THE ROBERT LEE OBSERVER

"A Tolerable Good Paper Published in a Mighty Good Town"

VOLUME 46

ROBERT LEE, COKE COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 1936.

San Angelo Tuesday Night

dist church June 9, 1925, She died in St. Johns hospital, San Angelo, May 20, 1936.

Surviving are the husband, an infant son, William Wayne; the parents, Mr. and Mrs W. R. Hester; six brothers, H. O. Hester, Bronte; E. E. Hester, W. R. Hester, Jr., Joe Hester and Weldon Hester all of Robert Lee; and D. R. Hester of Wingate; three sisters. Mrs. Mable Mundell and Mrs. Willie Yarbrough of Robert Lee and Mrs. Mozelle Smith of Pleasant for a visit with his moth-

Notice To Relief Clients

The State wide program of general relief for unemployables under the Texas Relief Commission is rapidly coming to a close. tend school this vacation. She July 1.

C. J. Sweeney, District Relief Administrator with headquarters in Abilene, who has immediate Russell will leave June 8 for Lub- Drought, state director of the supervision of Callahan, Coke, Eastland, Fisher, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens and Taylor counties is making arrangements to to the Welfare Boards in the various counties.

Heretofore two checks per Sam Jones, Abilene. month were sent out, but as the program must close June 30, with records completed, only one bread winner in the group.

funds for the unemployable cli- the program is overents last year, and for the last Our duties will now be to refer six or seven months State funds all needy cases to the County R. H. Harris. This land, con- this problem for the children of have been used, but now they Welfare Boards. Our job of reare exhausted. The WPA pro- lief has been completed. We are land lying along the Colorado gram continues to take care of making ready to fold our tents, our clients who are able to work. thankful for an opportunity to and it now becomes the problem have been able to render assisof the local political sub-divisions tances when most necessary to to shoulder the responsibility the communities. of those who cannot help them- There are 1039 cases, or apselves, due to physical and men- proximately 4692 persons now likely to be in luck this year, for division of the Robert Lee-San have small children, with no pioyable.

and Studies

Funeral services for Mrs. Tur- Next week most of the Robert ney Casey were conducted by Lee faculty will have left town or Rev. J. D. Coleman and Rev. O. will be preparing to leave for a E. Moreland Wednesday after- rest or for study. Supt. Taylor ternoon at the family residence expects to be in Robert Lee the and burial was in the Robert Lee greater part of the vacation employed with the routine duties of Mrs. Casey, who before her the school work. He will devote marriage was Nadine Hester, was much effort toward the perfectborn May 19, 1917 on Indian ing of a project now being consid-Creek, Coke county, She was ered for adding vocational agriconverted and joined the Metho. culture and home economics to the school course.

> Mr. Landers expects to be here din-Simmons finishing his degree work.

Miss Morris has made plans for a term in Howard-Payne at

Mr. Brey and family will be at their home at Green Mountain for six weeks and will then make a tour of the Rio Grande valley and Gulf coast and then go to Mount er during which time they will take in the Centennial exposition.

Mr. Keeling and Miss Percifull have no definite plans for the summer. Mr. Keeling will probably be in Robert Lee most of the vacation and Miss Percifull will go to her home in Christoval.

Because of the ill health of her mother, Miss McLure will not at-

Miss Vowell and Mrs. Mary

Winford Baze, stellar fullback ght added. transfer all clients under his care from Robert Lee, has been elected vice-president of the Double loans in Texas through February One check will be mailed all logical college. This is an organ- and total disbursements were clients from our State office in ization of lettermen at the col-Austin the first week in June. lege. Baze, a junior, succeeds check for the full allotment will A drastic reduction in person- 202.30 and disbursements of $5,- going to their respective fields of bothe rule this coming month. - nel takes place on June 1, many 916,482,390.77, according to a study to better fit themselves for It is to be hoped that all citi- officials being closed and all but recapitulation taken as of Feb- their task another year. Childzens, as well as public officials, three case workers in the Dis- ruary 29. Drought was inform- ren are ushered into the routine will realize the seriousness of trict being dropped. Mrs. Om- ed by Washington officials. the burden that we are transfereta Goff will supervise Mitchell, ring to their shoulders. In the Nolan, Coke and Taylor counthree or more years that the ties, with her office in Sweet-Texas Relief Commission has water. By July 1, even these been taking full charge of these will cease to be employees, and unfortunate citizens, we have all activities of the Texas Relief managed to keep their condition Commission will be a thing of from public notice. The Feder- the past. Mr. Sweeney will real Government ceased to allocate tain his office in Abilene until

Mrs. Turney Casey Dies In Teachers Planning Vacations FINE RAINS COVER COUNTY

To Receive College Degrees

Two more members of the Robert Lee school faculty will receive in the school auditorium last ceived an estimate of three to college degrees before the school week to Mary Lou McCutchen four inches. The rains came at terms begins here. Supt. Taylor for having made the highest an opportune time, as the counhas completed all work required grade in the senior class, to try was badly in need of moistfor a degree and would have been Walter (Bud) Thedford for the ure. Quite a lot feed and cotton awarded a diploma last weekend, best all round athlete, and to had been planted before the had it been possible for him to be Tommy Williams for the best all raine, and now hundreds of acres present at the Spring graduating round senior including scholar- more will be seeded in the next exercises in Commerce at that ship, atheletics and extra curri- few days. time. Since the commencement cular activities. after a few weeks study in Har- exercises of his school began last Sunday it was impossible for him ments of a company from which to attend. He will go in August the seniors bought their rings for Summer graduation and will and Supt. Taylor has arranged plenty stock water, fat cattle and be awarded a degree from Texas State Teachers College.

A. F. Landers will go to Abi-Hardin-Simmons baccalaureate state. sermon and will receive a degree graduating class.

Mr. Landers lacks a few hours to complete his degree work and will remain in Abilene for several weeks for that purpose.

probably to attend the Centen- County through February 29 have amounted to $20,000, it has been announced by H. P. possible, to self-support. bock where they will study for National Emergency Council for water has been appointed case-have aggregated $20,000, Drou- was in Robert Lee Wednesday.

T association at Texas Techno- 29 amounted to $118,175,221.29 distributed through more than two hundred Texas counties.

> throughout the nation amounted glory in respite from a long and to authorizations of $7,652,038, strenuous task. Teachers a re

$122.50 of Revenue Stamps

Revenue stamps amounting to deed, filed in the county clerk's tion comes home with force. office May 14, transferring the ownership of the Coke county estate of John Sauls (deceased) to river northwest of Robert Lee, was sold for a cash consideration of $122,222.26.

their way.

Honarary Awards

These medals were complito buy medals next year in addition to the courtesy medals. Just what these additional alene Sunday to be present at the wards will be Mr. Taylor did not eryone in a better humor. What

College scholarships have been Tuesday night with the Spring awarded to Mary Lou McCutchen, Tommy Williams and Geneva

Scoggins.

