Forty-nine years is not a lot of time compared to the ages it will take to pay off the national debt, but it is a bit of a while to spend in a print shop, and a newspaper of one kind or another. Come Saturday, or August 10, it will have been that many years when I first picked up a composing stick as an employee, or printers devil, of the Rogers News down in Bell County, Texas. If I make it until August 10, next year, that will be a half century. Most of that time has been put in publishing a weekly paper, and to the best of my memory we have never missed an issue.

The annual Castro County Roundup, the biggest event of its kind in the world, will get underway Saturday with Hart Days at Hart and continue through the following Saturday. The Nazareth German Folk Festival will be held in Nazareth Sunday. Beginning Monday a full week of Roundup activities will be held in Dimmitt. A complete Roundup program appears on page 10 of this issue of the News.

Since the impeachment and removal from office of the president seems to be a foregone conclusion, the only question now is whether he will resign or wait for the constitutional process of removal to take place. General opinion seems to be that he will resign shortly, at least it is said that the vice-president is making plans to take over the reins of government.

A lot has been said in recent months that the smoking gun, so far as impeachment evidence is concerned, had not been discovered. The president uncovered and exposed the smoking gun this past weekend in the transcript of a heretofore secret tape of a conversation with his number one advisor, H. R. Haldeman.

The news media has been criticized for, and accused of, making every effort to drive the president out of office. From the beginning of the unhappy affair the media has been blamed for, and found guilty by many, of carrying on a vendetta against the president for political or other reasons. I feel that the media has been exonerated and deserves an apology from its most vocal critics. Our courts, our congress and the news media have performed well in this crisis, justifying our confidence in the system of government that we call democracy.

Local 4-H'ers take horse show honors

Renee Cluck and Matt Howell of the Dimmitt 4-H Horse Club won honors at the state 4-H Horse Show in Dallas last week.

MISS CLUCK'S mare won fourth in the division for mares five years and younger. She also competed in the showmanship division.

Howell won seventh in western pleasure and his horse placed in the top 16 geldings and made the finals in showmanship.

Miss Cluck displayed the Grand Champion mare at the Castro County 4-H Horse Show and the District I 4-H Horse Show in Amarillo.

Howell displayed the Grand Champion gelding in both the local and Amarillo shows.

Hart to get new water system

Construction of a new water system for the City of Hart will begin in about two weeks according to Virginia Reed, Hart's city secretary, but right now Hart's city commission is requesting city residents to cut down on lawn and garden watering "to at least once a week or less."

"IF THIS is not done the City of Hart will be completely out of water," the commissioners stated.

The tremendous demand for water at Hart and an extremely dry summer prompted the move on the part of the commissioners. Wells in the city have fallen behind demand and the city has been using more water than the wells can supply. Water pressure has also been inadequate.

The commissioners have also requested that Hart residents not water yards and gardens until after 9 p.m.

PLAINS Utility of Lubbock, contractor for the project, is scheduled to begin construction on water systems improvements in Hart in about two weeks.

Included in the new water system will be a 50,000 gallon overhead storage tank, booster pumphouse, controls, water line connections and water mains. Hart's present underground storage system will be tied into the new system.

Total cost of the project will be $86,982.30.

PROPOSED NEW DENNIS FUNERAL HOME
... To be built in West Dimmitt

Dennis announces plans to build new funeral home

L. C. Dennis, owner of Dennis Funeral Home, announced plans Monday for the construction of a new 8,000 square foot funeral home in West Dimmitt "in the immediate future."

THE NEW funeral home will be constructed on the Highway 86 bypass near South Hills Manor, and will be constructed after the "West Texas" design according to Dennis.

Included among the features of the new funeral home will be a modern chapel with a seating capacity of 208. A special family room off the chapel will have seating for 50.

The new home will have three stairwells, a large preparation room, a selection room which will show 25 units, and special areas for baby caskets and clothing.

A room for casket bearers and a minister's room will also be featured.

An all-weather driveway connected to the chapel and garage space for four cars will also be included.

PARKING space for approximately 100 cars will also be constructed at the new site.

"We want to build something real nice to dedicate to the community," said Dennis. "After completion of the new funeral home, some family members will probably be coming in to help carry on the business."

According to Dennis, the present funeral home will probably be maintained as headquarters for the ambulance service after completion of the new home. He added that a decision on whether to move the family flower shop, currently located next to the funeral home has not been made yet.

Dennis, who is in his 21st year as a funeral director in Dimmitt, explained that the home's present location "was built to get ahead of the town."

"Now the town has caught up with us and we need more room for stairwells, and especially for parking," he added.

Cost of the proposed new home will be approximately $175,000.

Sheffy's chatter

Residents taking vacations before school starts

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

People are trying to get vacations before the big Castro County celebration the 10th to 17th of August and school starts also. I heard of a few people and these goings and comings.

Johnny and Janet Stanford and children went by Austin to visit his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lillie. All went on to Corpus Christi, out to Padre Island. They didn't fish but watched a lady pull in a 22-pound drum. That is a fish I never heard of. Then the Stanfords went on up the west road, crossed the river into Mexico at Laredo, shopped at Neuvo Laredo or looked. Home again after a good trip.

FLORA STANFORD (no kin of Johnny's) and Clara Neumayer are home from a three-week tour into the New England states, on to Nova Scotia, into Canada. They rode the boat back from Halifax to the US, spent a few days in New York City, stopped in Washington, D.C., visited Jesse and family. He is the son of Flora and a major or something in the US service. They saw all the government buildings and interesting things, came down the Atlantic states, stopped off at Williamsburg, Va. and places in Georgia and the Carolinas. Now home, probably canning beans.

Mr. and Mrs. Ailt Feldman are in Minnesota this week on business. Their son Wally and Rev. and Mrs. Bedford Smith are seeing to the yard and garden.

Kippie Meacham of Denver, Colo. and her cousin Jan Frazier of Bartlett are staying with grandmother Billie Meacham while Roy is recuperating from a heart attack. He is doing well now at Plains Memorial Hospital. Wayne Meacham is here to help with Roy's farming.

Billy and Carolyn Harman and Rana have moved to the last house on the right on 8th Street. Her sister Ann Pevehouse helped them get settled. You will see Billy at the store.

REV. AND MRS. LENNOL Hester and their daughters and families, Betty Kuehler and son Mark of Houston, Linda and Dean Philpott, Angela and Steve of Irving, spent the week in Colorado going to Durango to the lake there and to San Isabel and other places. More folks that went to Colorado were the Bill Birdwells and Jim, the George Sideses and kids, the Jim Cleavingers and boys. Don't know how many places they went.

Lori Dyer, who went to Austin with Vicki Cleveland to visit Vicki's grandmother, ran through a glass door while there. Cut in several places, had to have stitches but is not seriously hurt, thank goodness.

Kurt Wales was with the family at Tres Ritos (the Cleavingers and Wales). This was a while back. Hate to leave some one out!

Our sympathy goes to Mrs.

Jim Killingsworth and her family on the loss of her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Beeman who were killed in a car accident at Rock Springs, Wyo. July 23. The service was at the Church of Christ in San Angelo where they just recently moved from Colorado. Relatives in the home of Jim and Becky last week were her sisters and families Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shupe of Beaumont, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rockwell of Houston, and cousins Mr. and Mrs. Steve Smentek of Vacaville, Calif.

