TENNYSON TOPICS . . .

By William Jessie Green

Ocie Tounget of Miles was visiting Zack Tounget and family Sunday. Mrs. Maudie Burleson went to Angelo Friday to visit her mother, Mrs. Bradley, who has been sick.

Albert McDonald and Freddie McDonald of California are visiting with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lonzo Harrell and Eddie Harrell.

J. W. Brown and Mrs. Studie Brown were in Abilene Monday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bell. Mrs. Brown also visited with Mrs. R. B. Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown.

Miss Iris Brooks came home Tuesday from Eldorado to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brooks.

Mrs. Myrtle Bell and Mrs. Stephenson visited with Mrs. E. D. Little Tuesday.

Lou Ella Stewart spent the week end with Della Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hagerman and children were at Tennyson visiting with friends and relatives.

L. Y. Harrell and Freddie McDonald, W. T. Green and Zack Tounget were at Angelo shopping this week, and they patronized Enterprise advertisers.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Caldwell of Abilene visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Webb were at Abilene on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams were out visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cummings.

Mrs. John Gaston was shopping in Angelo Tuesday.

Mrs. Marvin Corley and Mrs. J. W. Latham were at Angelo Tuesday to shop.

Chesley Pierce and Charles Westbrook went to Menard Sunday to visit with his father, Frank Pierce and friends.

Dub Sims was by Wednesday to chat with the writer.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENTS

The Full Gospel Church now has its new roof completed, so progress there is booming right along.

Cecil Kemp has installed quite an expensive water softener in an effort to provide the best of service for his customers.

J. B. Mackey and R. E. Cumbie have finished re-arranging the inside of Cumbie & Wilkins, thus providing more room for customers and a better opportunity to display goods.

J. A. Percifull has also finished remodeling the inside of Central Drug, and has rearranged show cases and tables.

The Capertons are nearly through with the construction of their new garage and service station, and report that it won't be long now.

Cumbie & Co. has completed installation of a new ice box and freeze unit that really cools off the contents.

SAND & GRAVEL CO. BUILDING IN BRONTE

W. H. Shaw, Jr., of San Angelo is putting in a modern sand and gravel equipment concern in Bronte, and as a result, the Santa Fe is now building a 1,130 foot siding for his use, which is located on the banks of the Colorado River about two miles south of Bronte.

Although the two jobs are not connected, it has also been revealed that Cecil Montgomery has a contract with H. C. Price of McCamey to furnish him with 38 cars of sand and gravel. Montgomery gets his commodity from Taylor Emerson's place, and is now loading two or three cars daily.

In short, business in Bronte is picking up.

March of Dimes Begins

Governor-Elect Beauford Jester pledged every co-operation in the annual March of Dimes sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He is pictured with George D. Wilson, Texas chairman for the fund-raising campaign, which is now under way throughout Texas and will continue through January 30. George Waverly Briggs of Dallas and W. J. Clayton of Houston and Washington also are serving as Texas chairmen.

BUREAU OF RECLAMATION ENDORSES UCRA PROJECT

L. T. Youngblood, chairman of the UCRA, disclosed this week that he had received a letter from the Bureau of Reclamation commissioner, in which the latter spoke quite favorably of the impending UCRA development program, which was recently approved by the State Board of Water Engineers.

According to the news received, the Bureau has just about completed all plans for the project, which will be approved then by the Secretary of Interior, President Truman, and then returned to the state for approval by Governor Beauford H. Jester, who will be in office by that time.

Then the matter is up to Congress. Some $2,040,000 has already been approved for the undertaking, but the amount was frozen last year by Presidential order. An appropriation covering the entire amount is now being sought, and the 80th Congress will have the final voice on the question of providing the funds.

Santa Fe Shipping Oil

H. O. Whitt, capable agent of the Santa Fe in Bronte, reported that four carloads of oil were shipped out during the week, headed for Canada, and that the railway had received a permit to ship out 6,745 barrels of petroleum in January, which will require about 28 tank cars.

It can now be reported that the Hooker Trucking Co. of Tenaha has signed a contract with the Scurlock Oil Co. of Houston to bring the oil into Bronte from the Allen Jameson No. 1 Sun Oil Co. well at Silver.

Scurlock is purchasing the oil from the Jameson well, and it is then brought to Bronte, and is now being shipped to Canada by Scurlock.

Whitt, known as one of the best railway agents in the business, is figuring that he's going to be one mighty busy individual from now on.

REES BECOMES PARTNER OF HOME MOTOR CO.

R. W. Rees announced this week that he had purchased a half-interest in the business of the Home Motor Company as well as a half-interest in the building itself. Negotiations were made with Bob Knerim, who formerly owned the entire business.

Rees, an Army veteran, moved to Bronte last year, and intends to make his home here. Believing in the future of Bronte as he does, he has announced plans for the further expansion and development of the Home Motor Company, which has undergone quite an extensive remodeling and repainting job during the last several months.

He also expects to build his own home here, and has himself a lot for that purpose. Mrs. Rees is the former Miss Lavinia Knerim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Knerim, and the couple has two children.

OIL REPORT

Fred Jameson No. 1, Sun Oil Company's second well in Coke County was drilling yesterday at 5,166 feet in lime and shale.

The Murry Gilreaths report having visited Robert Lambert, formerly with Cumbie's Red and White of Bronte, who now operates a Red and White store of his own in Coleman. Robert's doing fine.

Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. Taylor Emerson, Mrs. Connel McAuley, and Rev. George McCrary also were office visitors during the week, as well as C. E. Bruton, Betty Pittman, and Patsy Luckett, and Mrs. C. E. Arrott too.

MARCH OF DIMES

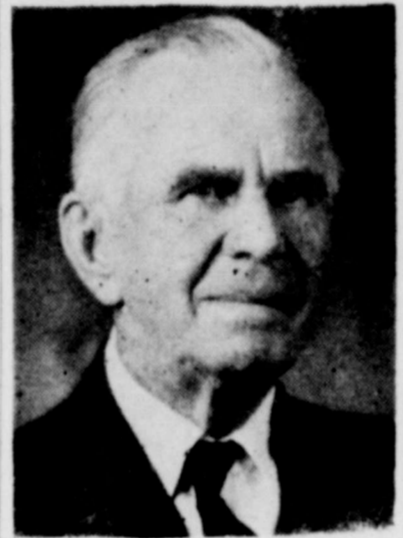

Mrs. Buchanan of Robert Lee is Coke County chairman of the March of Dimes drive, and your reporter has been named assistant chairman.

