BRONTE, COKE COUNTY, FRIDAY AUGUST 11, 1939

NUMBER—31

Old Time Citizen Dies After A Long Illness

John Caudle died at the family home, in the west part of Bronte, Friday afternoon late, August 4, 1939, after a long illness extending over several years. More than six years ago the health of deceased began to fail. He underwent surgery at San Angelo and later went to the famous Mayo clinic at Rochester Minnesota and submitted to the second operation. The operation for a time seemed to be successful, but after awhile the health of deceased became impaired again with the same trouble. While he was able to be out and look after his affairs yet he was never strong. Some months ago his strength began to fail him and though he was not bedridden all the time, yet gradually his condition grew more critical. Then death came and brought relief and took the sufferer away.

John A. Caudle was born at Purvis, in Erath county, November 11, 1886. He came to Coke county in 1903, making him to have been a resident of the county for more than 35 years.

Deceased and Miss Mabel Hill were united in marriage November 1, 1908. To them 4 children were born, three of whom survive, with other loved ones, to sorrow over the passing of their father. The children are Mrs. F. B. Wyatt, Eola; Miss Nona Caudle and Abe Caudle both of Bronte.

September 13, 1938 deceased and Mrs. Josie Lambert were united in marriage, who survives to sorrow over the passing of her companion.

Besides the children and companion, other surviving members of the family are the aged mother, Mrs. Mary J. Caudle, Bronte; and 3 brothers, as follows: Newt Caudle, Hamlin; Elihu Caudle, Bronte, and Dave Caudle, Stephenville. Dave was not present at the funeral.

Deceased was a member of the Wingate Primitive Baptist church and had been a faithful member for many years. Elder C. R. McClure, Primitive Baptist minister from San Angelo, conducted the religious services Saturday afternoon, at the Bronte Baptist church, aided by Rev. J. E. Eldridge, pastor of the Bronte Baptist church.

John Caudle was a good man, an upright and law-abiding citizen, faithful to life's responsibilities with a high regard for the finer and better things of life, and above all, was a devout Christian gentleman. He has left his family and friends a legacy worth more than gold. The Enterprise joins with all the other friends of the family in deepest sympathy in the hours of their sorrow.

OPLIN CLUB TO INVADE BRONTE WEDNESDAY AUG. 16

According to report of Bill Wrinkle, manager of the Bronte ball club a re-organized team from Oplin boasting of the best pitcher in that section of the country combined with a fast infield and a slugging outfield has announced that they are coming to Bronte next Wednesday, August 16, to give Bronte one of the worst beatings that the local club have ever suffered.

If the Oplin club is half as good as they claim to be this will be a good ball game and all fans should be present to see the performance and witness the outcome.

Baptist Revival Will Begin Next Wednesday Night

The revival meeting at the Baptist church begins August 16, and will continue through the 27. Rev. R. Neal Greer will preach for us and lead in this campaign. Bro. Greer is pastor of the Baptist church at Bangs, Texas. I have known him for a number of years, and have worked with him in revivals during that time. He is a godly man, a good preacher, and a lover of souls. You will find in him a friend who will be sympathetic toward any problem of your life. Personally, I am happy to have him come into our midst. Put him on your daily prayer list, and ask God to peculiarly endow him for this meeting. One man can do his best, but he can't accomplish the most unless he has the help and co-operation of others concerned.

Mr. Hollis Willis of San Angelo will lead us in the singing. He is not a stranger in Bronte, and those who know him appreciate him for what he is and for his service in the church.

Remember the date—August 16-27.

J. E. Eldridge, Pastor.

Coke P. T. A. Council Meets At Robert Lee

The Coke County Council of the P. T. A. met Saturday August 5th, in the Robert Lee school auditorium to discuss plans for the formation of programs and year books.

Council President, Mrs. Houston Smith, having charge of the business session, introduced Mrs. C. T. Womack, of San Angelo, who is vice-president of the sixth district. Mrs. Womack discussed year books and programs.

During the meeting there was adopted a resolution of respect for the late Mrs. Ella Carruthers Porter, founder of the Texas Congress.

Accompanying Mrs. Womack were Miss Iola Barron, state child welfare worker, and Mrs. Frank Lossing, president of the Tri-county Council.

Other than Robert Lee members present were Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. James Arrott, and Mrs. Otis Smith of Bronte.

Refreshments were served by Robert Lee members, and the social features of the program were highly enjoyed.

The next meeting of the Council will be held in November.

Coke Pioneer Passes Away At Ft. Chadbourne

T. J. Sneed—(known to all as "Tom")—passed away at 8 o'clock in the morning, at the family home at Ft. Chadbourne Wednesday August 10, 1939.

