Tennyson's Oldest Pioneer Woman Dies

The last surviving woman of the first settlers of the Tennyson section of the country passed away Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Sam Sayner died. She was not only the last of the early women of Tennyson community, but as far as 'The Enterprise' is advised, this pioneer resident was the oldest surviving woman of the first settlers of Coke County. She and her husband, Sam Sayner, who died in 1933, came to the Tennyson community in 1882.

Deceased was born at Brenham, Texas, Aug. 16, 1856 and departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Derrick, March 2, 1938, making her to be eighty-one (Continued on last page)

MRS. BOB KEYS WILL BE LEADER AT P.T.A. TUESDAY

The Intermediate grades will feature a special number at the March meeting of the local P. T. A. next Tuesday afternoon in the High School Auditorium at 3:15 o'clock.

Following this, Mrs. Milton Wylie will read a message from the State President of the Parent-Teacher Association. Included on the program will be a sing-song, directed by Mrs. W. Bowden, a talk on school duties, by Mrs. D. Hull, and a round-table discussion. Mrs. Bob Keys will be Leader of the meeting. Hostesses include: Mrs. R. R. Ash, J. A. Perciful, Mrs. F. S. Higginbotham, Mrs. Bryan Glenn, Miss Grace Ratliff, and Miss Sybil Ellis.

The many friends of the family will be glad to know that Mrs. Frances Selz of Robert Lee is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

WINTERS LIONS HONOR THEIR LADIES WITH BANQUET

Winters was at its very best, and in its happiest mood, Friday evening of last week—that is, this was true of a goodly number of their princely men and queenly women.

The happy occasion was that of the annual banquet, honoring the wives of the members of the club, which is tendered by the club. About fifty couples were in attendance.

Through the gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Q. McAdams the writer was their guest at the banquet, which was a most delightful affair from every angle throughout the entire program. Wit and good humor and eloquence and happiest fellowship prevailed throughout the evening. All care of everyone in attendance was thrown away, and the hours given to enjoyment of the features of the program by each one present.

The banquet was held in the American Legion Hall. The banquet hall and the tables were appropriately, tastily and beautifully decorated. The American flag was stretched on the wall, flowers made beautiful the tables. A delicious two-course menu consisting of chicken and accessories and cherry pie topped with whipped cream was served by the Home Economics department of the Winters' school.

George Hill, president of the club, presided over the occasion. John Norman was introduced by the president as toastmaster. Mr. Norman proved himself adept in the role he held—hence throughout the evening he kept the group in a spirit of hilarity and merriment with his jesting and humorous remarks about almost everybody present. The Lions, their ladies, and even those who had been given a place on the program came in for humorous recognition, or presentation by the toastmaster.

The evening's program began by the group facing the flag on the wall, and singing the first verse of America. Invocation by Rev. Chas. W. Estes followed.

Jno. Q. McAdams introduced the visitors present and in his usual pleasing way made the visitors to feel the real genuineness of the welcome extended.

The "tucker twins" were first on the program. Their numbers were vocal selections—the two popular girls (now almost into young womanhood) maintained their record as pleasing entertainers. If it should happen that you do not like Winters, it is because you do not know the "Tucker Twins"—Annette and Jeanette. Winters is their home and if you knew them you would like Winters because it is their home.

Miss Sarah Lou Stevens pleased her auditors with a medley of numbers on the violin. Miss Stevens is an accomplished violinist and her numbers Friday evening delighted those who heard her.

An amateur picture show was thrown on the improvised small screen on the wall of the banquet hall by A. T. Smith, which proved to be not only a surprise to the group but many features of it were hearty laugh provokers. The picture was purely local, showing many of the public buildings, business houses, street scenes, and residences of many of the members of the club in Winters. The humorous feature of the pictures was the Lions themselves. They were (Continued on page two)

Local Baptists Plan a Home Coming Day

The Spring Revival of the First Baptist Church will begin Wednesday night April 6, with Miss Emile Beck, a returned missionary from Brazil helping. Miss Beck is an interesting speaker, a wonderful soul-winner, and she has a dynamic personality. She will speak at the beginning of each night service and will lead in personal work.