Checks on June 5

According to a letter sent to the county judge this week, the twenty-three unemployables on direct Loans for refinancing purposes relief will be sent the last checks newspapers were used to match authorized by the Reconstruction on June 5. After July 1, the partners for supper and the Funds will reach the zero stage expects to visit in Houston and Finance Corporation for Coke County Welfare Board will be expected to assume the care of such clients and to assist them, where

> Miss Ometa Goff of Sweet worker with supervision over Disbursements for this county Coke county until July 1. She

Let Us Work Together

"I'm glad school is out." seniors as room-mother. This expression is heard on every hand. From children. From Grand total of RFC loans teachers. From parents. All of home life and the summer activities provided for them. And task of providing an outfit for youthful energies. There is so Mr. Cheaney. much energy and potential pow-$122.50 were attached to the child-any child-that this ques-"What can we do with the children through the summer?

> Let us work together and solve the Robert Lee school district.

Mrs. Drue Scoggins, president Parent-Teachers Association.

The Bronte W. P. A. project turned to his home Sunday. was completed this week and men If you are a vegetarian you are transferred to the Coke county are now working on this project. next session.

Coke County, as well as the entire State, has been the recipient of bountiful rains the Special medals were presented past week. The county has re-

> The rains were gentle, no thunder, lightning or wind, and the hungry earth soaked it right up. The rains assure a good range, sheep, fine gardens, prospects for a good crop, especially watermelons, and a tendency to put evmore could you ask for!

Series of Socials

Climaxing a series of social courtesies given the senior class in the past few weeks, Supt. and Mrs. Taylor entertained at their home Thursday evening with a buffet supper. Characters from the comic sections of names of the characters they

The guests were, Mary Lou McCutchen, Geneva Scoggins, Tommie Williams, James Newton, Daisy McCutchen, Bob Jordan, Ruth Sparks, Pauline Roe, Bud Thetford, Ethel Owens, Junior Peays, Callie LeeRobertson Lauda Denman, Howard Millican, J. D. Coleman, Weldon Fikes and Miss Morris.

Mrs. Taylor was chosen by

Ranch Deal

The James E. Henderson, Jr., ranch of about 8,000 acres located some 40 miles southeast of San Angelo was recently sold to A. T. Cheaney, of San Angelo, for a consideration of approximately $100,000 cash. The ranch parents are confronted with the has been leased to Henderson for a period of several years from

This is considered one of the er in a child, -- your child-my best ranches in the Southwest, well watered, and fenced. A number of big draws go through it scrub liveoak grows profusely ---Southwestern Sheep and Goat Raisers Magazine.

> C. F. Barger of Alpine was a visitor in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barger, for a few days last week. He re-

The H. A. Bilbo family moved to Sanco this week for the summer. They expect to be back in tal handicaps, or women who carried in the District as unem- some fine gardens are already on Angelo road. About forty men Robert Lee when school begins

Washington Digest National Topics Interpreted By WILLIAM BRUCKART

Agriculture and its stepchild, the Agricultural Adjust-Speed New ment administration, Soil Program have launched the initial phase of the new soil conservation program. This, It will be remembered, is the agricultural benefit policy worked out to suersede the unconstitutional AAA, and the speed with which the department has developed the early phases of its new program is noteworthy. It has new program is noteworthy. not wasted any time, nor could it waste time, in order to make the new pro-gram effective in this crop year.

While the work of policy making has gone on at an unusual speed for govental procedure, I am afraid it cannot be said that the soundness of its program can be commended in the

Some of the soil building practices proposed under the new scheme of aid to the farmer undoubtedly will work out but there are others about which there is much doubt. Indeed, already It has been pointed out that certain of the practices proposed are vulnerable and are likely to lead to serious trouble both for agriculture and for the

More than a score of the states were included in the first set of rules and regulations governing soil building practices and rates of payment. The others are nearing completion and will be promulgated at an early date. But first block of rules and regulations and rates of payment establish the general outline of the department's ideas and it can be said, I think, that in these rules and regulations (the government must lay down & meral provisions) lies the trouble. They are replete with that which we usually describe as red tape and red tape never has falled to cause troubi

Practices for which farmers may receive payments vary from state to state. They include the new seeding of legumes and grasses, the plowing under of green manure crops, the planting of forest trees, the eradication of ennial noxious weeds and, in certain areas, a variety of special soil bandling methods such as listing, strip cropping and fallowing, terracing or approved summer fallow. In addition, farmers in certain dry land areas have the option of substituting some of the practices for acreage of soil conserving crops.

In announcing the new practices and rates of payment, the Agricultural Adjustment administration declared that the policies follow in general the recmendations made to the Adjustment administration by the several state committees. It was declared that the sentiment throughout has been "to adapt the general plan to the specific needs of the states in conformity with the approved methods which have been tested by the land grant colleges, the experiment stations and soil conservation service." The Adjustment administration considered that these three agencies furnished the best basis, or the best foundation, for the construction of the generally new program. It follows therefore that a considerable part of the new setup comes by way of expansion of the old soil conservation service which has had much experience in that work. It cannot be ald, however, that the new phases have been tested nor is it more than conjecture how the farmers themselves will take to the plans now offered.

Just as the soil conserving practices vary, so do the rates of payment as between the several Payment states. It is the Rates Vary claim of the Adjustment administration that variation in rates "is due large-ly to variations in the cost of seed, in rates of seeding or to differences in the requirements with respect to soil building practices." Rates of payment for soil conservation on irrigated land are higher than for those on dry land and likewise long stemding agriculat in calculating the rates to be paid in various sections to offset the greater or less expense to which farmers normally are put in producing their Crops.

Generally in the dry land states, the seeding and growing of perennial lefarmer about $2.00 per acre but in ir-varies from $3.00 to $4.00 per scre.

For most states, the rate for bicanial legumes is $1.50 on non-irrigated land and from $2.50 to $3,00 an acre on legisted land. Hates of payment for growing sweet clover are somewhat growing annual legumes.

The rates for plowing under green manure crops are from $1.00 to $2.50 an acre, depending upon the amount of growth which is turned under. For planting forest trees on crop farmers are scheduled to be paid $5.00 an acre.

For weed eradication the program proposes to pay $5.00 an acre where only periodical cultivation is required but it will reward the farmer for taking out weeds by chemical treatment in addition to periodical cultivation by paying him $10.00 an acre. In addition to these methods of anti conservation, strip cropping and fallowing command about $1.00 an acre of benefit to the farmer while terracing will be paid for around the basis of $2.00 or $3.00

Other states, as they are brought under the soil conservation program, may expect rates similar to these for the first half of the country.

. . .

From this program, two sets of conclusions have been drawn. One school thought main-Opinions tains that the regu-Differ lations are simple and easy of enforcement; the other group argues that it is utterly impossible to apply rules and regulations, administered from a central bureau in Washington, to the whole country and yet enable flexibilits of management sufficient to meet the countless problems that will arise

One conclusion is that by administration of the rules and regulations through state and county organizations and with the aid of state experiment stations, individual farmers can be advised and can work out their individual problems with ease. The other school of thought contends that this very fact means a perfect maze of different applications of the rules and regulations both as to language and intent; this group likewise maintains that favoritism will permeate the whole structure and that there will be injustice, ill will and politics in the way the local organizations deal with the

While the policy makers in the marble palace known as the Department of Agriculture contend that be soil conservation program will spell the end of surpluses and will accomplish better prices for what the farmers produce, another argument stresses the claim that the new program means dislocation of agricultural output and the market to which that output normally

To go back a year or more, it can be recalled how the original AAA upset the apple cart for one after another of the farm crops. When land was withdrawn from cotton, it went to tobacco production and there was too much tobacco. There had to be tobacco control. When land was withdrawn from tobacco production, it went to peanuts and there had to be peanut control. And so it was with various other crops until there was a perfect network of crop control each, basically, working at something like a cross purpose with other things.