MAGGIE BOREN has been hostess to Mayor and Mrs. Ruhman Franklin of Kennedy. You will remember her as Grace. A nephew Johnny Spikes and his bride called them from Hawaii. Mrs. Franklin was voted "Woman of the Year" in the State of Texas by the club women of the state.

Mrs. John Koonce or Jane of Golf, Ill. has been here for a week's visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kirkpatrick. Her son Bill came in Friday for a visit, then he goes to Eagle camp in Colorado. Mother Jane leaves Amarillo Friday to join Bill Bright's Christian Crusade Party enroute to Los Angeles, on to Japan for four days, then on to Seoul, Korea for a Crusade for Christ. This will be a training school for Asians, hoping for 300,000 to be Messengers for Christ. They plan to go to Hong Kong and other places before coming home.

FLOYD AND Fern Dickey of here and daughter Susie Axe and girls from Lubbock went to Amarillo twice to see grandson Brent Beam play baseball with the Amarillo YMCA champion players of the city's 11 and 12 year old boys. Brent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Beam and Granddad Dickey is a very proud fellow.

Teresa Underwood has started back to school at Texas Tech in Lubbock and comes home each Saturday to work at High Plains Clinic.

Winnie McLain of Dallas was with her sister Myrtle Williams a week. Those coming with her were their nephew Leo Goebel and wife Glenda and children Cathy, Carrie and Greg of Arlington. While here they drove around over the Golden Spread, visiting the sugar plant and other industrial plants, feed lots and the museum at Canyon. Also drove around over Palo Duro Canyon and took in the play "Texas". They found you do not need to go out of the Panhandle to see interesting sights.

Those visiting the Jim Bagwells this week were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Loyd of Vicks, Ark. Mrs. Loyd is the daughter of the Henry Allmans who lived here years ago. With them was Mrs. Charley Loyd and Harold of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Erx Williams and Billie Heard of Petersburg and Thalia Club of Lubbock met them here for a family get together.

I HAD A few friends in for bridge Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Richard Wooten and Mrs. Retta Cluck were high score winners. Other guests were Josie Bradford, Opal Bearden, Maggie Boren, Cletha George, Gladys Cleavinger, Ruth Coleman. Our daughter Ruth Jackson brought a freezer of homemade ice cream. I did make a cake and lemonade though. We all missed Ceal Carlile but she had to be at the hospital with Horace who has been going through a bunch of tests.

Recent guests of the Carlile's were her sisters Mary Frances Davis of Sweetwater, Morea Leon of Lubbock, Joyce Carlile of Abilene and her son Gerald McHaney of Plainview, a niece and nephew Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fosson and daughter Suzanne of Ely, Nev. The Fossons have recently moved back from a two year stay in Alaska.

Curtis and Marie Tate were hosts to a few friends with 42 games, coffee and cake or pie. Good food and conversation. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Nelson, Polly Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Nelson. Seems the other members, the Blackwells, were out of town and the Jack Tuckers moved to Estelline.

SID AND I went to Ruidoso, N.M. with our son Rex and Dorothy and boys for the trip and to celebrate their 13th wedding anniversary. We went to Bonita Lake, saw many people there, over to Lincoln so the boys could see the museum. Also they were having the pageant of Billy the Kid and Sheriff Garrett days. We didn't stay for that but the people were all dressed in costume. We talked to a handsome 81 year old Indian. He says he is probably a Mescalero and Apache mix. He worked on a ranch starting at 12 years old for 40 years, helped with a cattle drive from there to Amarillo in 1910, a tall fine guy, is now on his own farm.

VADA BELLE Oldham of El Paso came up for a weekend visit with her daughter Verbie and Don Nelson. Her school starts soon. She went home by Ruidoso to see about some land or lots she owns in the hills.

Swain and Katie Burkett took the grandkids to Albuquerque to meet their parents, the Davu Burketts and the The Burketts took the grands to see "Texas" while they were here.

Homer and Nell Newton have been hosts to her daughter Billie and Tom Everman of Wichita Falls, his mother Jean Everman, granddaughter Melinda and Joyce Smith from Sabina, Ohio. They took a picnic lunch to the Palo Duro Canyon, then later saw the pageant "Texas". They were very impressed with the play. How good tiz.

Jane Stollings and son Ryan of Darrouzett are here for a few days visit with her parents M. E. and Marge Cleavinger while her husband Roy is serving his duty with the US Army in summer training with the National Guard at Ft. Hood in Killeen.

RAYMOND AND Margaret Wilson and grandkids Shea and Ramona joined 69 relatives of the Carrell clan. These are Margaret's brothers and sisters, their grands and great grands and many cousins. They all met in the Ramada Inn South in Lubbock and filled the two dining rooms. This was a good fun time though grandson Rebby went home to Phoenix to get ready for school.

James and Mildred Bradford, son Jim and daughter Jean drove over to Conchas for a rest. You know their son Bob and Paula Birdwell will be married Sept. 1.

Cletha George was hostess to the Friday bridge at the Country Club. Games and pickup foods were enjoyed by Dee Williams and Jan Quezue, both high score winners, Cheryl Glidewell, Brenda Andrews, Opal Bearden. Dorothy Elder and Ruth Wooten came by in the afternoon for a while.

Jerry Wyatt, the assistant student pastor of the Methodist Church, preached at the Olton Church Sunday as a fill in for his dad, the Rev. Elton Wyatt. Jerry tells me he is no kin to the artist preacher Kenneth Wyatt at Tulia.

NELL KITCHENS Newton, her daughter Mrs. Barbara Howell, Pam and Candy took granddaughter Karen Gray to Austin to take the state beautician tests (she did get her permit). Then all went on to Galveston to see the big Gulf, then back by Houston to have a tour of the Astrodome, then looked at many things enroute the 700 miles home. Nell wants to go back to see a game played in the Astrodome.

"New People in Town" Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hughes, freshman son Rob and daughter Holly have moved here to Ruskin Circle from Corpus Christi (I think). Dale is with a seed company. They attend church with the Methodists. (That's all I know.)

And Dan Knox, an unmarried guy, moved here from Spearman, also at Ruskin Circle. He is with Amstar, finished school at Texas Tech, was a tennis champ in high school, also goes to church with the Methodists. He says he is positive in his opinion. He had better wish he was, I am a nice girl.) His brother is David Knox at Hart, I hear.

"If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea: even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me." Psalms 139:9, 10. What a wonderful promise. No matter where we go or what we do, God is willing to lead us and is there to help us. Another comforting scripture recalling God's love toward us is this: "How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! How great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand." Psalm 139:17, 18. It is comforting and pleasant to let our thoughts wing upward to verses like these. We invite you to read your Bible and attend church this week.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God. Coleman Adv. Ser.

SHOWMAN — Superior obedience training was displayed by many dogs in the Dimmitt Kennel Club Fun Show here Sunday, but few of the entries had a better act than this cutie. Upon command, it would stand on its hind legs and flail its forelegs in its begging act. There was no category for this trick, but the little dog drew a crowd with its sideshow.