Deceased was one of the pioneers of the Fort Chadbourne section of Coke county. He came to the county forty years ago and had made his home here continuously since that time. He was born in Grayson county in 1881 making him to be 58 years old.

In 1902 he was married to Miss Fannie Moore who survives him. Besides his companion he is survived by two sons, Thomas Jr., and Kenneth, and two grandsons, Gale and James Sneed; three sisters, Mrs. A. L. Vaughn, Bailey, Texas; and C. Caudle, Loop, Texas; and Mrs. Lula Hanna, Texarkana; and four brothers, Jim of Hughes Springs, Charlie of Cotton Valley, Louisiana, W. H. of Harold, Texas and Frank of Enid, Oklahoma.

Funeral services were conducted at the family home, Thursday afternoon by Rev. J. H. Dean, pastor of the Blackwell Baptist church, and interment was in a country cemetery, near Fort Chadbourne.

One of the fast passing generation of the pioneers, Tom Sneed was a man who did his part in the earlier days of the country as well as on through life for the good of his county, his state and the country at large. He lived worthily and his passing leaves not only those of the family circle to sorrow over his passing but his many friends as well throughout this part of West Texas.

The Rains And The Crops

Yeah, the rains have come—not just "showers," but the old time downpours that used to come!

And how things have changed, far as crop prospects and outlook are concerned. And likewise the stockmen have also had "a handout," in the way of stock water and rains sufficient to bring grass and weeds for fall and winter use.

As The Enterprise sees it, right now, grand old Coke and these parts of West Texas are in just about the most encouraging condition they have presented in many a moon.

After all, it is the best country in the world—it can go farther down into the "bottomless pit" of starvation and unfavorable conditions, and over night, almost, it can come out and become the country where "every prospect pleases."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Browning, at a San Angelo hospital, Saturday morning August 5, 1939, a fine baby son. The young man has been christened David. This makes this editor to feel an unusual interest in the welfare of the youngster—as we have always answered to that name when called to the dinner table. Congratulations to the parents and best wishes for Master David.

Prof. and Mrs. J. T. Henry are at College Station this week, where prof. Henry is attending a vocational agriculture meeting. They will return home Saturday.

Coke County 50th Anniversary Edition

Earlier in the year a few mentioned to the editor, and one or two suggested, that as this is the 50th anniversary of Coke county as a county, we issue an Anniversary Edition of The Enterprise, celebrating the event.

Due to different causes we did not take kindly to the suggestion. In the first place, the prospects for a good year were not very flattering, due to the dry, warm winter. We stated to some that if the year, later on, showed that it was to be a prosperous year, with good crops and ranch conditions, we might issue such an edition.

Early in the spring the Robert Lee Observer issued a creditable anniversary edition, which in a measure covered the historical facts of the county—yet, it did not go into great lengths in that particular.

Within the past two weeks the editor's hopes have risen several hundred degrees with reference to the financial conditions and the prosperous way in which the year is to close. Therefore we have decided to issue a Coke County Progress and Prosperity Edition of The Enterprise. The issue will be off the press with our next regular issue, which is August 18. This is an opportune time for the issue to come from the press, as the Pioneers' Reunion is to meet in its annual gathering at Edith, Sunday Aug. 20.

For the purpose of making this Progress and Prosperity Edition to be such that no Coke countian will feel he should make any apologies for the edition in any particular, at considerable cost, we have retained Ray McCorkle to draft the copy and otherwise direct in the issuing of this Anniversary edition. Mr. McCorkle is a thoroughly trained and experienced newspaper man and is a publicity man of rare ability. Hence we do not hesitate in saying to our family of readers and the general public that the Anniversary Edition, while it may be modest in size, will be a credit to Bronte, and to Coke County at large, and to West Texas as well. A section will be devoted to Robert Lee as the county seat, and a section to Bronte and other sections to other localities and features. The edition will carry quite a few cuts showing some of the outstanding buildings of Bronte and Robert Lee, as well as the pictures of some of our leading citizens.

We solicit the cooperation of every business man and institution in Bronte, Robert Lee and the surrounding towns and cities to the end that we may make of this issue one so creditable that everyone who loves Coke county and West Texas will appreciate the efforts of The Enterprise in its efforts along this line.

Thanks.

Service Club Luncheon Is Next Wednesday

Let every member keep in mind that Wednesday of next week, which is August 16, is the hour for the regular luncheon of the Bronte Service Club. For the summer months the club has been meeting only once a month, which is the third Wednesday of the month.

