Big Crowd Attends Edith Homecoming

The Edith Homecoming, suspended during war years, was revived again Sunday with a big attendance in spite of hot weather. The event, permanently scheduled for the third Sunday in August, was held at the Edith Tabernacle, with a free barbecue dinner served at noon. Twenty-one goats and muttons were prepared for the feast.

A program in the forenoon opened with prayer by R. B. King of El Paso, welcome address by R. B. Allen, response by Will King of Stanley, N. M., talks by old time residents, and an address by State Senator-elect Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo.

The afternoon program included a vocal solo by Mrs. Bryan Yarbrough, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Campbell, address by Rev. Campbell, memorial by Rev. Horace Bloodworth, and quartette selections by Claude Lawrence, Marie Wallace, Willie Wallace and Emory Davis.

Hand painted plaques made of mesquite from Edith were awarded to the following:

Oldest woman present, Mrs. J. D. Kidd, 88 yrs. and 8 months.

Oldest Man, J. J. S. Smith, 87 yrs.

Persons coming from greatest distance, Mrs. Blair, Water Valley, Miss.

Longest resident of community, Mrs. C. P. Stewart.

Longest resident of Coke county, Mrs. C. E. Daniels.

Largest family present, children all over 30 yrs. of age, the D. M. Millican family with 9 present, and the Sam King family also with 9 members present.

W. L. Carr was program leader. Officers of the Homecoming committee are Ed Hickman, president, and Mrs. Sam Powell, secretary-treasurer. The committee will meet soon to elect officers and make plans for the 1947 homecoming.

Guests in the home of Mrs. J. S. Gardner the first of the week included D. L. Buchanan and wife of Colorado City, Harry Hall and wife of Lubbock and Gladine Stickney of Commerce. The ladies are sisters of Mrs. Gardner.

M. E. Cook and wife of Oklahoma City were guests here the first of the week of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Campbell.

REA Making Progress

Construction of the Coke county Rural Electrification lines in Coke county is progressing satisfactorily, according to County Agent T. B. Hicks. Work was started in the Tennyson locality and a sub-station will be built at 7-mile Hill between Robert Lee and Bronte. Mr. Hicks advises all persons desiring REA service to make application at once, since these applications must be sent to Washington, D. C., for approval.

Party at Green Mt.

There will be a party sponsored by the Green Mountain P. T. A. at the Green Mountain school house August 30. Ice cream and cake will be sold. Ice cream 10c a dish, cake 5c a slice. Everybody invited.

Sil Cobb and sister, Cynthia, of Bakersfield, Calif., and L. E. Patterson of Riverside, Calif., arrived Tuesday for a visit among Robert Lee relatives. Mr. Patterson, who is a guest in the home of his brother, Bob, left here in 1914 and this is his first trip back.

Mrs. Bill Ratliff and daughter, Billie Fae, of Tatum, N. M., are visiting in the parental S. G. Danford home.

Robert Lee Truck Line Sold To C. E. McDonald

C. E. McDonald this week purchased the Robert Lee Truck Line from A. E. Latham. The company operates a daily hauling service between San Angelo and Robert Lee, and also makes trips between Robert Lee and Bronte.

The business changed hands Tuesday and Archie McDonald will operate the truck line for his father. Archie worked for Lathams several years and is well acquainted with the business.

The truck line also handles a pickup laundry and dry cleaning service, and headquarters for same will be continued at the feed store.

The Robert Lee Truck Line handles a large portion of the freight that comes into Robert Lee. Aaron Summers has been driver of the truck.

Jones Filley Wins

Samaria, two year old mare owned by Aubrey Jones, won first in her class at the Quarter Horse show at Pampa last week. Two yearling stallions shown by James Burrus also looked mighty good to the judge, but were nosed out in the field of 40 entries.

David Key Buys Latham Feed Store

An important business deal took place here the first of the week when the Latham Feed Store was sold to David Key. Stock was invoiced and the new owner took possession at once.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Key and returned home in February after serving 3 1/2 years in the army. He was in the Air Corps and held the rating of staff sergeant at the time of his discharge. He plans to give the community a first class feed store and is well qualified to make a success of the business.

The Lathams opened the store four years ago and have been very successful. They are grateful for the excellent patronage that has been given them, and feel that David will continue to operate the business in a manner that will be a credit to himself and to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Latham have many friends in Robert Lee and Coke county and we are happy to learn that this fine family will continue to make their home here.

The Observer extends congratulations to Mr. Key who is embarking into the business world, and at the same time we wish the Lathams continued success and happiness.

Mrs. R. B. Clift entered Shannon hospital Tuesday for a few days treatment.

Mrs. D. T. McClesky and little daughter, Dee Anna, left Sunday in their auto to join Captain McClesky who was recently transferred to Fort Monroe, Va. They were accompanied by Mrs. McClesky's mother, Mrs. Eva Vowell, who makes her home with them. For the past three weeks they have been guests of Mrs. M. H. Havins and other relatives in the Robert Lee locality. Captain McClesky is an army personnel director and has been assigned to Second Army headquarters which were recently moved to Fort Monroe from Washington, D. C. The family will reside in Newport News, Va., about 12 miles from the army post.

Strickland Is New Legion Commander

J. C. Strickland was elected commander of Pammie Landers Post No. 381 of The American Legion of Robert Lee at a special meeting Monday night. The new set of officers who will serve during the coming year are divided among veterans of World Wars I and II.

A complete roster of new officers follows:

Commander—J. C. Strickland.
Vice Commander—Bryan Yarbrough

Adjutant—A. M. Tubbs.
Sgt. at Arms—Jodie Williams.
Finance Officer—A. J. Kirkpatrick.

Service Officer—Bob L. Davis
Adjutant Hubert Buchanan reported a balance of something over $1,900 in the post treasury, and an auditing committee was named to make a detailed financial report at the next meeting. The post membership was announced at 103.

A new entertainment committee was named to include Garland Green, Woodrow Gardner, Sam Williams, C. S. Brown and Bryan Yarbrough. The Legion is planning numerous entertainment features for the coming year.

