Little League All Stars Lose District Game

The Colorado River Little League All Stars lost out in the semi-final competition of District 5 last Thursday night when a team from Rotan downed them, 2-1, in a game played at Rotan.

The local lads lost the game on a bases loaded walk, which gave Rotan the winning run.

In spite of the loss, the Coke County boys have had a very successful season, and many compliments have been received by them praising the headsup brand of baseball they play.

The All Star team was made up of selected players from teams in the Colorado River Little League district. J. B. Arrott and Red Day coached and managed the team through three straight victories to carry them to the district semi-finals.

AD-LIB-BEN

We owe an apology to Marvin Bryant, local WTU manager. In last week's Enterprise, we picked up a story from the Robert Lee Observer about a new street lighting service offered by his company. This story had the name of W. D. McAdams of Robert Lee as the local manager, and we forgot to change the lines in the story where Bryant's name should have appeared. That's just one of the hazards connected with printing two newspapers in one shop. We'll try to do better next time, Marvin.

We received some reasonably reliable information that a new golf foursome was practicing Saturday afternoon with the idea that they would take the forthcoming golf tournament in Bronte. So far as we know this was the first time either of the four has appeared on the local golf course. Royce Fancher, Aubrey Denman, Jesse Parker and Howard Brock made up the fearsome foursome. We understand all are hopeful they will take the tournament and then plan to move up to bigger contests. Why, Jack Nicklaus won $20,000 just last Sunday swatting that little ball. Who knows?

SCHOOL BRIEFS

Supt. C. B. Barbee said Tuesday that no progress had been made up to that time toward securing a band director for the Bronte Schools. This position is the only vacancy which exists on the school faculty.

Architects employed by the school to work out plans and supervise construction on the new buildings are still busy drawing up plans and specifications, Barbee said.

The superintendent said it will probably be early in September before the final plans are approved by the board. Following approval of the plans, some time must elapse to advertise and take bids, before actual construction can begin.

Barbee said it will probably be late October before a contract can be awarded. He emphasized that the board is anxious to take time to get the plans worked out to use the money available to the greatest advantage, rather than to make costly mistakes which would be hard to correct later during the construction period.

Work has already begun on getting the football field ready for the opening of the 1965 football season. The field has been fertilized and is being watered regularly so the turf will be ready for the opening game.

Other work at the field which is expected to start shortly includes some improvement in the lighting and bleachers and the erection of the new scoreboard, which has arrived.

New dirt has been hauled in and is being spread in front of the site where the new agriculture building and shop will be located. This site is south of the present gymnasium. Barbee said school officials would like to get a good stand of grass started in front of the proposed building before cold weather arrives.

Some repair work has been finished.

Bronte Insurance Key Rate Drops

Bronte insurance agents this week received new rate books from the State Insurance Commission. The books set forth the new lower key rate for the City of Bronte.

The key rate was dropped from 81 cents to 46 cents, which will allow a sizeable saving on fire insurance. Local agents pointed out that the new rate does not affect extended coverage, and that premium costs for this type of insurance will continue at the same new and higher rate which went into effect last June.

The saving on fire insurance has been brought about by improvement of the city water system and by having a recognized fire department.

City officials have received no word from the state regarding the drop in the key rate. However, any word which is received will be published as soon as possible.

State Board Grants Transfers to 15

Fifteen students who live in the Bronte School District, but who have been going to school at Blackwell from two to four years, were granted transfers this week. The decision to permit the transfer overrides a decision of the county school board made in June which would not permit the transfers.

The decision was contained in a letter received by county board chairman D. K. Glenn, Superintendent C. B. Barbee, Blackwell school officials and the parents of children concerned. The letter came from Dr. J. W. Edgar, head of the state board of education.

Parents of the 15 students requested the transfers in May. The county board ruled against their request June 11 when Bronte school officials protested. The county board decision was appealed to the state board and the hearing was held July 10. Date of the decision by Dr. Edgar's office was July 30.

RL Rainbow Girls to Sponsor Barbecue Supper

Members of the Robert Lee Rainbow Assembly will sponsor a barbecue for the public Thursday night, Aug. 5 (tonight). Food will be served from 5:30 to 8 p.m. in the Rec Hall at Robert Lee County Park.

Prices for tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 years old.