By MARY EDNA HENDRIX

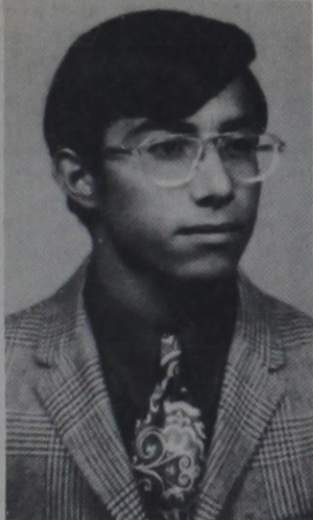

SUMMER READING PROGRAM! There are several enrolled who need to read 2 or 3 more books in order to receive a certificate and an invitation to the party. The Friends of the Library will have their party Aug. 14 at 10 a.m. here in the meeting room of the Rhoads Memorial Library. So come on in, kids, and read those last few books! We have been very happy about the response this year.

FRIENDS of the Library book sale: We still have books for sale here in the library. We plan to keep them out for the public to look at for a few more weeks. We are still selling a few books each day.

Interesting people in the library: Leora Little brought her daughter-in-law Carolyn Little and her daughter Linda from Douglas, Ariz. in to see the library. Mrs. Peggy Raper came in with her 12 day old baby. I suppose that is the youngest baby to visit the library. Rev. Bobby Gordon, pastor the Lee Street Baptist Church, came in to see our library. He and his wife have three children. Irene Robel, from Cambridge, Ohio came in to buy some books. She is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gotch and sister Mrs. Eugene Kern of Nazareth. Ethel Guiberson from Rhome came in with Jean DuLaney and bought a few books since she said she was a lover of books. Ken and Barbara McDermitt came in for the first time to check out books. Betty and Decimae Dennis came by the library to visit with my daughter Sue Vaughan and her family from Dallas. David showed some slides of my trip to Europe while they were here. Decimae plans to go back to Okinawa this month to teach in the school there.

MORE donating books: Gene Ivey brought a Road Atlas and donated it to the library, so if you are planning a trip this would be good to look at before you start. Jim Upfold brought several "Outdoor Life" and "Field and Stream" magazines. Reynaldo Reyes brought a box of books.

PETE NIABES

Niabes taking GED tests at SMU

Pedro "Pete" Niabes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santos Niabes of Hart, is currently working at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas and attending school at SMU where he is taking GED tests through Opportunities Industrialization Center.

NIABES is employed as an assistant technician and plans to become a lab or surgical technician. He attended Hart schools prior to moving to Dallas.

FLUORESCENT lighting can be mounted unseen on the upper shelf to highlight art objects displayed on lower shelves, Patricia Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advised.

Cotton market should see price boosts soon

The cotton market has been fairly quiet in recent months, but that situation should change before too long, contends a marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"WITH dwindling mill stocks of cotton and a crop situation still highly subject to the vagaries of weather, mills should soon begin to buy new crop cotton, and that should boost prices," believes Charles K. Baker.

Another big factor, says Baker, is the foreign mills. "They may actually start the buying spree, and when they do, domestic mills will want to get their share of the crop before prices move too high. For domestic mills, it's been a wait and see attitude, but once buying begins, the market should perk up."

Why have domestic mills stayed out of the market for so long?

There are two main reasons, points out the specialist — high interest rates and a desire to hold the price line as long as possible.

A SHORT cotton crop for Texas and the United States is in the offing, and this should get mills in the buying mood before too long. Baker earlier estimated the US cotton crop at 13 million bales and this still looks like a good projection. More than 350,000 acres of cotton have already been lost in Texas due to dry conditions, and earlier planting estimates by the US Department of Agriculture can now be evaluated as some 400,000 acres too high in Texas and the other Cotton Belt states.

"With a US cotton crop of 13 million bales or less, stocks for 1975 will be at a 23-year low," notes Baker.

"Farmers are holding out for higher prices for their crop as they are faced with skyrocketing production costs. The cost of producing a pound of cotton in Texas this year will probably reach 40 cents a pound, up about 9 cents from last year. This necessitates that farmers get a good price for their crop or they won't be producing for very long."

Additional growth predicted for cattle feeding industry

"The Texas cattle feeding industry is projected to reach at least 7.3 million head level by 1980. That would be 70 percent greater than the 4.3 million head output recorded in 1972," predicts Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

UVACEK SAYS, "Demand for beef is forecasted to continue to rise steadily through 1980. This will be brought about by a larger population and a substantial increase in the per capital disposable income level, plus added demand factors such as the food stamp program."

In 1973 Texas fed cattle marketings represented 17 percent of the national total. If Texas attains the projected 7.3 million head level by 1980 and the rest of the nation grows to the expected 38.5 million head level, the Texas share of the national output will increase to 19 percent.

"My guess would be that Texas cattle feeding could easily reach that 7.3 million level and maybe even as much as 7.7 million head," contends Uvacek.

The trend toward larger feedlots also seems certain. With bigger lots being utilized more efficiently, fewer such facilities will be needed. The upper-end of the Texas Panhandle has recorded the major growth in feedlots, in slaughtering plants and related beef industry firms. This area is in the sorghum belt, the principal cattle-feed supply region.

ONE interesting facet of this feeding expansion in the High Plains of Texas is the fact that within less than a 100 mile radius from Amarillo are four other cattle feeding areas in other states. These other areas are still within easy reach of the same sorghum supplies, the same packers and the same other related industries. What then will keep cattle feeding in Texas? Probably even more important than that — Uvacek asks, "What factors will cause cattle feeding to shift out of Texas?"

He lists several important items — a state corporate tax, state income tax, more stringent pollution laws, imbalance in intra- versus inter-state transportation rates, attitude of Texas toward the cattle feeding business, and other state or federal regulations affecting the industry.

"Certainly these and numerous other economic and political influences will dictate whether or not Texas can retain its leadership role in cattle feeding. They may even be more important than competitive advantages.

"All Texans must not only realize that Texas makes beef, but also that beef contributes greatly to the economic well-being of everyone in the state. The cattle feeding industry deserves and must receive everyone's support," emphasizes Uvacek. "It is the underlying industry that supports thousands of other related industries."

Texas' attendance remains unaffected

The energy crisis has had no noticeable effect on the crowds at "Texas". Cars and buses in increasing numbers are finding their way to the Palo Duro Canyon State Park for performances of the musical drama, the story of the early days in the magnificent canyon.

PAUL GREEN'S story of the settlement of this part of the plains is drawing more people this year than ever before. At the halfway mark of the season, attendance was up 5% from the record-breaking numbers of last year, and 44,281 people had come.

Unexpectedly, in light of the energy shortage, more than a fourth of the crowd comes from a distance of more than 500 miles. There is very little change in this percentage from the last few years.

Gold ownership by US citizens will soon become a reality for the first time in four decades, probably by Dec. 31. Experts disagree on the effect this will have on the price of gold but if you are planning to invest in gold or use it as a hedge against inflation (historically it's been a poor inflation hedge) then the warning to the investor is Caveat Emptor; "let the buyer beware".

