MORE THAN $2 MILLION DEPOSITS IN LOCAL BANK AT CALL APRIL 24

For the first time in its history the First National Bank of Bronte had more than $2 million on deposit when the Comptroller of the Currency called for a statement.

Deposits totaled $2,094,028.84 on April 24. Total assets were $2,215,558.12. Loans were low in comparison to the amount of deposits, totaling $470,491.01.

L. T. Youngblood, president of the bank said that it was a pleasant surprise to find deposits at such a high figure. He said bank officials expected deposits to be somewhat down, after payment of income taxes March 15.

Much of the increased money, Banker Youngblood explained, is from the oil activity which is taking place on all sides of Bronte. He said most of the oil money is from leases, but some of it is from production.

The local bank's capital accounts totaled $121,529.28. Of this amount, $50,000 is capital stock, $50,000 is surplus and $21,529.28 is undivided profits.

The First National Bank compares very favorably with banks in towns of comparable size. The Farmers National at Rule had $2,045,000 on deposit; the First State at Rising Star, $1,914,000; the Citizens State, Roby, $1,238,468; Robert Lee State, $947,100; and Citizens State, Knox City, $2,699,298.

Youngblood said, "It is extremely comforting to have this much money on deposit in our town. However, all of this money is not from people in this immediate area, as we have customers from a wide section of this territory."

Terracing Machine Is Available in County

The seeding of native and introduced grasses has been progressing rapidly following the recent rain. A total of 300 acres has been seeded in the district and several cooperators are planning to seed additional acres in the next few days.

H. L. Moates, terracing contractor from Howard County, has an elevating grader type terracing machine which is now operating in the Coke County Soil Conservation district. District cooperators who are planning to construct terraces should contact personnel of the Conservation Service at Robert Lee to have their lines laid off. C. N. Webb, chairman of the board of supervisors, said.

Construction has been completed this week on five miles of level broad base terraces on Foster S. Pries lower ranch. Other cooperators who are planning to have terraces constructed this week are D. L. Estes and C. N. Webb in the Tenyson group of the Soil Conservation district.

"AIN'T IT THE TRUTH"—

The Enterprise. Purpose of the series of cartoons is to encourage local people to trade at home. Ten merchants here in Bronte are sponsoring the funny pictures.

Mayor H. O. Whitt and the city council are urging the cooperation of all persons in the city limits of Bronte during next week, May 8-13, in cleaning up the city completely. Mayor Whitt said the primary purpose in setting aside a period for cleaning up the community is to prevent another outbreak of polio with the coming summer season. Polio has been extremely prevalent here the last year, with more than a dozen persons having the disease.

However, Whitt said, a good clean-up will be good for the town and will improve its appearance considerably whether or not it is needed to prevent disease.

May 12, next Friday, has been set specifically as a clean-up day for the downtown area and merchants will be asked to close their stores until the area is clean. A truck will be provided by the city to haul trash and garbage.

Mayor Whitt urged that everyone clean up around their residences during the week and be on hand next Friday in the downtown section to help remove all rubbish from that section. He also suggested that anyone who can furnish any equipment which can be used in the clean-up, bring it with them. All kinds of small tools, pickups, trucks, etc. will be needed.

Merchants' attention was also called to the regulations in the fire zone regarding the burning of trash. City ordinances prohibit the burning of trash in an open fire and persons are required to furnish their own incinerator for trash burning. The fire zone extends from the street in front of Clift Funeral home west to the railroad and from the street south of the Humble station to the street north of Jones grocery and station.

American Legion Membership Drive Gets Underway

Bon Spoons, commander of the local Legion Post, announced that a drive for new members for the organization is getting underway at once. Spoons said that the Legion really has something to offer members now, that the building is about completed and equipment for recreation will be set up in the near future.

Wink Kiker, adjutant of the post, has been overseer and has done much of the work on the remodeling job. Among the improvements which have been made are the installation of two rest rooms and sheetrocking inside. New light fixtures and venetian blinds have been installed, and a cement porch has been constructed on the front of the building.