The drive for the dimes, which began Wednesday, January 15, will last through Thursday, January 30, and all folks wishing to make contributions are urged to see Mrs. Buchanan or the editor of the Bronte Enterprise, where donations may be left.

Both theatres have offered their co-operation in the undertaking, and are expected to receive a free-will offering during one or more of their showings while the drive is underway.

Half of the money collected will be sent to state headquarters, and the other half remains in the county, where it will be used as needed.

Don't forget to give your dimes, for this money is needed.

REV. ABNER HANSON

Rev. Abner Hanson Succumbs

Rev. Abner Hanson, 77, died last Wednesday, January 15, at his home in El Campo following an operation for removal of tonsils, according to reports received in Bronte by friends.

The former Methodist pastor in Bronte, Tennyson, and Hayrick, was one of the most beloved men ever to serve this district, and his passing is being mourned by many of his friends and members of his congregations.

In 1940, at the age of 70, Rev. Hanson was superannuated by the Methodist Conference, and thus retired from active work. But when the war came on, Rev. Fred Hamner of San Angelo, Methodist district superintendent, was visiting at Brady, where the Hansons lived for twelve years while he was pastor of the West Sweden Methodist Church near there, and persuaded Bro. Hanson to fill the vacancy at Bronte which occurred when Rev. Lester Haines entered war work.

Rev. Hanson's first sermon in Bronte was given on April 18, 1942.

He was born at Henry County, Illinois, in 1870, and was the son of Olof Hanson and his wife, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Anderson. Both parents were natives of Sweden.

In 1891, Rev. Hanson entered the Swedish Theological Seminary at Evanston, Illinois, and was later admitted to the Southern Swedish Methodist Conference of the Northern Methodist Church. In 1904 he moved to El Campo, and was ordained a deacon in the Northeast Texas Conference at Wichita Falls on December 24, 1906.

On October 10, 1896, Abner Hanson married Miss Jennie Carlson of Iowa at El Campo, and the couple had eight children, four sons and four daughters. These included Mrs. Herbert Harkrider of Brady, Walter Hanson of Louise, Mrs. Logan O'Reilly of Houston; Rudolph Hanson of Brady; Howard Hanson of Louise; Mrs. Melvin Farthergill of El Campo; Mrs. Ted Broman of Houston; and Granville Hanson.

The Hansons left Bronte in the fall of 1945, and in December, George B. McCrary came as the new pastor.

STOCK SHOW PLANNED

Members of the executive board of the Coke County Livestock Association met in Robert Lee Wednesday night to complete arrangements for the Coke County show, which is scheduled to be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 25-26.

It is believed this year's show will be one of the best ever held, and a wide attendance is anticipated.

Rev. Ulmer Bird, pastor of the Blackwell Methodist Church, was a Bronte visitor last Monday.

FIFTY ATTEND WATER MEETING

Mayor Noah Pruitt called a group of 50 persons to order last Wednesday night, January 15, at 7:20, and two hours later, it was still agreed that the Bronte water situation called for new pipes and more cash, but there was no answer as to where either could be obtained. Several requests that the assembly vote on whether to raise water rates or not went unheeded, and the only vote of the evening was one of 16-12 in favor of using lake water over well water, providing the lake water were clear.

Water Commissioner C. R. Smith explained a map of the city water mains, and it was revealed that out of approximately 18,000 feet of water mains, only one-third was good, and two-thirds had gone to the bad. The only good lines were said to be those running from the lake to the stand-pipe, and from Forman's to the laundry.

Alfred Taylor then confirmed the fact that the pipes were of little value and his views were endorsed by the Mayor.

Pete Nutter questioned if there would be sufficient water available if the worn pipe were replaced, and was told that that was not likely if Bronte experienced a dry spell like that of last summer. Nutter then declared he believed Bronte needed a new source of water before trying to find new pipes and increasing them.

George McCrary then raised the question of muddy water and its quality, indicating a belief Bronte needed better water. Smith declared that a lot of water had been lost during the summer from defective pipes and a lack of water meters, and O. W. Chapman estimated only 60 per cent of Bronte's water users had water meters.

L. T. Youngblood then remarked he'd heard that a full standpipe of water could leak out overnight due to the poor pipes, and Pruitt added that the blacksmith was unable to build enough saddles to care for the leaks.

In an exchange of conversations, it was brought out that there were heavy repair bills each month, saddles cost around $2.00 each, and that repairs seemed to grow worse.

C. E. Bruton then introduced Bill Kimrey of San Angelo, who has handled a great deal of construction work for West Texas towns, and who gave various estimates on construction costs. Chapman declared the present revenue from the water system was $410 per month, or approximately $5,000 a year.

In reply to a question asked by your reporter, Kimrey expressed doubt as to the advisability of seeking engineers' advice, noting that they guaranteed nothing, and that local people were more apt to know where water might be found.

Smith then raised the question whether to let matters alone, or to try to plan for new pipes, which would take from 6-10 months to be put into use.

Frank Keeney noted that he'd been coming to water meetings for 40 years and that conditions were better than in the days when a bucket of water sold for a nickel and a barrel of water for four bits, even though conditions were not as good as they might be.

R. T. Caperton said he believed that if the pipes were repaired, there would be sufficient water, and several agreed with this point of view.

H. A. Springer said he thought the present wells were all right, and that maybe another one would not be out of place.

Youngblood, asked for his opinion, replied that it might be a good idea to wait till labor and material eased up, but suggested that doubling the water rate might be a good idea, in that those who use may pay.

Keeney then suggested that maybe an engineer could make an examination to see what might be needed, and Youngblood responded that water engineers had told him George Hum-long's field should have plenty of water beneath it, since at one time it had been the original river bed of the Colorado River.

Your reporter raised the question several times as to whether the crowd favored a bond issue or a doubling of the water rates. But no vote was taken. Neither was a vote taken on whether the participants of this public mass meeting wanted to double the water rates or not.

One individual pointed out that the idea was to sell water then the question was raised as to what was done when individuals refused to pay. It was admitted that some had been threatened, but none had been cut off, despite failure or neglect to pay their water bill.

As the meeting broke up, about a dozen of the original 50 were found to have left, either due to duties elsewhere or boredom, and the question still was before the house - where do we get the money and where do we get the pipe?

Courthouse News...

The County Commissioners' Court met last Monday, with Judge Bob Davis, and W. J. Eads, H. C. Varnadore, Ben Brooks, T. R. Harmon, and Willis Smith present.

Among business transacted was the naming of Maurine Davis and Jerry Thomason as deputies for the county clerk, and the acceptance of a contract with a Dallas firm of evaluation engineers who will help with the assessment of oil lands.

