Brian Richards Sets Record In Shot Put

Brian Richards was the big gun again last weekend on Bronte's track team when he broke the shot put record for Division IV of the Angelo Relays. Richards tossed the heavy ball 55 feet 11 1/4 inches to break the 54.0 record set last year by Gary Sutton of Ozona.

The toss also outdid Sutton's throw last Friday of 55.3 1/2 by 8 1/4 inches. In addition to the new record set with the shot, Richards won third place in the discus competition.

Manfred Thompson tied for second place in the broad jump event and Doug McCutchen won fourth in discus.

Coach Cecil Toliver said Wednesday that having Davis Corley out of the contest with an injured foot "didn't help us a bit." Corley is the team's high jumper and also a broad jumper, as well as filling a slot in some of the running events.

In spite of this handicap, the team made 14 1/2 points and outdid any other Class B schools in their division.

This Saturday, the trackmen will go to Rochester for an invitational meet. They will also go to Robert Lee Friday afternoon for a practice meet.

Cancer Crusade Set For April 11

Plans are being completed for conducting a Cancer Crusade in Coke County. Date set for the drive is April 11, when a concerted effort will be made in Robert Lee and Bronte to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

Cecil Cox, Bronte Church of Christ minister, is county chairman for the fund raising campaign. He said this week that money is badly needed to carry on the educational and research programs of the society.

Cox urged everyone to give generously when called upon, stating, "Most every family in this country has been touched by this deadly disease. The only hope for victory over cancer is through research, and it takes money. Please give all you can."

AD-LIB-BEN

We read a copy of a prayer which was delivered Jan. 3, 1916, by the Rev. Levi M. Powers, D.D., as the invocation at an installation of new city officials for his town, Gloucester, Mass.

This prayer has some mighty good food for thought. We surely do not mean to imply that any of us are guilty of the offenses mentioned by Mr. Powers, but in this election year some considerations he names just might apply to some of us.

We would do well to take a good look at ourselves, as voters, taxpayers, businessmen, political managers, newspapers, and candidates, and see if we find any applicable message.

The prayer follows:

Almighty Father, we begin today a new year of civic life. We know that no matter how much you may want to bless this city, you cannot do it unless the citizens are willing to be blessed.

We pray, therefore, first of all for the voters of the city. There are some too lazy to vote, but not too lazy to grumble. Bless them.

We pray for the taxpayers who want good streets, good schools, good fire and police protection and good health officers but who wish other people to pay the cost.

We pray for those businessmen whose votes are determined by the expectation of special favors for themselves. Bless them if you can.

We pray for those who believe that all laws should be enforced except the laws they do not like.

We pray for the comfortable who do not care about anything so long as they are left at ease.

We pray for political managers who swap votes and sell out their friends and let bad candidates go unopposed.

We pray for all connected with

Old Ranch House To Be Discussed

A county-wide meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 5, in the district court room at Robert Lee. Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the possibilities of moving the old Saul Ranch house out of the basin of Robert Lee Reservoir. The meeting was called by Coke County Historical Survey Committee.

O. H. Ivie, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, has indicated that he believes CRMWD directors would feel favorably about donating the house for use of the public.

Historical survey committee members, meeting Monday night, called attention to the historical value of the house, and said they believed it would be a tourist attraction for the area, particularly if it could be used to house a museum, library or other public use.

Invitations will be mailed to all clubs, churches and other organizations in the county inviting them to send representatives to the meeting.

Mrs. Bryan Yarbrough, chairman of the committee, said that any person who is at all interested in seeing this old landmark preserved is cordially invited to attend.

It was brought out that securing a site, moving the house and readying it for public use will be expensive. Main purpose of the meeting is to determine if there is enough interest to insure the success of the project.

CONCLUSION: Monopolies Are Danger A Danger To Our Country

For a number of weeks we have run this series of ads outlining the evils of monopolies and how, down through history, they have caused the downfall of great nations. We hope we have shown you that even the future of these United States is dependent on the climate provided for the growth and development of free enterprise, particularly the small business. As we have stated before, the best way for YOU to fight monopolies and the totalitarianism which accompanies them, is to write your congressman your views.

The mesquite tree has long been a point of contention. Because of the bean it produces, a few people still look upon the mesquite with favor.

A recent report produced some interesting information on the content of mesquite beans. The bean is 41.9 percent crude protein, .53 percent phosphorus, .48 potassium and .06 percent calcium. The bean and pod (together) are 11.0 percent crude protein.

The pod alone has 7.6 percent crude protein.

Mesquite beans make fair livestock feed, but it must be remembered that it takes numerous beans to make one pound of feed. Also the mesquite does not make a good crop every year. The big factor is the amount of water used by a mesquite tree. The water used by one mesquite tree could produce up to four times more feed growing grass.