Spoons said the work is all complete except for painting. The inside will be painted a three-tone combination and the outside will be red trimmed with white.

Pingpong tables, other recreation equipment and divans will be moved into the building in the near future.

Spoons said that anybody who has been a member of any branch of the armed forces during wartime is eligible for membership in the Legion. He urged anybody who is interested in joining to see him or Kiker.

Springer attended the state meeting of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America last week in San Antonio. Mrs. Royce Fancher, homemaking teacher, was ill and unable to attend the meeting.

The group left Bronte Thursday morning and returned home Saturday night. Theme of the convention was "Toward New Horizons." Most of the sessions were held in the Gunter hotel in San Antonio.

Outstanding features on the three-day program were an address by Betty Jo McDonald of Rosenberg, president of the state organization, panel discussions and a barbecue and floor show, held in the San Antonio municipal auditorium on Friday night.

Humble No. 5 Ash Near Pay; No. 1-B Brunson Completed

Humble No. 5 Mrs. Nannie Ash set casing Wednesday at 4,342 feet after reaching a total depth of 4,348 feet at the top of the Palo Pinto pay section. As soon as the cement is set the McQueen & Clevenger crew will drill into the Palo Pinto. According to information released Wednesday this well is running about like the others in the Bronte field which are producing.

A Hickok & Reynolds crew was still working Wednesday on their No. 1 Rawlings, the Bronte Field opener. They are planning to make a gas well out of it. Work is being done with a spudder rig.

The Bronte Field was moved south three-quarters of a mile recently when Humble completed their No. 1-B J. L. Brunson. Ending last Saturday the well pumped 70 barrels of pipeline oil in 12 hours. No. 1-B Brunson is about three-quarters of a mile south of Humble No. 4 R. E. Hickman.

Humble's next location in the Bronte Field is No. 6 Hickman. It will be located south of the No. 4 Hickman and north of No. 1-B Brunson. McQueen & Clevenger will drill the test.

It was erroneously reported in last week's Enterprise that the Union No. 1 Mrs. Daisy McCutchen was rigging up. No rig had arrived Wednesday at this location, but a report said that Arrow Drilling Co. of Midland would move in a rig in the next few days. This test is located seven miles west of Bronte.

Sparton No. 1 Levy Lee was drilling this week below 3,300 feet. This wildcat is located southeast of Bronte in the same section in which the townsite of Maverick is situated.

Southern Minerals No. 1 Mrs. Mary Greenland has been plugged and abandoned after recovering 30 feet of mud on a drillstem test from 6,029-56 feet in the Ellenburger. Location was four miles west and slightly north of Tenyson.

Early this week Barnsdall No. 3 Harris Davenport was drilling at 5,265 feet in lime and shale. The same operator's No. 2 Davenport had reached 5,180 feet. Humble No. 4 Odum

COUNTY WOMEN TO COLEMAN MEET

Mrs. Vernemna Barron, county home demonstration agent, Mrs. John Coalson, council chairman, and Mrs. C. E. Arrott, council vice chairman and yearbook committee chairman, attended a training school on council organization and committee work in Coleman, Monday, April 24.

Miss Bonnie Cox, extension organization specialist from Texas A&M college, was in charge of the meeting.

Miss Cox discussed work of the county home demonstration council and reminded those present that it is an advisory committee, administration organization and a means of communication between the agent and clubs and other groups in the county with which the agent and demonstration clubs work. She stressed the fact through the council the agent was able to help the people obtain the information which they need.

Miss Cox emphasized the fact that good council committees help make home demonstration work more effective and urged that each committee member take her work seriously and be ready to work and not wait until an agent contacted her and gave her a pep talk.

Thirty-two council officers and agents and Miss Thelma Casey attended this meeting.

"CARE Week" Celebrated May 1-7

Mickey Mouse and Pluto set sail to speed CARE gifts overseas. In this Walt Disney cartoon being featured in CARE Week displays.

