One Dead, Four Seriously Hurt In Wreck North of Blackwell

Icy highways were directly responsible for the death of a broken leg as well as head injuries and possible internal injuries in a head-on collision between a 1951 Chevrolet and a Buick driven by Mrs. W. W. Shields of Roscoe.

Others injured in the wreck include W. V. Stephenson, Blackwell school superintendent and driver Blackwell high school teacher.

Winter Hits Bronte Area with Ice, Cold

The New Year came into the area with plenty of vigor as the temperatures dropped during the night, Monday, New Year's Eve. The unseasonable warm weather for the few days preceding January 1 made old timers shake their heads and predict bad weather ahead.

A light mist began falling during the early morning hours Wednesday and was freezing as it hit the ground. During the day, the drizzle continued and even a little snow fell. Temperatures ranged from 26 to 40 degrees during the day Wednesday and dipped to 30 Wednesday night and early Thursday.

Local service stations in the area reported a booming business in checking and selling anti-freeze products, but due to the icy roads, many local merchants had slow selling days Wednesday and Thursday.

Funeral services were held for H. C. Hedges, 70, Monday afternoon at the Brookshire Baptist Church. Rev. Clinton Eastman officiated and was assisted by Rev. Robert Wilson, Baptist minister of Miles, and Rev. Dee Cox, pastor of the Brookshire Methodist Church. Cox Funeral Home of San Angelo was in charge and Masonic graveside services were conducted in the Fairview cemetery in Bronte.

SEVERAL LOCATIONS MADE AND WELLS COMPLETED IN THIS AREA

In the Bronte Field a gasser being drilled to the Strawn on R. E. Hickman by Humble had reached a total depth of 5,125 feet on Wednesday. An electric log was run and operator planned to try for completion. McQueen & Stout have the contract.

A wildcat southwest of town, The Chicago Corp. No. 1 Dr. R. J. Warren, was nearing the contract depth of 6,500 feet early this week. Last report was that the drilling crew was fishing for drill collars at 5,801 feet. Water was found in the Palo Pinto. The test is located about 4 1/2 miles west of the Bronte field.

Union Oil Co. No. 1-A Maurene Stewart, wildcat 5 1/2 miles west and slightly south of Blackwell, has been plugged and abandoned at 4,996 feet in lime.

W. M. Fuller and A. P. Fuller No. 1 J. A. Waldrop, wildcat near Hayrick, recovered 20 feet of water cut mud and 1,260 feet of salty sulphur water on a drill-stem test from 5,755-65 feet in the Goens lime section.

Several wells have been completed recently in the Fort Chadbourne Field. Among these are: N. P. Powell No. 3-D Sallie Odom, which flowed 125 barrels of 46 gravity oil in 24 hours with no water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,175-1.

Humble No. 7-B Odom was finished for a daily flowing potential of 417.96 barrels of 46.7 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 6695-1.

Stanolind No. 1 Edna Wylie, located in the Coke County sector of the field, has been finished for a daily flowing potential of 114.97 barrels of 46 gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,192-1.

Burdell Oil Co. No. 6 Z. Sowell, also in Coke County, rated 180.87 barrels of 43.8 gravity oil and no water, in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 743-1.

Recent locations staked in the Fort Chadbourne Field are: Humble No. 71-B Odom, 491 feet from the south and 565 feet from upper west lines of E. Smith survey 51 1/2.

Humble No. 72-B Odom, 140 feet from the north and 660 feet from west lines of the J. Lindley survey 53.

Humble 16-D Sallie Odom, 1,450 feet from the lower south and lower east lines of John Bird survey 469.

Stanolind No. 7 Irene Morrow, 660 feet from north and 1,652 feet from east lines of the J. D. Yarbrough survey 27.

Frank and Charlie Keeney Wind Up 46 Years In Business

Frank and Charlie Keeney, who entered business in Bronte in January, 1906, are celebrating their 46th year of business here.

They came to Bronte from Temple in 1903 and three years later entered the grocery business in Old Bronte, which was located just west of the present school building. Later they entered the funeral home, hardware and furniture business.

They recall when the town was moved to its present location. Wooden rollers were used to move the buildings and business was carried on as usual during the process of moving.

During one of the several droughts weathered by the local firm Charlie retired from the business for awhile, with Frank assuming full ownership. However, Charlie didn't stay away long, and has assisted his brother in the operation of the business for many years.

Frank sold the funeral business to Bruce Cliff of Robert Lee in March, 1947, and is now in the variety store and hardware business.

Both Frank and Charlie are active members of the Bronte Baptist Church. Frank, in addition to his other business interests, is a director of the First National Bank.

Water Election Set for Tomorrow at City Hall

Bronte voters will decide tomorrow whether the city is to make a contract with the Upper Colorado River Authority to construct a pipeline from Oak Creek reservoir to the city limit.

The election will be held at the City Hall and the polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m.

This election was originally scheduled for Dec. 17, but was postponed because of a legal technicality in regard to the hours the polls should be open.

