Indian Shelter Marker Dedication Set For Sunday Afternoon at Bronte School

Coke County Historical Survey Committee will conduct a dedicatory ceremony Sunday at 3 p.m. for a newly erected historical marker. The program will be held in Bronte School auditorium. The marker to be dedicated has been erected at the intersection of Highways 277 and 70, about eight miles north of Bronte.

The marker will designate the Indian Rock Shelters, and is a "State Matching Fund" marker.

Ulmer S. Bird of Sanco, a Coke County historian and member of the county committee, will give the dedicatory address. Others on the program will include Sterling Lindsey, who will serve as master of ceremonies; the Rev. Fred Brown, pastor of Bronte First United Methodist Church, will give the invocation; Mrs. Bryan Yarbrough, president of the county committee, will give the history of one Rock Shelter. Boy Scouts will present the colors and lead the Pledge of Allegiance and Girl Scouts will assist Mr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Lara of Robert Lee, who are of Indian origin, in unveiling the marker. Singing will be led by Mrs. C. E. Arrott of Bronte, with Mrs. Wilson Bryan of Robert Lee at the piano.

An historical tour will follow the unveiling of the marker. Among points to be visited will be the Butterfield Trail Marker, the Fort Chadbourne Marker, the old Fort Chadbourne Cemetery and one Indian Rock Shelter near the cemetery.

The marker bears the following inscription.

INDIAN ROCK SHELTERS
Throughout this area during the last several centuries, rock ledges gave protection to Lipan, Kickapoo, Comanche, and Kiowa Indians. In one typical shelter archeologists found evidence of 2 periods of occupation, plus numerous intricate petroglyphs (rock carvings). River shells, turkey and deer bones, flint knives, scrapers, and points lay about the area. One of several hearths (2' x 3' in size) consisted of small pieces of sandstone lining a natural rock trough. On the highest level was found green bottle glass from nearby Fort Chadbourne (1852-1867).

The public has a cordial invitation to attend the program and the tour to follow.

BAND TO HAVE ANOTHER TRASH, TREASURES SALE

Bronte Band Booster Club is setting up another "Trash and Treasures" Sale for July 9, 10 and 11.

Club members held a similar rummage sale last summer and financed a good part of their year's program from the proceeds.

Mrs. Jack Glascock, Booster Club publicity director, said this week that they are announcing their plans early enough to give residents time to clean out closets, etc. and pick out items they want to donate to the band.

"We want anything which will be thrown away and not used," she said. A site for the sale has not been obtained, but an announcement will be made as soon as it is determined.

Mrs. Glascock said the school has donated some old desks to the sale and they will be available.

Rev. Kenneth Whitten

Whitten Accepts Louisiana Church

The Rev. Kenneth Whitten, pastor of Central Baptist Church for the past year and a half, has accepted the pastorate of Walnut Road Baptist Church in Springhill, La.

The family was loading their household belongings Thursday, and he said they would leave either Thursday night or early Friday morning.

Whitten said he and his wife and son have enjoyed living in Bronte and his work with the Central Baptist congregation had been particularly gratifying. "It was a hard decision to make (leaving Bronte) but I felt it was the thing we needed to do," the pastor said.

Rev. and Mrs. Whitten and their little son were honored with a church wide supper Wednesday night, and on Thursday night, their Sunday School class honored them with a barbecue supper at Bronte Park.

Whitten said Springhill is located about 50 miles northeast of Shreveport, close to the Arkansas line.

Dee Ann Percifull is in Houston where she underwent dental surgery last week. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Percifull, took her there and stayed until she was released from the hospital. She is recuperating in the homes of her brothers and their families, and expects to be released from the doctor's care soon and return home, possibly this weekend.

Directors of East Coke County Hospital District believe they have a legally constituted body with which to work since a judgment was rendered Monday in District Court by Judge Joe L. Mays.

