Funeral Service Friday For L. T. Youngblood

Funeral services for L. T. Youngblood, 84, will be held at 3 p.m. today (Friday) in the First Baptist Church in Bronte. The pastor, the Rev. Harry K. Morris, and pastor of Tennyson Baptist Church, the Rev. C. R. Blake, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Newby Funeral Home.

Mr. Youngblood, Bronte banker for 48 years, died at 8:10 p.m. Wednesday in Bronte Hospital after a brief illness. His death was attributed to a stroke.

He was born in Milam County on Nov. 18, 1886, lived for a time as a child at Bastrop and moved with his parents in 1890 to Hylton in Nolan County. He graduated from high school there and went to a business college in Waco. He operated a barber shop in Sweetwater and Blackwell prior to his banking career. He was married to Alma Mahaffey at Mt. Vernon, Tex., Nov. 27, 1913.

He began his banking career in 1909 as a bookkeeper for First State Bank at Blackwell and advanced to cashier and president of the firm before it was consolidated with the Bronte bank. During this time he attended Texas A&M College for one year.

He took over as president of the First National Bank in Bronte in 1922, and continued to be associated with the Blackwell bank. He moved his family from Blackwell to Bronte in 1927 when the Bronte and Blackwell banks were consolidated. He has been actively associated with the bank until the time of his death, serving as president and, for the last several years, as chairman of the board of directors.

Besides his banking and civic interests, Mr. Youngblood has long been associated with solving water problems in this area and West Texas. He was appointed a member of the Upper Colorado River Authority in 1936 and has served on that board continuously since that time. He served as vice chairman for nine years and in 1945 was named chairman. He headed the water board until 1964, and has served as a member since. His position made it possible for him to be a prime force in providing water systems for Bronte, Robert Lee and other communities served by the UCRA.

He has been an active member of First Baptist Church and taught the Men's Bible Class there until last year, when he retired after more than 37 years' service.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and was a Shriner, and a member of the Noon Lions Club. Mr. Youngblood was honored in 1968 by his fellow townsmen when the mayor of Bronte proclaimed "L. T. Youngblood Day" in recognition of his countless hours of work in serving the city and the citizens of Bronte.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. E. F. (Mary) Glenn and Mrs. Charlie (Virginia) Boecking, both of Bronte; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Jesse Parker, Edward Cumbie, Clark Glenn, Floyd Farther, E. L. Caperton, Leonard Fletcher, Robert Forman and J. B. Mackey. The entire membership of the Men's Bible Class will be honorary pallbearers.

Trackmen Third In Angelo Relays

Bronte High School tracksters placed third in Division IV of the San Angelo Relays last weekend. The locals had 26 points and followed Sonora with 65 and Kress with 32.

Danny Cooper won first in the high jump with a leap of 5-9 $\frac{1}{2}$. He also placed third in the 120 yard high hurdles. The 440 yard relay team placed fifth with a time of 46.0, and the 880 yard relay team was third. Bobby Skelton of Bronte was fifth in the broad jump with a distance of 20-11 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The team will participate in a meet at Robert Lee this Saturday with the district meet scheduled for April 16 in Ballinger.

Three separate elections will be held in Bronte Saturday, with balloting in all three in designated areas of the Bronte City Hall. To be voted on are three trustees for Bronte Independent School District and three trustees for the county school board; two aldermen for the Bronte City Council; and two directors for the East Coke County Hospital District.

A voting box for the school election will also be set up at Green's Store at Tennyson.

No contests developed in any of the elections. Wayne Arrott, James Arnold Tidwell and Bobby E. Wrinkle are on the ballot for school trustee. Arrott and Tidwell are incumbents. Wrinkle's name was filed for the place being vacated by Dale Thompson, whose term expires this year.

In the county trustee election, D. K. Glenn's name is on the ballot for trustee-at-large; Royce Lee's for trustee for Precinct 2, and C. E. Arrott from Precinct 4. Arrott and Glenn are presently serving on the county board while Noah Pruitt Sr. is retiring as trustee for Precinct 2.