Will Gideon, D. K. Glenn, and Fayette Brunson appeared in the interest of moving the old county bridge on the West Kickapoo south of Bronte to the school bus route, and members are to meet later to further consider the matter.

County Agent T. B. Hicks reported that donations he received for helping farmers with income taxes would be devoted towards the purchase of a movie projector, and told Commissioners of his plans. He revealed that major accomplishments during 1946 included the establishment of a soil conservation district and the building of the REA lines, which, when finished, are expected to enter some 80 per cent of the available homes in Coke County.

Hicks declared this year's aims included work for the REA, food supply, health and sanitation, and listed plans for the latter, and for proper use of home appliances, conservation of water, soil, and food, and the reorganization and coordination of girls' and boys' 4-H activities. It was also disclosed that Hicks had traveled 15,072 miles during 1946 in the course of his duties.

Members also discussed plans for beautification of courthouse grounds, and hope to enlist the aid of Robert Lee's garden club to that end. Plans are also being made for the construction of two rest rooms in the courthouse in the near future.

All Coke County people are invited to an R. E. A. meeting which is scheduled for tonight at the courthouse at 7:00 P. M. Home specialists from the Abilene office of the West Texas Utilities Company will demonstrate better uses of electricity, show how it can increase farm production, and show movies to prove their points.

Lee Wood, utility agricultural agent, will talk of the general application of electricity to farm tasks, G. C. Osborne, Jr. will speak on wiring and lighting, and Vern Westbrook and Eudora Hawkins, home service department, will talk about domestic appliances.

This training school is sponsored by the Coke County Home Demonstration Agent, Mary Pearl Bearden, and the Agricultural agent, T. B. Hicks, and it is emphasized that everyone is invited.

CHALK DUST

Bronte and Robert Lee went at it hammer and tongs last week, January 9, in both basketball and volleyball, according to Supt. Jeff Dean.

The girls' volleyball team lost both games, with the first team losing by a count of 31 - 30, and the second team dropping behind 42 - 24.

Boys won their contests, however, by a count of 19 - 16 and 24 - 14.

Dot Stephenson is captain of the girls, and others are Kat Wrinkle, Martha Boatright, Bobbie and Jean Smith, and Ida Lou Modgling. The second string includes Dorothy Scott, Loretha Wrinkle, Betty Pittman, Patsy Luckett, Jewel Dean Latham, Marlene Arrott, and Norma Gentry.

The girls are coached by Supt. Dean, who reports some muchly improved teams in the making.

A tournament will be held at Water Valley this week end, and Bronte is scheduled to play Lakeview tonight in what promises to be a hot game.

NOT QUITE ZERO

It was only about 20 degrees in Bronte last night, as this area experienced another cold wave that brought snow flurries and sleet to ground already well-soaked by previous snows. The flurries began late Thursday afternoon, but it was expected to be warmer today, probably about 35 degrees.

WIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

Mrs. R. C. Lasswell, R. W. Rees, and C. E. Bruton are the three winners of last week's offer of free subscriptions to the Bronte Enterprise.

The first to come in with his clipping of the story was Rees, who arrived about 11 o'clock, declaring that he bet everybody had already been in before that. So he was quite pleased to learn he was the first to receive a year's subscription, which he had applied on to his time.

Mrs. R. C. Lasswell said she just knew she was too late, having come in from the route, but sure enough she wasn't, and neither was Bruton.

Each individual thought sure there was no use trying to win the prize, believing that others had already been there first, but it goes to show that that can't always be counted on.

EDITOR'S MAIL BAG

Corporal Hervey Latham, stationed in Korea, has written us a letter enclosing a picture of his cousin, the former Mary Lou Pittman, now Mrs.
 Dwain Pruitt, who was recently chosen the Sweetheart of the 707th Ord. Co. stationed in Korea. Her picture appeared in the company newspaper.

Hervey goes on to say that "I'm just fine, but about to freeze to death.
 Was 4 degrees this morning, such nice weather."

Thought you might be interested in knowing that Mary Lou had won the contest for the Sweetheart nomination, and her picture was published in the 7th Division Hourglass.

We are going to the river tomorrow to try our luck at ice skating. I can just see myself skating across the ice and not on my feet either. Ha! Ha!
 The river is frozen solid and it is lots of fun, so they say. I'll probably end up with a broken neck or something.

Just a note, so guess I'd better sign off for now. Still get the paper, and enjoy it more each time. By the way, one of the fellows that used to live in Bronte is in this company now. His name is James Thomas. He went to school in Bronte until 1940. When I finish the paper, he reads it all the time. Really must close, so good luck.
 HERVEY LATHAM.

We're also glad to report that Hervey recently sent us quite an elaborate folder of Korea and where he was stationed. The pamphlet was full of pictures of places of interest, and we appreciated it very much. Hervey. His friends may wish to come in and see the booklet for themselves.

Rev. C. B. Blake reports that his son, Charles, now in Alaska, is also an avid reader of the Bronte Enterprise. Charlie has about 18 other fellows in his own group, and according to Reuben, the Enterprise is the most popular paper they have. Of course, this reporter would naturally think so, but it's nice to learn that others feel the same way.

SANCO SOCIETY..

By Billie Joe Gartman

There'll be a Coke County singing convention on Sunday, January 26, and everybody is invited to come, for there'll be a basket dinner.

E. L. Reid returned to his home in Grannis, Ark. last week after several days visit with his parents, Mr.
 and Mrs. J. L. Reid.

Mrs. Ray McDonald left last Tuesday for Dallas to join her husband who is employed there. She had been with her parents, the John Allens, for three weeks.

The WHD Club will meet Monday, January 20, and all members are urged to be present as Mary Pearl Bearden will be on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Arbuckle and Ann spent the week end with the Roy Wyatts.

Sorry to report that Mrs. B. D.
 Gartman is on the sick list.

Jane Allen of Robert Lee dropped in Sunday to visit the John Allens.

Jane Gartman spent Saturday night with Joy Adkins.

The H. L. Reids visited the E. Ar-buckles Sunday.

The H. J. Gartmans dropped in on the M. J. Gartmans Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gray of Abilene are the proud parents of a baby daughter born Jan. 11. Mrs. Gray is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. H.
 Campbell.

Sam Fowler has returned home after spending a few days at Monahans with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mayhall and daughter are visiting the T. B. Adkins.

Mrs. E. Arbuckle was recently notified of the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. P. Morgan of Custine, but was unable to attend the funeral.

Frank Preslar of White River, S. D. is here to see after business and to visit old friends. He is also visiting his brother, Green Preslar of Bronte.

