Bronte Firemen Plan Bulb Sale on June 19

Bronte firemen will conduct a house to house sale of light bulbs Friday, June 19, beginning at 6 p.m. They will also have fire extinguishers for sale.

They will carry a complete line of bulbs and will be able to supply any size needed.

The light bulb sale is the only method the firemen have of raising funds to carry on their work, and they are asking the cooperation of everyone in making the sale a success. They invite local residents to stock up on all the bulbs they will need for awhile. They would also like to sell a fire extinguisher to anybody who does not have one.

The firemen will have an ice cream supper following the sale.

AD-LIB-BEN

Readers may have noticed that we haven't had time in several weeks to write this column, and we don't this week either. However, we have a guest columnist this week.

So many persons have asked us about our daughter's adventure in South America that we decided to print part of a letter received Monday. Bennie Carol is spending the summer in Caracas, capital of Venezuela. Here's her dispatch:

Here I am in Caracas. We made it in fine after I talked to you from Miami.

We applied for four jobs yesterday, all teaching English as a second language. It seems that in all of their English classes they don't speak a word of Spanish, so it doesn't matter if the teachers can speak Spanish or not. One place said they would let us know and another almost promised us a position beginning the 1st of July (when classes start). We won't know for sure about the jobs at the American school until week after next. Mr. Morris said that he hoped we wouldn't go to work during June. He has a couple of weekend business trips plus a vacation to take us on.

Caracas is quite a city, 2 1/2 million people. We live near the U. S. Embassy. Our house is on the bottom floor of an apartment house. (There are millions of apartment houses; Caracas is known for them.)

The humidity is so high here that towels won't dry (neither will your hair) but it isn't uncomfortable. Patty and I went walking around during the worst of the heat about 3:30 today and it wasn't as bad as West Texas heat during the summer. The worst of the heat is from noon until 3 p.m. but no one notices because everything closes, including schools, shops, embassies, etc., and it is siesta time.

Caracas is surrounded by mountains and is beautiful. We went to a concert by students of the Institute last night of Venezuelan folk music. It was really good. It sounds like Latin music with Russian and Oriental mixed in too. I even understood some of the vocals. Pat made me read and translate the program. She is taking me to a Latin movie later. Tomorrow night Mel, a Peace Corps advisor, is taking us out to all the hard-rock boutiques here.

We are really in the tropics. There are all kinds of fresh fruit and vegetables. The Morrises bought us a dozen beautiful roses and got them for two bolivars (about 50c). There are delicious bananas, oranges, melons and fresh avacados.

Kickapoo Water District Removes Property Tax

An unusual occurrence took place June 4 when the board of directors of the Coke County Kickapoo Water Control and Improvement District met. The directors decided to remove the tax which citizens of the district have been paying.

D. K. Glenn, president of the board, said, "You know you've always heard that once a tax is levied, it never comes off. Well, we took this one off, which is a pretty rare thing, all right."

The tax for the water district was 30 cents per $100 valuation when the district was first created and had gradually been lowered through the years to only five cents last year.

Glenn said the board may find it necessary to levy a small tax again some time in the future, but "for now there's no tax for the water district."

The board, which is charged with looking after the dams on the Kickapoo Creeks north and west of Bronte, also voted to change their meeting schedule from monthly to quarterly.

Austin — Pollution of Texas beaches brought strong recommendations to Senate committees for curbs on offshore oil exploration, vigorous enforcement of anti-spill regulations and creation of a national oil company.

Senate beach and pipeline committees listened to a full day of testimony. Highlights included:

- * Complaint of pipeline committee consultant Terence O'Rourke that state agencies seldom file cases to collect fines for oil spill pollutions. O'Rourke said Texas would have a fund of "millions of dollars" from fines to combat pollution if strong enforcement were the rule. Railroad Commission Chief Enforcement Officer Roy Payne acknowledged under questioning that the Commission has never filed lawsuit to punish accidental pollution through spills.

- * Statement by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston that the oil industry should not be permitted to drill in coastal waters until it can give assurances it has technology to prevent spills.

- * Recommendation of Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur that double safety devices be installed on huge coastal rigs so emergency manual shut-offs could be used when automated equipment fails or is destroyed by fires.

- * Suggestion by Austin journalist Ronnie Dugger that a national oil company be established to produce oil on public lands. Dugger said former Gov. Ross Sterling, himself an oil company executive, as far back as 1931 had proposed the state drill its own oil and that President Nixon's task force wants the federal government to finance exploration and development of an emergency standby reserve.

