Funeral Held for Mrs. S. A. Kiker, Bronte Pioneer

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in First United Methodist Church of Bronte for Mrs. S. A. (Sarah D.) Kiker, 96, one of Bronte's oldest citizens and a resident of this community for 65 years. The service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Fred Brown, assisted by the Rev. Wayne Stout, former pastor of Central Baptist Church.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Newby Funeral Home.

Mrs. Kiker was born Jan. 3, 1874, in Alabama, and came to Coke County in 1905. She was married to S. A. Kiker Jan. 1, 1891, at Dublin. Mr. Kiker died in 1955.

Mrs. Kiker was a member of the Methodist Church and was able to attend services regularly until only a few years ago. She was honored in 1964 when she was selected as Coke County Queen Mother for the county's Diamond Jubilee celebration. Special recognition and flowers were given her at a large gathering in Bronte County Park on the day of the celebration.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. B. E. (Adah) Modgling and Mrs. Carroll (Lillian) Robbins, both of Bronte, Mrs. Walter (Irene) Phillips of San Angelo and Mrs. Lenora Good of Amarillo; three sons, Chester and Norman, both of Bronte, and Dave of San Angelo; one brother, Archie H. McCleskey; 16 grandchildren, 29 great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were grandsons, and included Elmer Modgling, A. J. Compton, Charles Wayne Kiker, Otis Ray Kiker, Richard Melton, Alonzo Robbins and Rudy Phillips.

A couple of important dates will occur in political matters during the next week. Jan. 31 is the last date for prospective voters to register in order to be qualified to vote and Feb. 2 is the last day for candidates to file their intentions to seek office with County Democratic Chairman D. K. Glenn.

County Tax Assessor-Collector O. B. Jacobs said Wednesday morning that 1370 persons had registered. "With four more days to register," he said, "I hope we will reach 1600."

Jacobs pointed out that Coke County had 1426 persons regis-

Country Store Open for Business

Lammers Country Store, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Lammers, reopened for business this week, after being closed since Dec. 16. They had to close the store due to the illness of Mr. Lammers.

Lammers was taken to an Abilene hospital Nov. 23 and underwent surgery and a series of treatments until Jan. 19, when he was released and allowed to return to his home here.

He is back in the hospital this week, but hopes to be home again in a few days.

Mrs. Lammers said this week that she is glad to be able to reopen the store. "I know we have inconvenienced some people by our closing, but it just could not be helped," she said.

She added that all their friends and customers are invited to visit the store for their grocery needs.

March of Dimes Drive Nets $373

A total of $373.12 has been contributed for the 1970 March of Dimes. The '69 Study Club with Mrs. Glenn Skelton as president is in charge of the drive.

Assisted by the Scosis Club, the '69 club members conducted the Mothers March Monday night, netting $220.00 for the cause. The ladies met at the city hall and then canvassed the residences in town. The remainder was donated by businesses and persons missed Monday night.

tering in 1969 which was an off-year for politics, but in 1968, which was an election year for offices from precincts to the White House, a total of 1677 qualified themselves to vote.

Office Open Saturday

Persons who want to register should mail an application to the tax assessor or go by his office. All mail applications which are postmarked on Jan. 31 will be honored. Jacobs also announced that his office will be open Saturday which is the last day for registration.

Citizens on the east side of the county may pick up application blanks, fill them out and leave them at First National Bank in Bronte. The blanks are also available at the Bronte Enterprise office.

County Chairman Glenn said that 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 2, is the last date a candidate may file with him and be able to have his name on the Democratic Primary ballot. He emphasized that the old rule which allowed candidates to file up until midnight on the last day is no longer in effect, and that no one can file after the 6 p.m. deadline.

A prospective voter must sign his own application for a registration certificate, with the exception that a son, daughter, husband, wife, father or mother may sign for him. A more distant relative or friend will not be allowed to sign the application.

Glenn urged all eligible voters to register, so they will be able to vote in all the elections which occur within one year from March 1, 1970.

SCHOOL CENSUS WILL BE COMPLETED JANUARY 31

Citizens of Bronte School District are reminded that the annual school census will be completed Jan. 31. Each year a count of school age children is made, and it is important that every child be counted.

Mrs. Clark Glenn, census trustee, stated this week that she is particularly anxious to secure the names of all children who will start to school next September. Any child who will be six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1970, should be reported, she said.

Anyone who has information about a school-age child should call Mrs. Glenn or any school official.