Bronte Likes Him Anyway

The Bronte paper says: "Gubernatorial candidate Beauford Jester sped through Bronte last Tuesday afternoon at 1:45, but made no stop to shake hands as his opponent, Homer Rainey, had done here in Bronte previously. Jester supporters here were dismayed that their candidate did not stop in Bronte, while Rainey backers were happy to point out that their candidate had campaigned in Bronte and Coke county."

Well that's just too bad. No doubt Mr. Jester had been advised he was the favorite candidate in Bronte anyway, so he just as well try to keep his speaking appointment at San Angelo at 3 p. m. and get on over to Coleman for an evening meeting.

Teaching Staff Complete For Robert Lee Schools

With the signing of three more teachers the past week, Robert Lee public school teaching staff is now complete, according to a statement issued yesterday by Supt. M. G. Hannaford.

New contracts were received from the following: Mrs. L. G. Campbell of Edith, high school commercial, Viola Gramling, third grade, and Mrs. A. J. Kirkpatrick, 7th grade and high school general science and economics.

G. C. Graves of Big Spring, newly elected principal and coach, will arrive Sunday. He will spend next week going over equipment in readiness for the first football practice which is scheduled for Sept. 2.

Few Showers, But Cooler

Some widely scattered showers in west Texas early this week brought relief from a 6 weeks stretch of torrid weather. Only sections of Coke county receiving rain were north of the river toward Silver where as much as three-quarters of an inch of moisture was reported.

Old Timers Ball Game

A bunch of the boys got together last Thursday afternoon and played the Robert Lee town team a good ball game that was finally won by the regulars 4 to 3 in 10 innings. Ratt Trimble and Frank Wojtek pitched for the pickup team, and Jett Hood did the catching. It was 18 years ago that Jett played his last ball game, but he can still do a mighty good job. Others on the team included Carroll and Bailey Russell, Vic Wojtek, Clell and Morris Varnadore and Bobbie Baker.

Voters To Choose Jester or Rainey

Local interest is growing in the second primary election Saturday, Aug. 24, with the governor's race drawing wide attention. While Coke county had 1600 votes in the first primary a month ago, the number of ballots cast this week is expected to be considerably less.

There are no local contests except the run-off for supervisor in Precinct No. 2 where the incumbent S. A. Kiker is opposed by W. J. Eads.

The run-off for governor between Beauford Jester and Dr. H. P. Rainey has turned into a vicious campaign and The Observer feels that the best interests of the state of Texas can be far better served by the election of Jester. In the first primary Jester received 495 votes in Coke county, compared with 358 for Rainey, with several hundred votes scattered among the other 12 candidates. What Coke county will do this time, we do not know.

Some of the Rainey campaign argument is hard to swallow. This week the former university president said it was a disgrace that the state treasury had such a big balance of cash on hand. When building materials are available much of this surplus will be used up, and it's always a good sound policy to have some funds available for an emergency. But Rainey says let's spend it, and quick.

Another vicious attack is that Jester is rich. Since when has it become disgraceful for a man to be a success in business? Jester stands all right with his folks at home, and that's about all the endorsement anyone needs.

The election of a governor is important and everyone should get out and vote next Saturday.

Baptist Meeting At Silver

The Baptist meeting will start at Silver Friday night, Aug. 23, with Rev. Fred Blake of Robert Lee doing the preaching. Basket lunches will be served at the church both Sundays. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the 10 day meeting.

To Play Student Officers

Robert Lee is scheduled to play the Student Officers team of Good-fellow Field next Sunday. The game may be shifted to Robert Lee, but Manager Chilly Tinkler did not have definite word when The Observer went to press.

Weak New OPA Bill Controls By 'Psychological' Means

ENACTMENT of the new OPA bill, weak as it is, may have a psychological if not an actual hand in controlling prices, this reporter believes. Although it is aodge-podge of conflicting ideas, it is definitely better than nothing.

As the result of this bill, for all practical purposes, Agricultural Sec. Clinton P. Anderson becomes the new boss of the food price control. Although the law places final authority in the three-man decontrol board, the cumbersome administrative process gives the secretary exclusive authority to recommend to the board. In all likelihood the policy of the board will be set in accordance with the policy of Mr. Anderson.

One of the secretary's well known views is the elimination of food subsidies. As a matter of fact, present prices on foods, except some which have soared beyond all reason and which are in short supply, are believed by the agricultural boss to reflect the ceiling prices of June 30, when OPA control went off, plus subsidy costs. Elimination of government subsidies are believed to account for an approximate 10 per cent increase on foods formerly subsidized, and, with another 5 per cent added on, the prediction is that most foods will level off at about a 15 per cent increase.

Benefit to 'Little Man'

This brings into focus again the endless argument, is it cheaper for the general public to pay government subsidies than to pay for a 10 per cent increase in food prices at the retail level? And the answer is, it is cheaper for the little fellow, those millions whose income is $3,000 a year and under, because he doesn't pay the subsidy in federal taxes.

At any rate, the government at this writing is not paying out a dime for food subsidies on meat or dairy products. Subsidies went out with the old OPA in June. If, however, meat and other products go back under price control, it will be a question for the agriculture boss and the decontrol board to decide whether or not to reinstate subsidy payments as a policy or to do something else about control. The new law ends all subsidies by April 1, 1947.

The mere fact, however, that the decontrol board has the authority under the new law to reinstate price ceilings without consulting industry or without giving advance notice, we believe will act as a psychological threat which at least will make industry and producers a little cautious about boosting prices beyond reason.

Opposed to Subsidies

Farm organizations and the dairy industry have been fighting for elimination of food subsidies for years, declaring that the treasury should not pay the public's grocery bill and that farm produce should go to market and be sold at a fair price fixed by supply and demand. They now have won that fight, at least temporarily. Subsidies are off. These subsidies in two categories have amounted to a little over three billion dollars annually. In theory farmers are supposed to make up for loss of this three billion in increased prices. But will this be true?

