Blackwell Home Club Studies Use of Pressure Cookers

To The Enterprise: Members of the Blackwell Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. J. W. Reynolds, with Mrs. Elsie Gilkerson, county home demonstrator, in charge of the program.

Garden dahlias and carnations decorated the living rooms. Mrs. Charles Ragsdals, president, had charge of the business session. Plans were completed for an all day meeting in the near future, at which time a quilt will be quilted.

Four new members were added to the club, namely: Mmes. T. A. Carlisle, R. H. Reaves, S. M. Evans and Walter Lea h.

Mrs. Gilkerson, assisted by Mrs. Bert Deel, Blackland Club, taught the members how to test pressure cookers. They brought out points on the danger of using untested cookers and the importance as to the value of food preservation when cookers are tested and gave information on the loss of canned foods when canned at too low pressure, due to lack of the member, or owner's, cooker being off pressure. A cooker was tested and was found to be off three pounds.

A demonstration of canning beans was under the direction of Mrs. Gilkerson. Types of canning—waterbath, steam pressure, canner and steam pressure cooking were thoroughly explained. Different types of cans, jars and lids were exhibited, and the uses of each were brought out.

As a concluding pleasure the hostess passed refreshment plates, holding chicken salad wafers, iced tea, and corsages of sweet peas and baby breath.

Those present other than those mentioned: Mmes. Berry Smith, Joe Smith, R. Lanier, J. W. Wilson, Seth Moore, Austin Jordan, and Miss Nell Ayres, county health nurse, guest.

First Livestock Clinic In Bronte, was Well Attended

The first livestock clinic of the Coke County Livestock Association was held in Bronte, Saturday afternoon. And it proved a large surprise to those sponsoring the clinic, both in attendance and the interest shown by owners of livestock.

The plan of the association is to have the clinics twice a month—one clinic at Bronte and one at Robert Lee. The clinic at Bronte is on the afternoon of the first Saturday each month and at Robert Lee the third Saturday every month. Let the owners of livestock that need the attention of a veterinarian take notice as to dates.

Our good, long-time friend, Will Walton took occasion the other morning to speak some very kindly words of appreciation, as to the fine and greatly improved news features of The Enterprise in the recent months. Thank you, "ol pal"—for, truly, "words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in pictures of silver." The editor is glad with his many other friends that Mr. Walton's health is so much improved over what it was some time ago.

War Fund Drive Ends Second Week, With Good Response

Tuesday, June 9, ended the second week of the Coke County War Fund Drive.

County Chairman, Judge McNeil Wylie, and his committee express themselves as well pleased with the results to that date. However, some were not making the contribution they, perhaps, could make—and, if any such, they may wish that they had made a greater contribution, before the struggle is over. For, it is evident that if the funds are not given voluntarily, the government will of necessity be compelled to make the funds available by the way of tax levies, or otherwise.

The list of those who have already contributed and the amounts given, appear below.

No Double Heart Rodeo will Be Held This Year

Ollie Cox of Sweetwater, owner of Double Heart ranch, ten miles south of Sweetwater, on highway 70, who also owns and manages the Double Heart rodeo, requests The Enterprise to announce that there will be no Double Heart rodeo this year.

"Due to the war, the rubber shortage and possible gas ration as we all want to win the war, I have abandoned the idea of a rodeo this year," said Mr. Cox. "Quite a number of rodeo fans locally and all over the southwest have wanted me to hold the rodeo. This I very much appreciate—it makes me feel that at least I have pleased my rodeo patrons in the programs I have given through the many years I have been holding the annual Double Heart rodeos."

Ho! Hum!—but, "ain't" it goin' to be dull! No Double Heart rodeo to look forward to!—it sure is going to be a "playless, summer!"—for, Double Heart is the playground of the Southwest. But, then, Ollie is right—for, as he says, the one big idea now to win the war. Just so you open up Double Heart rodeo, after the duration is the only thing we exa t of you, old scout.

Worship at the Church of Christ Sunday Morning

The Enterprise is requested to announce that Elder White of Abilene will preach at the Bronte Church of Christ Sunday morning at 11 o' clock. It is urgently requested that all members of the congregation be present.

A cordial invitation is extended to each and all to attend the worship.

Mrs. Allen M. Douglass and daughter, little Miss Mae Beth, from Dallas are on an extended visit with Mrs. Douglass' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Holder, at their ranch home, southwest of town. The past week end was a happy time at the Holder home. Mr. and Mrs. Holder had with them their son, Clyde, and his wife and their little babe. Also, there was in the Holder home the week end, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Connell of Dallas. Mrs. Connell and Mrs. Holder are sisters. Mrs. Douglass is expecting Mr. Douglass early in the week, who is at the general office of his company, the National Gypsum Company, Buffalo. Mr. Douglass is manager of the southwestern division of his company's business. Mr. and Mrs. Douglass will return to Dallas within the next ten days. Everybody in and around Bronte is always glad to see "Miss Mary Louise"—for, she is still "Bronte's own little girl."

