THE DIVIDE CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

THE DIVIDE CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

Its Origin; School District; Plant; Finances; Superintendent; Faculty; Board of Trustees; Its Thorough School Work and Most Excellent School Spirit

The Divide—the area of country embraced in the Divide Consolidated School district, in Nolan county, is a wonderful country. It is a vast tableland. It embraces thirty-six square miles. It is called "Divide" because it is the dividing line between the water sheds of the Brazos river on the East and the Colorado river on the West. It is a land of ranch, farm and garden. It is a land of transcendent beauty. Its soil is as fertile as the Valley of the Nile. It is a community of ranch and farm homes which, on every hand, disclose that its people are thrifty, prosperous, contented and happy. The vast expanse of the valley lands stretching out before one's gaze, far beyond his power of vision, impresses the stranger as he travels across the prairies, dotted here and there with excellently wise, it is also an interesting community in its educational ideals and advancement. Indeed the romantic steals in also in its educational history. In the present district of the Divide Consolidated School, in the beginning, the first settlers of this rich and fertile tableland, as was always true of the pioneers, built small school houses. Quite a few little schools came into existence, as the people came and the country was settled. There were several small schools in the present area of the present school district. The first school in this district was the little school at Dora. And the romantic feature of this is in the fact that the first teacher in the first school in the present district of the Divide school, was a lady, Miss Josie McLendon, who was a first cousin of the superintenrooms for both boys and girls, with hot shower baths in each dressing room. Through the year the superintendent has been able with the splendid cooperation of his fine faculty and the patrons of the school to provide a fund sufficient with which to seat the auditorium with folding chairs. The chairs will be bought in the near future.

Prof. J. S. Armstrong, Superintendent.

Prof. J. S. Armstrong is the present superintendent of the Divide Consolidated School. Prof. Armstrong is well and favorably known in Bronte, having been superintendent of the Bronte school through two of its most prosperous and successful years of school work. Prof. Armstrong has a legion of friends throughout the Bronte school district who will be glad to know of the wonderful progress the Divide school is making.

The Faculty

The members of the faculty of the Divide Consolidated School and their addresses are as follows:

Mrs. P. R. Elliott, Principal,

Bronte school, the writer feels almost like he is writing about "home folks," when he writes of the personnel of the faculty of the Divide School. But, were the above not true, the writer would know from the thorough and perfect harmony between Superintendent Armstrong and his faculty that school work and progress of the worthwhile kind is being achieved.

High Degree of Work

In his visit to the various rooms of the school Monday the writer found the entire school building a veritable bee hive of school activity, as every department of the school was actively engaged in its work. And only is the subject matter of text books taught thoroughly to the pupils, but the higher nobler elements of human character and deportment are being instilled in the minds of the hearts of the pupils. The other morning only the writer got inside of the vestibule of the school building when he had an impressive reminder of the above fact. Just as he entered the hallway of the building from the vestibule, a fine-faced lad of about ten years was just going out of the building. Seeing the are fifty feet by one hundred and twenty feet. It faces to the south and has 18 commodious, excellently lighted and ventilated class rooms, with offices for both the superintendent and principal of the school. There is a large, commodious study hall, with the library annexed and so arranged that the teacher in charge as librarian can see through a glass partition between the lobby of the library and study hall, thus enabling the librarian at all times to have those in the study hall under her direction. The library has 1,000 volumes of books adapted to the needs of the student body. There is also a modernly appointed and equipped laboratory, not often excelled by any public school, in its arrangements and equipment. Everything is supplied for making chemistry tests as modernly and as thoroughly as can be found anywhere. The building is steam-heated with the very latest in a steam heating plant and is electrically lighted. And there is running hot water in every room where hot water is needed.

The auditorium and gymnasium are combined in one building and is an excellent building and well arranged for the purposes for which it was erected. The building is seventy-five by ninety feet. It has a large and well arranged stage, with modern curtain facilities. It has dressing constructed and well kept country homes, that he is in a community of people, far beyond the average, with reference to the abundance of material things they enjoy. To pause, gaze in any direction, and behold the horizon kissing the earth, one feels that, somehow, he is in a land of enchantment, interesting in its history, ideals and achievements, so much so, that it becomes to him as a land of romantic dreams.

In the heart of this land of enchanting beauty is located the school plant of the Divide Consolidated School. And as this remarkable community is interesting in its physical aspects, like-dent of the present large school.

