WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

European Peace Talk Persists Despite Increase in Warfare; Is Hitler's Collapse Imminent?

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

INTERNATIONAL: Peace in the Wind

Though Nazi mines and submarines counted almost two score victims in 10 days (including Poland's huge Piludski and Britain's Ronald pindi), though the allies reportedly downed 22 Nazi planes in 48 hours, the big news of Europe's war was not conflict. Instead it was the story of peace efforts, of one mediation after another, of European and American overtures first to make peace and then to maintain it.

Venlo & Munich

By adding facts and subtracting propaganda, neutral observers pieced together a plausible solution to the Sherlock Holmes mysteries which burst into headlines after Adolf Hitler "escaped" the Munich beer hall explosion November 8. Heinrich Himmler's Gestapo merely told Germans and the world that two British intelligence officers—Capt. Richard Stevens and Maj. Sigismund Best—had been seized for aiding in the Munich explosion, for which a German named Georg Elser had subsequently been arrested. By implication, Himmler admitted a minor anti-Hitler movement in Germany, but by the time Netherlands and Britain got through with the story it looked like Hitler was skating on thin ice.

HIMMLER AND HITLER

At the Hague, the Dutch newspaper Het Volk charged a Belgian neutrality officer had been killed November 9 when Best and Stevens were abducted from Venlo, where they had been carrying on peace negotiations with "anti-Hitler leaders" from Germany. Identity of these "leaders" remained a mystery that Heinrich Himmler would give his right arm to solve, for many Germans know he is a fervent Nazi who looks suspiciously on Field Marshal Hermann Goering as a potential Hitler foe.

In Britain it was claimed that Georg Elser was merely a concentration camp prisoner who was "seized" for the record; that the Munich bombing had really been planned by Himmler as an excuse for making wholesale Nazi arrests and thus weeding out revolutionists—possibly including Herr Goering. Whatever the true facts of Venlo, Munich, Best, Stevens, Elser et al, it was obvious Nazi Germany was worried by an underground anti-Hitler movement which has roots in dissension following the wedding of Nazidom and Communism.

NAMES

... In the news

Martin Dies, maligned head of the un-Americanism investigating committee, demanded that the administration co-operate in the inquiry or take the responsibility for killing it. Said he: "I'm worn out . . . It's been a headache . . ."

Harry Woodring, secretary of war, announced he was proud to have been governor of Kansas, and the only Kansan ever named to a cabinet post, "but the only real accomplishment is for a man who was a bachelor governor six years ago to be expecting a fourth baby. That's something."

Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce, opened a drive to remove interstate trade barriers which, he said, constitute a serious threat to the nation's economic life.

Visionaries

Scattered generously in dispatches from Washington and Europe have been suggestions concerning the peace to follow war. Few Englishmen or Frenchmen now believe Versailles was a just treaty; they now hope to lick Hitler and give Germany a rational post-war settlement. Most important, there is growing talk of a European confederation whose units might include:

(1) Eastern Europeans, encompassing nations from the Gulf of Finland to Rumania, with Poland dominant.

(2) Southeastern Europeans, allying the Balkans to Italy.

(3) Central Europeans, drawing the Catholic German, Czech and Rhineland peoples nearer to France.

(4) Northern Europeans; an alliance of Scandinavian countries.

(5) North Central Europeans, permitting Austria and Sudetenland to remain with the Reich.

Biggest visionary of the week was none less than Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain: "A war aim . . . means defeat of our enemy, the defeat of that aggressive, bullying mentality . . . If the German people can be convinced that spirit is bad . . . they will abandon it . . . When we have achieved our war aims, we can establish a new Europe, a Europe with a new spirit . . . In such a Europe it would be recognized that there can be no lasting peace unless there is a full and constant flow of trade . . . In such a Europe each country would have the unfettered right to choose its own form of internal government."

American Hand

At Washington the state department found the cause of international peace a good argument on which to hinge its plea for renewing the reciprocal trade treaty act, which expires next June. Assistant Secretary George Messersmith indicated the administration considered its treaties a basis for lasting peace when Europe's war is finished. Next day Secretary Hull himself jumped into the fight, indicating he wouldn't be content to postpone the renewal until after 1940's election, even though the 22 agreements already made could be continued without a congressional vote.