Bob Davis of Austin, an assistant attorney general, was on

Junior Rodeo Set For This Weekend

Everyone is invited to attend the annual Junior Rodeo which will be held Friday and Saturday nights in the Bronte roping arena. The rodeo is sponsored by the Coke County Roping Club.

In addition to the usual events, there will be sessions of bareback bronc riding and bull riding for boys. Three roping events will include tie-down, ribbon and break away roping.

Girls events will include barrel racing, pole racing and flag racing.

Rodeo officials said they are expecting about 100 contestants from a wide area.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three top winners in each event, and a trophy will be given to the top boy and girl among the contestants.

Admission charge will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Church of Christ Bible School Set

Bronte Church of Christ will have a Vacation Bible School next week. Classes for all ages except teenagers will be held from 9-11 a.m., Monday through Friday. Teenagers will meet at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Refreshments will be served during an intermission in each one of the sessions.

Subject of the school will be "The Bible Tells Me So."

Transportation will be provided for children who wish to attend the morning sessions, and they are asked to watch for the yellow bus which will be used.

A special program will be held Friday night and the public is invited to attend. There will be a special treat for all the children following the program.

A spokesman for the congregation said that all young people in the community have a cordial invitation to attend the classes.

hand and conducted questioning of witnesses. Appearing on behalf of the district were Directors C. R. Blake, Wayman Percifull and Matthew Caperton.

County Attorney Frank C. Dickey Sr. plead the case before Judge Mays and asked that the district be declared legal. The judge's favorable declaratory judgment removed any doubt as to the legality of the district or issuance of its bonds.

Davis told directors that with the judgment in favor of the district, the attorney general's office would approve the sale of bonds.

A hearing scheduled for May 25 to clear up a cloud on the standing of the district as a legal entity, heard an objection brought on behalf of Joe George Wilkins of Bronte. The answer asked that the district be declared unconstitutional and illegal and that the bonds it proposed to issue also be declared illegal.

However, the objection was dropped some time ago and this paved the way for a smooth session Monday.

Blake, who is president of the board, said the group will meet Monday night to begin renegotiating sale of the bonds which were voted to finance a 32 bed nursing home. Renegotiation is necessary since the time allowed in the original contract between the district and Columbian Securities Corp. has expired.

The original snag hit by the board was when the attorney general refused to approve sale of the bonds on the grounds that the election creating the district was illegal because persons who had not rendered property for taxation were not allowed to vote.

Firemen to Sell Bulbs Tonight

Bronte firemen will call on all homes here Friday night when they conduct a light bulb sale. They will have all sizes of bulbs and hope to sell a good supply of bulbs to most Bronte residents. They also will have fire extinguishers for sale.

The light bulb sale is the mainstay for financing activities of the Volunteer Fire Department and the firemen request the cooperation of everyone in making it a success.

The firemen will have an ice cream supper following the sale.

Keys Open Auto Service Business

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Key are open for business in the building which formerly housed Home Motor Co. They have named their new business Bronte Auto Service.

The Keys are new residents of Bronte; he is a former resident of New Braunfels and she is from San Angelo. The couple is living in a trailer house which they have parked adjacent to the business building.

Key said they will continue to handle Mobil petroleum products and he will do tuneup and other repair work.

In an ad in this week's Enterprise they are announcing their new business and inviting everyone in the area to come by and get acquainted.

GOLFERS WIN AT RL

Ronnie Lee and Keith McCutchen took second place honors at the annual partnership golf tournament at Robert Lee. Their 136 was bested only by a San Angelo pair's 134.

J. W. Caudle and Roy Stout were first place winners in the first flight with 146.

Lake Spence Opens Saturday for Fishing

Lake E. V. Spence will be opened for fishing at 7 a.m. Saturday, June 20.

The reservoir, located above Robert Lee on the Colorado River, is owned by the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

R. A. Schooling, administrative assistant, said that the lake is being opened to sportsmen despite its modest level because larger fish need to be harvested. The district has been in consultation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission on stocking, and the TPWC has recommended that fishing now be allowed.