As the new soll conservation plans unfold, those who doubt their efficacy Find New point to numerous new dislocations that Dislocations are comparable those of the old AAA which I have just enumerated. For example, it is claimed, and there seems to be justice in the claim, the placing of a premium on growth of hay crops such as alfalfa, alsike and clover, can mean only an overabundance of those crops. I do not say that It is certain to occur but if conditions repeat them selves, the prices for hay crops in the market are due to fall. The law of supply cod demand still governs re-gardless of theory and regardless of the attempts of bureaucrats to plan which the farmer shall or shall grow. If world consumption falls low, crops of hay will be valuable. chances, however, seem to be wholly in the other direction.

Time alone can tell how this thing will work out but I cannot believe any sound-thinking person or any person who analyzes the program thro its ultimate end can say that it is free from weaknesses. The tragedy of the menting on the farmers. With that I am not in accord and never can be. Further, while I dislike to disparage ionest efforts. I am afraid the new soil conservation program embodies some politics as well as efforts to belp agriculture.

Roomy Beach Pajamas With Yoke, Sleeves, Front Panel in One to Facilitate Making

Plen'y of room is included for active arms and legs in this exceedingly smart and youthful beach pajam Yoke, sleeves, and front panel are all one piece cleverly combined be doing.

to minimize your sewing time and eliminate complicating tricks,

Large unusual buttons down the center front panel, a demure Peter Pan collar plus a wide self-fabric belt and the blouse is complete. The waist is gathered to the yoke in front and back, giving a flattering fullness and smooth appearance, Make this levely tailored model in silk crepe, voile, or percale for lounging and gingham, pique, or linen for the beach.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1791-B is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20; 40 and 42. Corresponding tast measure ments 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 (34) requires 4% yards of 39 inch material. Send fifteen cents for the pattern.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 367 W. Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

@ Bell Syndicate.-WNU Service.

Mark It Well, for It's a Disgrace—

Not to be a true man or a true

Not to back up your chance in life with the best that is in you.

To disappoint your relatives and friends, especially your father and

Not to make good, especially in a country where the very climate is a perpetual tonic, where the marvelous resources arouse ambition as nowhere else in the world.

To go through life using only a small per cent of your possibilities. It is everyone's duty to be a hundredper-cent efficient.

To be indolent or idle when there is work in the world that you should

Foreign Words and Phrases

Ab uno disce omnes. (L.) From e learn all.

Anno actatis sune, (L.) In the year of his (or her) age, Bonne foi. (F.) Good faith.

Caput mortuum, (L.) A worthse residue.

De trop. (F.) Too much; too many; out of place; not wanted.

Ecce signum. (L.) Behold the sign! Here is the proof, Fata obtant. (L.) The Fates op-

Honl soit qui mal y pense. (F.). Evil be to him who evil thinks. (Motto of creat Britain.) Inter se. (L.) Between (or among) themselves, Lex non scripta. (L.) Unwritten law; the common law, Mal a propos. (F.) Ill-timed; unuitable.

Nemo me impune lacessit. (L.) No one attacks me with impunity.

READ THE ADS

JOE E. BROWN ASKS BOYS AND GIRLS

Famous Comedian Offers 36 FREE Prizes!

Join JOE E. BROWN'S CLUB. You'll get the goodoking membership pin shown here and the Club Manual telling how to work up to higher ranks and how to get Joe's valuable prizes free. Send your na and address, and one red-and-blue Grape-Nuts Flakes package top to Grape-Nuts Flakes, Battle Creek, Michigan. Grape-Nuts Flakes will be good for you just as they are good for Johnny. With whole milk or cream, and fruit, they provide more varied nourishment than many a hearty meal. And are they good! (This offer expires December 31, 1936. Good only in U. S. A.)

Club Membership Pin-

SEE JOE E. DROWN'S LATEST MOTION PICTURE -- SOUS O' CHUS"-A WARNER DROTHERS PICTURE!

****** STAR DUST

Movie · Radio *** By VIRGINIA VALE ***

WANT to be a camera man? All of you men and boys who cherish that ambition can't do better than to heed the advice of Hal Mohr, who knows what it is to start from scratch and win. He is one of our ace photographers, you know; did the camera work on "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Captain Blood," among others, and won the Academy Award this year.

"I get hundreds of letters from boys wanting to know how to become studio camera men," he said the other day. "They all want to come to Hollywood, and that is the worst thing to do. I'd say to them-

"Begin at home as an amateur camera man. Practice on your friends with your home movie and any sim-ple kodak. Learn all you can about trick photography, lighting, effects, enlarging and finishing—this is the foundation."

Mohr did that, years ago in his honce in San Francisco, using a rather crude movie camera that he had made himself and photographing local news

Do you by any chance listen to those "Vox Pop" broadcasts on NBC on Tuesday evenings? If you don't, form the habit; they're great.

Parks Johnson and Jerry Belcher set up shop just anywhere around New York and gather in innocent bystanders to broadcast; they ask questionstricky ones, usually-and the victim

The boys have been doing a bit of research work, and declare that people from small towns have faster, keener minds than city bred people.

If you're interested in Radio salaries-Harry Conn, who wrote Jack Benny's scripts till he and Benny had a tiff, received $1,000 a week,

And if you're interested in the diff. culties of a radio star Jack is having some, because after his regular broadcast is do se he has to repeat it, some time later, for the Pacific Coast. One of its chief charms is its effect of spontaneity; 'hat's not hard to achieve the first time, but it's tough to repeat.

RKO officiale gave a little boy one of the most thrilling moments of his life recently. He is Sammy Mydash, seven y are old, and he had been blice. An operation restored his sight, and as soon as he left the hospital he went with his doctor and his nurse to the Radio City Music Hall, to a pre-view of RKO's "Dancing Pirate," an all-color picture.

No doubt you saw the dialect come dian known as Parkyakarkus in Eddie Cantor's recent "Strike Me Pink"; you must have heard him on the radio too. But -you should have een him at a big learne baseball rame the other day with his nine-year-old son. The boy had a toy micro-phone, and busily pre-tended to broadcast the entire game. In-Eddie Cantor ridentally, Eddie Cantor continues to be one of the most popular air comedians. Considering the number of years he's been breadcasting, he ranks as a veteran on the air.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . Gloria Suranson hoped to come back in "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie" for Puramount; "Carrie" was a grand role for her; but Ircae Dunne got it . . Fred Astaire just can't resist writing songs; he's just finished another one . . Fred MacMurrey got a bad sore throat from the dust storms at the "Texas Ranger" focation . . . Margeret Sullavan and Henry Fonda broke up their marriage because they couldn't get along together; now they're being teamed in pictures, because all of us movingors liked them in "The Moon's My Home" . . . James Cagney's in New York incognito; registers at hotels under his wife's maiden name . . . John Charles Thomas won't broadcast because the Federal Communications Commission won't let him go on ending with "Goodnight, Mother."