Matters of importance will come before the club. One particular item will be with reference to securing an airport for the town and community. An airman desired to land here the other day but could get permission nowhere to land his plane—so, he had to pass on. This condition should not exist. By all means, lets have a landing place for every man who wants to come to town, from an ox wagon to steamboat—he who comes in and kind of transportation vehicle for land, water or sky, lets have a landing for him, if we have to petition Congress to make the Kickapoo navigable to Bronte. Let's go, folks.

LUBRICATION WEEK

Bronte Defeats Sanatorium In Close Contest

In a pitchers duel M. Corley Bronte pitcher out-pitched Donaldson of Sanatorium Sunday afternoon on the local diamond to defeat the invading club 3-1. Corley only gave 2 hits and Bronte only collected 5 hits from Donaldson.

Pitching shut-out ball for the entire game Corley issued only one walk and got 10 strike-outs. Sanatorium got their only score in the 9th inning when Green advanced to second on Eubank's overthrow to first and scored on a hit by Young.

Both sides were scoreless until the 5th inning when Eubank reached 1st base on an error and advanced to 2nd by Luke Scott's grounder which was fumbled by the Sanatorium

ERROR IN AD

On page 2 of this issue is the ad of Browning's Store, in which there is a typographical error. The ad says: "If we get proper 'value' on cream we can give you a good price from now on." That does not make sense. The word "value" should be "volume." The sentence should read as follows: "If we get the proper volume on cream we can give you a good price from now on." Turn and read the Browning's Store ad and see for yourself what is said about cream.

We regret the error and are glad to make this correction.

BRONTE MARRIED MEN WIN FROM ROBERT LEE

A base ball team formed of Bronte married men defeated Robert Lee's similar organization 12-4 in a game played on the Bronte field Tuesday afternoon.

The Bronte "boys" played a fast brand of ball and had the Robert Lee "youngsters" out-classed throughout the entire game.

Fans witnessing the contest were well entertained for both teams had confidence in their ability and were consistent in their efforts, therefore making some spectacular plays.

WINGATE DEFEATS BRONTE WED. 3-1

The invading baseball club from Wingate defeated the local team in a game played Wednesday afternoon 3-1.

Two extra innings were necessary to decide the outcome as the score was 1-1 at the end of the ninth inning.

R. Bagwell, rookie pitcher for the Bronte club worked 7 innings and only allowed the Wingate club 3 hits. Jimmie Eubanks relieving Bagwell in the eighth was touched for 2 runs in the 11th.

Wednesday's game was not an official league game and does not effect Bronte's standing in the Concho Basin League.

Bronte will play Lakeview here Sunday afternoon in their next official game.

Ivey Eubanks was carried to Sanatorium Thursday where he entered as a patient. The young man's health has been gradually failing for some time and it was thought wise to delay no longer. It is believed that soon he will regain his health fully, for which all his friends will hope.

The Saga of a Home-Made Trailer; Texas to the New York World's Fair

A Texas journalist built himself a trailer, loaded in his wife and 11-year-old son and started on a 2,000 mile trek for the New York World's Fair with $50.00 in his pockets. His experiences are recounted in the following story:

By TOM CAUFIELD

(who covers police, fire alarms, boll weevils and all news in and about the Brazos Bottoms of Central Texas for the Waco Times-Herald.)

WORLD'S FAIR, New York—Frances and the eleven-year-old and I have seen the Fair and all the folks back in Waco told us it couldn't be done on the Caufield bankroll. The speedometer on Ancient History II reads 2,000 miles from Fifth and Austin; the wallet is out $50, and we've got $10 left. I've just wired the boss for the $25 he promised me to get home on, and if the chewing gum and bailing wire on the trailer and jalopy don't relax their holds during the homeward 2,000 miles, we shall have made the whole junket on $85.

We spent a little over $1.50 each per day on the Fair itself, counting admission at the gates. Thomas, the eleven-year-old and Frances, the woman who tells me how to drive, and I walked and walked and looked and stared, finally becoming convinced that the best parts of the Fair are free. We could while away two weeks here looking at the free shows, and never repeat and never suffer from what the slick paper writers call ennui. We are leaving only because a wolf is howling at a door bearing the coat of arms of a certain small town newspaperman in Texas.

Nothing Like the Brazos

We stood and gulped when we saw the illumination at the lagoon of nations last night. Nothing like that along the Brazos, nor anywhere else.

A lightning bolt hit a telephone pole as our car-trailer combination passed it on the road to Knoxville, coming up. It smashed the post, splattered our car with splinters, made an outrageous noise, scared us stiff. We saw it all over again, free, at the General Electric show here. They made 10 million volts for us—BANG! and we thought we were back on the Tennessee highway in the storm.

We fought good roads and bad coming up. General Motors showed us all good in a panorama that 27,000 people a day look at. GM parked us in upholstered chairs, started a public address explanation from the chair arms, and showed us the highway system of 1960.

