BRONTE, TEXAS, JULY 18, 1958

No. 29

THAT STUFF'S HOT—A truck loaded with asphalt sprayed the hot stuff on Bronte's main street recently when the highway from here to Robert Lee was re-topped. The job here in Bronte just about put business at a standstill as no cars were allowed to park on the main drag for over two hours. The above photo was made from the front of The Enterprise office.

More Than Half of Month Gone But Still Time to Save 50c

More than half the month of July and more than half the time readers of The Enterprise have to subscribe to the paper at a 50 cents reduction are gone. Hundreds of readers have already taken advantage of the reduced price and others are invited to save 50 cents between now and

Aug. 1.

The special rate is good for subscriptions anywhere and for new, renewal or extension orders.

Regular price of $2.50 in Coke and adjoining counties has been reduced to $2.00 and regular price elsewhere in the U. S. of $3.00 has been reduced to $2.50.

Subscriptions will be taken at The Enterprise office in Bronte, they may be mailed to Box 318 in Bronte, or one of the following representatives will take your subscription: Mrs. John Gaston or Mrs. Tom Green at Tennyson; Mrs. Charles Ragsdale in Blackwell; Mrs. Herbert Holland in the Brookshire community; or Mrs. Marvin Corley in Bronte.

A copy of this issue of The Enterprise is being sent this week to every boxholder in the Bronte trade territory. All persons receiving a paper this week who are not regular subscribers are given a special invitation to take advantage of the 50 cents saving.

Mr. & Mrs. Flores To Teach in Angelo

Both Mr. and Mrs. Vetal Flores, long time teachers in the Bronte school system, have resigned their positions here and will teach in San Angelo next September. Mrs. Flores has accepted a position as an elementary teacher in the Lakeview school system and Flores has signed a contract to teach English at San Angelo College.

They will continue to make their home in Bronte and drive to San Angelo each day. Mrs. Flores has been first grade teacher here and he has taught high school English.

AD-LIB-BEN

We are right proud of our "Politics" edition this week. We are particularly grateful to all the candidates and their supporters who have considered The Enterprise as a medium necessary to placing their advertising messages before the people of this area. They have all seemed eager to get their ads in this issue of the paper, and we thank them, one and all, for their cooperation.

And did you ever see anything to beat that red ink in this week's paper? As you know one side of the red sheet was taken by The Enterprise to boost our subscription sale and we're happy to have Cumbie and Mackey take the other side and make the color printing possible. If anybody ever asks us we are going to tell them that the local dry goods store was the first firm to ever run color in the Enterprise.

If you are going to be out of town, or are unable to go to the polls, let us urge you to apply for an absentee ballot and vote NOW.

Wide Interest In County Races As Absentee Voting Record Falls

Interest in politics increased this week as only a little more than a week remains before the first Democratic Primary on July 26. Indication of the strong interest in the election was shown by the large number of absentee ballots for which applications have been made. County Clerk J. L. Tinkler said Wednesday afternoon that his office had received 126 applications from persons who either were not able to go to the polls or who are going to be out of town on election day. Seventy-three of the number are from Bronte. Two years ago, only 86 absentee ballots were cast.

Absentee balloting in other counties apparently is quite a bit lighter than in Coke County, indicating that the heavy voting here is prompted by interest in local races.

A copy of the ballot to be used in the July 26 election is being published elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise. Readers are urged to use it in figuring out how to mark their ballots to vote for the candidates of their choice, but are warned it must not be taken to the polls when they go to vote.

This issue of The Enterprise contains an advertisement from:

30 Scouts Coming Through Bronte On Bicycle Tour

Approximately 30 Boy Scouts and five leaders will invade Bronte on bicycles late Monday afternoon. Bronte will be an overnight stop for the boys on a 204 mile ride beginning Monday morning at Silver and ending Saturday noon at Junction.

The boys will sleep Monday night at the County Park here. Bronte Lions Club and the four local churches have undertaken the job of feeding them supper and every candidate in a county or precinct race, along with many others from state and district candidates.

