Band to Enter UIL Contest Tuesday

Bronte Longhorn Band will go to Abilene Tuesday to perform in the UIL concert and sight reading contests. The local band will perform at 2 p.m. at Cooper High School.

Other Class B bands present will be Rochester and Jayton.

Louis Thornton is band director

The public is invited to an Open House Saturday in the "Upper Room," new Bronte Youth Center. Local young people and their sponsors, Louis Thornton and Bob Shields, have been working several weeks getting the center, located on the second floor of First National Bank Building, ready for action.

The Open House will begin at 7 p.m. and everyone is invited to come look it over. Refreshments will be served.

The center has two pool tables, two ping pong tables, several tables for small games, a juke box and soft drink machine, and it is hoped the candy machine will be installed before the weekend opening.

Anyone unable to attend Saturday night is invited to come by Sunday afternoon.

During the remainder of the school year, the Upper Room will be open Friday night from 7 until 11 p.m.; Saturday nights, from 7 until 11:30 p.m.; and from 1:30 until 4:30 p.m. on Sundays. The same schedule will be followed

Pre-Kindergarten Session Planned

Pre-Kindergarten Day for Bronte School will be Friday April 28, from 8 until 11:30 a.m.

All children who will be 5 on or before Sept. 1, 1972, are eligible for kindergarten next year. The pre-kindergarten day is to acquaint the children with the kindergarten routine.

GOLF TEAM SECOND

Just before press time Thursday, it was learned that Bronte's golf team won second in the regional tournament at Lubbock, shooting a 337 and 352 for a 689 two day total. Another 9-B school, Forsan, took first place with a two day total of 656. Jayton took third with 692.

Bronte golfers' scores were: Rodney Gardner, 81-84, 165; Jim Dan Raughton, 83-87, 170; Wayne Alexander, 86-87, 173; David Chapman, 87-94, 181; Bobby Bailey, 96-101, 197. Top four scores counted in competition.

during the summer months except that it will also be open Tuesday nights from 7 until 10:30 p.m.

The sponsors said that chaparrones are needed and that anyone who will agree to serve should call one of them.

Rules, made by the youth council, are that members must be in the seventh grade or above in Bronte School or a graduate of Bronte School, under 21 years of age. Other rules include no alcohol, drugs, tobacco, improper dress or gambling. Violators will be called before the 13 member Teen Council, made up of five senior students, four juniors, two sophomores and two freshmen. The council will have the authority to suspend anyone's membership card for violation of the rules.

Membership cards, at $3 per year, are available from the Teen Council.

Sponsors said the center still needs a window type air conditioner, a good TV and a supply of small games. Also, cash contributions for meeting necessary expenses will be welcome. A place for receiving contributions will be set up during the Open House for those who would like to help.

The new youth center was conceived by Bronte young people several months ago and they immediately started looking for a place and ways to get it started. The project really got off the ground when First National Bank agreed to let the youth use the second floor of their building, agreed to pay the monthly utilities bills, and made a cash contribution of $500 for use in renovating and furnishing the area. A large number of other donations of work, money and materials have helped the project to become a reality.

Sponsors and young people have expressed their appreciation to everyone who contributed any way toward making the center a reality.

Special Services At Hurley Home

The Rev. Bob Terrell from Randlett, Okla., will be leading Bible study and ministering Holy Spirit teaching in the Elmer Hurley residence next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Singing will begin about 7:30 p.m. each evening, followed by a period of sharing and teaching. "Salvation is the most important event in a person's life, but it should be only the beginning of a beautiful life filled with more and more love, compassion, gentleness, kindness, patience and joy," Hurley said, and invited everyone to come, "be with us as we learn from God's Holy Word how this life with Christ is entered into."

Rev. Terrell was pastor of a Southern Baptist Church in Randlett for several years, but is now in full time ministry from house to house, "as the Bible plainly teaches," said a spokesman. "Won't you come join us in this learning experience? You will be glad you did. There is more. Don't miss out on anything God has to give you for His gifts are always good and perfect," he added.

TO REGION IN LITERARY — These four students will take part in the regional literary meet on the Texas Tech campus in Lubbock Friday and Saturday. They are Sandra Stroebel in typing; Larry Hooper in spelling; Michelle Golson, also in typing; and Brian Pruitt in science.

Austin — An ancient legal dispute involving Texas' sovereignty over its tidelands is in court again.

The U. S. Justice Department has filed a suit against Texas, challenging the state's regulation of fishing within the farthestmost two leagues (six marine miles) of the historic three league (nine marine mile) boundary.