Nursing Home Bonds Sell

Members of the board of directors of East Coke County Hospital District met Tuesday night and sold the $250,000 bonds which were recently voted to construct a 32-bed nursing home in Bronte. Buyer of the bonds was Columbian Securities Corp. and the interest rate was 6 3/4 percent.

Approval of the bond issue was more than four to one in an election which was held Jan. 15. East

Coke County Hospital District comprises all the area included in commissioner precincts two and four of Coke County.

In addition to negotiating the bond sale, the board inspected a scale model of the proposed nursing home brought to the meeting by architect Louis Drake of San Angelo. The board authorized Drake to complete plans for building the home.

Main tasks before the board now are selection and purchase of a site and approval of plans for the home. They estimated these moves would be completed in six to eight weeks.

Following approval of the plans the board will have to advertise for bids and open them before the contract can be awarded and construction begun.

AUSTIN, Tex. — As the January 31 deadline for voters to register draws near, Secretary of State Martin Dies, Jr., the state's election officer, issued a "last call" to those who are 21 or over.

Registration is at the county tax assessor-collector's office, but in many counties, deputies have been set up at convenient locations. Persons over 60 who live in towns of less than 10,000 or in rural areas must re-register every year.

Under the old law, persons past 60 in small towns and rural areas did not have to register, but it is now ordinary every year. If they fail to register by Jan. 31, they will not be able to vote in this year's important elections.

Dies also pointed out that young people who will become 21 during 1970 can register before their 21st birthday. Tax office will mark on their registration certificate the date on which they will become 21 and therefore eligible to vote.

Both political parties and a number of civic groups are putting on registration drives, seeking a goal of more than 4 million registered voters this year.

OIL IMPORT WORRIES — Concern over possible federal elimination of oil import quotas caused state political and industry leaders to hoist new storm warnings.

New taxes and serious economic losses are in store for Texas if the Nixon administration scraps the import quota for the tariff system, say informed officials.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes called on the Legislative Budget Board staff to determine how much the removal of import barriers would reduce state revenue should oil prices tumble from $3 to $2.25 a barrel. Import problem, together with long range appropriation commitments, could create a "very, very grave" tax problem for the Legislature next year, Barnes said.

Gov. Preston Smith expressed a similar view in a press conference, terming the potential tax loss from tampering with import quotas "severe."

Democratic Senate candidate Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. predicted that state tax revenues, 40 per cent of which are derived from the petroleum industry, would "drastically decline" if the tariff system is imposed. He noted that many school districts also draw the bulk of their local revenues for public school support from the oil and gas industry.

Alvin Hope, San Antonio independent oil man, told the Texas Railroad Commission that proposals to reduce crude oil through a sliding scale tariff collected by the U. S. Treasury would be the "death knell of the domestic industry as we know it."

CAMPUS MADE — Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, had some jarring news for students.

Board voted tough new regulations to curb the "alarmingly-high" delinquency rate on repayments to the $285 million-Hinson-Hazelwood student loan program. Put into effect was a requirement that applicants (except in extreme hardship cases) have co-signers. Colleges may also lose their eligibility to continue their students participation in the program if they don't help police delinquencies.

A careful system of interviews, followups, parental signatures and required letters of recommendation also will be invoked.

Chairman Manuel DeBusk of Dallas, the new board chairman, said he thinks tuitions should be tied to a fixed increase cost of the overall program — which would mean a sharp increase.

DeBusk also recommended a separate board of regents for each undergraduate college and university. UT Chairman Frank C. Erwin Jr. replied that all boards have grave enough responsibility to keep them busy "without any unnecessary and wasteful rivalry."

GUBERNATORIAL RACE — Texans once again will have a choice between Preston Smith and Paul Eggers for Governor of Texas.

Governor Smith was first to announce. On the first anniversary of his swearing in, he stated that he would seek re-election.

Next day, Paul W. Eggers, Smith's Republican opponent in 1968, said he would make the race again.

Neither of the two men has an opponent in his respective primary, as yet.

RUNNELS BAPTIST MEN TO MEET FEBRUARY 3

The Runnels Association of Baptist men will meet Tuesday, Feb. 3 in the First Baptist Church in Winters.

The meeting will begin with a program at 7:15 p.m. Dr. Woodson Ames, secretary of the Christian Education Commission, will be featured speaker for the program following.