In county races, a three-way contest is coming up for the county judge's job. Incumbent Jeff Dean is opposed by W. W. (Bud) Thetford and Ernest Ivey, both of Bronte. The county clerk's post is being sought by incumbent, J. L. Tinkler and by Charlie Boecking of Bronte.

Fort Chadbourne Voters to Cast Ballots at Bronte

Voters in the Fort Chadbourne box are reminded that Coke County Commissioners court discontinued the box at its last meeting. The action was taken at the request of residents of the vicinity because there is no public building in the precinct in which to hold the election.

Fort Chadbourne voters will cast their ballots at the city hall in Bronte.

New Swimming Lessons to Start

Two new beginners swimming classes will begin next Monday morning, July 21. One will be for pre-school children and the other will be for ladies. They will be taught by Joe Don Wilkins and Richard Wayne Rees. All interested persons are asked to sign up for the courses in advance at concession stand at the swimming pool.

An intermediate course is being concluded today and two other beginners classes were taught earlier in the summer.

Price of the 10-day course is the same as before, $2.50 total, which includes $1.00 for the course and 15c per day admission to the pool.

Another three-cornered match is in progress for the county treasurer's position. Mrs. Gertrude Gray, who now has the job, is being opposed by Mrs. A. L. Forehand and Mrs. Lillian Caraway, both of Robert Lee.

In precinct races, Howard Brock, present commissioner, is being opposed by C. E. (Eldred) McGuire in precinct 2. In precinct 4, Claude Ditmore is unopposed for re-election.

The justice of the peace race in the Bronte precinct is the most heavily contested race in the county with five aspirants. C. E. Bruton, the incumbent, is not seeking reelection, but the job did not go begging for candidates. Earl D. (Pete) Nutter, C. L. Knierim, Jess Liles, Ben Timmons and George Wrinkle are seeking the job.

In district races, the only opposition is in the race for state representative. A. J. Bishop, Jr., the incumbent, faces Parker Nunley of Coleman. State Senator Dorsey Hardeman and Congressman O. C. Fisher, both of San Angelo, are unopposed.

Damages Are Set For Right-of-Way North of Bronte

A total of $12,059.15 was awarded to four property owners north of Bronte whose land is affected by rebuilding and re-locating U. S. Highway 277 between here and the Abilene-Sweetwater intersection.

The amounts awarded to each land owner was decided by a jury of view composed of R. B. Allen of Silver, Bryan Gartman of Sanco and Fred McCabe, Sr. of the Divide community.

Testimony on the four suits was begun last Tuesday with the state represented by County Attorney Frank Dickey, Jr., and his father, Frank Dickey, Sr., who was hired as a special attorney by the county. The defendants in the action were represented by Earl Smith, San Angelo attorney.

After two days of testimony, several hours were used by the jury before returning its verdict.

The following amounts were awarded to landowners indicated with the acreage which is being bought from them:

F. S. Higginbotham, 21.85 acres, $5,332.95.

Edward M. Cumbie, 3.43 acres, $1,685.90.

Gladys Mae Sims, 9.24 acres, $3,491.80.

Mrs. Faye Scott, 5.73 acres, $1,548.60.

The decision of the jury of view awarded the land owners approximately twice as much as was given them by an appraisal by D. K. Durham of San Angelo, who was hired by the county to appraise the property.

The land owners have ten days to announce appeal of the recent decision on the damages. However, no appeal is expected.

County officials expect the contract for the work on Highway 277 will be let in August. In addition to widening the highway, from here to the Y, a new bridge will be built across the creek in the north edge of town.

Money has been appropriated for continuing the highway work on south of town to the Tom Green county line.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The other day, while I was out checking my pasture fences, I got to thinking about that argument some congressman got in last summer about the typical farmer. I wasn't thinking too deep on the subject, in fact, I wasn't checking the pasture fences any too careful. My old lady was putting out the wash, and I learned a long time ago that it's a good time to check the pasture fences — when the old lady starts talking about gitting out the wash. But the Department of agriculture said last summer that the average farmer has mice in his kitchen and rats in his barn. Some Congressmen took it up and one of them argued that it was an insult to the American farmer, and another Congressman argued that it was true, and that it only proved that the farmer needed more help and more relief.