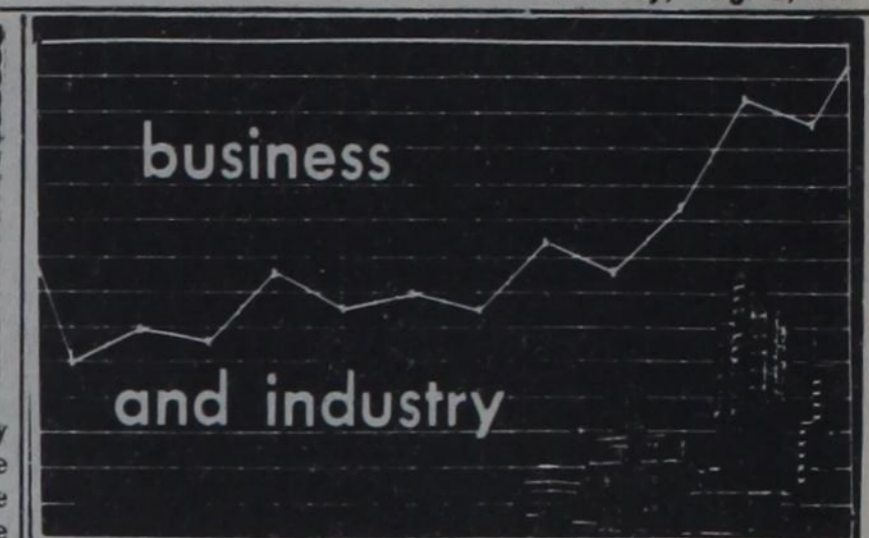

STANDARDS of size and purity will be established very soon by the major gold trading exchanges. Be sure that any gold bars which you purchase meet those standards. There are a few gold dealers in the US today but you can bet that new names will swarm into the field once gold ownership finally becomes legal. So, protect yourself by dealing with a long established firm, known for reliability. Fraudulent gold bars that contain less than the stamped amount and with forged stampings of the major gold bullion dealers will begin showing up. The only way to avoid getting caught with a forged bar is to do business with a reputable dealer.

If you intend to buy bullion, don't buy small bars, wafers or medallions. This is what unscrupulous and unregulated silver and placer gold dealers in Utah and Nevada are pushing now with astronomical mark-ups. Buy the biggest bar you can afford. You will pay a higher premium for the smaller bar and take a heavy discount when you get ready to sell it. Wafers and medallions are even harder to sell.

Gold coins are still probably your best bet if you are a determined gold investor. You don't have to wait until gold ownership become legal to buy coins. Gold coins are a legal investment now. One of the key advantages in coins is that they are much harder to counterfeit or shave than bars. They also have excellent certification, the government issuing them. They are in effect round bars of gold since each coin contains an ounce or more of gold. They are also easier to sell and have the added intrinsic value of being a collectors item. The best bargains in gold coins are the Austrian 100 Corona (.98 oz. of fine gold) or the Mexican 50 Peso (1.2 oz.). Both are currently selling only 10% to 15% above actual gold content.

If you are going to keep gold or gold coins in your house, get ready for some stiff insurance premiums. You can also keep them in a bank safe-deposit box but remember the banks don't insure the contents of the box.

Sherman appointed to advisory post

Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby recently announced the appointment of Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo to a six-year term on the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

SENATOR Sherman replaces Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon, whose term has expired.

The commission was created by the Legislature to improve coordination and cooperation between the state and its local governments and between the state and federal government by providing continuing research, information and advisory services to public officials and citizens of Texas.

"Senator Sherman will bring a great deal of knowledge and dedication to the post," Hobby said. "His appointment continues the commission's tradition of broad representation of all levels of government in the state."

Farm equipment sales generally leveled off

Farm equipment sales have generally leveled off due to a shortage of available equipment, says Dr. Wayne A. Hayenga, an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

AFTER TWO years of continued growth, unit tractor sales in the first quarter of 1974 fell slightly under the first quarter 1973 rate, with more significant declines recorded for some lines of farm machinery.

"Large increases in crop acreage and record high levels of farm income over the last two years accounted for the upsurge in farm equipment sales. Unit sales of farm tractors increased 19 percent in 1972 and 26 percent in 1973 after five straight years of decline," notes Hayenga.

The figures are even more impressive when put in terms of capacity: measured PTO horsepower increased 21 percent in 1972 and 38 percent in 1973.

1973. Machinery size has increased proportionally.

"Demand for new equipment has been strong in 1974," continues Hayenga, "since estimated planted acreage is up 7 percent, about 15 percent larger than the previous 10-year average."

THE LEAD time for delivery of tractors is currently eight to ten months and this lag should continue through the remainder of 1974.

"Last year, demand spilled over into the used farm equipment market. Reports of three-year-old tractors selling for more than their original price were not uncommon," says the economist.

"Projections suggest that net income in 1974 will total $22 billion, 15 percent below the 1973 record, but still the second highest level ever achieved. Accelerated depreciation schedules and the investment tax credit available on the purchase of farm equipment will likely be used to reduce income tax payment," points out Hayenga.

Although financing costs remain high, it is unlikely farmers will defer equipment demands in 1974. Short- and intermediate-term farm loan volume has stayed strong thus far in 1974.

"Although many farm equipment manufacturers are expanding production capacities, there will only be minimal increases in 1974 output as raw materials remain in short supply. While US production of tractors will increase some, most 1974 sales will have to come from current inventories to achieve projected sales of 90 percent of the 1973 level," believes the economist.

Sorghum board schedules meet

Fewell Sr., Mrs. Thomason, grandmother of the groom, Miss Kim Fewell, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Steele, aunt of the groom. Here are week's best food buys

Fresh fruits and vegetables take the market spotlight this month, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports. "PEACHES, plums and nectarines are the fruits of the week," the consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, added. Other fruits worth considering include Thompson seedless grapes, bananas and pineapples.

Vegetables include watermelon, cantaloupe, cabbage, summer squash, mustard greens, carrots, okra, blackeye and purplehull peas, dry yellow onions, radishes, green onions and cucumbers. WITH BEEF prices trending upward, Mrs. Clyatt advised consumers to watch for advertised specials on chuck steaks and roasts.

"For economy, look to the less tender cuts of meat — watch the ads for lower prices on less popular meat cuts, which you can tenderize by marinating or slow, moist heat cooking."

Other values are ground beef and liver, she said. "Although prices are up a bit, chicken is still a good buy, while turkey is plentiful and often bargain priced," the specialist said.

CONSUMER WATCHWORDS: This is a good time to tuck a few pot roasts into the freezer for next winter.

RITUAL and tradition are of great importance in the family. Celebrations of special days, special family events, and symbolic activities make up the fabric of life, Dr. Jennie Kitching, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, noted.

WESTERN AMMONIA'S new managers and supervisors, all promoted from within the Dimmitt plant, will play important roles in the expansion project that will double the plant's output. From left are Jack Thompson, new operations supervisor; Darliss Goolsby, new maintenance supervisor; Owen K. "Pete" Stewart, new plant manager; Elvis Barker, new assistant plant manager; and Don Ethington, project engineer for the new plant expansion.

Four local men earn top posts at Western Ammonia plant

Four Western Ammonia men have been promoted to managerial and supervisory posts in the Dimmitt plant.

OWEN K. "PETE" STEWART is the new plant manager.

Stewart, 44, has been with the plant here since 1968. He came to Dimmitt from Lehman, south of Morton, when Elcor Chemical moved its Thio-Vite plant to Dimmitt to incorporate it into the local facility.

