STREETS TO BE PAVED

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AT OUR DOOR

By a coincident of conditions and circumstances Robert Lee has an inviting opportunity to pave the main street, connecting with the paved highway. It is possible to get WPA aid and for a few thousand dollars co-operating with that, the county, the city and property owners have already been contacted and willing to do their part. Boost our town we have a good one.

Mrs. Emory Hughes and baby Chesley, visited here last week with her husbands mother, Mrs. J. J. Murtshaw, and sisters. Emory was reared here, and friends will be glad to know he has a good paying job with the Woolen Uniform makers of Cincinnati Ohio, and works eight states. They make their home at Atlanta, Georgia.

Private Employment Vr. Relief

Early this month an outraged employer called at the local Welfare office and asserted that a man who had been in his employ, on a job that would last several months, had quit without notice when he was assigned to WPA. He felt this was an unpardonable offense and the man should never again be allowed to work on WPA. The WPA worker explained that he had been hired by this employer some three weeks before and that during the three weeks he had been allowed to work a total of five days. When he received his WPA assignment he accepted it. Four days later he was called by the employer to work a half day. He went to the WPA job instead.

Investigation proves that the version of the WPA worker is correct. Moreover, the job the employer said would last months was completed within the week.

In the present uncertainty of WPA work a man risks as much in giving up his assignment as if he quits a job in private industry. Five consecutive days of absence forfeits his assignment and he is reasonably certain that he will not be able to get another soon. Is a man to be censured for doing the thing that will bring greatest security to his family? He can hardly afford to give up his WPA income, scant as it is, for a temporary job at the same pay without greater assurance that he will be able to get WPA work again when he needs it.

Labor is probably the cheapest commodity in the United States.

There are now some two dozen men in Coke County who are certified to WPA work but not assigned to work. They will be glad to accept any job that is fair in an American Democracy.

It will be necessary to figure out some way to finance a lighted football field, the school does not have any money to invest in a lighted field, however if the school board could be induced to take charge of the program we could work out some scheme whereby it could be financed and money be provided through another source.

If the football boys and others directly interested in lighting a field wants to put the program over, get your heads together and have a meeting and lay plans, the Observer will help any way that we can.

Land Use Planning Meeting

At the Land Use Planning meeting which was held in Robert Lee, Texas, May 21, 1940, for the purpose of outlining, discussing, and adopting the Cotton Mattress Making Demonstration Program for Coke County, the following people were in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Noah Pruitt and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Coalson of the Union Community, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Adams of the Robert Lee Community, Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Williams of the Wildcat Community, Clint Wilkins of the Bronte Community Service Club, Mr. Sam Gaston, Commissioner of Precinct IV, and S. A. Kiker, Commissioner of Precinct II, representing the Commissioner's Court, A. W. Jewell, Secretary of the Agricultural Conservation Association, T. R. Andrus, Mrs. Holliday and Mr. Dire of the Farm Security Administration, and P. P. Fitzhugh, Vocational Agriculture Instructor of Robert Lee. This group indorsed the Cotton Mattress Making Program in this county and estimated that approximately 480 eligible applications would be received for mattress making in this County.

Committees will be organized in each Community. These committeemen will have a supply of application blanks, and any family who was employed in any farm or ranch labor in 1939 with a gross income of less than $400 is eligible to make application. Applicants should contact their local committeemen, who will be announced at a later date, or make application at the County Agents Office for a mattress.

Mr. J. D. Prewit, District Agent, and Miss Ruth Thompson, District Home Demonstration Agent explained the Cotton mattress Demonstration Program in

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY ROGER SHAW

German March Toward Paris Marked by Terrific Fighting; U. S. Maps New Defense Plans

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

III GERMAN WAR: III Reich

Nothing succeeds like success. The latest Third Reich included Germany, Austria, Czecho Slovakia, Poland, Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Memel, the Saar. Its friends and allies took in Russia, Italy, Japan, Spain, Hungary. Its sinister "list" seemed to include Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Rumania, and some said Sweden. It was more than Napoleonic—Poland in 18 days; Norway in 21; Holland in 5. So what next? England by parachute? France by tank?

There was serious talk of moving the French government out of Paris—destination unknown. England rounded up another 3,000 Germans and Austrians between the ages of 16 and 60: two-thirds of them refugees from the nasty Nazi terror at home. Some quarter-million English volunteers enrolled to sharpshoot parachuters, and Premier Winston Churchill nervously promised his new constituents blood, and sweat, and toil, and tears—always a clever psychological trick in dealing with dogged Englishmen.