Atty Gen. Crawford Martin has requested President Nixon to intervene in the latest federal attack.

The Attorney General further requested an opportunity for the state to present its position to the State Department and Justice Department. The state, he noted in a letter to Nixon, was not notified prior to filing of the action.

Martin claimed the new action is contrary to the position taken by the Eisenhower-Nixon administration in 1953 and in 1957.

He submitted to the President excerpts from the state's brief filed in the original boundary suit which was decided in Texas' favor by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1958. He also included a 1957 letter from the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower to then Gov. Price Daniel. Eisenhower expressed the opinion that Texas should "have the right to explore and exploit the submerged lands extending seaward of (its) coastline for a distance of three marine leagues in the Gulf of Mexico."

Martin urged Nixon to inform him if his position as President is the same as that expressed by President Eisenhower.

COURT REVISION URGED — A Supreme Court justice and president of the Texas Civil Judicial Council says it's time the legislature submits to voters a constitutional amendment on judiciary reform.

Associate Justice Tom Reavley said Texans are demanding "major surgery" on the court system.

tem. Suggested Reavley:

* The State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals should be merged into a single court of last resort.

* Fourteen Courts of Civil Appeals should be given jurisdiction over criminal as well as civil cases.

* There should be fewer levels of lower courts with less overlapping jurisdiction.

* Appeal procedure should be "simpler and speedier."

* Judges and cases should be transferred to match resources with needs in keeping with better management of the court system.

The 63rd Legislature, Reavley said, should be asked next year to submit the constitutional amendment proposing court reorganization and modernization.

SPECIAL TRAINING APPROVED — The State Board of Education approved contracts for special training next school year of 2,611 children in non-public schools.

Largest single group is the trainable mentally retarded category, with 1,887 youngsters.

Pupils, from pre-school age through high school level, will attend 12 schools operated under the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and 35 independent non-public schools.

The State Board of Education also reviewed a $1.1 million research program supported by 90 per cent federal and 10 per cent local funds.

Board members voted to uphold orders of Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar sustaining local school board "haircut rules" and dress codes.

COURTS SPEAK — The Court of Criminal Appeals refused to go along with an argument that the aggravated assault law discriminated against men—and concluded it's still worse for a man to hit a woman than the other way around.

Texas Supreme Court held a county judge can't prevent a township incorporation election if 200 residents present the required petition. The decision upheld an Athens district judge and the Tyler Court of Civil Appeals.

The High Court sustained lower courts and refused to knock out of operation a Houston legal aid service for the poor in spite of objections to it by some lawyers who claimed it is costing them money.

PARTIES SLOW — Secretary of State Bob Bullock complained about early response to his request that county political party officers submit early estimates of May primary election expenses.

Bullock said a week after he asked for the estimates only 99 (of 254) counties were represented in replies. He warned again no state funds will be allocated to local parties until estimated expenditures are submitted on prescribed forms.

Some county chairmen explained they were taking their time since the new state primary financing act makes them responsible for inaccuracies in their figures.

JUNE 1 PUPIL TRANSFER DEADLINE — Texas Education Agency has held parents who want to transfer their children from their home school to a nearby district must submit requests by June 1.

Short Snorts Texas cities and counties would get about $202 million this year under a federal revenue sharing bill before a U. S. House committee.

College teachers in a meeting here endorsed the idea of collective bargaining rights for public employees.

Likely date for the next special session of the legislature on appropriations and taxation appears to be the week of June 12.

The State Treasury, declares Treasurer Jesse James, had a greater net return on its time deposit interest "than any billion dollar bank in Texas."

Texas National Guard units have reached the highest rating level in 10 years, according to Adjutant General Ross Ayers.

The attorney general is being asked for an opinion interpreting the state's nepotism law governing state officials and legislators hiring each other's relatives in view of new disclosures.

BURLESON MAKES TRIP TO INTRODUCE BARNES

Congressman Omar Burleson was present Monday night at the Abilene Civic Center to wish Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes a Happy Birthday and success in his campaign for Governor of Texas.

The veteran Congressman from Anson, who made a special trip from Washington to introduce Barnes to a crowd of a thousand supporters, said, "I wouldn't have missed this occasion."

"Ben Barnes has done a lot to preserve the integrity of the 17th District, and I am proud to live in a land where a young man from down on the peanut farm in De Leon can become Governor of Texas," Burleson said.

