AD-LIB-BEN

A lot of people around Bronte didn't think Dr. John R. Harris would make it after he broke his hip last December. Even if he did, it was said, he wouldn't be able to practice medicine and might end up on dope or become a cripple for life.

But the prophecies of doom haven't materialized, for the doctor is now walking with a cane and he is driving himself harder and harder, just as he has been doing for the past 26 years in Bronte.

It has been a hard row for him, I know, because he told me it was just like learning to walk all over again. But he has spent untold hours practicing and is doing well.

The Bronte Hospital is still going strong, but John Harris doesn't take all the credit for it. "Without my Mary," he said, "the whole hospital and my practice would have suffered greatly. She is my inspiration and the light of my life."

Of course, he isn't able to go at the pace he once did. "I had to give up delivering babies in 1961," he said softly and regret-

Austin — Rewriting the nearly century old Texas constitution is turning out to be a stickier job than many figured.

The Constitutional Revision Commission went into overtime at a recent three day meeting near here, but still failed to complete its agenda and slated another Aug. 10-11 cleanup meeting.

Meanwhile, legislative planners for the 1974 Constitutional Convention, at which lawmakers will actually propose a revised constitution, disagreed on routine stage setting.

House members suggested a new voting machine (which was later ordered) and new desks for delegates. Senate planning committee spokesmen indicated they would be satisfied to bring their own desks over from across the capitol rotunda and set them up in the House middle aisle.

The revision panel agreed:

* To keep the provision for real property taxation in the constitution for state purposes, but leave it to the legislature to write separate laws governing personal property taxation.

* To retain the state highway users gasoline tax, with three-fourths of the revenue earmarked for highway building and one-fourth for public schools. A provision was made for abolishing the highway fund levy on statewide referendum with support of two-thirds of the legislature.

* To keep the Permanent University Fund and Permanent School funds in the constitution. The university fund would be altered somewhat to include present and future branches of the University of Texas and Texas A&M University.

* To add to the constitution a guarantee of "equitable" financial support for all schools and districts rich and poor.

* To retain as constitutional elected members of the executive branch only the governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general, with the legislature empowered to decide if the comptroller, treasurer, secretary of state, land commissioner and railroad commissioner should be elected or appointed by the governor.

"HOUSES" CLOSED — Two landmark bawdy houses—in La Grange and Sealy—were closed by local officials on request of state officials.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Atty. Gen. John Hill and Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir sought action after reports aired by a Houston television station.

Briscoe acknowledged he had received calls from La Grange area citizens both supporting and opposing the action. He said he had been told he would be petitioned by a group who want the famed "Chicken Ranch" reopened.

Hill and Speir said they found no link with organized crime in operation of the houses, but Attorney General Hill added: "It is an illegal operation. The local officials were requested to take action. They took it."

RATE RAISE EXPECTED — An increase in some workmen's compensation insurance rates is due under a new law increasing benefits for those injured or killed in job accidents.

An average 19.5 per cent hike in the rates employers must pay for the coverage is anticipated under a State Insurance Board staff proposal, which would become effective if approved between Sept. 1 and Sept. 15.

Rates would have gone up 22.8 per cent in the absence of the federal anti-inflation program, a Board actuary indicated.

Under new law effective in September, an injured worker can get up to a maximum of $63 a week in benefits, an increase from the present $49 top.

AG OPINIONS — A national bank does not come under definition of governmental bodies or institutions which are required to comply with the new open records act, Attorney General Hill held.

Sallie Mae to Assist Higher Education

Higher education in Texas received a boost Tuesday with the announcement in Dallas of a proposed offering of common stock of the Student Loan Marketing Association ("Sallie Mae"). Sallie Mae is a government-sponsored private corporation created to help channel additional funds into the student loan market.

A cooperative effort between the Federal Government and private enterprise in the field of post-secondary education, Sallie Mae was formed to assist lenders in making educational loans available to a broad spectrum of students throughout the United States.

Sallie Mae is expected to be in operation in time to provide liquidity assistance this year, according to Edward A. Fox, president and chief executive officer of Sallie Mae.

