Nick Martinez and Maria Elsa Ramirez

August vows planned

Mr. and Mrs. Heraclio S. Ramirez of Silverton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Maria Elsa Ramirez, to Nick N. Martinez, son of Santos L. Martinez of Dimmitt and the late Esther G. Martinez.

The bride-to-be attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University and is employed at the State Dept. of Highways in Amarillo.

The prospective groom is a Dimmitt High School graduate and he is employed with the State Dept. of Highways in Canyon.

Informal ceremony joins Heard, Hankins Saturday

Valerie Hankin of Anton became the bride of Leslie Heard of Dimmitt Saturday when the couple exchanged wedding vows in the home of the groom's parents.

Ed and Dione Steffens and the bride's son, Billy, served as attendants for the couple.

Rev. Paul Kenley of the First Baptist Church of Dimmitt, officiated at the ceremony.

After the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a reception. After the couple cut the wedding cake and toasts were made, a buffet luncheon was served to guests.

The bride wore a slate blue silk dress and carried a silk bouquet of spring flowers.

The groom's aunt helped with the luncheon and Bobbie Baldrige and Donna Stump helped serve guests.

She wore a gold band, which had belonged to the groom's late grandmother for "something old." "Something new" and "something blue" was her wedding dress. She also carried a white wedding Bible, which she "borrowed" from the groom's sister.

The couple plans to make their new home 10 miles northeast of Dimmitt.

The groom is currently engaged in farming with his father and brother.

We must welcome the future, remembering that soon it will be the past; and we must respect the past, remembering that once it was all that was humanly possible.

Newlyweds are home in Oklahoma

Broken Arrow, Okla., is the new home for newlyweds Brandon Craig and Leslie Denise Jones.

The couple exchanged wedding vows June 29 at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Amarillo with Rev. Daniel Jones of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Canyon, officiating at the double-ring, formal service.

The bride is the former Leslie Denise Cansler, daughter of Charlie and Carolyn Cansler of Hartley. Parents of the groom are Betty Jones of Hereford and the late Lee W. Jones. He is the grandson of Ida Hobratchsk of Dimmitt.

Becky Vincent of Hartley, who played the piano and sang, vocalized a medley of religious, traditional and popular songs including Sunrise, Sunset, Now Unto Him, There Is Love and We've Only Just Begun.

The center of the church's altar area was decorated with a 14-branch candelabra entwined with fresh greenery, fresh lavender carnations, baby's breath and ivory satin bows. Flanking the center area were two spiral, 14-branch candelabras, also entwined with the above mentioned floral arrangements.

The aisles were decorated with brass candelabras with pew markers of ivory satin bows, fresh greenery, lavender carnations and baby's breath.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a limited edition, designer candlelight gown of bridal satin and sparkle organza. It featured a Sabrina neckline accented with hanging strands of pearls. The butterfly sleeves were trimmed with multi-tiered rows of organza topped with candlelight satin roses. The fitted bodice was encrusted with pearls, clusters of jeweled appliques and molded medallions. Swirls of pearls fell from the waistline. The gown also featured lace appliques, satin roses and crystalized, hand-beaded designs on the organza overlay. The plunging low back of the gown was trimmed with scalloped lace, centered with a large satin bow. The full-length, Queen's Court cathedral train featured a full crystal organza skirt hemmed with a deep ruffled border and it was adorned with a waterfall cascade of organza ruffles.

She wore a crystal organza fingertip veil which was attached to a ruffled headpiece adorned with jeweled roses, molded medallions and pearl sprays. The front band of the headpiece was encrusted with seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of ivory roses with greenery and baby's breath, accented with ivory ribbon. Attached to the bouquet and serving as "something old," was the bride's paternal grandmother's wedding ring. "Something blue" was a rosary, which belonged to her maternal grandmother. For "something borrowed," she borrowed a pair of pearl and diamond stud earrings from Tanya Carder, the groom's sister. Maid of honor was Christy Cansler of Amarillo, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Debbie Howlett of Farmington, N.M., cousin of the bride; Paula Kelly of Gruver; Tanya Nettles and Donnie Walker, both of Amarillo; Cara Powers of Hartley and Betty Shimon of Dalhart. The bridal attendants wore iridescent plum-colored taffeta gowns which featured sheared and gathered French puffed sleeves and Sabrina necklines. The sheared, gathered bodices formed points at the waistline where they connected to graduated peplums over sheathstyle, floor-length skirts.

