WHAT GOES ON . . .

By Jane Nunnally

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Eubanks of Winters visited the Bob Coleman's recently.

J. B. Mackey was a Robert Lee visitor last Tuesday.

The Cumbie Iveys went to Lubbock Sunday.

T. F. Sims observed his birthday last Tuesday but wouldn't reveal his age. The Bob Colemans helped him celebrate with a big cake and all the trimmings.

Lelia Langford went to Sweetwater Sunday to see her father, who has been ill.

R. W. Rees and Steve Badley were in Abilene Monday.

Mary Pearl Bearden was an office visitor Tuesday, and we're always glad to have the Robert Lee folks come in, sit down and chat, and read the papers and magazines available for all.

C. R. Smith was in Angelo Tuesday, and the same goes for Bruce Clift, who was snooping around.

Mrs. Clyde Young, who formerly lived in this area, was in talking to Pat Bunnell over at Angelo the other day. She really enjoyed reading a copy of the Bronte Enterprise.

Mrs. W. W. Millikin and Mrs. Pete Gentry took in Angelo Monday, also Leona McQueen and Mrs. Dwain Pruitt.

Mrs. A. W. Littlefield of Robert

Lee visited her people, the Bernards, last Sunday.

Gene Keeney and his family were Bronte visitors Sunday, and Charlie went on to Abilene with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Price were in Llano for a week attending to business.

Frank Keeney went to Angelo Tuesday.

Mrs. William Carter of Menard and Mrs. Elmo Burton visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Richards. Mr. Richards has been ill but is reported to be improving.

Mrs. R. W. Rees was in to say she enjoyed last week's editorial about a raise in salary for teachers. As a former teacher herself, she realizes the problems in trying to make both ends meet. Two Angelo teachers expressed their agreement with it also.

Miss Annie Ruth Kirksey and Mrs. Marie Fraker visited the Tuffy Sims recently.

Linda Smith will be all of six years old on January 31, and Johnny will be nine on February 11.

Glad to report that Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lammers have returned to Bronte. He has been with the highway department in Angelo for several years, is a war veteran, has his own carpenter power tools and equipment, and is ready to go to work in Bronte. His brother, Vernon, of Houston, will be back before too long, and the combination can get the job done.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JOE McCUTCHEEN

By Jane Nunnally

Mrs. Joe McCutchen served as hostess last Friday, January 17, when members of the Junior Study Club met for their regular meeting.

Roll call was answered with the name of a Stephen Foster tune, and recordings of Foster melodies were played during the afternoon.

Mrs. Louis Bridges talked on "The Life of Stephen Foster, and the group held a short business session.

Those present were: Mmes. Hollis Stevens, Noel Percifull, R. T. Caperton, Buck Coleman, Louis Bridges, Tony Glenn, Vernon Glenn, Francis Pruitt, Frank Sayner, Clyde Lee, your reporter, and Miss Mary Beth Cumbie.

The next meeting will be on Friday, January 31, in the offices of the Bronte Enterprise, where your reporter will serve as hostess.

MRS. WILLOUGHBY ENTERTAINS WSCS

The WSCS of the First Methodist Church of Bronte met last Monday, January 20, in the home of Mrs. O. H. Willoughby. The hostess talked on missionary work in Warsaw, Mrs. B. E. Modgling talked on the work done in the Tennessee mountains, Mrs. S. A. Kiker gave the third chapter of John for the devotional, and Mrs. L. Johnson talked of the atomic age.

Officers for the new year include Mrs. Jeff Dean, president, Mrs. B. E. Modgling, vice-president, Mrs. Ed Nunnally, Jr., secretary, and Mrs. T. F. Sims, Sr., treasurer.

Other officials include Mrs. B. F. Bridges, corresponding secretary; Mrs. O. W. Chapman, superintendent of Christian social relations; Mrs. J. A. Percifull, superintendent of spiritual life; Mrs. S. A. Kiker, superintendent of literature and publicity; Mrs. L. Johnson, superintendent of study; Mrs. H. O. Whitt, superintendent of student work; Mrs. Alfred Taylor, superintendent of youth; Mrs. C. E. Arrott, superintendent of children's work; and Mrs. Walter Phillips, superintendent of surprise.