SAVINGS BONDS SALES

Texas has achieved 103 per cent of its goal of $170.1 million with year-to-date sales totaling $175,487,920. December sales were $13,997,243 while sales during the same period of 1968 totaled $13,070,587 — an increase of 7 per cent.

Bond sales over the Nation during 1969 amounted to $4,749 billion with 97 per cent of goal achieved. Sales of Freedom Shares totaled $348 million during 1969 — 26 per cent above the $277 million sold in 1968.

BITTER CRITTER — The Litter Critter, the Texas Highway Department's faithful sidekick in the battle against highway litter, now is making his appearance on colorful 17x22-inch posters. Litter pickup costs the Department $2 million a year. Schools, garden clubs and other organizations concerned about litter may obtain the posters from Highway Department District Offices, Tourist Information Bureaus or the Travel and Information Division, Texas Highway Department, Austin (78703). — TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT PHOTO 12/69.

Pecans

Pecans can become rancid. The high oil content which lends their characteristic rich flavor makes pecans very perishable.

To store pecans for year around us the cooler the place the better.

At room temperature (70 to 80 degrees) pecan meats keep fresh only two months. In the home freezer at zero-degrees, pecans will be in good condition for two years.

Before cracking pecans, soak them in water to increase the number of whole kernels obtained. Pour boiling water over the nuts and let them soak 15 to 30 minutes depending on the thickness of the shell.

Soaking makes the kernels more pliable so they hold together better during the shelling operation. Crack the pecans when the shells are dry.

Like meat, pecans supply protein, fat and B vitamins. One cup pecan halves has 740 calories.

Pecan flavor blends well with many foods: waffles for breakfast, soup or bread for lunch, con, salads, pastries and desserts for dinner.

Other ideas for using pecans: add chopped nuts to bread crumbs for casserole topping, use chopped nuts to top pumpkin pie in the last few minute of baking, or roll cheese balls in chopped nuts before serving.

Make nut-bread fingers to serve with salads by rolling fingers of buttered bread in chopped pecans. Or try mixing equal amounts of chopped pecans and chopped olives with mayonaise to moisten. Spread this on whole wheat bread for extra special sand wiches. A snack item that can be made and used weeks later is Spiced Nuts. They are excellent to have on hand to serve when company drops in for coffee.

Spiced Nuts

In a deep heavy skillet melt 2 sticks butter and stir in 4 cups walnut or pecan halves. Cook the nuts over low heat, stirring frequently, for about 20 minutes, or until the nuts are heated and lightly browned.

Into a paper bag sift together 3 cups confectioners' sugar and 2 tsp. each cinnamon, ground cloves and nutmeg. Remove the nuts from the skillet with a slotted spoon and drain them on paper towels. Add the nuts to the spiced sugar and toss them gently to remove the excess sugar. Spread the nuts on paper towels to cool.

New Dry Whole Milk Powder

Ten years of research have produced a new dry whole milk powder which may successfully meet the ultimates trial: it tastes like milk.

The product, Dairy Fresh, was developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture research engineers. In marketing tests it proved itself successful as a beverage.

Just about everyone who bought and used the new powder couldn't tell the difference between it and fresh fluid milk.

Nonfat dry milk powders are not new; they have been sold in supermarkets for years. But powdered whole milk, prior to Dairy Fresh, was not generally sold in retail outlets. It went mainly to institutional trade usually for cooking and baking.

Dairy Fresh is made by a continuous vacuum foam process which pasteurizes, homogenizes and concentrates whole milk and reduces it to powder. A can of the Dairy Fresh powder can be reconstituted to the equivalent of one quart of whole milk, with a butterfat content of 3.25 percent.

The powder can be stored under normal home refrigeration for six months. To reconstitute, homemakers add cold water to the powder in an electric mixer or shaker.

Virtually all Dairy Fresh users in the market test gave it high scores when asked to rate its taste, wholesomeness, cost and richness.

Three in 10 Dairy Fresh users considered the powdered milk less rich than fresh fluid milk, but the acceptance rate on the "ease of storage" point was overwhelming.

Acceptance of Dairy Fresh was evidenced in yet another way. More than 75 percent of the consumers who bought and used it said they planned to buy more. A followup interview showed that a third of the initial customers had actually made a second purchase.

The new powdered milk did not cut into another product's market.

At the price it was sold—four cents per quart below whole milk in 2-quart cartons — Dairy Fresh will open new outlets for milk in camping, resort homes and for special use. Fluid milk sales during the test period were not effected by Dairy Fresh.