Each bridesmaid carried a single-sterling rose tied with an ivory satin bow.

Best man was Kirk Jones of Greeley, Colo., brother of the groom. Groomsman included Kevin Cansler of Hartley, brother of the bride; Robert McEwen and Eric Walterschied, both of Amarillo; Jeff Shelton of Wichita Falls; Jeff Streun of McLean; and Tony Yosten of Arlington.

Flower girls were Haley Hobratchsk of Odessa, cousin of the groom and Jessica McPherson of Shawnee, Okla., cousin of the bride. They carried ivory lace baskets filled with sterling silver rose petals.

Ring bearers were Clifton and Colton McEwen of Amarillo.

Candlelighters were Leslie Newkirk of Houston and Will Zinser of Dalhart, cousins of the bride.

Guests were seated by Jack Mercer of Maryland, Randy Nettles of Amarillo, Mike Shimon of Dalhart and Randy Stewart of Lubbock.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the atrium at the Fifth Seasons Inn East in Amarillo. Following the reception, a dance was held in the Quarter Horse Room of the Inn.

The bride's table was covered by an ivory underlay and a plum overlay with scalloped edges topped by an ivory lace cloth.

Two, silver three-branch candelabras entwined with greenery, baby's breath and lavender carnations were placed at each end of the table.

The bride's seven-layer ivory buttercream cake featured scalloped ruffles and shells in an elegant design. Three tiers were separated by crystal-like pillars as the center focal point, and they were set over a fountain flowing with lavender water. The cake was decorated in a fresh floral theme featuring sterling silver roses, pixies, baby's breath and greenery. Staircases accented with the floral arrangements, branched off to each side to join two satellite cakes to the main cake. The floral theme also was used to encircle the fountain.

The groom's table featured a garden basket of lavender paladiums, assorted fresh flowers, blooming plants and a silver coffee service. The groom's two-tiered, cocoa fudge cake was decorated in a unique basketweave design with chocolate roses cascading down one side.

Pick-up foods also were served to guests.

The couple enjoyed a wedding trip to the Bahamas.

The bride graduated from Hartley High School and attended West Texas State University. She is employed by Judith A. Glenn, Certified Public Accountants in Amarillo.

The groom graduated from Hereford High School in 1984 and received a bachelor of science degree from WTSU. He is division manager of UST Sales and Marketing in the Tulsa, Okla. area.

Shower fetes Jeanne Davis

Jeanne Davis, bride-elect of Jad Gabel, was honored with a miscellaneous shower on June 29 in the home of Mrs. Glenda Sims.

Guests were greeted by the honoree and her mother, Doricell Davis; and the prospective groom's mother, Fran Gabel.

A white Battenburg lace tablecloth draped the table and brass and crystal appointments were used. A fruit bowl, muffins and bacon-wrapped water chestnuts were served to 43 guests and 27 hostesses.

Guests were registered by Jill Davis, sister of the honoree; and Doricell Davis' niece from Temple. Kim Gabel, sister of the prospective groom, and Carol Petty of Lubbock, Alicia Shippy and Leslie Shippy, both of Amarillo, presided over the serving table.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a vacuum cleaner.

Out of town guests include Sara and Gina Gabel of Canyon, cousins of the prospective groom.

Police Calls

On July 1, Pete Sifuentes, Jr., reported that someone stole his 1977 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme from his home at 111 NW 11th, apt. 15.

was in their county and would be detained until her parents came to pick her up.

Curtis Leroy Tate, 83, of Dimmitt advised Dimmitt police that someone had shot at a window on his garage door. The estimated $35 damage was caused by a B-B gun, according to the police report.