The School District

The present school district was created and the large modern school plant of the district was erected in 1931. The doors of the present school building were opened for occupancy at the opening of the 1931-1932 school session, in September 1931.

The School Plant

The present school plant consists of the main school building, the auditorium and gymnasium, and two teacherages.

The main school building is three-stories, counting the basement. It is constructed of beautiful grey brick. Its dimensions

It's over—the 1934 WTCC convention. And, "believe it or not," it was a "whizzer."

San Angelo, as is always her wont, "did herself proud" in the big way she entertained the multiplied thousands of guests within her gates during the big convention first of the week.

And, next comes "the Arkansawyers"—a crowd larger than that at the WTCC convention in San Angelo first of the week is anticipated by those who are directing the arrangements for the big annual gathering of those from "the old bear state" and their friends.

A deed that is shocking beyond human conception for cruelty and infamy was that of the kidnapers at Tucson, Arizona in taking that little innocent, helpless six year old girl and chaining her in a gopher hole for eighteen days and nights, in a place where she could stand only in a half erect position, with her body covered with vermin and with nothing but soiled food upon which to subsist. Surely, hell itself, with all the damned spirits of unjust men, would cry out against such brutal atrocities and infamy, much less the citizenry of our country with ideals.

As the vast majority of the people hold. And, if ever mob violence should be invoked the above instance will never be surpassed as a justifying provocation. Yet, it must not be, for the majority of the people to favor or encourage mob violence regardless of the crime committed—for that means the overthrow of established government, the fruit of which is anarchy and the overthrow of law and order. In such a state every man becomes a law unto himself, which is equal to saying that "might is right."

The District as a Whole

The fact that the district embraces thirty-six square miles impresses one that the Divide Consolidated School is far beyond following statement: The district has seven school buses and those buses travel a distance of one hundred and eighty-three miles daily, carrying the 279 children enrolled as pupils in the school to and from school in perfect safety, and without a single child missing a day from the lack of transportation service. The average attendance for the school year of nine months has been between 95 per cent and one hundred per cent. A remarkable showing indeed! But, in this splendid record of attendance there is one who has figured prominently, though he is not directly associated with the school. The gentleman is Mr. R. W. Boyd, county commissioner of the precinct in which the school is located. Commissioner Boyd has bent his energy and directed his work constantly as commissioner to put the roads in the very best condition possible with the funds and facilities at his command with which to carry on his road improvement program. Many miles of the roads have been graded and much has been caliched and the work of road improvement is going on constantly. Only four days of this school year were lost and that was due to an epidemic of measles. In order that the children thus stricken might not lose their places in their classes and to overcome the epidemic, school was suspended for the above length of time.

School's Affiliation Rating
The goodly number of scholars under the consolidated system under which the Divide school is now operating; the large and modern equipment in the way of a school plant and the high standard of excellence of the school's curricula and the absolute conformity to all state requirements have put the school in most excellent relations with the State school system. It now has twenty credits of affiliation, which is remarkable for a rural school. And the strict conformity to the state's requirements has put the school in excellent

To

The Divide Consolidated School

The record of your achievements as a community and an educational institution is a matter of which every citizen of Nolan county should be justly proud. You have set the pace for others to follow.

My Candidacy

For re-election as your County Judge is before you. In the forthcoming Democratic Primaries you will choose some one to be your servant as your county judge. If you believe I have served you faithfully and conscientiously. I will appreciate your vote, and hereby solicit the support of every citizen in the Divide Consolidated School District.

Chas. W. Lewis

Candidate for County Judge of Nolan County

"We Must Educate or we Must Perish," is even more true today than when first spoken. Hence, Divide Consolidated School you have

Builed Nobly and Wisely

In the splendid modern school plant you have erected. It brings an education within reach of every boy and girl in your district.

BUILDING IS OUR DAILY TASK

Hence we are interested always in every structure that goes up in Nolan county and all the country surrounding Sweetwater. For, if we do not supply the material someone else does and that is evidence that you bought your building materials at approximately correct prices. Any time you need building materials of any kind, come to see us.

School's Taxable Values and Financial Resources

The main building was erected at a cost of approximately $35,000. The auditorium and gymnasium cost $10,000. And both buildings are well worth the money.

