1952 POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Seven-year-old Karen Blecha enacts 1952 polio precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. When polio is around, the National Foundation cautions parents to watch for these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of neck and back. A person showing such symptoms should be put to bed at once, away from others. Then, call your doctor and follow his advice. If polio is diagnosed, call your local chapter of the March of Dimes for advice and assistance, including needed financial help.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE SETS FORTH AMERICAN IDEALS

Our Declaration of Independence, signed 176 years ago, is considered by lawyers as expressing a basic principle of our American way of life—our belief in a government of laws rather than a government of men, and in certain individual rights that must not be denied by governing bodies.

The indictments set out in the document against King George III of Great Britain charge him with numerous violations of that tenet. Among the complaints enumerated are the following: "He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people."

"He has obstructed the administration of justice, by refusing his assent for laws for establishing judiciary powers."

"He has made judges dependent upon his will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries."

"He has refused his assent to laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good."

"He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws;

giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation: For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury; For transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offenses; For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

Our forefathers who subscribed to the principles of the Declaration of Independence were willing to fight for their beliefs. The Revolutionary War followed, dragging through weary years of suffering and suspense. Each of us takes pride in their eventual triumph over gigantic obstacles.

In 1787, when the framers of our Constitution met at Independence Hall in Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence had been signed 11 years previously, they set to work to create a system of checks and balances in government which was to perpetuate the fundamental theory mentioned in the preamble of the earlier document:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; . . ."

Some five years later, the first ten amendments to our Constitution were adopted at one time, specifically detailing various basic civil rights stemming from the underlying theory of the Declaration of Independence.

Who's Zoo . . . On the Highway

Who's Zoo—on the highway? The Butting Billy Goat, the Honking goose, the Jumping Rabbit. Sure, you've met them all—and probably a few more besides—at one time or another on the highway.

Maybe on occasion, anger or impatience, or even just inattention has gotten the better of you, too, and you have showed one or two of the bad driving habits these creatures symbolize.

Now you're going to meet them again in this and future editions of this newspaper so you can see how those indulge in these less-than-human characteristics when they're behind the wheel appear to others.

Funny though they may seem, however, the sobering fact is that many of the 8,500,000 motor vehicle accidents that occur each year are caused by characteristics such as are illustrated in the cartoons which are being presented by this newspaper in cooperation with the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company in an effort to point up these bad driving habits which contribute so greatly to this accident toll.

When you're driving, therefore, don't be a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Drive like a human being and continue to look like yourself when behind the wheel, not like the crazy creatures these cartoons depict.

(Ed. Note: The character, or characters, depicted are purely non-fictional and any resemblance to any driver, living or dead, is strictly intentional.)

TWO WRECK VICTIMS STILL IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. W. W. Millikin one of three Bronte residents injured in a wreck near San Angelo Wednesday night of last week, was dismissed Wednesday from the hospital. The other two are still hospitalized.

Mrs. Millikin received a broken arm in the accident. R. S. Walton is also recovering satisfactorily. He underwent surgery shortly after the accident. W. W. Millikin, the third person who was seriously injured, is reported "not doing so well." Friends say that he, too, may have to undergo surgery.

The fourth occupant of the car, Mrs. R. S. Walton, was released from the hospital after receiving first aid treatment for bruises and lacerations.

Water Situation Is Still Bad; Pipeline Progresses

The water situation in Bronte was still critical this week, but Mayor H. O. Whitt said that with the request that watering of lawns, gardens, etc., be stopped part of the town was without water much of the time.

Mayor Whitt said that he greatly appreciates the cooperation of Bronte residents in the conservation of the water supply. He said city officials are requesting that assumption has made water available all over town. Prior to the request that watering of lawns, gardens, etc., be stopped part of the town was without water much of the time.

local residents continue to observe the no watering and no car washing request issued last week.

All the water being pumped during the daytime is coming from the wells near the river or from the city lake. However water pumped at night is being pumped from the river, Mayor Whitt said Tuesday.