In an unrelated incident, vandals damaged the rear window of David Mixon's 1978 Chevrolet Chevette, possibly with a B-B gun.

Mixon notified police Monday morning and said the incident occurred sometime between 9 p.m. Sunday and 7:15 a.m. Monday.

The next day, Officers Salvador Rivera and Craig Depoyster spotted the stolen vehicle on the side of the road one mile west of Dawn on U.S. Highway 60. Department Public Safety Trooper Bryan Witt confirmed that it was Sifuentes' vehicle and Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office was notified.

Sifuentes was called, and recovered his vehicle, according to the police report.

Dimmitt Police were notified that a 15-year-old Dimmitt girl had run away from home July 1. Last Friday, Castro County Sheriff's Office received a message from Ashland County, Kan. that the juvenile

Two separate incidents last weekend left Town and Country Convenience store with $20.01 worth of gas unaccounted for.

Derrell Jones, manger of the store, notified police Friday morning that a person in a white four-door Pontiac Sunbird pumped $10.00 of unleaded gasoline and drove away from the pump without paying.

Saturday night, Charlene Heath, a clerk at Town and Country, reported the second incident.

She told police that a teenage female pumped $10.01 of gas then said she had left her credit card at home—two blocks from the store.

After accepting the girl's signature on a ticket, Heath told the girl to go home and bring the card back.

The suspect did not return to settle the debt, according to the police report.

Clarence W. George of Dimmitt advised police of a theft at 612 NW 5th on June 23. Approximately $1,100 of clothing and miscellaneous items were taken from the home while the resident was gone.

Friday morning, Sheri Diane Lytle of Dimmitt, reported more than $700 damage to her 1986

Pontiac Fiero.

According to police records, Lytle said she was awakened by fireworks and upon examining her car, found a window, the hood and left back quarter damaged.

Unkown suspects damaged the front windshield of Cecil Wilhelms tractor Friday night.

Officers Jack Floyd and Ray Aleman were dispatched to Farm to Market Road 3215. Upon arrival, Wilhelm told the officers he was driving the tractor down the 700 block of south U.S. Highway 385 when he pulled to the side of the road to let a vehicle pass him.

Afterwards, he heard a loud noise and discovered the front windshield was shattered. He estimated the damages at $350.

Gloria Gonzales of Dimmitt summoned police to 411 SW 6th street Saturday night, and reported a 15-year-old Dimmitt male had thrown a rock through the windshield of a 1976 F-100 Ford pickup.

Upon arrival, officers spoke with the suspect and made arrangements for the youth to stay at his grandmother's house, according to the police report.

Police received a call about five minutes after the suspect was transported to his grandmother's house, from the previous location. The youth was back again and causing additional disruptions, the report said.

The youth was arrested for public intoxication and criminal mischief and taken to the Castro Co. Sheriff's office where the Juvenile Probation officer, David Allinson was called, but was not reached.

Later, the youth was released to his grandmother and advised to meet with Allinson Monday morning.

Two Dimmitt men, ages 34 and 20 were arrested for disorderly conduct early Monday morning resulting from a fight at the Azteca Complex in Dimmitt.

A 13-year-old Dimmitt male was arrested Friday for theft of over $20 but under $200.

Dimmitt Police investigated two wrecks last week.

On July 3, a collision in the parking lot by The Castro County News occurred when Don Nelson, 57, of Dimmitt backed into a 1976 Plymouth, driven by a 17-year-old Dimmitt male.

A two-vehicle accident at the intersection of 100 W. Bedford and 100 N. Broadway Friday night caused damages to both vehicles.

The 1989 Chevrolet Beretta, driven by Jesus Garcia, 38, of Dimmitt failed to yield right of way when turning across the west-bound traffic. The vehicle struck the left-front quarter of a 1979 Chevrolet pickup driven by David Garcia, 22, of Hereford.