Those present were: Mmes. B. E. Modgling, O. W. Chapman, S. A. Kiker, H. O. Whitt, B. F. Bridges, George Thomas, H. M. Kirkland, R. C. Lasswell, Alfred Taylor, George McGrary, J. A. Percifull, G. W. Crume, J. W. Brantley, L. Johnson, and T. F. Sims, Sr.

The next meeting will be held January 27 in the home of Mrs. Dean.

NORTON NOTATIONS . . .

By Betty Jo Shelburne

Election of the high school favorites which will appear in the annuals this year was held Monday. Those getting honors were Dixie Lou Komegay, most popular girl and most courteous, Wendell Cope, most popular boy and most athletic boy, Mary Lou Hoelscher, most beautiful girl, Keith Corley, most handsome boy, Evelyn Ray, most athletic girl, Martin Gottschalk, most studious and most likely to succeed, and Mozelle Martin, most co-operative.

Last Friday night the "Gooks" went to Bronte and played the school team and the outsiders. The Gooks were defeated by both Bronte teams.

The Wingate girls, boys, and outside teams came over Monday night. Norton won all three games.

Tuesday night the Maverick outsiders played Woodruff's team from Ballinger here. This was a league game. Maverick won and then played Norton outsiders a practice game. Maverick won again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Devall and boys of Blackwell visited home folks Sunday.

H. J. and T. A. Gartman and Louis Jack were Abilene visitors Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Robert Lee visited Mrs. W. H. Campbell Tuesday.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES ZONING AND WATER PROBLEMS

A called session of the Bronte City Council met last Wednesday night, January 22, to discuss problems relating to zoning and the water situation.

Steve Badley, who was present at the meeting, reported that fences belonging to Otis Smith and Hiram Brock prevented him from reaching property he had recently purchased. The fences are stretched across city streets in blocks 66 and 77, thus keeping him from free access to his property.

It was disclosed that Brock allegedly refuses to buy the property or move his fence, claiming that he has paid taxes on the property since 1941. Badley claimed that mere payment of taxes resulted in no possession, and disclosed that several people wanted to buy the lots, for which he is asking the sum of $100. He stated he wanted the fence owners to have first opportunity of buying the land, if they wished to, and if not, then he wants fences taken out of the street so he may have access to his property.

It was revealed that county and state valuations were set at $10, and city valuation at $30 on the land in question. Property involved is on Randal Street, block 66, lots 2-6, and on Franklin Street, block 77, lot No. 5.

R. W. Rees also appeared before the Council, and having had some 10 years of experience selling and dealing with all kinds of insurance, noted that the city of Bronte had a key rate of 95c for fire insurance. He declared that people were already paying 2c more because frame buildings were located in the fire zone, and asserted that the Home Motor Company was not in the fire zone, which point was admitted by the Council. As a result, Rees said, he was entirely within his rights in moving a frame building behind the Home Motor Company, and the Council concurred with this point of view.

Badley pointed out that one ordinance now on the books provided that any building erected in the fire zone be made of brick, masonry, or metal, and that another ordinance provided that State Street (the Sweetwater-Angelo highway) be restricted only to residences.

Rees then noted that if the Council were to pass a city building code, the key rate would automatically be reduced 8c, making it thus 87c instead of 95c.

Those present for the meeting included Noah Pruitt, George Thomas, C. R. Smith, C. E. Bruton, D. K. Glenn, O. W. Chapman, Mrs. O. W. Chapman, Steve Badley, R. W. Rees, W. H. Maxwell, Jr., C. A. Eubanks and your reporter.

COKE COUNTY HD AGENT GIVES ANNUAL REPORT

Miss Mary Pearl Bearden, Coke County Home Demonstration agent, is releasing this week the annual report of her office. Miss Bearden was appointed to her position on July 16, 1946, and is a 1943 graduate of Abilene Christian College. She has also taken three summers' post-graduate work at Texas Tech in Lubbock, and attended the A&M refresher course last summer. She holds membership in the Texas Home Demonstration Agents' Association, and the El Valle Garden Club and the CSO Club of ACC.

According to the report, Coke County has a population of 4,590, 756 farm and ranch families, with the average farm containing 875 acres. The county also has three telephone exchanges and 75 per cent of the people are equipped with phones. The locker plant has a capacity of 310 boxes, and the county tax valuation is 95 cents with a total valuation of $4,227,910.