Jerry Parker and Bill Thomas are on the ballot for the City Council. Both are presently serving on that city board.

In the hospital district election, the names of E. F. Glenn and C. E. Bruton will be on the ballot. Glenn is present treasurer of the board. Bruton's name was filed for the vacancy created when Matthew Caperton did not file for reelection.

Election judges include Noah Pruitt Sr., hospital election; Mrs. Otis Smith, Bronte, and Mrs. Tom Green, Tennyson, school election; and Don Bailey, city election.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Hospital Board to Reorganize

The board of directors of East Coke County Hospital District will meet Tuesday night, April 13, to canvass the election returns and reorganize the board.

Lions Broom Sale Set for Saturday

Bronte Noon Lions Club will have their annual broom sale Saturday on the corner in front of First National Bank. A large assortment of merchandise will be available at the sale. Most local residents are acquainted with the merchandise, since the sale has been held annually for a number of years.

Lions will make a house to house canvass of the town and the Oak Creek Lake area, and buyers may make their purchases either at the van in town or wait at home for the Lions to call.

Dozens of items will be on sale, including all types of brooms, mops, brushes, ironing board covers, door mats, and many other useful items. An ad in this week's Enterprise lists the items for sale and customers are invited to check the list and decide what they need to purchase.

Proceeds will go to the blind persons who make the merchandise and to the Lions Club. The club will use the money for its projects which benefit the entire community.

The sale will open at 8 a.m. Saturday and continue until late afternoon.

HONOR ROLL CORRECTIONS

Some errors occurred when the school honor rolls were published last week. Randy Leigh, fifth grade, and Tim Scott, sixth grade, should have been included on the B honor roll. Becky Coalson should have been listed on the A, rather than the B honor roll.

Methodists Plan Special Services

Pre-Easter Ecumenical Services will be held again this year at First United Methodist Church of Bronte. The series of meetings will begin next Tuesday night and continue through Friday night. All services begin at 7:30 p.m. and the public is cordially invited to attend, said the Rev. Fred Brown, pastor.

The speaking schedule includes: Tuesday, April 6, the Rev. Kevin Heyburn, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Rowena; Wednesday, April 7, Paul Faulkner, minister and professor of New Testament at Abilene Christian College; Thursday, April 8, Dr. W. O. Beazley, administrative associate to the president of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; and Friday, April 9, the Rev. Walter C. Probst, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in Winters.

Title for the series of services is "From Passion to Good Friday."

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Caperton have purchased the W. D. McDonald home on the San Angelo highway in south Bronte. They moved into their new home last weekend.

Bronte Girls District Volleyball Champions

Both Bronte junior girls and senior high girls won the district volleyball meet held here last Thursday. The high school girls will advance to the first round of regional play with Eola there Tuesday, April 6, at 7 p.m. Junior high teams do not compete beyond the district level.

Games as they unfolded here last week included:

Bronte Junior High vs. Blackwell. Bronte won 15-7. Scoring for the locals were Kim Arrott 5, Sherrie Coalson 4, Marla Thompson 3, Shalon Cooper 2, Tonja Hubbard 1. Scoring for Blackwell were Rebecca Clark 2, Marketa Sissom 2, Debra Hibbs 2, and Susan Ely 1.

In the second game between the teams, Bronte won 15-4. Scoring for Bronte were Julie Snead 3, Thompson 10, Coalson 2. Hibbs made 4 for Blackwell.

Bronte High School vs. Blackwell. Bronte topped the scoring 15-5. Local scorers were Dana Lee 4, Sallie Richards 3, Susan Cumbie 4, Jolene Vaughn 1, Cathy Bryan 2, Melissa Lee 1. Blackwell scorers were Cindy Robertson 3, Hibbs 1, Romine 1.

In their second encounter Bronte defeated Blackwell 15-4. Making scores for Bronte were D. Lee 7, Richards 1, Cumbie 1, Vaughn 3, and Bryan 3. Hamilton and Robertson scored 1 each for Blackwell and Finley made 2.

In the next group of games

Sterling City Junior High beat Forsan Junior High in two games, 15-12 and 15-7. In the high school games, the Forsan girls came out on top of Sterling City, 15-8 and 15-2.