A native of Ringwood, Okla., Stewart started here as assistant maintenance foreman. He was the maintenance supervisor before being promoted to his present post.

He and his wife, Darla, have a 3 1/2-year-old son, Brian, and live at 721 Oak St.

ELVIS BARKER, formerly the operations supervisor of the Dimmitt plant, is the new assistant plant manager.

Barker, 44, is a native of Erick, Okla. He joined Western Ammonia in 1964, coming to Dimmitt from Borger, where he was with Phillips Petroleum Co. He started here as an operator, and was promoted to shift foreman, then operations supervisor, before being named assistant plant manager.

He and his wife, Joy, live at 711 Oak St. Mrs. Barker is the office manager of the Castro County News. The Barkers have two daughters — Sharon, a registered nurse in Lubbock, and Pam, a senior at Texas Tech.

DARLISS GOOLSBY, 32, succeeds Stewart as maintenance supervisor.

A Dimmitt native, Goolsby joined Western Ammonia in 1964 as a warehouseman. He later became a lab technician and chemist, then was named maintenance foreman and chemist before being promoted to maintenance foreman.

Goolsby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Goolsby of Dimmitt. He and his wife, Dawn, live at 600 Pine St. Mrs. Goolsby is a teacher in North Elementary School.

JACK THOMPSON, who is also a native of Dimmitt, succeeds Barker as operations supervisor.

Thompson, 31, has been with Western Ammonia since 1964. He started as a mechanic's helper, and worked his way up through the operations department as an operator, then as a shift foreman.

Although Thompson was raised on a farm here, his parents now live in California. He and his wife, Carolyn, live at 707 Oak St. They have a son, Kevin, 8, and a daughter, Jacalyn, 5.

THESE FOUR MEN will play important roles in the new expansion program which will more than double the total output of Dimmitt's Western Ammonia plant.

Construction of the new expansion project will begin next week, as Western Ammonia continues "growing with the dynamic Dimmitt area."

Last of Mallards released in state

The last of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's pen-reared mallard ducklings were pushed from the "nest" in late July to round out a program which started back in early June to establish more nesting populations of the waterfowl in Texas.

ON JULY 29, some 1,000 mallards were released on selected sites in south and east Texas. The birds were purchased by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department from the Frost Game Farm in Wisconsin with a $10,000 check from Pearl Brewing Co. through the Texas Conservation Foundation.

After shipment from Wisconsin, the birds were reared at the department's Management and Research Station in Tyler until three weeks of age. THEY HAVE received no special attention or protection after release.

Some of the first ducks to be released in June on the TP & WD's Engeling Wildlife Management Area in Anderson County have been observed flying short distances over the water.

4-H'ers attend lab at TSTI in Amarillo

By IRENE KEATING

This is a busy week for Glenda Price and the 4-H'ers who attended the Teen Leader Lab held at T.S.T.I. in Amarillo, Agnes, Donna, Elaine, Norman and Douglas Acker, Beverly Edwards, Carol Hochstein and Bob Behrends.

I am at Austin at the annual meeting of the Texas Association Extension Home Economists. It is always an enriching experience to attend this meeting and hear the speakers. I'll have a better report next week.

HERE IS the August garden calendar.

1. Winter annuals such as pansies, pinks, snapdragons, calendulas, flowering cabbage and flowering kale can be sown any time in early August for planting this fall. Sow in flats or pots in the shade. Use a sterilized mix to start the seeds.

2. Sow directly into the garden such items as radish, lettuce, turnips and other quick or hardy vegetable crops.

3. Spring flowering perennials including iris, daylily, daffodil, Shasta daisy, and many others should be dug, separated and replanted this month if they have become crowded.

4. Last chance to establish a new lawn from seed or sprigs.

5. Broadcast bluebonnet seeds now so the seed coat will weather enough so they will germinate rapidly.

6. Re-evaluate your landscape for possible changes you may want to make this winter in preparation for the next season.

7. WITH THE prolonged dry weather we have had, it is extremely important to provide supplemental irrigation for flower beds, lawns, and especially recently planted trees and shrubs.

8. This is peony planting time.

9. Give the compost pile a thorough soaking. Dry organic matter will not decompose readily.

10. Watch for interesting seedpods and other plant material that will make interesting dried arrangements.

11. Just because your roses stopped blooming due to the heat, don't let up on the black-spot control program if flowers are wanted this fall.

12. Don't forget to water holly, pyracantha and other fall fruiting plants or they may shed their fruit.

13. Zinnia and portulaca seeds planted now will produce excellent color for the fall garden.

A recent five-nation agreement holds great promise for polar bears. Although not an endangered species, polar bear numbers have been thought to be declining in recent years. Because of a multi-national range around the top of the world, regulation and even study of white bears has been difficult. The agreement establishes sanctuary areas where females can den and feed. Sport and subsistence hunting are permitted under the terms of the agreement, but the use of airplanes and snowmobiles in taking the giant bear have been restricted. International traffic in polar bear hides will also come under closer scrutiny as a result of the pact. Participating nations were Canada, Denmark, U.S.A., Norway and the U.S.S.R. —SPORTS AFIELD

Inflation worst in peacetime history

"The United States is in the grip of inflation more severe than anything experienced in its peacetime history, one home management specialist said this week.

SHE'S MRS. Doris Myers, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Since 1900, cost of living climbed for 54 years, stayed about the same for seven years and went down in only 13," Mrs. Myers noted.

"Reports in 'U.S. News and World Report' show that the $1 of 1900 buys the same amount that you must pay nearly $6 for today," she continued.

Incomes do not stretch as far as they used to — in spite of pay raises, families are having to make do with less.

"AMERICAN workers' real income — goods and services that the worker's money will actually buy — peaked materially during 1971 and 1972. It reached an all time high in 1972 and has been coming down ever since," she said.

"Studies show that taxes and inflation caused the average worker's standard of living to start a decline in 1970.

"The last few years have seen inflation raging, with incomes increasing much slower than prices. The Consumer Price Index now stands at 10.7 percent higher than May, 1973," she reported.

Labor Department studies show the average worker has 15.6 percent less money to spend that he had one year ago.

"If inflation continues at its current rate, the 1969 dollar will buy only 57 cents' worth of goods in 1979," Mrs. Myers noted.

"IF PRICES continue soaring at this rate, a house now selling for $37,500 will be priced at $51,700 by 1979. Food for four per week now costing $54.40 will be $80.50 in 1979."

A typical worker with a wife and two children who received a $330 raise last year has actually suffered a decrease in buying power of $362.

"A Social Security pensioner living alone on an income of $2,140 has actually lost $198 in buying power within the last year, in spite of the $140 increase in Social Security payments.

Site selection cuts building cost

If you're planning a new farm building, one way to reduce costs is by proper selection of the site, says W. S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. First of all, be sure easements, codes, regulations and restrictions are known before final staking is done.

"SELECTION of a level, well-drained site will be a big aid in keeping costs at a minimum. This will reduce the need for such equipment as bulldozers, earth movers and backhoes as well as some foundation materials," says the engineer.

If possible, do grading before starting construction, advises Allen. This allows equipment to proceed without hindrance and reduces costly hand labor that might otherwise be necessary for hard-to-reach areas.