Whitt said that work is progressing "very well" on the pipeline which the UCRA is building from the Oak Creek reservoir. A spokesman for the firm laying the line told the Mayor that the job could be finished in six weeks if necessary and that enough men would be employed to finish it in that time if enough water is caught in the lake for Bronte to start using from it.

Pipe for the line has been distributed to this side of Fort Chadbourne and work is about half finished on the construction at the lake site. Bronte will have three eight-inch intake pipes at the lake. They are located down in the creek basin, Mayor Whitt said. Two motors will be provided at both the lake and at the filtering plant to be built in the north part of town.

"We could have plenty of good water here in a short time," the Mayor concluded, "if we could get the Oak Creek Lake filled."

Town to Close For July Fourth

Merchants of Bronte will take a well-earned holiday tomorrow, July 4. Some have indicated that they will remain closed Saturday July 5, for an extra long week-

The First National Bank and the Post Office will be closed as Independence Day is a legal holiday. The Enterprise is being published a day early in order that weekend shoppers may take advantage of the special advertised for Thursday, also.

No special celebrations have been announced. However, a number of families will have picnics or other celebrations either here or at nearby picnic spots.

Coke Sends Six To Prison In 10 Years

Coke County in the past ten years has committed 6 prisoners to the Texas Prison System.

This was revealed recently in a study conducted inside the prison by graduate students at Sam Houston State Teachers College, under the supervision of Dr. Rupert C. Koeniger, head of the college's sociology department.

In number of commitments per thousand population, the County ranked 154th in the State with 1.48 persons per thousand committed, the study further showed.

Ten counties during that period, 1942 to 1951, representing 41.73 per cent of the total population based on the 1950 census, committed 50.27 per cent of the prisoners.

In the order of the number of commitments. They were Harris, Dallas, Bexar, El Paso, Tarrant, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Travis, Cameron, and Wichita. These counties committed 11,424 of the 22,705 total commitments.

Highest among them in percentage of population was El Paso County which sent 5.77 men per thousand and ranks ninth in the state in percentage of commitments. Next was Hidalgo, with 4.51 per thousand, nineteenth in the State.

In 1951, the order of number of commitments ran according to the ten year average, except that Nueces County was eighth. Over the ten years, Nueces County, which ranks seventh in population, is twelfth in number of commitments.

In number of commitments per thousand, Culberson County heads the list through the ten years, having sent an average of 14.25. Next is Sterling with 11.7. Dallam County is third with 10.21 and Hartley is fourth with 7.32.

Two counties—Kennedy and Loving—have not committed anyone to the prison in the ten years.

More persons were committed to the prison in 1951 than in any other year during the study. There were 3,056. The lowest year was 1943 when 1,579 were committed. The number has increased each year since, except in 1948 when the number fell below the 1947 mark.

The percentage of increase in number of commitments in 1951, however, fell below that of the previous four years. There were only two per cent more in 1951, as compared with a 13.7 increase in 1950.

"Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new Government . . ." (From the Declaration of Independence now 176 years from)

.. and the fight for Freedom must never cease!

Absolutism Government is no respecter of person or place. It can and does raise its ugly, ungodly standard over traditionally free soils as it does over England and the land of the Czars. None of the real, pretended, or promised benefits of Absolutism Government can in the end justify its existence.

The freedoms for which generations of Americans have fought and died are slipping away from us . . . centralized government and bureaucratic directives are nibbling away at our American heritage.

Freedom is not free—it had to be fought for, and you will have to fight to maintain it. Now is the time for everyone to come out, stand up, be counted, and vote the way he desires to vote, regardless of those who would perpetuate power politics.

This Fourth of July marks the 176th anniversary of the birth of our nation—176 years which have given liberty, equality and justice to the greatest mass of people under one flag. Today the United States, recognized as the champion of personal freedoms, is trying to carry the light which guided the patriots of '76 to all the peoples of the world.

May the same courage and wisdom will guide our leaders today as was shown by the signers of our Declaration of Independence.