The county has five schools, three with 2-teacher arrangements, and two town schools, located at Bronte and Robert Lee.

Miss Bearden, who has rendered a fine service to Coke County during the short period of time she has been here, presents her report as follows:

As a result of the influence of home demonstration work conducted in 1946, Home Improvement seems to head-the-list with thirty tufted bedspreads, twenty-five quilts, four hundred and seventy-five cotton household articles added, sheets, pillow slips, towels, fifteen mattresses added, thirty-nine woolen bed covers added. Thirty-five bedrooms materially improved, twelve kitchens materially improved, twenty-five living rooms materially improved, nine bathrooms built or with plumbing added, twenty-seven chairs reupholstered, seventy-one chairs and sofas upholstered, nine slip covers made. Twenty-seven houses painted and forty-nine houses with new floor covering or finished and nine families added bulletin boards to their homes.

Seventeen families added pieces of recreation equipment, sixteen lawns sodded, fifteen drives made and twenty-eight walks made. Hundred and twenty-five shade trees planted and growing, two hundred and ten shrubs and trees grown from seed and cutting.

The WHD Club ladies made eight hundred and ninety-eight garments, two hundred and ten garments made over, twenty-seven purses and other accessories made, nine hundred and seventy-five garments cleaned at home, nine dress forms made, twenty-three garments dyed at home. Fifteen closets built and twenty-five remodeled, eighteen improved ironing equipment.

The ladies planted one hundred and thirty-two fruit trees and three hundred and seventy-eight vines—mostly of strawberries plants. Eighty-nine pecan trees were budded or grafted, one hundred and eight other trees budded or grafted and fifty-eight other cuttings made.

MISS MARY PEARL BEARDEN

One hundred and twenty-five pounds of cheese were made in homes, eight families used chlorine disinfectant for disinfecting milk utensils and eight families used washing powder for washing milk utensils and nineteen families constructed or remodeled dairy barns.

The presidents of each club made their annual report to Council.

The home food meat and poultry production consisted of five hundred and seventy-six families producing for home use three or more kinds of meat including poultry. One hundred and fifty-seven families improved their poultry flock by buying U. S. approved or better baby chicks, one hundred and eighty practice continuous culling to keep unprofitable birds removed from flock. Twenty families vaccinated their fowls for fowl pox, twenty-one keep succulent green range or feed alfalfa hay all year, one hundred and eleven keep laying mash before hens, sixty-seven produce infertile eggs and twenty-seven gather their eggs twice or more daily. The average number of hens per home flock in this county is about one hundred with sixteen thousand and eight hundred total dozen eggs produced.

The influence of home demonstration work has helped three hundred and fifteen families on uses of home conserved food, planning meals by Texas Food Standard, improving eating habits this year and checking eating habits by Texas Food Standard.

One hundred and thirty-two families preserved more food in 1946 than in 1945. One hundred and seventeen families preserved a better variety and quality of canned food this year. Eighty-three families have enough storage space for their preserved foods, eleven families improved storage place this year, six families built new food storage place. Three hundred and ten families make use of the co-op frozen food lockers. Five thousand nine hundred and fifty jars and cans of fruits and vegetables and some meat were canned by the club women. Ninety-eight people were taught food preservation practice by club members.

Lucille Cozart Marries Paul Rogers

MRS. PAUL ROGERS

Miss Lucille Cozart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cozart of San Angelo, became the bride of Paul A. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rogers of Sweetwater and formerly of Bronte, in a double ring ceremony read by Rev. C. E. Bludworth, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church at the Cozart home last Saturday, January 18, at 2 p. m.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Miss Vivian Helm, who attended her as maid of honor, wore a gray suit and a gardenia corsage.

Raymond Toliver of Sweetwater attended the groom as best man.

Mrs. Carl Pearson of Winters was at the old family organ, an heirloom of the bride's family, and played the traditional wedding music.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, with the refreshment table laid with a lace cloth and centered with pink and white gladioli. Miss Mackey Brown presided over the wedding cake, Miss Peggy Lewis was at the punch bowl, and Mrs. A. C. Dunn, the bride's sister-in-law, was at the register.

Mrs. Rogers attended the San Angelo public schools, and for the past three years has been employed at Goodfellow Field.