The Congressman serving the 17th District for 25 years described a special birthday cake for the Lieutenant Governor on his 34th birthday — the first layer to be composed of "integrity," the second of "dedication," the third of "a will to get things one," and Texans should add "our support for Ben Barnes as the icing."

A delegation of Ben Barnes supporters from Bronte attended the birthday party.

Robert Galloway, student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, spent last weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Galloway.

County Stockmen Improving Pastures With Brush Control and Grass Seeding

Livestock producers in the Coke County Soil and Water Conservation District are in the process of seeding native grass, in conjunction with mechanical control of brush. Rangeland that is heavily infested with mesquite and other brush is being restored to productive grazing land.

Some of the farmers and ranchers who are putting these measures into practice are Joe Rawlings, Dr. R. J. Warren, Earl Davidson, Mary Jane Adams, James Tidwell and Weldon Fikes.

Warm season grasses should be seeded some time between Jan. 1 and June 1. The optimum seeding dates are in March and April. In order to obtain a better stand of grass a good seedbed is needed. Seedbeds, following rootplowing, need to be firmed and smoothed by a roller chopper, root rake or other means. This will insure a better establishment of grass. Treedozed rangeland should have the seed placed in the disturbed areas before the soil crusts, old fields to be seeded should have competition from weeds reduced by plowing, which will also prepare a suitable seedbed.

The livestock producers named above plan to defer pastures that have been seeded until the grass plants become well established. This normally takes about two years. However, the grass may be lightly grazed during this time during the winter season while the plants are dormant.

To keep grass productive, proper grazing use must follow. A good rule of thumb is to graze half and leave half. This will allow the better grass plants to stay healthy and spread. The grass plants should also be rested for a period of three or more months during the growing season at least every two or three years.

Financial assistance to do brush control and range seeding may be secured through the Agricultural Stabilization Program or the Great Plains Conservation Program. For technical assistance in determining kind of grass adapted to your soil and the amount needed, contact the Soil Conservation Service office in the courthouse in Robert Lee.

BEN BARNES GOVERNOR

WASHINGTON
 "As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
 Congressman
 17th District

Washington — Since only lawyers are likely to read the Texas Bar Journal, most people will not have had the opportunity to see an article by Mr. James C. Watson, president of the Texas Bar Association. The article is entitled "Bastions Against Tyranny."

Mr. Watson starts off with an explanation in laymen's terms of our jury system. The terms "jury" and "juror" are derived from the Latin terms "just (right)" and "juris (law)." He explains that basically we have two types of juries in Texas—the Grand Jury and Petit Jury. The Grand Jury has broad powers of investigations into any suspected illegal activity with the right to summon witnesses by subpoena. Mr. Watson opines that the Grand Jury system is probably the most important instrument to protect society against oppression from wrong-doers and from overzealous or even malicious governmental officials.

The Petit (or trial) Jury determines factual issues in disputes in civil matters and guilt or innocence in criminal matters. As Mr. Watson wrote, "It, too, is a bulwark in a broad sense but probably not as much so as the Grand Jury." In criminal cases the jury protects the individual against the government and, if it be necessary, it guarantees the individual protection from the judge himself.

The president of the Texas Bar Association observes that presently efforts are being made by some to do away with the right of trial by jury for the sake of expediency. There are also advocates for altering the number of jurors and modifying the requirement for a unanimous verdict. There have been suggestions that agreements by a certain percentage of jurors, such as two-thirds, be sufficient to render a verdict.

The jury system serves a fundamental purpose in our society and the right to trial by jury should be the right of every Texas citizen. As Mr. Watson observes, "there must be substantial justice, not necessarily precise justice; the jury gives that common sense approach..."

Service as a juror is accorded only to free men. It is an essential element in a free democratic society. It often brings the average citizen in touch with his government in a substantial and awesome manner. The juror is called upon to judge and to make important decisions. It becomes his vital civic duty as well as a privilege.

Judge Watson says that he exhorts those called to jury service not to seek to be excused, if at all possible for them to serve. He believes that if a particular time for which one has been summoned is critical to him the citizen should seek to rearrange his appearance for jury duty instead of seeking to be entirely excused.

It is a duty, a responsibility and even a privilege to serve as a juror and something to be taken seriously. It can also be found intensely interesting.

Our bar association president ends his comments by quoting a current tv commercial which says, "Try it, you'll like it."

Knowing Onions

Ever wonder how the expression, "He knows his onions," came about?

It's possible we started "knowing our onions" the year the 13 volumes of the Oxford English Dictionary were published. One of the editors was a Mr. Onions.