WE'RE BACK — Operation Heart Shield, a support organization formed during the Persian Gulf War, hosted a reception Monday night at the First Baptist Church Fellowship Hall for local servicemen, Dennis Kirby and Terry Smothermon. Kirby, who received an honorable discharge from the Navy July 5, went into Iraq after the cease-fire to aid the Kurdish refugees. Smothermon, a Sgt. in the Army, reported to Saudi Arabia on December 28 and served as a power-train mechanic on the Apache helicopters. Kirby is a 1988 DHS graduate; Smothermon graduated from DHS in 1980.

Crisis exemption is issued for use of Capture miticide

High Plains corn farmers have been granted an exemption to use the pesticide Capture for banks grass mite control.

Carl King, chairman of the Texas Corn Producers Board, said the Texas Dept. of Agriculture has granted a "crisis exemption" for use of Capture in 21 area counties, including Castro.

Capture is a pesticide which has proven effective in controlling banks grass mites in corn and the crisis exemption for its use was requested by the TCPB and Pat Morrison, Extension entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock.

"This is good news for corn farmers," said King. "This is the third year the corn producers board has requested and received a crisis exemption from TDA. We are pleased that our efforts, and those of Dr. Morrison, have once again paid off. Hot, dry weather promotes mite infestations. We are thankful that TDA officials have recognized our needs to have an effective miticide available for Texas corn farmers."

The crisis exemption allows Capture to be used in the following High Plains counties: Castro, Bailey, Farmer, Lamb, Hale, Deaf Smith, Briscoe, Swisher, Floyd, Lubbock, Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Potter, Randall, Carson and Gray.

Capture may be applied at a rate of .08 to .1 pound or 5.12 to 6.4 fluid ounces per acre per application, using a minimum spray volume of two gallons of water per acre by air and five gallons of water with ground equipment. It may be applied through chemigation or aerial application, according to its label specifications.

Morrison says the crisis exemption limits applications to four per growing season. The exemption also limits total use of Capture to 4 pounds or 25.6 fluid ounces per growing season. TDA says Capture may not be used prior to tasseling.

A request for a Section 18 temporary use of Capture is on file with the Environmental Protection Agency; however, EPA is issuing few, if any, Section 18s this year, said King. He said TCPB continues to seek a permanent label for Capture.

"With the crisis exemption, farmers hopefully should be able to obtain adequate mite and other insect control this year," King said.

ELECTRIFYING — Stace McDaniel, Tiffany Smith, Michael Ellison, and Tory Baker joined 4-H'ers from throughout the Texas Panhandle last week for electricity camp at Camp Scott Able, near Cloudcroft, N.M. The camp, which is sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company, featured demonstrations and lectures on basic electricity, safety, wiring and electrical terminology. The students also completed hands-on projects.

ASCS News

By SCOTTY M. ABBOTT
County Executive Director

The final date to report spring seeded crops including corn, grain sorghum, hegar, cotton, sudan, Acreage Conservation Reserve, Conservation Use and more is Monday.

An accurate acreage report is necessary and failure to report accurately could result in loss of program benefits.

Producers who do not file an acreage report by Monday must pay a late filed fee of $20 for the first plot and $10 for each additional plot. This acreage then will be spot checked.

Measurement Service Requests

Monday also is the final day to request measurement service for spring seeded crops and land uses. Remember that if you request measurement service and we are not able to verify your crop using aerial photos, that you will be required to pay an additional charge for ground measurement.

1991 measurement service rates are: Aerial Photography—$20 for the first 25 acres and three cents for each acre over 25; Ground Measurement—$20 for the first field plus $10 for each additional field.

Remember that there is no tolerance on measurement service. Any crop measured in excess of its permitted must plow back to the permitted. You need to remember that if you have flex acres available from a participating crop, these acres can be used to increase the permitted acres of the crop of your choice.

Tolerances For 1991

Tolerance is calculated on the total crop or Acreage Conservation Reserve (set-aside). Calculations are not performed on each practice or use of the crop.