NEW YORK—Americans are being asked to join in a democratic demonstration of friendship for the people of Europe and Asia during national CARE Week, May 1st through May 7th. Special events and displays in key cities throughout the country have been planned to highlight the services through which over $100,000,000 of CARE aid—in the form of food and textile packages and new books—has been sent overseas in the last four years. "By their past support of CARE, Americans have shown their concern for their fellow man," said Paul Comly French, Executive Director of the non-profit agency. "During CARE Week, and throughout the year, we are asking every American to remember that help is still needed by the destitute and despairing of other lands. "That help can be extended by sending CARE packages to relatives and friends . . . by sending orders, or contributions in any amount, for packages to go to needy families and welfare institutions . . . by contributing to the CARE-UNESCO Book Fund which provides the newest American scientific and technical books for war-depleted schools and libraries. Every CARE gift brings a person-to-person message of friendship and good-will, in the truest democratic tradition." CARE now reaches 12 European countries, Israel, the Philippines, Japan, Okinawa, Korea and Pakistan, and will soon open service to India, Ceylon, Burma, Jordan and Siam. Besides the best-known $10 food and textile packages, other CARE parcels are $4 to $13.50. Cash donations in any amount are accepted for the Book Fund; on sums of $10 or more, delivery is made in the individual donor's name. Though keyed to the agency's year-round program, a special check will be kept of responses received during CARE Week. Orders or contributions, earmarked for packages or for books, can be mailed to CARE, 29 Broad St., New York 5, N.Y., or any local CARE office.

Sims Food Store

Shop at Sims and Save on All Food Needs

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wendell Lammers are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lammers of Bronte, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim B. Mauldin in Robert Lee. Lammers has recently been discharged from the U. S. Navy. They have been living in Alameda, California.

Mrs. T. R. Butler of Duncan, Okla., and Mrs. C. T. Watson of Hillsboro visited their brother, Will Gideon, and Mrs. Gideon the first of last week.

"AIN'T IT THE TRUTH" IS NAME OF NEW FEATURE BOOSTING BRONTE

Readers of the Enterprise are due for a real treat. Beginning this week The Enterprise will feature a new cartoon, "Ain't It the Truth," sponsored by ten Bronte merchants and drawn by Chester Klock, nationally known cartoonist of Denver, Colo.

Klock's cartoons, based on real life experiences for the most part, are designed to lend pictorial persuasion to the proposition that all good Bronte citizens should patronize other good Bronte citizens by trading at home.

The pitfalls of doing business with the big city slicker salesman are cleverly and humorously portrayed by Klock with rib-splitting effectiveness. You'll laugh and you may learn, too, when paw finds out that the salesman in the big town wasn't lying when he sold him a used automobile which he promised would "run like a top." On the way home Paw discovers the thing does run like a top. It spins and spins when the wheel flies off.

One after another, Klock pictures pointedly comic situations which come about as a result of spending the family income in the big town stores.

Klock says he first "saw the light of day" in Boulder, Colo., in 1914 and has been "drawing funny pictures" ever since. His first experience in practical art was on his mother's walls with crayon.

"Dad's belt soon taught me to do my practicing on paper," he says. Klock attended public school at Duluth, Minn., and "almost got thrown out for drawing grotesque pictures of the teachers."

He went to Chicago "to see how people lived elsewhere," and found things so tough "I had to swap pictures for hamburgers and haircuts." Later on he found people actually paid money for comic cartoons whereupon he quit trading his masterpieces for hamburgers and set out "to earn some real dough."

He studied cartooning at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts which turned out such top-notchers as Walt Disney, Frank King, Shoemaker and others.

After receiving this training he knocked about the country a few years "getting material for my cartoons." He soon was selling to magazines and newspapers as a free-lancer. Suddenly he returned to Duluth to "settle down for a while."

There he established himself with the Duluth Herald as a cartoonist, and decided to marry his high school sweetheart. This was in 1938.

"The winters," he recalls, "were hard on my pocketbook so we moved to the mile-high city of Denver and took a position with The Denver Post" where he continues to turn out "Plum Local," an editorial page feature which draws heavy fan mail.

Klock's family now numbers three not counting mama and papa Klock. His children are all girls. Although one of the girls shows some art talent Klock hopes she "doesn't plan to become a cartoonist like daddy. One crackpot in the family is enough."