The groom, who formerly lived in Bronte with his family and is well known here, was in the armed service for four years, and has his own garage business in Sweetwater.

Following a two-weeks' wedding trip to Houston and Galveston, the couple will be at home at 409 Pine, Sweetwater.

Personals . . .

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kiker left Wednesday for Rotan to visit with his brother, Tom, and with their daughter, Mrs. Carroll Robbins. Driving them up was their son, Orb, and all plan to be away for a few days.

La Marr Whitt, son of the H. O. Whitts, came in Tuesday night from Stephenville, where he is a student in John Tarleton. Having finished his exams early, La Marr could get in ahead of time, while his brother, H. O., Jr., is not expected in until today. Both will return to school Monday for the second semester.

The Baptists have now installed a new sign which reads "Welcome, The First Baptist Church, C. R. Blake, Pastor." It's mounted on a pipe frame which stands in front of the church, and is quite nice. Drive by and see for yourself.

Mrs. W. F. Fletcher of Fort Worth and Mrs. C. B. Rogers of Sweetwater came by for a chat. Her son, Paul, used to live in Bronte and the family is well known. We'll be glad to see you folks again, so drop around.

Judge H. M. Robertson was in the other day talking of his experiences as a justice of the peace. According to his story, one gets to meet such interesting people in that sort of job, and he was relating several stories about his experiences. Come in again, judge, and we'll resume our chat.

Steve Badley, Mack Eubanks, and R. W. Rees were Camp Berkeley visitors last Monday.

Mrs. Bob Coleman came in to see some of our other papers, and was planning an Angelo trip.

H. A. Springer was a Robert Lee visitor Monday, and was having a good time over there chatting with Jimmy Allen, J. H. Walker of Edith, and H. S. Lewis, father of Mrs. Cecil Kemp.

BULLETIN

As we go to press, it has been learned that Army Engineers yesterday told Cong. O. C. Fisher that bids on the North Concho River flood control dam at San Angelo would be let in April.

With $6,800,000 authorized, this means that the UCRA has received a great impetus which should enable construction to be started before 1948. If so, the UCRA will become a permanent organization and Buffalo Reservoir dam project near Bronte is even brighter.

WHAT ABOUT WATER?

By The Editor

As a result of last week's mass meeting, water has been a major topic ever since. Suggestions as to what should be done are as numerous as the individuals making them. But that is good, in that at least a lot of discussion is being provoked. The next step is to translate the talk into some sort of accomplishment. What's to be done?

The writer believes a thorough examination should be made of the existing water system, with a view to finding out what is wrong and what can be done to correct the conditions. At the present time, there are not enough facts available to enable one to form an overall plan.

For example, it is said that the "old Council" left the water system in fine shape and that the "new Council" only made a mess out of it. Then the reply is that the "new Council" did the best they could with what was handed down to them, and that was a mess. On the side of the "old Council," let it be said they did what they could in the face of manpower shortage and lack of materials during the war. That, however, can hardly remain as a constant excuse, is the report.

Others contend the "new Council" has done nothing but raise taxes, which brought only increased salaries. But it is also obvious that prices of all commodities have gone up, and more money was needed.

Still others charge that the "new Council" should meet more often than three hours a month, namely, the first Wednesday of each month. Spokesmen here point out that other City Councils meet weekly, but that the Bronte Council meets only monthly, and then but for 2-3 hours at a time. Let's have it meet as often as necessary till this question is solved, folks say. The reply to this is that since there's no money, what's the use of meeting?

A visiting water engineer said during the week that he believed Bronte would have to run out of water like Winters did, before it would get down to work to provide more. Wait till summer when the water system breaks down and you have to haul water in by barrels, then the town'll do something, was this individual's crisp comment.

In a larger sense, however, the question of passing the blame or buck is so much mere conversation. It seems to the writer that the larger question is one of water, and how the people of Bronte can work together to get it, or by splitting up, manage to do themselves out of it.

This much is evident—pumps have been broken by freezing, pipes all over town are leaking and must be repaired, water frequently will not run in one's own pipes, water now being used comes from the lake, and its purity is openly questioned due to herds of sheep and cattle which were seen grazing in the lake bed during the summer, water users are not adequately supplied with water meters, and when they are, they often cease to function after a few days due to shale from the rusting pipes blocking the mechanism, and there is no apparent relief in sight.