German authorities indicated that the government of any of their "protectorates" depended on how much resistance the "protected" had put up. Thereby, Denmark was getting grade-A treatment, Norway perhaps grade-B, and Poland a very low grade indeed. Holland was expected to get a rating similar to that of the Norse, though perhaps a trifle lower. For the Dutch had fought rather hard.

Belgian Bungle

Brussels, Namur, Liege, and Louvain fell as the Germans pushed ahead in Belgium. (The three big Belgian fortification sites were Namur, Liege, and Antwerp.) The Belgians, on the whole, fought better than the Dutch, but as the Belgic capital surrendered to Hitler, the German invaders were within 75 miles of that not so gay Patee. The Belgian government decamped to a safer spot, Ostend on the channel.

In at least four places, the Germans had pierced the French Maginot line extension, back of the Belgian border. Dr. Robert Ley, the not very Nordic Nazi minister of labor, announced that the German army was performing a "God-given natural mission." The Field Grays, he added, intended to make the world "happy and reasonable." But the French refused to be happy, and the English were certainly not feeling reasonable. In desperation, the English Churchill government began to woo Russia with a "new and more friendly approach"—Russia, the recent "red beast" that victimized brave little Finland. Meanwhile, the United States and the 20 Latin American states went on record with an official denunciation of Germany's invasion of Holland and Belgium. Harsh observers branded the joint resolve as a Uruguayan "publicity stunt." And in France, a cabinet reshuffle found the hero of Verdun in the last World war, Henri Philippe Petain, named as vice premier to Premier Paul Reynaud.

Bull on Spot

John Bull, said critics, was on the spot. The state department warned 7,000 Americans to get out of Britain, and stay out, and ordered them to go to the peaceful, prosperous Irish Free State. It was indicated that a Yankee rescue ship would fish the U. S. refugees out of the emerald Eire. But many Americans refused to leave J. Bull.

POTOMAC POWER: FDR Wants Money

The President told congress, dramatically, in joint session, that he wanted a billion bucks and 50,000 warplanes to defend our country against 3,000-mile blitzkriegs. Two-thirds of the billion were to go to the U. S. army. Roosevelt hinted that it might be nice to raise the legal national debt limit—which is $45,000,000,000. He asked that he be given $100,000,000 in cash, to provide for "emergencies." But an answer, in part, came from presidential possibility Willkie, in an Indianapolis speech. Willkie said that adequate national defense depended on domestic recovery. Meanwhile, the continentalists rallied against the anglophiles and internationalists, in and out of congress. Senators Johnson, Norris and Wheeler—all of them, naturally, pro-ally—were especially active against any "1917" wiles. But old Pershing, a big man in 1917, spoke of the "possibility of war," while War Secretary Woodring spoke of our maintaining peace. It was all very confusing. There was even talk of lending some money to the no-pay French and English, but it was only talk.

Good Old Garner

There was a tale to the effect that Vice President Garner now admitted Roosevelt's nomination for the Third Term. He said, supposedly, that Roosevelt had absolute control of the Chicago convention, and that was that. But, Texas Jack continued (so they say) that he himself would not run again, because he was opposed to Third Terms for vice presidents, as well as for Presidents. Thereby, he established his consistency, and may have opened the door to a swarm of ambitiously would-be V. P.'s. Roosevelt had at least 431 convention delegates pledged or committed, and was expected soon to possess more than the necessary 548 majority.

U. S. CIVIL WAR: Down in Looseana

Down in Creole Looseana, there was an American civil war going on. It was being fought out between hard-working units of Uncle Sam's tried and true regular army. Some 30,000 blues were defending the state against 25,000 red invaders from Texas. Somehow (an unusual feature of this La-Tex struggle) the defenders were reported as employing blitzkrieg tactics, and seemed to be forging ahead. There even was a fifth column, to make things perfect. This fifth column (so-called) consisted of local bovines, who licked the insulation of army telephone lines, and thereby committed military sabotage in the first, second and third degrees. In Russia, they'd have fixed 'em! But these fifth-columnar cows of Dixie gained reprieve. As to the battleground itself, Looseana—its new governor, Sam Houston Jones, told 100,000 people at a barbecue that no more Huey Longs would run the state.

ON THE MOVE:

25,000 residents in the Dutch East Indies, definitely were off the move. These were suspects, both German and Dutch, rounded up by the watchful colonial authorities, only too conscious of fifth-column and Trojan Horse tactics. Simultaneously, in New York, great dissension arose when a popular native declared: "The fifth column in this country is headed by that fellow in the White House." At this, the pro-Roosevelts decidedly got a move on.