J. L. Carville, Sr. was carried to an Angelo hospital Sunday for treatment.

See the writer for your subscription to the Bronte Enterprise, 6 months for $1.

Among Angelo visitors last Monday were Mrs. H. O. Whitt, Evona Le Barre, Mrs. I. M. Cumbie, and Mary Beth.

Recent birthdays included Carolyn Thomson on January 2, when she was nine; Beverly Brownings, which was on January 6, and Don Glenn, who was nine on January 3rd.

EDITORIAL
TEACHERS' PAY

is still too low. Teachers are those folks, you know, who have to go to school for a few years to get a degree. Then they teach to get some ex-perience, and finally they work night and day to plan courses, grade papers, and try to work at their profession.

They work after school hours, they come back at night, but they have no "overtime" pay coming to them. Any other business would pay its employees for overtime and night work, but not the school systems of our respective communities.

The result of poor pay, is poor teachers, who often have to work elsewhere to make a few dollars. The result is bad for the children under their care.

Wonder why you have poor discipline, lack of interest in studies, truancy, vandalism, and destruction of public property? Ever see the connection between these manifestations and underpaid teachers who are overworked and thus unable to keep up with their mounting duties?

Are you satisfied to have your son or daughter a sufferer of conditions that can be helped? If you are satisfied, then don't complain at what goes on. If you don't like the conditions, you might agree that more teachers' pay would be a step in the right direction.

BLACKWELL METHODIST CHURCH

"The People of Christ in Belgium" will be the subject at Blackwell Methodist Church, Sunday night.

Sunday School at 10:00 Sunday morning, preaching service at 11:00. In the morning services the pastor is preaching on the life and work and teachings of Christ, leading up to his crucifixion and resurrection. Last Sunday, the theme was, "Is Not This the Carpenter?" Next Sunday's subject will be "Christ, Baptized and Baptizing."

The Board of Stewards met last Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raney, to hear a report from the treasurer, T. A. Carlisle, and to adopt a budget of $3,000 for twelve months.

Workmen completed laying asbestos shingles this week over the old shingle roof of the parsonage, damaged by hail in 1946.

The pastor, Rev. Ulmer Bird, and Mrs. Bird, with several workers, planned to attend a meeting of Sweet-water District workers at Coahoma, Thursday.

DOROTHY FAYE SCOTT NOMINATED FFA SWEETHEART

By Davie Gassiot

The Bronte Chapter of the FFA has elected Dorothy Faye Scott as Bronte's candidate for district sweetheart.

Representatives from Winters or Ballinger have had the honor for the past three years, so the Bronte boys are working doubly hard for their nominee.

The winner will be presented with a gold choker and earrings to match. Votes may be cast for 1 cent each, and boxes are located all over town in the stores for your convenience and support.

So drop in your money and help our candidate win.

WANTA BE A FIREMAN?

In the light of recent events in Bronte, several folks are talking up the idea of organizing a volunteer fire department. Only the other day, E. A. Bell's house got on fire, and on Monday, Rev. George B. McCrary had to call for help to put out a trash fire. If either had spread, half the town could have gone up in smoke.

Rumors were rampant Monday that the fire truck wouldn't even start, but your reporter and C. B. Smith investigated and found no trouble in starting the motor of the fire engine. All tires were nearly flat, however, and no wrench was available to make the necessary hose connections.

C. V. Harwood of San Angelo, Sonotone representative, happened to be in town at that time, and related experiences while a member of the Winters Volunteer Fire Department. He suggested Bronte people might contact B. G. Owens of Winters, also a former Winters man, Frank Williams, now state fire commissioner in Austin, both of whom he felt would be willing to come to Bronte to help organize a much needed fire fighting team of men.

Before the war, Bronte had a dandy team of fire fighters, but the organization apparently petered out and has not since been revived.

And unless something is done to organize such a group, a fire in Bronte that got out of control could easily destroy the town. The fact that it hasn't happened yet is no sign that it "couldn't happen here," observers warned.

DEAN SPEAKS TO P-TA

Supt. Jeff Dean was the featured speaker when the Bronte P-TA met last Tuesday, January 14 at 2:45 p. m. in the high school.

Mrs. George Thomas was leader, and during the business session it was decided to call off the rummage sale originally scheduled to have been held soon.

The second, eighth, and sophomore grades won the room count.

Dean spoke on "Training for Economic Efficiency," and showed the need for well trained and educated people in the world of today.

The next meeting will be held on February 11th, when Mrs. Will Thomason will speak on "Developing Better Citizens," and the Primary Department will give some special music.

SANCO SINGING CONVENTION

Coke County folks will have a big singing convention at Sanco on Sunday, January 26, with a basket dinner being served at noon. One and all are invited to come, of course, and according to John Coalson, there's to be lots of singing as well as food.

NORTON NOTATIONS...

By Betty Jo Shelburne

The Crews outsiders and school boys came over last Friday night. The Norton and Crews outsiders played first and Crews beat. Then the school boys played and Crews beat again.

The school boys went to Ballinger last Thursday night and played Junior High. Then Junior High returned the game Monday night. Ballinger beat Thursday night and Norton beat Monday night. The Wingate boys and girls basketball teams also came over Monday night. Norton won both of these games also.

Norton is fairly well represented in the Bailey Clinic Hospital. Included is Cecil Patton, who underwent surgery Friday, Joe Hambright, who was accidentally shot Saturday while out hunting, and Jacqueline Cope, who underwent surgery Sunday afternoon.

The Tom Martins of Lamesa were down visiting the Rosser Goods and Mozelle Martin over the week end.

The Gooks played the Lions Club in Ballinger Tuesday night. The Lions Club won. Maverick played the Woodruff team at the Norton gym Tuesday night. Maverick won.

REV. F. H. HAMNER TO PREACH IN BRONTE

Rev. Fred H. Hamner, District Superintendent, will preach for us Sunday morning. The church will be very glad to have him at a morning service. It isn't very often that he is able to be with us in the morning. While here, Brother Hamner will conduct the business session of the First Quarterly Conference for this charge.

The Study in Stewardship for Sunday evening will be taught by Mrs. Frank Saynor, and Wednesday evening by Mrs. O. W. Chapman.

Next week the pastor will be absent from town Monday to Wednesday noon, attending the pastors' retreat for the San Angelo district in Eldorado.

