DISD to elect entire board

Voting is today (Thursday) in the Dimmitt school board special election, with the polls open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Dimmitt City Hall meeting room, with Oscar Wylie as election judge.

Maps delineating district lines and voter registration lists will be available to aid voters in determining which district they live in. Each voter may vote for one single-member district representative and three at-large candidates.

This is the first election for DISD that will select single-member district representatives in an effort to achieve racial balance on the board. The change in election methods was necessitated by a lawsuit filed in 1989 by Larry Gonzales, charging that the all-at-large method of election was unfair to racial minorities.

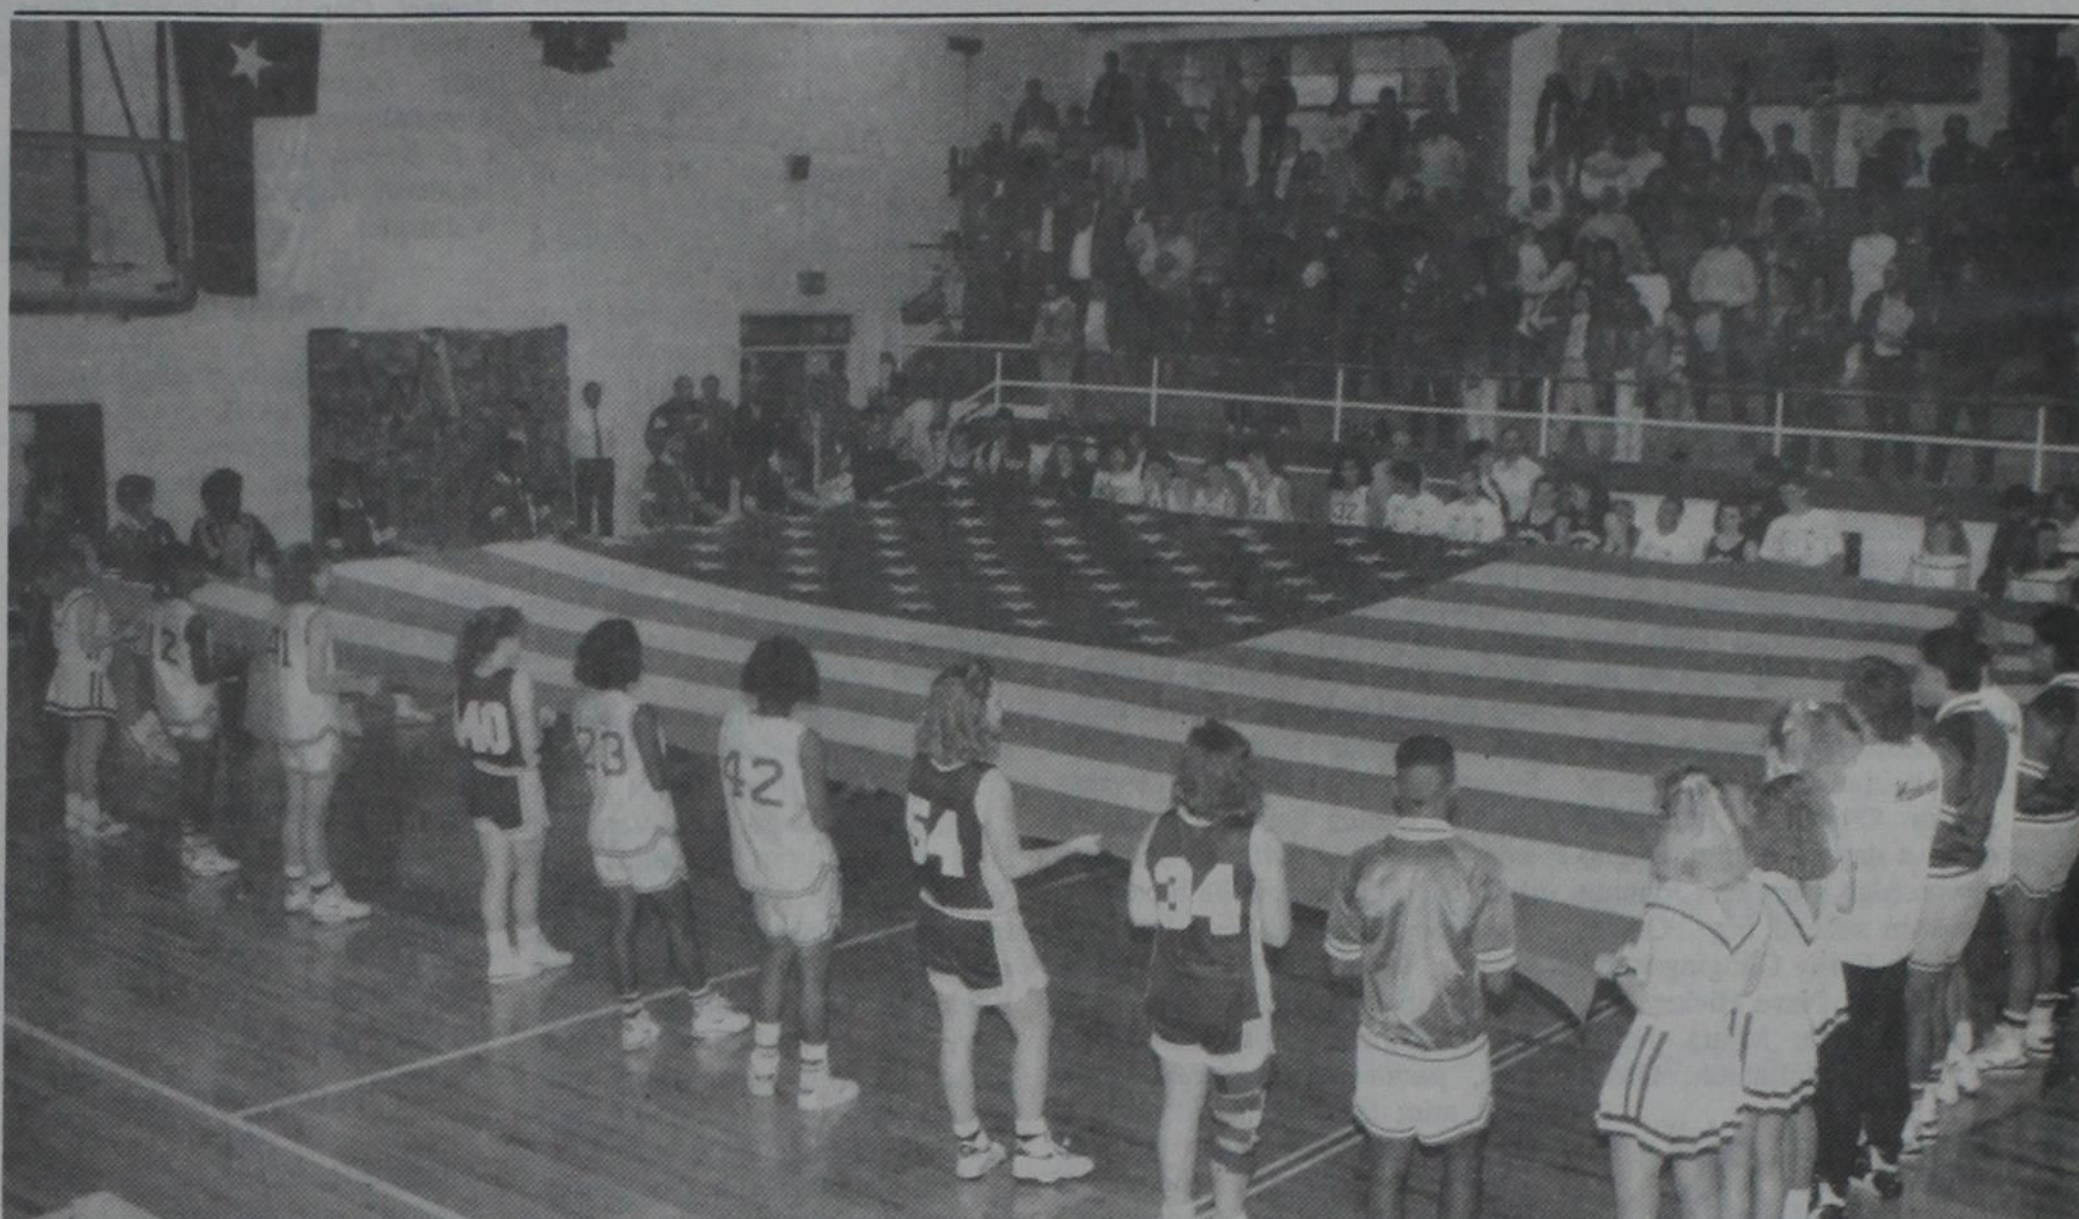

Today's voting will determine the make up of the entire board, which will include four single-member district representatives and three at-large members. As many as four or as few as one of the current board members could be returned to office.

The current school board will hold a special meeting Monday to canvass the election results, followed by the swearing in of the new members, who will then draw for length of terms and elect officers among themselves. The business meeting of the new board will be at the regularly scheduled date of Feb. 11.

In absentee balloting, around 190 votes were cast by the Friday deadline, according to absentee clerk Ysleta Ball, and some mailed ballots may still be returned by today.

Seventeen candidates are vying for the seven vacancies on the school board, and are listed below in the order of ballot position.

Filing for Place 1 are Charles Lane and John Nino; Place 2 has S.M. Burke, Gary Thurman and Paul S. Garcia; Place 3 lists Lint Merritt, Terry Hill and Rita McDaniel; and Place 4 has incumbents Don Moore and David Schaeffer. At-large candidates include incumbents Cheryl Pybus, Max Newman, Rick Wright, and James Sims, along with Steve Olson, Connie Martinez and Jim Killingsworth.

Are you one of those who waited until after the bombing started to buy a flag?

You're out of luck. Flags are the hottest-selling item in the country right now.

You can't find a home-size or full-size American flag anywhere. The manufacturers reportedly are running four months behind.

Associate Editor Linda Maxwell surveyed the town this week on the availability of flags. She found three small flags at Flowers to Go (two 4"x6" and one 10"x15"), and a dozen small ones (8"x12" and 12"x18") at Perry's.

"We got 24 in Tuesday and sold half of them that day," Perry's Manager Tom Gray reported. "In fact, we had to dig them out of the freight as we were unloading the truck because people were waiting."

He added, "We had ordered six dozen of each, but those 24 were all they could send us."

Higginbotham - Bartlett has ordered a dozen of the 4"x6" hand flags, and is waiting and hoping.

"That's the only size we could get at this time," Lloyd White said.

"Everybody's out of the big ones."