The girls promise everyone who attends plenty of delicious barbecue with all the trimmings. They hope to make the barbecue an annual fund raising affair, and will use the money to carry out worthwhile projects of the organization.

Tickets may be obtained from any girl who is a member of the Rainbow Assembly or purchased at the door. The ticket salesmen are giving each other keen competition in selling the tickets, since the girl who sells the most will be given a free trip to the Grand Assembly of the Order of the Rainbow to be held next year at Corpus Christi. An interested individual has agreed to foot the bill on the trip for the winner.

The Robert Lee Rainbow chapter is made up of 29 girls, from Robert Lee and Bronte. Linda Jacoby is worthy advisor of the organization.

240,000 Kids Start to School This Fall

Early this fall more than 240,000 young Texans will be entering public schools for the first time.

Fall Fabrics Have A Different Look

COLLEGE STATION, August 3 — The new fall fabrics almost dare you to guess the fiber content without reading their labels, says Lynn Parks, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist.

Washables such as cotton, acrylics, nylons and silks are disguised with coatings, bondings and new kinds of knitting processes to achieve a new look.

Nylon is texturized to achieve the look, feel and bright colors of silk. Nylon bonded to nylon tricot produces effects which resemble silk prints.

Nylon tricot is glamorized with Swiss dot flocking which adds "loft" and softens colors. Tricot with a satiny backing made from nylon has a crepe-look with a rich opague appearance.

Jersey achieves a frosted look with a blend of Antron and Orion acrylic fibers. Other acrylic fiber fabrics masquerade as wools and worsteds in tartan plaid, herringbone and blanket-check patterns. These fibers have the construction and feel of woolsens, are wrinkle resistant, permanently pleated and are completely washable.

A polymeric coating is being used on 100 per cent cotton to simulate leather. Its weight, construction and leather colors made this fabric look real enough to mislead a tanner.

A cotton-blend pique has been developed with its texture woven in for permanence, instead of just stamped on the surface. Even silk has been transformed by a cure process which gives fabric the wet look of vinyl. This new silk is waterproof, crackproof, easy to manipulate and completely washable.

Even though the opening of school is still some weeks away, parents are busy making preparations to insure that their child makes a smooth adjustment to his new environment.

The child's adjustment will be more rapid and satisfactory if he starts his school life in good, sound health.

The child should have a complete physical examination, including an eye check. His teeth should also be checked. If these examinations show there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible, before he is enrolled in school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox. If not, have it done immediately. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster dose.

Insist on your child's getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs ten to twelve hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an open window to build up his energy and offset his tiredness.

Proper nutrition is very important. When school starts, allow enough time for a wholesome breakfast. A good breakfast includes citrus fruit or juice, milk, whole grain cereal or bread, eggs or bacon or both.

Also, nearly every school district in Texas requires proof-of-age for first year students in the form of a certificate of birth.

You may obtain a copy by sending a dollar and a half plus the name of the child, the date of birth, the place of birth, and both the father's and mother's names to the Records and Statistics Section, Texas State Department of Health, 410 East 5th St., Austin, Texas.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex., — Gov. Connally's future plans are the talk of the capital.

On his decision hinges the political future of many Democratic candidates for numerous federal and state offices.

No one in his party wants to run against the popular Democratic party leader and top vote-getter, but there is talk of his possible retirement. This would change the complexion of many races in 1966.

Connally has indicated that he will make his plans known before the General Election in November. This in order that other state political figures, whose moves depend on his, can set their own sails.

In the latter category are Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Both want to run for governor.

A race by Smith and Carr for the higher office naturally would place their own jobs up for grabs — and plenty of candidates would file for these posts.

Connally says that neither the four-year-term amendment, which will be voted on November 2, nor the possibility of a federal appointment will play a part in his decision whether or not to retire.

Other speculation is that he may run for the US Senate next year against the incumbent, Republican Sen. John Tower.

There also is talk that, regardless of Connally's decision, US Senator Ralph Yarborough may enter the Governor's race next year. He could do this without relinquishing his present post.

So goes the talk in the state capital where speculation always runs high.

NOT SO BAD — Dr. James Schless, director of the state's TB hospital system, isn't claiming perfection. But he doesn't think the number of persons leaving the hospital against medical advice is alarming.