DR. J. D. LEONARD

"Doc" Leonard's Story

(Editor's Note - Dr. J. D. Leonard, well-beloved physician of Bronte and Coke County, recently finished an autobiography about his experiences. Feeling that it would be of interest to our readers, we have secured his permission to reprint several excerpts, and the first of the series follows):

J. D. Leonard was born on February 8, 1872, in Arkansas, the son of a father born in North Carolina and a mother born in Arkansas. He was the oldest of six other children, and lived in a split pine log shack 18 feet square built from the trees that grew on the small plot of ground that was cleared away for the farm.

"I saw my first show October 2, 1884," Doc relates in his story, "and it was in Camden, Arkansas. When we reached town, father parked the wagon near a tent and he said to me 'Now Jim, I want you to stay here with the wagon and watch these apples and peaches. Don't open your mouth while I am gone and keep still. I'm afraid people will think you're a fool.' While father was gone a man from the tent came out and said to me, 'What are these peaches worth, my son?' I looked at him and grinned. The man turned to leave and said, 'You're a fool,' and went back into his tent. When father returned I said, 'Pa, he found it out and I never said a word.'"

After studying medicine and deciding to move to Bronte, where he heard there was a need for a medical doctor, Doc arrived in Bronte on May 1, 1903.

"I bought a little two-room house from Bud Stone . . . we had no well or cistern, so we had to bring what little water we could in a tin bucket from the neighbors, soon all our cedar buckets had fallen to pieces. It was a long time before Bronte had any water except what little was caught in cisterns or hauled in barrels from a distant well or the Colorado River. The sandstorms began to mix with our frijole beans and were so bad at times you could not see across the street. It didn't make much difference because there wasn't much to see anyway. The swift changing weather made a top coat comfortable in the early morning and a bathing suit desirable for the afternoon.

"I had heard of cowboys - they were here. They wore no fancy duds, boots, spurs, and a big hat. They'd bootleg, drink, smoke, and swear. Pay day sent them into town where they would leave out in a cloud of dust when their money was gone, shooting their guns into the air to say 'goodby'."

"Soon after I hung out my shingle to practice medicine in partnership with the old Doctor Key, a young ranchman rode into town to see the old doctor who happened to be out of town. On inquiry I found that a purgative was what he wanted. He said it was some 25 miles out to Old Nolan where he lived and he was riding a dang good horse. I gave him some C.R.C.'s with directions to take two, get on his horse and pull for the ranch. Some days later the fellow returned and questioned to know whether I was a surveyor or a doctor. I informed him that I knew nothing of surveying. He answered, 'But you just missed that outhouse ten feet.'"

"At the end of the first year, the books showed only $800, and I was to have less than half of that. But as the following year came on my practice began to pick up. That fall I had my first surgical case. A boy, Leroy Price, almost had a foot beaten off at the ankle when caught in a cotton gin. The leg was long getting well, but the boy lives today with a very respectable foot.

"Bronte had no church buildings. The school house and a brush arbor were used for Sunday School, church, and camp meeting services. The Larking Hayley drug store and the Bob Hayley barbershop were the most social spots in town during the week days. The drug store was also the post office and remained so until 1908.

"Sometime in August, 1906, George W. McCuiston bought an interest in the Hayley drug store, later becoming owner and remained so until his death, January 16, 1938. This dated the passing of one of the best men I ever knew. At this time, J. M. Rippeetoe became the pharmacist and owner of the business on March 25, 1938.

"Transportation was bad. Horseback and buggy followed cow trails over hills, and across the pastures to residences miles away. I found many popular prescriptions with doctors and among the laity, many failures resulting in harmful and dangerous results. I have to chuckle at my own vagaries and errors as well. Yes, we thought we were scientific. We were floundering around groping for the correct balance. The grandmas took care of the babies largely by feeding them teas, onion juice and sugar tits. When the anxious mothers informed us that the baby was sick and throwing up, about all the comment we gave on the care and feeding of infants was 'wipe it up.' As the boom days came, the town felt the need for an undertaker. A good friend and neighbor by the name of Frank Keeney took the job. Up to date, he is faithful to cover up the mistakes of the doctor. In those days the real estate agents had a quaint way of meeting pointed questions in regard to the health of the community. When a prospector wanted them to account for the man next door being confined to his bed, the answer would be, 'Oh, he's a doctor dying of starvation.' For my first few years, this almost proved the fact.

"But business began to pick up in 1906 and Bronte took on new life. The Orient Railroad was being built through but not to completion until the fall of 1909. People flocked here from back east bringing with them various diseases, among them a typhoid epidemic. We had a drouth in 1907 and another in 1910. The baby, Elizabeth, was then five months old as she was born on March 28, 1910. We returned home from a visit to Arkansas on September 1, and my wife died on February 16, 1911, from TB of the throat."

(Watch next week's issue for further disclosures in the story of Dr. J. D. Leonard).

ROBERT LEE REVELATIONS . . .

By Doris Pettit

Mrs. Ava Maxwell of Bronte is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Tubb.

Billie Sue Brown of Lubbock is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmir Morris Sheppard of Mertzton spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delmir Sheppard.

Funeral services were held Monday for three of the O. K. Rabb family who died after being burned when their home was destroyed last Saturday from a kerosene explosion. Rev. Fred Blake conducted the services at the Baptist Church for O. K. Rabb, 50, Madaline, 12, and Thelma, 9, Mrs. Rabb was also badly burned, and is in a critical condition in an Angelo hospital.

Robert Lee Independent basketball team played the Gem Jewelers of San Angelo Monday night, and the visitors won by a count of 32-23.

Thursday night Bronte came over to play basketball and volleyball. Robert Lee won the two volleyball games and Bronte won the two basketball contests.

Friday night Water Valley came here to play, and won all four games. Miss Ella Dee Wilson is presenting her pupils in a piano recital at the First Baptist Church on Friday evening, January 24, at 8:00 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Kelley Gaston of Roscoe visited in the Jim Blair home over the week end.

Jean Thomason of San Angelo visited in the V. V. Wojtek home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robertson and family of Rotan visited the Sloan Boone's Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dodson, Jr. are the proud parents of an 8-pound baby boy born Sunday night, January 12, in an Angelo hospital.

Doris Fay Woodmansee of Houston is visiting the Ernest Varnadores for two weeks.

See the writer for your subscription to the Bronte Enterprise, only $2 a year in Texas, or $1 for six months. You can't afford to be without the Enterprise.

Although Jess Coppedge did go to the hospital for a check-up not long ago, he was told he was doing all right, and is now back home, feeling up to par, and again at work.

Glad to see Mrs. Billie Dan Labenske, Mrs. Dwain Pruitt, and Mrs. J. T. Henry coming in for a chat about affairs of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Keeney, Jr. of Abilene dropped in for a visit, being home for the weekend to visit his parents, the J. L. Keeneys.