There is every reason to believe that the cost of everything the farmer buys will rise considerably. With the old OPA gone, cost absorption by industry is also out and this means quick price gains for many goods to as high as 9 per cent. The farmer gained only 10 per cent by elimination of subsidies. And in addition there will be many increases in manufacturing costs which later will be seen in the retail selling price . . . fencing, building materials, all kinds of farm machinery, commodities of every description . . . and there are many experts here who predict at least a 15 per cent rise in these things the farmer buys to equal the 15 per cent increase in food costs.

Farmer May Feel Better

So the question of whether the farmer is better off with or without subsidies is still a moot question and likely will be. One thing, however, the average farmer, independent as he is, may feel better in knowing that the price he receives from his products, whether they are high or low prices, is not in part a government hand-out.

New Jersey, the Garden State, is more than the 90-mile trip from New York to Philadelphia. It never can be appreciated by hurrying through it, or by dashing over to "the Jersey side" for a few hours. But the vacationist and the sportsman, as well as the farmer, laborer, industrialist or home-seeker, will find North Jersey, South Jersey, and all points in between, well worth the time it takes for a visit and inspection. New Jersey is an empire in its own right, the "Mighty Atom" among the states of this nation.

It has great industrial areas where "Made in New Jersey" is stamped on thousands of products. Its agriculture is highly developed. New Jersey provides homes for its own workers as well as for tens of thousands who have a business address in New York City or Philadelphia. It broad highways, each a scenic and historic route, offer motor trips along the coastline of the great Atlantic, or through the hills and valleys, forests and farms, orchards and parks of the interior.

In New Jersey, one may have the bustle of the city, the vibrant life of seashore resorts, or the quietude of quaint, forgotten towns where time has stood still. There is Bordentown, where the 19th century still lives on every street, as well as small villages resting solidly in the pockets of northern mountains.

There is much for every American to re-live in New Jersey, where Gen. George Washington spent a fourth of his career as commander-in-chief during the Revolutionary war. Its scores of historic shrines are rich in early American lore and legend.

Take Cue From Indians.

When the early settlers arrived in New Jersey from Europe, they found the Indians growing corn, pumpkins, gourds, tobacco and beans. Taking a lesson from the natives, the settlers cleared the land, imported seed and livestock from across the sea, and developed an important agricultural colony. It became "the Garden State" of the colonies.

Today, New Jersey has prosperous small farms and high types of agricultural specialization. Dairy and poultry farms abound. Small grains and field crops are grown in most parts of the state. Most of New Jersey's farm products are consumed by its own cities, or by Philadelphia and New York. It is but a step from farm to market.

Alexander Hamilton selected the site of Paterson for an industrial city. Early New Jersey scientists and inventors accelerated the trend toward industrialization—John

Despite three centuries of development, about 46 per cent of New Jersey still is in forest! Of great significance are the plentiful along the southern coast of New Jersey. Atlantic City is known as "the playground of a nation."

Traditionally, New Jersey has been the home of many famous people. James Fenimore Cooper and Capt. James Lawrence of "Don't give up the ship" fame lived next door to each other in Burlington.

Robert Louis Stevenson, when in America, lived at Manasquan. Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton fought their famous duel near Weehawken. George Washington wrote his "Farewell Address" to the army in Berrien House at Rocky Hill. Grover Cleveland, twice U. S. President, was born in New Jersey. Woodrow Wilson was president of Princeton university and governor of New Jersey before becoming President. Wait Whitman's tomb is at Camden. Alexander Woolcott was born in New Jersey. Others are Stephen Crane of "The Red Badge of Courage" and Joyce Kilmer, poet, who wrote "Trees." Many contemporary New York authors and artists live on the Jersey side.

New Jersey is a great state—great in agriculture, in industry, in VACATION PARADISE . . . Nature has provided abundant attractions to beckon vacationists to New Jersey. Sparkling lakes and mountains lure many to the inland areas while the thrill of a seashore vacation draws countless others to the New Jersey coast, with its 120 miles of sandy beaches.

Fitch and Col. John Stevens with their steamboats, and Seth Boyden with malleable iron and patent leather—to be followed later by the genius of Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of Menlo Park.

Today there are heavy industries at Newark, brick and terra cotta works around Perth Amboy, shipyards at Camden, ceramic plants at Trenton, woolen mills at Passaic, textile plants at Paterson, and many others in such cities as Elizabeth, Bayonne and Jersey City. The state ranks first in smelting and refining of copper, dyeing and finishing of textiles, and ranks high in rubber goods production. It is second in manufacture of silk, rayon and chemicals. New Jersey ranks sixth in the nation for value of manufacturing.

Few people regard New Jersey as a mineral state. However, in 1685 iron was mined in Monmouth county, and this basic resource has been mined ever since. Zinc deposits at Franklin Furnace and Ogdensburg, Sussex county, are world famous. Trap rock, sandstone, argillite granite, slate, marble, talc and conglomerate are quarried in New Jersey, and it has unlimited quantities of sand and gravel, lime, greensand marl and peat.

Three Main Divisions.

New Jersey might be called a peninsula since, with exception of the 50-mile northern boundary from the Hudson to the Delaware, it is entirely surrounded by water. It has three physical divisions. In the north is a mountainous, lake-studded region known as the Appalachian Highlands. The central or Triassic section, with gently rolling hills, supports most of the state's urban and industrial development. The large southern coastal plain has fruit orchards, market gardens, swamps, pine wastes and miles of beaches and shallow bays.

All of New Jersey that touches the Atlantic ocean is famous for its seashore. Asbury Park is one of the best known of North Jersey coast resorts, with boardwalk and convention hall. Long Branch attracted visitors from Philadelphia as early as 1750. Wide, safe and sandy beaches are education, in historical lore, in present opportunity, in hope for a continued greatness in the future. Its incomparable seacoast, its beautiful lake and mountain country, its extensive fishing and hunting grounds, as well as the innate hospitality of its people—two out of five of whom own their homes—furnish proof enough of the greatness of New Jersey, the "Mighty Atom" among the states of this nation.

It Appears Ezra Knew Right Tactic

Down in a certain southern town the prize loafer of the community went away on a trip and returned with a brand-new wife.