Wonder-of-the-Week

Here is the latest wonder of the plant world—the "Topotato." It is displayed here by its "inventor," George H. Chisholm, superintendent and horticulturist at the greenhouses of the Yonkers, N. Y., estate of the late Samuel Untermyer. Chisholm crossed a tomato and a potato to produce a new non-fattening type of potato, which he has dubbed the "Topotato."

ANTI-PARACHUTE: Penn Patriots

England's new war minister, cut-looking Sir Tony Eden, has been active in organizing local corps of sharpshooters to pick off, willy nilly, invading parachute jumpers from across the channel. Jeannette, in western Pennsylvania, was not to be left behind. It formed a group of "sharpies"—the first civilian anti-parachute legion in the United States. Its members feared that parachute activities might be directed against the Pittsburgh industrial belt, of which Jeannette is a part. "Gauleiters" Brust and Landis, local marksman and local editor, headed the Jeannette parachute-poppers.

S. S. HARDING: In Memoriam

The former United States liner, President Harding, was sunk by bombs off the Flemish coast of Belgium. She was built in 1921, and her tonnage totaled 13,869. Your correspondent returned on her from the war, last October. The U. S. lines sold her to a Belgian shipping corporation, after American neutrality rules precluded U. S. boating in the war zone. The Belgians renamed the Harding, the Ville de Bruges. So perished the namesake of the leader of the Ohio Gang. But out of death comes life—two brand-new American destroyers were launched in Washington's Puget Sound: the Hughes and the Monssen, both named after Yankee naval heroes, and christened by their widows.

YANKEE JAW-POWER: We Can't Bite

America is not short on manpower, but it was announced that Americans are short on jawpower. Forty-five years ago, the average Yank could bite 171 pounds-worth. But in 1940, the Yank, degenerated, can only bite 125 pounds-worth. Soft food, alas, has done it. Take the average Eskimo, lucky fellow. He has, it is said, a good strong bite of 300 pounds-worth. This is called "chewing-force."

NAMES ... in the news

The woodchopper of Doorn, Holland, figured again in the news. The ex-kaiser was skirted by the Nazi invaders, guarded and ultra-courteously treated. This was to keep the still monarchist army officers—East Prussian Junkers—contented and happy. Gossips have had it that the ex-kaiser, deeply religious and anti-revolutionary, is mildly pro-ally and intensely loyal to his kindly refuge of Holland. It was said that Prussian Wilhelm nearly fled to England with Dutch Wilhelmina!

Known as the "right hand" of Generalissimo Ferdinand Foch in the last World war, French Gen. Maxime Weygand, now 73 years of age, is named commander-in-chief of the Allies in their present conflict with Germany. He comes to the Western front from the Near East where he was in top command and replaces General Gamelin. Born in Belgium he became a French citizen and was head of the army from 1931 to 1935.

AROUND the HOUSE

Fasten a large paper sack over the end of the food grinder when grinding bread or crackers. The sack will catch all of the crumbs.

Black shoe polish stains may be removed by rubbing them with warm water and soap. Rub brown stains with alcohol.

Always wash rice before cooking. Put the rice in a strainer and wash it in cold water, placing the strainer over a bowl of water. Change the water and repeat three times or until the water is clear.

Flour sifters and kitchen strainers should be dried thoroughly before storing.

A pinch of cinnamon or sugar burned in a tin can will remove objectionable food odors in the house.

Always melt marshmallows in the top of a double boiler over hot water.

Use adhesive tape to mend worn window shades. Use it, too, to patch together broken pieces of bric-a-brac.

TESTING CONDUCT BY ITS USEFULNESS (A Principle of Temperate Living)

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 15:1-6; Matthew 5:13-16; 7:16-20; I Corinthians 10:6, 7.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall know them by their fruits.—Matthew 7:16.

The emphasis of modern thinking is upon learning, upon the brilliance of scientific achievement, with little or no concern about personal character. Christianity and the Bible go to the root of that matter, stressing the need of stalwart moral and spiritual character, without which other attainments are lacking in real value and meaning. Unless what a man accomplishes is the expression of the greatness of his character, it is transient and often detrimental in its effect on society.

Tested by its results, the liquor traffic stands conclusively and completely condemned. Even its own frantic efforts to clean up and be more presentable indicates that fact. McAlpine made a rather acute comment when he said,

"IF I WERE A LIAR . . .

I'd advertise beer as a food, whisky as the promoter of the abundant life, and cocktails as the badge of social correctness. They say that if you repeat any thing times enough, people will believe it."