"When fills are necessary, make sure that adequate and properly-reinforced foundations are provided. Thoroughly pack fills within buildings or lots where concrete floors or pavement will be used; otherwise, settling will cause concrete to crack," points out the engineer.

"EARTH spread and packed in shallow layers will settle less than earth dumped in greater depths and packed only from the top. Earth packs better when it is moist."

Allen suggests using sheep-foot or wheel-type rollers to pack the earth as it is spread.

THE WHEAT crop in Texas in 1974 was about a third less than it was last year.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

An ancient Roman philosopher once said that we are all equal in the face of death. All of us at some time are equally touched and saddened by the death of a relative or friend.

AND MANY of us must, at that trying time, take on the responsibility of arranging a funeral.

What the majority of people faced with such a difficult task too often forget, or dismiss as inappropriate to the occasion, is that decisions about funeral arrangements are also major decisions — decisions involving hundreds, even thousands, of dollars.

It may be easier to prepare ourselves for the possibility of making such decisions, however, if we learn in advance what we may be called upon to decide.

Perhaps the first thing to determine is who shall make decisions about funeral arrangements. Some consumer experts recommend that a relative outside the immediate family or a close family friend be entrusted to make preliminary arrangements, with the immediate survivors having final approval.

Such a person would know the family's financial situation and perhaps be able to make necessary choices more rationally, since extreme grief could cause families to be susceptible to extravagance.

While it is natural to say "price is no object" at such times, the responsible consumer will want to make decisions that are in keeping with the way the deceased lived, and will arrange a funeral that is both appropriate and affordable.

THE TEXAS Funeral Directors Association points out that there are four categories of funeral charges to consider:

1. Those involving the funeral home facilities and staff, the casket, and other merchandise purchased from the funeral home.

2. Those relating to disposition, such as cemetery lot and charges, cremation and cost of urn if desired, or mausoleum crypt.

3. Gravestone, monument, or marker, or niche for urn containing ashes.

4. Other expenses, such as clergyman's fee, limousine (if not included in funeral charge), flowers, newspaper notices, police escort, and out-of-town transport of the body.

This and other information can be provided by a trained funeral director who is licensed by the State Board of Morticians and whose experience in such matters can be a great help.

However, there are in the funeral business, as well as in any other, a few unscrupulous persons who may engage in questionable practices, and who may take advantage of persons when they are at their most vulnerable.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys say the best defense against such tactics is to be informed and to ask pointed questions about the price of all merchandise and services offered by a funeral home.

They point out that a recent Federal Trade Commission survey of Washington, D.C. funeral homes revealed that, although information on funeral prices is available, it must be aggressively sought out by consumers.

THE FTC survey also found that there are a wide variety of choices available about funeral arrangements, that funeral prices vary substantially, and that inexpensive funerals are obtainable, but that information about them may not be

AFGHAN HOUNDS are "moved" around the show ring by their owners as judge Judi Conlan observes their movement and physical soundness during conformation judging Sunday in Dimmitt Kennel Club's fun match at city park. The dog show, the first of its kind in Dimmitt's history, brought 151 entries from three states — Texas, New Mexico and Kansas.

THIS AFGHAN Hound remains unimpressed by the goings-on at Sunday's dog show as he casts a baleful eye at an onlooker. Dog lovers had plenty to admire Sunday as dogs of all sizes and descriptions filled city park.

offered unless it is requested.

Least expensive funerals at individual Washington funeral homes range from $210 to $900, and the average price for a complete funeral ranged from $500 to $1,830. Cemetery and other expenses were additional.

The casket is the most expensive item provided by a funeral home, averaging 20 percent of the funeral home's charges. Persons may need to ask to see less expensive caskets, since they often are not displayed. The casket cost can be a good guide to the entire funeral home bill.

Often, funeral services are a package plan, and omitting one or more services will not change the total cost. Also, most funeral services are substantially the same, no matter what price is paid. Persons paying the minimum charge often receive the same or similar services as those paying the maximum. The difference usually is in the casket selected.

Next week's column will deal with the legal requirements for disposal of a body, alternatives to the traditional funeral and burial, and what questions to ask when arranging a funeral.

Incorrect billing can be corrected

Nobody likes to be billed incorrectly, but there are several steps to take if it happens to you, one expert noted.

SHE'S Lynn Bourland, home management specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Accurate records and a businesslike approach will help you resolve most billing problems," she said.

However, sometimes more specific procedures may be necessary to deal with billing mistakes.

— Check your bill as soon as you receive it. If there is an error, notify the store or credit card issuer immediately.

— Make a note of the date and the name of the person you call. You may need this information later.

— If you write rather than call, send your complaint separate from your bill payment.

Remember to include your credit card number and copies of the bill or other documents. Keep the originals yourself, along with a copy of your letter.

— If you have trouble getting a billing error corrected, send a letter relating the problem and what you have done to the credit manager or president of the company.

ALSO INCLUDE copies of bills, sales slips or other documents with this letter.

— If this still doesn't bring results, send the details and evidence of your efforts to the local Credit Bureau. Send a copy of that letter to the merchant who has not corrected the billing error.

GIVING A child an explanation to help him understand the consequences of his acts helps him learn acceptable behavior and decision-making. Ilene Carrington, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, pointed out.

Our bank is going to be robbed Saturday. Twice.

Two times Saturday, Hart Riding Club desperados will storm into town to rob our bank. They'll be confronted at the bank by Marshal Dillon, Festus, Doc Holiday and Miss Kitty, and there'll be a big shootout in the street. We hope the good guys win.

The two bank robberies will be part of the biggest Hart Day Celebration ever. We hope you're on hand to enjoy it with us.

Hart Day activities actually start tonight [Thursday] with children's rides, Lionburger sales and game booths opening downtown at 6.

There'll be matched steer roping tonight, and a street square-and-round dance Friday night.

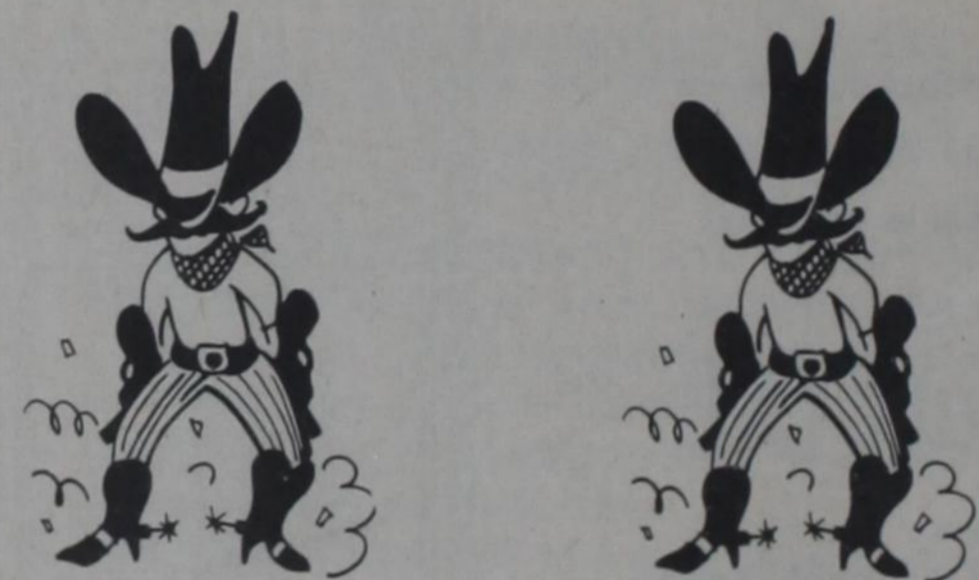

Then on Saturday, there'll be the biggest celebration you've ever seen at Hart. Two shootouts. An art exhibit. A reception. Free gifts. Old fiddlers' contest. Parade. Khiva Klowns. Playday. Food. Fun. Rides. Miss Hart Day Contest.