Coleman Pharmacy also has ordered two dozen 4"x6" flags, which Garland said should be in Monday or so, and also has ordered lapel pins, which will take a couple of weeks.

Seale Florist has even run out of the little paper flags for centerpieces and can't get any more. Seale's still has a good supply of red, white and blue rosettes and ribbon, but Flowers to Go is getting short on those colors and yellow ribbon, too.

About that proclamation by the city and county last week, designating Wednesday as "Operation Desert Storm Day" and urging local residents to fly their flags at half mast:

It said "half mast" in the proclamation. Honest.

That's why it got into our story. No one caught the boo-boo until later, when the city and county got calls informing them that you don't fly flags at half mast except on a designated day of mourning.

The city and county both went

Pit approval delayed again

Approval of the donation of material from a caliche pit on Precinct 1 Commissioner Harold Smith's property was delayed again at the Monday meeting of the Castro County Commissioners' Court, until two additional items of paperwork can be completed.

County Attorney Jimmy Davis told Smith that permission must be obtained from the lien holder on the property, the Federal Land Bank Association, and Smith must execute an affidavit of ownership on the land and then abstain from any vote on the matter, in order to protect himself from any charges of impropriety.

Smith had requested that approval of use of the pit be given now on the condition that the other requirements are fulfilled, so that final approval would not have to wait until another meeting of the court, and so that work could begin on a road project that will use the caliche from his pit. The other commissioners informed Smith that the paperwork must be completed before donation of the material will be approved.

In approving job related travel and expenses, the other commissioners voted to accept County Auditor Shirley Brockman's recommendation that a mileage expense turned in by Smith for a trip to San Antonio be reduced to fit map mileage, rather than actual mileage driven, according to county policy. Smith had turned in 1200 miles, while Brockman said the map would allow 930.6 miles for the round trip.

Smith told the others that while on the trip to San Antonio, he had driven to Dallas to spend the night, because he said even with the extra mileage it was cheaper. He asked for payment of the extra mileage to help cover his hotel and meal expenses, but did not turn in any hotel or meal receipts, as is required by county policy.

Smith complained that he turned in the least amount of travel expense of any commissioner last year, but Castro County Judge Polly Simpson told him if he was going to complain about his expenses, he should turn them in the proper way.

The commissioners voted to amend the budget by $3,284 to cover the payment of a $115,703.80 sales tax rebate to American Fructose in accordance with a tax abatement agreement entered into as an inducement for the plant to install an expansion. The rest of the rebate had been withheld from sales tax returns to the county from the state.

