AD-LIB-BEN

Quite frankly, we are more than a little put out with all this daylight saving time business. We had thought it would make no difference since most days we work 12 to 15 hours anyway, with little attention to the sun or even to what the clock says.

However this business of getting up at four o'clock in the morning and starting to get ready for bed before it's good and dark really bugs us.

There is probably some good reason for having daylight saving time, but we haven't heard it yet. Does anybody know the reason behind it?

We read somewhere that folks in Russia take only one bath a year. This looks like propaganda designed to attract some American youth toward Communism.

The late President Hoover set a bad example. When he was in office, he gave all of his salary back to the government. Now, they've got us all doing it.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Alexander and Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Alexander went to Grand Prairie last weekend where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alexander and daughter. They all attended the opening day at the Six Flags amusement center

Bronte Troop Tops At Camporee

Bronte Boy Scout Troop 452 took top honors at the Tri-Rivers Camporee held last weekend at Camp Sol Mayer. The local scouts amassed a total of 1397 1/2 points to out do runner-up scouts from Junction who had 1385 1/4 points.

The Flaming Arrow Patrol came in second best in the patrol contest with 446 points, being edged by Ballinger Troop 430 with 447. Members of the Flaming Arrow Patrol are Garland Richards, Willie Zuniga, Davy Crockett, Mark Murtishaw and Johnny Masterson.

Other scouts who made the trip and contributed to the overall troop scoring were Randy Barbee, Tipton Masterson, Leroy Zuniga, Gene Glenn and Steve Clark.

Scoutmaster Lucius Wood reported that the Flaming Arrow

Patrol also won a hotly contested tug of war with a patrol from Junction.

He said the entire weekend was very successful and he is extremely proud of the scouts who participated, particularly in view of the fact that some troops had almost three times as many boys participating as did Troop 452.

Wood and Conda Richards, assistant scoutmaster were the only adults to make the trip.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.

County Agents News Column

By STERLING LINDSEY

To our knowledge no new screwworm cases have been found in Coke County. We have had a number of samples submitted, but only the one case found on the Spade Ranch was reported to be screwworms. For a dry year the number of fleece worms and other maggot types has been fairly high.

I saw some wet country last week — and more dry country. The area between Munday and Wichita Falls appears to have had some heavy rainfall week before last. The low places were full of water in most of that area.

Our purpose in passing through that area was to attend the National Soil Judging Contest. Our team failed to place among the leaders, but did have a good educational experience. They were competing against 35 other teams from 30 states. One little slip and you are out of the running.

The latest we have from down state in the way of an estimate on when to expect the pecan nut casebearer hatch in this area indicates the hatch will be five to ten days earlier than normal. This means, based on their findings, we can expect the casebearer between May 15 and 25.

We hasten to add that there is only one way to know when to spray to control the casebearer — by making periodic inspections of your trees. The variation in hatching can be as much as several days right here in the county.

In a year such as this one and based on present information, two sprayings look in order — one to hit the early hatch, one to hit the middle and late emergers. We will give more information as the time approaches.

Regular additions of raw organic materials or residues to the soil mass are necessary for good soil structure and tilth.

Soil structure usually is defined by the arrangement of the soil particles. Organic matter and humus tend to cause soil particles to clump together in aggregates or small granules.

A granular or crum structure is a most desirable soil condition. Excessive tillage or cultivation destroy the aggregates, and poor soil condition results.

Allowing organic materials to decompose in the soil tends to stimulate the formation of aggregates and stable granules, thus making the granular or crum structure conducive to good aeration and water infiltration.

A great deal of concern has developed over possible deficiency and the need for its addition to some Texas soils, reports Dr. C. D. Welch, Extension soil chemist at Texas A&M University.

In some instances, zinc has been included in fertilizers containing other plant nutrients and improved crop growth has been noted. But, unless a check plot is fertilized in a similar manner but without zinc, the improved growth cannot always be attributed to the addition of the zinc.

There are conditions under which zinc deficiency has been found and these may serve as a guide. Alkaline soils, those with a pH above 7.5, show a higher incidence of zinc deficiency due to the lower availability of zinc in alkaline soils. Most of Coke County's soils fit this pH category.

If zinc deficiency is suspected it can be corrected on the present crop by a foliar spray.

Welch suggests the use of a one-fourth to one-half percent solutions of zinc sulfate or chelated zinc along with a detergent as a wetting agent. Dissolving from one to two pounds of either zinc sulfate or chelate in 50 gallons of water will give proper solution. Do not make the solution too concentrated, since the leaves can be more easily damaged with zinc compounds than with iron. The addition of one-fourth pound hydrated lime to the solution will lessen the chance of leaf burn.

A standard practice in most regions in Texas is to add two pounds of zinc sulfate per 100 gallons of the regular pecan orchard spray, especially those on alkaline soils.

If a zinc deficiency is suspected on field crops, confirm it through the use of a foliar spray this year and prevent it next year by including suitable zinc compounds in the regular fertilizer, advises Welch. Soil tests are being developed to assist in identifying those soils which should receive an application of zinc.