If it hadn't been for that roads system display, we might have thought, in the aviation building, that man was fixing to leave the ground

Here is Tom Caufield's homemade trailer in which he, his wife and son traveled all the way from Waco, Texas, to see the New York World's Fair for good; but GM gave us hope for the highways. We could hardly get the boy away from the aviation display. Instead of wanting to ride on the carnival gadgets, he wanted to go back and look at the model wind tunnels, the cross section of the Yankee clipper, and things like that.

Need for Adjectives

We heard the Voder. That's a contraction we had read about, a sort of talking typewriter. Pretty girl punches keys and make a combination of hisses and grunts that sounds like Charlie McCarthy at his worst, but is understandable.

I never was much on adjectives. The one adjective needed around here is "marvelous." Give me enough synonyms for that, insert them as needed, and that's the Fair.

There's a moving mural in the Ford building. Pistons, cogs, things like that fixed in the wall, all moving. Time for one of the synonyms. In the same building, walls hung all round with a one-piece yellow curtain made of spun and woven glass.

More free stuff: the City of Light, with 100,000 individual bulbs; the Forward March of America, showing how lighting has changed. They've got a fountain running over the exit of that building, and when I lost Frances and Thomas, by getting mixed up on a rendezvous, they waited an hour for me there, perfectly satisfied, while the fountain splashed outside.

They've got a real ship parked in a pond by the New England building

They've got life-sized toy monkeys climbing trees in a toy exhibit and real monkeys climbing on a rock inside the Frank Buck enclosure. The rock is higher than the bamboo walls, so you can see the monkeys without going in.

Escalators and Ramps

About transportation; this fair is great on saving shoe leather. It has to be, it is so big that unless there were a lot of escalators and moving belts the cobblers would have a field day at every exit. You go up into the Persiphere on an escalator, and ride around it on a moving belt; and there's the moving belt at the GM building. Everywhere you find ramps instead of steps, and the ramps are exactly calculated to ease your legs as you go up or down. Streets and walks are asphalt, and the buildings generally have rubber composition flooring. And if you want to ride, it costs a dime for a bus from any point on the grounds to any other point.

If your feet do get tired (and they oughtn't to often if you've got the right kind of shoes, which is important, especially to the women) you can stop in at any of the first aid stations and get a free foot treatment to ease them.

Now for the Tariff

Let's count the cost, after you get to New York. Figure you're in a trailer—that's $1 to get over the George Washington Bridge, which is the best way for a trailer; 75 cents a night at the trailer camp; a few cents for milk and whatever other groceries you need for eating at the camp; 25 cents toll over Whitestone Bridge for your car (leave the trailer at camp) and 25 cents toll back again (or ride a bus, fare ten cents each); 50 cents to park in the parking grounds at the Fair; 75 cents admission for adults, 25 cents for children; 25 cents each for the Persiphere, which is a must because it is the Fair's symbol; 10 cents for the Town of Tomorrow, which also ought to be a must for any householder, and gas and oil.

We ate dinner at one of many restaurants in the Fair grounds. My wife had chicken and mushrooms with coffee for 60 cents. I ate a Salisbury steak with coffee for 60 cents, and lamb chops for the boy cost 75 cents. For lunch we had hamburgers and pie, which ran us 20 cents each. It costs a nickel for pop or root beer at any of a dozen stands. We got to the Fair for lunch one day and had dinner there that night. We had breakfast in camp next day, lunch at the Fair and pulled out late that afternoon for home.

Seeing New York

You can see something of New York while you're at the Fair, for the mere cost of gasoline. The night we arrived, we took a 50-mile drive across town, along the Hendrik Hudson Parkway and back from the Battery up Broadway to Times Square, then back to camp. We had a volunteer guide—one of the officials at the camp.

The policemen go out of their way to help a visitor. One of them talked to us for a half hour about things in general while we waited for an open-top bus next morning for a sightseeing trip in Manhattan. In fact, any New Yorker goes out of his way to help a Fair visitor.

We felt so much at home that when we parked our car to catch a bus to the Fair on our first day's visit, we forgot to make a note of where we left it; just walked away from it like we would have done in our own home town. And believe it or not, we found it when we came back in the rain—with the help of some of the passengers on the bus.

Bear in mind that the cost of coming to New York depends on how you are willing to come. We had a camp trailer, slept in it, using a trailer camp once, a cabin one night during a pouring rain, using school grounds twice with the permission of rural neighbors, and parking three times at filling stations. It took us six days to get here.

That $85 is an education worth thousands, for a boy of 11, and worth plenty more for his father and mother. — Reprinted from the New York Herald-Tribune.