The school has received state aid this year to the amount of $7,138., apportioned as follows:
Teacher's salaries $4,038.
Transportation expenses-3,000.
Industrial 100.

In connection with the above, the federal government has apportioned and paid to the vocational agriculture department of the school, $1000.

But, one of the best features of the school's finances is the fact that because of its superb district, large number of scholars, unexcelled physical plant and strict conformity to state regulations, the teachers' salaries and transportation costs this year have not cost the school district one penny. Appropriations earned by the school in the above

As an instance of the thoroughness of the work done in matters, the federal and state governments have paid all the above expenses.

ANOTHER FINE BULL IS RECEIVED

Another fine bull calf from the Kothmann herd at Mason has been received by Prof. H. A. Fitzhugh, instructor of vocational agriculture in the Bronte school.

Two calves had already been received from this famous herd and placed with two of the vocational agriculture boys of the Bronte school. Those boys are Clark Glenn and Dean Morrow.

The bull received this week is brother to a bull calf that the owners of the herd have refused one thousand dollars for. Garland Williams has taken the calf received this week. Some records show the results are expected in feeding and developing the calves this year by the V. A. boys.

KERN, THE "IRON MAN" BRINGS BIG CROWD HERE

Jack Kern, the "Iron Man" of San Angelo, came to town Saturday. He announced his coming in last week's Enterprise, setting out what he could and would do, in the matter of pulling a load with his body.

His advertising seemed to go to "the spot," as the largest crowd was in town since the Christmas holidays.

Kern did all he advertised, he would do and pleased the large throngs that lined both sides of Main street.

He advertised that he would pull a truck loaded, total weight to be five tons, with a rope around his neck, and he "delivered the goods." He had a new Plymouth car out from San Angelo, furnished by Allen Sales Company of that city. O. H. Barrett, car salesman for the above company, drove the car. The car had in it, besides the driver, A. F. Landers, L. T. Youngblood and the writer.

The "iron man" had a rope around his neck and tied to the rear of the Plymouth, while with his hands gripped to the loaded truck, like a vise, the Plymouth started and slowly behind it, moved the loaded truck in the hands of Kern. Then, he took a Goodyear tube, supplied by Caperton & Ivey local Goodyear dealers, and tied the tube around his body and to a rope fastened to the Plymouth and pulled the truck. Bud Maxwell, Conoco distributor, furnished the loaded truck. After pulling the truck, Kern asked that fifteen men get on the truck. Thirteen men and two young ladies mounted the truck and again Kern the "iron man," won, for he pulled the five ton truck, with the fifteen persons on the truck. When it was over the Goodyear tube was not injured in the least, yet it had been put under that strain.

One of the interesting features of the show was the performance of the Plymouth. Mr. Barrett knew how to get the best out of the car, and it just gradually and slowly got down to pulling and went right off with its gigantic load. And aside from its marvelous pulling power the late model of the Plymouth is a beauty in all its interior and exterior appointments. The Plymouth made a lot of friends for itself in Bronte, Saturday, as likewise did the "Iron man."

MRS. I. N. EUBANKS DIES

Mrs. Carrie Adams Eubanks, wife of I. N. Eubanks, of the Cow Creek community, died at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coleman, San Angelo, Friday afternoon, May 11, 1934. Interment was in Fairview cemetery, Saturday afternoon, following religious services, by Rev. W. H. Hawkins Jr., of Fort Worth, assisted by Rev. Lewis Stuckey.

Deceased was born at Bronte, March 29, 1889, making her to be forty-six years old when death claimed her.

Deceased was the daughter of I. E. Adams, one of the oldest families in this part of West Texas.

For some weeks deceased had been ill. She was carried to a hospital in San Angelo. Her husband was advised to take her to Dallas for treatment. He was waiting for her to get able to make the trip. Thinking she had gained strength sufficient, he was planning to go with her when she suddenly became much worse from which she never rallied.

Deceased and husband were married September 20, 1908. To them seven children were born, all of whom survive, and all of whom were present at the funeral, as follows: Alex Eubanks, Bronte; Mrs. Alvah Brown, San Angelo; Mrs. Lavada Richards, Wingate; Mrs. Juanita Coleman, San Angelo; Isaac Jr., Emma Lee and Ruby of Bronte.

