the head of each and every department, who know what the public wants, and whose duty it is to see that that want is satisfied, whether it is large or small, costly or cheap. They must see to it that the latest style is in stock, that the design is tasteful, that the price is the best offered anywhere.

This store has fulfilled these obligations to the public. And as a result it is the Mecca for the shopper, who knows that here he will find what he wants at the right price.

DR. ROY CROWDER

Chiropractor

5TH FLOOR WESTERN RESERVE BLDG., SAN ANGELO

As we think of the affliction that mankind is incidentally subjected to we look at the smooth exterior of our body and wonder why.

But the more we know about ourselves the easier we can understand cause and effect.

In the first stages of life the principal thing to be noticed is the brain, the brain, being first must be the medium through which Nature Builds a Complete body.

The baby is born with its organism working normally. As long as nature can continue its constructive energy the baby will grow and remain normal in every respect until, like an old machine, it will finally wear out. If we were once well and normal why are we sick now?

By making analysis of the body he can detect any displacement, remove the pressure that causes disease. Good Health follows naturally.

The human body is so constructed that it is unnatural for disease to creep in without cause. The nerve system designed to give perfect health to all organs and keep them in repair. If through abnormal curvature, jolts, strains, falls or wrenches at some time in life the movable bones of the spine are displaced even slightly, they press on these nerves and obstruct the flow of life energy. Weakness and disease result in the organs that these nerves supply.

Look into Chiropractic—the new health science, consult him, information will cost you absolutely nothing, then pass the word along to some suffering friend.

We wish to call the reader's attention to Dr. Roy Crowder who has a reputation above reproach and is among our most successful chiropractors.

MRS. J. D. BLAIR DIES

Another chapter of sorrow in the misfortunes of the J. D. Blair family was written Sunday afternoon, when Mrs. J. D. Blair, wife and mother of the family, died at Iraan. Deceased was the fourth member of the family to die since November last. The last days of November a little girl was killed in a car wreck. Some weeks ago typhoid fever victimized some members of the family. Other members were stricken until every member was a victim except one, a little girl, about ten years old. A few weeks ago, a son, about sixteen years old, died. About two weeks ago, the husband and father died—then, the death of the mother Sunday, making the fourth member of the family to die within ten months. Three others of the children, little girls, are now in a sanitarium at San Angelo and one not expected to live. The little girl who has escaped the ravages of the fever, is almost a nervous wreck from what she has undergone and the effects of a car wreck in which she was a victim three weeks ago, at which time, her uncle, Ollie Pittman of Bronte was severely and dangerously injured. Indeed, the shadows have fallen continuously upon the family through these months and now the four surviving sick, little orphan girls

JOE B. BLAKENEY

Wool Buyers and Ware House

601-603 S. OAKES ST., SAN ANGELO

Our industrial edition would not be complete without prominent mention of the business operations of this firm and their extensive operations in the way of conducting a fine house for the purchase of wool, mohair, twine and paints, and also sells wool and mohair on commission.

Commendable publicity and valuable advertising is given our section by this progressive firm, far and wide, dealing as they do on a large scale in this line and their up-to-date operations are of the most extensive nature and add to the commercial efficiency and attractiveness of this section as a market for wool and mohair.

Through the years they have been doing business they have always been most fair and honest in their negotiations and afforded the public a valuable market for the stock they handle.

It is very important that the producers should have a market that is up to the standard and this section is fortunate in having such extensive dealers.

There are many small dealers, but it takes men to handle a large volume of business, to be able to get the right selling markets and be able to pay best cash prices. These facts attract trade to the section and make it a better place in which to live and transact business.

If we did not have an establishment of this kind much of the products would have to be shipped to the other cities and the seller would not receive a price that compares favorably with the prices paid by this company.

There can be no questioning the fact that this company is one of the most important commercial firms of this section; its management is in the hands of men who know the business in which they are engaged from A to Z.

SAN ANGELO BUSINESS COLLEGE

—15 Years in San Angelo—

14 S. IRVING IN SAN ANGELO

On a visit to this place one will instantly feel the atmosphere of business idealism and general educational interest. By its dignity, the visitor is immediately impressed that here is a good, wide awake business place wherein students find efficient, specialized training. That it is well deserving of its established reputation for thoroughness and quality, is witnessed by its chief asset, which is the personality of the instructors as revealed in their wholesome, dignified appearance, their earnestness in dealing with the students and their direct and intelligent discussion of school matters with the visitor. Many firms in this city and for miles around have secured well trained employees thru this reliable school.

This well managed business college has the practical atmosphere of a large office, and this has a marked influence to give the student a business-like viewpoint and poise.

The work is individually planned, equipment, text books and instructions are in accord with present-day demands, and at this institution, a business education means "a definite amount of training along definite lines for definite purposes." Each pupil who leaves the school is adequately prepared to keep pace with the demands of modern methods, and in this edition we endorse this as a thoro school for students, as it is a reliable institution.

The management maintains in the institution only such policies and practices as will in the community and elsewhere reflect credit upon the cause of education. Everything new in modern business is taught here, therefore we recommend this place to the public without hesitation. You should visit this institution to appreciate what it is doing for West Texas in preparing future business people.

