Progressive Business and Civic-Minded People of San Angelo and Vicinity

THIS DEPARTMENT HAS BEEN WORKED UP LARGELY AS A REFLECTION OF PUBLIC OPINION. NO PERSON HAS WRITTEN OF THEMSELVES OR THEIR BUSINESS. ALL ARTICLES HAVE BEEN COMPILED BY A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE BRONTE ENTERPRISE AS HE SAW CONDITIONS. THESE PEOPLE ARE ALL LEADERS IN THEIR VARIOUS LINES OF ENDEAVOR AND THE COOPERATION OF THOSE CITIZENS IN SAN ANGELO WHO HELPED MAKE THIS DEPARTMENT POSSIBLE IS SINCERELY APPRECIATED.

Bob W. Grissom

Recognized as one of the more progressive business men of San Angelo, Bob W. Grissom, the manager of the Peoples Finance & Guaranty Company, performs a real service for the people of his city and his contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been achieved, in a large measure, because he never misses an opportunity to further the service he renders to the public. A policy which has and continues to build up good will for the Peoples Finance & Guaranty Company throughout this entire district.

Mr. Grissom is deserving of praise and this small tribute is but a just recognition for the many services which he has performed in the way of business and civic activities. Also his reputation for the successful conduct of his business affairs is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which characterize his every transaction.

We congratulate Bob Grissom on his splendid record and trust he shall continue to serve the people of San Angelo and vicinity.

J. Frankie Stringer

We take pleasure in this San Angelo review to call the attention of our readers to one of the more progressive oil producers of this district. That personality is J. Frankie Stringer of the Phillips-Stringer Company, who is rendering a valuable service to the oil producers of the state.

The production of petroleum in this section has been one of the greatest single factors in the growth and progress of San Angelo and this district, and Mr. Stringer is a man who has taken an important part in many phases of oil field activities.

He is a resident of San Angelo and has a large circle of personal friends throughout this entire district. He is also a man who has considered his civic responsibilities in a serious manner and is always ready and willing to help in the promotion of any project which promises to benefit his city and this district.

We congratulate Frankie Stringer for the part he is playing in the development of the petroleum resources in this part of the state and we wish him many more years of successful operations.

Joe Lewis

In making this review of progressive San Angelo business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those men who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business and civic activities of this entire district.

Such a man is Joe Lewis, the manager in San Angelo for the Orkin Exterminating Company Incorporated, who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. He is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the community, and in his way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. Lewis has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation of being a go-getter, who does not sit back and wait for the business to come to him.

We are glad to pay tribute to Joe Lewis and to point out to our readers that his sincere desire to be of service, coupled with his aggressive methods are largely responsible for the standing of the Orkin Exterminating Company throughout this entire district.

Woodrow Jackson, A. R. Schantz and Woodrow W. Herbert

In every community there are a number of business men who can be pointed out as having taken a three-fold part in the onward progress of their city. Three well known business men of San Angelo who belong in this category are Woodrow W. Jackson, A. R. Schantz and Woodrow W. Herbert of the Electric Service Company.

Their leadership in their line of business is recognized throughout this entire district. And their furtherance of civic activities and support of those organizations whose main objectives are directed along lines of civic betterment and community progress is well known to their immediate associates.

Mr. Jackson, Schantz and Herbert are men who are equally well liked and respected by their intimate friends and business associates. They are loyal to the community, thankful for their success in business, and have shown their appreciation by the contributions to various civic movements of benefit to the city.

We congratulate Woodrow Jackson, A. R. Schantz and Woodrow Herbert for being good citizens, progressive business men and boosters of their community.

C. Cullen Cole

One of the more progressive business men of San Angelo and a man who deserves the respect and good will of a great many residents of the city is capable, friendly C. Cullen Cole of the Cole Repair Shop, whose wide knowledge and long experiences in the lawnmower, motor scooters, and general repair and maintenance business has raised him to a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that the Cole Repair Shop, builders of custom made bicycles has earned a reputation for reliability—second to none.

Mr. Cole is also civic minded and has always been ready and willing to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit this entire district. And the people of San Angelo may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed for the community in the interest of progress and civic betterment.

We urge our readers to look to Cullen Cole as a progressive business man of whom we may well be proud. His devotion to the city has been constant and his achievements well merited. We wish for him further success.

G. W. and Morris Jennings

When a man gains recognition for the progressive and straightforward manner in which he has managed his business affairs and also for his generous contributions to civic projects, he is to be complimented for his achievements.