Until now the lake has been closed because low levels have made navigation hazardous since the lake is in process of filling up. He urged all boat operators to move at minimum speeds and with utmost caution. Because of the danger of snagging, no skiing will be permitted.

Schooling also urged fishermen to confine their activities to the District's public recreational areas at the north and south ends of the dam, or on old State Highway 158 at the southwest side of the lake. Signs are being erected to assist fishermen in finding these areas. Only the gravel roads at the north and south ends of the dam are suitable points for launching boats.

"Most of the areas around the lake are on private property," he said, "and we plead with sportsmen to be good sports and respect the rights and privacy of these land owners."

Permits, which cost 50 cents per day or $5 annually, are mandatory and will be available from patrolmen, the West Way Grocery in Robert Lee, or from bait dealers. Annual permits for Lake J. B. Thomas are good at Lake

E. V. Spence. A permit fee is charged because no tax revenue is available for development of recreation facilities.

Nettings by the Texas Parks and Wildlife management specialists have shown a good population of black bass three to four pounds, channel cat and yellow cat up to six and eight pounds. There also are white bass, striped bass, crappie and sun fish. Observations indicated that there is a need to thin out the larger fish population in order for the small forage fish to increase to a desired level.

The Robert Lee Dam was closed a year ago and the new reservoir stocked. Since then, however, there has been only one substantial rain on the watershed so that the lake has only about 20,000 acre feet of water. In the channel area near the dam, however, the water is over 30 feet deep. Around the flanks there is some brush, rocks, etc., which are at shallow depths. The entire lake, as was the pipeline and pumping system, was financed solely out of revenue bonds issued by the district.

Austin — Pressure from the courts may move the Legislature to massive election law reforms next year.

At least two major Texas cases which could have far reaching consequences for the state election processes and political system are pending in three-judge federal courts.

In one, Corpus Christi and San Marcos plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of the annual voter registration requirement and the Jan. 31 registration deadline. They ask reopening of registration after the June runoff primaries to allow voters until October to qualify for the November general election. More than 30 states already have a general election sign-up extension, and no state requires as early a close-off as Texas.

A second case tests validity of the candidates' filing fee system. An El Paso candidate for county commissioner and a Tarrant County candidate for county judge won places on the May primary ballot through court action when they pleaded they could not afford to pay the stiff filing fee.

A third case attacks the constitutionality of the statute denying aid to illiterate voters in marking ballots.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. acknowledges a great many changes are needed in the state election code. He is compiling a list of needs with an eye on court decisions and plans to contact legislators about them soon.

Dies indicates he is inclined to favor recommendation that May-June primary dates be shoved back until August and September (as some 14 states now provide).

He also tentatively likes the idea of making voter registrations good for four years.

And the state, believes Dies, "is going to have to reach the conclusion candidates cannot continue to completely finance primaries."

Legislative Decorum Eyed — A House committee studying ways to improve the legislature's decorum and public image indicated it wants curbs on the familiar practice of lawmakers' voting for absentees on an electronic machine.

Committee members couldn't bring themselves to condemn "proxy" voting for members absent from the floor for a few minutes to take telephone calls from constituents. But they frowned on votes cast for legislators who are truants from the capitol.

Committee, headed by Rep. John E. (Ned) Blain of El Paso, discussed a variety of proposals to make the House of Representatives look and act better.

Among other major suggestions: a glassed-in spectators' gallery, desk-to-desk floor telephone communications and overhead projectors to display hasty floor amendments to legislation.

Drug Memo Signed — High-ranking state officials signed a "memorandum of understanding" with the U. S. Department of Justice Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Memorandum formalizes the present working agreement and outlines areas of responsibility for state agencies and the federal bureau in which mutual efforts and cooperation will be necessary or desirable.

Overall purpose of the memorandum is to establish and maintain effective working arrangements between the state and the federal bureau to hold to a minimum diversion of narcotics and dangerous drugs from legal channels to illicit traffic. Most of the stimulants and depressants sold illegally originated from legitimate foreign or domestic channels.