Noah Pruitt, Brooks Browning, and Frank Keeney dropped by, and there was a bit of discussion about the water situation and its possibilities.

To America's Producers, America's Thanks!

As this new year begins, America's ranchers and farmers are busy with their winter work—feeding and caring for their livestock. And all America is again properly grateful to you who produce the food to keep us the world's best fed people.

To you who ride the range from Montana to Texas . . . whose teams and tractors till the nation's fertile acres . . . who have labored hard, long hours . . . who, with soil and seed, sunshine and rain, grass and grain, have achieved miracle after miracle of food production—to you America gives thanks! Thanks for the part you have had in all-time record crops of wheat and corn . . . for bumper yields of small grains . . . for livestock numbers at high levels . . . for soaring dairy and poultry production. This abundance of food which you have produced means better nutrition for millions of families—because good nutrition is just good food that's good for you. Vital as it is, production is only part of the nutritional job. Food must be processed. It has to be transported from surplus-producing areas to the markets where there are great numbers of people to eat it. Here is where Swift & Company comes into the picture. It's our job to provide many of the services required in bringing the foods which you produce to the dinner tables of the nation. Together we are in a vitally important industry. Because nutrition is our business and yours, together we can help build a stronger, healthier America.

Things are NOT always as they seem

A 1-inch pipe and a 4-inch pipe run water into gallon pails. It seems as if the 4-inch pipe would fill 4 times as many pails in a given time. The truth is that it will fill 16 gallon pails while the 1-inch pipe is filling one.

When you read something like this: "Meat in commercial storage on January 1 was about 590,000,000 pounds", it sounds like a lot of meat.

But this big country consumes about 50,000,000 pounds of meat every day. So when you figure it out, this reserve supply in commercial storage is only enough to last 12 days.

Yes, some meat is frozen during months of peak production and stored until months of low production. But practically all of the beef, veal and lamb that is in storage is the kind preferred for meat loaves, sausage, prepared meats—not the kind that goes over the butcher's block as steaks, roasts, chops, etc. Also, the amount frozen is relatively small, as it has never exceeded 1.9% of the annual beef production, 9/10 of 1% of the lamb, less than 6% of the pork.

He Puts the NEW in Nutrition

Dr. H. W. Schultz

We'd like you to meet a Swift scientist, Dr. H. W. Schultz. He is head of the nutrition division of our research laboratories. The work of Dr. Schultz and his associates is mighty important to all of us in the livestock-meat industry. They develop new products which open new markets for meats. This widens outlets for your livestock.

Dr. Schultz is the father of three children. As a scientist he knew growing children needed the body-building proteins of meat. As a father he knew the trouble of scraping and straining meats for the baby and dicing meat for the older children. An idea was born: perhaps Swift & Company could discover a way to prepare canned meats suitable for babies. A research project was undertaken. The scientists went to work!

The research took more than two years. The Swift people consulted with leading doctors, child specialists. They agreed that special meats for babies would be a good thing. Many methods of preparing various kinds of meats were tried. Hundreds of feeding tests were made by families with small children. Finally, six kinds of meat were approved by the doctors, nutritionists, mothers, and the babies themselves. Placed on the market in test cities, these products won immediate acceptance. They are now being sold in many cities, and facilities for their manufacture are being expanded.

These new products—strained and diced meats for babies—create a big new market for meats. There are millions of baby appetites to satisfy.

OUR CITY COUSIN

City Cousin, fresh from town, says the weather puts him down.

Martha Logan's Recipe for Navy Bean Soup

- 1 pint dried navy beans
- 2 quarts water
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1 cup diced celery
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 tablespoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 4 frankfurters

Soak beans in water for several hours or overnight. Drain, add water. Fry onion and celery in butter. Add to beans, simmer 3 to 4 hours or until beans are soft, adding more water as water cooks away. When tender, save out 1 cup beans. Rub other beans through sieve. Reheat to boiling point. Add seasonings and flour mixed with 1/4 cup water. Garnish with hot sliced frankfurters and whole beans. Yield: 4 servings.

Meat Packers' Risks

F.M. Simpson, Agricultural Research Department

Meat is perishable. It cannot be held for prices to go up. Like all meat packers, Swift & Company must sell, within a few days, this perishable product for what it will bring—no matter what price we paid for it. We take risks in both buying and selling. In buying livestock the meat packer must pay the price established by competitive bidding of over 26,000 slaughterers. If the meat packer overestimates the quality of an animal, or the amount of meat the animal will produce, or the market demand for the meat, he will lose money. Hidden bruises, wounds, or other defects can create losses on any animal.

In selling, the meat packer must also follow the market trends established by those who buy the meats. He stands the risk that meat demand will fall off and prices decline before the day he buys the livestock and the day he sells the meat—also the risk of accidents and delays in transit which can wash out his profit. An average profit of less than 2% on sales is a small return for taking these substantial business risks.

Tyrus R. Timm

An adequate record book is an extremely useful and valuable tool. It usually pays good dividends for the few minutes it takes out of the day's work to keep it up to date.

Specifically, a record book helps a farmer or rancher:

- Operate in a businesslike way.
- Learn more about the details of his business than ever before.
- Know exactly how much he is making from his land and his work.
- Find out the weak spots in his enterprises.
- Tell whether or not his operations are working out as planned.
- Prepare a plan for future operations.
- Itemize investments, receipts, and expenses.
- Figure the efficiency of his production methods.
- Provide a record of all business transactions.
- Keep track of bills owed by or to the farm or ranch.
- Establish a sound basis for credit.
- Comply with government programs.
- Prepare income tax returns.

There are farm and ranch record books especially prepared for each state which can help you save time and money. Write to your state agricultural college and obtain one. Properly used, it will give you a better understanding of your business and may open the way to increased profits.

Our Washington
News Letter

By O. C. Fisher

With the new Congress marking time until committees are set up and organization work completed, things are quiet on Capitol Hill.

President Truman's message was well received. He stole some Republican thunder by calling for a balanced budget and economy in government spending. On the subject of labor legislation he was constructive and made some very sound recommendations designed to outlaw jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. Both of these evils were prohibited in the Case Bill which the President vetoed last year. There are many other evils that must be coped with, however, if the power of labor czars is controlled and a workable formula set up for industrial peace.

If everything the President recommended were enacted into law tomorrow, John L. Lewis could still do the same things he has done in the past.