Some operators have considered top dressing small grain fields to increase the spring grazing or boost the grain production. If this is done a straight nitrate or nitrogen fertilizer should be used. Phosphorous or potash applied on top at this date would be of little or no benefit. These two ingredients must be applied prior to planting or at planting time to be of much benefit.

Nitrogen will give a definite response. Nitrates will move up or down in the soil with the moisture. Normally it takes them about a week to start showing a change in the plant.

If a fertilizer containing phosphorous such as 16-20-0 were applied on top, the phosphorous would not last. But, it would be of little value on the plants growing on the field at the present time.

Each year, about the time the peaches start to ripen, we are plagued with numerous grubs tunneling in the fruit. Most of what I have observed are peach twig borers, but some are the plum curculio.

Both of these insects must be controlled in the early development stages. This means spraying now if we are to hold the grub numbers to a minimum later in the season. Three applications of DDT, a week or ten days apart — use 2 level tablespoons of 50% wettable DDT powder to one gallon of water or 1 tablespoon of 25% emulsifiable concentrate per gallon of water in making your spray.

Where brown rot (spots on leaves and/or fruit) has been a problem adding 3½ to 4 tablespoons of wettable sulfur to the mixture will help.

Public Is Invited For Sunday Tour Of Robt. Lee Dam

Beginning at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, everyone will have an opportunity to inspect the work that has been done on the huge dam on the Colorado River that will impound water for the Robert Lee Reservoir.

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, in a meeting March 14, designated March 31 as the date for a tour for the public to view the progress that has been made on the dam.

Clement Bros., contractor for the job, reported at the March 14 meeting that work on the project is 62 per cent complete. The contractor's report also stated that sufficient work will be completed by September to close the dam and start impounding water.

Clement Bros. started moving in equipment for the big job in October 1966, after winning the contract to build the dam on a bid of $8,686,440. The Hickory, N. C., based firm got right on with work after they were awarded the contract with only days elapsing before they were moving in giant earth movers.

The Robert Lee Dam and Reservoir will be the biggest thing in West Texas so far as water storage is concerned. In addition to being the prime source of water for West Texas cities served by CRMWD, the reservoir has been prominently mentioned in preliminary studies by the federal government as a place for storage of excess water from East Texas and elsewhere where excess water might be obtained to supply the needs of this growing area.

Voting Info Given By Committeeman

(Editor's Note: The following article was written by H. L. Bloodworth, a member of the County Democratic Executive Committee. In it, Mr. Bloodworth tells about some of the changes in voting procedures which will be of interest to voters.)

TO THE VOTERS OF COKE COUNTY:

This election year we will have the privilege of voting some four or five times. Having helped hold elections in the county for several years, I want to make some observations with the hope that they will be helpful to some at least.

The Legislature has passed laws to protect the purity of the ballot box that each voter may cast his ballot in secret. On the ballot is stated in print how one should mark his ballot so as to vote for the candidate or candidates or proposition that he desires. To go beyond these instructions can and may make his vote void, if such other markings obscure his intentions beyond reasonable determination.

When a voter enters the polling place, he should quietly go to the place where the ballots are prepared and stacked, selecting personally a ballot, then go to a place prepared for the voter to prepare his ballot, reading very carefully all the printed matter on the ballot.

Then tear out the perforated square in the corner of the ballot, affixing his name on the back of same. Then he should complete his ballot, proceed to the boxes for placing ballot, then deposit the torn out square in the small box which is locked and sealed, then drop his ballot in the other box.

In the process of doing this, he is to repeat in clear distinct audible tones his name as affixed on the little square. He is to go through this procedure without exposing the number on the stub to anyone or as how his ballot is marked. Then he should quietly absent himself from the place of voting.

No discussion is permitted between voters while they are preparing the ballot. Neither shall voters be closer than six feet of each other. If a voter needs assistance, he shall request it from the presiding judge. If these rules are observed, it will be better for all concerned.

newspapers who openly advocate civic righteousness and secretly promote crooked politics.

We wish, O God, that all these people might be blessed, but perhaps we are asking too much. It may be that the only thing You can do is to let them go to hell where they belong. You know best.

But, O God, before There are those who can be blessed, those who may be a blessing to themselves and to the world. Here today are hundreds of young men who soon will be voters. Bless them with a vision of the world that ought to be and will be when we are wise to our own good. May each one think of his home not merely as the house in which he lives but as a city of which he is a part. May he see how much finer and better life will be for all when each one works for all and thinks for all and all for each.

Finally, we are here this morning, O God, to induct five men into office. It will be their duty to think and plan not for any one class but for all of us, not for the best citizens only but for all the citizens, not for those who pay the taxes merely, but for those who earn the money to pay the taxes. Help them, O God, to plan and to act honestly, bravely and efficiently for the good of all.