We urge all our neighbors in the county to come to the "Town With a Heart" and enjoy the celebration with us.

Come join us during the big

Lubbock Agriculture Club makes bus tour of community Monday

By TEENY BOWDEN

About 50 members of the Lubbock Agricultural Club made a tour of the community Monday afternoon on a chartered bus. About half of the group are agriculture-related businessmen, the others farmers or those with farm interests. Each year the club chooses one community for a similar summer tour. The purpose of the tour was to see the growing of diversified agricultural products and how the crops are utilized in the local economy. Edd McLeroy of Dimmitt, with the assistance of Charles Hotel, made the arrangements and was in charge of the tour. Raymond King, a former Castro County Agent, Dr. Bill Bennett, Associate Dean of Agriculture at Tech, and Paul Gross, County Agent of Lubbock County, planned the tour for the club. Their first stop was at Estacado Industries Inc. Lamb Feeding Division which feeds locally grown products. Don Weiland showed the group the 28,000 plus lambs being fed and explained the operation of the only large lamb feeding lot on the High Plains. They toured the community seeing double row cotton, hybrids grown for seed, sugar beets, soybeans, cotton, maize, alfalfa, corn grown for ensilage, corn grown for shell corn, and perhaps other crops. The group complimented the community as a progressive, well kept community beneficial to the economy. After the tour they were fed a barbecued lamb supper furnished by the Lamb Division and prepared and served by the Lions Club at the community building. After supper Edd McLeroy showed slides of the Lamb Division, the feed ingredients used and the various crops in different stages. Raymond King also spoke to the group.

RAY JOE RILEY, Don L. Echolds of Lamesa and Donovan Phipps of Welch flew to Washington, D.C. the last part of last week to meet with various congressmen and appear before several chairmen of committees on behalf of agriculture. They met with George Mahon, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee; B. F. Fisk, the Chairman of the House cotton subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee, he is the democratic whip, third in line and a former Meadow resident, Omar Burleson of the Ways and Means Committee; Bob Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; and Phil Campbell, Under Secretary of Agriculture. Ray Joe reported a general sadness and anguish over Watergate and its implications, but that the Congress is very busy with the business as usual. All committees are meeting almost every day. He was pleased at the progress the Congress is making in spite of the sad state of affairs in Washington.

Proper display enhances appearance of art work

The way a work of art is prepared for display can enhance its appearance, according to Anna Marie Gottschalk, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"WORKS OF art should be enjoyed and used to create more pleasing surroundings — never display anything which you do not care to view," the specialist said.

Watercolor paintings, drawings and prints are usually framed with a mat and glass, she noted.

Oil paintings do not need glass and usually the mat is omitted and only a wide frame is used.

Textile hangings can hang from a rod to allow the textile to drape at its own will.

SCULPTURE is usually mounted on a base.

"Methods of finishing artwork become a part of the piece. They should be pleasing and harmonizing with it, but never become so important that they distract from the work itself," she said. Some suggestions for displaying works of art are:

— Allow plenty of space around important art objects so they keep their importance.

— Be careful to allow sculpture to be seen from all sides.

— Smaller art objects can be grouped together and even grouped with personal mementoes or interesting shapes, colors and textures.

— Objects or groups of objects hung on the wall should have their horizontal centers approximately aligned around the room.

The level should be at the eye level from which the works will be seen most frequently — in a hall, eye level standing; around a conversation area, eye level seated.

— Shapes of artwork should harmonize with other shapes in their presence and should be arranged in relation to the other shapes.

By DON NELSON

I'm proud to hold the world's record as (Guinness, are you listening?) the man who attended more Castro County Roundup events than any other human last year.

IT HELPED that I was a newspaperman and needed to be there; that I was the Roundup chairman and wanted to be there; and that I was an eager eater who liked to wear a German costume, fix bike-flats, see parades, watch pretty girls, hear fiddlers, paint my beard, and sit in the outfield in the rain.

The only things I missed were one rodeo performance and a couple of the dances. (I'm not your usual light-on-the-feet type of dancer.)

Take it from someone who's been there: The more events you attend and the more you get involved, the greater time you'll have. If you DON'T get a bang out of this year's Roundup, it's your own durned fault.

WHAT'S most striking about our Roundup Week is the completely different personality, or atmosphere, of each community's celebration.

The Hart Day Celebration is folksy and cheerful, and recaptures the pioneer spirit. At 10 Saturday morning the outdoor bingo table will become the canopied stage for some of the finest fiddlers in this part of the country. The Hart Day Parade is likely to have more floats than Dimmitt's Roundup Parade. Perched atop many of the floats will be pretty "Miss Hart Day" contestants, and darting around the street will be 20 colorful Khiva Klowns.

Not nearly enough people from the other communities in our county attended the Hart Day Celebration last year — probably because they didn't realize what a good, enjoyable celebration it is.

THE FIRST Nazareth German Folk Festival caught like wildfire last year, and could become one of the major annual events in the Panhandle.

The great food and hospitality are the main reasons for the Folk Festival's huge success. But I think, too, that the Festival rekindles a spark that many of us had forgotten was there. Throughout Texas, the German farmer had every bit as much to do with settling our land as did the cowboy. And most Texans, for a century or more, have grown up around the German heritage — dancing to polka and oompah music, feasting on sausage and home-cured kraut and pan-pies.

The Nazareth Community Hall will be air-conditioned for the 1974 Folk Festival Sunday. And, although the Community Hall has been equal to most occasions in the past, they're planning to use some of the proceeds of this year's Festival to enlarge the hall's kitchen and serving facilities for future Festivals.

THE HEADLINE event of Roundup Week in Dimmitt will be the Pop & Country-Western Music Jamboree Wednesday night in DHS auditorium.

If you've seen Terry Stafford or Jean Shepard on "Hee Haw" or The Grand Ole Opry, then turn off the TV set and come out and see them in person. They're first-rate entertainers, and our Roundup Week planners hope this Jamboree will lead to more bookings of major artists here in the future. Our turnout Wednesday night will be the deciding factor for future Jamborees.

ANOTHER new wrinkle this year will be locally operated game and food booths at the Roundup Carnival. The VFW Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Immaculate Conception Parish, United Lions, and possibly other organizations will add their games and foods to those provided by the Jest Amusement Co.

The Activities Committee depends on the carnival proceeds to pay a big chunk of the Roundup Week expenses, so get out there and keep your kids riding while you munch, or vice-versa.

