PARIS GREEN TO KILL COTTON PESTS

Agricultural Expert Gives Formula Which Has Proven Success —In Preventing Loss From Insects.

J. W. Butcher, local agent for the United States Department of Agriculture recommends the use of paris green to kill the insects and worms that threaten to seriously damage the cotton crop. In a communication to the Standard, states: "Inasmuch as I hear considerable complaint from the farmers of the various communities of their cotton being ravaged by the leaf worm, and realizing the serious action being taken at once to prevent further predation from this pest before any serious damage has been done I recommend the use of paris green as the most effective remedy."

E. S. G. Titus, in his treatise on injurious insects, recommends as follows: Apply paris green or other arsenite, dry, to the leaves. It is readily done by fastening sacks of cloth, 8-ounce osaburg is recommended, containing the insecticide to each end of a pole, and riding between the rows on horseback, allowing it to be lightly jarred upon the leaves.

Theodore C. Thomas recommends the liquid use of paris green as follows: Paris green one pound fresh unslacked lime, one pound, water, 200 gallons. Paris green is heavier than water and the mixture must be kept in constant motion during spraying operations to prevent settling. Paris green if used on plants greatly in excess of the above formula may injure the foliage. The addition of lime overcomes the caustic properties and renders it safe under all conditions.

Dry paris green may be used pure if applied in small quantities.

In my judgment this formula may be much stronger than recommended by Mr. Thomas, and where London purple is used it is not necessary to use the lime. However, lime causes the paris green to adhere more closely to the leaves, therefore it is not so easily washed away by light rains. London purple serves the same purpose as fresh lime in overcoming the caustic properties contained in the paris green.

Either of these above treatments may be applied at a minimum cost of 50 cents an acre, and it seems it would be futile for the farmer to see his crop destroyed without using any effort to prevent such a great loss.—San Angelo Standard.

PROUD TO TELL ABOUT CURES

Folks Who Have Been Sick Like to See Their Cases in Print, Says Doctor.

"Any doctor who cures a patient of an illness serious enough to be written up in a medical magazine has a right to feel proud of himself, but he isn't nearly so proud as the person he cured," said a doctor. "It actually looks as if seeing the history of their cases in print compensates some folks for being sick."

"Nearly everybody nowadays who has a pretty hard pull to get back to health asks me if I am not going to publish their case for publication. It is not

TO FILL A LONG-FELT WANT

Way Suggested in Which Anatomists Could Get First Class Brains for Dissection.

We are sure that the deepest sympathy will be felt in all classes of society with the anatomists who are complaining that they are deficient in knowledge of the anatomy and structure of the human brain merely because of the difficulty of obtaining first-class brains for dissection. This long-felt want should certainly be supplied, but that the plan of the editor of American Medicine to urge intelligent men to will their brains to science is a sure way out of the difficulty may well be doubted. We are afraid the scientific investigator will have an oversupply of brains on their hands.

SIR WALTER AT ABBOTSFORD

This is the Centenary of Scott's Entry into Possession of That Famous Estate.

This is a notable year in the history of Abbotsford, for it is the centenary of Sir Walter Scott's entry into possession of the lands ever afterward closely associated with his name. On May 12, 1811, he wrote to his publisher, James Ballantyre, that he had "resolved to purchase a piece of ground sufficient for a cottage and a few fields." That first purchase, which cost £4,000, was a wretched farm by the riverside, the house, says Lockhart, "small and poor, with a common kailyard on one flank and a stabling barn on the other, while in front appeared a filthy pond covered with ducks and duckweed, from which the whole tenement derived the unharmonious

Clarty Hole."
£50,000 in extending the estate, and in mid the music so dear, "the gentle ripple over its pebbles," he last on the sunny afternoon 21, 1822.

CONTROL OF CHILDREN.

A mother confessed recently that her infant son of seven was quite unmanageable, without realizing that this admission published her own shame. From birth she had treated him as an irresponsible plaything, and now she was reaping the fruits of her own sowing. Many an unfortunate governess has been called upon to enforce discipline among an unruly flock of youngsters totally unacquainted with the meaning of the word. In despair the parents finally send the youthful rebels off to school, where they learn the lesson of obedience in bitterness and tears.—Exchange.

HOW TO THINK YOUNG.

You can help to keep off sagging cheeks if you will only "think young." Never allow the cheek muscles to droop for a single instant. Pleasant thoughts help the muscles as well as the mind. At night massage the relaxed muscles back into place with a good ointment. Sleep on your back without a pillow at night, and if this does not do, tie up the chin in a chin belt. It will hold up the relaxed muscles until your cheeks return to a firmer contour. You can get one by sending to any good beauty shop.—Woman's World.

AID TO HUSBANDS' MEMORIES.

