Plains Insurance Agency names manager

Bill Johnson will become the new manager of the Plains Insurance Agency of Dimmitt on Sept. 1. He will succeed Bill Behrends, who is resigning to pursue other business interests.

The local insurance office, located at 113 E. Bedford St., was purchased three years ago by Plains Insurance Agency. Behrends, a longtime insurance man here, has continued to manage the local office since that time.

Johnson, 34, has been with Plains Insurance Agency in Hereford 10 years.

About his new duties, Johnson said, "I'm excited about it, and I plan on the agency being a tremendous benefit to the Dimmitt area. We intend to be a part of this community, and we plan to be very aggressive. I think we owe that to Dimmitt — to find the most competitive rates we can, and to provide the best service possible."

Johnson's wife, Kathy, will handle the local agency's bookkeeping and accounting. And Rosa Nino, production assistant, will remain with the agency, Johnson said. Mrs. Nino handles the forms needed for all lines of coverage.

Johnson — who is sporting a beard for Hereford's annual Town & Country Jubilee beard-growing contest — was born in Hereford and raised on a farm near there. He attended West Texas State University, and has completed several commercial training schools. He received his life insurance license in 1971 and his casualty license in 1974.

He is due to be president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce next year, has served as president of the Hereford Jaycees, state vice-president of the Texas Jaycees, and charter president of the Hereford YMCA. He still serves as a YMCA director, and is a deacon in the First Christian Church of Hereford.

Johnson enjoys woodworking, furniture refinishing, yard work and jogging.

Mrs. Johnson, the former Kathy Rusher, moved with her parents to Hereford from Colorado when the Holly Sugar plant was built. She has worked with CPA firms in Hereford, and is a past president of the Hereford Jaycee-Ettes. Her hobbies include tennis, sewing, home decorating, church work, "and an awful lot of time working with the boys," Chad, 6, and Ryan, 3.

Allsup's Marathon to be run Oct. 3

The seventh annual Allsup's Marathon is slated to be held in Clovis Saturday, Oct. 3.

Those interested in participating are requested to register no later than Sept. 25. Registration fees on or before that date will be $7. Registrations after that date will cost $9 and will be accepted through Friday, Oct. 2 at the race headquarters in the Holiday Inn, 2700 E. Mabry Drive.

All proceeds go to the Clovis Track Club.

Marathon activities will begin Oct. 2 with a spaghetti dinner at the Holiday Inn.

The marathon, sanctioned and certified by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU), will give runners a choice of the full 26.2-mile course, a 13.1-mile course or a 10-kilometer course. The race will start at the Clovis High School track at 7 a.m.

According to Lonnie Allsup, president of Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc. and sponsor of the race, "At 12 noon, T-shirts will again be given to all contestants who complete the race and 117 trophies will be awarded to the winners."

The number of trophies in three categories has been expanded this year to reflect the growing number of runners competing in the following age groups: Female 0-15 years; and Males 15-29 and 30-39.

A field of over 500 runners is anticipated for this year's race.

Persons who desire additional information about the Allsup's Marathon, or who wish to receive a registration form, may do so by writing: Royce Jones, 3532 Brynhurst Ct., Clovis, N.M., or by calling (505) 762-5010.

Minshew, the only returnee on the staff. Johnson will head the boys' basketball program, and Minshew is the head track coach. The Swifts will scrimmage Amherst today [Thursday].

Scrimmages on tap

Dimmitt will travel to Abernathy, Hart will host Lubbock Roosevelt and Nazareth will host Amherst as six local football squads hold pre-season scrimmages Thursday and Friday.

First up will be Nazareth vs. Amherst at Swift Field today (Thursday) at 6 p.m. The Swifts, under new Head Coach Ken Cole, will test their I formation and their 5-2 Monster defense against the Bulldogs.

With 28 boys out for football, the Swifts are long on experience — especially in the "skill" positions — but short on depth.

"I'm pleased with the attitude the boys have, with the leadership our seniors are providing, and with the number of good young kids we've got out this year," Cole said. "We'll be very competitive unless we get somebody hurt."

The Dimmitt Bobcat camp, which has been brimming with enthusiasm during two weeks of three-a-days, will adjourn to Abernathy Friday afternoon to meet and greet the Antelopes. Three scrimmages are on tap, with the freshmen starting at 4:30, the junior varsity at 5:30 and the varsity at 6:30.