"We don't bat a thousand," said Schless, "but a layman looking at the figures could easily get the wrong impression."

Figures he referred to reveal that out of the 2,914 persons who left the state's TB hospital's last year, 601 of them left without medical advice.

Dr. Schless says most of those 601 were non-contagious. They were cured and they are not a menace to public health. But they left before receiving the 18-24 months of treatment necessary to give them a 98-per-cent chance of never having TB again.

Those who leave before getting past the contagious stage usually are returned quickly by health authorities. After "going over the hill", such patients usually are quarantined.

INTERSTATE HIGHWAY — Plans for development of a section of Interstate Highway 10 west of Fort Stockton in Pecos County have been approved by the Texas Highway Commission.

SALES UP — June retail sales in Texas were up 2 per cent over May, reports the University of Texas' Bureau of Business Research.

Ordinarily, June sales are down an average of 6 per cent from May. Bureau's only explanation for the rise was the fact that June was the state's first month of consistently sunny, pleasant shopping weather.

COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS — Additional interim committees have been named by House Speaker Ben Barnes and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

Barnes appointed Reps. Paul Floyd, Wayne Gibbens, Gene Hendryx, George Hinson, Randy Pendleton, Tommy Shannon, Richard Slack, James Slider, Terry Townsend and Ralph Wayne to the Legislative Council.

Smith named Sens. A. M. Aiken Jr., Dorsey Hardeman, Grady Hazlewood and Bill Moore to the Budget Board.

TEXAS TOURISM GETS NEW BOOST — A Texas movie entitled "TEXAS — Land of Contrasts" soon will be available for showings before civic groups through out Texas and the nation.

It is a professional job produced entirely within the Texas Highway Department, except for the guest commentator. Its estimated value is $70,000. But the department self-produced it for $9,300.

More than 100 copies of the 28-minute color film are now being made. In discussing the film Herb Petry, chairman of the Highway Commission, said: "This is Texas as it really is — a Fun-Tier State — offering recreational attractions to suit every taste. It features our forests, mountains, plains, sea-shore caverns, lakes and many cultural attractions."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reyes and family are spending some of their vacation with relatives in Plainview. Susie Reyes, who has been visiting there several weeks, returned home with them.

Robert Keeney of Ridgedale, Mo., has been visiting here in the home of his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Keeney.

4 Coke Men Named To Aid Round-Up

Four Coke County men have been named on to the Round-Up Committee to assist in the annual Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The Round-Up, founded in 1961 by Bronte rancher, C. H. Wylie, is one of the main financial sponsors of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. Each year since its founding, southwestern ranchmen have donated livestock to the Round-Up which are sold for profits going to the center. It provides over one-third of the funds needed by the center.

Included on the Round-Up committee are Mr. Wylie, J. L. Brunson, D. K. Glenn and Edward Cumbie. Mr. Wylie is also a member of the arrangements committee.

The Center serves approximately 1474 patients, with over 200 receiving daily treatment. It is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to the rehabilitation of the handicapped. Most of the patients are victims of polio, strokes, cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's syndrome and other neurological or orthopedic disorders.

The Center has almost doubled in size over the past three years, and must depend on the Round-Up for a major portion of its operation expense. Patients are being treated from over the entire Southwest and Midwest area with no charge. The Center has never received any federal or state aid, relying entirely on the charity dollar for its operation.

Bronte Teachers Off To Phonics Workshop

Four teachers in Bronte schools will attend a workshop on phonics Thursday and Friday at Lampasas. They are Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. C. B. Barbee and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Henry.

Mrs. Royce Fancher attended a homemaking conference last week in Dallas, and Henry will attend a similar conference for vocational agriculture teachers there next week.

Coaches Cecil Toliver and James Raughton are in Dallas this week attending a coaches clinic.

COTTON ROOT ROT MAY BE THE CULPRIT

Homeowners who find shrub and ornamentals dying during the warm season may discover a fungal disease at the "root" of their problem. The fungus is known to infect 2,000 species of wild and cultivated plants, says Extension Plant Pathologist Wendell Horne, Texas A&M University. There is no satisfactory chemical control for the disease but homeowners are advised to use plants which are resistant to the root rot. Local county agents can supply a list of these plants, says Horne.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Sims and two grandchildren, Sandra and Johnny Elam of Lone Wolf, Okla. are visiting local relatives this week. They were guests Sunday in the E. L. Caperton home. Others visiting there were Bob Coleman and Stevie of Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Coleman, Susan and Jeanie of Ballinger.