Platinum is described as being malleable, which means capable of being rolled. It is listed as follows, with regard to its malleability in comparison with other metals: Gold, silver, copper, aluminum, tin, platinum lead, iron, nickel and sinc. Pure platinum in the compact state is very malleable.

IMPROVED' UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for May 31 THE LAST SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—Luke 22:7-23, GOLDEN TEXT—This do in remem-rance of me.—Luke 22:19, PRIMARY TOPIC—The Supper Jesus ave His Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Lord's Supper.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR
OPIC—What the Lord's Supper Means to Me.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT
TOPIC—What the Lord's Supper Means

The last meal that Jesus ate with his disciples was the Passover, the me-morial of the national deliverance which pointed to the supreme deliverance to be effected by Christ on the of Calvary. In connection with this Passover, the feast of the new covenant was instituted. This feast also has a double import. It looks backward to the great deliverance wrought through Christ's atoning death, and forward to the even greater deat his second coming (I Cor. 11:26).

I. The Last Passover (vv. 7-18).

1. The Passover prepared (vv. 7-13).

a. As the time had arrived for the killing of the Passover, Jesus directed Peter and John to make rendy for it

b. The disciples inquired (v. 9) where they should prepare the Passover. Doubtless, they were eager to be of service to their Master and Lord.

c. Jesus gave strange directions (vv. 10-12), that they should go into the city, where they would find a man bearing a pitcher of water. The custom was for women to carry the water. This unusual occurrence would make !* the easier for them to recognize the man of whom they would ask, "Where is the guest chamber where I shall eat the Passover with my disciples?"

d. The disciples gave unquestioning obedience (v. 13), not permitting the unusual instructions to raise the question of sanity or resembleness. Jesus, how the matter would turn out, and the disciples found it even so,

2. The Passorer eaten (vv. 14-18). a. The historic group around that table (v. 14) was composed of Jesus and the Twelve, the apostles.

b. Jesus' words to the disciples (vv. 15-18).

(1) "I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer" (v. 15). He desired to show them the meaning of the passion through which he was He also craved their human sympathy as he passed through this terrible ordeal

(2) "I will not any more eat thereof until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God" (v. 16). His death was the antitypical fulfillment of the Passover meal. He declared that this would be the last time that they could share together this sacred ordinance before the completion of his mediatorial work.

(3) "Take this cup and divide it among ourselves" (vv. 17, 18). By the token of the cup the disciples were partaking of the shed blood. This cup should be distinguished from the cup of the feast of the new covenant.

II. The Feast of the New Covenant (vv. 19, 20).

This feast took place at the close of

1. The bread a symbol of Christ's body (v. 19). As bread nourishes and strengthens our bodies, so Christ is food to our spiritual nature. Unless the body receives nourishment, it decays. Unless our souls feed upon Christ, we shall perish. Christ's giving the physical bread to his disciples sig-nified the giving of himself to them.

 The cup a symbol of Christ's blood (v. 20). He said, "This cup is the new testament in my blood which was shed for you," indicating that each one must personally accept the atonem of wall

III. The Treachery of Judas (vv. 21-23).

1. The time of its manifestation (v. 21). It was while they were eating the last Passorer that Jesus made announcement of the betrayal. Perhaps Jesus was in this manner offering Judas an opportunity at this last moment to repent. 2. The betrayul was by the determinate counsel of God (v. 22, cf. Acts 2:23). Nothing takes place by chance, Even the sinful acts of wicked men come within the permissive providence of God. This does not, however, lessen the guilt of sinners, for Jevus said, "Woe unto the man by whom he is

 The sorrowful question (v. 23).
 That the disciples were not suspicious of one another is evident from the per-Morbet Phose of the Goths
The Peter City of Dansig at the port of the Polish Oseridor was originally spoil Génesit from Gedennik, which many way betraying his Serior and Lord.

Persian Kitten Is Easy to Do in Cross Stitch

How would you like to find this ute Persian kitten curled up in your favorite chair, or in a pretty frame above your bed? Embroider a pillow or picture with her soft likeness, as you can do so easily in cross stitch, and make her adoption complete. Use wool, silk or cetten floss, though angora yarn makes the most realistic likeness. You'll love doing this needlework in your spare time, and find the crosses an easy 6 to the inch.

Pattern 1148 comes to you with a transfer pattern of a kitten 11% by 13% Inches; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches reeded; color chart and key.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circie, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

All Things Are Engaged in Writing Their History

Every act of man inscribes itself In the memories of his fellows and in his own manners and face,

The air is full of sounds; the say. of tokens; the ground is all mem-oranda and signatures and every object covered with hints which speak to the intelligent.-Goethe,

A scientist says that eating lion meat will cure timidity. The com-plete recipe probably begins, "First, catch your lion."

Ask Us Another Teacher-What tense is, "I am Class (in unison)-Past tense.

Hereditary? Jones had never been on an ocean royage before, and on his disembarking from a giant liner an acquaint-ance inquired: "Well, old man, what do you think of this great vessel?"

"Marvelous," the traveler replied. was on the ocean at all if I hadn't due?" been seasick most of the time."

RELAX

Qualified
"Is this your ball in the garden
onny?" asked the gardener,

The small boy looked worried "Are there any windows broken?"

"Ah, then it to my baft!"

Just Cautions "Then you won't have a garden wedding?" "No; I'll take no chances of baying my wedding called on account

A Bo

An American and an Irishm were walking together one day when they passed a gallows.

"Ard where would you be, Mike," said the man from the States, "If Believe me, I'd never have known I the gallows over there had their

"Walking alone," said Mike quietly.

WANTS ACTION

"Wouldn't you like to see the lion and the lamb lying down together?"

PROFIT THE SHOP SHOWS A

OF CCUPSE, children should never drink coffee. And many grown-ups, too, fand that the caffein in coffee diagrees with them. If you are bothered by headaches or indigestion or can't sleep soundly . . . try Postum for 30 days. You may miss coffee at first, but after 30 days you'll not only feel better, but you'll love Postum for its own rich, astisfying flavor. And it contains no caffein. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It is easy to make, delicious, economical, and may prove a real help. A product of General Foods.

TREE—Let us send you your first week's supply of Postum from Simply mail coupers. O use, a.v. coor.

es, Buttle Creek, Mich.

The Robert Lee Observer

Entered the postoffice at Robert Lee, Coke County, Texas, as second class mail matter.

> FELIX W. PUETT and ROBERT L. HALL Editors and Publishers

> > MRS. A. W. PUETT, Owner

The Town Where I Live-It's My Town

Learn To Say "No"

Did you ever think what gullible suckers we voters are?

We know the stork doesn't bring babies. We know the magician doesn't really pick money out of the air. We know water doesn't run up hill. But All Announcements strictly Cash. we never seem to learn that political magic is no different from stage magic, except the price of admission is more.

A good politician can make us think he picks money out of the air just like a good magician. But while the politician holds our attention by promising to give us something for nothing but our vote; his hand is in our pocket taking out our money (taxes) to pay for his "gift".