A hick town, it is said, is a place where it's cheaper to feed your neighbor's chickens than to have a next-door enemy. We just wonder if "the old home town" is "a hick town."

Mrs. Collin B. Jones of Stephenville and daughters, Barbara and Dorothy, visited her sister, Mrs. H. A. Springer and Mr. Springer, last week end. Also in the party were Donald and Karen Roberts of San Angelo, nephew and niece of Mrs. Springer. Mrs. Jones is Mrs. Springer's sister.

BRONTE SOLDIER BOY WRITES POETICALLY OF ARMY LIFE

It was back in 1933, when a Bronte boy, barely old enough for military duty, enlisted in the regular army and was given his military training at Fort Sam Houston. Having served his three years of enlistment he enlisted again. Hitherto this Bronte boy had grown from babyhood to boyhood in Bronte. He was a boy like other boys, "full o' tricks and fun." In the meantime, after "joining the army," he married and "settled down" to the sterner realities of life, and is now at Fort Bliss. He has seen much of "army life," already, far as the daily routine of military life is concerned.

In some sober moments, as this "regular" saw the new recruits coming in as draftees, and noted the effect of the sudden change of environs had on the soldier boys and what home and home life meant to the boys, now, in their new, strange environs, he wrote some verses. The verses came to the attention of a radio manager in El Paso, and the writer of the verses was asked to appear before the microphone and read the verses to the radio world. Carl Brock, a boyhood pal of the writer of the verses, heard the program over the radio. Carl wrote for the verses and they appear below. The writer of the verses is "Ervin Wilson," as he is known in Bronte. "Who'd a thought it?" Here is our hand to you, "Ervin," in the fine sentiments you express in the verses. Ervin is the grandson of Mrs. "Pink" Eaton:

As a "Regular" in the army since nineteen thirty-three, You'd think I had grown calloused to the things I hear and see.

But standing in "Troop Street" at mail call yesterday, I saw a "Dog Face" standing by, and heard him sadly say:

"No mail for me today, Sarge?"—not even just a line? I haven't got a letter, Sarge, in such a long, long time. Guess no one loves me any more"—He said this like a joke, But standing on the side lines, I could see him all but choke.

He ain't been in so very long, tho I guess it seems a year, Now he thinks he's forgotten by the ones he holds so dear. Tain't such a lovely feeling for the boys on land or foam, To think they've been forgotten by the folks at home sweet home.

The sweetest girl in all the world that promised she'd be true Is a Slacker to her duty, unless she drops a line or two. There's mothers, too, God bless them, there's no one near so fine, Yet "Soldier's Days" pass mighty slow, when they don't drop a line.

There's dad, who'd give his life blood to help his boy to fight, But business deals come around so fast that he forgets to write; If they could see the heartache, I read in every line, "No mail for me today, Sarge?"—not even just a line?"

They'd know it's hard to battle, and fight until you fall, When you're choked up with the feeling that no one cares at all.

So in this "all-out war" on land or sea or foam, Don't forget to do your bit with "A LITTLE NOTE FROM HOME."

Shower Given, Honoring Mrs. J. D. Luttrell, Jr.

A shower was given Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. D. Larkin, honoring Mrs. J. D. Luttrell Jr. Medames Cullen Luttrell and J. B. Parish were hostesses.

Games were played during the afternoon which everyone enjoyed.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served. The honoree received a large number of gifts.

The afternoon was one of the most enjoyable social occasions of the season.

Registrants Asked to Study Their Questionnaires

To the registrants of the first and second registrations:

Your occupational questionnaires will be mailed to you within the next two weeks. If you will study the questions of the questionnaire most of you will be able to answer the questionnaire. If you find that you need help after you study the questionnaire and find you unable to complete same, then, go to one of the Advisory Board and he will assist you—then, it will take only a few minutes, as you will have your answers ready. GOOD NEWS! Uncle Sam will Pay the Bill

For Teachers Who Take The PreAERONAUTICS Training Course!!

THIS TELEGRAM EXPLAINS THE GOVERNMENT OFFER Prof. J. E. Burnam, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas, It is expected that most of the 650 colleges and universities throughout the nation conducting Civilian Pilot Training courses will open these courses to secondary school teachers, men and women, this summer. Secondary teachers will be permitted to enroll in the Elementary course and it is suggested that they complete 72 hours in ground school in the subjects of Civil Air Regulations, Meteorology, Navigation and General Servicing and Operation of Aircraft. If teachers elect to take secondary course subjects, it is suggested that they complete the subjects of Theory of Flight, Navigation, Meteorology and Aircraft Engine Operation. This is not a separate or special course and the teachers participating in it will do so as additional members of the Elementary and Secondary Ground School classes of Civilian Pilot Training in the summer session starting on or about June 15.