POLITICS:

Forecast

"If he puts forth another big deficit spending program, you can expect him to be a third-term candidate. If he goes in for economy, he will not be a candidate."

Alf Landon, 1936 G. O. P. presidential nominee, made this forecast about Franklin Roosevelt last autumn. It was hauled from mothballs when the President, after permitting the treasury and a few

ALF LANDON
No spending, no running?

"spokesmen" to say their say about taxes, made his own speech at Warm Springs, Ga. Public reaction to the no-new-taxes feelers had been good, and it was especially clear that the administration would have trouble forcing congress to levy new taxes and at the same time increase the national debt limit. In such a position, the President wisely said little and left the problem up to congress and the people.

His statement: That national defense outlays for the 1940-41 fiscal year will be increased about $500,000,000 (total: approximately $2,200,000,000) and that emergency defense taxes might be necessary. But the people, he said, should decide whether to finance it by borrowing or by new taxes. That left the problem squarely up to congress, with the President taking a sidelines seat like an old man who is ready to leave the spotlight.

TREND

JAPAN—Indicating business' displeasure with the Tokyo government's anti-U. S. attitude, the commercial newspaper Chushi Shogyo demanded that immediate action be taken to obtain a new agreement replacing the present abrogated one, which expires January 26.

AGRICULTURE—A Gallup poll showed 70 per cent of the U. S. approves the food stamp plan for distributing surplus products to needy families, indicating strong support for an increased surplus commodities appropriation at the next congress.

UTILITIES—Meeting at Washington, private utility leaders are discussing plans for a super network of private and public electric facilities throughout the East. Item: A new 220,000-volt line from Chicago to New York.

FINLAND—Russia continued tugging to break Finnish-Russian relations, apparently to justify armed action. Latest charge: That Finnish border artillery had slain three Russian soldiers, wounded seven others.

ASIA:

Chiang's Woes

Into Kwangsi province's provisional capital of Nanning marched Japan's warriors, nipping effectively one of the two major supply routes whereby the Chinese government gets its supplies from French Indo-China and British Burma. On one side of his face Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek laughed for publication, asserting this Jap coup meant little; 150 miles to the west, in Yunnan province, runs another supply route. But inwardly General Chiang could be worried. First thing the Japs did at Nanning was establish an air base from which to harass Ku-ming, capital of Yunnan.

LABOR:

Film Strike

Whether A. F. of L. movie unions are powerful enough to shut down 20,000 U. S. film theaters is a question no movie producer is anxious to test. Directed by William Bioff (whom Chicago authorities sought on a 17-year-old pandering conviction) studio unions in Hollywood demanded a 10 per cent wage increase and threatened to close theaters if it was refused. Projectionists had promised their co-operation. Producers refused at first, claiming they had lost foreign markets since the war and faced sharp production curtailment. Unionists countered with not too far-fetched charges of "exorbitant salaries" paid to stars. As the deadline neared, producers capitulated. Until February 15 the unionists will have a 10 per cent increase.

RUMANIA:

Dangerous Step?

France and Britain were certain Rumania's King Carol had capitulated to Germany when he signed an economic pact with the Reich last spring. But a few days later Carol went home and promptly executed all the Nazi plotters he could find. When war was declared he reiterated his neutrality, only to run against combined pressure from Germany and Russia. The former, seeking wheat and oil, demanded new trade concessions. The latter looked covetously at Bessarabia, which Rumania got from Russia after the World War. Meanwhile Rumania tried desperately to form a solid neutral Balkan bloc.

Late in November King Carol again asserted his independence, but not without showing partiality. Rather than capitulate to Germany's demands for more raw material, his cabinet resigned. In a pinch, the king turned to a strongly pro-ally politician, George Tatarescu, whose coalition cabinet was designed to keep peace within Rumania. Nevertheless, Rumania's Balkan neighbors viewed the step uneasily. Not without reason, Italian politicians feared Carol had upset plans for a neutral bloc.

Sample outlets: New York's WMCA; Chicago's WJJD and WIND; Hollywood's KFWB; San Francisco's KYA; Pittsburgh's KOV Kansas City's KCMO; Minneapolis' WDGY.

☞ At Bucharest, dimpled Prince Michael of Rumania took his seat in the senate as one of the nation's counselors, a few days after his eighteenth birthday.