"Well, Ezra," remarked the mayor, on meeting the new bridegroom, "so you've gone and got married." Assuming a forlorn air, he added: "And here I am, a lonely bachelor. It seems no one will have me."

"Think I can help you get a wife," Ezra suggested hopefully.

"Really!" cried the mayor.

Ezra glanced around cautiously, then whispered, "Do what I did, Mayor. Go where you ain't known."

House Group Proposes New Farm Program to Aid Agriculture; Drouth Strikes Mid-West States

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FARM PROGRAM: New Proposals

A new farm program calling for a combination of sound open market practices and governmental assistance was proposed by the special house committee on postwar economic policy and planning headed by Representative Colmer (Dem., Miss.).

In recommending changes in present farm legislation, the committee urged:

Greater flexibility be allowed in farm prices, especially toward each other.

Supply and demand be given greater opportunity to determine farm prices rather than artificial controls.

Re-examination of the out-moded parity price formula designed to give farmers an income on a par with industrial workers.

Concentration on a long rather than a short range farm program.

For establishing a "floor" under farm prices to prevent a disastrous drop, the committee proposed a support program guaranteeing producers "60, 70 or 80 per cent of parity"; a supplemental payment during hard times to assure a certain percentage of pre-depression income and limits on the rate of decline for a specified commodity in a year.

PARIS: Parley Gets Going

Settlement of the highly controversial rules procedures enabled the 21-nation Paris peace conference to get underway for consideration of vital issues concerning treaty drafts for Italy, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

Agreement to place all conference recommendations passed by a majority vote before the Big Four foreign ministers for their study in drawing up the final treaties represented a major victory for the Anglo-American bloc. Russia had held out for a two-thirds vote on the grounds that decisions should be as unanimous as possible and was supported by a Slavic bloc including Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, the Ukraine and Byelorussia.

While the Anglo-American and Russian blocs were at issue on the voting procedure they readily joined in a decision to open both committee and general assembly meetings to representatives of the defeated nations to place their views before the delegates. There also was agreement on excluding any of the Big Four from the chairmanship of any of the committees to preclude the imposition of their policies and to limit each country to one chairmanship.

DROUTH: Strikes in Mid-West

Because of an atmospheric quirk, parts of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and almost all of Michigan have suffered from a severe drouth, with heavy rainfall needed to prevent major corn, pasture and truck crop failures.

As explained by the weather bureau, a low pressure trough exists in a north-south direction in the Great Plains states. Normally, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico would pass into this channel, to be distributed to the eastward. During the last six weeks, however, a strong northerly wind has been blowing in to block the moist air.

Outside of this area, there has been heavy rainfall, especially in the East, the Great Plains states and parts of Iowa and Illinois. To the east and west of the affected air trough, southerly winds are bearing moisture from the gulf.

Corn in the drouth area already has suffered a 10 to 20 per cent loss; seeding of clover and alfalfa in stubble has been retarded, and tomato blossoms are blasting and falling off vines.

CIO: To Fight Prices

Remaining militant in its postwar program to aid the interests of more than five million members, the CIO announced an all-out drive on rising prices to prevent further depreciation of the workers' dollar.

Revealing that it had given up plans for another big wage drive to win further increases to offset rising living costs, the union stated that demands for more money probably would result in still higher prices.

In forecasting additional price rises of 15 to 20 per cent during the next few months, the CIO said that the corresponding reduction in purchasing power of the consumer's dollar would represent a wage cut of 17 per cent. A successful consumer strike against higher prices would terminate current inflation within the next 18 months at the worst and three to six months at the best, it said.

UNRRA: U. S. to Quit

Following close upon the blast of Senators Butler (Rep., Neb.) and Ellender (Dem., La.) against use of United Nations relief and rehabilitation funds abroad, Assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton told the fifth UNRRA council meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, that the U. S. would not contribute additional funds to the agency.

W. S. Clayton

While the senators had charged that UNRRA supplies were being used to bolster foreign governments, Clayton stated that the U. S. was withdrawing future assistance to the agency because the period of immediate postwar impoverishment was passing and the U. S. and other countries had supplied sufficient credit mediums for financing recovery.

No less than 30 billion dollars have been made available for loaning through such agencies as the international bank and monetary funds set up at Bretton Woods, Clayton said. Furthermore, prospective borrowers now can approach wealthier nations for advances if necessary, he added.

In all, the U. S. provided no less than 2 1/2 billion dollars of aid to UNRRA, sufficient for supplies to fill 2,000 cargo ships.

OPA: More Price Boosts

Reflecting the termination of subsidy payments amounting to $39,200,000 yearly, OPA boosted the price of No. 2 sized cans of peas and tomatoes two cents and corn and tomato paste one cent. The price of a 14-ounce bottle of catsup was upped one cent along with six-ounce cans of tomato paste.

At the same time, OPA followed its removal of price control from snap beans packed after March 1 by freeing frozen and canned snap beans processed before that date.

While congress had slashed the administration request for two billion dollars for subsidies by half in renewing OPA, the agency had decided to discontinue vegetable payments in July, it was reported. With the lapse of the old price control act in June, subsidies ended on the 1946 pack and later were stopped on the 1945 supply.

Study Meat Control

As the new super price control board undertook to determine whether meat should continue free of price control, packer bids on cattle and hogs dipped in the leading markets upon heavy receipts of low-cost beef and consumer resistance to rising pork prices.

Taking cognizance of department of agriculture charges that whole carloads of meat were spoiling on railroad sidings in the East because of a buyer's strike in protest against high prices, packers stated that present prices including former subsidies actually are lower than under OPA regulation. Because of the large volume of tonnage available, some shipments may be arriving faster than distributors can handle them, it was said.

National Income Near Peak

With disbursements of private industry rising to an all-time high in June, income payments to individuals for the month were at a near record annual rate of $160,600,000,000, the department of commerce reported.

Included in income payments to individuals are wages and salaries, net return of unincorporated businesses, dividends and interest and net rents received by landlords.

Indicative of whirling postwar industrial activity, wage and salary payments for June were estimated at $8,701,000,000 and dividend and interest disbursements were put at $2,263,000,000.