We plan to have Miss Beck speak in the school auditorium as often as possible. The pastor will do the preaching in the evening services at the church.

The church voted to have a "Home Coming" on the 10th of April, which will be Sunday after the meeting starts. We

T. H. Rogge, local manager of the San Angelo Telephone Company advises us that the new spring directory of the telephone company is now being proof read. The directory will be out May 1.

Bronte's 7th Annual FFA Stock Show Highly Successful in All Features

"This is the best bunch of dry lot fed calves I have ever been called to judge, in all my work in judging livestock."

Thus quoth E. J. Hughes of San Angelo, an expert at judging livestock, after he worked and examined, and re-examined and had worked until he was perspiring freely, as he prefaced the announcement of the winners in the group of 15 dry lot calves that were presented in the FFA Stock Show here Wednesday. And indeed the judge, it is thought, had about as much of a job on his hands as a judge at a beauty show where human feminine pulchritude was the question at issue. For it was indeed, to the one not trained in judging the qualities of animals a matter that would have been impossible to decide—for the animals were so nearly perfect that a decision could not have been reached.

The showings both of calves and hogs were excellent, the attendance at the show was good and the weather was ideal. Hence in every feature the show was a pronounced success.

A milk fed Poll-Angus calf, fed out by Abe Caudle, was awarded the championship, with steers owned by Joe Rawlings and Louis Bridges winning second and third places respectively. A silver Loving Cup, prize for showmanship, went to Louis Bridges for the best exhibited calf.

A total of $76.50 for calves, and $10.00 for hogs in prize money was distributed among the twenty boys of the vocational agriculture class entering stock in the show. Funds for the prize money were contributed by business men of Bronte and others of the community.

Winners in the light weight dry lot class were calves owned by Louis Bridges, first place; Alfred Williams, second place, and Calope Moore, third place. Prizes in the heavy dry lot class went to Joe Rawlings, first place, Louis Bridges, second place, and Abe Caudle, third place. Placing in the milk fed class were steers owned by Abe Caudle, first place, and J. P. Lambert, second place.

Others entering calves that placed were, in the dry lot class; Noel Perciful, Francis Pruitt, Joe Rawlings, Alfred Williams, Bobbie Modgling, Winston Modgling and Noah Pruitt.

In the hog exhibit first place in the Gilts went to Bruce Allard; second place to Archie Leathers, and third place to Norman Brunson, with J. B. Olivias' entry placing last. A Barrow entered by Dwain Pruitt won first place, with Robert Brunson's taking second.

J. T. Henry, local vocational agriculture teacher, was in charge of arrangements for the show. Winners in the calf exhibits were taken to San Angelo immediately after the judging was completed, where they were entered in the Fat Stock Show, which begins this morning.

DAILY MEDITATIONS REV. J. H. THOMPSON

"Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord, hear my voice."—Psa. 130:1,2.
(Read Matt. 5:3-16.)

You can almost hear the sound of sobbing. This cry for help, so earnest, so pathetic, has risen out of a great sense of need. God always takes notice in a situation like that.

Can it be that we have missed the sense of his presence, and the visitation of His power, because we have felt self-sufficient?

In this quiet moment as we think deeply about it, we see how dependent we are. And for these deep soul hungerers of ours, who but God is adequate? When we admit our needs, the door of our hearts swing open and God comes in.

To any man who feels his need, who prays, and persists, God will come in.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled."

Angelo Fat Stock Show Opens Today with Largest Showings Ever Offered

San Angelo has on its true western garb today—that of the regalia of the cowboys and cow girls. The occasion is the Fat Stock Show and rodeo which will be in progress there for four days.

The show opens this morning with the largest number of exhibits ever offered and the entertainment program in the rodeo line is said to be the very best.

Quite a few of the San Angelo business firms have their individual invitations in this issue. Read them and visit these establishments—they are Bronte's friends.

W. M. S. MEETS WITH MRS. KNIERIM

The Methodist Women's Missionary Society met Monday in the home of Mrs. Robert Knierim.