Besides the above deceased is survived by her father, two brothers and two sisters: Ennis Adams Jr., San Angelo; Tom of Dragoon, Arizona and Mesdames K. C. Mayes, San Angelo and Lillie Hennessey, Holbrook, Arizona. Mrs. Mayes and Ennis were present for the funeral as was her father also.

The attendance was large at the funeral and the floral offerings were beautiful, attesting as to the large circle of friends of deceased and the family. The services were brief but simple and comforting. Rev. Hawkins spoke of the comfort there is in Christ—to those who believe in Him, especially, when death comes and takes away loved ones. He spoke beautifully of the friendship between deceased and family and himself. He related as to the expressions of faith deceased had spoken about to him in the past, and of her faithfulness to her family.

The bereft husband and children and others of the family have the sympathy of all in this hour of their sorrow.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

At the spacious farm home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Labenske, on Sunday, April 29, there was a gathering of the Robbins family. The occasion for this gathering was the 80th anniversary of the birth of J. A. Robbins, or "Uncle Joe" as he is affectionately called by all. Uncle Joe was born April 20, 1854. For the convenience of some who could not otherwise attend, the gathering was held on Sunday instead.

From Lubbock, Eastland, Winters, San Angelo, Sonora, Fort Chadbourne, Robert Lee, Edith, and his home community, Hayrick, they came thronging until 34 relatives and two who were not relatives, had arrived, and gave Uncle Joe greetings and wished him many returns of the day.

Uncle Joe is a typical West Texan—six feet, with a barehead, no higher now than when he was twenty years old; wears a moustache, is fond of reading. And though his hearing is bad, he enjoys company and loves to talk of old times.

Uncle Joe has never married. He lost his father while still a boy and he has devoted his life to the care of his mother and his sister, Mrs. Sallie Hannaford, who was left a widow with three small children soon after the close of the Civil War.

The mother died, the children grew up and left the old home to establish homes of their own, until there was only Uncle Joe and Aunt Sallie left. For a number of years they have made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Labenske. Mrs. Labenske is the daughter of W. A. Robbins, a brother of Uncle Joe, the only other living member of Uncle Joe's family.

Uncle Joe has always stood for law and order; the establishment of schools and churches, and the building of good roads. He is a kindly, unassuming man, an exponent of the square deal. Indeed, his example would save the tax-payers a lot of money, if universally followed.

He refused to apply for a pension for Aunt Sallie, though she had been a Confederate War widow for these many years! Until a few years ago when he a serious illness from which he never fully recovered, brought him to death's door, he said he could take care of Sallie without any help from the government. When he got up he agreed for her to apply for the pension, which she received in due time.

Uncle Joe is also an old trail driver. In the span of his life he has seen the slow moving ox and mule teams replaced by the railroads and later the hacks, carriages and rubber-tired buggies replaced by the automobile and the airplane.

He has seen West Texas grow from a few sparsely settled towns and open range to an empire with millions of inhabitants. The boast of the cattleman, the farmer, the sheepman and goat raisers, with paved highways to replace the deep ruts and bogholes of old.

The weather man was kind. The sunshine, the birds' songs, the perfume of the flowers adorning the rooms vied with the appetizing odors of viands with which the table was laden. A huge angel food cake with "A Happy Birthday" lettered in icing, held the place of honor. They did not take up "twelve basketfuls of fragments" but there was a sufficiency and to spare.

But when thoughts of those two vacant places would come, of Aunt Sallie and Mrs. W. A. Robbins, the sobs would be checked quickly as possible—they died within a week of each other last March. The loving kindness and tender solicitude each for the welfare and comfort of the other, of this brother and sister has been beautiful to see.

The day passed—the guests departed, with tender goodbyes and best wishes.

A Friend.

Leroy Price of Lubbock was a Sunday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Price.

Leonard May, a brother of Mesdames L. Johnson and T. C. Price underwent an operation for appendicitis at El Paso Saturday. The report is that he is doing excellently.

the school the following essay by Miss Juanita Sanders, a member of the senior class, prepared Monday, May 14, as part of her regular work in English, is here given. Pupils are allowed only the appointed time in the day's program of the school for preparing lessons of whatever nature—then the preparation period must close. Miss Sanders wrote the following for her class work. This young lady won first place in essay writing in Nolan County Interscholastic League Meet a few weeks ago and also won first place in the district league meet in which Divide school is located:

THE MONOTONY OF BEING GOOD

"You should be good" is an expression heard every day by millions of people. Certainly we should be good, but dear me, it's a task. One of the hardest things I have ever undertaken is the art of being good. When the task becomes hardest, I think of this:

"Good, better, best,
Never let it rest
Until your good is better,
And your better, best."

before me I can't keep from being somewhat rude when a nice-nice person is around.