It ain't exactly proper, I think, to say that the typical farmer has mice in his kitchen and rats in his barn anymore than it's proper to say that a certain banker who happens to be in the penitentiary is a typical banker. That's like saying that the editor of the Chicago Tribune is a typical editor. It may be true that a heap of farmers ain't got no more modern standards than I got out here, but I got more confidence in the American farmer than to say he ain't got no more ambition than I got. I ain't offering no apology fer my farm because it suits me, and if it don't, it ain't nothing fer Congress to worry about. But I think Congress would do a lot better just to keep giving the farmers more relief and quit talking about the mice in their kitchen and the rats in their barn. It's embarrassing fer us farmers to have all that stuff in the paper. Last summer when I was reading all that stuff in the papers, I felt like my neighbor's wife felt the time company came and caught her with only two petticoats on.

Well, Mister Editor, by the time I had set on the creek bank fer a couple hours checking my fences and thinking about the typical farmer, I figured my old lady was through with the wash, so I went on home without solving the problem. I'm passing it along to you just as I left it. The next time your old lady gits the wash tub out, check your pasture fences and see what you can do with it.

Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

Kothmann Is Candidate For Ag Secretary

Glenn H. Kothmann, candidate for agriculture commissioner, believes that politics should play no part in operation of the agriculture commissioner's office. Accordingly he has made that his campaign theme:

"Take politics out of the agriculture commissioner's office."

Kothmann, a 30-year-old livestock man and legislator from San Antonio, feels his wide background and experience in the livestock field and agriculture together with service on all the major agriculture committees of the Legislature qualify him for the post he seeks.

He has pledged himself to "serve all areas of the agriculture and livestock business in Texas, from the producer to the consumer." He says also:

"I believe the office of agriculture commissioner ought to be operated for the benefit of all the people of Texas. To do this, people must be put ahead of partisan political considerations."

A native of San Antonio, Kothmann was educated in the San Antonio public schools. He graduated from Texas A&M in 1950 with a degree in agriculture.

He is in the livestock business with his family who have been a well known hill country livestock and ranch family for more than 100 years. The Kothmanns have operated from offices in the San Antonio union stockyards since 1893.

While at A&M Kothmann was on the livestock judging and meat judging teams, and a cadet lieutenant colonel in the corps.

After graduation he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the infantry. Later transferred to the cavalry where he commanded Hq. Co. of the famed 112th Armored Cavalry Regiment. At present he is a captain on the Adjutant General's staff in Austin.

Kothmann belongs to the Texas Cattle Raisers Assn., the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn., National Guard Assn., Texas A&M Former Students Assn., San Antonio Jr. Chamber of Commerce, The American Legion and Texas Farm Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wells and family went to San Saba last week to visit his father, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Smith of Abilene and Jack Preston of Quanah, Tex. were weekend guests in the C. R. Smith home.

Political Rally Set For Robert Lee

Plans are shaping up for the county-wide Political Rally in Robert Lee on Saturday night, July 19. The event which is scheduled only one week before the Democratic primary election, will be held at the new County Park, 4 blocks north of Robert Lee's business district.

Sponsoring the affair are the Robert Lee Observer and the Robert Lee Board of Community Development.

Starting at 6 p. m. in the air conditioned community building, the public will have the opportunity to visit with candidates for an hour. The period from 7 to 8 will be devoted to political talks and introduction of candidates.

All candidates are invited to take this opportunity to meet the voters and do some last minute campaigning. Office holders, who do not have to run this year, are also invited to be present. This year's election has more than usual importance in Coke County because of the several hard fought local contests.

Candidates for state and district offices have been invited to send speakers, and a number are expected to be represented.

Another attraction after the rally will be a Little League baseball game under the lights at 8 o'clock between all-star teams from Bronte and Robert Lee. Each club will also have two players from Norton.

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wandered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texas will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

FOR

Commissioner, Prec. 2

A long statement at this time to the voters of Precinct 2 seems useless, for all of you are familiar with my record—and you all know that I stand for getting as much improvement for our precinct as possible with the money we have to spend.