One of the worst features of our present system is the destructive effect of industry-wide strikes. That creates a vicious monopoly over human labor and the damage to the public is as bad or worse than big business monopoly. There is new legislation pending, which seeks to outlaw that evil. I am supporting that proposal.

Moreover, legislation to give the government the power to secure injunctions in cases of grave emergencies is in the mill and should be passed. A law to that effect would remove any question about the authority of the courts in cases such as the recent one involving John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

It now appears certain that labor legislation will be first on the agenda for the new Congress to act upon. On Tuesday evening of this week Congressman Case of South Dakota and I debated the need for legislation on this subject with two labor representatives, over the Mutual Broadcasting Company's American Forum of the Air. I shall have more to report from time to time on the progress we are able to make in the new Congress in enactment of laws that will be fair to both management and labor and at the same time give the public the protection it deserves.

There was some relief to the taxpayer suggested in the announcement that in November the total number on the federal payroll was reduced by 11,000. The total on December 1 being 2,330,467. However, much remains to be done in that direction if we are to reduce the public debt and balance the budget. At present the annual payroll in the executive branch of the government is six and a fourth billion dollars. This is one and a half billion more than the entire government spent for all purposes in 1933.

Frances Kemp was in and out, and like her hubby, both keep busy.

J. B. Mackey was in the other day chatting about the water problem, as was Bud Maxwell, George Thomas, and Cecil Kemp. The latter wants more water. will be pleased when more becomes available.

Bob Keyes declared he'd had some good horses lately.

GRUPE OPPOSES BASIC SCIENCE LAW

Austin, Texas, Jan. 17. — Texans were warned yesterday that the "basic science law," which will come before the 50th Legislature, is designed solely to protect the interests of the medical profession by cutting off competition from chiropractic practitioners.

Dr. L. George Grupe of San Angelo, first vice-president of the International Chiropractors Association, charged here that the "basic science law" is part of a long campaign by the medical profession to sponsor legislation that will create a shortage of doctors and maintain high income for medical men and high fees for the patients.

While the proposal purports to establish certain basic qualifications for every person seeking to practice the healing art, Dr. Grupe pointed out that the bill is discriminatory since it exempts certain practitioners, such as all medical men now practicing, all osteopaths now practicing, all dentists, all optometrists, all chiropractors, all religious healers and all nurses.

The only object of the "medical union" in sponsoring this basic science law is to protect themselves from the competition of chiropractic service, and to deprive Texans, by Fascistic laws, of their right to chiropractic service," Dr. Grupe charged.

Dr. Grupe took strong exception to recent statements by spokesmen of the State Medical Association who asserted that "We (medical men) are the rightful guardians of the people, therefore basic science legislation must be passed." Dr. Grupe answered, "Unless we betray those who died to free other countries of their 'rightful guardians' we cannot permit the passage of basic science laws in Texas."

Texas chiropractors will actively oppose efforts of the Medical Association of Texas to force passage of the basic science law during the forthcoming session of the Texas legislature in Austin, Dr. Grupe said.

AROUND ABOUT TOWN . . .

Irving Brunson dropped around the other day to help us get the office fixed up, so we now have a clock installed that gives out with the latest time, correct to the second.

C. E. Bruton dropped in to visit, as did Sybil and J. T. Henry, plus Linda Gayle, R. W. Rees, Mrs. Lum Lasswell, and Roy Schell McCrary. We were also glad to see G. C. Bell, Bailey, Mrs. T. F. Sims, Sr., Evert Best, who wanted to see how the new office looks, George Anderson, Thad Lowry, Preston Davis, Osmo Black, and N. J. Taylor. In short, folks, drop around anytime, the more the merrier. We've a lot of other newspapers you may care to see, as well as magazines, so make yourselves at home.

We've also discovered that about the busiest place in town is the Kemp Kleaners. Folks are in and out all day long, bringing in the dirt, and leaving with clean duds.

Saw Barney Modgling ambling about town and the same goes for O. H. Willoughby.

Haywood just went by, hand full of bills and a pencil behind his ear. Noel Percifull walks along, dodging muddy places on the sidewalk. O. W. Chapman goes up one side of the street, down the other.

Osmo declares the wet weather is good for the land, and Bro. Taylor echoes his sentiments.

Steve Badley is working right along with plans for his new developments.

J. B. Mackey decorates a store window, but C. R. Blake can't see the decoration, at least not the personal part of it, so-to-speak, and walks out grinning. Mrs. Blake comes in looking for Reuben shortly afterwards, but has to leave to go fix Glenn some dinner.

Mrs. Chet Holcombe and John and Jane and Dave Nunnally take off for Ballinger to visit, and Mrs. Bob Coleman comes by all wrapped up in her coat and trying to keep warm.

The O. H. Willoughbys had a nice time recently in Alpine, but declared the weather was on the tough side.

Albert Rawlings said they had some trouble taking Katherine to the bus station for her return trip to Denton. Ordinarily, Albert noted, they could drive from their home to the highway in about 15 minutes, but this time it took 50 minutes, and he had to get in and weight down the back seat to give the tires enough traction to get over the high hills. But anyway, they got Katherine off on time.

The Bobby and Winston Modglings of Angelo were over in Bronte during the last week end, visiting their parents, the Barney Modglings.

Shirley McDonald and Wanda Mikeska were Bronte Sunday visitors of Mrs. Fred McDonald, the former's grandmother.

Frank Keeney ambled in the other day, and as usual, seemed to be in fine spirits.

Betty Pittman, Bobbie Tomlinson, and Patsy Luckett also dropped in, while the latter was sporting a new locket of which she was very proud.

Bronte Wins FFA Contest

The Bronte Chapter of the Future Farmers of America won the Ballinger District Chapter Conducting contest held in Winters last Friday, January 10, where Chapter Farmer and Greenhands teams from Ballinger, Winters and Bronte competed.

In the Chapter Farmer contest, Bronte placed first, followed by Ballinger and Winters.

Bronte team members were Le-Drew Arrott, president; Billy Bob Herron, vice-president; Dave Cassiot, reporter; J. L. Alexander, treasurer; Bobby Joe Vaughn, secretary; Judge Sandusky, parliamentarian; Glenn Blake, sentinel; Wayne Arrott, historian; Warren Beavers, 2nd vice-president; and Ben Bell, 3rd vice-president.

In a very close contest, the Bronte Greenhand group also placed first, followed by Ballinger and Winters.

Winning team members here were Joe Russell Ash, president; Hubert Brock, vice-president; Bobby Clark, treasurer; Jack Neal Vaughn, reporter; Ben D. Snead, secretary; Billy Jack Kirchman, parliamentarian; Kenneth Hester, sentinel; Randal McCutchen, historian; Bobby Dean Franklin, 2nd vice-president; and Charles Ray Brown, 3rd vice-president.