HIGH SEA: Seek Prize

A British steamship company stood to gain three million dollars and the Latvian captain and crew of one of its tugs another million if their claim to the abandoned 15,000-ton American Farmer cargo vessel is upheld. Boarding the deserted ship 600 miles off England, the British crew later was forced to give it up to U. S. seamen.

Considered as a prize to anyone picking her up under maritime law, the American Farmer was spotted by RAF planes as she drifted aimlessly after being abandoned by her U. S. crew following a collision with the U. S. William Riddle. Valued at almost two million dollars herself, the American Farmer bore cargo estimated at an additional two and one-half million dollars.

The British tug located the American Farmer after several U. S. vessels had passed the ship up. Shortly after the tug captain had put a crew aboard and started to tow the huge prize in, the U. S. Ranger drew alongside and sent seamen to take possession of the craft.

HIDES: Hit Hoarding

Led by Reconversion Director Steelman, the government moved to spur the lagging sale of hides and leather which was said to threaten an imminent shutdown in shoe production.

Declaring that the government would use every means for striking at hoarders who held back shipments in the hope of raising prices, Steelman revealed that the justice department would investigate rumors that distributors were withholding supplies to gain greater profits and OPA would check inventories so that it could order release of excess stocks.

Reaffirming OPA's determination not to grant further increases in prices of domestic hides and leather, Steelman declared that under OPA ceilings production of these items between V-J day and June 30, 1946, reached the highest level in history. With the temporary lapse in OPA, prices of hides skyrocketed an average of 50 per cent and approximately 900,000 were sold, he added.

Washington Digest
GOP Leaders Intrigue Press With Election Prospects

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — This weather—in Washington and elsewhere—develops more heat than light. That's a trite phrase, I know, but it's apropos because heat, rather than light, is always the keyword at this season, politically speaking. Congress accomplished its fade-out rather gracefully, I thought, even if they must have prayed for 'forgiveness for "the things we have left undone" as fervently as or the things they did which didn't sit too well with their consciences. And now the voice of the vote-getter is heard in the land.

Radio and newspaper correspondents are being courted by both political parties. For example, recently, a crowd of radio folk was given a luncheon-table look at the vote-getting machinery behind the Republican lines. Our hosts were Republican Chairman Carroll B. Reece at one end of the table, and Republican Campaign Manager Clarence Brown at the other. (A similar jaunt into Democratic territory will be reported in a future column.)

Reece Quiet, Popular Chief

Reece is a slight, greying, quiet-voiced man whose Tennessee accent reminds one occasionally of Claude Pepper in one of Claude's unattractive moments if you can catch him in one. (Personal confession: I like Pepper and Reece both and so do a lot of people who would be the first to say, "the views of these notables do not NECESSARILY agree with those of the undersigned.")

It is a little presumptuous of me to refer to Reece as "greying" because the year 1889 had to stretch itself from January to December to fill the time-gap between my birthday and his. He has taught in almost as many academic institutions as I have casually attended. He was a battalion commander in World War I whereas I never rose above the exalted station of shavetail, and among his five decorations are the Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Service Medal and the Purple Heart. He was cited for bravery by a marshal, three generals and a colonel.

Perhaps the same qualities which won Reece his decorations qualified him for his present job. He certainly doesn't lack assurance even if he doesn't rattle sabers in expressing it.

But we are not talking about Reece. We are talking about his job. He is out on the hustings, although his trip, which will take him as far west as Seattle and as far south as Georgia, is mildly camouflaged as a vacation. Anyhow Mrs. and Miss Reece are going along, and a part of the time will be spent at a resort in the Rockies.

Backstopping Reece here in the capital where nobody votes, but where a lot of writers and talkers remain, will be Clarence Brown, representative from the seventh district of Ohio, a state which might be called a latter-day mother of presidents and which right now is looking hopefully over the patterns of maternity gowns.

Brown and Reece complement each other very well. Reece is slight, dignified, soft-spoken. Brown is large, loud enough to be heard in the back row without using the PA system, and hail-fellow-well-met. As "campaign manager" he is going to sweat it out (that is literal) with the rest of the Washingtonians who don't vacate in the summer.

I have a fellow feeling for Representative Brown, tinged perhaps with the natural deference a reporter always has for a publisher. Brown publishes several country newspapers (that's the way he put it himself in the congressional directory) whereas I merely write for "several" besides this one. Also he has three more children than I have. He and I once met on the debating platform, and while I would naturally never admit that I didn't present the best argument, I will concede somewhat grudgingly that Brown's resounding oratory won him the most applause. We were debating selective service, and I hasten to explain that former Senator (now Supreme court justice) Burton and I had the unpopular side. Anyhow, Brown (may-the-best-man-win) won.

Reece and Brown didn't talk on-the-record at the luncheon but I have a good idea of how things looked to the Republicans at that congenial gathering of radio folk. If the elections were held as of that moment, they claimed, the Republicans would win a majority of seats in the house of representatives and would make very heavy inroads on the Democratic majority in the senate. Since then many of the primary battles have been fought and I'll report the reactions later.

Gallup Poll Heartens GOP

In the first place I understand that the Republicans took considerable satisfaction in the Gallup poll which showed that, excluding the one-party Democratic states, 46 per cent of the persons interviewed showed a Democratic preference and 54 per cent a Republican preference.

The GOP leaders believed they had a good, fighting chance to win 15 to 17 senatorial seats from their opponents. In New York, they say Governor Dewey's good record and the campaign he is planning ought to pull in a Republican senator (they won't say whom). They believe Democratic Senator Mead will have to run or the governorship.

They felt they had a chance in Delaware and West Virginia and that if the ballots were cast at that moment they would win in Missouri (I'm still talking about the senatorial race). They called Montana and Washington probabilities rather than mere possibilities.

Carroll B. Reece and Rep. Brown

O'Mahoney knows he has a fight, they say, and they believe the Republican candidate, John Henderson, has a chance against the popular gentleman from Wyoming.