A man belonging to this category is George W. Jennings of the G. W. Jennings Wrecking Yard, a pioneer business man of San Angelo, who is regarded with respect and admiration by a great many residents of the city and the surrounding country.

We also think it appropriate in this review to give credit to some of the younger generation who are carrying on so ably in the footsteps of their fathers. And one who certainly deserves such credit is Morris Jennings who now shoulders his full share of responsibility in the operation and management of the wrecking business established by his father. It is because of the efforts of such men that year after year, San Angelo continues to grow and prosper and to become an even better place in which to live.

It is men like Mr. Jennings and his son, Morris, who have a distinct value to their city and we take pleasure in paying them this brief, but sincere tribute.

Gust F. Rakagis

Gust F. Rakagis is one of the more successful restaurant operators of San Angelo who, by maintaining a constant standard of service and high quality foods, has made the Charles Open Kitchen Drive Inn one of the more popular eating places in the community. We are glad to give him credit for his well earned success in a field which is so highly competitive.

It is also a pleasure to give him credit for taking part in community affairs and lending his assistance to various activities and public projects. When to take a part in such matters he always does so without ostentation, but in a quiet manner which lends dignity to his cheerful acceptance of his share of the civic load. It is a pleasure to be associated in the promotion of community activities with such a man as Mr. Rakagis.

This review of progressive and civic-minded people of San Angelo would not be complete were we to fail to include Gust Rakagis. His is the kind of success which deserves recognition and we wish him many more years of the same.

Curtis L. Carter

One of the more progressive real estate men of San Angelo, and one whose success can partly be attributed to a deep insight as to the direction in which the city will develop is Curtis L. Carter of the agency bearing his name. He also has a sound basic knowledge of real estate values and has turned that knowledge to the advantage of the people with whom he does business. And his aggressive methods coupled with his sound and practical ideas have made the services he has rendered to the people more valuable and materially contributed to his well earned success.

Mr. Carter is also civic minded and has always shown a cheerful willingness to contribute his share of time and energy to the promotion of community projects.

It is because of the activities of such progressive business people that year after year, San Angelo continues to show such a healthy growth and expansion, both as a residential and industrial city. We are glad to pay tribute to Curtis Carter for the part he is playing in the onward progress of his city.

George and Frances Gann

Mr. and Mrs. R. George Gann of What-A-Burger, are two of those progressive type of citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business or other matters. They are also civic-minded and have, in the past, and no doubt will continue in the future to give more of their time for others than themselves.

They are the kind of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and they spare no efforts in order that their services to the surrounding area shall be more dependable.

The Gann's have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm and unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity. We do not hesitate to recommend George and Frances Gann to our readers as good examples of the more progressive type of business people who have aided in the growth and development of San Angelo and the surrounding country.

Jack B. Dowdy

Every progressive and successful business man in San Angelo contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And a man who is always willing to do his part in both civic and business activities is Jack B. Dowdy, the manager of the West Texas Bearing and Supply Company, who is well known and has many friends and business associates throughout this entire district.

The prominent part that the West Texas Bearing & Supply Company is playing in the business and industrial life of San Angelo and vicinity mirrors the progressiveness and ability of such men as he. Moreover, Mr. Dowdy has also at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country, and on many occasions has lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

San Angelo and this district are fortunate to have such a man as Jack Dowdy in a position of responsibility and service, and this newspaper feels that it merely reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to one of the city's more progressive business men.

Will P. Edwards, Jr.

In making this review of progressive San Angelo business men it is appropriate that we include some of those men who have taken an active part in the exploration and development of the petroleum resources of the state. In doing so, we would be censored if we failed to include Will P. Edwards Jr., of the Edwards Petroleum Company.

Mr. Edwards is that solid type of citizen whose fairness and friendliness and sincere desire to be of service are accountable for a large measure of his success. And, as time goes on, his personal interests have become more closely interwoven with the business and civic affairs of the city. As a result he has, quite naturally, become accepted as a man who can be called upon and who will cheerfully do his part to further the development of those community activities to which he is best fitted to lend assistance.

Will Edwards Jr., has, by the conduct of his business and his attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of his fellow citizens. He is to be complimented for his activities and we only express the desire of his many friends and associates in wishing him continued success.