A Smith proposal to use an elevating scraper instead of trucks and graders to spread caliche that has been hauled by contract haulers was defeated, with Pct. 4 Commissioner Vincent Guggemos and Pct. 3 Commissioner Jeff Robertson opposing and Pct. 2 Commissioner Dale Winders abstaining. In discussion on the matter, the other commissioners said that equipment currently being used to perform the job is satisfactory, and noted that the supplier of the scraper would have to meet the county's insurance requirements, including Workers' Compensation coverage.

In discussion of county policies that he feels need to be changed, Smith asked permission to hire two workers as part-time employees and have them work 70 hours a week.

County Treasurer Oleta Raper stated that workers may not work over 40 hours per week nor more than 900 hours in a calendar year and still be classified as part-time, according to state laws and the retirement system rules.

Smith admitted that he may have broken that state law, and remarked that, "I may have to change my policy."

Smith also proposed that county policy be changed on the set working days and hours for county employees.

Raper told the other commissioners that some of the Pct. 1 employees had complained to her about being forced to work on Saturdays, even though county policy says normal working hours will be 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Guggemos said some of Smith's hands told him they had been asked to take off on a Thursday, even though the weather was nice, and then come to work on a Saturday to suit the convenience of a contract hauler who had other plans for Thursday.

Davis reminded Smith that an Attorney General's opinion he had sought early in Smith's term as a commissioner expressed that the Baghdad, the capital city of Iraq, —the name conjures up images of turbans, minarets and magic carpets, but now we're hearing about tanks, missiles and carpet bombing.

What do Dimmitt citizens think about the war with Iraq?

An informal opinion poll shows overwhelming support for our country's decision to get involved, and support of our service personnel is even stronger.

Dimmitt Mayor Wayne Collins said, "Well, I believe we're doing the right thing. Someone like Saddam Hussein has to be stopped. The US is pursuing the right course. There should be a better way of resolving these conflicts, but in view of the situation, I feel we are doing the right thing."

News Publisher Don Nelson said, "I don't like any war. All wars are irrational—the result of a complete failure of people to solve their problems in a rational manner. The United Nations is justified in its actions and I'm glad it's being done. I'm glad the reaction to the invasion is by the UN and not just the US. If the world community did not oppose Saddam Hussein now, it would be worse later. I think we are justified in being involved in it. This war is over the takeover of one country by another, which is illegal under international law."

"I've mostly heard support for the troops," barber Lynn West said, "but I've heard a few say we shouldn't be over there."

"I don't think we should be over there," said Joyce Thomas, a deputy clerk in the District/County Clerk's office, "but I think Saddam Hussein needs to be stopped, and it seems like we're the ones who are going to have to do it."

Others have expressed concern about how long the fighting may last, and whether it may escalate into a situation such as the nation faced in Vietnam.

"I think it should have been over with by now. I hate to see it stretched out this far. I hate that it might go on for months. I think too much about Vietnam and how it turned out," said Mary Lou Lumbrera, a deputy clerk in the County Tax Assessor/Collector's office. She has three nephews and a cousin who are involved in the operation.

"I think they ought to put a price on Saddam's head and get this over with real quick," County Sheriff's Deputy Ben Reyes said. "I hope the ground troops don't have to go in there, although I'm afraid Iran may get involved. Saddam has to have other plans than just launching SCUD missiles."

HERE'S TO THE SOLDIERS—These Richardson Elementary School first graders are handing over money, pens and razors to Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Delores Heller (center), to be used in the next mailing of "care packages" to local soldiers who are stationed overseas. All the first graders collected a total of

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Canterbury Villa is decorated for Valentine's Day with red hearts and cupids everywhere. On Thursday morning, Renise Blair brought the devotional there from the scripture in Matthew 11:28-30. Renise sang Cast Your Cares on Him. Richard Young sang I Will Serve Thee, Because I Love Thee, and He Touched Me. Others singing were Gertie Waggoner, Irene Carpenter, Phyllis Mooney, pianist, Mauzee Youts and Mary Edna Hendrix.

Oleta Gollehon went to Ardmore, Okla., on business, and then on to Plano, where she visited her daughter, Kathy Poer, and her husband, Johnny. While she was there, they celebrated her birthday. They ate at the famous Caruso's restaurant. Some of the waiters were music majors or opera singers and they sang "Happy Birthday" to Oleta in Italian.

Stacy and Debbie Conners and children, Charisa and Timothy, spent part of their vacation with Roger and Geneva Malone in Dimmitt. Stacy is pastor of the Baptist Church in Matador.

Delores Heller told me the Chamber of Commerce still has 25 more Centennial trees, and they will have another shipment in the spring.

Cleo Forson was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens' Center for lunch and a day of bridge. Dugan Butler won high score and Johnnie Vannoy won second high. Others playing were Emily Clingingsmith, Helen Braafladt, Neva Hickey, Ina Rae Cates, Louise Mears, Ferne Dickey, Dude McLauren, Oleda Schumacher, Lorann Hamilton, Edith Graef, Elizabeth Huckabay, Alma Kenmore and Virginia Crieder.

Geneva Dennis honored Oleta Gollehon with a belated birthday party at K-Bob's on Friday evening with a delicious fish dinner. Other club members enjoying this special occasion were Hazel Bagwell, Jauvada Curtis, Connie Ivey, Irene Carpenter, Mauzee Youts, and Mary Edna Hendrix.

Milton and Sandra Bagwell and Rick entertained their former neighbors from Colorado over the weekend, Ed and Martha Oliver from Montevista, Colo. On Sunday following the morning worship service, Ivor and Hazel Bagwell entertained the group with dinner.

Ferne Dickey went to Lubbock over the weekend since her granddaughter, Heather Axe, daughter of Dr. Jim and Suzanne Axe was presented by the Assembly Club at their annual presentation ball at the Lubbock Country Club. Jim presented his daughter, Heather, and the boys were presented by their mothers. There were 25 sons and daughters of the Assembly Club that were presented. Dallas attorney Walter Taylor, a former member, was the emcee for this festive occasion. "Veranda Visions" was the theme of the presentation ceremony. The dining hall and ballroom were decorated with a Southern flair, including magnolia blossoms. The menu included fresh fruit, vegetable salad and green salad, prime rib, chicken teriyaki, beef stroganoff, rice, stuffed baked potatoes, parmesian tomatoes, snow peas, mini dinner rolls and zucchini muffins, chocolate cream pie with whipped cream rosettes and chocolate flowers, white cheese cake with raspberry sauce, and fresh raspberry and mint sauce. Jim and Suzanne Axe are former Dimmitt residents.