Bronte and Water Valley met in the next round of games.

Bronte Junior High won handily, 15-0 and 15-5. In the first game Cooper made 14 and Arrott 1 for Bronte. Scoring honors in the second game were divided with Cooper making 8, Arrott 1, Thompson 1, Leah Barbee 1, Rebecca Morris 2, and Rebecca Brown 2.

The senior high locals won two straight, 15-3 and 15-0, over Water Valley. Scoring for Bronte

AD-LIB-BEN

The unexpected death of L. T. Youngblood is a tragic loss to the Bronte community and to West Texas. His efficient and conscientious service and progressive ideas will be sorely missed by the business community, civic groups and his church. Most of all he will be missed by his family and friends.

Mr. Youngblood was the second man we met when we came to Bronte to see about buying the Bronte Enterprise. We had to meet the previous owner first, and then we had to see the banker about borrowing the money to make a down payment. It was on a Sunday morning almost 23 years ago. We went to the Youngblood home, after being warned to make it snappy because Austin — Senate hearings on a multi-hundred-million-dollar tax bill are under way, and where they stop nobody knows.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes indicated they may continue for a week or two.

Key argument as hearings opened centered on whether the state should have a corporation income tax.

Texas economy will be slowed down by the corporate levy, argued Tom Sealy of Midland, representing the new Texas Association of Taxpayers, at hearings before the State Affairs Committee.

Corporate profits tax, countered AFL-CIO President H. S. (Hank) Brown, will meet revenue needs and "create balance between corporate and consumer taxes."

Sealy backed the House-passed increase of sales tax from 3.25 to four per cent, but said his group needs more time to formulate a complete tax plan.

Brown favored a six per cent corporation profits tax, which he said would raise $600 million over the next two years.

Business, said Sealy, already pays 34 per cent of the state sales tax.

Consumer and non-business interests, said Brown, pay 62 per cent of all state taxes, while business pays 31.7 per cent in direct levies, including its share of the sales tax.

Minimum tax bill, said Sen. A. M. Aiken Jr. of Paris, based on the Senate's Finance Committee budget proposals, would be $643 million for the coming biennium. Lieutenant Governor Barnes said he hopes to have the tax bill on the Senate floor for debate by April 12.

House of Representatives, said Appropriations Committee Chairman Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah, will have the budget bill ready for debate by Easter.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court upheld an injunction against a Coleman businessman who sold liquor and food in the same building. Texas attorney general's office is studying the case to determine how far reaching it is.

High court rejected a Bryan discount store's appeal to stop district judge from ordering it closed for failing to observe Sunday blue laws.

Court of Criminal Appeals held in a San Patricio County case that inmates serving life sentences are eligible for parole after 15 years if sentenced before the 1967 change of law.

Same court, reversing its own ruling, knocked out murder conviction of two men for a Weslaco knife slaying.

AG OPINIONS — A special district judge elected during one term of court who continues to serve without objection during the next term without being re-elected by members of the Bar should be paid for all his services, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Bill to allow counties to collect either a county registration fee of $5 per vehicle or personal property taxes on the vehicle is unconstitutional.

* State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers does not have authority to make and enforce a rule requiring every applicant for a professional engineer's license to take a written examination.

* Bill authorizing state supported colleges and universities to close a street or alley running through the campus would be valid and a constitutional law.

* A barber school teacher may be employed in more than one school.

* Commissioners Court has authority to sell unmaturing U. S. government bonds belonging to the permanent school fund of the county for their present market value if the value is now in excess of the price paid for the bonds yet less than par value.

CRIME FUNDS RECEIVED — Texas has received an additional $10.78 million for funding crime fighting projects in the state during fiscal 1971.

Texas' plan sets out a five-year program for upgrading criminal justice with 12 broad programs subdivided into 62 categories. Funds are administered by the governor with advice of a 22-member Criminal Justice Council.

INSURANCE PAYBACK ORDERED — Attorney General Martin has directed 105 insurance companies to pay back $2 million in premiums to state political subdivisions for property damage liability coverage.

