lower picture shows Mrs. Lammers putting out some cakes last Saturday which were specially prepared for Mothers Day. Mr. and Mrs. Lammers are holding an open house Saturday.

Open House Set For Country Store Here

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Lammers are going all out Saturday to encourage everyone in this area to visit their Country Store, located on Main and East Railroad streets in Bronte. They are having an open house and inviting everyone to come by for free coffee and cookies, free balloons for the kids and a chance to win a $10 or $5 in merchandise.

Mr. and Mrs. Lammers moved across the street into their new building a few months ago, and have greatly increased the size of their grocery stock since they moved into the large building.

Coinciding with the open house is the 10th anniversary of the date when they established their present business.

Lammers told The Enterprise this week: "The people in Bronte have been good to us and have given us a fine business, and we appreciate it. That's the reason for this open house; we'd like to express this appreciation in some small way."

The store offers a complete line of canned goods, fresh fruits and vegetables, dairy products, and fresh and frozen meats. The usual drug and tobacco items are also for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lammers keep their store open seven days a week, starting out early and staying open until after night.

A unique feature of the new store is a covered driveway where customers can drive in during wet weather and go into the store without exposure to rain, etc.

"Everybody has a cordial invitation to come by to see us Saturday," the couple said.

MRS. WILLIE MAE GLENN GOING TO CALIFORNIA

Mrs. C. C. Glenn, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Williams of Grand Prairie, will leave Saturday for San Francisco, Calif. Mrs. Glenn's daughter, Mrs. Normand Mann of Abilene is scheduled to undergo a cornea eye transplant in a hospital there soon.

2 1/2 Inch Rain Falls Here; Little Damage Reported

Bronte just about had a flood last Thursday afternoon when 2 1/2 inches of rain fell in less than an hour. Water was running down the north side of Main Street almost out to the center stripe and was only a short distance below curb level.

A small amount of hail fell but was not of sufficient intensity to cause damage. However, trees lost lots of leaves, caused by the hard rain and hard wind. At least one tree in town was blown down by the wind.

Robert Lee also had high winds and three trailer houses were blown loose from their moorings.

The rainy weather continued through Sunday, then Monday afternoon and Tuesday were sunny, hot and muggy. Wednesday brought a cloud cover, but the sultry weather continued.

Weather forecasters predicted that the hot weather would continue, with Thursday temperatures reaching the 90 degree mark. More thunderstorms were considered a distinct possibility for the latter part of the week.

Norton Rites Held For Mrs. John Ash

The Long and Short of it

With the grand turn-about that only the fashion world can pull, the trend-setters now cover down — not up — all the way to mid-calf and even below. The mini has gone as far as it can go; from now on it's hems down. The fashion questions for the coming summer are how to tell a midi (mid-calf) from a maxi (below the calf) and where to wear which. Girls are going to be subjected to the illogic of putting it on at precisely the time to be taking it off! Shouldn't we at least hold off till winter?

However, store buyers realize that the plummeting hemlines are less than universally welcome — and they are stocking both the short and the long. Some comments from well-known retailers: Mildred Custin, president, Bonwit Teller, "We're stocking minis, midis and maxis...my advice is...as always, choose the skirt length that most becomes you. (Amen.) Stanley Marcus of Neiman Marcus, "There's a place for all three lengths in a woman's wardrobe." William Hansen, president of Julius Garfunkel & Co., "...the more skirt lengths, the more fashion choices." Of course the really pretty outfits look good at any length.

Soooo...it's now how long they make them, it's how they make them long.

The Paper Phenomenon

After all these years of being written on, sneezed into, cut into dolls and folded into airplanes, paper is making fashion headlines.

The increase of leisure time with its need for easy-care disposable plus fashion fever — an attitude anathema to permanence — are the reasons behind the paper product parade. As a result, paper neckties, dresses, shoes, flowers, even vinyl treated paper raincoats, are seen in department stores across the country. Projected: paper men's shirts, children's clothing, and for the G.I., disposable fatigues. Also look for disposable special occasion clothing such as bridal gowns, hostess dresses and hospital garments.

But the truth is, many paper products aren't made of paper. They actually are a non-woven fabric of cellulose fibers. Plastics and other materials are added to impart qualities such as strength and water resistance. One matter of prime concern in the non-woven market has been flammability. Monsanto's fire retardants are among the safety chemicals now used in these paper-like fabrics.