The question of water for Bronte is larger than any one individual, and in attempting to solve the problem all of us must work together, avoid personalities of who did what and when and how it once was, and determine, instead, what we can do now about water.

AROUND ABOUT TOWN . . .

Bob Ash was around town dodging snowballs, and at last sight, hadn't been laid low.

Palmer Leeper of Robert Lee came by for a visit, and we were mighty glad to see that rascal. He said he'd taken in Tommy Tucker's dance, and helped to raise blisters on the floor. Coem in more often, Palmer, and we're glad you like the new office.

Mack Eubanks, Steve Badley, and Brooks Browning were in discussing new plans for the Bronte F&M Club, which will be revealed in due time.

Cecil and Frances Kemp and the J. T. Henrys were having fun wading around in the snow, and Cecil wanted to be sure he overlooked no more special bargains in the Enterprise.

Thad Lowry was feeling quite spry the other day, cold weather and all. Barney Riggs came in to get a bit warm, but didn't seem to mind the slush too much.

Buddy Kirkland said he'd been mighty busy, and was glad of the chance to warm up a little.

Barney Modgling, R. E. Cumbie, and Noah Pruitt came in to discuss the water situation. All agreed, we included, that the water meeting of last week was good in that at least a start had to be made somewhere. The general consensus seems to be that the town needs pipe and needs money. Folks are thinking that the source might ride awhile, while attention is turned towards new pipe and more meters. If we have pipe and meters, they say, it should spread the supply out to a lot more users, and if we have bonds, revenue should be sufficient to care for their retirement. One person noted that in addition to raising the flat rate on water, such levy might well be laid on all property holders, in that even those not living here would stand to profit were more water found to be available.

D. K. Glenn was in talking about the fire truck situation. As a matter of interest, how many of you readers are interested in organizing a volunteer fire crew in Bronte? A group of interested men could select a captain or chief, work out a training schedule or practice sessions, and sling the water all over. If it sounds interesting to you, contact D. K. or your reporter, let's see if we can't work up some fun riding on the tailboard of that fire truck around the town, as well as serving a mighty useful purpose.

Mrs. C. C. Glenn declared that school on Friday was fine, but that Saturdays were not to be sneezed at.

Mrs. Taylor Emerson was indeed kind with her praise of the new WHD Club yearbooks, which appeared last Friday. Excerpts from a number of its pages were carried in the Bronte Enterprise last week, and readers thus had a complete list of WHD Club officers and chairmen for future reference. Such up-to-date news is still another reason why more and more people are taking the Bronte Enterprise. No, we still carry no funnies, just look at the editor and laugh.

Courthouse News...

Willis Smith was an Angelo visitor Monday, so his office was held down by Maurine Davis and Jerry Thomason. The latter declared she was very glad to be back in Coke, and didn't want to have to leave anymore.

Mrs. Marcus Turner reported everything quiet in her area, and noted that Bob Davis hadn't had a chance to perform any more weddings.

Sheriff Paul Good was out of his office, but was reported to be wondering if Coke were one of the counties, 75 in number, which are going to have to use windshield stickers in place of license tags due to the metal shortage. Of course, if we followed the old system of using but one license tag, as in years past, there would be no shortage at this time.

Mrs. Ruby L. Athey was glad to see the weather getting warmer, and declared that Doris was keeping fairly busy.

"Doc" Leonard's Story
Editor's Note—Dr. J. D. Leonard recently finished an autobiography about his experiences. Feeling that it would be of interest to our readers, we have secured his permission to reprint several excerpts, and the second of this series follows:
"I was fortunate in getting a young lady, Miss Jeffie Lockrage, and her aunt, Liz Varnell, to keep house for me. Everything moved along smoothly until my housekeeper got married to Will Collins, then our depot agent, but I prevailed on her staying on a month after she married.
"I then made a three day visit to Sherwood to see a Miss Eula Lockhart, a former teacher of my daughter. I took my daughter, Emmagene with me as an excuse for the visit. I wooed her at twilight, and next day we went fishing.
"I returned home feeling somewhat discouraged, but with a determination to keep on trying. I stayed on the firing line at long range until that fall when she returned to Bronte to teach, then my aim was more accurate—being at short range. I believed that she would make a good housekeeper and a baby raiser as she would a school teacher. So the deal went over and the contract was signed on Dec. 3, 1911.