Unless we learn to say ''no' to the tempting "gifts" offered us, the political magicians will promote us a free trip to the moon with a golden chariot to ride in when we get there-but by the time we arrive, we would have long white whiskers and the pawn broker would have the chariot (and probably our return trip ticket) for the tax lien the politicial magicians gave him against

He Was Frank

From Kemp News

A certain man of this country went into one of the business houses one day last week, and before leaving same proved that he was frank, if he was foolish.

He was wanting to get some goods on time. The owner of the business told him in nice way that he did not know him. That he had not been trading with him. The would-be buyer told the merchant that the reason he had not been trading with him was that he could get things so much cheaper from one of the well-known mail order houses, and that when he had cash there was where he spent it; but that they would not credit him; therefore he was asking for the accommodation here. We'll leave you to For Public Cotton Weigher guess whether he got the accora- Pecinct No. 1. modation he asked for.

Editors In Heaven

old Indian who came to his office tell how the depression has cleanto subscribe for a paper. The ed him out and then drive down editor took the money, but the the street and notice that ninc Indian wanted a receipt. The out of ten cars parked along the editor tried to talk him out of it, street ere new ones of the latest but the Indian insisted on getting models, costing in the neighbora receipt. After making out the nood of a thousand dollars each, receipt the editor wanted to know It is grand and glorious country why the Indian was so persistent indeed that can sell that can sell about wanting such recognition. more a tomobiles than were ever The Indian said: "Me die some sold in the history of the industry day. Go to big gate. St. Peter to a busted people .-- Eldorado ask if I had been good Indian. Success. I say yes. He say did you pay editor for paper? I say yes. He say, 'Where is receipt?' I no have. I have to run all over other place to find you and get

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce the following Candidates for the office next-above their names, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, July 25, 1936.

For District Judge, 51st Judicial District.

JOHN F. SUTTON (re-election)

GLENN R. LEWIS

For District Attorney, 51st Judicial District.

O. C. FISHER CLIFTON H. TUPPER

For Representative 92nd Dist HORACE B. SESSIONS (re-election)

COKE COUNTY, TEXAS

For County Judge, McNEIL WYLIE (re-election)

For County and District Clerk WILLIS SMITH (re-election)

For Sheriff & Tax Collector,

FRANK PERCIFULL (re-election) PERCY MYERS

For County Treasurer,

Mrs. DAISY McCUTCHEN (re-election)

IRVAN H. BRUNSON

For Commissioner Pret No. 1 H. C. VARNADORE (re-election)

or Commissioner Pret. No. 3

T. R. HARMON RALPH GARVIN

WALTER McDORMAN

(re-election)

The most inconsisent thing about this whole depression is to An Oklahoma editor tells of an hear every other man you meet

> The Town Where I Live-It's My Town

TODAY

I will start today serenely With a true and noble aim: will give unselfish service To enrich another's name.

will speak a word of courage To a soul enslaved by fear; I will dissipate drab discord With the sunshine of good cheer.

I will be sincere and humble In the work I have to do: will praise instead of censor And see the good in you.

I will keep my mind and body Sound and flexible and pure; will give my time and study To the things that long endure.

will do what I am able To advance a worthy cause; will strive to lessen evil And obey God's righteous laws.

I will pray to Him to guide me I will shun false pride and folly. I will live my best today.

Grenville Kleiser.

ECZEMA

Can be cured. BROWN'S STEADY WORK--GOOD PAY THE CITY DRUG STORE. Dept. S, Freeport, Illinois.

Anything in Concrete, Cast-Stone, or Tile.

L. M. CASTOR

19 E. Ave. D. - San Angelo - Ph. 4040-1

Dr. R. J. Warren DENTIST

811 San Angelo National Bank San Angelo, Texas

Ph. Of. 4429 Res. 38182

A Mystery Yarn

A young man noticed a ravel on the shoulder of his dancing partner and pulled it. By the time he surrendered her to another partner he had a ball of string in his hand, and threw it in the corner. The next morning the In the straight and narrow way young lady was telling her mother about the dance and said, "I had perfectly wonderful time, but Mamma, I can't figure out what became of my union suit."

LOTION stops itching instant. Reliable Man Wanted to call ly. Don't scratch. Thou- on farmers in Coke County. No sands have found this relief. experience or capital needed. 60c and $1.00 sizes, for sale by Write today. McNESS Co.,

Robert Massie Co. Phone 4444 Day or Night FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS. SUPERIOR AMBULANCE SERVICE

Dr. W. A. GRIFFIS DENTIST

Office 402 Rust Bldg. Dial 6395 - San Angelo

WATCHES DIAMONDS JEWELRY

Bolding's

Jewelers

San Angelo, - - - Texas

Choose your carfor the things that commit

See first what a difference that U-8 Feeling makes

ALTHOUGH the Ford is one of the lowest-price cars, it is the only V-8 car below $1645. That's why you can't really judge it till you drive it. Till you feel the smoother flow of its 85 horsepower-its swifter pick-upits easier power up hills and at fast cruising speeds.

And you'll find other outstanding points in a Ford V-8. The riding comfort of a 123" springbase-almost a foot longer than wheelbase. Remarkable stability over rough roads and on turns. The complete security of a steel body, with safety glass all around, and big Ford Super-Safety brakes.

These explain why Ford owners feel so pleased-as they report gas mileage equal to less powerful cars-and no oil added between regular changes. Ford owners get extra benefits in performance-yet pay no extra for them. Choose your new ear as Ford owners do-for the things that count.

Terms as low as $25 a month, after down payment, under new UCC 16% a month plans. Prices $510 and up, F.O.B. Detroit, including Safety Glass throughout in every body type. Standard accessory group extra. BUILT IN TEXAS BY TEXAS LABOR

BORROW A CAR FROM YOUR FORD DEALER TODAY AND CET THAT V-8 FEELING!

COKE MOTOR Co. FORD DEALERS

UNCONFESSED

Copyright by D. Appleton-Century Co., Inc. By MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

SYNOPSIS

Leila Seton, young and beautiful and an expert on paintings, is commissioned to go over the collection of paintings in the home of the wealthy Kellera in the home of the wealthy Kellers in w York, where a party is in progress From her window she witnesses a man in another room strike a woman. Short-ly after Mrs. Keller sends up word, asking her to join the party at dinner. Lella hastily dresses and goes down. She is seated between Mr. Deck, a critic, and Monty Mitchell, a noted lawyer.

CHAPTER I-Continued

Mr. Mitchell relayed the explanation. "He's gone up to see how his wife's headache is — she didn't come

"I know," I said, though I didn't know at all. come down-I'd have made thirteen."

It is important that I remember the dinner in the right intervals; at least, it is important to my story. I believe it was only a very few moments when Mr. Harriden came back. He said. quite loudly: "I think she's sleeping -the room was dark so I didn't dis-turb her." And I recall that Alan Dert looked down toward him intentby, as if observing him a moment.

I wondered if Deck were interested in Nora Harriden, if she had been th lady he was expecting in the gallery. and if he was waiting now for news. to know if there was any chance for him that evening. After that I gathered courage and addressed him; and he talked quite amusingly, with his suggestion of a drawl, of a new book : but all the time I had a feeling that he was only playing off the top of his mind, and the under part of it was deeply brooding on some inner matter. Suddenly I said: "What does Mrs Harriden look like?"