Although fashion has brought attention to the possibilities and utility of paper and non-woven materials, institutions and industry are major users, e.g., non-wovens are vital in "clean rooms" areas where employees must be dirt and bacteria free. Hospitals have unlimited use for wear, tear and throw-away items.

Jr.-Sr. Banquet Held Saturday

A May garden theme was carried out for the annual junior-senior banquet held last Saturday night in the school lunchroom, followed by a prom in the old school gymnasium. There were 96 guests present.

The lunchroom was decorated in a spring garden theme. A white picket fence, entwined with honeysuckle, encircled the room. Tables, laid with hot pink cloths, were centered with tapers and covered by pastel colored umbrellas. The umbrellas were tied by pastel streamers to a May pole in the center of the room. Miniature umbrellas were plate favors.

The menu consisted of chicken salad, fruit salad, potato salad, assorted crackers, olives, strawberry shortcake and iced tea.

Manfred Thompson, president of the junior class, welcomed the guests with the response being given by Don Hageman, president of the senior class. Vocal numbers were given by four junior girls, Janet Lee, Melodie Holcombe, Sharon McCutchen and Bennie Carol Oglesby, accompanied at the piano by Norma Pruitt.

Dorothy Ruth Martin read the senior class will. Douglas McCutchen told their history and Don Hageman gave the prophecy for the future.

Melodie Holcombe invited all the guests to attend the prom. Music was furnished by "The Phogg", a local band.

County Agents News Column

By STERLING LINDSEY

Five extension service specialists will be in Coke County next week to conduct a Beef Cattle Shortcourse. Night sessions will be held Monday and Tuesday nights, May 20 and 21; afternoon sessions on Wednesday and Thursday, May 22 and 23. The meetings will be held in the county courthouse with the night meetings starting at 8 p.m., those in the afternoon starting at 2 p.m.

The five men will be serving four counties during the four-day period, rotating among the four counties. Coleman, Taylor, Nolan and Coke counties are participating in the four-session course.

L. A. Maddox, Jr., Extension Service Animal Husbandman stationed at College Station, will discuss cow and calf operations, breeding, selecting, and performance testing, primarily. He will conduct the Monday night session.

Tuesday night, John McHaney, Extension Service Economist of College Station, and Robert Kenning, Farm Management specialist of San Angelo, will discuss the economic outlook for beef cattle, the price outlook, imports, effects of general economy and other management points.

The Wednesday afternoon session will deal with cattle grades, marketing, cut-out information and related carcass testing information.

Thursday's session will be devoted to feeds and feeding. Uel D. "Tommy" Thompson, will discuss supplemental feeding primarily with feeding in general also being presented.

We are fortunate to have these men coming to Coke County. We hope that you will utilize this opportunity to hear them discuss the varied phases of beef cattle production.

The Coke County 4-H Club senior Quarterhorse judging team will compete in the State contest to be held at College Station on June 5. The team placed second in the district contest earning the right to compete on the State level. Team members are Lonnie Bloodworth, Joy Cervenka, Teddy Millican and Marshall Millican. Assisting with training the team have been Joe McCutchen, Elton Millican and Wilburn Millican.

Cattle grub control is becoming more important each year. And now that several products are available that will do the job, grub control can mean more to you on sale day.

May, or after you notice the heel fly activity has ended, is a good time to begin control treatments. Controls should start before the young grub has a chance to injure the hide or meat.

Various formulations such as "rueleene", "Co-Ral", and "neguvon" can be applied as sprays, dips or "pour-ons". And some of these chemicals are available in feed mixes and mineral mixes if you prefer.

We have one grub control demonstration lined up with Ed Cumbie of Bronte. One of the "pour-on" chemicals will be used. We plan to start at 9 a.m. Friday, May 17, at the Cumbie place five miles north of Bronte. Anyone desiring to watch the operation is welcome to do so. A representative of Chemagro Corporation of Lubbock will be present to help with the demonstration.

The week of May 19-26 is Soil Stewardship Week. Each of us, continually, needs to be soil stewards. We have so much soil, so much earth surface on which we and those to follow may gain a livelihood. We need to protect and pass to our offspring this medium in a better state than we found it.

The wonderful growth conditions throughout the southern half of Texas have the screwworm authorities alarmed. In a recent meeting, Dr. Meadows, in charge of the program field operations stated that conditions are good over such a wide area of the Mexico-United States border that their plant facilities will be hard pressed to cope with the abnormal situation. Any undetected case or cases left to breed beyond their control points could put the program in serious danger. He urged every operator to collect samples on all possible cases. This is the only method they have of knowing where to make the sterile fly placements.