The United States government is undertaking a cure for men who forget to mail their wives' letters. The post office department, as an experiment, has installed mail boxes in street cars in the city of Washington. If it works well in the capital, this aid to bad memories will be extended to other cities. The idea is that with a mail box staring him in the face while a man is on his way to his office, there is no excuse for his carrying a letter in his pocket more than three or four days. Thus far the post office has provided no relief for the wife whose husband forgets to bring home the butter or order the coal.—Success Magazine.

THE CHIEF REASON WHY you ought to be a regular reader of The News is that it has a reputation for TRUTH, FAIRNESS AND DECENCY excelled by that of no newspaper in the country, and rivaled by none in the South.

FOR MORE THAN HALF A CENTURY The News has been building that reputation. It is the biggest single asset which The News possesses. It could better afford to smash its presses than to sacrifice any part of that reputation. Even if it were insensible to every ethical consideration, it would be made jealous of this reputation by plain considerations of business prudence.

THAT FACT IS YOUR GUARANTEE that every statement offered to you in the news columns of this paper comes as near to being the unadulterated truth as it is humanly possible to make it. Also it is your policy of insurance that in whatever it reports concerning any controversial matter there will be no coloring of facts to accommodate the complexion of its editorial columns. Some of the most stinging rebukes which the editorial columns of The News have received have been written by its reporters and correspondents—and they get congratulated for doing it every time!

THE VALUE OF THIS REPUTATION is likewise a guarantee that The News will never stoop to strive for sensationalism. Truth is stranger than fiction, Sometimes; but as a rule the rumor that carries more fiction than fact inspires the more startling headline—and there is a large class of men who can only be shocked by the headlines into buying a newspaper. Thus there is a good deal of self-denying virtue in subjecting every rumor and report to that investigation which so often robs them of their printability.

YOU ARE CAREFUL AS TO THE CHARACTER of people whom you admit to your home. Ought you not to be doubly and trebly so as to the character of the newspaper which seeks entrance to it? The man or woman against whom you hold the door may come no more. The newspaper is a daily visitor, and is more insidious and more persistent in exercising the influence of its character.

NOWHERE IN THE WORLD is there a newspaper that more carefully guards its columns against the entrance of anything that could be contaminating and demoralizing. The News has sacrificed many a "story" of the kind which is read greedily by those who revel in the contemplation of sordid and prurient things. The News has fixed a high standard, the highest known to journalism, by which to test the fitness of news items, and of every item it gives the benefit to the women and children.

IT HAS BEEN SAID OF THE NEWS by some of its critics, both friendly and unfriendly, that it puts into the wastebasket too many things that ought to be found in its columns. Well, that is a question of taste, about which there can be no disputing.

THERE ARE SOME WHO THINK that a newspaper ought to aspire to be nothing more than a realistic picture of the world's doings from day to day, portraying the tragedies of the slums along with the fetes of the palace. The News does not think so. It knows there is a reach of idealistic censorship which, if attained, would make the newspaper belie its name. The only practical rule for a newspaper which aspires to aid in uplifting mankind, and at the same time remain a faithful historian of the world's activities, is to print much, perhaps that is not helpful, but to print nothing that is harmful. That is the rule which The News tries to follow.

THESE THREE QUALITIES—TRUTH, FAIRNESS AND DECENCY—are the cardinal virtues in journalism. The possession of all the other virtues would not make up for the lack of these. These three The News thinks it has in unsurpassed degree. The possession of them alone should incline you to it, and make you a regular reader of it if it has the ability and facilities for performing the routine functions of a newspaper.

NEXT WEEK WILL BE GIVEN EVIDENCE to prove that in the facilities for gathering and disseminating the daily story of the world's doings, The News is unrivaled in Texas and unsurpassed in the South.

CAUGHT EIGHT-FOOT HALIBUT.

A gigantic halibut was delivered on the Grimsby market. It measured over eight feet in length and drew the scales at twenty-four stone. When caught on an ordinary line it gave no trouble until drawn to the surface, and then it played with the fishermen for a long time until with several great hooks under its gills and powerful lines attached it was drawn on board by the steam winch. The monster was sold at auction for $25, which is almost a record.—Westminster Gazette.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women.

Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

It is more fun to see a man read a puff on himself in a newspaper than to see a fat man slip on a peel. The narrow minded man reads it over seven or eight times, and then goes around to appropriate what copies he can. The kind hearted man goes around to the office and pays what he owes. The successful business man who advertises regularly and makes money by it, immediately starts out to find the editor and the two walk silently down the street and (if it happens to be that kind of a town) the business man takes sugar in his and they both eat a clove or two and life is sweeter and peace settles down in their hearts for moments. Such is the experience of a mustard seed that falls on different ground.—Ex.