- * Recommendation by governor's aide John Shanahan Jr. for tighter rules over oil industry operating in state waters and legislative designation of responsibility for oil spill contingency planning.

COURTS SPEAK — In district court cases at Houston and El Paso, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin won first judicial orders checking air pollution by trash burning and industrial smoke. Civil penalties were assessed in the Robert's Dump case, Houston. An El Paso smelting and refining firm was given deadlines for installing anti-pollution devices.

Supreme Court held that cities under 5,000 (Lindale) cannot annex territory without consent of the people living in the area.

High Court set July arguments on the issue of whether an insurance company (Allstate) issuing uninsured motorist coverage should be allowed to enter court against its own policy holder on the side of uninsured drivers to prove its client was partly at fault or his injuries less than claimed.

Supreme Court reversed the $42,892 judgment awarded a 79-year-old woman injured in a stairway fall at Houston's Astrodome.

Attorney General announced acceptance of voluntary compliance from a Beaumont housewares franchiser, agreeing to discontinue advertising and sales practices questioned as deceptive.

Should JP's be lawyer? — State Bar will take up a resolution at its San Antonio convention July 2 urging the legislature to require urban judges and jus-

Resolution suggests attorney qualifications for judges of counties over 50,000 and for JP's in counties over 200,000. Among other resolutions on the agenda is one seeking higher pay for lawyers in military service.

Regulatory authority sought — State Department of Agriculture has requested power to outlaw chemical compounds harmful to public health.

Commissioner John C. White also proposed in a meeting of the Interim Legislative Study Committee on Land Use and Environmental Control that the legislature regulate disposing of pesticides and chemical compounds that are no longer needed, no longer used or banned from use.

Committee called the meeting following a report on cumulative effects of the pesticide DDT on animals.

White repeated his previous statement that he knows of no case in which humans have been harmed as a result of the use of DDT in agriculture.

Same committee was told by a Florida biologist that oysters taken from the Arroyo Colorado area of Laguna Madre had the highest DDT concentrations of any in the nation. This, the biologist said, is a reflection of intense agricultural activity in the Rio Grande Valley. Oysters, according to the same authority, are not killed by DDT, but fish that eat them are.

A Texas Parks and Wildlife Department spokesman said hydrocarbons (such as DDT) cannot continue to be used without serious degradation of the world ecological system.

Obscenity Crackdown — Federal court in Dallas held that almost all of the new state obscenity control law is constitutional, and Attorney General Martin predicted a crackdown on distribution of obscene material will result.

Only section of the law invalidated was one allowing seizure of material without a hearing.

Ruling rejected requests for injunction by book stores and movie houses in Dallas, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Small Towns in Trouble — Noting preliminary census figures discouraging to many communities, Gov. Preston Smith said revitalizing the small towns of Texas may be tougher than starting them.

"Right now," said Smith in a speech at Crane, "the people of Texas—whether they live in the largest city or the smallest rural community—have some problems as tough for them as were those that confronted the 'frontier busters.' In many respects, our challenge and our task are more demanding and much more complex. The preliminary reports on the census of so many of our smaller cities spell out in box-car size letters that as much tenacity—just plain guts—is required to tackle that job as the old timers needed."

Short Shorts

School teachers attending in-service training during August must be paid at higher new salary schedules for 1970-71, Attorney General Martin held in a recent opinion.

Revenue from cigarette taxes increased $4,598,990 to $15,516,491 from May 1969, to May 1970, Treasurer Jesse James reports.

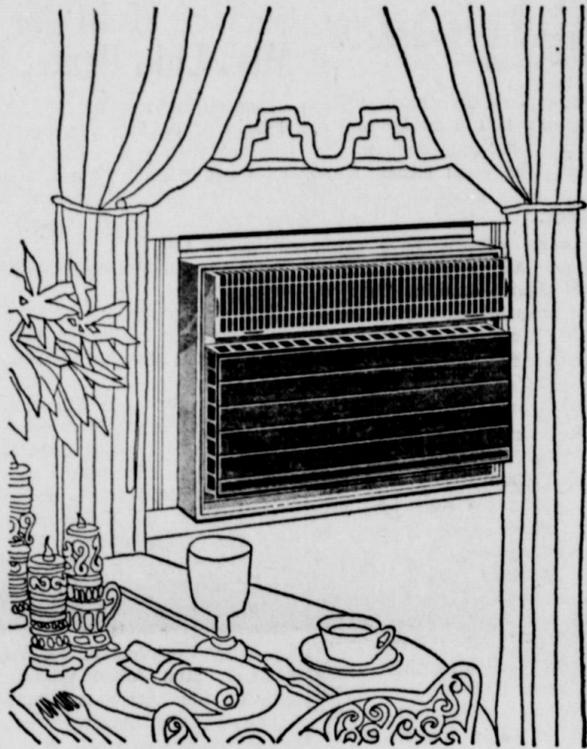

Removal of litter from Texas highways cost $1.9 million a year—enough to build 45 miles of farm to market roads or three miles of primary highways — says the Texas Highway Department.