G. I. and Ray E. Dorrance

When a city like San Angelo has gained recognition for being the trading center for many square miles of the surrounding country, it is because of the foresight of those pioneers of earlier days who had the vision to realize the possibilities of their city and who also had the ability and courage to work for the fulfillment of that vision, and G. I. Dorrance is a man who belongs in this category.

San Angelo owes much to those men of early days, but each succeeding generation must produce its share of business and civic leaders to assure the continued growth and prosperity of the city.

It is also the purpose of this review to call the attention of our readers to some of these present day leaders, and in this instance we particularly wish to point out and pay tribute to Ray E. Dorrance who is associated with his father in the management of Dorrance & Son Real Estate, the Dorrance-Wunderl Insurance Service, and the Farm & Home Savings & Loan Association.

Mr. Dorrance and his son Ray are not alone in their efforts to increase the prestige of the city, but they are fine examples of the type of men whose combined efforts are responsible for San Angelo's past and future prosperity.

C. H. Tyler

Successful business and professional men as a rule, show their appreciation for their success by their often repeated demonstrations of civic pride. This is a fortunate fact. Otherwise a city would be lacking in that progressive element which advocates and develops various projects of a civic nature that are indicative of a progressive community.

C. H. Tyler of the Optical Prescription Service, is a man who has never failed to lend a hand when it comes his turn to help on some worthy project promoted for the general betterment of the city of San Angelo and the adjacent territory.

Mr. Tyler takes a genuine pleasure in this method of showing his appreciation for his success, and in so doing recognizes his civic responsibilities to the community.

It is such men as C. H. Tyler who become acknowledged leaders in both business and community on having attained that position activities and we compliment him in his city.

G. C. and Gene Kerley

It is not always the kind of a business which determines its importance to the community. But, more or less, the methods used in its management, the services rendered to the public. And the way in which it meets both business and civic obligations.

The cheerfulness of the entire personnel of the Aztec Dry Cleaners, the Model Steam Laundry and the Caddo Cleaners & Laundry in their contacts with the public. And the ready acceptance of all business and civic obligations by G. C. and Gene Kerley, proves conclusively that they are men who are well-versed in the principles of successful business management.

As most people know, these firms are leaders in the dry cleaning and laundry business. This is partly so because of their long experience but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

It is a pleasure to compliment G. C. and Gene Kerley for the successful management of the businesses and for their many contributions to those civic projects aiding in the growth and progress of San Angelo and the adjacent territory.

Mark A. Eidelbach

There are many men in their chosen fields who have gained recognition for the progressive manner in which they have conducted their business and accepted their civic responsibilities but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

But in reviewing a group of such citizens we should include Mark A. Eidelbach, well known and completely reliable consulting geologist, for he is a man who has always done his work effectively even though it has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner.

Mr. Eidelbach, busy as he is, always manages somehow or other, to do his bit in any movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole. His modesty however, will not permit him to say the things about himself which are said by his friends, who do so because of a personal knowledge of his activities.

We do not hesitate to recommend Mark Eidelbach to our readers as a citizen who continues at all times to work to the advantage of the oil producers of this entire district.

Clara Lee Schantz

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Clara Lee Schantz of Schantz Health Foods, which was formerly the Crighton Health Food Store, for her many services to the city of San Angelo and her splendid record of achievements in the business life of the city.

Mrs. Schantz probably has as wide a circle of friends as any other person we could name, because she is just naturally the kind of woman who makes friends with almost everyone, and always conducts herself in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know her.

San Angelo is fortunate in being able to number, among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

She is always ready and willing to lend her support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district. She may be depended upon, and her services to the public are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider Clara Lee Schantz an asset to the community, and a progressive business woman of whom her city may be proud.

Edwin Voucher

It is gratifying to include Edwin Voucher, the manager of the Wolfe Nursery, in this review of progressive and civic-minded men of San Angelo. Aside from his success in business he has always evinced a willingness to take part in some manner in those activities which will promote the growth and progress of the city and the surrounding metropolitan trade area.

Mr. Voucher is a nurseryman who, literally and figuratively, knows his business from the ground up. This knowledge, plus his artistic ability and ideals of service have made him one of the more popular nurserymen in San Angelo. All of which combined with his sound and upright business principles, are sure to keep him in the public's favor.

Edwin Voucher's integrity, responsibility and thorough knowledge of his business gained through long experience, will always keep him in the forefront of his line. It is a pleasure to compliment him for his many successes.

E. M. Wahlenmaier

Generally speaking, civic pride is one of those things that goes hand-in-hand with success, because a man must have been successful to fully appreciate the advantages that were afforded him by the community in which he lives.