L. C. Elliott,
Regional Manager
Civilian Aeronautics Administration
Department of Commerce.

Hardin-Simmons University has just been notified by the Civil Aeronautics Administration that secondary school teachers, men or women, who plan to take the Pre-Aeronautics Training Course, in order to teach high school students in the fall, may do so at government expense.

This course will be the same as that given in the Civilian Pilot Training Elementary Course, and the two will be taken together, with Prof. J. E. Burnam, head of the HSU department of mathematics, in charge.

The Class will begin about Monday, June 15, and registration may be made daily all this week at the Hardin-Simmons Business Office. COURSE TO BE COMPLETED IN 8 WEEKS.

In addition, CPT students may sign up all this week for both primary and secondary pilot training courses.

THOSE ELIGIBLE . . .

Any person who is a secondary school teacher and who plans to teach aviation courses or preflight aeronautics courses not later than the Fall term of 1942, is eligible for these courses. Institutions admitting teachers on this basis shall be responsible for meeting this minimum requirement, and enrollment in the course shall be considered evidence that the requirement has been met in a manner satisfactory to the participating institution.

Let Me Help You Keep 'em Working

A PLAN has been worked out whereby we can offer assistance in helping to keep your electric appliances in useful working condition for the duration, regardless of make or where originally purchased. Our servicemen are now prepared to help you with repairs insofar as parts are obtainable. Small appliances should be brought to our nearest office. In most cases, major appliances can be repaired in the home . . . This type of service is offered only as a convenience to you in communities where such repairs are not elsewhere available or the dealer from whom the appliance was originally purchased has discontinued business.

Reddy Kilowatt SERVICE STATION FOR APPLIANCES

* The manufacture of most all new household appliances has been frozen as a means of conserving vital materials. With careful usage, making minor repairs NOW, the old appliances in your home will last several years—or for the duration. Call our office—or your electric dealer or "fixit" man—about the cost of making needed repairs. By spending a little now, you may save a lot . . . and keep 'em working!

Sod Disease Among Baby Chix in Bronte Sector

A disease known as "sod disease," is said to be infecting the baby chick of the Bronte sector and is giving the poultry raisers more or less worry.

Breezland Hatchery at San Angelo is authority on poultry diseases and treatment. They inform The Enterprise that the way to overcome the sod disease is to put the chicks on new ground—remove them from the area where they have been kept. Then plow up the land on which they have been kept. It is important that those who are having trouble with their chicks about this disease, do not fail at once to remove the chicks to another plat of land and then plow up the land the chicks have been kept on, if you would be relieved of the disease and thus save your baby chicks.

It is generous of Misses Schott and Bigelow, owners of Breezland, to advise as to remedies for poultry ailments.

Poultry Clinic To Be in Robert Lee, Monday

H. H. Weathersby, Assistant Extension Service Poultry Specialist, and Dr. W. H. Boney, Extension Service Poultry Veterinarian, and J. W. Potts, Assistant State 4-H Club Leader, will be in Robert Lee, Monday, June 15, to conduct a poultry clinic.

The purpose of this clinic and demonstration, according to H. E. Smith, County Agent, is to assist poultry producers to boost war production goals.

The meeting will be held in the district court room, at the court house, in Robert Lee, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Weathersby will talk on Flock Management, Feeding and Summer Care, for the morning program.

In the afternoon, Dr. Boney will discuss Poultry Diseases and give a demonstration in post ing and diagnosing diseased poultry.

Mr. Potts will devote the day to discussing 4-H Club Problems with 4-H Club demonstrations.

All poultry producers are urged to attend this meeting, and those having birds, both chickens and turkeys, should bring them in for Dr. Boney's demonstrations.

Miss Imogene Hudman Marries Sterling City Man

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hudman announce the marriage of their daughter, Imogene, and Charles Wm. Churchill on May 29, 1942.

The bride wore a coffee brown crepe suit with brown and white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Churchill is a graduate of the Jolly Beauty School and had been employed in one of the popular beauty shops of San Angelo.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Churchill of Sterling City and is employed by an oil company of that place.

The friends of the bride wish her and the one to whom she has given herself in marriage increasing happiness thru life.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill are at home at Sterling City.

Carl Best has accepted a position in the "M" System stores at San Angelo.