"The idea behind 'Ain't It the Truth'—telling people to do their shopping at home—came to me several years ago. I discovered many people were chasing into the big towns, some times more than a hundred miles distant to do their shopping.

"How foolish this is considering that people can get the same things at home from their own neighbor merchants and as often as not for less or the same price paid in the big town.

Sterile Gauze Pads Handy for Shampoo

When a head cold plays havoc with hair-washing plans, substitute a cleansing "dry" shampoo. Your own dressing table holds everything you need for this beauty routine.

Baby powder sprinkled into the hair and then brushed out again takes with it dulling oil and surface dirt that makes the hair look limp and untidy.

Or try a model's quick trick for making hair shine without benefit of shampoo. Raid your medicine chest for one of those sterile gauze pads. Unwrap it from its protective glassine envelope, and moisten the square with witch hazel or rubbing alcohol. After unfolding it partially, force it down over the bristles of your clean hairbrush. Then brush, brush, brush your hair into fluffy cleanness again. Renew the sterile gauze pad as it becomes soiled.

A "dry" shampoo such as this is handy, too, when there's an unexpected date in the offing.

"I know what I'm talking about because I've lived in both large and small towns.

"So, with this idea in mind, I figured I'd try to put over an educational campaign in a humorous cartoon." The title "Ain't It the Truth" was dreamed up next. Then I went to work on the cartoons. So far, they tell me, newspapermen and the readers like it. I hope it continues to click for years to come.

"People ask me what my likes and dislikes are. Well—let me see—I'd say I like loud shirts, 'lazy' fishing, good cigars, good music, and some cartoons. Dislikes: Hot-shot salesmen, conservative clothes and all forms of physical exercise.

"Enuff? Well that's the truth behind 'Ain't It the Truth.'"

Mrs. Sims Hostess to Junior Study Club

Mrs. Robert Hugh Sims was hostess to the Junior study club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. T. Caperton. Members answered roll call with the name of their favorite house plant.

Mrs. Sims gave a discussion on soil mixture, diseases and pest control in growing house plants.

A refreshment plate of tuna salad, cheese ritz crackers and Cokes were served to one guest, Mrs. Cecil Ash.

Dorothy, Hazel and George James,

COUNSEL TO TEXAS PRISONERS—The Salvation Army, the largest parole agency in Texas, takes its spiritual welfare program to men and women behind the bars in jails and prisons all over Texas. More than 1,000 prisoners are paroled to The Salvation Army in Texas alone, and in recognition of the rehabilitation work which is being performed by the agency throughout the country, Salvation Army Prison Sunday will be observed on April 30. In the picture above Salvation Army Captain F. M. Gaugh counsels with a prisoner prior to his release on parole.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie James visited the George James family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. C. D. and Chester Derrick, Myrtle Thomas, Harold Garrett, I. N. Howell and Charles Manley visited Mrs. Robert Brown Monday morning.

County Agent's Column

To Wool Exhibitors, Sonora Wool Show:

First, a word about the sale of last year's wool exhibits. They have sold and Mr. Chalk at the Sonora wool house tells me that you should receive your checks within the next few days.

Our sheep have done well this winter and spring and we should have some fine exhibits this year. Let's be thinking about saving out some top fleeces for the show. You know, Coke County's reputation at the Sonora Wool show and we want to go there with the best ever. Let me know if you want me to pick out some sheep or fleeces. Did you see the story about Coke County wool in the last Farmer-Stockman?

To be eligible for the Junior Rodeo, a boy must be enrolled in school in 1950. This also applies to contestants in the exhibits. This means that some of you boys who have finished high school will have to show in the adult division. However, there will be an adult exhibitors' rodeo calf roping. The show will be June 21 and 22.

Let me hear from you.
Travis B. Hicks,
County Agricultural Agent

we're planting a rich crop for you

Our crop is telephone service. It's a big and important crop for every modern farmer. Through our rural expansion program, we're planting this crop far and wide—installing new telephones, adding more lines. When our planting is finished, we know that every farmer will reap a harvest of greater usefulness from his telephone.