HAGELSTEIN MONUMENT COMPANY

606 S. CHADBOURNE ST., SAN ANGELO

We all wish to show our love and respect to our beloved departed ones. What then could be a more fitting memory to those who have passed on than a monument of marble or granite? This is the last tribute we can pay to their loving memory.

The custom perhaps is centuries old and no doubt will go on centuries more. That it is a sentimental one is true, but without the sentimental things of life, life would indeed be barren. A monument is the leading symbol of love and respect. If you desire to have a monument erected at the resting place of your departed loved one.

They will be able to assist you in selecting a suitable token. They carry a large stock of monuments ready for carving of names and dates and hence are ready to make delivery upon very short notice.

These monuments cannot help but inspire respect in all those who visit the sacred spot. They are silent sentinels of reverence to every grave. They remind us, too, of the fate that will some day be ours. Let these sacred memories be symbolic. Have your monuments erected by this place.

They not only carry a very adequate stock but are also equipped with the newest, most improved machinery for the production of this work. They are able to give you any desired finish or style at a very reasonable price. Their carving or lettering is done by men who are experts in their line and you will find the edges perfectly smooth and without flaw.

If you are in the market for marble or granite monuments, don't fail to call upon this establishment. Their products are superior in every way.

In this business review we take great pleasure in referring our readers to Hagelstein Monument Company.

This is the leading institution of the community which the public has learned to regard as headquarters for dependable tire sales and service where motorists have learned they get the utmost values for their money.

This reliable establishment is under the direction of men of long experience in this particular service and have equipped themselves for serving all motordom with a guaranteed quality of tires and tubes and requisite accessories.

As every age has its problems so it must have its leaders, and the essential quality of the leader is his ability to sense the needs of his generation, and to supply them.

This is the greatest of all industrial ages. Its demands are along industrial lines but in all essentials they call for the same quality of leadership—the spirit of the pioneer who sees ahead of his time and has courage to lead the way.

Such is the spirit which, from the beginning, animated and still controls the Firestone organization.

No more notable proof could be found than the production of the first balloon tires—Firestone. Full-sized Balloon Gum-dipped Cords. Not only did Firestone pioneer the low pressure principle, but, carrying on with exhaustive experiment and test developed the complete balloon equipment, since approval as standard by the highest automotive authority.

In giving the balloon tire to the world, and in discovering the means of making it long wearing and economical through gum-dipping, Firestone is only living up to the program of pioneering effort which won leadership for the name and the product.

This firm also handles batteries which are manufactured by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company.

We are pleased to compliment the well known establishment upon their sterling quality of the product they have seen fit to supply the public.

6,000 CHILDREN GIVEN PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

Austin, Texas, September 6.—Over 6 thousand children ready to enter school life this month have been given complete physical examinations since the first of May, according to Dr. H. N. Barnett, Director Bureau Child Hygiene, State Department of Health. These examinations were accomplished under the program sponsored by the Parent Teacher Associations throughout the State.

These Summer Round-Ups of preschool children were initiated by Parent Teachers Associations in 1925 and carried on in cooperation with the Bureau of Child Hygiene; they have been so successful that each year has shown increased interest in this movement. These examinations and corrections are done by doctors and dentists and this group of apparently healthy children showed at least 1 physical defect the majority of which could be remedied without much cost or loss of time.

The aim of these Round-Ups is to have the child entering school 100 per cent free from physical and mental defects before the child enters school. Sometime these can be corrected by health habits of more rest, better food, exercises for posture, etc. The chief advantage of such health work is not only to discover such defects but to help the parents to strive for better health for their children and to convince them that physical and dental defects uncorrected will prove to be handicaps in later life.

Dr. Barnett also stated that parents of children over six months of age should have the children immunized against diphtheria as soon as possible. No one should expose their children to the dangers of this disease when the prevention of it has been so definitely established. After receiving the injections the child can be tested to make sure that he is immune.

"Barrels of fun" are in store for Bronte next week—and the best of all, it's going to be absolutely free.

A medicine show is billed for Bronte beginning Monday night. The Tate-Law medicine show, known already to everybody in all the country, will be here. And this is known as one of the best shows of its kind in all the West.

And the Tate-Law show does an unusual thing—before going to a town for an engagement, although the show is absolutely free, if the town has a newspaper they advertise the week before, announcing, their show will be in that particular town at the stated time. Hence, our readers will find the announcement of the coming of the Tate-Law show to Bronte for next week. Read it and get ready to come and bring "ma" and all the kiddies—and, yes, bring "gram'ma" and "gram'ma"—for they will enjoy the show too.

M. Fairstein of San Angelo is opening a dry goods store, in the Grimes building, between the City Cafe and R. J. Epperson, the tailor.

Speaking to The Enterprise editor with reference to his coming to Bronte, Mr. Fairstein said he believed "better times are just around the corner"—that soon as the NRA program is in full operation conditions will improve decidedly. After looking around Mr. Fairstein stated that he knew of no place in West Texas where conditions are more favorable than in Bronte.

Mr. Fairstein stated that when his complete shipments arrive and his stocks are on display he will have a stock of merchandise that will surprise the people of Bronte and the Bronte trade ter-

The Bronte gins carry a "Notice to Farmers" in this issue as to their daily schedule of operation.