Then I had his attention. He looked at me as if asking what I meant by "You've never seen her?" he said slowly.

"Not unless I saw her coming in . There was one lovely woman in gold pajamas I saw-with dark eyes." "Yes, that was Nora," he said.

Then, for the second time, a man left the table; and this time it was Alan Deck. He looked at his wristwatch, exclaimed sharply, and loudly "Jove, I've got to put in a call!" and with another word to his hostess, took himself off. He was gone longer than Mr. Harriden had been gone. Perhaps it only seemed so to me-but others thought so too, afterwards, I know that when he was away, there was a queer constraint about that ta-The talk went on, but as if it were forced; and I thought that people were watching Mr. Harriden furtively-were they thinking, as I was. that Alan Deck had gone up for the chance of a few words alone with Nora Harriden?

Of course I might be wrong; It might not be Mrs. Harriden in whom he was interested; but looking about that table, I did not see who else it chell to tell me who the others were.

There were six of us women: Mrs Keller and her sister, Mrs. Crane, too old, I thought, for Alan Deck; and there was Miss Van Alstyn, who might be the one, but who did not seem to elick, somehow; and there was a redhaired little piece, Mrs. Watkins, who her second honeymoon, I learned-that seemed too soon for another interest.

the Princess Rancini was the sixth; and though the princess was lovely in a statuesque way, what Mitchell confided of her exaggerated jealousy of the prince did not indicate much time ler over for personal distractions with a young critic. Still, one never knew. either the Princess Rancini or Miss

Van Alstyn. I had a strong feeling that people about that table were only making conversation till Alan Deck came back. I had begun to wonder if he were ever coming, when he entered, said something about the rotten serv

Almost immediately, as if aware that his conduct had given rise to uncome speculation, he began to talk

"Did you see the pictures?" he want-

"You fergot-I left them to you," I reminded him. "Ah-so you did. . . . You didn'

"No. I'll see them in the morning." Then, suddenly, he said an astoundobediently to the staircase.

Harriden-will you?"
I demurred: "I don't know Mrs. "Tell her you come from me," he said decisively. "Tell her to take no steps. . . . Remember that. Take no steps till I've seen ber. Say I've thought it over. . . . To take no

"But she'll think-" I began weakly. "I've got to reach her," he said: and somehow his voice affected me deeply, it was so desperate, so ur-"I can't trust a servant. can't write. She doesn't answer her

"Of course I will," I said quickly. My sympathy for him was an unreason ing thing. At the same time I felt queer pang-it was Nora Harriden in whom he was interested! "Den't let the others see you," he

"I'll try not - but which is her room?"

next to the last to the north. This dining-room is south, you know." My mind flashed back. The next to the last, to the north! Why, that was the lighted window I had stared in:

it was Nora Harriden, then, who was

biding her marked face there now! CHAPTER II

I could hardly walt for that meal to be over. Coffee was in the drawingroom; I let myself be last in the door then turned and burried up the broad central stairs, turning to the right branch. At the doe: that had been designated, I knocked softly.

No one answered. There was no sound within the room. Then, feeting an urgent need not to fall in that mission laid upon me, I pushed open the door. The room, illumined by one shaded light, was empty. The bed was ready for the night, the rosy silk coverlets turned down, a gossamer wisp of lace and chiffon laid out.

I looked about. There were doors in plenty behind which she might be: I went to each and spoke. No sound behind them.

I went back and tried another door -the closet, apparently-but that was locked. I supposed she kept sables and ermine there. It didn't matter: she certainly wasn't in a locked closet. Another door, half open, led to the dressing-room and bath, and these were untenanted too.

Feeling like a thief in the night, I came out, and saw Miss Van Alstyn In the hall. We passed, I smiling confusedly, and she with a vague, shallow glance. I hurried downstairs.

Instantly, as if he had been watching, Alan Deck came up, my cup of coffee in his hands.

"She isn't there," I murmured. "Not there?"

"No. I looked everywhere, bath and all. She simply isn't there.

He stood by me, staring oddly. Then he gave a sort of jerk, and started for the stairs. "Thanks very much," watched him go up; and a queer, hard hostility to Nora Harriden burned in He didn't know other women were living.

Now he was looking for her, in some place he had just thought of.

I remember thinking this, while I made a little conversation with Mrs. Crane about the pictures; and then I found myself next to Mr. Harriden. He was a big man, but not stout; he was hard - boned and spare fleshed. He looked as if he might be merciless.

Then, as the Princess Rancini was moving past us, to the tables being formed for bridge, he caught her quickly by the elbow.

"l'aula-run up and see my wife. will ou? I think she ought to see a doctor-she won't for me. You talk her over."

The princess turned on him ber lovely face, in which no surprise was apparent.

"She is Ill, then?"

"She's cuckoo," said her husband bruskly. "Nerves—she ought to have something quieting." "But-she was quite all right at

tea. "Was she?" said Harriden grim!y He added, in his tone of accustomed command: "Ren up and see how shis, anyway. See if she won't see a doctor. . . . I'd only stir her up."

The princess smiled, and moved

Suddenly I felt sorry for her hus band. He had blurted out his own helpleseness so honestly! I could sur-mise, better than the princess, the reason for that helplessness—that slap in the face he had given her. I im-agined Nora would not soon forgive nal meal is over, slip up and see Nora | that. And I wordered what it was all | to, stated that no one had applied, | certainly hasn't been entered. I myabout—jealousy, of course; and jeal-ousy, I imagined, of Alan Deck, Harriden had the reputation of being mad-ly in love with his wife, and insanely jealous of her beauty.

Watching the stairs, I felt uneasy till I saw Deck return and go into the drawing room. Miss Van Alstyn was already down. Then, for a moment, I forgot the Harriden affair in my bother over the bridge-playing.

I was letting myself be apportione: to a table, when the princess entered Harriden and Mrs. Keller were stand ing together; she went to them and said something. I heard Harriden's reply:

Why, that's absurd. Where can

Mrs. Keller answered something; she sent a man to ask a maid, evidently; for a maid came in for a mo ment, and denied having seen Mrs. Harriden about the house. Of course. Mrs. Harriden could have come out. without her knowledge.

"You ask the others," Mrs. Keller said, and there was a curious momen of indecision. The wave toward the card-tables was stayed in mid-air. People debated with each other.

"If she had a headache, she might go out."
"Her maid might know if she's put n a dress or wrap for outside," said Mrs. Crane practically.

"She didn't bring her maid-i told her she was a fool," said Harriden. About the house was a general bus tle c. running feet and voices; evidently the staff was harrying from floor to floor. Alan Deck drew near "It's odd-I didn't find her, eithme.

er," he said simply,
Presently, as if by mutual consent. we sil Srifted up the stairs to Mrs. Harriden's vacant room, as if we could get a clue from eying its bright

"It's queer," Harriden kept saying staring about under frowning brows He went on: "She was lying on the bed when I went down-said she had a headache. She had certainly had a crise des nerfs. . . . When I came up, during dinner, I opened the door. not the hall door, but the one between our rooms, very gently, and her room was dark and still; so I thought she was asleep, and I had better not disturb her. She'd complained so of pain in her head, that I began to worry, and just now I asked Paula to

She lan't There," I Murmured.