Even with this ancient motto

Have you ever been around a person who could sit hour after hour with her lips in the same prim line, hands idly folded in her lap, and her feet nicely tucked away? If you haven't, I can't explain the murderous feelings I have upon such occasions. My hair is never in place, my hands when folded in my lap look simply too ridiculous, and I can never be still more than five minutes at a time. Being around a person who is all the things I am not, but would like to be is provoking beyond words. I'd like to jump up and disarrange her hair and dress, and make her look for once as if she weren't a perfect lady. Such feelings are barbaric, you say. But can civilization ever wipe out the savagery in all of us?

Civilization, or society, has drawn up more than one iron-clad convention that we all obey, but society doesn't mean that we are as changed as these conventions make us seem. We merely do as society dictates because we are afraid of being ostracized. If each person would do as he so desired in social matters, much of our so called politeness and refinement would be shown up for what it is, only sham. I have often heard people say, "I'm not afraid of the world." But I've yet to meet the person who isn't.

I'm no exception to the rules of society; I'm as good as I am because I'm afraid to be I. Some day in another world I expect to be as savage as I would like to be.

Activities of Divide 4-H Club

The Divide 4-H Club has an enrollment of 33 members. The officers are: Juanita Sanders, president; Betty Jo Street, Vice President; Gladys McKee, Secretary; Kathrine Holt, Reporter; Willie Pearl Holt, Counsel Delegate and Mrs. Elliot, Sponsor. The Club has had seven meetings with the agent and several with sponsor.

The three major demonstrations are well under way with one being completed.

The Bedroom Demonstrator, Catherine Lewis, has completed the improvement of her bedroom. Her room will be judged this week in the county.

The Garden Demonstrator, Ruby Bradberry has thirty varieties of vegetables in her one-half acre garden plot. Although her demonstration has only begun she has one of the best gardens in the county.

Food Preservation Demonstrator, Kathrine Holt, reports that she has canned several containers of food and her demonstration has only started.

In addition to the three demonstrators all cooperators have completed their bedroom goals.

A bedroom Achievement Day will be held Thursday, at Catherine Lewis' home. There she will exhibit all her accomplishments. Kathrine Holt and Vivian Lewis, last year county winners, will also exhibit properties of their rooms.

The members of the organization are: Lyda Lee Armstrong, Mary Boggs, Theresa Boggs Nita Mae Boyd, Ruby Bradberry, Clara Mae Brown, Dorothy Brown, Edith Cross, Marie Clayton, Lela Dunlap, Kathrine Holt, Willie Pearl Holt, Catherine Lewis, Willie Faye Monroe, Jessie Lou Monroe, Gladys McKee, Bernice McKee, Tommie Ruth McCoy, Nelma Jo Maynard, Beatrice Perkins, Agnes Perkins, Imogene Pool, Ferriell Rotan, Juanita Sanders, Betty Jo Street, Lillian Sproul, Marie Stevens, Oleta Clayton, Narvelle Akins, Mae Bradberry, and Freddie Linn.

My Candidacy

For election to the office of tax assessor and tax collector of Nolan county is based on the fact that this is a new office—the offices of tax assessor and collector having been consolidated in the last legislature. I have served you faithfully as I know how as your tax assessor and if you will honor me by electing me to the combined office of assessor and collector I pledge you the same careful, considerate and impartial service as I have tried to render. Thanking one and all for their vote and support.

R. C. CRANE

Have your vote and influence for County Attorney, Nolan county at the July Democratic Primary. He and a host of friends will appreciate it.

He has had years of experience in such offices and is honest, capable, and reliable. He has always stood for the square deal.

DIVIDE SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Divide Vocational Agriculture

Divide V. A. boys fed 16 calves out this year and are planning on feeding more next year.

Calves fed out sold for from 6c to 10c per pound. Boys who fed home-grown feed made money on their projects. Of course they did not get rich in feeding one calf, but if the made as much as $8 or $10 they made as much as any of the big feeders made. If they had fed 50 calves with a profit of $8 per head they would have made $400. The feeding of the calves was not taken merely to make money but to learn the art of feeding cattle on home-grown feeds.