I heard a lot of talk, too, about the interesting possibility in Connecticut where Repr. Clare Luce was expected to oppose former OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, which would be a colorful affair with all the technical skill of her publisher husband, and all the skill of an advertising man, Mr. Bowles, pitted against each other.

As to the house of representatives, Republican machinery has been grinding in at least 75 districts.

Oh' Kentuck Bloody Battleground

Kentucky was catalogued as still a dark and bloody battleground. At the time of the luncheon, Representative May's followers seemed to feel, according to press reports, that he was a martyr. If something should come out to change their minds on that score, he might go down to defeat. And we are reminded that, as one Republican put it: "every 20 years or so Kentucky changes its mind."

Other debatable districts were listed in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and New York.

What the Republicans seem to count on most is the natural reaction, the "throw the rascals out" theory which Americans always have reverted to after so long a period of any party's incumbency. In addition, say the GOPundits, there are the usual mistakes of the party in power which result in the well known attitude of one of Clarence Brown's constituents who told him:

"I don't know who I'm FOR, but I know darned well who I'm AGAINST."

The Republicans think they have discovered a trend away from centralized government which may turn the voters against the administration and into Republican pastures.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
 proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of a new Section to be known as Section 49-b, creating a Veteran's Land Board and establishing a Veteran's Land Fund; providing for an election and issuance of proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
 Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 49-b which will read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veteran's Land Board, which will be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Legislature shall provide by law for issuance by said Board of not to exceed Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veteran's Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as shall be prescribed by law, provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3 pct.) per annum.

"In the sale of any such bonds a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent Free School Funds; such bonds to be issued only as needed, in the opinion of the Veteran's Board under legislative authorization.

"The Veteran's Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State (a) owned by the United States, or any government agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veteran's Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veteran's Land Fund shall be sold by the State of Texas to Veterans of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and such rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, however, that any such lands remaining unsold at the expiration of eight (8) years after the effective date of this Amendment may be sold to anyone as shall be prescribed by law.

"All moneys received and which have been received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments shall be credited to the Veteran's Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II, in like manner as shall be provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period of eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on the bonds herein provided for shall be set aside for that purpose. After eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment, all moneys received by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not so needed shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Thursday in November, 1946, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"FOR the Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding Section 49-b creating a Veteran's Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the following words:

"AGAINST the Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding Section 49-b creating a Veteran's Land Fund for the purchase of lands in Texas to be sold to Texas Veterans of World War II."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast were in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution and be effective from the date of the determination of such result and the Governor's proclamation thereof.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 4. The sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the St. Angelus Hotel, San Angelo, Tuesday only, August 27 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Mr. Shevnan says: The Zoetie Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly no matter the size or location but it will increase the circulation, strengthen the weakened parts, and thereby close the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge.

H. J. R. NO. 49 HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

proposing an amendment to Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a new section to be known as "Section 7-a"; providing that subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction all net revenues derived from taxes, except gross production and ad valorem taxes, levied on motor fuels and lubricants and motor vehicle registration fees shall be used for the sole purposes of acquiring rights-of-way for and constructing and maintaining public roadways; for the administration of laws pertaining to traffic and safety; and for the payment of principal and interest on county and road district bonds or warrants voted or issued prior to January 2, 1939, and declared eligible for debt service prior to January 2, 1945; providing that one-fourth (1/4) of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School Fund; providing and insuring that each county shall never derive less revenue from motor registration fees than the maximum amounts and percentages of such fees allowed to be retained by each county under the laws in effect on January 1, 1945; negating any interpretation of this amendment as authorizing the pledging of the State's credit for any purpose; providing for the submission of this amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; and providing for the proclamation of the election and the publication thereof.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as 7-a and to read as follows:

"Section 7-a. Subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction, all net revenues remaining after payment of all refunds allowed by law and expenses of collection derived from motor vehicle registration fees, and all taxes, except gross production and ad valorem taxes, on motor fuels and lubricants used to propel motor vehicles over public roadways, shall be used for the sole purpose of acquiring rights-of-way, constructing, maintaining, and policing such public roadways, and for the administration of such laws as may be prescribed by the Legislature pertaining to the supervision of traffic and safety on such roads; and for the payment of the principal and interest on county and road district bonds or warrants voted or issued prior to January 2, 1939, and declared eligible for debt service prior to January 2, 1945, for payment out of the County and Road District Highway Fund under existing law; provided, however, that one-fourth (1/4) of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School Fund; and, provided, however, that the net revenue derived by counties from motor vehicle registration fees shall never be less than the maximum amounts allowed to be retained by each county and the percentage allowed to be retained by each county under the laws in effect on January 1, 1945. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as authorizing the pledging of the State's credit for any purpose."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the General Election to be held in November, 1946 at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the following words:

"FOR the Amendment to the Constitution of the State providing that subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction all net revenues derived from taxes, except gross production and ad valorem taxes, levied on motor fuels and lubricants and motor vehicle registration fees shall be used for the sole purposes of acquiring rights-of-way for and constructing and maintaining public roadways; for the administration of laws pertaining to traffic and safety; and for the payment of principal and interest on county and road district bonds or warrants voted or issued prior to January 2, 1939, and declared eligible for debt service prior to January 2, 1945; providing that one-fourth (1/4) of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School Fund; providing and insuring that each county shall never derive less revenue from motor registration fees than the maximum amounts and percentages of such fees allowed to be retained by each county under the laws in effect January 1, 1945; and negating any interpretation of this amendment as authorizing the pledging of the State's credit for any purpose.

"AGAINST the Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas providing that subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction all net revenues derived from taxes, except gross production and ad valorem taxes, levied on motor fuels and lubricants and motor vehicle registration fees shall be used for the sole purposes of acquiring rights-of-way for and constructing and maintaining public roadways; for the administration of laws pertaining to traffic and safety; and for the payment of principal and interest on county and road district bonds or warrants voted or issued prior to January 2, 1939, and declared eligible for debt service prior to January 2, 1945; providing that one-fourth (1/4) of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School Fund; providing and insuring that each county shall never derive less revenue from motor registration fees than the maximum amounts and percentages of such fees allowed to be retained by each county under the laws in effect on January 1, 1945; and negating any interpretation of this amendment as authorizing the pledging of the State's credit for any purpose.