Martin advised the companies they issued policies in violation of the Texas constitution. Under the tort claims act, Martin noted, local governmental units are liable only for personal injury liability in connection with motor vehicle accidents and not for property damage.

Attorney general said he intends to file suit within 10 days if premiums are not returned to the local governmental units. Course of action was determined before Martin was hospitalized with a heart attack.

DEATH TOLL RELEASED — Department of Public Safety said 3,560 Texans died on streets and highways in 1970, nine more than for 1969.

In addition to the death toll, there were 223,000 injuries last year, about the same as in 1969. Economic loss from traffic mishaps was $1,042,200, compared with $955,300 in 1969.

DPS noted there were many more miles traveled in 1970 than in the previous year.

Short Snorts

Senate moved fast to ratify the federal constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18; House approval also was likely.

Bill to create "permanent" voter registration system passed the Senate.

Senate also okayed a measure designed to give students more flexibility in repaying student loans and to let the loans be insured under a federal program.

Governor Smith says emergency drought assistance for many areas of Texas is expected to be recommended soon by U. S. Department of Agriculture State Defense Committee.

Texas cities levying local sales taxes collected $39.6 million for last quarter of 1970, reports the State Comptroller.

House Speaker and Mrs. Gus F. Mutscher are parents of an 8 pound, 10 ounce son, the first to be born to the speaker for the House while he was serving.

WASHINGTON

"As it looks from here"

OMAR BURLESON

Congressman
17th District

Washington — For two centuries we have assumed that the issue of "taxation without representation" was settled when American colonists broke from British rule to establish the United States of America. In our republic it was decreed taxes would always be controlled by the elected representatives of the people.

The architects of government could hardly have envisioned how a serious gap could develop between theory and practice in assuring taxpayers of this protection. Local, state and federal governments, along with their budgets, have grown and a system has developed to diminish control over expenditures. Local governments find much of their budget dictated by its participation in Federal aid programs. At the Federal level, where so many strings of responsibility gather, Congress bows to a host of recurring spending requirements, all built in by long range commitments. In the budget for the coming Fiscal Year, there is this type of spending amounting to close to $100 billion over which there is really no discretion.

"Taxation without representation" in colonial times was a battle cry against a monarch across the seas. As we view our current tax bills, of which we are all soon to be painfully reminded, we can direct complaints closer to home. Over the years, we have allowed to develop an abdication of authority by creating ungovernable demands on the public purse.

It is perfectly well to meet a portion of our local needs by voting bonds to pay for them. It is a capital investment to improve our community facilities serving all people alike. This becomes a matter of collective community judgment.

Likewise, it is a matter of collective judgment to contribute to efforts to promote our personal and collective interests. An example is farmers and ranchers spending their own money to promote their products. We have a program which by vote, cotton farmers permit a collection of $1.00 per bale to develop new uses for cotton. On April 19-30, goat raisers will decide if they want 1½ cents deduction per pound for the promotion of the use of mohair. Sheep raisers will decide on June 7-18 whether they are for or against 1½ cents deduction per pound for wool and 7½ cents per hundredweight on lamb, in order to continue deductions to promote the use of this natural fiber and to promote sale of lamb in the market place.

This is self-help and the idea of doing something for themselves.

The DuPont Company and other big synthetic manufacturers have been spending millions for 20 to 30 years in developing man-made fibers in competition with natural fibers and have taken away a goodly part of the market.

The sheep and goat industry is a highly important part of the agricultural economy of Texas. It is an amazing statistic that 97 per cent of all the goats in the United States are raised in Texas and about 50 per cent of all the goats in the world are in our state. The sheep industry and its tremendous importance to Texas is in need of promotion and unless the raisers are willing to take the initiative it is not likely anyone else will. This is true both in the uses of wool, as well as lamb for the table.

From all indications there is a great potential for the use of lamb in the markets of cities which have not been exploited to the extent necessary to keep a healthy sheep and goat industry.

Our sheep and goat people can have an effective promotion program which they finance themselves. In a way it is a self-imposed tax but it also buys good representation in commerce for the sale of their products on which they depend for a livelihood.