Rev. Thompson gave the first two chapters of "The Life of Christ" a Bible study the ladies are now studying.

The ladies are to give a political Rally Banquet some time in the early part of June.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames: Allen Butner, B. Modgling, Jess Perciful, S. A. Kiker, Dolie Wylie, Crume, O. H. Willoughby, Floyd Bridges, Rev. Thompson, Fewell Sims, and the hostess.

C. J. Bannowsky of Ballinger visited the Bannowsky family here this week.

TWO RABBIT DRIVES

The Enterprise is requested to announce two rabbit drives for next week.

The first is Tuesday. The drive begins at W. H. Mackeys and the hunters return there for dinner.

The other is Wednesday. The drive starts at Marie and hunters return there for dinner.

Everybody is invited to attend and to bring their guns and ammunition. Plenty to eat for everybody. The editor acknowledges an invitation to dinner. Thanks.

C. W. Bannowsky, Jr., and wife and baby were guests last week of Mr. Bannowsky's parents in Bronte. Mr. Bannowsky came from Long Beach, California, where he had been stationed in the aviation service for some time.

One Minute Sermon

BY REV. A. V. BRADLEY

"THREE REASONS WHY SOME CHRISTIANS DON'T DO CHURCH WORK"

"Son, go work in my vineyard today."—Matt. 21; 28b.

1. Some do not do church work because they have not been asked by the pastor or church. The Lord assigns tasks to the individual, just as he gives talents to the individual.

2. It takes consecration to do church work well. It calls for faith, prayer, and perseverance. Many are too flippant, not stable enough in faith. Too much of the world in one hand to lend the other to the Lord. We love the things of the world more than we love God. To consecrate talents, time, and money to the Lord should be the desire of all. If it is right for one it is right for all to do it. If it is a sin for one not to do it, it is a sin for all not to do it.

3. Because it is work, some refuse, saying, "I don't know how; I don't have time; get someone else to do it." God asks us to "Study to show ourselves approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." One day out of seven belongs to the Lord in a way. Shall we not give the time that is His to Him. Furthermore, someone else cannot do the work which God has mapped out for you to do. If you do not do it, it will be left undone, and you will have to face it at the Judgment Day.

So may we each one resolve to do for Christ and His Cause what we can with what we have, and we will be blessed for doing our best.

Joe Spoons from Ballinger was visiting his brother, O. D. Spoons and family at Fort Chadbourne today.

Hon. J. Bryan Bradberry of Abilene, representative of the Abilene district in the legislature was the speaker of the evening. Hon. Bradberry, growing fast in popularity over Texas as a lawmaker and as a pleasing after dinner speaker, if possible surpassed himself on this occasion. "Texas—Its Past, Its Present, Its Future" was the topic the speaker claimed upon. And without the least semblance of affectitious flattery, the address was a masterpiece of impassioned patriotic eloquence. The speaker took his auditors on the ship of "Historical Facts," and carried them down Memory river, to the Alamo and San Jacinto—and they saw and heard the fathers of the Lone Star State as they maneuvered and talked and planned for "a Great Texas." Then becoming more modern in his mode of travel, the speaker took his hearers on a flight in the airplane "Imagination," and they saw with him the vast domain of this great State—from the Gulf where the gleanders nod their heads in the breeze and throw kisses at the incoming waves of the sea to the far north where the vast plains stretch out before one's gaze, beautiful as the garden of Eden, and from East Texas where the pine trees are so tall that they almost tickle the feet of the angels, yonder to the far west, where the majestic Rio Grande divides this vast domain from the land of the Aztecs. "But," said the speaker, "Texas' greatest heritage is in its people—their vision, their spirit, their patriotism and fidelity to the principles of democracy as bequeathed to them by Travis and Houston and on down to Jim Hogg." Indeed, it is to be regretted that this fine deliverance of patriotic thought, based upon the facts of the glorious past of Texas and the forecast of the future justified by existing conditions is not committed to manuscript so that it can be preserved—for, it is a gem of thought and appealing sentiment worthy of a place in the archives of the land.