The maximum tolerance is the larger of one acre or 5% of the reported acreage not to exceed 10 acres. This is a change from previous years, when the maximum was 50 acres.

Reported acres of ACR, the sum of CU for pay acres and the sum of flex and P & CP acres cannot be less than the larger of one acre or 5% of the reported acres not to exceed 10 acres to be within tolerance.

Reported acres of program crops, soybeans for flex or P & CP cannot differ from the reported acres by the larger of one acre or 5% of the reported acreage not to exceed 10 acres to be within tolerance.

Reported acreages that exceed the applicable tolerances will result in loss of program benefits.

Failed Crop Acreage

Remember that crop acreage which is affected by a natural disaster must not be destroyed or made other use of until you come to this office and report the acreage and file an application for disaster credit and we make a field visit to verify the crop was a disaster.

Maintenance of ACR and CU For Pay Acres

Weed control measures must be carried out in a timely manner on acreage designated as ACR and CU for pay throughout the calendar year. Failure to control noxious weeds, wind and water erosion could result in loss of program benefits.

CRP Weed Control

Conservation Reserve Program owners and operators need to be sure and check their CRP acreages periodically to see that weeds are controlled in a timely manner. Recent rains will cause weeds to grow in a hurry and possibly cause problems for neighbors.

We will be spot checking every CRP farm in the county at least once this year. If there is a bad weed problem, then a payment reduction will be assessed on your CRP annual rental payment.

1992 Wheat Program

Some provisions of the 1992 wheat program have been announced.

They are a five percent acreage reduction (ARP); target price will be $4 per bushel; and a paid land diversion will not be implemented.

Other provisions will be announced later.

ACP Approval Date

The County Committee will review and approve those requests for cost-sharing reorganization of irrigation systems and other conservation practices, if eligible, on Aug. 7.

This will be the last approval period for fiscal year 1991.

Hybrid Seed Contracts

Producers will be required to bring in hybrid seed contracts to the county office for COC review.

Cotton Referendum

There will be a cotton referendum conducted sometime in July. Ballots will be mailed to all eligible producers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1990.

Local ASCS staff receives honors

Castro County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) employees were recently honored in Washington, receiving awards from the administrator of ASCS for outstanding service to the farmers and ranchers they serve.

Local ASCS employees honored included Scotty Abbott, Becky Book, Kenneth Frye, Eileen Gerber, Ruth Hackleman, Albert Hartman, Tammy Heard, Regina Hoeltling, Dianne Huseman, Carol Kern, Rosemary Kleman, Lilly Nicholson, Arlie Petty, Mary Rountree, Elizabeth Sams, Edna Schilling and Frank Wise.

The group met with members of Congress, including Sen. Phil Gramm and House Ag Committee Chairman Kika de la Garza.

"Each year, ASCS employees find their work made more difficult by the increasing complexity of our farm programs. It really says something that 150 of our Texas ASCS employees overcame every hurdle and served the public so efficiently that they received the highest honor ASCS can bestow for excellence in service," Gramm said.

The awards are presented annually by the administrator of ASCS to recognize those employees whose exemplary performance of duties provided outstanding service to ASCS and American agriculture. This award is the highest recognition that ASCS can give any individual or group of individuals.

In addition to other employees, the five-member Texas State ASC Committee is being recognized for its management effectiveness and improvements.

Horticulture 'home visit day' planned

The Castro County Extension Service will hold a county-wide "Horticultural Home Visit Day" from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, July 19.

Dr. Harold Kaufman, Extension plant pathologist; Dr. Roland Roberts, Extension vegetable specialist; and J.D. Ragland, Castro County Extension agent, will be making personal home visits to provide helpful recommendations on lawn, garden or horticultural problems that growers may have.

Services will be provided in Dimmitt from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, in Nazareth from 1 to 2 p.m. and in Hart from 2 to 3 p.m.

Anyone wishing to have the group examine their lawn, garden, etc., should call the county Extension office at 647-4115 to sign-up by Wednesday. Participants do not have to be home to have their subjects examined. A return phone call from Ragland will notify participants of suggested recommendations.