The Church of Christ honored some of their Bible School teachers recently with a banquet. Woodrow Killingsworth was honored as the "Teacher Through the Years," Jack Miller was honored as the "Man Teacher of the Year" and Laverne Bernethy was honored as the "Woman Teacher of the Year." Minister Benny Baker was the special speaker. Mary Cluck and Molly Scott decorated the banquet table with crystal balls and trees and candle holders.

Jesse and Vivian Lopez and Richard and Colletta Young were in attendance last week at the Texas Baptist Evangelism Conference held in Fort Worth, which is an annual event for Texas Baptists, dating back to the mid-40s.

The conference began last Monday night with messages by Dr. Roy Fish, professor of evangelism at Southwestern Seminary, and by E.V. Hill, pastor of Mt. Zion Church of Los Angeles; a testimony by Baylor University football coach Grand Teaff; and a drama presentation by "The Company" of Southwestern Seminary.

The two couples also attended the Hispanic Evangelism Conference and the Texas Hispanic Banquet with a good attendance of 500 conferees from Mexico and across the state of Texas.

Jesse and Vivian, one time residents of Dimmitt, now make their home in Amherst, where Jesse is the pastor of the Primera Iglesia Bautista. The couple have three children, Annie, Jessica and Bridget. Jesse also has been attending Wayland Baptist University and is presently enrolled at South Plains College in Levelland.

Dr. Charles and Esta Vandiver have returned from the Dallas Mid-Winter Dental Convention. They especially attended the 40th reunion of the Class of 1951 from Baylor University College of Dentistry. Out of a class of 59 members, 27 attended, along with spouses and other guests. A banquet and luncheon were held at Las Colinas Country Club. Dr. Vandiver was the president for all four years of this class.

Dan Heard spent several days last week at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. He had surgery on Tuesday. He will be at home in a neck brace for six weeks, so go by and visit with him.

Dan's two sisters, LaNita and Kenneth Dixon of Ruidoso, N.M., and Jeanine and Bill Thompson of Spade, spent the weekend with Dan and Oma Dee and helped them get Dan settled in for his recovery.

We Salute

The Candidates

The Dimmitt Independent School District is fortunate to have 17 candidates running for the seven available positions on the school board.

Usually, we elect only two or three per year for three-year terms. But a court ruling restructured the DISD into four single-member districts, and the special election being conducted today (Thursday) is the first under the new structure, so all seven seats on the board are open.

Under the single-member system, the board will have at least three new trustees, and it's possible that the new board could have only one incumbent. However, incumbents seem to have the inside track in nearly all elections, and six incumbents are running (albeit two against each other in District 4), so it's probably safe to assume that there will be more than a single experienced trustee on the new board.

In the classic old play, Green Pastures, there's a line where the Lord says, "Even bein' God ain't no bed of roses."

Being a school trustee ain't no bed of roses, either. Our school trustees aren't paid. Yet, to do the job that they aren't paid to do, they must complete a minimum number of seminars, workshops, training sessions and schools, or be disqualified from serving.

That's just the start. They also must hammer out a budget of almost $7 million every year and see that our children get the best education possible with the available money and facilities, while complying with a myriad of state and federal mandates.

Having done that, the school trustees must then concern themselves with the day-to-day operation of the schools—dress code, policy, personnel, health, discipline, parents' complaints, trips, meals—because the voters and parents demand it.

Our hat is off to anyone willing to take on the job. Next time you see any of our school board candidates—Max Newman, Rick Wright, Connie Martinez, Steve Olsen, Jim Killingsworth, James Sims, Cheryle Pybus, David Schaeffer, Don Moore, Lint Merritt, Terry Hill, Rita McDaniel, Sam Burke, Gary Thurman, Paul Garcia, John Nino or Charlie Lane—thank them for running, whether they win or lose today.

Also, in the fifth grade listing, Lee Ann Wilkerson's name was incorrectly spelled on the third six weeks A-B Honor Roll.

A SPECIAL VALENTINE — Dimmitt's Richardson Elementary kindergarten students each signed this giant Valentine message of support that will be sent to soldiers who are involved in Operation Desert Storm. The banner was presented to members of the Castro County Chapter of Operation Heart Shield Friday afternoon in a special ceremony at the school. Accepting the banner are (rear, from left) Al Webb, Modesta Lopez and Kathy Webb, members of OHS and who have loved ones serving in Saudi Arabia. Darlene Collins also participated in the ceremony. Students representing some of the kindergarten classrooms are (clockwise, from lower left) A.J. Fuller, Brandon Webb, Raul Ontiveros, Caitlin Buckley, Maggie Lopez, Coby Williams, and Priscilla Rodriguez. Photo by Linda Maxwell

Two Dimmitt students get TTU degrees

Two Dimmitt students received bachelor's degrees from Texas Tech University during the fall 1990 commencement ceremonies.

Cara Delin Odom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Odom of Dimmitt, graduated cum laude with a bachelor of business administration degree in accounting.

Joyce Ann Schilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schilling of Dimmitt, received a bachelor of science degree in home economics in human development and family studies.

If you wish to write to someone who you know is serving inside Saudi Arabia but whose address you don't have, you may address your letter to them as follows: c/o Operation Desert Shield, APO New York, NY 09848-0006.

(Care packages are authorized, however, please do not send any meat products, reading material containing religious matter or that could be considered banned by the Moslem religion. They mainly need foot powders, soaps, shampoo, razor blades or disposable razors, and snack-type treats. Bulk care packages are being shipped, but something from home would be nice. Also, packages must have a Customs Declaration Stamp on them. If you send photos, they cannot show ladies with open necklines, or in apparel showing their legs (i.e. no swim suits or mini skirts, shorts, etc.)

Blood drive planned Wednesday in Nazareth

The Nazareth High School Student Council will sponsor a blood drive in Nazareth at the school cafeteria Wednesday from 3 to 7 p.m.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center of Amarillo, which will be conducting the blood drive, is one of 40 civilian blood centers who are available for emergency blood services to the US Armed Forces in Saudi Arabia, should they be called upon to do so.

Coffee Memorial has not sent any units of blood overseas as of yet, and may not be asked to do so, but the drive scheduled in Nazareth will assist in the potential preparation.

Adults who give blood also have their name put into a drawing for several prizes including an all-expense paid trip for two to Puerto Vallarta, a $500 grocery shopping spree, a 10-inch cubic foot freezer with a 1/4 side of beef, a 20-inch remote control color television and two drawings of 100 gallons of gas.