Created by the 1972 Amendments to the Higher Education Act of 1965, Sallie Mae will add support to the Guaranteed Student Loan Program (GSLP), which is a program of insurance by the U. S. Government and by States and non-profit private agencies. It is estimated by the Office of Education of HEW that approximately $4.5 billion of insured student loans are currently outstanding.

From 1966 to 1972, Texas banks have loaned more than $92.5 million to eligible students under the Guaranteed Student Loan Program. This represents slightly more than 2.6% of the national total. Nearly 94% of the guaranteed student loans outstanding in Texas, as of June 30, 1972, are guaranteed directly by the Federal Government.

Three-fourths of student loans in Texas granted under the Government's Guaranteed Student Loan Program, during the fiscal years 1966 to 1972, have gone to students of families with adjusted annual incomes under $6,000. Approximately 55% of these loans have been granted to male students and 45% to female students.

Since the inception of the Guaranteed Student Loan Program in 1965, the number and amount of student loans have shown steady growth. However, the volume of student loans has decreased in recent months due to factors which are hoped to be temporary. From approximately 48,000 loans made in fiscal 1966, aggregating over $77 million in principal amount, figures increased to a total of over 1,250,000 loans made in fiscal 1972, aggregating over $1.3 billion in principal amount.

From the beginning, however, the GSLP has been hampered by the problem of liquidity since there has not been any secondary market for student loans. Moreover, loan repayments often are deferred for relatively long and uncertain periods of time. Repayment of the loans does not commence until 9 to 12 months after completion of education or can be suspended by service in the Military, the Peace Corps or Vista.

Fox pointed out that the concept of a government-sponsored, profit oriented privately capitalized corporation in an area of social concern is not unique. The Federal National Mortgage Association, (Fannie Mae) utilizes private capital in response to our national housing needs and the Communications Satellite Corporation (Comsat) was specifically created in this way in the area of space communications.

"With the recent downturn in the volume of student loans partially attributable to higher interest rates, current money markets and financial institution liquidity problems, it is hoped that Sallie Mae can make a significant contribution," he added.

The Guaranteed Student Loan Program is part of an overall government program of educational funding. Under the GSLP students may borrow up to $2,500 per academic year, with a maximum total of $10,000 extending through graduate study. A student may enroll in any of a variety of post-secondary educational institutions including vocational and trade schools. It is estimated that at this time there are approximately 7,000 eligible post-secondary educational institutions, of which approximately 4,000 are colleges and universities.

The cost of not saving keeps going up.

If you need cash and you haven't saved it, you have to borrow. And that means paying through the nose to use someone else's money.

So it makes sense to put away a few dollars of your own. One great way to do just that is by purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's an easy way to build a nest egg.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds. It's a lot better to be receiving interest on your own money than paying it out on someone else's.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.
 Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Judge W. W. Thetford Reports on Plans For Federal Revenue Sharing Money

Judge W. W. Thetford gave a brief report on expenditure of Coke County's Revenue Sharing funds at Tuesday's meeting of the Robert Lee BCD. The matter was discussed at the Monday meeting the Commissioners' Court. Architect's drawings and estimates of the costs of a show barn at Robert Lee and a recreation hall at Bronte were presented to the court Monday. The judge told BCD members that since the cost of building materials has gone up, the estimated figure of $84,000 for the barn and $52,000 for the rec hall were higher than was expected.

Thetford said it would cost about $8,000 to draw up the plans and take bids on the two projects. The court gave its okay to proceed with the plans.

Judge Thetford said it would take most of the fall to complete the plans and by January they would know how much federal money would be forthcoming next year. The amount received for 1973 was very little more than the 1972 amount, the judge said.

School Outlines Lunchroom Policy

Bronte School again during the coming school term, will provide free lunches for some students who find it difficult to pay the required 40 cents per day.

An income scale has been worked out which shows how much money can be made by various size families and still be eligible for free lunches:

Family Size	Family Annual Income
1	$0- 2740
2	0- 3600
3	0- 4460
4	0- 5310
5	0- 6100
6	6- 6890
7	0- 7600
8	0- 8810
9	0- 8960
10	0- 9600
11	0-10,240
12	0-10,880

Each additional family member $640

Provision is also made to provide help or free lunches in the event unusual expenses are incurred which make the purchase of lunches for children difficult. Each case of this type must be individually reviewed. Parents who feel they are entitled to assistance should contact the appropriate school principal.