Liberal Democrat "Rebuilding Committee" has launched a campaign against Democratic Gov. Preston Smith and Democratic Senate nominee Lloyd Bentsen.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington — A promise is hereby made that at some time or other something more cheerful will be written. It is not by choice to deal with the unpleasant and unpalatable but, at the moment, there seems to be no broad choice.

For instance, while our interest is more or less zeroed in on Southeast Asia, and while there is a build-up of concern for happenings in the Middle East, we may fail to have our attention drawn to things even closer to home.

One of these concerns is Russia's build-up of military potential in Cuba. There is good reason to believe that the Soviets are playing the venture into Cambodia and other areas in Southeast Asia at a low key for good reason. In the meantime, Russia appears to be shifting from a defensive role to one of an offensive character in Cuba.

It is reported that three Soviet bombers capable of carrying nuclear bombs for a distance of 8,000 miles are now stationed in Cuba.

From observations, military flights from the big Soviet naval base in Murmansk are bringing submarine replacement crews to Cuba where they board Russian submarines, which are known to cruise off our shores.

Reports of nuclear missiles in Cuba in 1962 were delayed for a considerable period of time which made the late showdown most serious. This appears to be the case at this time.

Perhaps the Russians think that internal dissension in the United States has weakened us to a point that we will not react to a shift in nuclear deployment and that a nuclear presence in Cuba, and in the Caribbean generally, will be ignored. This is one of the great dangers of the nature of the "dissent" which we have in our Nation.

It is, of course, publicly known that Kremlin has recently sent into the Caribbean Sea a naval task force believed to include missile bearing cruisers and destroyers. When this was officially known, and it was, the Administration should have taken the issue up publicly and forced out into the open that which has seemingly been ignored. This has been an invitation for the Russians to continue to probe for a strengthening of their position as close to the Western Hemisphere as possible. The official attitude seems to be to "play it cool" nearer to home than on the other side of the world.

It was while we were absorbed in controversy at home and elsewhere that the Soviets first sent naval units to within only 90 miles from our own shores. There has been no direct repercussions which are perceivable.

Whatever the reasoning behind it, it is pretty obvious that Russia's military is taking advantage of extending her forces in a most vital strategic position.

When it has been necessary for the United States to act in a confrontation with Russia, nothing has happened. It may not always be so but there are always certain risks to take. Imagine their reaction if we deployed nuclear carrying weapons into the Black Sea or Barents and Okhotsk Seas.

Those who see nothing but good intents on the part of the Soviet Union, reason that with their capability of launching an attack from their own soil, there should be no fear from nearby weapons. The question should follow such reasoning as to why they are expanding a force so near our Country. Sooner or later we could be placed under blackmail.

Possibility of Screwworms Cited

By Sterling Lindsey

The screwworm is showing up in places to near for us to feel safe from attack. Last week Bandera County reported four cases. The latest reports show single cases coming from El Paso and Crane Counties.

We need to be on the alert and make regular checks of our animals if this can be done. If a worm case of any kind shows up, we need to get a sample to the identification lab in Mission. Should anyone need a mailing carton and sample bottle, I have plenty. Just ask for them, and we will get them to you.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL SET AT METHODIST CHURCH

Spring Lamb Market Good

Coke County ranchers took some of the fattest range lambs in many years to market as the price strengthened and slaughter lambs brought more than feeders, for a change.

A strong feeder market during winter and early spring weakened as heavier lambs held steady. A dry spring broken by showers here and there in late May brought June in with largely clear skies, but with enough grass and weeds held over from the winter range to keep livestock in good range condition into the summer.

Some sold their wool under 40 cents a pound while others held it in warehouses as the shearing season came to a close in May.

Seventy-five to 85-pound lambs brought around $27.50 the first week in June and seemed to be holding steady with a strong movement of spring lambs to market. The special Monday slaughter lamb sales and the regular Tuesday and Wednesday lamb sales were well attended as over 30,000 moved to market the first week in June.