The more times you donate, the more chances you have to win because a registration slip is put into the drawing each time you give blood (you may donate every 56 days).

Donations in Nazareth Wednesday will aid in meeting the present blood needs of the 20 hospitals the center serves throughout the Panhandle, as well as be available should some additional needs arise due to the outbreak overseas.

Other incentives to donate blood include chances for a high school student to win a car from Ron Clark Ford in Amarillo; and for adults to win several prizes including a trip to Puerto Vallarta.

Any high school student who donates blood between the dates of Oct. 1, 1990 and Oct. 1, 1991, will become eligible to win the car. (You must be 17 years of age with parental consent, or older, to donate blood).

Tech names honor students

Several Texas Tech University students from Castro County qualified for academic honors lists based on final grades reported for the 1990 fall semester.

Students on the president's list included Aaron Lynn Odom, a sophomore chemistry major and Anant Nanubhai Patel, a junior biochemistry major, both of Dimmitt.

Dean's list honorees include Dimmitt students Teresa Marie Field, a senior teachers of young children major; Barry Hill, a freshman arts and sciences undecided major; and Brian Stewart, a sophomore music education major. Nazareth students on the list include Phillip Durbin, a senior geography major; Stacy Albracht, a senior journalism major; Melissa Brockman, a junior teachers of young children major; Kenny Kern, a senior agricultural engineering major; and Lora Kay Schulte, a senior secondary education major.

Diplomas were awarded to two Castro County students attending Texas A&M University during mid-year commencement ceremonies in December, 1990.

Johnny Schmucker, son of Ray and Mary Lou Schmucker of Nazareth, graduated with a master's degree in ag economics.

Benjamin Robert Benton of Dimmitt was awarded a bachelor of science degree in agronomy.

County irrigators' center pivot use is on the rise

The use of center pivot sprinkler systems continues to increase within Castro County, according to a recent center pivot system inventory update conducted by the High Plains Underwater Water Conservation District No. 1 in Lubbock.

In the portion of Castro County within the Water District service area, approximately 230 additional center pivot systems have been installed between 1986 and 1990, according to the Water District's inventory. This brings the total number of center pivot systems in use within Castro County to 566. The previous 1986 center pivot inventory indicated 336 center pivots in operation within the county.

The 230 additional center pivot systems represent a $6,900,000 investment in water conservation by Castro County irrigators during the past four years, at an average cost of $30,000 per system.

Approximately 1,383 center pivot systems were installed between 1986 and 1990 within the Water District, according to the recent inventory totals. This brings the total number of center pivot systems in operation within the district to 4,474.

"Center pivots, and especially low energy precision application (LEPA) systems are the wave of the future," said Ken Carver, assistant manager of the High Plains Water District. "Center pivot systems continue to be installed because increased crop production, significant water savings and reduced fuels and labor costs makes investment in these irrigation systems cost-effective."

Most center pivot systems currently in use within the Water District are partial dropline systems which operate at about 80% water use efficiency. However, the number of LEPA systems in use increases each year as a result of the improved irrigation application efficiency as compared with conventional furrow irrigation. LEPA systems can achieve irrigation application efficiencies of about 95% while conventional furrow irrigation has an irrigation application efficiency of about 60%.

LEPA center pivot systems can help reduce the amount of ground-water pumped for irrigation by as much as 25% by allowing smaller and more frequent water applications. LEPA systems also have helped reduce labor costs by as much as 75% and irrigation fuel savings by 35 to 50%.

"Since pumping water from the Ogallala Aquifer and applying it to crops is a major input cost in High Plains farming operations, an important way to reduce cost is to apply irrigation water as efficiently as possible. Therefore, as research continues to improve the efficiency of the center pivot irrigation system, irrigators will continue to adopt the best available technology. We salute our area producers for their use of this water conservation tool," said Carver.

Additional information regarding center pivot irrigation systems is available by contacting the High Plains Underwater Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, 79405, or by calling 1-762-0181.

JOHNNY SCHMUCKER, son of Ray and Mary Lou Schmucker of Nazareth, was awarded a master's degree in ag economics from Texas A&M University during commencement ceremonies in December, 1990. Schmucker, his wife, Kim, and their children, Hayley and Kyle will move to Mayfield, Ky., where he has accepted a position with the University of Kentucky as an agriculture specialist.

Cotton Talks

No one at 35-year-old Plains Cotton Growers Inc., of Lubbock remembers when the producers' need for an accurate cotton acreage estimate was greater than the need at the beginning of 1991.

"Nor can we remember entering a crop year when such an estimate was more difficult to make," said Plains Cotton Growers Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

It's ironic that the triple base plan in the 1991 cotton program that demands of producers a heavier reliance on market prices, at the same time offers unprecedented producer options that make prospective acreage and its effect on prices less predictable, Johnson said.

In the past, PCG has gotten fairly reliable (except for drought years) planted acreage indications for its 25 counties simply by adjusting the area's maximum permitted program acres by a percentage based on historical averages of under-enrollment and underplanting.

But with producers having the option to "flex" hundreds of thousands of acres from one program crop to another for 1991, and with no past records by which to judge how they may respond to that option, such simple calculations are useful only as a means to a starting point, Johnson said.

To illustrate the magnitude of possible variations from that starting point, PCG notes that 199 non-cotton base acreage in its territory will total about 2.4 million, 15% or 360,000 of which could be moved into cotton without sacrificing deficiency payments on any crop, and another 10% that could be "flexed" by giving up an equal percentage of payment-eligible acres of other crops.

So how much of this 600,000-acre total of flexible wheat and feed grain acres will actually wind up in cotton?

"It's impossible to name a specific figure," Johnson said, "but after talking to many producers in the area, we're of the opinion that flexible acres moving to cotton on the Plains may be considerably less than some people are thinking."

In addition to normal differences of opinion about "the best way to go," almost every producer has a different set of circumstances that affect his ability or lack of ability to expand cotton acreage, Johnson said. He adds that some have problems financing more cotton without the protection of deficiency payments; some just don't think it wise in an uncertain market to grow any crop on acres not eligible for payments; some have problems with adding cotton acres because of conservation compliance and other crop rotation plans; and some are reluctant to switch from skip-row to solid planting to make room for more cotton.

Too many people not familiar with our area are expecting large transfers to cotton in dryland areas where cotton is the only viable crop, he said, pointing out two reasons why that won't happen. First, the 14 PCG counties with predominantly dryland production have less than 500,000 or only 20% of the area's non-cotton bases. Second, those are the same counties where conservation compliance requirements are most restrictive.