Qualified voters of Election Precincts 1 and 3 turned thumbs down on the legal sale of beer last Saturday. The vote was 112 for and 190 against in Precinct 1, and 79 for and 93 against in Precinct 3. The election was called to make beer sales legal in Justice Precinct 1 which includes the two voting boxes.

Voter turnout was light with only about 50 per cent of the registered voters going to the polls.

Total tally in both voting boxes showed the figures to be 191 for and 283 against, for a spread of 92 votes.

The end of work, or the beginning of worry?

Most people look toward retirement as a time of relaxation and enjoyment. And it can be if you prepare for it. But if you don't, it can be a time of worry and discontentment. A time when you can look back and think of a million ways that you could have saved, but didn't.

Grain Stocks Down... Egg Production Down... Texas Lamb Crop Down... Wool Production Down... Sheep and Lambs on Feed Increase.

Phase Three and Phase Three and a Half can't be blamed for all of it, but nevertheless production of a number of Texas agricultural products shows declines. One of the exceptions is sheep and lamb feeding which shows an increase from a year ago but still a decline from a few months ago.

As for grains on hand, only stocks of oats are above levels of a year ago. Texas' stocks as of July 1 for the four feed grains—corn, oats, barley and sorghum—are estimated at 95,000,000 bushels down 50,000,000 bushels from a year ago.

Grain sorghum was responsible for most of the decrease. Stocks of wheat, rye and soybeans are also below a year ago.

Old crop carryover of wheat is estimated at 20,200,000 bushels compared to 42,100,000 bushels a year ago.

Sorghum stocks in all positions are estimated at 79,000,000 bushels compared with 129,000,000 bushels a year ago.

Corn stocks are about the same as a year ago. Old crop oat stocks are 700,000 bushels higher than a year ago. Soybean stocks are estimated at 2,700,000 bushels compared to 3,600,000 bushels a year ago.

Nationwide, stocks of all grains are estimated 67,900,000 tons, which is 17 per cent less than a year ago. April-June grain disappearance totaled a record high of 51,300,000 tons, 14 per cent more than the same quarter in 1972.

All of the above figures relate to grains produced in 1972 and earlier. The 1973 crops are not a part of this report.

EGG production in Texas during June is four per cent below a year ago and five per cent below last month. Texas' layers totaled 11,100,000 during June which is seven per cent below a year ago and two per cent under May's total.

The number of layers throughout the nation totaled 285,000,000; this is five per cent below last year and two per cent under last month.

LAMB crop in Texas (lamb born during the period Oct. 1, 1972, through June 30, 1973) is estimated at 1,964,000 head; this is down 15 per cent from the 2,302,000 head last year.

Nationwide the 1973 lamb crop is estimated at 11,400,000 head. This is down nine per cent from the 1972 crop of 12,500,000 head.

The January 1, 1973 number of breeding ewes one year old and older totaled 12,100,000. This is a decrease of six per cent from a year earlier while ewe lambs under one year were down four per cent.

SHEEP and lambs on feed in Texas as of July 1 is up 13 per cent from a year ago. This, however, is 28 per cent below March. Sheep and lambs on feed are those intended for slaughter being fed a ration of grain or other concentrates or on pastures and expected within the next three months to go to market.

Marketing of fed sheep during March through June at 229,000 head were 3,000 below the same period a year ago.

FOOD LABELING — I

A most interesting discussion (not a debate) occurred some weeks ago in Denver at a conference sponsored by the National Dairy Council for food writers. The subject was food labeling and the men airing views that caught my ears most were Dr. Ogden Johnson of the Food and Drug Administration and Dr. Dee M. Graham of the University of Missouri.

Each man possesses a background qualifying him to speak on this topic which is of such interest to consumers. But their approaches are different. Dr. Johnson, being Director of the Division of Nutrition with FDA and having been closely involved in developing the new FDA food labeling regulations, is eloquent in support of those regulations. Dr. Graham, Chairman of the Department of Food Science and Nutrition at the University of Missouri, was formerly with a prominent food processing firm and his approach is especially knowledgeable regarding some of the problems the regulations may

FDA's Mission

Dr. Johnson explained for the assembled food writers that FDA's mission is to protect the consumer from hazards and obvious fraud. He pointed out that historically FDA has performed this task by police work and in his opinion this has not been sufficiently effective.