Then on Saturday morning, the Bobcats will have "Press and Picture Day" at Bobcat Stadium, starting at 9 a.m. Press, yearbook and commercial photographers, TV reporters and cameramen will be on hand to get their pre-season shots of the Bobcats and their coaches.

But Head Coach Mike Major emphasized that the picture day will be for parents and friends as well as for the press.

"All the boys in our program will be in their game uniforms, and we want to encourage everybody who would like to take some pictures to come on out — including moms and dads with snapshot cameras, Polaroids or whatever," Major said.

The Hart Longhorns' junior varsity and varsity teams will scrimmage Lubbock Roosevelt at Hart Friday at 6 p.m.

Admission to the scrimmage will be a donated bar of soap.

Head Coach Ken Hoskins urged everyone to come out and support the 1981 Longhorns.

Phillips Singers to hold revival

The Phillips Family Singers of Arlington will return to the Assembly of God Church, Southeast Second and Belsher, for a week of revival services next Monday through Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the meetings.

Pastor Monte Wike said that the Phillipses are the most repeated group of his entire ministry and that he highly recommends them.

They have been successful in television, in group concerts and in their road ministry, Wike said, adding that they are especially used in the healing ministry and in discerning other areas of individual need.

Charles Phillips, 16, is probably one of the youngest pastors on record, Wike added. The young family member pastors a church in Arlington.

Baggarly to be feted at dinner Friday night

Friends of H. M. Baggarly, the Tulia Herald columnist noted as the Texas Panhandle's most illustrious Democrat, will honor him with a banquet at 8 p.m. Friday in the Amarillo Hilton Inn on Interstate 40 East.

Western Artist Kenneth Wyatt of Tulia will serve as master of ceremonies, and special guests from throughout the nation are being invited.

Theme will be "Salute to

H. M. Baggarly . . . Mr. Democrat and Country Editor."

Baggarly continues to write a political column each week in the Herald, a weekly paper he sold to Wendell Tooley 2½ years ago.

He first became associated with the paper as a journalism teacher in Tulia schools, and he later put his experience in laying out the page of high school news to work in managing the newspaper while the owners were on vacation.

Baggarly gave up teaching in 1947 and purchased a third interest in the Tulia Herald. He quit after a year but was coaxed back in 1950, and by mid-1955 he owned controlling interest in the paper.

Two collections of his writings have been published — "Texas Country Democrat" and "Texas Country Editor." At one time, he turned down an offer to be a White House assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Baggarly was winner of the fourth Mary Kate Tripp Award from the West Texas State University Journalism Department as a "tribute to an area journalist who exemplifies the highest ideals of the profession."

Banquet tickets are $20 each, and are available from Carl King and Oscar Wylie in Dimmitt or from Harold Bob Bennett at Hart.

DHS council to host dance

The Dimmitt High School Student Council will sponsor a "Welcome Back to School" dance Saturday from 8 p.m. to midnight in the County Expo Building.

Admission to the dance is $3 per person or $5 per couple.

"The Dance Machine" will provide recorded music.

Tech to use Veals as outside backer

Dennis Veals of Dimmitt will be playing outside linebacker instead of strong safety for the Texas Tech defense this year.

Veals, a 6-1, 185-lb. junior, was moved to the outside linebacker post during spring training, and new Head Coach Jerry Moore says he "is adapting well to the new spot."

In the Red Raiders' 1981 Media Guide, Veals is listed as knotted with Keith Porter (6-0, 210 sophomore from Houston Lee) for the No. 2 spot at the weak-side linebacker post.

A 1979 graduate of Dimmitt High School, Veals was an all-district player two years in both football and basketball, and was the district sprinting champion in track (100, 220).

He lettered as a freshman at Texas Tech, playing in seven games as a reserve safety. Last year he was listed as "one of the top specialty defenders" on the Red Raider squad.

A physical education major, Veals is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyd.

agri-facts

Cool germination test results are being coolly received by many cotton agronomists, who say the lower-than-usual vigor demonstrated in cotton seed indicates the test itself, is at fault. Designed to provide an indication of early-season seed vigor, the test is, according to a Texas Agricultural Extension service agronomist, more rigorous than standard germination tests. And, even though most of the test seed fell below normal test values, this does not necessarily mean that cotton farmers will face a severe vigor problem in 1981. Most researchers believe that the poor results are more associated with the test itself than with the seed quality. Although a reliable test is being worked on, it appears that this year planters will have to rely on their own past experience and judgment in assessing potential performance.