The Scripture portions before us present five inconsistencies, five instances where fact denies a false profession.

I. Wood Without Strength. (Ezek. 15:1-6).

The branch of a vine is at its best too crooked and pliable to be very useful, but here we have a piece of vine which has been charred in the fire until it is so useless that it can only be burned up. This is the picture of a life, possibly somewhat limited in its abilities and gifts, but nevertheless valuable, but made utterly useless by careless or dissolute living. How tragic!

II. Salt Without Savor (Matt. 5:13).

True salt is penetrating, antiseptic and purifying, but savorless salt is good for nothing but to make a road for the feet of men. "Ye are the salt of the earth." Christians, if they have the true savor in their lives, will count, by their very spiritual pugnancy, against sin and corruption in their communities.

III. Light Without Illumination (Matt. 5:14).

A light is intended to give illumination to all around about it. It always does that thing unless someone hides it under a cover, and then it becomes not only useless, but dangerous. A life lighted by faith in Christ will shine to the very ends of the earth and, as a missionary once said, "The light that shines farthest shines brightest at home." We are the light of the world, but if we cover our light we deny the very essence of our natures. Here is no thought of proud or selfish display. Light does not shout about itself, it just shines—but it really does shine.

IV. Trees Without Fruit (Matt. 7:16-20).

Every plant brings forth fruit after its own nature. We do not expect figs from thistles, but we do expect figs on the fig tree. The countryside bears no more desolate figure than a blasted, fruitless fig tree. Quickly the owner cuts it down and terminates its shame and uselessness by burning it. What about men and women? God has made them in His own image and likeness. He has given them intelligence and personal ability. He has a right to expect the fruit of a useful life from every one, and particularly from the Christian, who is "a good tree."

V. Life Without a Purpose (I Cor. 10:6, 7).

Light and salt are inanimate objects. Trees and vines with their wood and fruit are alive, but they are without intelligence and morality. Man, however, as we have already suggested, is the moral and intelligent crown of God's creation, made in His own image and likeness. If they who know better, live lives of careless indifference, yea of outright wickedness, how shall they escape the judgment of God in the day when they shall stand before Him to give an account of the manner in which they have used this precious gift of life?

The future of Robert Lee looks very bright. We have many good things for our consideration. right now a paving crew is moving in to complete the topping of the highway from here to San Angelo, street paving program, the completion of a first class filtration plant for our water supply, no town could hope to get anywhere without good water.

The lighting of a football field putting our school on record as wide awake progressive recreation center.

A surveying crew just completed the surveying of several installations surveys for the purpose of building a dam across the Colorado River for conservation flood control and irrigation. This one project would be a real send off for our district.

We also have a highway to Bronte that is to receive special consideration in the very near future.

The highway has already been surveyed to Colorado city and fenced out about twelve miles and some distance from Colorado City this way. Also a highway to be built from here to Sterling City, other things could be mentioned.

"EAST and WEST" is all of these. Talbot Mundy's tale of exotic India is told with an eye for the dramatic. It is the story of Western standards and conventions pitted against the guile and cunning of the East.

How an American girl and a British army officer find true happiness in the face of attempted murder and sly intrigue forms an exciting story such as only Talbot Mundy can write. Don't miss a single installment of this new story now running serially.

Food Value of Liver

Few people asked their meat dealers for liver years ago. Dealers even gave it away, says Dr. James A. Tobey, director of the American Institute of Baking, and a well-known authority on diet and health. Then in 1925 it was discovered that liver is rich in substances that prevent and control pernicious anemia and other anemic (blood) conditions.

Liver was found to be an excellent source of vitamins A, B, and B₁₂. It is also abundant in readily available iron, as well as in considerable amounts of such valuable food-minerals as calcium and phosphorus, according to Dr. Tobey.

Liver sausage contains the same vitamins and minerals as plain liver. It is likewise a valuable source of protein for the building and repair of the muscles and other bodily tissues, and it has fat for the requirements of body energy.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, and Pepsin-ize Acid Stomach Too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

Washington Stirs With War Talk As Defense Plan Takes Shape

President Roosevelt Asks Congress for Billion Dollar Military Appropriation in Addition to Regular Annual Grants for Army and Navy.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—I shall try, in this article, to provide you with a picture of your national capital during the last few weeks. It is a situation, a condition that, in general, gives rise to very little pride. But the facts must be faced, for in this capital city things have happened that can best be described as the screaming and play-panic of children playing cops and robbers. Only, of course, the screams were screams of men and women in places of official responsibility and the panicky outbursts and orders were the excited and unbalanced procedure of leaders in public and private life.