Low-level application of insecticides to control insects — particularly the cotton insects — could be a big boost to the industry. But, this method or means of combatting insects has not been tested enough on diapause weevils to say what it will do on a given insect or how safe the method is. Concentrated insecticides, even in low or small volumes, may not be safe except in specific situations. Since the method is virtually untested, we cannot recommend low-level insecticide application at the present time.

Each year animals in the area are lost after grazing on sorghums, Sudangrass, Sudan, sorghum hybrids or Johnsongrass. The cause may be prussic acid poisoning.

These grasses contain a glycoside which may break down into prussic acid in the digestive tract of the animal. The poisonous material is most likely to be present in young, immature stands, or in second growth following periods of drought or mechanical harvesting. There is also danger in the fall, following the first frost.

Cattle are more susceptible to the poison than sheep or goats. Horses and swine are rarely injured. An affected animal may stagger and act sleepy before suddenly dropping dead. Severe muscular twitching sometimes occurs. Death results from suffocation, since the poison prevents the exchange of oxygen from the blood to the tissue.

A drench of molasses diluted with water may help a poisoned animal, but a veterinarian should be called at once to give additional treatment.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning: Do not graze at any time until growth reaches at least 18 inches. Do not graze regrowth that has been stopped by lack of moisture, frosted pastures, or regrowth after a frost.

Forage containing prussic acid can be fed safely if it is cut and allowed to cure completely in the field, or if it is put up as silage and not fed for several months. Mature plants with few suckers are seldom dangerous if growth has been normal. Grain sorghum or Sudan stubble regrowth grazed in late fall can also be dangerous.

A few calves have been lost recently to black leg. The chance of the disease spreading is very slim but one can never tell.

Calves can be vaccinated and immunized against black leg, and one lost animal would pay for a lot of vaccine. If you have some young calves that have not been vaccinated, I would seriously consider doing so. I would use what is commonly called the "triple vaccine". It immunizes against black leg, malignant edema and shipping fever.

county; also within the state if producers agree to such transfer in a referendum.

The Cropland Adjustment Program would assist local and area economies. It is expected that very little cotton acreage would go into the Cropland Adjustment Program — only 628,000 acres of cotton allotment nationwide were enrolled in the conservation reserve of the Soil Bank at its peak in the late 1950's. The new program would have a number of safeguards to minimize the impact on any one community.

The Release and Reapportionment Program would be continued. Farmers who have been relying on release and reapportionment would not be deprived of this allotted acreage. In fact, they could acquire additional acreage permanently by purchase or on a long-term lease.

If the farm bill fails to pass, we would go back to the 1958 law on cotton, with price support at 65 to 90 per cent of parity and continued overproduction. There would be no effective feed grains, wheat or wool programs. A continued rise in stocks of cotton would threaten the whole program, while the unfairness of the two-price system would drive American textile mills into still greater use of man-made fibers. (The use of synthetic fibers on a cotton equivalent basis already exceeds the use of cotton. The two-price system could eventually eliminate a substantial portion of our domestic market.

The program proposed in the omnibus bill (H. R. 9811) would make U. S. cotton competitive — both in the world cotton market and with synthetics here at home. The administration is in favor of a strong cotton economy and would oppose any limitations on payments. The bill provides ways to support the income of cotton farms through other means if limitations on payments are prescribed by the Congress.

Farmers have more at stake in this proposed program than does anyone else. The problem facing cotton farmers is more critical than it has been at any other time since programs started in 1933. I hope that the vast majority of growers who stand to benefit substantially from a farm program will give serious thought to the cotton situation and the need for a sound cotton program.

The cotton provisions of the omnibus bill, H. R. 9811, as reported by Congressman Harold D. Cooley, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, are not necessarily the final answer on all counts, but they do provide the foundation of a good program. Without this bill, we will return to a discredited program that can only damage grower incomes, give comfort to the competitors of American cotton, and threaten destruction of the entire program.

This statement is being released so that the public will be fully aware of the issues involved.