Vega man killed in 385 collision

James R. "Pedro" Scott of Vega, brother of former Dimmitt resident Joan Cook, was killed in a head-on collision which occurred Saturday 14 miles north of Dimmitt on US Highway 385.

Scott's daughter, Susan Jean, 21, of Vega, was hospitalized in serious condition by the accident, as was Clyde Henry Gilliland, 72, of Hereford.

According to Texas Dept. of Public Safety troopers, Miss Scott was driving north with her father when their vehicle collided with a southbound car driven by Gilliland.

Funeral services for Mr. Scott, 48, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Vega's First United Methodist Church with Rev. Steve Campbell, pastor, and Rev. J. B. Fowler, pastor of the Pampa First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in the Vega Memorial Cemetery under the direction of N. S. Griggs and Sons Funeral Home.

Born in Vega, Mr. Scott was a farmer, rancher and feedlot operator. He married Shirley Harwell in Vega in 1957. He was a member of the board of directors of the Farmer's Co-op and of the Vega Independent School District.

Survivors in addition to his wife are three daughters, Susan, Sheila and Sandra, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Anna Scott of Vega; one brother, Steve of Melrose, N.M.; and one sister, Joan (Mrs. Cliff) Cook of Amarillo.

Who is eligible for free or reduced meals?

If you think your children are eligible for free or reduced-price school meals, contact local school administrators for program guidelines and applications.

Eligibility for the free or reduced-price meals is determined by a set of income poverty guidelines based on the number of children in the family and total family income.

Basically, your children are eligible if you have one child and a maximum income of $7,970; two children, $10,530; three children, $13,080; four children, $15,630; five children, $18,190; six children, $20,740; seven children, $23,290; and eight children, $25,840.

Dimmitt sales are up

Dimmitt's sales tax rebates for the month of August are up 29% over August 1980, though payments for the year are only up 8.12% according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Dimmitt's net payment this August is $19,333.24, compared with last year's $11,311 August payment.

Bullock said on a statewide average, sales tax payments are up this year by nearly 12 percent over 1980.

Hart and Nazareth's payments for the year to date are both down over last year with Hart dropping 8.35% and Nazareth dropping 2.01%.

Nazareth did realize a slight increase in the August 1981 tax payment over last year's August payment from $1,860.10 to $2,086.43.

Hart's August tax rebate was down to $1,864.76 from $2,318.14 last August.

RECYCLE YOURSELF

Recycle yourself — be an organ donor, recommends Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist.

According to the Uniform Anatomical Gift Act, anyone 18 or older may donate all or part of his body for research, transplantation or placement in a time bank, she says.

For more information, contact The Living Bank, Hermann Professional Building, PO Box 6725, Houston, 77005.

Mia's hobbies are piano and ballet. She used to participate in handball and gymnastics at school, but she said she hasn't done so for a couple of years.

Mia said there are sports programs in the Norwegian schools, but they are not emphasized as they are here.

"We don't have cheerleaders," she said.

She said the primary sport is soccer, rather than football.

Mia described the school system in Norway, saying that they have nine grades of school. After a student has completed the ninth grade, at age 16, he or she either goes on to high school for three years, attends a trade school, or goes to work.

Mia said it is difficult to get into high school. A student must accumulate a number of points to qualify.

Mia was concerned that she would be in school so much longer each day here than she was at home. In Norway, different school days have different schedules, she explained. Some days she would be out of school at 1 p.m., sometimes 2 p.m.

Mia has pre-registered for her classes at Dimmitt High School and says she is probably most excited about being in the band.

The Norwegian girl hasn't come to the AFS program totally unprepared. She was able to get a first-hand report from Ilija Straub, an AFS student from California who is living with Mia's family this summer.

High salaries in other fields — especially in the petroleum industry — are attracting science teachers away from schools. That's how the Nazareth schools lost two teacher-coaches this year.

The Dimmitt Public Schools faculty is now at full strength with the hiring of two counselors — Judy Sheridan for the Title I and Title I Migrant programs and Connie Kenmore for the elementary and junior high grades.

At Hart, the faculty is at full strength and school is getting underway without a hitch.

Public school students in Dimmitt and Hart registered Wednesday and were to start classes today. Nazareth students are registering today and will begin classes Friday.

A new private school in Dimmitt — the Lucky U Christian School, operated by Joyce Hunter — is beginning classes with 73 children enrolled in pre-kindergarten, kindergarten and first grade.

Mrs. Hunter reported that the new school has one class of 3-year-olds, two classes of 4-year-olds, one session of kindergarten and a small first-grade class.