I hope you will all consider the many improvements that have been made in this precinct when you cast your ballot July 26. I will promise you that if you re-elect me to another term as your commissioner, I will continue to be for every improvement possible for our precinct as well as for our county as a whole, as long as it is financially feasible.

The people of Precinct 2 have been good to me during the years I have served them, and at this time I would like to express my appreciation to one and all for the many past favors you have shown me.

(Editor's note: Below is the second portion of a letter from Mrs. W. E. Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Whatley, former Bronte residents. She is living in Germany with her husband who is in the United State Air Force.)

Our next stop was Almeria, and this was a charming out of the way place where tourists don't often go. We stayed here with the whole family in a very clean hotel for 2 total. The people were so nice to us, and the room had no hot water, so the next morning I asked if we could have a little for the children and Billy to shave. After waiting about 30 minutes, the brought about a cup full and we poured it in the lavatory and it was leaking out constantly, so we were making a mad dash with Billy trying to shave and me washing the children. I ate my first garlic soup here and French fried squid. Very good.

The next afternoon we arrived in Malaga which is a lovely resort that is a favorite of the English and quite a few Germans come here, but not many Americans because it is so far South. We found a delightful cottage on the beach with a tremendous front yard filled with flowers, 2 bedrooms, full bath, living dining room with fireplace, kitchen, maids room with half bath, and completely furnished with crystal, silver, linens and dishes — all for $60 for three weeks. We did all our shopping in the markets (such fun) and hired a cleaning woman who did all the work and washing by hand for 10c an hour. One day we drove down to the beach to watch some fishermen, and I warned Billy, but as usual I was unheeded and we got stuck in the sand; and in the blink of an eye there were at least 50 people gathered around to stare in the car at us. Thank heavens they came, because they pushed us out and I'm sure we would have never made it without them.

On the next Friday, Billy and I went to Seville alone, and this was a trip we wouldn't give anything in the world for. We had planned our whole trip at this particular time so we could be in Seville during their big fair of the year (the Ferria). This was like another world—completely uncommercialized and so colorful. You truly felt so privileged to be an outsider there to just look on. This Ferria lasts about a week and about 5 blocks are set aside for it. They have the regular things of a Fair including stock shows, but the main part takes place in what they call "Casetas," which are little rooms (with 3 walls) side by side, and they are rented by individuals and organizations. The people come here in the morning and stay till 3 and 4 the next morning and eat and drink and dance and invite their friends to join them. We went to the one set up for Americans, as most others are private. The dancing was marvelous and everyone was doing it—you would be walking down the streets (about 50 per cent of the women wore their costumes) and they would stop and start clapping and playing their castanets and start dancing. They have a saying they seem to live by, "Life is much shorter than death."

We found a room in a home as we had no reservations. Everything legally doubles in price during this period, and you are forced to pay hotels for a full week plus meals even though you stay only one day. We did have tickets for the bull fights for all 3 days we were there. We saw only one really good fighter, but we saw a kid (about 17 years old) jump into the arena with a battered red cape to try to fight the bull. He was so pathetic, and they quickly caught him, and the police took him away. The reason he did this was he hoped to do something spectacular and some wealthy person would see him and back him in becoming a fighter.

We went to the lovely cathedral there which has 80 chapels and performs 500 masses daily. In it is Columbus' tomb and treasures and bones of different Sain'ts. In the afternoon from about 1 till 2:30 the activity centers around the Fair ground again as they have their Paseo—all the people dress up and ride on horses or in carriages up and down the streets. Billy met an interesting Egyptian Colonel during this while both were in the middle of the street taking pictures. We then took a buggy ride through the district from which came the famous Don Juan.

The first night we stayed at the Ferria till 4 a.m. and the second night we went to the theater where they had wonderful Flamenco singing and dancing, and we both slept most of the show (it began at 11 p.m.) How old can you get? Incidentally, no one eats in Spain before 9 p.m.; the children even had to wait till then, because they just don't serve. They open their stores at 9, close to sleep from 1 till 4 and then are open till 7. Actually, a very nice life.