Courts Speak — Texas Supreme Court heard arguments as to whether it should uphold a district court decision that the Texas obscenity control law is unconstitutional.

By a six to three decision, High Court held that a man could not recover damages although an Arlington hospital nurse fed him solid food soon after a colon operation.

A suit for $43,600, against a life insurance company that issued a policy on a quarter horse, was refused by the Supreme Court because the company was not notified immediately when the animal became ill.

High Court ruled for Grand Prairie in a 3,000 acre annexation dispute with Arlington.

Court refused to hear the appeal of an Austin teenager dismissed from school after he was caught with marijuana in his pockets.

Attorney General Rules — Raza Unida Party in Hidalgo County cannot get its local candidates on the November ballot unless it gathers new petitions from non-participants in other party primaries, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Teacher Retirement System Board of Trustees has authority to invest its trust funds in home office facilities, land and equipment used for administering the system, to manage and control facilities and pay expenses for operating, maintaining, repairing and improving them.

* Election officers named to hold district school trustee elections must hold a regular election for county school trustees and are to be compensated by the school district which also pays for election supplies out of the maintenance fund.

Hospital Funds Distributed — State Board of Health allocated $1,477,880 to 12 applicants for federal Hill-Burton health facilities construction funds. Projects included:

West Coke County Hospital, Robert Lee, $38,295 and Sterling County Hospital, $38,900.

Hill-Burton program pays up to 50 per cent of cost of construction or modernization of hospitals and other health facilities in areas of critical need.

Short Snorts

Governor Smith directed a $1.2 million highway fund transfer to reinforce the Department of Public Safety budget.

Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy invites suggestions on revenue sources and making tax laws more efficient, equitable.

Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness turned down Governor Smith's request to declare San Marcos a disaster area for flood damage aid.

Parks and Wildlife Department authorized $127,509 in spending for beach cleaning and maintenance in Galveston, Brazoria County and Nueces County.

Couple Injured In Sunday Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neal Bell of Golphwaite were injured in a one-car accident about 8 p.m. Sunday. The accident occurred on Highway 208 about four miles north of Robert Lee.

Mrs. Bell was driving the car when it ran off the right side of the highway. She apparently lost control of the vehicle, as it went off the left side of the highway through a fence and hitting a telephone pole. The car turned completely over landing back on its wheels.

The couple were taken to West Coke County Hospital for treatment. He was released Monday, but she is still receiving treatment for head injuries.

Patrolman Bobby Hart, Sheriff Melvin Childress and Constable Ollie Roe investigated the accident.

Flanagan Reviews Boating, Fishing Rules As New Lake Opens at Robt. Lee

R. L. Flanagan of Robert Lee, state game warden, said this week that with the opening of Lake Spence Saturday for fishing, he would like to call attention to some of the laws concerning the operation of boats on this lake as well as others in the state.

The following excerpts have been taken from a Digest of the Texas Water Safety Act:

Certificate of Number

When your motorboat is in operation, your certificate of number or facsimile thereof must always be aboard and available for inspection by an enforcement officer.

Display of Number

The number awarded to your motorboat must be painted, decaled, or otherwise affixed to both sides of the bow of the boat in such position as to provide easy identification. The number shall read from left to right, must be in block characters of good proportion not less than three inches in height, and must be of a color that contrasts with the background. The 4 numerals must be separated from the prefix and suffix by hyphens or equivalent spaces. Federal and State law prohibits any other number from being displayed on either side of the bow of your boat.

Lifesaving Devices

One Coast Guard approved life preserver, buoyant vest, ring buoy, or buoyant cushion in good and serviceable condition for each person on board must be in the boat at all times. Ski belts are not approved. Any approved device has a Coast Guard number imprinted upon it.