At any rate those who know their onions are considered smart. And you may want to know a little about onions, too. For instance they're in plentiful supply now, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. So plan on using these zesty vegetables to spark your spring menus.

And if you're wondering about selection, take some tips from fruit and vegetable experts in USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service who really know their onions.

Granex-Grano onions, which you will find in good supply now, come from the warmer growing areas of the country. Most are yellow skinned—a few are white. The shape tends to be less round and less symmetrical than the Globe onions, for instance, ranging from somewhat flattened to top shaped. Rather mild in flavor, they are considered ideal for slicing and eating raw. They're fine for cooking, too. They range from medium to large in size.

When buying, select hard or firm onions which are dry and have small necks. They should be covered with papery outer scales and reasonably free from green sunburn spots and other blemishes.

Avoid onions with wet or very soft necks, which usually indicates immaturity or decay. Also avoid onions with thick, hollow, woody centers in the neck, or with fresh sprouts.

Special Power of Onions

Onions have been attributed special powers down through the ages.

For instance, people in Bohemia and Spanish lands once fed their watch dogs, fighting cocks and ganders onions to make them fearless, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In other European countries onions were sometimes hung in rooms to ward off evil spirits.

Even if you don't believe in the onion's magical powers, you probably believe in its culinary powers. For today's imaginative cook uses onions to ward off blandness and monotony in her meals.

Now is an especially good time to add onions to the menu.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports especially plentiful supplies.

This Onion and Cheese Soup gives a special lift to mealtime.

- 1 cup chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ quarts milk, scalded
- Salt and pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- Paprika
- Minced chives

Saute onion in butter until soft, add flour and mix. Add milk gradually, stirring all the while, and heat to just below the boiling point. Season and stir in cheese. Serve with sprinkle of paprika and chives. Makes two quarts.

- Herb Onion Saute:
- 6 medium onions, peeled
- 6 tablespoons butter
- Salt and pepper
- Dried marjoram

Cut the peeled onions into thin slices. Melt butter in a large frying pan, add the onions and salt to taste. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, for about 30 minutes or until onions are golden and very tender. Stir in pepper to taste and a pinch of crumbled dried marjoram. Makes six servings.

French Fried Onion Rings:

- 1½ pounds onions
- 1 egg white, slightly beaten
- ½ cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs
- Fat

Peel onions under water and cut into slices about ¼ inch thick. Slash each slice to center and pull rings apart. Combine egg white and milk and dip onions into mixture. Dust with salt and pepper and roll in bread crumbs.

Place in frying basket and plunge into deep hot fat (365 degrees) and fry until browned. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes six to eight servings.

OIL FIELD NOTES
 Tucker Drilling Co., Inc., No. R. L. Herring, wildcat 3½ miles south of Tennyson, was plugged this week at 5,465 feet. It is located 660 feet from the north and 1,320 feet from the west lines of Section 117, Washington County RR Survey, A-750.

There were 126 members, guests and parents present for the FFA-FHA banquet held Tuesday night in the school lunchroom.

The banquet was catered by Fred Harris of San Angelo. Barbecued beef, beans, potato salad, onions, iced tea and ice cream were on the menu.

Officers of the FFA Senior Chapter Conducting Team opened the meeting. Gary Skelton, president of the team, was master of ceremonies for the evening. He welcomed guests and introduced Sandra Stroebel, president of the FHA chapter.

Miss Stroebel introduced Kim Barrett, who is this year's FHA beau. Barrett, who is also FFA president, also welcomed guests and parents and introduced the FFA Sweetheart, Ginger Snead.

Mrs. Royce Faneher, FHA sponsor, gave a resume of FHA activities during the year, and presented an award to Susan Arrott, who was the Betty Crocker Homemaker of the Year.

J. T. Henry, FFA sponsor, gave a resume of FFA activities during the year and recognized the Junior and Senior Chapter Conducting Teams that participated in the district, area and state contests last fall.

A surprise moment came when Henry recognized Joe Rawlings, who was present for the banquet.

Rawlings was a member of the first livestock judging team that ever won a banner for Bronte School. The contest was at Texas A&M in 1939 when Rawlings was a junior student.

Following the banquet Kim Barrett invited everyone to the gym where they enjoyed the remainder of the evening dancing to the Western music of Ross Dutton and his band. There was also one session of square dancing, directed by Carl Wilson of Abilene. This was the first all-school dance other than the junior-senior proms. All high school students were invited to the dance.

The FFA and FHA groups plan to make this an annual affair.