"Each voter shall strike out with pen or pencil the clause which he desires to vote against so as to indicate whether he is voting FOR or AGAINST said proposed amendment."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereon.

Party Line

There are lots of ways to be "The Neighborhood Nuisance"—if you aspire to the title—but one of the most certain ways is to monopolize the party line. You know from your own experience that some of the longest minutes in your life are spent waiting to put in an urgent call. Well, your party-line neighbors feel the same way. So please make your calls brief—answer your telephone promptly—and be sure your receiver is properly hung up. You'll find that your party line partners will soon begin to cooperate and service will be greatly improved. So, be a good party-line neighbor—remember: BE BRIEF in conversation, BE PROMPT to answer, and BE SURE to replace your receiver properly. You'll help your neighbor and yourself.

Nature's Forces Hold the Rings Around Saturn...

and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

NO one knows just why Saturn is the only planet to have rings around it. We do know, however, that mighty forces of gravitational attraction hold them there. Through extensive research into the forces of attraction between molecules of liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils.

Using the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. In fact, so strong is this attraction that cylinder walls are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

- added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine
- added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company

Robert Lee Wins From Lowake 16-5

Robert Lee's base ball team got back into the winning column Sunday when they defeated Lowake here by a score of 16 to 5. This was the first Concho Basin league victory for the Lee's in several weeks, having lost a couple one-sided contests and several close ones.

Chilly Tinkler was on the mound all the way gave up only 7 hits which were well scattered, and Jodie Williams turned in a fine performance as his battery mate. Jodie had more pep than anybody last Sunday and was the team's real spark plug. Hitting honors went to Fred Campbell, who connected with four safe hits in five times at bat, besides doing a bang-up job holding down first base.

Johnny Hickman also made good use of the stick, getting a home run, a three bagger, a single and walk in five trips to the plate. The ball game went blooey for Lowake in the sixth inning when Robert Lee made 8 runs and 13 men batted before the side was retired. The Lee's made a total of 16 hits.

Clarence Tinkler was jolted up a bit and had to leave the game when he attempted to slide into home in the third inning. His injuries were not serious. Aubrey Bagwell took his place at third and turned in a swell job throughout the game.

Mrs. Sam Powell has returned from Harlingen where she visited her sister, Mrs. Claude Carter. She went on the Continental airline.

Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Shelburne, Jr., visited here last Thursday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Key. The Shelburnes recently moved from Abilene to Kerrville.

Pete Davis is enjoying a week's vacation from his work at the Craddock Motor Co. in Colorado City and with his family is visiting Robert Lee relatives and friends.

King Family Enjoys Annual Reunion Here

The six sons and two daughters of Sam King gathered in Robert Lee over the weekend for a family reunion. The occasion was featured by a big picnic dinner Saturday at the S. B. Plumlee home, while they also took part in the homecoming at Edith on Sunday.

The children are Tom L. King, Petersburg, Texas, Will S. King, Stanley, N. M., Mrs. S. B. Plumlee (Vela) of Robert Lee, Frank King, Madgalena, N. M., George King of Rotan, Mrs. Bob Gaines (Lilly) of Robert Lee, D. O. King of Edith and R. B. King of El Paso. A number of nieces, nephews and in-laws brought the number to 46 who were on hand for festivities at the Plumlee home Saturday. Also present were two sons-in-law of Mr. King, Jesse Gaines of San Angelo and Jim Blair of Robert Lee. Also Mrs. Alva Lawrence of Snyder, a sister of the late Mrs. Sam King.

Mr. King, who is 82 years old, has lived in Coke county 54 years. He formerly resided west of town but moved to Robert Lee three years ago following his wife's death. The kings observed their golden wedding anniversary in 1940.

The reunion was a happy event for everyone participating and the family is planning to make it an annual affair.

Uncle John Vestal Found

Uncle John Vestal, 92 years old, caused a lot of excitement Monday night when he failed to return home from a day's fishing. He had gone down the river in the forenoon and was last seen at 2 p. m. A large crowd turned out to assist in the search which ended after midnight when the aged man was found by his nephew, A. V. Hughes. Uncle John had stayed out too long and darkness overtook him, but he was resting under a mesquite tree when found. He had cut across from the river and was only a short distance from the San Angelo. road.

Chief Justice Atwood McDonald and son, Paul' of Fort Worth were guests here the first of the week in the home of his cousin, Fred McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Fikes of Sanco are the happy parents of a daughter born Wednesday night.

3 Club Boys Going To Texas State Roundup

County Agent T. B. Hicks announces that three Coke county youths will attend the Texas 4-H Roundup at College Station August 28-30. They include the following:

LeDrew Arrott, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Arrott of Bronte. He was last year's winner of the Sheep & Goat Raisers trip to Chicago, awarded on his range project.

Weldon Schooler, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Schooler of Green Mountain. Weldon has a fine 7 year record in 4-H activities and is a candidate for one of the Santa Fe trips to Chicago this year.

Bobbie Vaughan, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Vaughan of Bronte, will attend the Roundup upon special invention. He was high man in the District 6 rifle shooting contest at the recent encampment at Foster Park and will compete for state honors next week.

County Agent Hicks will accompany the boys to the Roundup.

Mrs. N. C. Brown and little daughter, Judy, left Friday night to join Mr. Brown at Amarillo, where he will take medical treatment for the next six months. For the present their headquarters are with his sister, Inez Sullivan, at 1012 Caroline St. Than's many home town friends hope he will be restored to health.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Finley and their son, Melvin, and daughter, Doris, of Dallas visited the former's aunt, Mrs. T. E. Rives and cousins, Pat, Tom and John Rives and Mrs. Edward Trimble, here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Service and sons arrived home Saturday from a week's vacation trip through New Mexico and Colorado. They visited Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak and the Royal Gorge and other places of interest and found it dry everywhere except in irrigated sections.

Pvt. O. C. Wojtek arrived Sunday from Ft. Eustis, Va., for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Wojtek. He has been in the army nine months and is enjoying a 21-day furlough.