I was in Abilene Monday attending the District VII Professional Improvement meeting. Highlight of the day was a luncheon at Old Abilene Town and a tour of the Aileen Manufacturing Company. The group saw various fiber blends of knits made from the thread to the finished garments. The knitted fabric was treated in a solution heated to 375 degrees, then cooled. The entire process of making knits was fascinating. The next meeting was set for Johnson City on May 24

Mrs. Bill Schroeder and Miss Deone Derrick were in Colorado City Saturday afternoon when they assisted with judging in the Mitchell County 4-H Food Show. Deone is a member of the Future Leaders 4-H Club of Robert Lee and was winner in the Coke County Food Show held early in March.

Protecting the Consumer

A Texas consumer doesn't have to be prey to shady business practices.

All he has to do is follow a few guidelines established by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney general's office in Austin.

The Consumer Protection Division, which functions to protect the consumer against illegal business activities, advises that the consumer never sign anything he has not read or cannot understand. Once you sign your name, you may be bound by legal obligation, even though it was not fair or honest.

Never sign a blank contract or one not filled out. If there are blank spaces where words or numbers can later be inserted, you will have no way of knowing what might be added or if the original meaning of the contract will be altered.

Turn off a high pressure salesman by asking him to leave and come back later after you have had time to think over his offer. Once he has left, call the Better Business Bureau to check out his firm.

Compare prices and bids. Reputable businessmen are happy to give estimates and make bids. But be sure to have the bid in writing, then make up your mind. Be cautious of out of town dealers selling door to door. Call an established dealer in your area for a comparative price.

Parent-Teen Communication

Parent - teen communication doesn't have to be for the birds.

Parents can tune in on their teen-ager's wave length if they follow some simple guides in family relationships.

Parents should teach values by setting an example for their teen. Children, in turn, will judge and adopt these values according to how they work in the day to day examples parents establish.

Although teens are capable of freedom, privileges and responsibility, they still need some supervision and guidance. Letting the teen help you decide what limits and policies should be made will help him feel more responsible.

Parents should take an active interest in their teen-agers' activities and friends. Talk to your teen and his friends, read up-to-date articles on adolescent behavior, goals and motivation, listen to his music—all with an open mind. Give your teen a chance to express his point of view.

Respect the adolescent's desire for individuality, independence and privacy. Don't try to mold him into what you think he should be. Respect him as a person and as an individual, even though you might not accept all his ideas.

Communicate, in words and actions, what you expect of your teen-ager. He needs to know where his parents stand and what they expect of him.

Don't overact. Too often parents may punish severely, bottling up trust and losing confidence in their teen-ager. Such action will destroy the lines of communication. Remember that an adolescent tries to assert himself to determine his competence, and occasionally test authority. Even though he will make mistakes, this is a natural part of becoming independent and learning what life is all about.

BRONTE MAN FEATURED ON NEW RECORD

The Grand Recording Co. of Quincy, Mass., has recently released a record in this area which tells a story of a Bronte man. Joe Hester, well known blacksmith and expert at shoeing horses is featured in the song, "Horseshoe Joe," written by J. D. Taylor for Blackwell.

Taylor said he was a little embarrassed when he found out the northern artist who recorded the song mispronounced Bronte. Taylor said anyone who wants to hear the record can send in a request to Radio Station KRUN, Ballinger. Just request to hear "Horseshoe Joe," he said.

Home Ec Girls Plan Observance Of FHA Week

Future Homemakers of America in Bronte High School and all over Texas will join with the 600,000 FHA members across the country in observing National FHA Week March 28 through April 3. The 1,600 chapters in Texas will carry out special projects and activities during the week focused on the theme of FHA CARES.

According to Phyllis Morris, high school senior and president of the local chapter, members of FHA care about a lot of things.

The 36 members of the Bronte FHA Chapter have scheduled a number of activities for this week. Miss Morris said they would engage in a campaign against litter and pollution on the school campus and a project for beautification of the school campus, as well as their community services. The sophomore home economics girls will serve a dinner to the board of trustees and their guests before their next regular meeting.