Notaries Have Till May 15 To File

Secretary of State John L. Hill announced that all qualified Notaries Public desiring re-appointment for the new term which begins June 1, 1967 and ends June 1, 1969, must pay the required fee and file a new application, oath and bond with the county clerk of his residence not later than May 15, 1967.

Hill emphasized that Notaries Public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the Secretary of State inasmuch as the law specifically requires that the County Clerks approve Notary Bonds and forward copies of the application to the Secretary of State.

Each person applying for a commission as a Notary Public must at least 21 years of age, a citizen of the United States and of Texas and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The required application forms may be obtained from the county clerk.

Secretary of State Hill further stated that any person not now a Notary Public who desires appointment for the beginning of the new term should apply to his county clerk before May 20, 1967.

Money Saving Food Ideas

Could you feed a family of 11 on $20 a week? This small sum would have to provide a 90-cent meal for all eleven people. It can be done, but only with a struggle.

Assuming the family does not live on a farm, they would have to buy nearly all of their needs. To get the required foods our body needs, we should have milk, fruit and vegetables, eggs or fish, and cereal.

Potatoes and milk could be the mainstay of the diet. They could hardly afford while fluid milk, but they could use powdered milk and receive the greatest amount of food value — protein, calcium, and some of the vitamins. Sufficient Vitamin A and C would be missing.

Vitamin C would be supplied by potatoes if they were cooked in their skins or baked. Potatoes at least twice a day would fill up the "empty space."

Cereal and bread would probably be the third food stuff we would include, preferably whole grain for the greatest yield in food nutrients. Oatmeal could be the standard breakfast. Whole wheat or rye meal flour would be best for bread.

Protein would come mostly from eggs, which could be stretched in the form of pancakes or French toast to give everyone a share. Any meat would have to be ground beef, a stew meat, liver or sausage, where there is no waste. Dried beans and peas could supplement the protein supply of milk. Beans also provide iron.

If she swallowed her pride a bit, the homemaker could ask the grocer for vegetable trimmings usually thrown away — such as the nutritious outer leaves of lettuce. Any splurging on vegetables should go for carrots, rich in Vitamin A. Macaroni and rice could be served with tomatoes, possibly some cheese.

Hungers for sweets and fats can best be acquired with sugar and lard. "Wonders" can be performed with a bacon square, the least expensive form of bacon. It can give flavor to gravy, spaghetti sauce, and other dishes. When all the meat has been cut from the rind, use it to grease the griddle when making pancakes. Use the rind, after all the grease is gone, for flavoring in pea or bean soup. There's a lot of mileage from bacon.

HURLEY PHARMACY

Remember to include these foods in the meals for your family often during the month — you can save money this way.

With a good supply of eggs on hand during May, lead the way to tempting eating with delicious omelets. For each serving, take one, two or three eggs, add a tablespoon of liquid for each egg, salt and pepper to taste, sugar if desired, and you're on the way to the creation of a tasty omelet.

Whether plain or fancy, flat or fluffy, each omelet will have basically the same ingredients, but will vary either in preparation, cooking or serving so that a multitude of creations emerge from a simple beginning.

PLAIN OMELETS are prepared exactly like scrambled eggs, but are not scrambled during cooking. All ingredients are combined in a bowl, mixed until light yellow in color and then poured into a frying pan containing melted butter.

Cooking is always over low heat. Plain omelets are also referred to as flat or French omelets. These omelets are tenderly compact in texture, moist and have a delicately browned bottom side. They may be served as is, topped with cheese or a sauce, or filled.

FLUFFY OMELETS require two bowls for the mixing stage. The egg whites are beaten until stiff but not dry in the first bowl. The yolks and seasonings are whipped to a light yellow in the second bowl and then folded into the egg whites.

The mixture is poured into a frying pan or baking dish containing melted butter and cooked or baked until lightly browned and the top surface "springs back" when lightly touched. Fluffy omelets are frequently served as a dessert. They also are referred to as "puffy" omelets.

To make a WHIPPED CREAM OMELET, use whipped cream for the liquid in the puffy omelets—about 1 pint for every six eggs is a tasty ratio. Prepare as for puffy omelets and serve with parmesan cheese topping for an entrée or a rich fruit sauce for dessert.

Some of the liquids which may be used in the preparation of omelets include whole milk, cream, half and half, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk, water, mushroom liquid, tomato juice, and fruit juices.

Most chefs and homemakers like to reserve one frying pan, skillet or baking pan just for baking omelets. The reason is that an omelet pan should never be washed with detergent or scouring powder which has a tendency to take away the seasoning quality which melted fat and low temperatures impart. The surface of the cooking utensil should remain scratch-free. Keep it clean and sweet smelling by wiping it free of excess cooking fat with paper towels, immersing the pan in warm water and wiping with paper towels until it's clean and dry.

Lions Celebrate 50th Anniversary

(Editor's note: Since this year is the 50th anniversary of Lionism, The Enterprise asked Elmer Hurley, local pharmacist and deputy district governor for this area to prepare an article citing some of the accomplishments of Lions Clubs in general and Bronte's two Lions Clubs in particular. His article follows.)