Harry Rotan calf won second in county and second in district show and sold for 10c per pound which brought him $117.57. He and his big brother plan on buying them two registered Hereford heifers with this money.

Seven hogs were also fed out. Two Hampshires were bought from Waymen Percifull, V. A. student at Bronte, and fed out by Powell Armstrong and Jeffie Ensminger, the latter winning the grand champion of the Mid-West Fat Stock Show.

Two of the Poland Chinas were bought from Will Gideon of Bronte and fed out by Malcolm Jones and Otis Seward. One other was bought from Ran Davis, V. A. student of Bronte, and fed out by A. G. Crover. Malcolm Jones' Poland China was over all others in its class.

Terracing

The Divide V. A. boys have run 24,640 yards of terrace lines for the farmers of the community to be put on the water level. Most of the land is practically level and terraces are not needed. But still most of the farmers are beginning to realize that their farms need to be on a water level.

Culling for Egg Production

Each V. A. boy of the V. A. class has culled his home flock which totaled 2,000 birds. The class has also culled about 2,000 birds for other farmers of the community, making a total of about 4,000 hens culled.

Shop Work

The V. A. boys have constructed the shop equipment, such as work benches, saw horses and many other conveniences that need be within a shop.

The class has made self hog-feeders, chicken feeders, sawsharpening, soldering, raftercutting and various other farm conveniences.

The purpose of the V. A. shop is to teach the boys to do the things they should know how to do on the home farm.

Judging Contests

The livestock judging team consists of Norman Finch, Beal Breashear, J. R. Payne, Jr., and Vernon McMillan. These boys made the Lubbock contest, and Norman Finch was high point man in judging beef cattle. On April 16 these same boys entered the state judging enjoyable trip for the boys.

F. F. A. officers attended the state convention at the Dallas Fair.

They were Powell Armstrong, president; Buren Hammonds, secretary; Malcolm Jones, and R. R. Petty, advisor, attended the state convention and also the Dallas Fair.

There are many other activities of the V. A. boys, too numerous to enumerate here.

R. R. Petty, Instructor.

First Grade Accomplishment

A desire to read was developed during the first six weeks through illustrations of pictures without words—then pictures with words, or sentences were displayed.

The children began to show their desire to read, in a reading readiness by asking questions, about the reading on the pictures. They were then given a book. Several months were spent on learning to read the first book. After finishing the first book, rapid progress was made—the children completing a book in less than six weeks.

Spelling was taken up at mid-term. The children showing their readiness for spelling by asking to learn to spell words used in everyday conversation.

Counting, language, health and nature study are also things in which they have been interested during the year.

A small number will be retained in this grade because of their irregular attendance.

The equipment I suggest for this room is a modern Beacon Reading Chart.

Wilma Allen, Teacher.

1934 Junior Class

The Junior Class of 1933-1934

has included twenty-one active willing students.

Their class activities have been a keen point of interest throughout the entire year. Their energy and characteristic of "going ahead" have kept them busy representing their school and carrying on class obligations.

Each member of the class wears a yellow, gold filled bracelet—a class emblem. Three-fifths of the expense was paid out of the class treasury.

A play, "Aaron Boggs, Freshman," was given by the Junior class, May 11. Part of the funds will provide a Junior-Senior banquet in honor of the Seniors.

Divide School Superintendent Appreciative

In behalf of the Divide school, the superintendent, the faculty, the board of trustees, the patrons and pupils, I wish to express deepest appreciation to all those who have so kindly shown an interest in our school and its work.

I especially mention the following:

To County Superintendent Joe A. Stewart for his untiring and efficient aid, always, for the Divide school, in all its varied needs and activities.

To the Sweetwater citizenship for unstinted cooperation with Divide in all its undertakings, and especially the business men who contributed to our sale during the carnival last fall, and to the NEHI people for the liberal supply of soda water furnished us on that occasion.

To The Bronte Enterprise editor for his kindly interest in our community and the wonderful help it means to our school.

To the patrons of our school and particularly to the school board for loyal, whole-hearted cooperation from before the school began till the present, and to the Parent-Teachers Association for the hard fight they have continually made to keep the community enthusiastic and the school spirit pleasant.

To the teachers who have, to the last one of them, been regularly on the job and congenially, as well as obediently, endeavoring to carry out our every plan for the advancement of the school.