None of this is to say PCG doesn't expect an increase in cotton acreage this year, according to Johnson. And the 7.5% reduction in the set-aside or ARP requirement alone will raise the area's permitted acres by about 270,000.

"And it's probably a safe bet to assume that some additional acreage will be flexed from wheat and feed grain bases to cotton. But we haven't found the crystal ball that can tell us how many of those acres there'll be," Johnson said.

On the national scene, two belt-wide planted acreage estimates will be out early next month, both based on producer surveys, the first will come Feb. 8 at the Producer Steering Committee meeting in Los Angeles when the National Cotton Council releases results of its annual January survey. Then on the following Monday, Feb. 11, the US Dept. of Agriculture will announce its "special" planting intentions estimate.

A look at the record shows NCC January estimates a little closer to the year's final planted acreage than USDA's regular March planting intentions report in five of the last nine years. This year's NCC figures should be more useful in making production and market price judgements. NCC survey results will be broken down by states and regions and will separate upland and extra long staple acreage, whereas USDA's estimate will reflect only a single total for all US Cotton.

commissioners' court has the authority to establish set working days and hours as a part of the county personnel policy.

Smith replied that taxpayers in his precinct have expressed the opinion that county road employees should be paid the same wages and work the same hours as feedlot workers.

Simpson said that the taxpayers may not understand that "We'd be in trouble if we worked them longer hours."

Davis reiterated that the county has been subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act since 1985.

Smith also asked why road workers could not be allowed to work when the road conditions warrant it or have time off in bad weather when road work cannot be performed.

Simpson replied that work schedules may be adjusted within the two-week pay period to allow for bad weather or extra work occasionally.

Guggemos said workers should not be forced to take off during good weather so that they would be available to work on a Saturday.

In additional discussion, Smith asked why he could not discharge employees at will, citing state laws that grant him that authority.

Davis pointed out that commissioners do have the authority, but it does not override federal anti-discrimination laws. He reminded Smith that documentation of dereliction of duty needs to be used in discharging an employee for the protection of the commissioner. He also cautioned that extra care must be used in deciding to dismiss any employee that might fall into a protected area, such as a minority or any over age 40.

Another point of county policy Smith brought up was the division of county funds. Davis reminded the court that any commissioner who is unhappy with the way the county funds are divided, may file suit on the matter in district court.

Tulia defeats Bobbies, 63-48

CLOSE QUARTERS—Dimmitt post Wendy Ethridge (41) is fouled by Tulia's Kandi Smith as she gets off a shot in the fourth quarter at Tulia Friday night. Ethridge made both free throws, but the die already had been cast as the Lady Hornets still led by 53-37. The final tally was 63-48 as Tulia handed the Bobbies their first district loss of the season. Photo by Don Nelson

Remember last year? The state-ranked Bobbies defeated Tulia's state-ranked Lady Hornets 62-43 in their first district game here. Then in the second round of district play, the Lady Hornets turned the tables on the Bobbies, 57-56, at Tulia, forcing a playoff game for the top-seed spot. Well, here we go again.

After defeating Tulia 63-42 in Dimmitt in the first district meeting in Dimmitt earlier this month, the Bobbies fell victim to the Lady Hornets in Tulia Friday night. That means another playoff game for the top-seed spot is probably in the cards this year.

The Lady Hornets jumped on Dimmitt from the opening minutes of the game Friday night, and continued their domination enroute to a 63-48 win.

Friday night's District 2-AAA showdown was almost identical to the Jan. 8 meeting between the teams, except the roles and outcome were reversed.

In the first outing, the Bobbies dominated every facet of the game, while Tulia had the upper hand throughout the contest Friday.

Entering the contest Friday, the Bobbies were ranked No. 4 in the state and Lady Hornets were No. 5, but that's all changed now. The latest rankings released by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches, lists Tulia in the No. 4 spot and has Dimmitt dropping to No. 5.

The Lady Hornets jumped out to an early 8-0 lead before Dimmitt got on the board with a free throw by Michelle Schumacher with 5:06 left in the first quarter. Tulia ran off six more points before Poppy Thomas connected on a jumpshot—Dimmitt's first field goal—with 3:52 left. The Bobbies couldn't seem to get anything going in the first quarter, and found themselves behind 10-21 after the first eight minutes.

Tulia's Kandy Smith, who finished with a 22 points, gave Dimmitt problems all night, and scored eight of her points in the opening stanza to boost the Lady Hornets to their early lead. Jennifer Tucker led Tulia in scoring with 23 points.

Turnovers also plagued the Bobbies in the first period, as the committed six, but forced only two out of Tulia.

The Bobbies narrowed Tulia's lead to six points, 21-15, early in the second period, after Renae Jossel connected on a three-pointer from the top of the key and Halley Bradley grabbed an offensive rebound and put it back in for two with 7:06 left, but the Lady Hornets gradually pulled away and went into the locker room with a 33-21 half time lead.

Nothing the Bobbies did could loosen the Lady Hornets' grasp on control of the game in the third quarter, either.

After shooting a dismal 7 of 17 from the floor in the first half, the Bobbies connected on five of seven field goals in the third quarter. But Tulia was just a little bit hotter—the Lady Hornets were accurate on 7 of 13 tries from the floor in the stanza to take a 49-35 lead.

The fourth quarter was a replay of earlier stanzas and the Bobbies saw their hopes of a district sweep of Tulia brushed out the door.

Jossel paced the Bobbies with 19 points. Wendi Ethridge added 14 and Bradley tossed in 12.

when the Hornets came out and played Dimmitt to a close game for three quarters.

The Cats won the first outing by a substantial margin, 91-48, but they had a tough time with the host Hornets, until the broke open the game in the final stanza to claim an 84-69 victory.

For Dimmitt, Jermaine Williams scored 20, Miguel Saucedo finished with 17, Lincoln Stewart added 14 and Robert Ruiz added 11. Tulia was paced by Dwain Hawthorne's 31 points.

After a hard-fought first quarter, the Bobcats were lucky to possess a 24-18 lead, but Tulia wasn't about to settle for that.

The Hornets outscored the Cats 12-4 in the first five minutes of the second stanza to take a 31-28 lead after a trey from the right corner by Hawthorne and a charity tosses by Tyson Willis.

But Dimmitt fought back and finished the quarter with a two-point lead, 39-37, after Billy Ray Thomas scored on a fast break layup as time ran out in the half.

Dimmitt started pulling away in the third stanza, outscoring the Hornets 23-15 to take a 62-52 lead; then coasted through the final eight minutes to post the win.

The Cats improve to 23-5 overall and 6-0 in District 2-AAA play with the victory and sit alone at the top of the district race.