Anthony's currently operates stores in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Montana, Kansas, Wyoming, Louisiana, Arkansas, Colorado, Arizona and Missouri.

"Our 59 stores in Texas will play a particularly important role in our charity promotion," said Wiesner. "Tied for the largest number of store locations with Oklahoma, the home of the Anthony's chain, Texas will be at the forefront of our efforts."

Cotton Talks

According to figures compiled by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., area growers will need to make good management decisions in order to maximize an already late 1991 crop's potential.

The lateness of this year's crop will limit the ability of a producer to bring cotton out of any stressful situations that might develop during this year's short growing season," notes Donald Johnson, PCG executive vice president. "What it boils down to is that producers are going to have to make timely decisions this year and closely monitor the crop for any signs of stress that could further reduce their yield potential."

Overcoming dry conditions at the outset of the 1991 growing season has turned out to be only the first hurdle that this year's crop is going to face.

The majority of area cotton producers were able to establish a crop, albeit late in some areas, and getting that late crop to produce good yields is going to be the biggest challenge many producers will face this year.

The expected increase in the number of acres planted on the High Plains did materialize even though planting continued up until the very end of June in some areas.

Based on recently released figures from the US Dept. of Agriculture, the Texas crop should come in with a greater number of harvested acres than in 1990. Whether or not more cotton is produced is going to depend on the crop receiving good weather for the remainder of the growing season and timely rains.

High Plains producers increased their cotton plantings to slightly over 3.62 million acres in 1991, 13% over 1990's 3.2 million planted acreage figure.

Using a breakdown provided by the Texas Agricultural Statistics Service, it was possible to estimate how much of the 6.5 million cotton acres attributed to Texas in USDA's 1991 preliminary planted acreage report were found on the High Plains.

The 3.62 million acre estimate was derived using the planted acreage totals for districts 1-N and 1-S, which include 21 out of the 25 counties around Lubbock.

Figuring in a 10-year historical abandonment average of about 15% leaves 3.07 million High Plains acres available for harvest in 1991. This would allow 1991 production to come close to 1990's 2.9 million bale total.

Applying the High Plains' five-year yield average of 447.5 pounds per acre projects a 1991 crop somewhere between 2.8 and 2.9 million bales.

Taking into account the late planting, which occurred over much of the High Plains, yields are expected to be lower than 1990's 510-pound per acre average.

In the end, however, it appears that while the High Plains did see an increase in its cotton acreage of about 400,000 acres in 1991, there probably will not be any notable production increase in 1991.

CITIZENSHIP SEMINAR—Monty Moore (left) of Dimmitt and Lisa Ball of Nazareth recently attended the Texas Farm Bureau's annual citizenship seminar, which was held in San Angelo. The youths trips were sponsored by the Castro County Farm Bureau. The purpose of the seminar was to provide students with a better understanding of their American heritage and the capitalistic free enterprise system, said Joe Lust of Dimmitt, county Farm Bureau president.

A series of frustrations began for Smith in the afternoon session when he requested that commissioners let bids for hauling improved road-building material in Precinct 1. When commissioners refused, he presented an alternate proposal that he be allowed to buy a five-axle truck (18-wheeler) and trailer to haul caliche to roads in the precinct.

A motion to seek bids was seconded by Pct. 2 commissioner Dale Winders, but Winders voted no with the rest of the commissioners after they questioned Smith on the legality of his removing caliche from the pits without approval.

"Are you loading right now out of a caliche pit?", Pct. 3 commissioner Jeff Robertson asked repeatedly. Smith refused to answer, then finally admitted, "Not right this minute—but we did Friday."

The second item on Smith's agenda, to build water ways, died for lack of a second, as did his third item, to ask the state Attorney General's office to come to Dimmitt to clarify the law regarding Smith's right to fire full-time employees.

The other commissioners pointed out, "We're already in the process of requesting an opinion," adding that County Attorney Davis was working on the request.