E. M. Wahlenmaier, well known and completely reliable authority on oil property and royalty problems, is one of those progressive business men of San Angelo, who has shown his appreciation for his success by his attention to civic matters. His willingness to become a cog in the wheel of community progress, whenever united effort is needed to put over some the good of the city, has always movement or project advanced for been taken for granted.

Mr. Wahlenmaier's quiet assumption of responsibility, not only in connection with his own business, but in regard to other matters as well, has often lent a feeling of confidence to others interested in the same movements.

In complimenting E. M. Wahlenmaier upon his high standing in the community, we do not more than express the admiration of his many friends and associates.

Mayde Bailey

A city grows and prospers by reason of the public-spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. San Angelo has its share of these progressive and civic-minded people, and one who is deserving of recognition is friendly, likeable Mayde Bailey, founder, designer and vice president of Mayde's Incorporated.

Her business ability, coupled with a thorough knowledge of the the business have been major factors in maintaining Mayde's Incorporated in a position of leadership throughout the San Angelo area. She has not only in her business activities but also in her attention to civic duty, assumed an active part in community affairs.

Mrs. Bailey has always been ready and willing to contribute her time and energy to the promotion of any project promising to benefit the community as a whole. She has often sacrificed personal interests to be of assistance to the city and her efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Mayde Bailey on her past achievements which, in our opinion, indicate a similar successful career in the years ahead.

Alvin E. Neal

Logically a man who has earned the reputation of being one of San Angelo's more progressive livestock dealers would in so doing, have earned the friendship and good will of a great many people in this entire district. A man who justly deserves that distinction is — modest, friendly Alvin E. Neal, who has a great many friends and business associates throughout this entire district.

Mr. Neal is the type of man who would be an asset to any community, not only because the successful conduct of his business plays a definite part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate measure of his value to his city and this district lies in the fact that he is untiringly zealous and remarkably successful in the promotion of civic progress.

It would be difficult to estimate the actual dollars-and-cents value of such a man to his community. We congratulate the people of San Angelo for numbering among their more progressive citizens such a man as Alvin Neal and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of success.

Harrison Price

In compiling this review of progressive San Angelo business people, we have endeavored to select those citizens who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their businesses, have earned for them positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such a man is Harrison Price, the representative in this area for the General Hotel

Supply Company, who is well known and has many friends and satisfied customers throughout this entire district.

Mr. Price's main interests have not been solely confined to his own business and private affairs, but have also included his contributions, in one form or another, to those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

Harrison Price is a man of wide experience whose exploits in the business and civic life of San Angelo and vicinity merits more than a passing attention and the writer is privileged to pay this brief tribute to a man who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Davis

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Davis of Martin's Ranch Store, located on the Big Spring Highway have well earned reputations for progressiveness because they have consistently forged ahead in their business, never letting up in their efforts to make the service they render more valuable. This invariable policy has made Martin's Ranch Store, which is open daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Monday through Saturday, outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public in the San Angelo area.

But the Davis' have accomplished much more than just making a success of their business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to them for devoting what time they could spare to the general welfare, not only to their own city but this entire district as well.

It is such people as they, who are both successful in business and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Mr. and Mrs. Martin Davis the credit for their accomplishments which their friends and associates have so long accorded them.

Howard L. Binyon

It isn't the size or volume of a man's business which determines its value to the community in which he makes his living. But rather by the manner in which it is conducted. Which, to a greater or lesser degree, reflects the personality and character of the individual. The value of Howard Binyon's business to his city is a reflection of his progressiveness and a determination to render the utmost in service, a policy which has caused Binyon's to be so well thought of and so widely patronized by the people of San Angelo and the surrounding territory.

That same progressiveness and ability which has made him so successful in his own business has also fitted Mr. Binyon to be of assistance on community projects and public drives. Furthermore, he does so cheerfully and with a friendly spirit of cooperation that is always more than welcome.

It is a pleasure to include Howard Binyon in the San Angelo review and to wish him further success in the photographic supply and photo finishing business.

Gene Botts and Bob McClure

Gene Botts and Bob McClure have proven their progressiveness by constantly adding to and increasing the service which the Belaire Texaco Service Station has extended to the people. The large volume of business of their Texaco station proves that "service", to them, is not "just a word", but something to be rendered to the motoring public to the fullest extent of their ability.