We visited the Alcazar there which is a Moorish castle and is Franco's headquarters when in Seville. We decided to stay only two days in our room and the landlady wanted to pay for three ($18) and Billy said no. So the relationship was rather strained when we left, and after being away from the room strolling around about 2 hours, Billy turned white and informed me he had left $150 in a sock under the mattress. Neither of us breathed again until we got back and the lady garciously handed it over so we paid her a reward which brought the total back up to 3 days rent. Anyway, we felt VERY fortunate!

We saw so much there, that I can't describe the sidewalk cafes, the food, and such. We went to another church and saw paintings of Murillo and a painting of Don Juan's version of himself and a churchman half eaten with worms. It is said you can smell the decay and it is true. We also saw the Church and gate of Macarena which is the Virgin of Hope — the bullfighter's protector to whom they always pray.

From Seville we went to Cordoba where we saw a tremendous Moorish Mosque, which was finished in 796. The Moorish influence is great throughout Spain as the Moors occupied Spain for approximately 700 years, and Ferdinand and Isabella freed Spain from the Moors; so they are the foremost heroes of Spain for this (and not for sending Columbus to discover America as we might think). This mosque is so beautiful and the people imported marble and perfumed wood to build it; therefore, it is really a thing of pride to them and they refused to let it be destroyed when the Moors were driven out in 1492. Instead they consecrated it to the Virgin, and they built a baroque chapel in the center. It is a splendid chapel that the Christians built, but it looks out of place in the lovely mosque which is composed of 850 Moorish arches.

Something that is rather odd to us in Spain are the Federal police which always guard something or other, I'm not sure what. They were everywhere, and it seemed so strange to be driving in the mountains on little roads and no towns within many miles

Blakley Story Is Typically Texan

The typical American story is of the poor boy who made good through his own efforts. This is the story of Bill Blakley, born in a covered wagon while his parents were on their way to homestead in Oklahoma territory. He has come a long way in 59 years. Said the Austin American-Statesman, when William A. Blakley announced for the Senate:

"... He was a top-hand cowboy; he was a crackerjack bank clerk; he was an exceptionally good accountant and lawyer. We have an idea that he is going to be a refreshing, able political candidate. He would make a great United States Senator."

Vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 — an able man whose only ambition is to serve all of Texas.

LETTER FROM SPAIN —

and then come across 2 guards (one on each side of the road) just standing there with their guns. They have no way of transportation, so when it's time to go off duty they hitchhike (we found out.) On our way back to Malaga from Cordoba we were stopped by one in the middle of the mountains, and we couldn't imagine what he wanted. He finally got across to us that he wanted to ride, and we were afraid for him to but afraid to say no. He was very nice, but rather unnerving sitting behind us with 2 guns. After that, we were stopped numerous times when we were alone and gave rides to them.

We stayed in Malaga for several days and took the boys to a bullfight. They enjoyed it, and we did too, as we saw a Portuguese fight on horseback and he had 3 of the most beautiful horses I ever saw.

Next, we went to Gibraltar. You could see it from Spain about 30 minutes before arriving there; and it is quite impressive looming up into the sky. We only stayed there 3 hours, but I saw my first English policeman. The streets are very narrow and small shops line them. The shops are crowded and junky and have many wares hanging in front. I know we didn't see all there was to see, such as the Barbary apes. Gibraltar is about 3 miles long by 3/4 mile wide, and has 28,000 inhabitants and 13,000 Spaniards come every morning to work there; so naturally it is very crowded, and as far as I could see, there wasn't much to do but shop, and we get most of the things in the PX.

Judy Forman of Jal, New Mex. is here for a vacation visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forman and Mr. and Mrs. Rome Richards.

Mrs. Oscar Dorsey and children spent last week in Midland visiting relatives. Mr. Dorsey is at home after attending A&M College this summer.

DISTRICT NEWS

Present Supervisors —

C. N. Webb, chairman; Robert Walker, Vice Chairman; D. K. Glenn, Secretary and Treasurer; Bryan Yarbrough and W. E. Burns.