Farwell edges Swifts, 59-50

The Nazareth Swifts gave it a valiant effort Friday night, but couldn't unseat the District 5-A leader, Farwell on its home court.

Nazareth was on top of the Steers all night long, and it took a superb fourth quarter performance by Farwell to defeat the Swifts, 59-50.

Nazareth won the first quarter, 16-15, but Farwell took the second stanza by a point to tie the score at 31 at half.

Farwell managed a four-point edge after three quarters, 46-42, then outscored Nazareth 13-8 in the final period to take the win.

Scott Huseman paced the Swifts with 19 points while Adrian Farris added 10. Shawn Stewart paced Farwell with 23 points while teammate Greg Actkinson tossed in 15.

The second meeting of the two teams resembled the first—as far as first quarter play goes. In the Jan. 8 game, which Farwell won, 84-60, in Nazareth, the Swifts were in the thick of the battle for most of the first and second periods before Farwell took advantage of lucky breaks to pull ahead.

Friday night's victory moved Farwell into sole possession of the District 5-A lead with an unblemished loop mark, while the Swifts sit in second place, losing only to Farwell in district play.

Desperation shot lifts Happy over Nazareth

NAZARETH'S JODI JOHNSON (left) applies pressure man-to-man defense on Happy's J.J. Harvey (14) during fourth quarter action Tuesday night in Nazareth. Less than 30 seconds remained in the game and Nazareth had a one-point lead (26-25) when this shot was taken, and the Swiftettes' defense almost held on to win. But Jill Mayfield broke free and sank a three-pointer at the buzzer to lift Happy to a 28-26 win. The loss was Nazareth's first district loss since Feb. 2, 1973, and broke a string of 152 straight district victories. It also forces the teams into a two-way tie for first place in District 5-A competition, and a playoff game is likely between the two to decide the top seed.

INSIDE BATTLE—Nazareth's Michael Schmucker (32) drives inside the paint and tries to put up a shot against Farwell's Shawn Stewart (35) during action Friday night in Farwell as teammate Scott Huseman (far right) gets in position for a rebound. The Swifts stayed with the Steers until the final minutes of the game, and Farwell went on to claim a 59-50 victory and first place in District 5-A. The Swifts currently are in second place.

For a minute there was hope. But that's all. Happy's Jill Mayfield launched a desperation three-point shot as the buzzer sounded Tuesday night, and while a packed gym in Nazareth held its breath, the shot sailed through the net. That gave the No. 6-ranked Cowgirls a two-point District 5-A victory over the top-ranked Swiftettes, 28-26.

The Happy victory snapped Nazareth's 152-game district winning streak which dated back to Feb. 2, 1973, and forces a tie for the lead in District 5-A play between the teams. That means playoff game probably will have to be held to determine the top seed.

But just for a minute Tuesday night, Nazareth fans were hopeful. It looked like the officials might not allow Mayfield's shot. A signal by one official struck hope in the hearts of Nazareth fans, when it looked like he ruled the shot was after the buzzer, but later he clarified his act and said he was signaling Nazareth couldn't have a time out after the shot was made because time had expired in regulation.

Ironically, buzzer-beaters like Mayfield's ended action in each quarter.

In the first quarter, Happy's Janale Stockett, who led all scorers with 14 points, sank a basket at the buzzer to tie the game at 5. In the second stanza, Nazareth's Jodi Johnson scored at the buzzer to give the Swiftettes a two-point lead. And in the third stanza, Stockett nailed a three-pointer as time expired to boost her team to a 19-14 lead over the Swiftettes.

The game was a defensive battle, which is typical of Nazareth-Happy showdowns.

The Cowgirls held the Swiftettes to two points in the third quarter and that enabled them to take the lead headed into the final eight minutes of regulation.

Jill Pohlmeier, who paced the Swiftettes with eight points, scored on a short jumpshot and was fouled in the act. She sank her charity toss to narrow the gap to 17-19 with 7:13 left to play in the fourth period. Stockett countered with a basket 20 seconds later and Nazareth called a time out. After the break, Noel Johnson, who had been quiet for most of the game, came out and hit a trey with 5:51 left to cut the gap to a point, 20-21.

Seconds later, Happy called a time out. Pohlmeier scored with 4:45 left to tie the game at 22, then added another basket with 2:57 left to give the Swiftettes a 24-23 lead—their first lead since the end of the second quarter.

Happy's J.J. Harvey scored with 2:26 left to give Happy its lead back, but Nazareth would regain control one more time before it was over.

Nazareth was down by a point when Kristi Payne fouled Monica Kleman with 53 seconds left in the game.

Happy called a time out, hoping to make Kleman worry about her shots, but it didn't work. The senior post player stepped up to the line and confidently nailed both ends of the one-and-one situation to give the Swiftettes a 26-25 lead with 53 seconds left.

Happy took the ball out and its offense worked, to no avail, until the 17 second mark, when Happy Coach Clay Stout called a time out. The Cowgirls came back out and it looked like the Swiftettes defense would prevail, but Mayfield was left open and she nailed the shot as time expired to lift the Cowgirls to victory.

On the year, Nazareth stands at 15-9 and hold a 6-1 loop mark, while the Cowgirls improve to 19-8, 6-1.

The Swifts had an easier time corraling the Happy Cowboys, but it didn't start out that way.

Nazareth found itself down, 9-11, after the first quarter, but bounced back to score 30 points in the second quarter and went into the locker room with a 39-26 lead.

After that, Happy didn't stand a chance.

The Swifts expanded on their 13-point half time lead to go ahead 57-37 after the third quarter ended, then coasted through the final eight minutes to take a 76-51 lead.

Scott Huseman scored a game-high 22 points while teammate

Wade Hoelting tossed in 15 for Naz. Happy was lead by Brandon Clark's 19-point performance. Nazareth improves to 13-8 overall, 5-2 in District 5-A play; while Happy drops to 5-15, 2-5.

Local opinion supports ...

(Continued from Page 1) pointed out that the US has a policy of not hitting civilian targets if at all possible to avoid them.

"If we were like Saddam (hitting only civilian targets), Baghdad would have been gone in two days," Chapman said. "I don't like it (the war), but I think we're doing the only thing we can. A man like that is crazy. We've got to get him out of power."

On the other hand, local pharmacist Garland Coleman said, "I hope Congress doesn't put pressure on the President to push things. I hope they go ahead and do it the way they planned it, but Saddam has to be stopped."

A 16-year-old sophomore at Dimmitt High School, David Maxwell said, "I think everyone should support the war effort. If it lasts more than a year, we should still support it, even if it does cost us. We don't need people like Hussein around. We should be behind our soldiers 100 percent."