Lights

All motorboats 14 feet in length or less and propelled by motors 10 horsepower or less shall be exempt from lighting provisions except that they shall be required to have a white light to exhibit between the hours of sunset and sunrise. Larger boats are required to

Mirrors

Every motorboat towing a person or persons on water skis, aquaplane or similar device shall be equipped with a rearview mirror of a size no less than four inches in measurement from bottom to top or across from one side to the other. Such mirror shall be mounted firmly so as to give the boat operator a full and complete view beyond the rear of his boat at all times.

Fire Extinguishers

A fire extinguisher will be required if one or more of the following conditions exist: (1) Closed compartment under thwarts and seats wherein portable fuel tanks may be stored. (2) Double bottoms not sealed to the hull or which are not completely filled with floatation material. (3) closed living spaces. (4) Closed storage compartments in which combustible or flammable materials are stored. (5) Permanently installed fuel tanks.

Approved types of fire extinguishers are identified by any of the following:

(a) Make and model number. Check markings on nameplate against listing under company's name in the Coast Guard Equipment Lists Booklet CG-190.

(b) "Marine Type" marking. Check nameplate for Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., marking "Marine Type USCG" followed by the Coast Guard classification of "B-1 or B-11."

(c) Coast Guard approval number. Check for marking of Coast Guard approval number on nameplate.

Flanagan said there are other regulations, but the above cover items most frequently violated. He said he would be glad to discuss any question with anybody who has doubts about the provisions of the law. Also, he said he would be glad to check out anybody's boat to make sure it comes up to requirement.

Fishing Licenses

Flanagan pointed out that any person, 17 to 65 years of age, is required to have a fishing license, except anyone fishing in the county in which he resides may fish without a license with a cane pole, throw line, or trot line.

WASHINGTON
 "As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
 Congressman
 17th District

Washington — It was one of those evenings of gusty winds and intermittent downpours. A three-quarter moon seemed to enjoy dodging in and out of the clouds.

Inside the brightly lit grocery store six carts of groceries were lined up behind each of the two open check-out counters. Before each cart stood people who looked tired and bored waiting their turn.

First in line was a lady with two small children clinging to her. Her accent suggested that she was Puerto Rican. Both she and the children watched attentively as each item was rung up at the register. After the obnoxious and repetitive clanging and that cash registers make, finally produced the final bill. The woman took a final look at the white figures on the spinning wheels and then in her ear. In a soft voice she said to the checker, "I have got to get something back." The little girl at her side looked up at the others, not realizing their red and impatient attitude.

Doubtless the checker had been through this before and tried to be helpful and even very.

"How much are you short?" asked the woman.

"It was the check," she said. "It wasn't as much this time."

With the checker's help they looked over her cart of groceries.

There was a large bag of hamburger meat. There was a box of laundry powder and two loaves of yesterday's bread, which can be bought for 10c off the regular price.

Then there were some fresh vegetables, some toilet tissue and a quart of skim milk. Included were potatoes, wieners and a large box of cereal. There were several packs of soft drinks, some peanut butter and king sized cans of beans.

The eyes of the two, the woman and the checker, went over the items almost one by one.

Back to the shelves went a jar of red cherries, two or three oranges, some vanilla ice cream and a jar of jelly.

Back went about everything that makes things a little nicer to improve on the plebeian.

The woman was still a dollar short, so back went the peanut butter and one carton of Kool Aid, and maybe another little item.

Watching all this without doing anything is kinda difficult. Maybe some didn't care but there was the urge to step forward and pay this little bit for the woman because the children were watching. It wouldn't do—so nothing is said. The woman looked back at the rest of us and it seemed the most to be done was to smile and try to impart the thought, "don't be embarrassed, I've been caught short too."

Then she goes out into the rain with the children close beside her. At home she will cook the hamburger and the beans but there won't be any ice cream or red cherries or the jelly or oranges.

There is a lurking guilt but a man in line shakes his head and mumbles, "Those people never know what they want."