Ground Courses Free to Teachers at H-S. University

An announcement of extraordinary importance appears in this issue of The Enterprise—especially, is it of importance to teachers. Reference is made to the announcement of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, making known that Uncle Sam has stepped in and will pay the expenses of teachers who will take certain courses in Civil Pilot training, having as a goal the teaching of these ground courses in the future.

It is a rare opportunity for teachers and it will be well worth the time of any teacher carefully to investigate with reference to the matter. The Enterprise suggests that you turn and read the announcement for yourself.

Post Nuptial Shower Given Mrs. Jas. Henderson

Miss Corine Brunson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brunson, of Bronte, was married to James Henderson of Abilene, at Austin, Texas, on May 15, 1942.

The bride was complimented with a gift shower Saturday afternoon, June 6, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Warner.

The program for the occasion was arranged by Misses Montie Alexander, and Levada Rogers. Miss Doris Alexander presided at the guest register which was made by Miss Montie Alexander.

The little six-year old William Bruce Fletcher, dressed as a cadet, presented Mrs. Henderson with a letter in the form of a telegram, telling her that there were many useful gifts that had been left for her in the home of Mrs. Warner. She soon began to search the rooms and found many lovely gifts, which her many friends present enjoyed with her looking at them. Quite a number of gifts were sent by friends who could not attend.

Lovely flowers decorated the rooms. Games were the diversion and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kiker and family will spend the week end with their son, Chester, Jr., at Wichita Falls, who is in the service there.

C. L. South Makes His Announcement For Congress

"The one outstanding job confronting us today is that of winning the war as soon as we can, and with the loss of as few lives as possible," Representative Charles L. South said in making his formal announcement for reelection to Congress.

"Other matters, however important in themselves, must remain in the background until this job has been done. To the accomplishment of this purpose, I pledge my continued best efforts," he added.

South is now the Texas member of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. He succeeded Speaker Sam Rayburn on this committee when Mr. Rayburn became Majority Leader.

During his campaign for Con-

Congressman Charles L. South, who announces for re-election

gress eight years ago, South advocated (1) lower interest rates on homes, including farm and ranch homes; (2) an opportunity for deserving tenants to purchase homes on liberal terms; (3) soil conservation and parity prices for agricultural products; (4) truth-in-fabric legislation, which informs a purchaser of the fiber content of a garment by requiring the use of proper labels; (5) a better and more stable income for farmers, and wage earners in the lower income brackets.

All of the above have since been enacted into law, as a result of which many of our people are enjoying a higher standard of living.

South has consistently urged the removal of discriminations and unjust differentials in freight rates, which force people living in Texas and several other agricultural states to pay excessive freight charges.

"Much progress has been made toward a fair adjustment of this problem so vital to the proper growth and development of our immediate section, and more will be made if we continue the fight," he declared.

"I do not feel justified in neglecting my work here in Washington in order to engage in an extensive campaign at this time. If possible, I expect to spend several days in the district later on, at which time I propose to discuss the issues fairly and frankly, as I have always done."

"Upon the record which I have made as your Representative, and upon my ability and desire to continue to serve you honestly and faithfully during these critical days, I solicit your continued confidence and support," the Congressman concluded.

William Roberts of San Angelo will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Springer for the summer months. His mother, Mrs. W. N. Roberts is attending the University of Texas this summer, where she will receive her B. A. degree. William is a nephew of Mrs. Springer.

Albert Williams and family of Lamesa visited relatives here early in the week.

Texas has 265,896 square miles of territory, while Germany has approximately the same amount of territory. Yet, Germany has 80,000,000 people, while Texas has only 6,000,000 people.

Geologists claim that back as recently as 250,000,000 years ago Texas was inhabited solely by insects—and, brothers, we can tell you that they are not all gone yet, judging some folks by the way they act.

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

The West Texas Utilities Co. of Bronte wishes to thank the patrons at Bronte, Robert Lee, and Blackwell for their cooperation during the past few days of emergency. Due to the change in personnel the office will be open from 8 in the morning to 5 in the afternoon, and it will be open on Saturdays until noon. West Texas Utilities Company.

A fishing party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wrinkle, Lee Wrinkle, and J. W. Anderson thwaite, hoping to catch "lots of have gone down below Gold'em" and "big uns," too.

E. E. Nichols and family spent the week end at Brady, visiting relatives.

BUILDING MATERIALS Are Not Frozen

Let us clarify as to the current belief with many that building materials are frozen and therefore no one can do any building or improving. Here is the situation:

Building Homes

You can build a home either in town or on the farm, if it does not cost over $500.

Improvements

You can make improvements on buildings that already exist not to exceed $1,000., in a 12 month period. Therefore, if you need to build a small residence, either in town or on the ranch or farm, come to see us—or if you wish to make improvements, we can supply your needs in practically all lines of building materials.