"We're real happy with the enrollment," she said. "We'd like to have at least two more first graders, but we feel that it's a good start."

The Lucky U Christian School has a faculty of five classroom teachers, a music teacher and an aide.

City and County law officers arrested four persons on charges of public intoxication last week. Two of those arrested were fined $75, one was fined $50 and one was released on bond pending court action.

A 40-year-old Dimmitt woman was arrested Friday for DWI and was released on bond pending court action.

Two men were arrested last week for having no valid driver's licenses. One was also charged with carrying a prohibited weapon. He was released on bond, as was the other man.

A Hereford youth was arrested Friday night for traffic violations and released on $150 bond.

Rick Wilcox of 500 W. Belsher St. complained to city police that someone took a 1981 Honda three-wheel "all terrain cycle" from his driveway sometime after midnight last Wednesday.

The vehicle has since been recovered by city police, along with a bicycle which had been stolen from Scott Killough July 27, police said.

Two juveniles were arrested in connection with the thefts. Emigdio Sandoval was cited for failure to yield the right of way Saturday morning when he reportedly struck a 1980 Pontiac Phoenix, driven by Rebecca Killingsworth, which had turned in front of Sandoval.

Sandoval was southbound on South Broadway in a 1977 Chevrolet Impala and Mrs. Killingsworth was executing a left turn from the northbound lane of that street onto East Jones when the accident occurred, according to the police report.

Clara Vick was cited for failure to yield the right of way Friday afternoon when her 1979 Mercury Capri was struck by a 1973 Dodge pickup driven by Roger Reaves.

According to the police report, Mrs. Vick was stopped at the stop sign on Southwest Second and pulled out onto West Bedford in front of Reaves.

Police were called to the intersection of East Bedford and Southeast Second Thursday afternoon when a 1981 Ford pickup driven by Juan Olivero Jr. was reportedly struck by a 1973 Chevrolet Impala.

Officers said the driver of the Impala, Olivero Ewing, was attempting a left turn off East Bedford onto Southeast Second and struck the pickup, which was eastbound on East Bedford.

Rites held in Hereford for pioneer of community

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Several from out of the area were here last Thursday to attend the funeral for A. T. Jones, at the First Methodist Church, Hereford. They included June Williams of Orange, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Exum of Tracy, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andrews of Carthage, Mo., and numerous others from area towns, also.

Mr. Jones and his wife, Dovie (Springer) farmed in this community, two miles south of old Frio School house, about 25 years, rearing their six children there. The family was active in school and community and were members of the Methodist Church which met in Frio School house during the late 1920s and early '30s. They left the farm during the mid-'50s and moved into a home on South Hwy 385 near Hereford until her death in 1970. He remarried, to Mrs. Laura Littrell, in 1975 and the couple lived in Hereford. They have been very active in church, Senior Citizens activities, the Easter Lions Club and other activities until only the past several weeks, when his health failed. Mrs. Jones's sister, Mrs. Allie Burriss of Texico, has spent considerable time with the couple, helping at home and during his hospital stay, in addition to the caring concern of his children and other relatives.

Mrs. Annie Lee Dobbins, the Robert Dobbins family, the Edgar Vinsons, Mrs. David Watts and son, Shane, with their guests Tiffy Dirks and Kent Finch, spent a long weekend in Brownwood at the Lakeside 4-H Camp facilities. The occasion was a reunion of their relatives. 71 persons attended the get-together, an annual event of the family.

Bollworm infestation increases dramatically

By ALLEN KNUTSON
Extension Agent-Entomology

Cotton producers are once again facing the threat of bollworm infestations in their fields.

The bollworm is the most damaging cotton insect pest on the High Plains, although the level of infestation varies from year to year and field to field. The bollworm, named "Heliothis Zea" by science, feeds on many different crops and plants. It is called corn earworm in corn, headworm in sorghum, podworm in soybeans and fruitworm in tomatoes.

The bollworm begins life as a pin-head sized egg laid on the cotton plant, usually on a terminal leaf. The egg is milky white when first laid, turns brown the second day and hatches in a total of 3-4 days. The young bollworm, about 1/16 inch long, feeds on tender leaf buds and tiny squares in the plant's terminal. The worm matures in about 15 days and reaches a length of 1 1/2 inches.

The mature larvae burrows into the soil and transforms into the adult or moth stage in 14 days. The tan-colored moth has a wingspan of 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 inches. Each female lays about 1,000 eggs during a peak period of 7-8 days. Eggs are laid singly from sunset to dark and on cloudy days.