Fifty years of service. A golden anniversary. This alone is a great accomplishment. To grow from 20 clubs in one country to 21,047 clubs in 136 countries is even a greater one. Of course, this has not been done by accident. Good leadership, dedicated members and hard work have made this growth possible. Last year there were over 500,000 different projects undertaken by Lions Clubs around the world at a value of over $3,000,000. All of this to help those who could not help themselves or for the betterment of their community.

Lionism is a way for all men to put their combined efforts to work in a community. It is a way of putting religious thoughts into action, helping your brother.

We in Bronte are blessed with a spirit of Lionism more abundant than in most places. Bronte is the smallest town in the world to have two Lions Clubs and they are both very active. There is only one town in Texas with more Lions per capita.

The fact that 24 nations have announced plans to recognize the Golden Anniversary of Lionism by issuing commemorative postage stamps shows the respect it receives around the world. Our own country will issue one in July to coincide with the International convention in Chicago.

In the recent world wide Peace Essay contest there were over one million entries from all parts of the free world. This could very well, possibly, be a starting place for solving a problem sought after since before Christ was born.

As Lionism, and its motto, "We Serve," spreads across and around this world more people will become aware of the great need to help others and worry less about their own needs. Indeed this must be the way to peace for the whole world.

It is only fitting for Bronte to celebrate this 50th Anniversary of Lionism in a big way. We are able to show the world what can be done by dedicated people in a small West Texas town.

The Evening Lions Club was organized one year ago next June with 22 members and has now grown to 32. Under the leadership of Royce Fancher it has already established an enviable record in Lionism. With the incoming president, Horace Grigg, they should continue to grow and in so doing contribute even more to helping Bronte grow and improve.

The Downtown club has grown from 54 to 56 this year under direction of Cecil Cox. Austin Masterson, the new president, will try to equal or better this achievement next year.

Next year, July, 1968, the International Convention will be held in Dallas. This will be the second one held in Dallas. The very first one was held there in 1917, this will be the 51st. At this convention a Texan will be installed president—Dale Evans of Texas City. We are hoping there will be several Lions from Bronte attend this convention. The more who can go, the greater will be the zeal for Lionism and what it stands for.

Bronte Lions, besides helping less fortunate children and adults elsewhere, have done a number of very important community improvements in Bronte. They were responsible for the first lights installed at the football field, and they still sell tickets to every home game. They are responsible for the Boy Scouting program here. The Lions Club is solely responsible for the flood control dams on the Kickapoo watershed.

There is no telling how many pair of glasses have been bought for needy children. Each Christmas many elderly folks are made more happy by the sacks of fruit distributed by the Lions Club.

Several children have enjoyed visits to the States Attorney General seminar while others have enjoyed two weeks visits to the Lions Club Crippled Children Camp near Kerrville at absolutely no expense of their own.

Recognition has been given to the outstanding soil conservationist each year. Many children have learned to swim at the expense of the Lions club while many, many boys enjoy summer Little League baseball made possible partly because of the Lions Club.

Now there are under construction three signs to be erected on highways coming into Bronte inviting tourists to visit the town. These are only a few of the many projects carried on by the Bronte Lions Clubs.

Some of the newest members in Bronte are R. T. Caperton, H. H. Holland, W. M. Thomas, J. L. Brunson and G. H. Dismore in the Downtown Club; Bill Grant, James Ash, Delbert Coalson, Lucious Wood and Ben Snead in the Evening Club.

Yes, you should be proud to live in a community where there are so many Lions because they do make living a little more enjoyable for many. It is really great to be a Lion, especially one in Bronte, Texas.

Project STEP Offers Help to Towns

Mayor Royce Lee of Bronte, has copies of the new report on small towns, "The Small Community in West Texas" and pledged to institute "Project Step" in Bronte.

"Project Step" is the implementation of the recommendations made in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Small Town Task Force study, which was introduced at the organization's 49th annual convention in Del Rio on April 25.

"Small Town Economic Progress" is the name given to the community-wide attack on the problems of small towns. A STEP coordinator is named, a meeting of community leaders is called and problems and assets discussed. Specific problems are assigned to individuals and groups for study and recommendations within the suggested guidelines of the small town report.

The report is the result of seven months of intensive study, research, hearings and analysis by a 23-member Small Town Task of WTCC. Mayor Lee testified at one of the hearings.

When "PROJECT STEP" was introduced at the convention it was immediately accepted as being desirable for more than 80 towns represented at the meeting.

Copies of the study are being mailed to all mayors and county judges whose communities participated in the study. Other copies are available at nominal cost through the Abilene office of the WTCC. A copy of the study may also be inspected at the Bronte Enterprise.

The skyline of New York, our largest city, is familiar to everyone. New York has buildings unmatched anywhere in the world, and also leads the nation in many industries. This great city typifies the success and abundance throughout our nation. God has blessed our nation.

"Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways. For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee." Psalm 128:12

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