Applications for participation in the Great Plains Conservation Program have been received from Otis Smith, Clark Glenn and D. K. Glenn of Bronte; Bernard Petty and Foster S. Price of Sterling City; Blanks Estate and C. N. Webb, Jr., of San Angelo; C. N. Webb, Sr., of Tennyson; and M. J. Krall of Robert Lee.

Operations plans for the Great Plains program will soon be completed on the farms of Otis Smith and M. J. Krall.

D. K. Glenn has recently installed two net wire diversions for water spreading, two earthen diversions, and is constructing 252 rods of cross fence under his Great Plains Conservation Program contract.

Pat Havins has 25 acres of guar on his farm three miles south of Robert Lee. Guar is a tap rooted legume that is widely used as a summer soil improving crop.

The Spur field station reports that guar, when properly inoculated, will add 30 pounds of available nitrogen per acre under dry land conditions. The residue from guar will greatly improve soil structure when properly incorporated into the soil surface.

A key to proper range management is keeping the ground covered with a good grass cover. Vegetation will slow down runoff water and get more of it into the soil where it does the most good. Also the cover will reduce soil temperatures during the hot summer days. Bare soil may reach a temperature of 140 degrees Fahrenheit on the surface at noon in July or August. That much heat tends to incinerate the soil and kill all life in it.

Veterans Land Information Now Available

AUSTIN — A new information booklet about the Texas Veteran's Land Program has been printed and is now being distributed, Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn.

"Veterans, attorneys, and others interested in the program will find the new booklet of especial interest and help," Allcorn believes.

The pamphlet was published to meet an increasing demand for information about the speeded-up Veterans' Land Program, the land commissioner notes.

"In rewriting this material, we have included changes in the program since the last booklet appeared late in 1955. Our new pamphlet has been written so that it is easily read," Allcorn explains.

The booklet is divided into two parts. One outlines procedures and information and the other is the Veterans' Land Act.

The booklet may be obtained without cost by writing to Allcorn at the General Land Office, Austin 14.

Help Re-Elect The People's Senator

The Most Important People on Earth and Friend

Shown here are the most important people on earth—children of Texas and America—upon whose young shoulders in a few short years will fall the responsibility of American and world leadership. Shown chatting with them here—loving them now and fighting with every ounce of his energy, year in and year out, to strengthen them through care and education which may help prepare them for the awesome responsibilities they will someday face—is Ralph Yarborough, United States Senator from Texas.

Vote For YARBOROUGH U. S. Senator

Your vote for Ralph Yarborough is a vote for the little man. Yarborough has always been a Democrat and has always backed legislation that would help the common people of Texas and the United States.

Ralph Yarborough is the PEOPLE'S candidate. He does not have millions of dollars from big business backing him and it is up to the small people of our part of the country and all over Texas to turn out and vote for Ralph Yarborough. We need him in the U. S. Senate to carry on his fight for all the people of Texas.

White Expects Re-Election To Top Farm Job

AUSTIN, Tex. — City people have a vital stake in affairs of the Texas Department of Agriculture just as much as farmers and ranchers, Commissioner John C. White said this week.

White, who is seeking re-election as head of the state's top farm agency, said, "Every housewife, businessman or worker is somehow served by nearly all the duties of my department. We keep check proper measures on gas-grocery store scales accurate, line pumps, make certain that printed weights on all foodstuffs are correct as well as maintain sound and economical policies that protect all phases of agriculture."

The 33-year-old White predicted a sweeping re-election victory in the July 26 primary based on his observations during a just-completed 1,600-mile tour of Central, North and West Texas.

"You can't argue with successful policies that have made Texas first in the South in modern farm services," White declared. "People assure me they want to keep an efficient administration in office."

Citing recent gains in agricultural work, White pointed out that the Texas Department of Agriculture services have been increased as much as 300% on many programs without making constant demands for new tax money.

Born and raised on North Texas tenant farms, John White was head of the Department of Agriculture at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, prior to his election to office. He won re-election over two opponents in both the 1952 and 1956 campaigns and was unopposed in 1954.