Mayor H. O. Whitt said this week that he hopes the citizens of Bronte will turn out and vote on this matter, as it is of extreme importance to the growth of the city. The Mayor said that if city officials are permitted to sign the agreement with the UCRA, it will provide the city with an abundant water supply, ample for a town much larger than Bronte.

The UCRA, headed by L. T. Youngblood of Bronte, has agreed to finance the pipeline and filtering plant at no cost to the city other than paying back the money spent on the project. In other words, this group is offering to let the city of Bronte use its money with no interest charge. City officials, in a meeting several weeks ago, said this is an opportunity which few towns have put before them.

The UCRA has rights to one-tenth of the water which is to be impounded in the big Oak Creek Lake. This is the water which is to be available for the use of the City of Bronte. The river authority acquired this water right many months ago when Sweetwater was first making plans to build the dam on Oak Creek. Originally, it was meant to supply both Bronte and Robert Lee, but since the other Coke county town already has a plentiful water supply in its Mountain Creek reservoir, all of the water is available for the use of Bronte. The portion belonging to the UCRA amounts to 3,000 acre feet or about 600,000 gallons per day.

The water from the new source will be supplied Bronte residents at a cost of 3 cents per thousand gallons until Dec. 1, 1964, after which the cost will be 4 1/2 cents per thousand.

It is hoped by the interested parties that the contract can be signed and work can begin on the project in the near future.

Work is progressing nicely on the various jobs necessary before closing up the dam. The highway is being raised and a new bridge being built across Oak Creek, replacing the narrow structure now spanning the creek, and Santa Fe Railway tracks are being raised.

Clayton Caraway Dies at Winters

By Mrs. Charles Ragsdale

Word was received late Thursday of the death of Clayton Caraway, 68, of Blackwell. The body was being taken to Robert Lee and funeral arrangements were pending the arrival of a son from Arkansas.

Mr. Caraway was recently a patient in the Karen-Gayl hospital and was transferred to Winters where he underwent major surgery last week.

Survivors include the widow; two sons, Wilford, stationed at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas; Jimmy, 5; two daughters, Zella and Glo Caraway, both of Robert Lee.

Pete McDonald Named on Hospital Board This Week

The Coke county commissioners met Wednesday to appoint three directors on the Coke County Memorial hospital board. The terms of C. N. Webb and C. H. Brown expired January 1 and it was necessary to appoint the new directors in order to have a quorum on any issue that might arise before the regular Court meeting on January 14.

The commissioners voted to have two directors from precincts 1 and 2 and one each from precincts 3 and 4. Frank McCabe is the board chairman.

Otis Smith named W. D. (Pete) McDonald to serve with Arnold Ball from precinct 2. Claude Dittmore reappointed C. N. Webb for precinct 4 and T. R. Harmon recently named Raymond Schooley as director for precinct 3. J. W. Sevice has not yet named the additional member for precinct 1. Each board member is appointed for two years.

The court also voted to give both the Bronte and Robert Lee fire departments $200.00.

March of Dimes Gets Underway

The National polio drive is now underway in your community, and contributions are being accepted. Mrs. Charlie Boecking has been chosen as chapter chairman for the East side of the county and A. J. Kirkpatrick is head of the arrangements for the west side of Coke. Dr. John R. Harris of Bronte is the county chairman.

Plans are not yet complete for the drive, but it was announced by the chairman that all volunteers to help in the drive will be appreciated.

The drive this year is lasting throughout the month of January and Coke County is hoping to set a record in this worthy cause.

It was also announced this week that the Coke County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $59.15 assisting two polio patients last year.

Reporting public the 1951 financial report of Coke, Chapter Treasurer, Mr. Vetal Flores declared that services made possible through funds raised in the 1951 March of Dimes underlined the need for a successful drive in 1952.

"The record of what has been done makes us all eager to continue and to expand this work as Genie Thomas of Wingate spent the first part of the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Pittman.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard spent Christmas in the Mark Chumley home at Robert Lee. Their son, Dwain Leonard, and family were also guests in the Chumley home.

needed," he said. "Unfortunately, even if we had no cases of infantile paralysis in our county in 1952, there remains much to be done for patients stricken in 1951 or before. Of the two patients aided in 1951, one was an old case and one was a new one. The toll of polio continues on into the next year or years."

The report showed that $590.15 was expended for hospitalization of polio patients.

The Coke County March of Dimes last year raised $1,974.51, of which 50 percent was retained for local services and the rest sent to national headquarters for its scientific research and professional education programs as well as emergency aid to chapters. The national office supplements local funds when high incidence wipes out local resources.