Christmas Dinner

By Katherine Edelman

AS SOON as Darrel Thorpe got a chance to use the phone, he dialed his home. He must tell Edna, how sorry, how terribly sorry he was for what had happened this morning. All the way down on the car he had reproached himself for the hasty words he had said. He couldn't understand how he had spoken to Edna like that, and on Christmas eve.

He drummed impatiently on the desk as he waited. Edna was always punctual about answering the phone and doorbell. It was a way she had, going right through with things.

Which really was the cause of his flash of temper this morning. In her quick, decisive way, she had swept aside his idea of having old Mrs. Darby for Christmas dinner. The little lady, now down on her luck, had befriended Darrel when he had come to the city.

"I'm not going to have her!" Edna had declared emphatically. "We're going to skip Christmas as much as possible—go out and eat somewhere—and miss all the rush and bother."

The big man did not seem to hear him. His eyes were glued on a closely-typed statement.

"I think that's a darn selfish way of doing," Darrel shot back. "Christmas is a home day, with a turkey, and a tree, and gifts, and above all, someone to share them with us."

Then, without waiting to see the effect of his words, Darrel rushed from the house, banging the door.

Now, he dialed the number three times, but there was no answer. Panic seized him. Had Edna believed that he meant what he had said? He had heard of young wives who had packed up and left for much less reason. What a brute he had been to flare up as he did!

THE morning was unbearably long. Inwardly fuming, he hung up the receiver, to answer an imperative buzzer from the inner office. It was about the tenth this morning. If it hadn't been for Wheatley, keeping him running around in circles, he might have been able to reach Edna long ago. And if the old man hadn't been in the same ugly mood yesterday, Darrel knew that he himself wouldn't have been on edge this morning, that he wouldn't have spoken to Edna as he had done. He blamed Wheatley as much as himself.

"You sent for me," he said stiffly, as he waited beside the desk. The big man did not seem to hear him. His eyes were glued on a closely typed statement. Darrel spoke again. Then Daniel Wheatley looked up, and rubbed his hand across his forehead as if trying to remember something.

"Oh, yes, yes," he began; "Mrs. Thorpe called before you got to the office this morning. I forgot to tell you. She left word that she was going marketing with a Mrs.—Mrs. Darby, or some such name. Also, she wanted me to be sure to tell you to bring home a Christmas tree and all the trimmings." There was a merry twinkle in Wheatley's usually hard eyes. "Looks as if you were going to celebrate Christmas at your house," he finished, with a laugh.

"We certainly are," Darrel grinned back; "we're going to have a real old-fashioned celebration of the day."

"Think your wife would object if you took a cranky old man to Christmas dinner?"

Darrel wondered if he were hearing things, then his quick wit jumped to the surface. "If you really mean that, Mr. Wheatley, I can assure you of a hearty welcome. My wife thoroughly believes in having people for Christmas dinner. At least, I am sure she does now." The last sentence Darrel whispered to himself.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Sandwich Filler.—Peanut butter mixed with a little cream is a good filling for white or graham cracker sandwiches for children.

White Silks.—To keep white stockings, blouses, etc., from turning yellow in laundering, use a little alcohol in the rinse water.

To Hasten Cooking.—When using a double boiler the food will cook more quickly if the water in the outer vessel is salted in the proportion of a fourth of a cup of salt to one quart of water.

Toys for Christmas Made From Spools

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

SO MANY readers have asked for more spool ideas after seeing the directions for spool stunts in Sewing Book No. 3, that I know you will love making these amusing toys.

The two spools for the dog's arms are strung together with cord. Start with these, then bend the body wire over the center of the cord. Run both ends of the wire through the two body spools then bend the wires and run them through the spools for the legs. Bend in flat loops for the feet. Twist wire around the better spool and fasten to body tightly. The bonnet tips up at the back. Cut a face out of a fashion magazine or draw one and paste it at the front of the bonnet spool. The dress is of two straight pieces the bright sash and bonnet to bonnet match.

One end is cut off the spool for the dog's head. Bend the wire over the whiskers, then run both ends through the head and body spools. Run one end through the two leg spools, then both through the body and one through the back spool. Twist together around the tail.

NOTE: Readers who are new to using Sewing Books No. 1, 2 and 3 will be happy to learn that No. 4 is ready for mailing; as well as the 10-cent editions of No. 1, 2 and 3. Mrs. Spears has just made quilt block patterns for three designs selected from her favorite Early American quilts. You may have these patterns FREE with your order for four books. Price of books—10 cents each postpaid. Set of three quilt block patterns without books—10 cents. Send orders to Mrs. Spears, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York.