The woman would not be interested in the theories of inflation. There are a lot of them but you can't eat them. She would not be interested that food, as related to over-all living costs, is lower than other essentials. Washington thrives on statistics. People who have to put the nice little items back on the shelf and see the disappointment in their children's eyes can't live on these statistics which come from averages and generalities. Because we have to have it every day we are aware that food prices are high and that inflation continues to be one of the greatest problems of the country.

A number of remedies have been applied and more are talked about, but relief is slow in coming. Those who have money can afford it; those with none can usually draw on programs of assistance; the large number in between—those on fixed or modest incomes, which includes most of us—are feeling the pinch.

Hay needs to be cut while it is young and tender. Young plants are palatable and highly digestible, but become tough and stemmy when they approach maturity.

These suggestions are offered on timing of the hay harvest. For sudan, sudan-sorghum hybrids, johnsongrass, native grasses and similar plants, cut them in the boot stage or just before the seedheads emerge.

Most spring hay crops contain high amounts of moisture when cut at the preferred stage. And the weather is often rainy, cloudy and cool and the ground moist; thus creating curing problems.

There isn't much you can do about the weather but something can be done about maintaining the quality of the hay. The use of hay conditioners reduces curing time by as much as one-half; thus the crop can usually be cut and cured at the right time with little or no rain damage.

Once again it is time for ranchers and others to guard against fire, a hazard to rangeland during the hot summer months.

Good moisture during the spring has resulted in good vegetative growth in most areas of the state, and the high temperatures and summer dry period will result in optimum fire conditions.

There are solutions that will help prevent a damaging fire, motorists can make sure all cigarettes are put out and placed in the ashtray instead of thrown out the window; recreationists can be careful with camp fires; land owners can build fire guards, have sprayers and other fire fighting equipment in good repair and readily available. The local fire departments and the sheriff's office should be contacted as soon as possible once a fire is spotted.

This area of the state is destined to increase its use of fertilizers in the years ahead. This is particularly true of grazing crops and other crops that will respond readily to additions of nitrogen.

Production of top quality forage for grazing, hay or silage requires that the plants have access to adequate supplies of all the essential plant nutrients the plant nutrient used in the largest quantity by forage crops is nitrogen.

Each ton of air dried forage, testing 12.5 per cent crude protein, contains 40 pounds of nitrogen. According to authorities this 40 pounds can come from a number of different sources such as decomposition of organic matter, carryover or residual from previous fertilization or from the current fertilizer application.

Generally speaking, at least 60 pounds of nitrogen are required for each acre harvested. This means that additional nitrogen must be added immediately following each harvest or grazing period since most soils are low in this nutrient.

The ultimate source of all nitrogen used by plants is nitrogen gas, the inert gas that comprises about 78 per cent of the earth's atmosphere. However, only properly inoculated legumes are capable of utilizing this elemental gas, which totals about 35,000 tons above each acre of the earth's surface.

Plants use nitrogen at nitrate or ammonium. All inorganic nitrogen sources, regardless of original form, are rapidly converted into the nitrate form when incorporated into soils that have the pH, temperature and moisture conditions favorable for nitrification.

For this reason, nitrogen sources are usually about equal in agronomic response when "mixed into" the soil just prior to the period when used by the crop. This holds true for all sources, as well as for solids, liquids or gas-ses. Solids or liquids put on the surface and carried into the soil by irrigation water or rain give similar results.

Nitrogen recovery, under field conditions by the crop to which it is applied will vary from about 50 per cent to above 75 per cent, with the average for Texas being between 60 and 70 per cent.

When considering nitrogen sources for surface application consideration should be given to the nitrogen source. Evidence from research work indicates that urea, solid or in solution, is less effective than ammonium sulfate, which in turn is slightly less effective than ammonium nitrate, because of volatilization losses which may occur when pH, moisture, temperature and air movement are critical.

All nitrogen fertilizers should be incorporated into the soil. When incorporation is not feasible, care in matching the nitrogen source to conditions that minimize volatilization loss is necessary.