NEW STANDARD-TIMES BUILDING—The 67-year old San Angelo Standard-Times invited the public to visit its new building, shown above last Sunday, Dec. 30. The 100 by 200-foot building contains almost an acre of floor space, yet has only one 30-foot window, and that at the entrance. With a reinforced concrete frame, the building can go up another eight floors, or add a wing at the back by merely removing the concrete panels. The front wall is constructed of removable aluminum panels. An extremely functional building, it's designed to keep out heat, dust and lateral light for what you now pay for this much

It's startling when you think of it! The average family served by the West Texas Utilities Company pays less per kilowatt-hour of electricity today than it did ten years ago!

He's a mighty fine-looking American boy, isn't he? And he looks right at home in the cockpit of the F-51 Mustang fighter plane. He's confident because he's well-trained, well-prepared, well-equipped. And he's ready to take off at a moment's notice in the defense of your country and you. Your defense is his job.

Defense is your job, too. And one of the best ways for you to do your job is to buy United States Defense Bonds—buy them now and buy them regularly. For it's your financial solidity built up by bonds and other forms of saving that helps provide the economic strength of America. And it takes solid economic strength to back up your country's military strength—to stand behind boys like this. Peace is for the strong!

Sign up for bonds today—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Remember, bankers recommend them as one of the safest forms of investment; Defense Bonds are as safe as America.

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying U. S. Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a house or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you generally don't save at all. So go to your company's pay office—now—and sign up to buy United States Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own can automatically go on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not just $25—but as much as $33.33! A $37.50 bond pays $66.66. And so on. For your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

Peace is for the strong . . . Buy U. S. Defense Bonds regularly!

Parents' Problems

By DONALD M. MAYNARD

Threats of Punishment

Should the refusal of a ride to Sunday school be held as a constant threat of punishment over children in one's neighborhood and should I ever accept that rule again even after an apology?

The answer to the first question is an obvious "no." In fact, threats of any kind are poor disciplinary measures. It would seem especially undesirable to associate Sunday school with the idea of punishment. Unfortunately, too, for some children, the inability to get to Sunday school might not be deemed punishment.

The answer to your second question is obviously "yes." It's a pretty small person that will not accept a sincere apology in good faith and try to let bygones be bygones.

The Generous Soul

How can I help my daughter to be less generous without making her selfish? She allows people to impose upon her—helps classmates with their work, lends books she needs herself, uses her time to do things for others that they should do themselves.

Here we apparently have quite a different problem. In this case, we must discover the satisfaction your daughter is getting out of letting people impose upon her.

It may be that she lacks self-confidence, thinks she isn't attractive, especially to boys, isn't as popular as she would like to be, and in general feels inferior to those of her own age.

She has discovered that by putting herself out to help others she gains the attention and approval she so desperately craves.

If this is the situation, you need to be patient and understanding with her. Encourage her to develop skills of her own that will secure the respect and admiration of her peers; help her make herself more attractive; have young people frequently in your home so that she may have a wholesome social life; and in every possible way strive to give her confidence in herself. Fathers can be of help here by complimenting their daughters upon their appearance.

Suppose the above picture doesn't fit your daughter at all. What then? It may be that she is just one of the generous souls that, although often imposed upon, nevertheless brings much more happiness than gloom to the world. Do not be too disturbed about it.

You may, however, want to help her see that it is not wise always to do for others that which they should do for themselves. By being too generous and helpful she can keep her friends from developing the inner disciplines they so sorely need.

Remind her of one of the queer quirks of human nature, which is that we are likely to care less for those who go out of their way to help us than for those whom we ourselves go out of our way to help.

In other words, one way to get persons to like you is to let them do things for you.

That "Silly Age"

Must our children, age 5-8, go through a "silly age" when they greet visitors with a funny face instead of a courteous "how do you do," when they punch holes in the bread instead of eating in a mannerly fashion, etc.?

A certain amount of so-called "silly" behavior is more or less normal for children and as a rule should cause parents no alarm. Whether such behavior is desirable or not depends largely upon the reasons for it. There are at least three:

1. There is that type of silliness which occurs when children are tired or have been unduly excited. At the close of a busy day, for example, brothers and sisters may get hilarious and giggly. They shout with glee at inane remarks made by the others; they make funny faces and laugh uproariously; they may bounce up and down on the sofa or bed, or throw themselves around on the floor with abandon, landing in all sorts of grotesque positions. Should visitors arrive at such a time, they almost certainly will be greeted by a funny face.

This type of silliness is not to be considered undesirable unless the frequency of its occurrence suggests that the children do not get sufficient rest or have too many exciting experiences.

2. Children sometimes are silly because they do not know what to do or say and consequently are embarrassed. If they have not been taught how to greet guests, or even so have had little experience in doing so, the funny face may be simply an attempt to cover up their embarrassment.

3. Children get tired of doing everything the same way all the time. They like to experiment and many times their experiments seem silly to adults. Nevertheless, a certain amount of learning by trial and error is essential if children are to develop normally.

Sometimes this deviation from standard behavior is for the purpose of seeing what the reaction of the parents will be. Punching holes in the bread may belong to this category. If your child sees it doesn't bother you and you make no comment about it, he probably will stop doing it in a short time. You must not expect "adult manners" of children, however.