"In April the following year I decided to move to Sherwood on account of good water and running streams. I had not been in my location many months until there was a move on foot to dam the Colorado River near Bronte. So I at once decided to move back to my former home town on Jan. 15, 1914, there to grow with it in all its promised glory. But there have been no changes made in the course of the Colorado River yet to this good day though there have been three dam sites selected.

"Times were changing rapidly, and the people were getting away from the horse and buggy days. Everybody was taking the car fever. I provided myself with an early model "Flanders 20". This absorbed all my money and then some too. This car was a nuisance to me as well as to those who did drive, and often produced dangerous situations. The farmers' teams were frightened and would put on exhibitions, upset the buggy or wagon, disregard fences, and hurdle ditches. The farm wagon team had to take to the siding and wait till the car wheezed slowly past. Of course the roads of that day brought on trouble. Sometimes you had to cut your way out of a difficult situation. So a shovel, wire cutters, and a hammer were as much a part of my equipment as a surgical bag. It was aggravating to make a long trip only to find the patient not sick, but having a mad fit, or that the baby had arrived and had been cared for by someone who took baby cases only, rather cared for the mother and baby, cleaned and cooked for the whole family and took care of the other children, if any.

"In those days telephones were scarce. If I was called to one of their owners and a neighbor needed a doctor, I would be signaled by a lantern at night or a shirt in the day. In those days there was but little medical service, viewed in our present day of advancement. Being dumb is not painful if one does not realize it. I saw many interesting cases such as one does not see in the office or hospital. One time I examined an old lady's chest with my stethoscope, an instrument that she had never seen and mistook for a means of treatment. After having her take a few deep breaths, she soon declared she already felt relieved.

"I always found that it was best to exercise haste for the family of the sick one might have a book telling "what to do until the doctor comes" and might do it too. So I wanted to get there before they did. These cases were chiefly those in which there had been nothing wrong in the first place or had recovered before I could get there. Of course someone would be expected to pay for the visit. Just plain advice was never productive of revenue, so then I would leave a few pills. This was about as important as the brother deacon's "amen" during the preacher's sermon.

"I could not get anywhere in the Flanders; if I did it failed to bring me back, so I grew tired of it and sold it for $300, losing some $700 in the deal. I bought my first Model T in 1914. When the rains came and you needed the top and curtains, it would be over before you could get them raised. In the spring of 1918 we took a trip to Arkansas and in 1923 we took off in it to California. Had I a movie of the trips and experiences, I believe my fortune would be made.

"On our first day we whizzed up as far as Hale Center to spend the night with some dear friends, the Caudles. On the third day noon we lunched at Fort Sumner where Billy the Kid was killed. On the tenth day we reached our destination, Los Angeles, to spend a few days with my cousin, Mrs. Lucy Dawson.

"Right here would be a good place to pay tribute to the old Ford: My auto tis of thee, short cut to poverty, of thee I chant. I blew a pile of dough on you two years ago and now you refuse to go, won't or can't. Through town and country side, you were my joy and pride, a happy day. I love thy gaudy hue, thy nice white tires so new, but now you're down and through in every way. To the old rattle box, come many bumps and knocks; for thee I grieve. Badly thy top is torn, frayed are thy seats and worn; a whooping cough affects thy horn, I do believe. Thy perfume swells the breeze while good folks choke and wheeze while we pass by. I paid for thee a price, twould buy a mansion twice, now all are peddling ice. I wonder why? Thy motor has the grip, thy spark plug has the pip, and woe is thin, I, too, have suffered chills, ague and kindred ills, endeavoring to pay my bills since thou were mine. No more twould choke the cow, as once before. Yet if I had the mon, so help me John, Amen, I'd buy a car again and speed some more."

ROBERT LEE REVELATIONS . . .

By Doris Pettit

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blair of Blackwell visited Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Harmon this week end.

Edward Rives, Joyce Gatling, Elmer and Carrie May Owens, and Jessie Ray Robertson, all of Odessa, visited relatives in Robert Lee Sunday.

Billy McCutchen, who is employed in Midland, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCutchen this week end.