Parents of service personnel serving in Operation Desert Storm have expressed concern for their children, but none were critical of the decision to try to stop Hussein.

Collins' son, Joe, is in Saudi Arabia. Collins received a phone call from him at 3:30 a.m. Jan. 22.

"We could tell he was in great spirits. It was very reassuring to hear his voice. It was a great surprise to hear from him. We didn't expect him to be able to call," Collins said.

He added that Joe told him there had been no casualties in his unit, but that there had been some light injuries from the artillery shelling.

Faye Mohon said of her son, "David is probably exactly where he wants to be. He was upset when he didn't get to go with his unit to Panama."

"All the parents are having trouble handling the fact that our kids are there," Mohon continued, "but I feel like we're doing what we have to do. If we didn't, other countries would be overrun."

Another parent of a soldier, Kathy Webb, said, "I'm real apprehensive about the war, but I support the President wholeheartedly and support our boys over there. It's real frightening, but it's a necessary thing we're doing."

"The not knowing is what gets me. We see reports on television and know it's rough in the vicinity where John is, so not knowing is the worst part of it all," she continued.

"The support of our community and our church means so much. A few days ago I couldn't talk about it without crying. Everyone has rallied around and is so supportive, it has made it a whole lot easier," Webb concluded.

Thomas expressed concern about the effect the war is having on the women being sent over there.

"I hate that women have to be over there, but we're seeing the world changing. I guess it's a result of women's lib, but it's not really liberation to get to be over there," she said.

Thomas added, "The President says we're not fighting for oil, so I hope that's true. I pray we are fighting for the right thing. Our men have been very brave, and I pray we come out on top."

Help is needed to send Valentines to veterans

Dear Editor:

I would like to ask the community for their cooperation in making Valentine cards and cookies for the veterans in our community and at Hines Veterans' Affairs Hospital.

This will be in conjunction with the Ann Landers-Valentine's Vet Program. I'm sure this would make the veterans know that there are still some people that care about them.

The cards and cookies may be brought to Allison Davis' home-making class at Dimmitt High School. They also may be sent to Ann Landers Valentine Vet, Hines VA Hospital, Hines, Ill 60141-1489.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

back and deleted the "half mast" reference from their proclamations.

Anyway, the flags flew Monday — at full mast.

Nine of Castro County's service men and women in Saudi Arabia are in for a thrill.

Diane Montiel, Robbie Epperson, John Mark Gilbreath, David Mohon, Juan Perez, John Robledo, Brad DuLaney, Julian Acevedo Jr. and Jerry Ogas will soon receive an 11x14 full-color lithograph print of the USAF Thunderbirds' six white jets flying over the Grand Canyon. It's a beautiful picture.

At the bottom right of each picture is a personal inscription to each recipient from T/Sgt. Emilio Sandoval Jr. of Dimmitt, who is a member of the Thunderbirds team.

Emilio got their names from a couple of stories in recent issues of the News, in which we printed their thank-you notes for the packages they had received through the Operation Heart Shield mailing project.

Since their addresses weren't included with the stories, Emilio sent all the pictures to the Chamber of Commerce office, where the project was coordinated. The chamber will forward them.

"If I missed anyone, let me know," Emilio wrote.

We'll send him our address list of service men and women, and hope he has the time to get to all of them. At present, our list includes 32 who are serving in Saudi Arabia.

We're currently cross-checking the News's address list with that of our Operation Heart Shield chapter. As you can imagine, the list is in a state of constant change.

We got a new address for Brad DuLaney this week. If you know of any other addresses that have changed recently, please let us know.

Our list includes not only Castro County service men and women, but those who are related to local residents. The complete list is as long as a rope, and it's hard to spring the space to print it. But we'll print it again as soon as we can—in our next issue, we hope.

By the way, I understand that people are being discouraged now from sending packages weighing over 12 ounces to those serving in Saudi Arabia. Also, packages are not priority mail in war zones, so there's no telling when a package might catch up with the addressee.

Carl Lee Kemp of Rockwall sent me a copy of the Pottsville Press recently. On its front page, he had marked a quotation from William Allen White, legendary publisher of the Emporia, Kan., Gazette:

"There are three things that no one can do to the entire satisfaction of anyone else: make love, poke the fire, and run a newspaper."

Police Calls

An 18-year-old Hereford woman, listed as a student, remained in the county jail Tuesday afternoon under $2,000 bond stemming from felony charges of burglary of a vehicle.

She is a suspect in the Jan. 18 burglary of a 1983 Datsun Maxima belonging to Danny Newton. The vehicle had been parked at Dimmitt High School, and Newton's daughter, Tessie, told police that someone had apparently taken her car keys from her locker, and used them to gain entry to the vehicle.

A&M honors local students

Texas A&M University in College Station has named its honor students for the 1990 fall semester, recognizing several local students for outstanding academic performance.

Named to the dean's honor roll at A&M were Danna Ralston of Dimmitt, and Russell Acker and Alan Birkenfeld, both of Nazareth. To be named to the dean's list, students must maintain at least a 3.75 grade point ration out of a possible 4.0.

Students named to the "Distinguished Students" list, which honors students who earned a 3.25 to 3.74 GPR, are William Scott Hill, Kerry Lewis and Justin Nelson, all of Dimmitt; and Lee Kleman of Nazareth.

Reportedly taken from the vehicle, but later recovered, were a purse and a wallet. The purse was allegedly valued at $300 and the wallet at $150.

A 26-year-old Borger man is in jail, serving out a $603 fine and 72-hour sentence on DWI, violation of probation charges.

A 30-year-old Dimmitt woman was released after paying a $253 fine and $50 in restitution on misdemeanor theft of services charges.

Adam Hiser, 22, of Plainview told police Sunday around 12:15 a.m. that his 1969 Dodge Dart was taken without his consent, probably by another Plainview man who had been asleep in the back seat when Hiser left the vehicle parked at 510 S. Broadway in Dimmitt for a while. Hiser valued the vehicle at $1,000. Investigation is continuing.

Debra Gonzales Lopez, 26, of Dimmitt reported to police Jan. 23 that someone had apparently taken her license plate, number 664-BXD, from her 1981 Buick while it was parked at the Azteca Complex. She said it could have been missing since Jan. 14, but she had not reported it earlier, because she thought it might turn up.

A 42-year-old Dimmitt man was arrested for public intoxication when police were dispatched to an address on Locust Street in Dimmitt in response to a disturbance call around 4:20 a.m. Sunday. The suspect's wife and step-son told police that he had run them out of the house.