Fourth of July guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Johnson and family were: Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Bob Johnson, O. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Hazelden, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Ramsey Warns Big Spending Raises Taxes

AUSTIN, Tex., — Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey says that holding public spending down is the paramount job in state government during the next few years.

"The future of our state," Ramsey said, "depends upon containing the size of state government to a safe level. We should have no additional or new taxes until the need is absolutely proven."

Speaking in West Texas and the Panhandle, in behalf of his candidacy for re-election, Ramsey said, "we ought to look twice at every dollar we are spending now. We must take three or four close, hard looks," he said "at any new program that would mean new taxes."

He pointed out that these are times of stress and provoking situations. "It is no time," stated the Lieutenant Governor, "for governmental experiment or for

Blakley Making Vigorous Race For Senate Seat

William A. Blakley, Dallas rancher-lawyer-businessman who had never sought public office and was virtually unheard of in Texas politics a year ago, is now being credited with having conducted one of the most effective campaigns in Texas history in the race for U. S. Senator. So states James Blundell, Blakley's campaign manager.

Since announcing for Senator three months ago, an office in which he served with marked distinction in an interim appointment for four months in 1957, Blakley has traveled more than 12,000 miles and visited upwards of 200 towns and cities throughout the state. He has waged a campaign of personal visiting and handshaking with tens of thousands of voters on courthouse squares, on the streets and in the stores.

A plain man, characterized "as Texan as a cowboy's saddle," Blakley has never outgrown the cow country background from which he launched his remarkable career. Born while his family was on the way to Oklahoma territory in a covered wagon, he was earning a cowhand's wages at 14.

He got hold of the books, taught himself accounting and became an accountant. He taught himself law and became a lawyer. Long years of hard work and sacrifice made him a successful businessman, rancher and lawyer, but he has never turned his back on his humble beginnings.

"I do not believe," he says, "that the day will ever come when the working man or the farmer will be paid too much for his services, so long as his earnings are based on productive time. The more he earns the better off we will all be—and I support the proposition of his having every benefit possible—so long as it is also tied to productive effort.

"The right to work and the right to educate your children, without restraint, regulation or interference from government, or private associations and organizations, must be reestablished, protected and maintained if this nation is to continue to be the land of the free."

Parker Nunley Makes Statement In Rep. Race

PARKER NUNLEY

Parker Nunley, candidate for State Representative, issued the following open letter to the voters in this area:

Shortly after I announced my candidacy for State Representative, a close friend of our family told us that he would do everything he could to help me be elected, but ended his conversation with "Frankly, I don't know why you want it anyway." After this conversation it occurred to me that many of you wonder why a person wants to be a representative. One may as well ask "Why does one want to be a doctor, a minister, a farmer or a rancher?" It is a dedication of oneself to his natural interests and abilities. It is my belief that each person should give part of himself to the business of governing his State. I do not aspire to be the government, I only want to represent you, the people, in governing the State.

For the past eight years I have grown increasingly interested in the legislative branch of our State government, for it is there that the laws are made that so deeply affect our lives and the lives of our children. In many cases it takes only a short time to make a new law, but years to change, improve or repeal that law. Therefore it becomes each person's duty to know the man who is to represent them in the formulation of these laws so as to insure a truly representative government, an "old-fashioned government."

I am a firm believer in "Home Rule." Beginning in the family circle, each family should continue to be allowed to set its own standards of life and government within the home as they have in the past. This principle should be carried out in all branches of government, thus insuring full representation of those most closely and directly affected. Federal government should not interfere with the States' rights, nor should the State override local administration in matters of local concern.

I do not profess to know the answers to all the problems confronting each of us, but there is no problem that faces us that cannot be solved following a close, dedicated, and thorough study. If elected I will be in a position to devote all my time to the duties and responsibilities of the office, and thus be able to spend full time considering pending legislation and consulting with you, the people, to fully realize your wants and needs.

So you see, my friends, I want to be your State Representative so that I can join with you and all the people of this district so that we can work together for the good of our State and the people of this the greatest State. If you choose me to work for you by electing me your Representative I shall perform the duties of that office efficiently and conscientiously I will be truly grateful for your support and highly honored by the confidence you place in me by electing me your representative from the 77th Texas Legislative District.