A bollworm eats or damages an average 6-8 squares, one bloom and 1-2 bolls. More bolls and fewer squares are damaged later in the season when squares are less common. Some bolls are totally destroyed, while partially damaged bolls become susceptible to boll rot, have lower fiber quality, and may not properly open for harvest. If bollworms destroy one boll per 50 plants, about $1 per acre is lost at 65-cent cotton.

Bollworms probably overwinter in the soil in our area. Bollworm moths, which are strong fliers and can fly many miles in an evening, may also fly into the High Plains in the spring.

Corn is the preferred host of the bollworm, but as silks dry and kernels mature, moths seek more succulent crops to lay eggs on. Although other factors are certainly important, many believe the increased corn acreage has contributed to the bollworm problem in cotton.

Weather plays a very important role as egg and young worm survival is favored by cool, humid conditions. Rain promotes succulent cotton growth for young bollworms to feed upon. Recent rains have resulted in a cotton crop very susceptible to bollworm infestation and damage.

Many beneficial insects and spiders feed on bollworm eggs and small larvae and often keep bollworms below economic levels. However, insecticide treatments are sometimes necessary to protect the crop.

Treatment decisions should be based on counts of eggs, small worms and predators as determined by field scouting, and on crop conditions and yield potential. This information also determines what pesticide and rate will provide effective, economical control.

A large variety of insecticides is available for bollworm control. In addition to chemical worm killers, some pesticides kill only eggs, while others are formulations of a virus or bacteria fatal only to bollworms but harmless to beneficial insects. Additives, called feeding stimulants, may be mixed with a pesticide to encourage bollworms to eat the sprayed portion of the leaf. A group of insecticides called synthetic pyrethroids are now widely used. They are much less toxic than many other pesticides.

Another recent advance in bollworm control involves mixing the insecticide with soybean or cottonseed oil instead of water. The mix is applied aerially at one quart/acre rather than the usual three gallons/acre. The reduced volume saves ferrying time and shortens treatment delays. The oil carrier may provide better crop penetration, slightly longer control and a new market for these oils. However, planes must be carefully calibrated to evenly distribute the reduced volume of spray per acre.

Treatment for bollworms now does not mean the grower will be locked into treating 4-5 times to save the crop. This is often the case when cotton is treated before or at early bloom and beneficials are eliminated, leaving the field open to reinfestation for 1-2 months. While beneficials should be preserved whenever possible, our pest and crop system is different than in other parts of Texas where this problem has occurred.

How long will bollworms threaten this season's crop? Egg lay is expected to decline soon and not peak again. This prediction is based on the number of bollworms trapped in May and June in Castro County. These trap catches were used in a computer model, called MOTH-ZV, which predicts bollworm egg lay in cotton. However, weather and crop conditions can change in ways the computer cannot predict. Timely field scouting is the best insurance against bollworm losses.

APHIDS

Aphids continue to infest cotton throughout the West Texas area. Local field conditions range from no aphids, to fields with upper leaves cupped and wilted from aphid feeding, to fields with aphids flying out or being reduced by predators. Aphid treatment may be considered when leaf yellowing, excessive square shed or plant stunting occurs. Mid and lower leaves should not be allowed to suffer heavy aphid infestation as these leaves are feeding developing bolls.

The following materials and rates are reported to give satisfactory aphid control while preserving the majority of the beneficials:

Orthen® - 1/2 oz. per acre.

Lorsban - 1/8 to 1/4 pt./acre.

Systox - 1/2 pt./acre.

Aphids are making checking for small worms and eggs very difficult. Aphid infestations are likely to continue until aphid predators and parasites increase or weather turns hot and dry.

CORN

Trap catches of southwestern corn borers have declined to moderate levels of 100-250/night. Borer treatments may be necessary in late-planted corn that will not be harvested until after Sept. 15.

Spider mites greatly increased in many fields this past week. Mite infestations have often been very spotty, making control decisions difficult. Corn usually escapes economic damage once it reaches the dent stage. Fields will be cut for silage in about a week.

Don't Blame Your Age For Poor Hearing

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of one of the smallest Beltone aids of its kind will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

True, all hearing problems are not alike . . . and some cannot be helped by a hearing aid. But audiologists report that many can. So, send for this free model now, and wear it in the privacy of your own home. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a fourth of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 15341, Beltone Electronics, 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.