Following the pre-arranged program a brief "fellowship" driving time in hours and minutes from town to town. These figures are printed in red ink appear directly under each of the usual mileage figures which give the distances between cities and towns. A footnote points out that the driving time has been calculated for normal traffic conditions and dry roads and that allowances should be made by motorists who drive unusually fast or slow.

The improvement is also in use by one other major oil company and is understood to be under consideration by several others. This strong emphasis on reasonable driving time rather than the factor of distance-to-be-covered should do much to promote highway safety, say Conoco officials.

moment was had in which others present were called to speak. In this group the writer was called but he was "too full for utterance," and only extended congratulations to the hosts of the evening and to the ladies that they were the wives of a group of such splendid gentlemen.

FDA SUPERVISOR TO HELP FARMERS WITH FINANCING

The regular monthly meeting committee will be held in Robert Lee next Tuesday. Mr. Guy of the Farm Debt Adjustment H. Tomlinson, district FDA supervisor will attend the meeting, and invites all debt-distressed farmers wishing advisory assistance to come to the Court House between the hours of 3 P. M. and 5 P. M.

Farmers attending the meeting should bring with them complete information about their debts, to enable the committee to review the case and make suggestions for a solution without undue delay. Whenever possible, creditors should also attend so that both sides of the problem can be presented and both parties receive equitable consideration.

The Farm Debt Adjustment committeemen have no legal authority to force adjustments, so the only solution they can offer is one of friendly arbitration. Such a settlement can usually be reached when both creditor and debtor are brought together. Sometimes interest rates may be low red; or the period of loan extended, or in case of excessive debts a discount may be secured.

Between meetings farmers and creditors should contact one of the county committeemen, who are S. E. Adams, Robert Lee, Gerald C. Allen, Robert Lee, and Frank Keeney, Bronte.

Carter Rawlings of Water Valley, who loves fine cattle almost as a heathen loves his god, was attending the FFA Show Wednesday, and expressed himself as highly delighted with the exhibits.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES

years, six months and sixteen days old when she was called to pass from this earthly existence. Since the death of her husband deceased had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Derrick. She had been an invalid for about five years. But through it all she was patient and uncomplaining. Deceased and husband were married at Sanpronia, Texas, April 1, 1874. Five children were born to them, only two of whom survive—two daughters: Mrs. Olive Derrick and Mrs. Maud Terrell, both of Tennyson. Besides the daughters, eight grandchildren and seven great grandchildren survive. Funeral services were held at the Tennyson Baptist church Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. M. C. Golden of Ballinger, Rev. D. D. Shaw, pastor of the Norton Baptist church, and the writer. Tribute was paid to the memory of the deceased as a pioneer mother and grandmother and the church choir sang the old-time hymns of the church—the songs that Grandmother Sawyer sang in the days of her earlier life. She professed faith in Christ in early girlhood and united with the Baptist church. She and her husband were charter members of the Tennyson Baptist Church. The husband of

CITIZENSHIP CLUB

The Citizenship Club of the Marie School held its regular meeting. Clinton Hurt was elected good citizen. It was decided to have a playlet for next meeting. Charlotte Hurt and Floyd Baldwin are among those absent from school because of illness. The boys baseball team went to Oak Creek last week. They beat us badly.

We had church last Sunday afternoon. The Methodist pastor, Rev. Crain, from Norton, preached. Next Sunday the Baptist pastor, Rev. Bradley, will conduct the services.

We are to have a rabbit drive very soon in our community.

The P. T. A. met last Friday night with a large attendance. Miss Fay Harwell, the County Health Nurse, spoke on communicable diseases. Maeford Hart, Jack Baker and Miss Smith furnished music before and after the program.

Deceased was the one who named the Tennyson post office, naming it after the English Poet, Lord Alfred Tennyson.

Deceased and husband came to the Tennyson section of the country in 1882 and hence had part in establishing this part of the country. No family had more to do with Coke County in its early day history than the Sawyer family.