In addition to their close attention to their business affairs, Mr. Botts and Mr. McClure were never men to dodge their civic responsibilities, and help in those matters has always been cheerfully given.

They fully appreciate the value of good will, and have more than their share of that intangible commodity because of the manner in which they meet both business and civic obligations. They are a credit to the community, and are thoroughly established in the forefront of the business life of the city.

Bob McClure and Gene Botts have many friends in and around the city and it is a pleasure to bring them before our readers in this review of progressive San Angelo business men.

Sam Koroucles

A restaurant operator of San Angelo, who has based his success upon the belief that the public will appreciate good food, well prepared and appetizingly served, is Sam Koroucles of the Bus Terminal Cafe, whose many friends and customers by their daily patronage of his popular eating place, attest to the soundness of his policy.

It is not only because of the successful management of his business that Mr. Koroucles has come to be recognized as an asset to the community; but it is also because of his policy of "looking ahead," and endeavoring to sponsor or take part in those community activities which will, in some manner, benefit the city of San Angelo and the people as a whole. He is another of those men who has shown his appreciation for his success by a willingness to contribute of his time and energy to the promotion of community projects.

It is men like Sam Koroucles whom we are privileged to include in this review and to publicly give him due credit for his success in business and civic affairs.

R. H. Rogers

To serve the public honestly, efficiently, and cheerfully is the basic foundation many progressive business men of San Angelo have found to be the shortest route to success. In making this statement, the man we have in mind is R. H. Rogers of Rogers Jewelry.

The popularity and patronage enjoyed by his services accentuates the ideals of courtesy and efficiency which he has consistently applied in the management of the business and in the servicing of its patrons.

The conduct of such businesses and the men who operate them have done much to make San Angelo the business center for many miles around, and it is fitting that we give credit where credit is due to such men as Mr. Rogers for his part in the onward progress of the city. In doing so, we are merely putting into words the opinions of those who know him.

R. H. Rogers has earned his success by the method in which he has served the public and accepted both civic and business responsibilities, and we wish him every success in the future.

Neill G. De Laney, Jr.

It is fitting in this review of progressive San Angelo business men that we acquaint our readers with the man to be credited with having maintained Mrs. Boehmes Holsum Bakery in the enviable position personality is Neill G. DeLaney Jr., whose genius for organization and for converting new ideas into actual deeds has played a vital part in the distinctive reputation which the firm now enjoys throughout this entire district.

Mr. DeLaney has found time, in addition to his business interests, to give thought and energy to community projects. He is a citizen whose talents have been steadfastly devoted to the best interests of the city. He has been successful in his own business and in the promotion of the general welfare of the community.

We are glad to pay this brief tribute to him and to say that this district owes much to the many benefits which Neill DeLaney Jr., and Mrs. Boehmes Holsum Bakery has rendered to the people of this entire area.

Roy O. Beverly

Roy O. Beverly, the manager of the St. Angelus Hotel, has won the universal respect and good will of people of San Angelo for the progressive manner in which he has kept the hotel in the forefront of the business, civic and social life of this entire district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Beverly is not the kind of man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment whose opinions and advice are sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Roy Beverly for the successful management of the St. Angelus Hotel and also for his constructive advice and help on those civic affairs in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call friend.

Raymond P. Castro

In bestowing credit upon some of those progressive business men of San Angelo, who in one way or another, have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions, we wish to write a few words about Raymond P. Castro of Castro's Service Station.

Mr. Castro has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that, under present existing conditions, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the large volume of business which his Conoco station continues to handle, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

Raymond Castro is also civic-minded, and has when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He more than deserves the respect and good will which he has earned, and we and his friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his usual integrity and high standards.

Phillip and Stuart Templeton

Due to the efforts of a group of wide awake business men, the city of San Angelo has attained a dominant position in the commercial life of this section of the state. And two of the men who have justly earned credit for being progressive members of that group are Phillip and Stuart E. Templeton of Phillip & Stuart Templeton Builders, featuring Royal Pools of San Angelo, and builders of fine custom built residential homes.

It is because of the successful operation of such a business as theirs that the city of San Angelo has earned the reputation of being one of the more progressive cities in West Texas.

The Templeton's have been conspicuously successful in spite of the fact that they have repeatedly neglected their own private affairs to devote a part of their time and efforts to the successful promotion of civic projects.

It is considered a privilege to include Stuart and Phillip Templeton in this San Angelo review and to publicly give them credit for their success in business and for their many contributions to the general welfare of the city.