Mrs. Watkins suddenly raised her rather shrill young voice. "You didn't see her, by any chance, when you were up, Alan?"

"No-not a glimpse," he said went to my room for my phone-call." Suddenly Keller took charge of the rather scattering conjectures. He was a short, stout, energetic man, with a ruddy face, and keen blue eyes. here," he said, "this is our house, and Nora seems to have vanished from it. Either she's out about the grounds, walking off her headache or whatever row you had"-there was a

"or she has cut and run to town. . . Now let's find out. She couldn't get out of the grounds without going out the gate, and that's locked and she'd bave to apply to the lodge-keeper. We'll phone him."
I remembered the high walls, and sudden titter of intimate laughter-

the forbidding iron gates, that opened for me that afternoon.

But the lodge-keeper, being phe either for admission or departure. "That settles that—she hasn't gone to town.

"But there are boats," I went on. Harriden gave a bark of laughter. 'See Nora running a launch! Or pad-

"The boatman lives over the boat house there," said Keller. "We'll phone him."

But the boatman said he hadn't seen any one. And he reported all the boats present.

"Have you any theory, Dan?" Mrs. Keller demanded.

He appeared to besitate. He gave a quick look at all our curious faces clustered about, and I auddenly felt public exposure of the man's secret wretchedness.

"We'd had a row," he said slowly, as if the words were dragged from She she was bysterical. She -she threatened a good many things if I-well, never mind. . . . Anyway. after I'd found her sleeping, I began to be afraid of an overdose of some sleeping-stuff — just dramatics, you know; but anyway-I asked Paula to go up. I was uneasy, somehow." Slowly, he added: "She's been like Slowly, he added: this before. But this was a bit worse "Well, there's no good talking here," eller told us. "Nora is probably out Ketler told us. walking off a headache down one of the paths. We'd better start out and her-since there'll be no peace till she's found. I'll get the men start-

He went to the room phone.
s. Kelier said slowly: "If we Mrs. Kelier said slowly: knew what she had on- Had she un-dressed, Dan?"

He hesitated. "No, I don't think

"Aren't you sure? When you came down to dinner, was she in negligee?"
"I don't think she had changed."

"She was in those gold pajames? Well, she can't have gone walking in them, can she?" Mrs. Keller moved toward the dressing-room. "Call Anson, and see if she picked them up,' she directed her husband.

Anson, the pretty maid who had been summoned downstairs, appeared promptly-and reported that the room had been dark and empty when she cause in to open the bed. She said that it looked as it some one had been lying on the bed without taking the covers off. But Mrs. Harriden was not anywhere about, and there were no gold pajamas.

She's quite capable of walking out under a coat," sald Mrs. Crane dryly.

"Perhaps they are in the closet," Mrs. Watkins suggested, and Mrs. Keller moved to the closet door. "That's odd," sald Mrs. Keller, shaking the knob. 'Nora usually locks her jewelry up.' said Harriden, "-when her maid isn't here to do it for her. I doubt if the pajamas are there. She wouldn't hang them up. They'd be in the dressing-

"Well, we can have it opened, and see. Call the housekeeper, Anson." "Why bother?" said Harrid ty. "We're wasting time. We ought to be out in the grounds."

"At least if she's still in the pajamas, she isn't on her way to town." said Mrs. Keller; and as the housekeeper appeared with her pass-key, she took it from her and turned the liarriden, for all his disbeller of the pajamas being put up there, was quick to step inside, as the lights sprang on. as if he wanted no hand but his thought a little sentimentally, to bandle his wife's things.

"They certainly aren't bere," be said, his voice muffled by the closet. "Nothing but coats and dresses." He added: "Her gold slippers area't here,

"She may be hiding somewhere, to be dramatic," Harriden said gruffly. I thought how the words must hurt "We'd better go through the house more thoroughly, and they the grounds."

So people were detailed to go over the nouse, with guards on the stairs so that each floor, as it was searched, might be kept from reentry.

I thought then that I had really the solution - that the Harridens had quarreled over Alan, and that she was hiding out, in some neurotic extrava gance, to spite her husband for his

He certainly admitted that they had had a row, and that she was wrought up and wanted to pay him off.

"She's either gone away—or been ab-ducted," Mra. Keller summed up in her decisive way. "There are plenty of bandits who might abduct Norn—and hold her for ransom; but the house self saw that the window was shut and locked when we went into the

"Apson might have shut and locked it afterward," Mr. Watkins suggested. "Was the window open, Dan, when you went down?" Mrs. Keller wanted

"I don't remember-think not." Then Mr. Keller put the question I had been dreading: "And no one was in the room after that ?"

There was a moment's wait. I kept guilty stience. How could I explain my intrusion there, without traying the odd trust that Alan Deck

The Princess Rancini spoke up. was, you know. I went up when Dan

"And Anson was, of course. She has told us how she found the room. You didn't notice anything unusual, did you, Anson?" Mrs. Keller broke off to demand of the maid who was hovering on the edge of the group.

The girl hesitated. "Why, no ma'am. It was just empty; that was all." "And you didn't see any one about?

Earlier in the evening?" I thought it was with a sort of reluctance that she glanced about at Deck, "I did see Mr. Deck once, going down the hall-he might have been standing outside her door."

Everybody turned to look at him His room, as I learned later. was in the left wing on the second floor, so there was no occasion for him to be passing Nora Harriden's door. He said, very casually: "Oh - 1 went past on my way to the gallery. I'd left a handkerchief there before dinner, and thought I'd get it while

I thought of it.' "And I saw Miss Van Alstyn," said the maid. "That was after dinner." "Yes. I went up to my room," said Miss Van Alstyn. She glanced directly at me, and I felt a horrid premoni-tion. My heart began to hammer. "Weren't you just coming out, when

In miserable indecision I hesitated, the blood rushing to my cheeks like flags of guilt. I knew they were wondering how I, of all people among them, I who knew Mrs. Harriden only by name, could possibly have gone to her room when she was reported sleeping off a headache.

I had to speak-to say something. I felt I could not violate my trust, and yet that was a ridiculous scruple in the position I was in. What was Alan

I said slowly. "Yes, I went up. Before the princess did. I wanted to see how she was."

I had a desperate hope that the inonly might end there, that they might assume I had been sent on the same errand as the princess, But Harriden had caught my words and cried out roughly: "I didn't ask you to! What the devil did you mean entering her room?"

"I don't answer a question like

"Oh, yes, you will," he told me; and stung by the insulting overlordship of his tone, I flung at him: "Very well -1 will! I went because, from my window, before dinner, I had seen you strike her in the face. I knew she was hiding the mark, staying in ber room; and since I was the only one who knew it, I thought I could go to her, and she might trust me to get her something to put on it to cover it."

I had no idea what I was going to say before it was said. For one moment, when I saw his eyes, the sheer savage pain in them, I was sorry; the next moment they blazed red.

"That's a lie," he said. "I never struck ber. What d'you mean, saying that?"