Many a young woman who deserves a good man for a life companion has jumped in at a tender age and married a "Johnny" and gone through life embarrassed the rest of her days. "Johnny" is all right as an ice cream boy and as a slot machine with which to get chewing gum and candy, but when it comes to measuring up in after years with the men who do things, and whose wives make up the budget of satisfied ones, he is down and out before the race starts. Girls, if you must marry, and you must if you would be really happy, be sure and marry a man, or at least what is going to be a man.—Ex.

Standards For Candidates.

Now that the political atmosphere is soon to be highly electrified and charged with the fortunes of patriotic individuals as well as destinies of state for a term of at least two years, it is well to consider platforms for candidates. Of course "isms" will play an important part in a smattering.

State business concern and it run on business principles. The men who offer to direct the affairs of government should possess business ability. For example, candidates for Comptroller should be able to add and subtract as well as throw a brain storm; candidates for the Railroad commission should be able to intelligently inspect a railroad as well as blink and breathe, and candidates for the Legislature should be able to give us peace and prosperity as well as fight a duel with progress. Let us have a business standard for candidates.

The financial end of road building is an important feature for without the means, the end cannot be obtained. If it is possible to pay cash, it is always preferable, but this seldom can be done; therefore, extensive highway construction must be brought about by obtaining money on time, or by the issuing of bonds as in this way alone can future beneficiaries assist in paying the cost.

Why so many songs and poems have been written about dreams is a question that has never been definitely settled, still, every new song on the subject that has literary merit and a pleasing melody meets with public approval. "THE VALE OF DREAMS" is a fine example of this.

Jerome Kern, one of the most able men of late years devoted considerable money and energy in trying to raise the standard of popular songs, and "THE GARDEN OF ROSES," by the same composers, also a high-class ballad, has actually outsold any of the popular songs in their catalogue. Musical taste is improving, and while the people still love the rollicking songs of the vaudeville stage, they welcome the better class of songs in their homes. The first part of "THE VALE OF DREAMS" opens in a minor key, leading up to the refrain in major. Mr. Bert Sheidan, of the celebrated Rol-fonians, is singing this song nightly to big applause.

CHORUS.
Meet me in the vale of dreams,
By the summer sea;
There love's star forever gleams,
Dear,
Gleams for you and gleams for me.
There, our hearts will find repose,
Neath the moon's fair beams.
Meet me there beside the rose,
In the vale of dreams.

HE WAS CERTAINLY ELIGIBLE

Candidate for Volunteer Fire Company Lived on Farm but Slept in His Office.

There used to be a company of brave fire laddies in Albany, Ore., known as the Linn County Fire company No. 2. It was a volunteer organization and pretty near all of the best people in the city belonged to it, including United States Senator Chamberlain.

In this town was a young lawyer whose father was very rich and who had been to an eastern law school. Since his graduation he had done nothing except open an office. This young lawyer was proposed for membership in the Linn county Fire company.

"We cannot elect him," one of the members protested. "The constitution of our company says that the members of it must sleep in Albany and live here in the city; and he lives out of town on a farm and not in the city at all. He would be of no value at all in case of a fire at night. He doesn't sleep here at night."

"No," replied Chamberlain, "it is true he doesn't sleep here at night, but he sleeps here in his office all day."

And they elected him on that ground.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE TEA DRINKERS.

The chronic tea drinkers of this country are generally the kitchen girls and women who remain in the kitchen and in the house a great deal. The teapot is constantly on the stove and the strong stale brew full of tannic acid and bitter extractives is poured into the stomach at frequent intervals. Here we get not only the stimulation of the caffeine, but the irritation of the tannin derivatives on the stomach mucous membrane. The sooner or later result is sleeplessness, and irritable fretty disposition, nervous dyspepsia, or even gastritis, and constipation. Of course, the treatment is to stop the cause, treat the insomnia, dyspepsia and constipation, and give fresh air. Tea tasters show earlier than other individuals decay of the teeth. Children up to 15 years should not drink coffee or tea regularly.—Journal of the American Medical Association.

SCOTCH SABBATARIANISM.

Looking out of the window used to be an indictable offense on the Sabbath. In 1709 the Kirk Session of Edinburgh, "taking into consideration that the Lord's Day is profaned by people standing in the streets, vaguing in the fields and gardens, as also by idly gazing out of the windows, it is ordered that each session take its turn to watch the streets on Sabbath, and to visit each suspected house in each parish by elders and deacons with beadle and officers, and after sermon, when the day is long, to pass through the streets, and to reprove such as transgress and inform on such as do not refrain."

ACCORDING TO RULE.

"How is your mother this morning?" asked Mrs. Grey of the small boy who came with the milk.

"She's better," he answered.

"Can she sit up?" went on Mrs. Grey.

"No," answered the literal youngster. "She sits down, but she stands up."

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not imitate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder, with a larger sale than all others combined.