Future Homemakers of America is a non-profit, self supporting organization officially sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association and is correlated with the home economics programs in secondary schools. High school home economics teachers serve as advisors to the 12,000 local FHA chapters over the country. National headquarters is located in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Royce Fancher serves as chapter advisor. Officers are Miss Morris, president; Tamm Grigg, first vice president; Susan Cumbie, second vice president; Paula Landers, secretary; Dana Lee, treasurer; Gin Snead, historian; Jolene Vaughn, parliamentarian; Sandra Stroebel, reporter; Melissa Lee, song leader and Dixie Versyp, pianist.

Boy Scout Fund Drive Starts Tuesday

The annual Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America Sustaining Membership Enrollment will begin in Bronte Tuesday, April 6, at 7 p.m. H. O. Whitt, publicity and promotion chairman, said the drive will be kicked off with a breakfast for workers at the Cactus Cafe.

The Rev. Harry Morris is campaign chairman and is being assisted by the Rev. Fred Brown and the Rev. M. E. Patterson. Others assisting as members of the committee are D. K. Glenn, Royce Lee, Marvin Bryant and Delbert Coalson. Workers are presently being recruited for the drive.

Approximately 43 per cent of the total budget of the Council is obtained from United Fund and Community Chest campaigns throughout the 23½ county council, and the balance of the funds are obtained through independent campaigns and sustaining memberships.

Funds obtained in this manner are used for the Council operating budget. Included in the budget are funds to provide services of field men to units and unit leaders in the Council; to provide record keeping, registration of membership, advancement records, literature, etc. Also provided are camping facilities and related camping equipment such as tents, canoes, etc., at the two Council owned camps—Camp Sol Mayer at Fort McKavitt and Camp Fawcett at Barksdale.

Training facilities and aids for unit leaders, their committees, and Scouts also are maintained, so that boys in Scouting can receive the best program possible throughout the year.

Annual operating budget of the Council is determined by volunteers of the Council Finance Committee, and then submitted to the Council Executive Board for revision and final approval.

Membership in the Concho Valley Council reached an all time high in 1970 with about 6,300 boys and 1,800 men and women leaders and committeemen. The leaders strive to instill in boys the ideals of Scouting—character, citizenship and fitness — both mental and physical.

The Scouting program also stresses respect for the outdoors, through nature study, conservation programs of various kinds and camping.

As of Dec. 31, 1970, Coke County had 159 boys enrolled in Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Explorer program of the Council.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Alderman of Blackwell attended funeral services for her aunt, Mrs. M. L. Turney, 87, last Saturday in Monahans. Mrs. Turney died last Friday in Monahans. Burial was in Alpine beside the grave of her late husband, Dr. M. L. Turney.

Mrs. Turney was a former resident of the Blackwell community.

Jury Makes Award In Insurance Case

Tullis Welch of San Angelo was awarded $19,649 by a 51st District Court jury Tuesday in a workman's compensation suit. Welch was found to have "a total and permanent disability" as a result of an accident which occurred last May 26 when he was working on the new Robert Lee School building.

Welch was struck in the back at the school construction site in Robert Lee while employed by general contractor Frank Cannon of San Angelo.

The $19,649 was decreased by the amount already paid Welch by the insurance company and less a statutory discount, which brought the total amount of the compensation to approximately $16,000.

Welch was represented by Tom Webb of Webb & Stokes, and the insurance company was represented by William A. Griffis of Griffis, Williams, Bangert, Goodman & Harrison, both of San Angelo. Judge Joe L. Mays presided.

cause he would have to leave before 10 to teach his Sunday School class.

We stated our case to him and he asked what we had for collateral. There was absolutely nothing but a somewhat less than new Ford car. He must have had a lot of faith that Sunday, for he agreed to let us have the money.

That first pleasant visit with him has been followed by many more through the years. A few of them have not ended exactly as we wished, but by and large they have most pleasant—and we have always been treated more than fairly.

His friendship will always be a pleasant memory. He was a fine and honorable gentleman of highest ideals.