J. S. Armstrong.

ALL DAY PROGRAM AT BROOKSHIER, SUNDAY

On an invitation the editor and wife spent Sunday with the good people of Brookshier community, between Maverick and Miles. It was indeed a joyous day.

The occasion was that of Mother's Day. A program had been arranged by the Brookshier school children, under the direction of Prof. Jaeggli and his sister, teachers of the Brookshier school. The afternoon program consisted of songs, readings and closed with a playlet—in keeping with the spirit of the day. The children did excellently and memories tender and sweet as heaven were awakened in the hearts of all present.

At the noon hour a delicious lunch was spread picnic style and was relished by all.

The Brookshier people are a most excellent people and it was a day of happy fellowship that the writer and wife shall cherish through the years.

Mrs. F. K. Popplewell from Lubbock is a guest of Mrs. L. Johnson and other friends this week.

Commodities will be issued from a truck, somewhere on Main street.

W. H. Jobe, and daughter, Miss Marguerite, were in Bronte Wednesday morning, returning to their home at Sweetwater from San Angelo where they had been in attendance at the WTCC convention. Mr. Jobe took time to run in, give us "the glad hand" and to inform us that both Mrs. Jobe and himself are eligible to membership with the "Arkansawers"—that his ancestry hailed from the old state, and Mrs. Jobe's grandparents and parents joined "the forty-niners" and trekked across the continent to the fabulous gold fields of the golden state. Fine Mr. and Mrs. Jobe, come along—you and all of your kind are "welcome as the flowers in May."

COMPETITION WANTED IN BALL PLAYING

Wednesday night late, when, it is supposed, all ordinary mortals, and those who are not ordinary—except printers and the night watchman, are asleep, a couple of gentlemen called at The Enterprise office, and requested that we announce that the "hashers," the "crack" team of ball players in Bronte were seeking somebody to play ball against them, who, at least, knew what ball playing was, if they could not play. In fact, the gentlemen in question created the impression on the editor's mind that really, there is but one ball team in town and that is the "hashers." "For," queried the two gentlemen, "why should an aggregation claim to be 'a ball team' unless they can play ball? The 'hashers' have taken five out of six games with the 'pill rollers.' Of course, having nobody particularly to play against 'the hashers' have the field almost to themselves. If the 'hashers' had somebody to play against, they would play some real ball."

Not knowing the personnel of the "pill rollers," the editor does not know whether the gentlemen who did all the above loud talkin' were members of the "hashers'" team or whether they were just "rooters" for the "hashers."

Anyhow, the gentlemen in question were very "matter of fact men."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this way to express our deepest thanks to our many friends for the kindness shown us during the illness and at the death of our loved one, Mrs. Carrie Eubanks. We especially appreciate the beautiful floral offerings. May God bless each of you is our prayer.

Farm Truck Fees Reduced

Farmers of Texas who own their own trucks were helped materially this year by a measure passed by the present legislature. This is the bill which reduced by one-half the license fees on the farmers trucks. One of those whose active support was responsible for the passage of this measure was Representative Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo who is now a candidate for the State Senate.

NEIGHBORS WORK HIS CROP FOR REPRESENTATIVE

I. N. Eubanks, whose home is in the Cow Creek community, west of Bronte, feels that no man ever had better neighbors than he. Recently, Mr. Eubanks had the sorrow of the death of his wife, who was ill for some weeks before her passing. Mr. Eubanks necessarily fell seriously behind with the cultivating of his crop.

Wednesday morning, early, Mr. Eubanks came to town to attend to some business. He was delayed longer than he intended, but when he reached home he found his field thoroughly alive with men, teams and farm implements—the men were his neighbors, who, without conferring with Mr. Eubanks had gathered to work out Mr. Eubanks' crop for him. Those in the number were L. S. Sims, H. T. Sims, Marshal Sims, M. P. Coleman, Frank Davis, Mr. Conner, Leonard Fletcher, Orb Kiker, Chester Kiker, Buck Ivy, J. S. Smith, Carl Brock, O. Faries, J. B. Faries, Loyd Payne, W. P. Eubanks, Jr., Larkin Pruitt, Thomas Carter and Mr. Hoots.