There are lots of things we can all do to make our home town the outstanding town of our district. We must first want to, believe we can, and be willing to put something into it. It takes money and time to make anything succeed.

Lots of people land in a place supposed to be the flitter pond, but find nothing but syrup; and immediately they begin to look across the fence to greener fields, but find they are stuck and cannot get away.

Regardless of whether you are satisfied or not, lay plans for the future as though you expected to spend the rest of your life in that very spot. Then every one that comes along will want that very place. So will you.

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, President of the University of Texas, has analyzed Texas' future possibilities in repeated public address. These statements express his thought:

"The next stage in the progress of Texas lies in the development of our great industrial and commercial possibilities."

"A program of industrial development centers around the manufacture of raw materials into finished products."

"American industry is moving closer to its raw material sources. We in Texas can capitalize on this movement if the opportunity is grasped."

"Our great highway development, coupled with industrial progress, will greatly aid the Texas farmer in his marketing problem."

"The best measure of the importance of an enterprise is the employment it creates and the income it produces."

"Our need for increased employment requires the keenest intelligence in solving the problem. Our boys and girls must be trained in highly efficient schools to meet the growing needs of farm and business."

"Our Universities are dedicated to a program of scientific training and research which will create employment and build industry to use our raw materials at home."

"Repeated failures did not stop our hardy pioneers in the building of our present empire. The same spirit must prevail for a successful future."

The Texas oil industry recognizes the soundness of these broad principles. They underlie present employment and provide for expanded future employment for our Texas people. The vital part oil plays today in putting these principles into actual practice will be portrayed in a series of advertisements to follow in this publication.

Regardless of whether you are satisfied or not, lay plans for the future as though you expected to spend the rest of your life in that very spot. Then every one that comes along will want that very place. So will you.

A satisfied people are the happiest we know. A busy people are the best satisfied we know. A busy satisfied people makes a wonderful place to live.

IT IS EASY - - -

To resolve to go on a diet just after a hearty meal,

To be a Pacifist until your country calls for you in war,

To oppose capital punishment until one of your own flesh and blood has been slain,

To want to drive recklessly in a great new motor car until you hit an innocent man, woman or child and see them writhing before your own eyes in the death agony of their own blood,

To think you are the most unfortunate creature under God's heaven until you see a blind person groping along in total darkness,

To bemoan that you have to work for a living until you are taken ill and while bedridden know that you cannot work,

To join with the crowd to mob some fiendish brute until you take an oath to uphold and defend the constitution and courts,

To rally jubilantly behind your own team in its hour of triumph and to taunt the unfortunate losers until your own team itself loses,

To determine to be careful just after you are in an accident

Dr. Homer P. Rainey, President of the University of Texas, has analyzed Texas' future possibilities in repeated public address. These statements express his thought:

"The next stage in the progress of Texas lies in the development of our great industrial and commercial possibilities."

"A program of industrial development centers around the manufacture of raw materials into finished products."

"American industry is moving closer to its raw material sources. We in Texas can capitalize on this movement if the opportunity is grasped."

"Our great highway development, coupled with industrial progress, will greatly aid the Texas farmer in his marketing problem."

"The best measure of the importance of an enterprise is the employment it creates and the income it produces."

"Our need for increased employment requires the keenest intelligence in solving the problem. Our boys and girls must be trained in highly efficient schools to meet the growing needs of farm and business."

"Our Universities are dedicated to a program of scientific training and research which will create employment and build industry to use our raw materials at home."

"Repeated failures did not stop our hardy pioneers in the building of our present empire. The same spirit must prevail for a successful future."

The Texas oil industry recognizes the soundness of these broad principles. They underlie present employment and provide actual practice will be portrayed in a series of advertisements to follow in this publication.

COOKIES MAKE CHARMING CHRISTMAS GIFTS
 (See Recipes Below)

Holiday Fruit Cakes And Cookies

Half the thrill of Christmas is in the pre-holiday preparations. Making cakes that are crammed with fruit and nuts, baking an endless variety of cookies to be frosted and "trimmed" in true holiday fashion, and packing gift boxes of Christmas confections, is as much fun as the great day itself!