(TO BE CONTINUED)

The Song Sparrow

The American sparrow is lovable for his trilling song and for the good work done in destroying insects and weed seeds. Because he is a sparrow, he is often mistaken for the English spacrow and killed as a pest. The song sparrow haunts the ground, and the cover of bushes, hedges, and vine-covered fences. His cheery call usually starts with three sharp chirping whis ties, ending in a long, pleasing trill back, wings, and tall are light rusty brown, streaked with browntsh black. The tail is dull brown, while the of the head is a richer red-brown. The background color of the head is gray, with a hint of brown toward the throat. The throat, breast, and un-derparts are grayish white, streehed with brown and blackish brown 1 beak to light, grayteb brown

If you are in a hurry and don't have time to wait, Stop in at Mike's place--

The Magnolia Station -- Tires - Tubes - Gas - Oil ---SERVICE .....

First Lady Hostess to Wayward Girls Hie, hike and hug.

With a refreshing disregard for precedent that has marked her so- think nothing of working at all. journ in the White House, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt last week acted as hostess to a party of 60 wayward girls from the Federal National Training School for Girls. The excited youngsters were entertained as cordially and charmingly as the most distinguished citizens of the land. They drank tea with the "First Lady," had their fill of ice cream and roamed the White House lawn to their hearts' content.

The unusual party, Mrs. Roosevelt said, had a two-fold purpose. The girls, she said, were human beings and should be treated as such.

"I think these youngsters should have an occasional good time, and that is why I suggested they come to me for a party,' said Mrs. Roosevelt.

The second object was to dramatize the disgraceful manner in of San Angelo, attended the fuwhich they are being treated by neral of Mrs. Turney Casey here the District of Columbia. The institution in which they are confined, according to Mrs. Roose- duct a revival meeting at Water veit, is "medie, al and barbarous,"

Although the inmates are of and last probably ten days. school age, there is not a teacher in the entire school, and the girls are forced to study from books cast off by libraries. They are or cream, 2%c per lb.; Hour, without medical supervision, and whole wheat, 3%c per lb.; feed their clothes are so thin they wheat, maize, corn, chopped, cannot leave the school in cold 21/4c. Electric 5 HP Motor in weather.

"The girls," said the " Lady," are in the school to be recommunity prepared to meet the difficulties of life.

"It seems to me that complete segregation in gloomy surround- ested in a person set in criminal this objective.

There are three great menaces to safe driving in America today:

Many a man who thought nothing of working twelve or fourteen hours a day left grandsons who

Card of Thanks

ciation to the friends and neigh- brother of Mrs. Taylor. bors who so kindly helped during our illness. Especially do we thank the ladies for the many nice boquets sent in.

W. T. Gray.

Slacks for children in Brown and navy

at W. K. Simpson & Co.

Clift attended an O. E. S. school e Lee Roe. It is understood of instruction in Mertzon last that Freddie Lee will return to Saturday. They were retar'ed Lubbock for the summer term. somewhat on the return trip by a He was ill during the first part of heavy rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Roberts, Wednesday.

Rev. J. D. Coleman will con-Valley to begin Saturday night

At Hale's Mill, - Mea' . white perfect condition. One 2 wheel trailer, new tubes and tires. will carry bale of cotton. To habititated and returned to the sell or trade for 6 ft. wheel windmill and what have you. Also Mattress making.

ings is hardly the way to achieve ways. But I am interested in the great mass of people who have to "It is a terrible thing to let come back into society and yourself get sentimental about should come back better equipcriminals. I am not at all inter-iped to meet the world."

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Brown, who have been visiting in Houston for the past several months, have returned home. They also visited in Corsicana and Amarillo while gone.

The towns are likely to be depopulated for the next few weeks. The fine rains of the past few days is going to put everybody to work in the fields -- even father

The wet weather has delayed road work for the past several

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Sayner of DeMoines, Iowa are visiting in Coke county and were guests, Thursday evening, of Supt, G. We wish to express our appre- L. Taylor. Mr. Sayner is a > White Purses W. K. Simpson & Co.

Pauline Roe, Christine Glenn and her guest, Miss Justine Limroth, drove to Stephenville Monday and returned with Louise Roe who has been a student at John Tarlton this year. Other students expected home this week Mrs. G. C. Allen and Mrs. Jim are J. S. Craddock, Jr., and Fred-the school year.

ALAMO THEATRE

"THE BEST IN ENTERTAINMENT" ROBERT LEE. TEXAS

Friday & Saturday, May, 29 & 30 Ronald Coleman in The MAN WHO BROKE THE BANK AT MONTE CARLO

Joan Bennett, Colin Clive, and Sigel Bruce.

Also Comedy and Fox News

Sunday, 2 to 6, & Monday, May 31 & June 1 HAROLD LLOYD in "THE MILKY WAY" with Adolphe Menjue, Verree Tcasdale, Helen Mack. William Gorgan, and George Barbien.

also comedy, "Peppery Salt" and News Events.

Wednesday Only June 3rd "AND SO THEY WERE MARRIED"

a Comedy with Mary Astor, Melvin Douglass and others. Also comedy, Monte Collins in "Unrelated Relations"

> 'It's The Money" "50"

THE RED @ WHITE STORES

Specials For Friday and Saturday, May 29 & 30

SOAP CHIPS	5 lb. Box	35 c	Shortening	4 lb. etn. 8 lb. etn.	49c 98c
CHAMPION TOMA		-15c	Red & White	24 Pb. sx. 48 lb. sx.	$ .92 1.79
CORN	try Gentleman 2 No 2 Cans	25 c	Crystal Pack SPINACH	2 No. 2 Cans	19c
PEACHES  Brer Rabbit	No 2½ Cans	16c	Tomato or Vegetable	No 1 Cans	5c
SYRUP	No 10 Cans	55c	TOMATO JU	ICE No 1 Car	ns 50
CORN FLAKES	Lge. Packages	10c	Pork & Bean	8 6 oz cans	5c
GRAPEFRUIT JUI	GE No 2 Can	. 9c		2 No 1 Cans	15c
Red & White	2 Tall Cans	15c	CARROTS	2 No 1 Cans	15c
MILK Yankee Doodle	4 Small Cans	15c	Golden Fruit BANANAS	Doz.	15c
MAC OF SPAGE	IEIII Pkg.	40	Green Juley LIMES	Doz.	156
SALAD DRESS	ING Pt. jars Qt. jars	23c 35c	Full of Juice 392 Siz ORNGES		10
POTIED MEAT	3 No ¼ Cans	10c	Firm Heads CABBAGE	lb.	20
VIENNA SAUSAGE	3 No ½ Cans	23c	Yellow Sweet ONION	2 lbs.	5c
SUGAR 1	0 lb Cloth Bags	55c	Solid Green Heads LETTUCE	each	40
Del Dixi Sour or Di PICKLES	il Qt. jar	15c	CARROTTO	Large Bunche
Folgers Cottee	1 lb can	29c	Supreme Bakers HONEY GRAHAM	S 1 lb. Box	17e

W. M. Simpson--W. J. Cumbie

VITA LAIRE and COOLERATOR

Ice air Conditoned Refrigerators NOW ON DISPLAY AT COKE MOTOR COMPANY'S Salesroom

Ice the Only and Save Retrigeration No Moving Parts Results No Repair Bills Easy Terms, No Interest. No Carrying Charges

> RIAL DENMAN, Agent American Service Co.

> > San Angelo, Texas