BLACKWELL SWIMMERS — Youngsters in the Blackwell summer recreation program and sponsors line up in the Bronte Pool to have their picture made. The youngsters are using the local pool for the swimming portion of the recreation program.

3254 Admissions to Bronte Swimming Pool This Season

A total of 3,254 persons have been admitted to the swimming pool in the Bronte Park this summer. Aubrey Denman, park caretaker, reported the figure this week, saying that this number had paid admission to the pool since it opened in May.

Denman announced that two new swimming classes will begin next week. There will be an intermediate course for married women and an advanced intermediate course open to everyone who wishes to take it and who is qualified to take the course. The lessons will begin Monday morning. Denman asked that women interested in taking swimming lessons call the park. He said that if more women are interested in a beginners course than are interested in the intermediate course, the beginners course will be offered instead.

Prices on these courses is the customary $1.00 plus 15c per day for admission to the pool. The courses will last two weeks.

County Agents News Column

By STERLING LINDSEY

Brucellosis or brucellosis control is a problem that you will be hearing more about in the coming months or possibly years. The two fold losses of both production and favorable markets has affected the Texas cattle industry. The pathway has been partially opened through which Texas can retain its position in the beef cattle world.

The legislature recently passed a law allowing county or area groups to institute brucellosis control measures. Just when the program will be initiated is not known yet. Some counties or areas in the state could possibly take action during the next 120 days.

A meeting was held in the County Courtroom Monday night to discuss the various implications of the law. Dr. Charles W. Koberg, D. V. M., San Angelo, was present to discuss with the some 25 stockmen present, the major aspects of the proposed program.

Several local stockmen are expected to attend a hearing on the law to be held in Fort Worth on Monday, July 20, to secure more information on the program and to learn the Texas Animal Health Commission's interpretation of the law.

As the program develops, I will give more information on the subject through the paper, letters and by holding meetings in various parts of the county. Every cattleman, dairy and beef, is encouraged to familiarize himself with the law and all aspects of the brucellosis situation. You will probably have to make some decisions on the issue in the not too distant future.

Cotton insects and their control have received considerable discussion of late. Prospects for a better than normal crop have improved with the rains and so have the insects in many cases.

I have checked several fields in the last week over the county finding light to heavy infestations of and grasshoppers are common in numerous insects. Fleahoppers practically all the fields in varying numbers. Bollworms, weevil punctures, army worms, chinch bugs, cabbage loopers, thrips, aphids and even square borers have been noted in the fields checked.

The question in most operators minds is whether or not to spray or dust to control insects. In answer, every field must be considered separately. Most fields of cotton are making rapid growth at the moment, and are making many squares. If you have some moisture to continue this growth and production then spraying or dusting, if hte insects are present in your cotton, should allow your cotton to hold its fruit and may avoid a heavy build up of insects that could continue to plague your cotton.

I checked one field that was sprayed prior to the week of rainy weather. It had stalks with as many as seven forms on some of the lower fruiting branches. The fleahoppers were controlled temporarily and the plants made use of the favorable conditions. That crop of cotton as well as the others in the county is a long way from the gin, but the amount of fruiting found certainly was encouraging.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kiker have returned to their home in Los Angeles, Calif., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kiker. Their children, Raydell and Helen stayed in Bronte and will spend the remainder of the summer with their grandparents. Wille Jean Sofge and Michael Bullard of San Diego, Calif., are also visiting the Kikers.

Fishing at Brady last weekend were J. B. Arrott, Cleburne Boatright, Joe Simpson and Doyle Gleghorn, Miles.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped ½-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see where a rich feller in New York wants to publish a newspaper that don't carry nothing but good news. He wouldn't be able to git out more'n one page a week. In fact, he wouldn't be able to carry the weather forecast but about onct a month. Come to think about it, this feller has done about retired afore he got started.

Of course, I think a heap of improvements could be made on the newspapers we already got. You editors miss the point about as often as you hit it. Fer instant, when that farmer here a while back smashed up his tractors, burned down his barn and killed hisself, the paper said the motive fer the act was unknown. Anybody ought to know that he just got exhausted from filling out Government forms and was tired of farming. He had wore hisself out estimating his crops fer the income tax folks and rotating 'em fer the Agriculture Department. And I reckon, too, his eyesight was gitting pore from reading all them pamphlets from the farm bureaus.

I was reading a piece in the papers last night where a survey shows that wimmen use no judgment in the selection of their shoes and that 43 per cent of 'em would be happier if they went barefooted. I didn't know the percentage of honest wimmen in this country would run to 43 per cent. The piece didn't say who made the survey but I reckon it was another one of them Government projects, like the survey made about five year ago on the "Love Life of the Humming Bird."

A feller on television last night was saying that ever candidate fer President in 1960 ought to make a speech to the nation from the front porch of the White House and tell the American people his exact foreign policy. Of course, when Harry built that porch to the White House he didn't aim fer no Republicans to be making a campaign speech from it. But he might not holler too loud if the candidate kept the speech non-partisan. There ain't nothing that makes a little feller feel as big as when he's got a balcony under his feet. The balcony did a heap fer Mussolini, and nothing crows as cocky as a rooster when he's safe on the ridge pole of a barn.

Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

Miss Juanita Chew
And William Belfield
Married on July 10

By Mrs. Charles Ragsdale

Miss Juanita Elizabeth Chew and William Belfield were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed July 10 at 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church at Blackwell. The Rev. Jerrell Sharp, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Chew of Blackwell and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Belfield of Potosa, Mo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz length white lace dress over white taffeta. Her flowers were white carnations and she wore white accessories and a short white veil.

Attendants were Mrs. B. J. Taylor of Blackwell, sister of the bride, and Elvin Chew of Blackwell, brother of the bride. The matron of honor wore a light blue dacron and cotton street length dress with a blue jacket. Her flowers were also white carnations.

Mrs. L. W. Sweet played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. B. R. McCarley who sang "Oh, Promise Me." Church decorations were white gladioli and fern.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. A three tiered cake was served to 24 guests.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Canada, the bride wore a light blue cotton dress and white accessories.

Mrs. Belfield is a 1956 graduate of Blackwell high school and has been employed as a nurse at St. Ann Hospital in Abilene. Mr. Belfield attended the Potosa, Mo. high school and has recently been discharged from the Air Force. He was stationed at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene.

Sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the program is designed to stimulate interest in small church work, with goals of achievement set up in three areas, church, community and world. The Blackwell Church has set up about 75 goals to accomplish this year.

Pastor Kenneth F. Jones said past programs had helped the church realize its needs and capabilities as well as lending enthusiasm to members in reaching the goals.

Mrs. S. P. Smith and Mrs. Louis Conradt serve as the scrapbook committee.

One of the goals recently achieved was the installation of a $650 evaporative-type air conditioning system in the auditorium. Plans are being made for installing air cooling in the educational facilities of the church.