ALL THIS, added to the big Street Square Dance at the courthouse square Tuesday night, takes us up to—migoshi! — next Thursday, when the Dimmitt Rodeo opens. And there'll still be Kid Day, the new Mexican Fiesta, slack roping, the parade, the Old Settlers' Reunion, the exes' football game.

You didn't really want to laze around the house next week either, did you?

More about

Big Roundup . . .

Those desiring to set up booths must contact Mrs. Leonard Wilhelm at 945-2133 or Mrs. Ed Drerup at 945-2331 prior to Aug. 15. Booths will be assembled Aug. 15 between 1 and 4 p.m.

No entry fees will be charged but the Nazareth Art Club will receive a 10 percent commission on all articles and art work sold during the show, as will the Castro County Activities Committee.

THE SHOW will open at 10 a.m. Friday and continue through 6 p.m. The show will be open from 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Ribbons will be awarded to the top three winners in each division of the art show. Winners will be selected by popular vote, and will be announced at the Roundup Parade.

Voting will end at noon Aug. 17.

Following the show, exhibitors must pick up their items by 5 p.m. Saturday.

According to Mrs. Wilhelm, the Nazareth Art Club will use extreme care in handling items on display, but will not be responsible for damaged items.

Kid Day

A big pet show at 10 a.m. on the Courthouse Square will get "Kid Day" activities off to a start next Friday.

A BICYCLE marathon will also leave from the Little League park at 10 a.m. with different routes set out for senior and junior classes.

Activities will move to City Park at 1 p.m. where games for all the kids will be conducted and at 3 p.m. the park will be the site of a big watermelon eating contest. Youngsters will line up at tables and race to the rind with no hands allowed.

Mexican Fiesta

This year's Roundup will see a colorful new event, a Mexican Fiesta. The fiesta will get underway next Friday at 4:30 p.m. when youngsters from Dimmitt's Immaculate Conception Church will give an exhibition of Mexican dances in authentic costumes. The dance exhibition will continue until 5:30.

MEMBERS of the Immaculate Conception Church will stage a big Mexican dinner from 6-8 p.m. in the courthouse community room. The menu will include tacos, enchiladas, tamales, salad and tostadas.

Old Settlers' Reunion

"Old Settlers' Day in the Castro County Roundup has been moved to Saturday this year to coincide with Parade Day.

REGISTRATION will begin at 10 a.m. next Saturday at the First United Methodist Church. A covered dish luncheon will be held at noon and afterwards the program and annual business meeting of the Old Settlers' Association will be held.

Ted Sheffy, president of the Old Settlers' Association, urges all those planning to attend to bring along a basket lunch. Those attending should also wear western costumes according to Sheffy.

Parade Day

Slack roping competition at the Dimmitt Rodeo Arena will get Parade Day activities started next Saturday at 9 a.m.

THE BIG Roundup Parade will form up at 1:30 p.m. at the new county exposition center and will proceed through downtown Dimmitt at 3 p.m.

"Castro County — Where You Get a Square Meal from the Field" is the theme of this year's parade, which is sponsored by the Dimmitt Lions Club.

Geoffrey Earl is the parade chairman and division chairmen include J. R. Brown, communities; Don Nelson, organizations; Chet Braafladt, commercial; Avery Thrasher, civic clubs; D. W. Harkins, area floats; Dick Perrin, bicycles; Bob Caddell, riding clubs; and E. B. Noble, miscellaneous riders and buggies.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in numerous divisions and art show winners will be announced.

Following the parade the Roundup Barbecue will be held at the South Elementary School cafeteria at 6 p.m.

THE BARBECUE will be conducted by the Sunnyside Lions Club.

Beef for the big feed has been donated by the First State Bank, Castro County Grain and W&C Grain.

Prices will be $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children 12 and under.

Grid Grudge

The Dimmitt Jaycees and alumni will meet the Hereford Jaycees in a gridiron match Sunday, Aug. 18 to conclude Roundup activities. The game will be played at 5 p.m. at Bobcat Stadium. Admission will be $1.

THE DIMMITT Jaycees will also be giving away a car at the game.

Dimmitt youths stage marathon

With only two weeks to go before school begins, six Dimmitt youths were busy staging one last summer fling at presstime, as they were attempting to set a new trampoline jumping record.

KEVIN Cleveland, 9, Tobin Touchstone, 14, Todd Touchstone, 11, John King, 9, Phil King, 10, and Rodney Craig, 14, had been jumping continuously for 24 hours at presstime Wednesday. The young jumpers were planning to go on for a record 36 hours.

The Dimmitt youths decided to hold the trampoline marathon when they heard that five boys from Lockney held a 15 hour record. The locals decided to attempt to break that record.

The marathon was being held in the back yard at the Truman Touchstone home. Each boy was jumping in a 30 minute shift.

"It gets lonesome out there at 3 or 4 in the morning when you're jumping and watching your sleeping buddies," the youngsters reported.

The jumpers were scheduled to reach their 36 hour goal at 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Clayton blames labor for convention failure

The delegates to the Texas Constitutional convention squelched all efforts to send a new constitution to the voters of Texas when the time limit ran out on the Convention last week. The midnight adjournment came with no draft of the proposed constitution receiving the 121 delegate votes necessary to send it to the voters.

THE Convention delegates met constantly last Tuesday to attempt to report out a document, but when the last vote was taken on the final resolution, there were only 118 aye votes, three short of the number needed for passage.

Delegate Bill Clayton (D-Springlake), who consistently voted in favor of sending the document to the voters, reported that he had remained optimistic about its passage until the last days of the Convention. He reported that the main reason for the Convention's failure to pass the document was the consistent opposition it drew from organized labor, who expressed a "do-or-die" effort to keep the right-to-work clause out of the constitution. Delegate Clayton stated that he felt that most of the blame for the Convention's failure could be placed on the shoulders of the labor supporters.

"I had hoped we could at least give the voters of Texas a chance to decide on a new constitution in one form or another," said Clayton. "Many of the resolutions submitted to the Convention would have been acceptable to the voters. The Convention spent several million dollars in our efforts to write a new constitution for the people of the state, and I think we owed it to the citizens of Texas to give them something to vote on."

THE NEXT legislature will now have the task of evaluating the actions of the convention and making the decision of whether to try to initiate proceedings for another convention. The legislature will still have the option of submitting amendments to the present constitution of Texas, which was written in 1876.

Boosters make TV circuit

Castro County Roundup boosters are continuing to prowl Amarillo's radio-TV stations to publicize the celebration.

A DELEGATION from Dimmitt will make the rounds today (Thursday) to tape interviews with KVIL-TV, KGNC Radio and TV, and KFDD-TV. They'll appear in a live telecast on Channel 4's "Newswatch" program.

And Friday, a group from Nazareth will appear on the "Newswatch" program at noon to publicize the German Folk Festival.

Ex-gridders to huddle tonight

All former football players who are interested in playing in the Exes' Grid Grudge Game Sunday, Aug. 18 are asked to report at 8 o'clock tonight (Thursday) behind the Dimmitt High School tennis courts.

THE GRID Grudge Game, final feature of 1974 Roundup Week, will pit the Dimmitt Exes against the Hereford Jaycees.

"It doesn't matter how old or overweight you are," said President Les Clary of the sponsoring Dimmitt Jaycees. "If you can still block, tackle, hold or bite, you're eligible for the team."