Sincerely,
Parker Nunley.

An Open Letter to Jerry Holleman President, Texas AFL-CIO Delegate-At-Large, DOT

Dear Mr. Holleman:

Do you really mean what you said publicly last Sunday?

Do you really mean that successful men shouldn't have anything to do with our public affairs in Washington? Do you really mean that our public offices should be turned over to men who have never made a success of their own careers?

Do you Mr. Holleman?

That is what you were saying in your attack on Senator Blakley. You were saying that it was perfectly all right for union leaders in Washington, New York, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and other big cities to pour money into Texas to elect a man of their choosing. You were saying that the workingman is against success.

We can't believe you know the workingman, sir. We don't believe you know Texans either, Mr. Holleman.

All of us are young Texans. We have just graduated from our Texas colleges. Our parents are workingmen and women. We know they want us to be successful — and we want to live up to their expectations and justify their many sacrifices to help us attain college educations.

Nobody else but you ever told us success was wrong, Mr. Holleman. Men like Bill Blakley built Texas and built America. Along with many, many others, he has helped keep Texas growing and prospering. You and many of your fellow union leaders might not even be here in Texas if it had not been for business leaders like Bill Blakley.

While Mr. Blakley has been building, what has your candidate been doing, Mr. Holleman?

Since most of us were only a year old he has been running for office and he hasn't yet received a majority of the votes. On his fifth attempt — in a special election where there was no run-off — two out of every three Texans voted for his opponents.

Mr. Holleman, your candidate has a record of failures unequalled in Texas.

If you expect young people to follow your leadership, Mr. Holleman, do you really mean to tell them that a long record of failure will win more for them than a record of outstanding success?

Mr. Holleman, your organization is quick to criticize Mr. Blakley for being a success in business. What about the AFL-CIO's own record in business?

Would the hundred thousand members of the unions who lost their life's savings because they took the word of AFL-CIO leaders on ICT stock agree with you that business success is bad?

Mr. Blakley has been successful in business, Mr. Holleman, while your organization has been a party to the biggest failure in Texas history.

You attack success, Mr. Holleman, from a record of failure. Which leadership do you think Texans, young and old, want to follow? Your kind or the kind offered by Bill Blakley?

The kind of Texas we want is the kind of Texas our parents helped to give us. We want to keep it that way for ourselves and our children. We don't want the conditions which the political labor bosses have created in other states, Mr. Holleman. We like what we have here — a chance to make good — just as Bill Blakley has done — and we believe he is the man who can help us do just that.

That is why we are supporting him and will continue to do so. For he is the dream-come-true which we and every other Texas boy and girl have had since we were a year old — when your candidate began running for office.

We believe that Bill Blakley will be the kind of Senator who will make every Texan, including you, Mr. Holleman, be proud to say "I am a Texan."

We are proud to be Texans and we're going to be even prouder when Mr. Blakley goes back to Washington. And you can be sure he's going, Mr. Holleman, because you just can't fool enough Texans enough of the time.

Safe Driving Is Important To Vacationers

AUSTIN — Vacation motor travel is big business in Texas, with nearly ten and a half million tourists spending $531 million as they piled up four billion miles of driving during 1957.

These figures were mentioned today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, as he warned Texans of the many traffic accidents that occur during summer's peak vacation months.

"Every year, more and more persons take to the open road during the summer months," Musick said. "And each year, more and more of them manage to get themselves injured or killed in traffic accidents while on vacation."

He attributed such accident to many causes, but listed the principal ones as being:

(1) Excessive speed. Because many vacationers try to cover too much territory in too short a time, speed is an important factor. More than fifty percent of the drivers in rural fatal traffic accidents are traveling at excessive speeds at the time of the accident.

(2) Alcohol. People on vacations are likely to be in a holiday mood and frequently their pursuit of a good time includes drinking. Drinking and driving motorists are involved in more than a third of all rural fatal traffic accidents.

(3) Laws. Failure to observe traffic signs and laws exacts a high annual toll. About one-fifth