Mr. Eubanks asks The Enterprise to state that he is deeply appreciative to these good neighbors and friends beyond words to express.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

In the proper column of this issue of The Enterprise is the announcement of Hon. J. M. Simpson, Jr., of Concho county, as a candidate for this, the 92nd representative district. The district is composed of Concho, Runnels and Coke counties.

Mr. Simpson has been quietly surveying the field before making his announcement publicly in the newspapers.

Mr. Simpson is another of Texas' self-made boys, the son of Hon. and Mrs. J. M. Simpson who are pioneer citizens of this section. Young Mr. Simpson's father is an attorney and has held many offices of trust in his home county, such as county attorney, county judge and so forth and has had much to do with shaping the affairs of Concho county for a third of a century.

"James," as young Mr. Simpson is called by his hosts of friends all over his home county and elsewhere, is a young man full of energy and noble ambition and is fighting to reach the top of the ladder of achievement. Having been tutored under his lawyer father he has a good conception of law and of civil government and of the things with which the office he seeks has to do.

A most excellent young gentleman in his personal habits he is a living, breathing refutation of the thought some times advanced that a young man must "sow his wild oats." Instead of wasting the years of his youth he has invested them in hard work and self improvement. Hence, he has much more grasp of the affairs of life and of things civic than multitudes have when twice his age.

"James" is twenty-five years old. He has many medals and diplomas of different kinds from schools. Wm. Pitt was at the head of the English Government at 25. Joan of Arc led the French army when she was a girl and Esther saved the people from the wrath of Haman and he and ten sons were hanged and 75,000 of her enemies were put to death.

It is all ok. to be old, but young people can and have done things worthwhile.

Mr. Simpson in his platform is in sympathy with the working man and favors many things of great importance to the masses. Mr. Simpson will be around in due time to see the voters and to discuss publicly the things for which he stands.

Meet Mr. Simpson, readers of The Enterprise.

J. A. KNIGHT WRITES OF REHABILITATION PLAN

To the people of Coke county:

Our Government is undertaking to put over a program of Rehabilitation, that is, a program that is intended to give destitute people a chance to get back on their feet and to move forward on their own power once more.

The gist of this program is to bring people who are badly in need of help and the people who can help them together in a manner that should be agreeable to both sides.

It is not to be a program of charity, but one of cooperative business, which is always good business. The immediate profits from this program can not be expressed in dollars and cents, but in greater peace, harmony, confidence and safety.

Please ponder these four words and especially the last one "Safety." How would you like to see a condition of violence in our country, wherein you could not call your property your own, and your life and the lives of your loved ones would be in constant danger?

If you are able to assist some destitute brother who is trying to help himself, and you do help him, then you will be helping our government to establish the condition of Peace, Harmony and Safety, mentioned above. But if you can help him and do not, then you will be helping to bring on the second condition above referred to, which has been threatening our fair nation for some time. Ask yourself what likely would have happened last winter in our own beloved Texas had it not been for C. W. A. money and work. But that was only temporary relief.

What the Government wants to do now is to establish a system that will produce permanent results of general betterment, and by helping your Government you will be helping your self eventually, if not now.

In every county there is an advisory committee consisting of six members who serve without any money consideration. The duties of this committee are broad and important.

In each community of the county there is a local or community committee consisting of five members who serve gratis, and who have charge of any matters pertaining to the working of this program in their locality. Coke county has nine of these committees.

The success of this Rehabilitation program will depend almost entirely on the cooperative spirit that is manifested generally, between these committees and the people, and the wholehearted unselfish efforts put forth.

Detailed information can be obtained at the Coke County Relief Office, but all applicants for assistance must apply to their local committees for such aid.

J. A. KNIGHT,

Card of Thanks

Look for Better Flavor with Electric Cooking

You wouldn't believe that Electric Cooking could make so much difference in flavor! Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices—with the addition of practically no water. And in the electric oven the heat rapidly sears, roasts, and prevents excessive shrinkage. Baked foods are deliciously and uniformly browned. Grilled steak has the flavor of charcoal broiling!

Electric Cooking retains so much more of the nourishing elements of the food that you can actually buy less meat or vegetables and still have just as much to put upon the table!

Electric ranges cook food with a speed and economy which compare favorably with any other kind of fuel! Let us demonstrate our new ranges. Of course, there is no obligation—and attractive terms can be arranged.

This is the "Electrical Age." A Hotpoint range will be another step to your All-Electric Kitchen.