In the midst of this period which I am attempting to describe came President Roosevelt's voice, heard over the din of the others because the President and his office are respected. He drove to the Capitol building and there, before a joint assembly of senate and house, he asked for new national defense measures, and he asked for $1,196,- blared forth in loud tones the learned wisdom of a statesman. It shouted to the world that the United States of America must do everything it can to help the allies. Yes, we must supply money! And so, Senator Austin argued for repeal of that so-called Johnson Act.

Now, it may be remembered that Senator "Hi" Johnson of California fought and fought until he was able to convince congress that none of the foreign nations who had not paid their debts should be allowed to borrow any more money in the United States. The California senator is one of seven men now in the senate who were there during the first World war, and he is still going strong.

No Payment on War Debts Has Been Made Recently

The law that he forced through congress, almost single handed, was a good law when it was passed. It is a better law today, considering that those nations which we helped by men and billions of dollars are involved again in a war to save democracy. And, incidentally, they have paid nothing on their debts in the last 10 or 12 years, so that they still owe around $13,500,000,000.

Lights have been burning late in the war and navy offices. Mr. Roosevelt worked one night until two o'clock in the morning. That was while he was preparing his defense speech. Even the gambling spirit is around. One can get bets in the capital city that we will be mixed up in Europe's war, and the dates that are offered range anywhere from a few weeks to next winter.

And the politicians! Yes, they are busy about the thing, also. The "inner circle" and the third term advocates are smiling with that self-satisfied appearance that goes with a knowledge that they have gained ground. Privately, many of them will say that the nearness of the war makes certain that Mr. Roosevelt will be elected for a third term. They are sure the country will not dare to change horses in the middle of the stream, not even if France and England did change their principal leaders. Mr. Roosevelt will have to remain on the job because his two terms give him a great advantage in dealing with these foreign problems, they are saying.

'He Kept Us Out of War' Is Now Being Revived

And dear Mr. Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture. He couldn't get in on the excitement any other way, apparently. So, in his keynote speech to the Iowa Democratic state convention, he announced that Mr. Roosevelt had kept this nation out of war. That was his tribute, but immediately there were a good many persons able to recall a similar slogan from back about 1916 when it was used with great effectiveness.

All through these days that I have sought to describe was a steady stream of bad news from Europe—bad news for all of us who want to see the allies (or anybody else who can do it) knock Hitler and his gang into smithereens. The United States is pro-ally. Of that there is no doubt. The Hitler drives into Holland and Belgium have made it certain that few supporters of Hitler dare assert themselves in this country. But I have a hunch that allied censorship has been opened somewhat in order that we, here in the United States, can get the full impact of the slaughter, rape and arson being committed by the German legions. I say it is just a hunch. You see, it might be possible after all that the allies would like to have us in the war on their side to pay their bills and have our soldiers killed, again.

Anyway, this whole thing gripes me beyond expression. It is disgusting to see activities that were hardly equaled in the midst of the World war. It is more disgusting to listen to talk that represents perfection in lack of balanced thinking.

There is no doubt at all that our army and our navy are far below par. That is to say, this nation has nothing like the necessary or proper defense structure that a great nation must have. But if there is to be preparations against enemies, why neglect enemies within our gates. If we face the facts, it must be admitted that we have "fifth column" dangers within the boundaries of America, dangerous "fifth columns."

Standing Up
Neighbor—How does your new cat like your dog?
Jackie—Oh, fur straight.

Another reason for not committing bigamy is that it's the more the worrier.

That Kind
"He's one of the greatest half-backs that ever lived."
"I didn't know he played football."
"He doesn't. He always gives back half what he borrows."

Not the Charge
"How could I commit forgery, your honor, when I can't even write my own name?"
"You are not accused of writing your own name!"

"Young lady, 30, honest, reliable, would like to take charge of small bus." So reads an ad in a local paper. Wonder if a two-seater would do. And if she wants to take charge of the owner, too. Maybe she really means business.

See how oranges help!

Fully half our families are getting too little vitamins and minerals to feel their best, says the Department of Agriculture. It's easy to get more of these essentials—merely by making oranges your family's summer refreshment! Peel and eat them. Keep ready a big pitcher of fresh orangeade. Or better yet—Have big, 8-ounce glasses of fresh orange juice with breakfast daily. This gives you all the vitamin C you normally need. Adds vitamins A, B₁ and G and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron. Sunkist is sending you the pick of California's best-ever crop of wonderfully juicy summer oranges. Order a supply right away!