Smith also asked the commissioners to draw proposed precinct lines for Castro County, and was reminded that this item would be discussed with a special citizens advisory committee on Friday, so no action would be taken until after that.

Finally, Smith asked to be authorized to discuss with the City of Hart the possibility of his trading a Gallion Motor Grader for a John Deere Loader. That motion also died for lack of a second.

any real danger during the fighting was when a FROG missile landed a little over three miles away from his base. He noted that everything at the base was placed below ground level for added protection from rockets, although not everything had a top cover.

Joe's logistical unit had the duty of resupplying the troops at the front, but problems were encountered because of the large numbers of prisoners of war who were surrendering to the US troops. Since there was very limited resistance, the US forces did not need as much supplies, so supply trucks would be sent only half full or even empty to the front and would then be used to transport POWs to the rear areas.

Joe said that most of the POWs were congenial, and many even seemed grateful to be taken prisoner, especially the wounded.

He related an incident in which a group of 2,000 prisoners was being guarded by 20 Marines. The hungry prisoners rushed upon some supply trucks headed for the front, but then turned around and offered soft drinks from the "captured" supplies to their guards.

Joe said one of the prisoners asked the Americans, "What took you so long?"

The man had been a student at the University of Chicago, and had returned to Iraq to visit his grandmother, when he was unwillingly drafted into the Iraqi army.

After the fighting stopped, the Kuwaiti people began returning to their homeland, many of them traveling in Suburbans along the coast highway. Joe said it was an emotional time, and most of the Kuwaitis honked and waved or called out greetings to the US troops.

Although the elation of the people was contagious, Joe said it was also sad to realize that most of them were carrying all their earthly possessions in their vehicles.

Joe said seeing all those Suburbans reminded him of home.

Joe and Laura, along with John and his sister, Amber, are now living in Quantico, Va., where Joe is stationed.

James T. Hull, 60, president and general manager of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative and chairman of the board of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative, died July 3, 1991.

Services were held Saturday in the First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Doug Manning of Fellowship of Believers and the Rev. Randall Stotts of Blue Springs, Mo., officiating. Burial was in West Park Cemetery in Hereford, by Rix Funeral Directors of Hereford.

Mr. Hull was born on Dec. 10, 1930 in Dawson, graduated from Sam Houston State University at Huntsville in 1956 and did graduate work at Sam Houston State and Texas Tech University. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War.

He was one of the key leaders in organizing the Golden Spread Electric Cooperative, comprised of 12 distribution co-ops on the High Plains. Hull conceived the idea of uniting all of the rural electric cooperatives into a single bargaining unit back in the 1970s. The Golden Spread Co-op was formed in January 1984 with Hull as president.

The Texas Senate and House of Representatives commended Hull for his contributions to rural electrification and his role in the formation of the regional cooperative. He also was recognized in the U.S. congressional record for his accomplishments in rural electrification.

Mr. Hull was director of Hereford State Bank, a past president of Hereford Lions Club and Colorado City Jaycees, a past director of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, a former director of Water Inc., a volunteer worker in the United Way and Boy Scouts of America, and an honorary chapter farmer and state farmer of the Future Farmers of America. He was a charter member of the Fellowship of Believers Church in Hereford and was a 32nd degree Mason. He was a deacon in the First Baptist Church for many years and was a former board chairman.

Mr. Hull also served as chairman of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Resolutions Committee, a past president of Texas Electric Cooperatives, past chairman of the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service Job Training and Safety Committee, past chairman of the Texas Rural Electric Education Research Committee at Texas Tech, a past director of the Texas Federation of Cooperatives and director of Western Power and Producers.

Survivors include his wife and two sons, Kevin Hull of Hereford and Mike Hull of Austin.

two coaches and 12 teachers.

Michael Smith was hired as Dimmitt Middle School principal; Jeff Bell was appointed assistant high school coach and David Webb as junior high coach.