Betty Jean Williams of Bronte visited her aunt, Mrs. Eddie Patterson, a few days last week.

Sorry to report that McNeil Wylie suffered a serious setback in his new chicken business when the hatchery caught fire Monday night and burned to the ground. The loss included 140-foot building and several brooders. M-System's plan to purchase his chickens has now fallen through it seems, and the loss totaled around 2,000 chickens. Sorry, Judge.

Mendon Hanniford was confined to an Angelo hospital this week with a case of opening the door and "in-flu-enza."

Mrs. Betty Neagle of Wildcat and Mrs. Frank McCabe have been in the hospital but are reported to be improving.

Rial Denman and son, Bill Rial Denman of Texas City are here visiting relatives. Bill Rial and Jo Ann Bilbo made a trip to Alpine Monday and Tuesday to visit relatives at Sul Ross.

Marvin Stewart was taken to an Angelo hospital the other day for an appendectomy.

The American Legion Ladies' Auxiliary had a domino and "42" party last Saturday afternoon. They cleared $41.02, which will be used to carry on future activities. The regular club meeting was held on Tuesday night with Mrs. J. D. Black.

Wilfred Rabb arrived Sunday from Alaska where he was stationed with the Navy. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. O. K. Rabb, who is showing much improvement while still confined in the hospital.

Mrs. I. G. Campbell, commercial teacher, has resigned her position to move to Canyon, where her husband is employed. Rev. Fred Blake will serve as substitute until a new teacher can be obtained.

See the writer for your subscription to the Bronte Enterprise, first with Coke County news.

HERE'S BLACKWELL . . .

By Mrs. Charles Ragsdale

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Carlisle are visiting their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Carlisle and daughter at Yokum.

Mrs. Ware underwent surgery at Sweetwater last Saturday, and is reported doing nicely.

Joe Weddle, Sr. and Therell Burwick, who are working in El Paso, spent the week end with home folks in Blackwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lentz and Mrs. June Armstead and daughter of Littlefield have been the guests of Mrs. Nancy Bagley.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith and sons of Deming, N. M., are visiting here. Joe underwent a tonsil operation at Winters Monday.

Those attending the inauguration in Austin this week were Charles Copeland, Walter Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Reaves, Mrs. Jack Steuart, and Mrs. Vernon Haggerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi McRorey and daughters have moved to San Angelo.

Miss Lynn Whiteside, H-SU student in Abilene, spent the week end with her grandmother, Mrs. Will Whiteside and other relatives.

WHD Club

The HD Club met in the home of Mrs. Charles Ragsdale on Wednesday, January 15, when some new committees were appointed. Some of the Club members will attend the silver tea at Sweetwater tomorrow. The Club will donate $2.50 for the March of Dimes.

A refreshment plate was served to the following: Mmes. R. H. Reaves, Tom Smith, Cecil Smith, D. T. Hunt and the hostess.

Euterpean Club

Mrs. Austin Jordan was hostess to the Euterpean Club on January 16 with Mrs. B. R. McCarley presiding. The Club voted to pay $2.50 for the March of Dimes. The program included: "Unusual Events in the Lives of Franz Schubert and Robert Burns," Mrs. W. C. Shamblin; "Schubert's Serenade," Miss Betty Sanderson; "Ave Marie," Mrs. B. R. McCarley; poem, Mrs. O. V. Colvin, "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," Mrs. Roy Sanderson and Mrs. H. C. Raney.

A lovely refreshment plate was served to the guests, Mrs. Ulmer Bird and Miss Betty Sanderson, and to these members: Mmes. Roy Sanderson, H. C. Raney, O. Z. Porter, F. S. Youree, B. R. McCarley, Charles Ragsdale, Cecil Smith, R. V. Copeland, Vernon Haggerton, O. V. Colvin, J. O. Raney, W. C. Shamblin, W. W. Youngblood, and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Hoyt Mote, Mrs. Dillard Finley and Bob McFarland attended the funeral Tuesday of his father, John McFarland at Brady.

Mrs. P. G. Dabney has been in Angelo with her nephew, Bobby Beall, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Beall, who has been seriously ill.

The Blackwell school trustees entertained the teachers, bus drivers, mechanics, janitor, and cook and their families with a barbecue at the school house Saturday night. Everybody had a good time.