Fruit cakes are a Christmas holiday tradition. The dark cakes do improve with age and should be made as early as possible. They won't mold or dry out if they're properly stored. Wrap the cooled cakes well in wax paper, then store in tightly covered cans. If you like, brandy or wine may be spooned over the cakes at two-week intervals during storage. White fruit cakes make a pretty contrast with the dark, but they dry out rather soon and should be eaten within a few weeks after baking.

Don't forget that fruit cakes, cookies, and small plum puddings make charming Christmas gifts, especially for the friends and relatives who'll be away from home on the holiday.

Christmas Fruit Cake.
 (Makes 10 pounds)

- 1½ pounds currants
- 3 pounds seedless raisins
- 1 pound citron
- 1 pound mixed candied fruit
- 1 pound candied pineapple
- 1 pound candied cherries
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 6 eggs
- 4 cups pastry flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 tablespoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon cloves
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup fruit juice or wine

Cut fruits. Cream butter and add sugar. Add well-beaten egg yolks. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add alternately with fruit juice or wine to the butter mixture. Add fruit. Fold in beaten egg whites. Place in baking pans lined with wax paper. Cover pans with cheesecloth and steam 5 hours. Then bake one hour in a slow oven (275 degrees).

Old Spice Wonder Fruit Cake.

- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 cups cake flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon allspice
- ¾ cup sour milk
- ½ cup citron (cut)
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup nut meats (broken)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream butter, add sugar, and beat thoroughly. Add eggs (well beaten).

Mix and sift together all dry ingredients, reserving ¼ cup of flour. Add flour mixture and sour milk alternately—beginning with the flour mixture.

Flour citron, raisins, and nuts with the ¼ cup of flour which was reserved and add to the cake mixture.

Add vanilla extract. Place in well-greased, small tube pan. Bake 40' to 45 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

Plum Pudding.
 (Serves 6)

- ½ cup milk
- 3½ cups soft bread crumbs
- ¼ pound suet (ground)
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 eggs (separated)
- ¾ cup seedless raisins
- ¼ cup currants
- ¼ pound figs (cut fine)
- ½ cup citron (sliced thin)
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon mace
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup apple cider

Scald milk and pour over bread crumbs. Cool. Cream ground suet in warm bowl. Add sugar, cream together thoroughly, and add well-beaten egg yolks. Combine these two mixtures. Add cut fruits together with spices and salt. Add cider. Lastly, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into well-greased pudding mold. Cover tightly and steam for 6 hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Glaze Finish for Fruit Cakes.

- 1½ cups water
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ ounce Gum Arabic (4½ teaspoons)

Place sugar and water in a saucepan and boil to the thread stage (230 degrees). Add Gum Arabic and heat again just to the boiling point. After fruit cake has been baked, remove from the oven and garnish with nuts and fruits as desired. Then pour the Gum Arabic mixture over the fruit cake in a thin stream, and manipulate as little as possible in order to avoid crystallization of the glaze.

Rolled Orange Cookies.
 (Makes about 8 dozen)

- ½ cup fat
- 1 cup sugar
- 1¼ teaspoon orange peel (grated)
- 1 egg (beaten)
- ½ cup orange juice
- 3 to 3½ cups flour (all purpose)
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Cream the fat. Gradually cream in the sugar. Add the grated orange peel and beaten egg, and gradually add the orange juice. Add the 3 cups flour, baking powder, and salt which have been sifted together. Mix in well, adding more flour if necessary to make dough just stiff enough to roll. Chill thoroughly. Place on lightly floured board and roll ¼ inch thick. Cut, and place on greased baking sheet, and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 10 to 12 minutes.

Lemon Icing.

- 2 cups powdered sugar
- ¼ cup melted butter
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1½ tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon lemon peel (grated)

Mix all together, stirring until creamy. Spread at once.

YES INDEED, "makin's" fans, COOLER-SMOKING Prince Albert is your bet for rich-tasting roll-your-own cigarettes. "Bite" is removed from PA's choice tobaccos by a special process. Ripe goodness and full body are left IN for tastier, mellower smoking that's mighty mild and noble to the tongue.

As for faster rolling... well, just pour Prince Albert into your papers. Note how easy that "crimp cut" handles. Lays right, stays put. Shapes up full and rounded without bunching or spilling. Draws easier too. Add up what Prince Albert offers and you'll see why PA.