The following teachers were hired: Trudy Upothegrove, fifth grade; Joe Haase, high school math; Nancy Clark, 8th grade science; Zetha Blackburn, 7th and 8th grade science; Leslie Philipp, high school science; Cheryl Smith, high school English; David McCormick, high school agriculture science; Cassa McCormick, elementary; Becky Book, high school math; Keitha Hogan, high school English; Jean Stevens, special education; Jennifer Bell, high school science.

Resignations were accepted from Richardson Elementary teacher Lillie Clark and Dimmitt High School teacher Rolland Shippy.

Trustees also learned that two positions they thought were filled had been vacated.

Arthur Green and Kent Goss turned in resignations. Green was hired as a special education teacher; Goss filled the agriculture science position.

In the open session, the board unanimously approved the revised 1991-92 school calendar. Senate Bill 351 added five additional school days to the calendar.

Classes begin one day earlier than originally proposed — Aug. 26 instead of Aug. 27, but Christmas and Spring Break remained as planned. The board set Dec. 21-Jan. 1 as the Christmas holidays, and March 16-20 for spring break.

The school gained the four other days by deleting two teacher work-days and two teacher inservice days — Jan. 10, May 29, Jan. 13 and May 15.

If school is not dismissed because of bad weather, April 20 and May 8 also will be holidays.

Although the changes satisfy state requirements, additional changes still face the school district.

"Teachers are required (by Texas Education Agency) to have 20 (clock) hours of inservice," said Gannell Minnick, curriculum director.

Minnick said because two scheduled inservice days were converted to school days, the teachers would need to attend workshops or conferences to satisfy the requirements.

"TEA is giving us (the school district) quite a bit of leeway this year on what type of instruction will count (for the 20 hours)," she said. "Anything appropriate for instruction will count."

To save the district money, administrators encouraged teachers to acquire the hours during the summer months.

"If the teachers go (to workshops, conferences) during the school year, the district will be paying double," said Neal Bryan, business manager, noting the district will be paying the teacher's salary for that time missed, plus the substitute.

Board President David Schaeffer instructed Bryan to send a letter to all teachers notifying them of this requirement, so they can still attend workshops before school starts.

The board also agreed to purchase extracurricular accident insurance from Standard Life for grades seven through 12. The school-year premium costs $12,480 — almost $1,000 more than last year.

In addition, the company will offer individual student policies for $15 and $54.

"These prices are comparable to last year's," Bryan said.

The board also approved a $969.41 payment to a teacher for Level II career ladder placement.

In other action, the board opened calls for a new maintenance building to be erected by the bus barn. Currently the district is leasing the lot on Jones Street from Hereford Federal Credit Union and the business called for the lot in 90 days.

"We just need someone to build a shell and install insulation," Bryan said, noting that school employees are qualified to complete the building.

The board tabled four other agenda items — two which would cost the district more than $15,000.

A request for handicap ramps to be installed at Richardson Elementary and the middle school was tabled due to cost considerations.

Dimmitt Ready Mix proposed building a ramp from the game gym at Dimmitt Middle School to the sidewalk, then an extension from there to the asphalt, plus two exit ramps at the elementary school. The two projects would cost $9,110.

Bryan said the football field was not handicap accessible either and needed consideration also.

"The construction needs to be done," Bryan said.

The other monetary item involved constructing runway extensions at the Dimmitt High School track.

Cost of installing two additional pits and runways for the jumping and vaulting sports was estimated at $6,460, by Vibra Whirl of Panshandle.

"We don't have that kind of money," said Rita McDaniel, board member.

The board also took no action on tax abatement for Goodpasture, Inc. and on a joint agreement with the City of Dimmitt.

However, the board agreed to conduct a special election on Aug. 10 for the Dimmitt school district concerning the exemptions for the newly constructed county education district. The amendments will determine homestead exemptions, exemptions for those over 65 and for those disabled, and whether to tax personal property. Oscar Wylie was appointed as election judge.

PRESENTING THE COLORS—The Boy Scout troop presented the American flag at the county-wide Fourth of July celebration Thursday night at the Dimmitt High School football stadium.