A woman of culture and beautiful character, she grew old beautifully and has bequeathed to her children and grandchildren and to the world at large, a legacy that surpasses gold.

Following the religious services the body was brought to Fairview Cemetery at Bronte and put gently away, beside the body of her husband to take its last rest, undisturbed until time is no more.

Pall bearers were Ben Brooks, Charley Myers, Willis Reed, J. L. Stephenson, Sam Gaston and H. C. Hedges.

Frank Keeney, undertaker, was in charge.

plan to have many of the former members of the church present who have moved to other places. This service will be in honor of our senior Deacons. We will have morning services, then dinner will be served; after the friendly get-together, we will have an afternoon service. We want, especially, all of the elderly people present, whether Baptists or not, you are welcome. We want a record breaking crowd at Sunday School on this Sunday also. May we, as younger people, show our respect to and regards for our older people who are so vital to this community.

Our church received a challenge from the church at Robert Lee. The contest is for the Sunday School. Committees from the churches have met and decided on some rules of the contest. The contest will be based on presence, Bibles brought, studied lesson, and new pupils. This is to last for three months: March, April, and May. We feel sure that this program will create more interest in both Schools and the good church at Robert Lee will be hard for us to beat, but with the help of everyone we will make them hustle for first place. It is agreed that at the close of the contest both churches will meet on halfway ground and have a picnic, the losers furnishing the fun for the occasion.

The pastor will be away in a revival meeting from the third Sunday in this month to the first Sunday in next month. We are to assist Rev. W. E. Lovelace and the Calvary Baptist Church of Vernon, Texas in their Spring revival. This is a good church in a good town and we are looking forward to having a great meeting. Miss Emile Beck of Gainesville, Texas will also assist in the personal work. Pray for us.

If you are not attending Sunday School some where else, we would be delighted to have you next Sunday.

BRONTE HI WINS CONSOLATION PENNANT

A tired but victorious volley ball team returned to Bronte Saturday, bringing with them a Consolation Pennant, championship award of the Volley Ball Tournament staged in Blackwell Saturday.

Competing teams were Robert Lee, Roscoe, Highland, White Flat, Wingate and Bronte. The local team was downed by their first opponent, Roscoe. Coaches of Wingate, Blackwell and Bronte then drew for first opposing teams in the Consolation, with Wingate and Blackwell beginning the play. Bronte played the winner, Wingate, and after defeating this team, downed Roscoe's B team.

Ten girls made the trip, including: Alma Jane Cumbie, Kathryn Whitt, Marjorie Percifull, Gladys Simpson, Gladys Waldrop, Bernice Bannowsky, Ernestine Buford, Mildred Stinbaugh, Georgie Ruth McCutcheon and Ruby Darlene Simms. Miss Mildred Clyborne, volley ball coach accompanied the team.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS FURNISH CHAPEL PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

The Home Economics girls, under the direction of Miss Raper, had charge of the Chapel Program last Wednesday, presenting a comic skit with an all-girl cast.

Hortense Pruitt took the part of the dissatisfied bachelor dish washer. Maurice Scott, Irma Ruth Adair, Irene Pruitt, and Goldie Gray were the unsatisfactory applicants in his quest for a wife. The final choice was Kathryn Whitt, a dutiful dish washer.

The wedding scene followed, the bride and groom attended by Frances Sanders, flower girl, Ernestine Pruitt and Christene Vanzandt as train carriers, Atta Bell Stephenson and Charlie Enson, bridesmaids, Marjorie Percifull, ring bearer, and Helen Beaty as best man.

The Wedding March was played by the Kitchen Band, composed of Muriel Murphy, Irene Laswell, Dorothy Meador, Clementina Parker, Muriel Ash, Chloe Borders, Mary Ruth Youngblood, Wanda Muston, Ruby Keesee, Dorothy Truelock, Mary Joe Robbins, and Betty Joe Glenn as band director, with La Marr Chapman at the piano.

Members of the Home Economics Department also sang some kitchen songs to the tune of currently popular songs over an imitation radio hook-up. Alma Jane Cumbie gave a reading, "How to Cook a Husband," over the radio.