For district FFA sweetheart, the Bronte chapter is pushing the candidacy of Dorothy Faye Scott for the honor.

J. T. Henry, who has an outstanding record of achievement as Bronte Hi agriculture and livestock instructor, is advisor of the Bronte chapter and attended the contests with the winners.

Personals . . .

Patsy Luckett and Betty Pittman were around seeing the air view of Bronte, taken from a height of 10,000 feet, and which shows all of Bronte and the surrounding territory.

Mack Eubanks and R. L. Bennett were office visitors for awhile.

Mrs. C. E. Arrott came in to chat, and was interested in old files and the news accounts therein.

W. G. Cresap was around relating the story of F. L. Avant, president of the First National Bank of Dillely. Seems he and Billie were out camping one time, when Avant became convinced there was a snake in his bunk. Turned out to be a dog lizard, and had the old boy really scared. Our thanks to Billie, too, for some nice oranges, straight from the valley.

There was basketball last week, with the Longhorns doing all right. The first string basketball team beat Wingate, Friday night, by a count of 48 - 12, and the second string won 28-1. The girls' volleyball team also scored a victory, and the Outsiders beat Rubin's of Ballinger by a count of 28 - 11.

Glad to see Mrs. H. A. Gary and A. S. Hendry of Blackwell. Both were surely glad the warm weather is back again, at least for a time.

G. A. Best reports his car was in the garage two weeks during the cold spell, and that during the holidays they had as their guests Mrs. A. K. Williams and children of O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Box of Lamesa. Also helping them celebrate were the Arthur Wrinkles and the Evert Bests.

The Clifford Clarks were business visitors in Robert Lee last Monday.

Sheriff Paul Good reports he's assessed about 400 taxes so far this year, and may set up a deputy in Bronte later on.

F. L. Clark was an office visitor the other day, and was another who liked the new set up in town. George Wrinkle and T. F. Sims, Sr. were also in for a chat, and liked the new location. Mack Eubanks and Steve Badley dropped around, as did C. R. Smith and Noel Perciful.

Joe Scott was in telling of his experiences with the Seabees, where he had a lot of experience in terracing work. He was also in Tom Green County for six months where he had experience with all kinds of terracing jobs.

During the recent snow, Mack Eubanks took a lot of pictures all over town, and now has the makings of some fine post cards. These cards will be made soon, and placed on sale here in Bronte so that others may have a chance to see what it looked like when it snowed. Good work, Mack.

Mrs. E. M. Hall and Mrs. Brashiers of Angelo accompanied by Mrs. T. S. Simpson, Sr. of San Antonio, were visitors of the Loyd McCleskeys Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Gilreath and Doris returned Monday from Dallas. Doris seems much improved and her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

BRONTE BUSINESS

An unconfirmed rumor heard this week was to the effect that some individual in San Angelo is expecting to move to Bronte and erect a 50-room hotel. Although the individual's name was given, he could not be reached for confirmation.

It is definite, however, that Taylor Emerson and Steve Badley are planning to build some modern tourist courts or motels, and during the week Steve received two or three more houses from the Army camp at Abilene.

Mac Rippetoe came by on his way to get a haircut, figuring it was easier to do that than have his ears lowered. Glad to see you, Mac.

W. B. Gunn dropped in the other day to pass the time, and we were glad to see him come around.

Also coming in were Jo Dell Walton, Johnny and Linda Smith, Carolyn Kemp, and Roy Schell McCrary.

The Bronte Junior WHD Club is to serve supper next Tuesday night to the FFA boys, who will be holding their district meeting and banquet.

Ballinger and Winters are included in the affair, and a large crowd is promised.

NORTON NOTATIONS . . .

By Betty Jo Shelburne

School was out from December 30 until January 7th, due to the snow, and on that account, there were no Sunday church services either.

Travis Daniels has returned to John Tarleton after spending the holidays at home.

Eulene Gentry was home, too, from H-S U at Abilene.

Those home on leave from the service are Jimmie Wayne Hambricht, Troy Van Compton, and Billy Gene Leonard.

Lanham Mac Carter of the Army, stationed at San Antonio, is being transferred to Harrisburg, Penna.

Those on the sick list have included Cecil Patton and Marion Hensley. The latter was accidentally shot in the arm while hunting.

Rev. G. K. Corley was at Ingram recently, and Rev. Smith of Winters preached at the Baptist Church during his absence.

Sorry to have the Martin family leave us for near Lamesa. Their daughter, Mozelle, will stay with her sister and family to finish the school year.

The Seniors have received their play books, but no plans for practice have been made yet. Title is "Everybody's Crazy Now."

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Bryan are parents of a girl, born December 21, and they named her Glinda Ellen.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Crockett have moved to Ballinger, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crockett of Winters will make their home where the others formerly lived.

MRS. McDONALD ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. W. D. McDonald was hostess for the Fort Chadbourne WHD Club which met in her home on Tuesday, January 7.

Miss Bearden, WHD agent, demonstrated how to test an electric iron to prove if it were heating properly. She placed the iron on a piece of paper and turned it to its highest heat - when the iron was removed, and if the paper were scorched evenly, the elements were alright, but if the paper were scorched in one particular place, it could be seen that an element would need to be replaced. Thus, you could stop that slow ironing on heavy clothing.

She also showed pictures and lectured on proper and useful placing of wall plugs for use in the home.

A salad plate was served to Mmes. Tracy White, Preston Davis, Lum Lasswell, Lee Parks, and Taylor Emerson, sister of the hostess and a club visitor, and Misses Bearden, Nancy White, and Mary Linda Lasswell.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

"You can build no tomorrow without today's foundation."
—Floyd Leslie Blewfield.

The MEAT DOLLAR

Here's what becomes of the average dollar received by the world's largest food manufacturers - the American meat packing industry. It represents dollars received from the sale of meat and from all other sources, including sales of by-products and non-meat items, such as poultry, dairy products, cleansers and soaps.

Based on latest available U.S. government figures, the portions of the divided dollar are typical of the industry in recent years; slight variations occurring from year to year. For example, profits sometimes are slightly less, sometimes slightly more. Profits on sales are below those of 29 other leading manufacturing industries and always are so small as not to affect the price of meat to the consumer, averaging only a fraction of a cent per pound. Industry economists say better earnings would permit more scientific research, as well as quicker modernization of equipment and manufacturing facilities; thus providing opportunity for the industry to improve further its efficiency and economical operation.