Meantime, Dr. Johnson said, times have changed. We have changed from a producing society to a consuming society. We no longer make the things we use. FDA's approach now must be to give the consumer more information with which to protect and guide himself. Regarding food, this means there must be new food labeling regulations.

The New Regulations

The new regulations, he said, will provide: 1) a mechanism to identify the quality of products; 2) an aid in planning adequate meals; and 3) the stimulus for greater interest in nutrition.

Technically, a food manufacturer will not have to list the nutritional content on his product label. Only if he fortifies his product by adding some nutrient, or wishes to make some claim of dietary benefit does he then "trigger" the requirement for specific information on his label. Of course, the realities of competition—such as a competitor making claims and listing nutritional content—means a food manufacturer could well find that the labeling is not voluntary at all, but essential and forced upon him if he wishes to remain in business.

But if one believes the more information consumers have, the better, such problems as the foregoing are not a deterrent. And once a food processor gets into labeling, what must he list?

We'll get into that next week, along with some of Dr. Graham's apprehensions as to whether all this will actually be good for the consumer.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

How prosperous Israel is — a luxuriant vine all filled with fruit! But the more wealth I give her, the more she pours it on the altars of her heathen gods; the richer the harvests I give her, the more beautiful the statues and idols she erects. The hearts of her people are false toward God. They are guilty and must be punished. God will break down their heathen altars and smash their idols. Then they will say, "We deserted the Lord and he took away our king. — we don't need one anyway!"

to Blackwell in 1936 and still make their home there.

Mr. Lanier was in Simmons Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater six years ago, for a week, when he was 90 years old. That was the first time he had ever been in a hospital. Last month he entered Bronte Hospital, but was able to come home July 30 and be there for the anniversary celebration. He had to return to the hospital Aug. 5 and is reported somewhat improved.

Mrs. Lanier has been in the hospital only once and that was in December 1969 when she was hospitalized with a broken arm received in a fall. She has been confined to her room for over a year and requires help to walk from her bed to her chair.

Their children are: Clay Lanier of Itasca, who was here visiting his parents in late July; Mrs. Wayne (Corine) McReory of Carrizo Springs, who has been staying with her parents for some time; Abe Lanier and Hube Lanier, both of Blackwell; Mrs. Elvis (Jennive) Moore of Carrizo Springs; and Joe Lanier of Sweetwater.

The Laniers have eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. They are members of the Blackwell United Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lanier brought a white cake with 75th Anniversary in red, and with red roses and green leaves decorating it. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. (Dink) Lanier of Robert Lee also brought a white cake with 75th Wedding Anniversary in gold to the celebration honoring their grandparents. The cake was decorated with two white doves, pink roses and green leaves.

fully. "Believe me, it will make an old man out of you very fast. But I believe I enjoy obstetrics more than any branch of medicine." He is only doing minor surgery now, but said in a year or so he hopes to be doing major surgery again.

Beneath the doctor's courtly and jovial manner lies a burning desire to help people. Rich or poor, he never refuses to aid the sick.

I have seen him lose his temper on very few occasions and I have known him 25 years. Those who have incurred his wrath say it is awesome and spectacular to see. When he believes he is right, he doesn't give an inch. His language can be a little salty at times, but actually he is a deeply religious man and gives the Almighty credit for his recovery.

John Harris has always lived life to the hilt and with great gusto. His laughter is contagious and he likes to have fun, but I have never heard him tell a dirty joke. Few people know how long and hard he has worked in his effort to overcome his speech impediment. It was quite a task for a middle aged man to undertake, he has told me.

Many physicians in this area have called him the best country doctor in Texas, but he admits that he's been called some things not quite so nice.

Regardless of your opinion of Dr. Harris (and he is a controversial character), he has provided a wonderful service for the Bronte area for more than 26 years. He has saved many lives; he has delivered many babies—even one of mine; he has provided employment for a host of local persons and has trained many others to earn their livelihood in the nursing profession.

I just felt like it was a good time to tell Enterprise readers some things about our Dr. John.