Edith and Agnes Walker, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Walker, are enjoying a vacation with friends near Sioux City, Iowa, and in the Dakotas. The Walker sisters have good positions in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ayers and daughter, Lena of Ravia, Okla., are visiting relatives here this week. Mrs. Ayers is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ross.

The L. E. Smiths have returned from the Texas Plains where they attended a family reunion.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS AND PURE LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:14; Proverbs 4:14-23; Matthew 5:3; Philippians 4:8.
MEMORY SELECTION—Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life.—Proverbs 4:23.

Moral corruption has been the ruin of the great nations of the earth, and if history is not to be repeated by the fall of our own nation, we must do something—yes, something prompt and drastic. The breakdown of morals in our land is so evident and so widespread as to give grave concern to social and national leaders. What then, is the Church doing about it?

We do not like to talk about adultery and related sins. We must speak with care and tact, but perhaps the time has come for some straightforward dealing with an unpleasant situation.

I. Keep Your Home Pure (Exod. 20:14).

As the divinely appointed center of man's life, the home holds a place of such importance that it is the special target of Satan's offensive. That has always been true, but it seems that in recent years the onslaught against the home has been intensified.

When we realize that in the City of Chicago there is now one divorce for every three marriages, and that the ratio is rapidly becoming lower, there can be no question that divorce is a major evil in our day. Statistics are positively shocking, but they are cold and quickly forgotten. But who can fail to see, and who can forget, the awful woe brought into American home life by divorce.

Bad as it is, the awful effect on parents is nothing compared to the nervous, moral and spiritual shock which comes to children in broken homes. Statistics reveal that now (1946) more than 70 per cent of the juvenile delinquents and young people committed to prison come from homes where divorce has entered to break down and destroy family life.

II. Keep Your Heart Pure (Prov. 4:14-23; Matt. 5:8).

Out of the heart are the issues of life (Prov. 4:23); hence it is of the utmost importance that it be kept in purity and devotion to God.

The heart in Scripture does not refer to the physical organ which circulates the blood, but even as that heart is the center of the physical life, so there is a spiritual heart which is the very center of man's inner being.

Evil thoughts, unholy desires and ambitions hidden in the heart will ultimately be revealed in overt acts of ungodliness, unless God is permitted to regenerate that heart and make it clean.

The solution for the problem of impurity is found in our lesson verses. First of all one must avoid the way of the wicked (Prov. 4:14-17). They are so evil that they cannot sleep until they have misled some poor souls and brought them down to their own level (v. 16). They make sin and immorality look mysterious and attractive. Don't be led into sin by the enticement of curiosity.

Shun the evil way, which goes down with increasing darkness, by seeking the good way which "shineth more and more unto the perfect day" (Prov. 4:18, 19). The way of life is a bright and shining way. Don't let Satan fool you, young people, into thinking the opposite. It's great to be a Christian!

III. Keep Your Head Pure (Phil. 4:8).

The mind of man is quick and active (that is, if he is really alive and awake), and it wants to be occupied with something of interest. The world, the flesh and the devil are keenly aware of that fact and come to fill his mind with allurements to sin and destruction.

Thank God that no one need lack for things that are good, honorable, true and noble to fill and satisfy every mental as well as spiritual interest. God's provision is not limited either in scope or variety. He provides the best, the most delightful, the loveliest and most noble.

Observe that it is for us who know Christ as our Saviour to give ourselves in diligent effort to "think on these things." As we do we shall find that they crowd out our thinking those things which are sensual, selfish or sinful. It is a sound principle of psychology as well as a spiritual admonition. It really works.

Bread Makes the Pudding!
(See Recipes Below)

Don't Waste Bread!

Most of us don't think it matters one way or the other whether we throw away a stale slice of bread, but, if each family were to save a slice of bread every day, the amount would feed many millions of hungry families who are less fortunate.

Small families, particularly find that the average loaf of bread dries rather quickly, and there are several slices within the week that are regarded as unfit for sandwiches. But there are literally thousands of uses for such bread.

Why not start on a personal campaign of your own just to see how much you can save by using every scrap of bread well? Spread the word to your friends and neighbors, and let's see if we can't really save food, which is the equivalent of putting dollars and cents in your pocketbook?

Here are ways to use those leftover pieces of bread with meats and vegetables. They stretch these other foods as well as make the dish more savory, which will be of interest to the palate as well as the purse.

Tangy Cheese Dish. (Serves 8)

5 cups toasted 1/2-inch bread cubes
1/2 pound American cheese, grated
3 eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 1/2 cups milk

Alternate layers of cheese and toast cubes in a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole. Combine beaten eggs, salt, paprika, mustard and milk. Pour liquid mixture over bread and cheese in casserole. Bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 35 minutes.

Meat Souffle. (Serves 6)

2 cups ground cooked meat
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 cups milk, scalded
3 cups bread cubes
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Combine meat, salt, pepper and beaten egg yolks. Melt shortening in a small skillet, add onion and cook five minutes. Pour scalded milk over bread cubes. Combine meat mixture with bread and milk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour.

*Baked Tomato Surprise. (Serves 8)

2 3-ounce packages of cream cheese
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon garlic salt, if desired

LYNN SAYS:

The Know-How of Bed Care:
Beds should be cleaned on the day that you give a thorough cleaning to the bedroom. Remove all blankets, sheets and pillows to a chair. Draw the mattress off the bed so that the frame may be dusted thoroughly.

Box springs may be cleaned with a vacuum cleaner, and dust may also be gathered from wire springs with the vacuum. Wire springs may also be wiped with a clean, lintless cloth that has a few drops of lemon oil sprinkled on it.

The mattress should be gone over thoroughly with a vacuum cleaner on both sides. This, of course, may be done on the bed or chair.

Change the mattress pad frequently, and fit the sheets carefully at the corners, tucking them well underneath the mattress when you make the bed.

- 2 teaspoons table salt
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 4 eggs, beaten slightly
- 2 cups dry bread crumbs
- 8 medium tomatoes

Combine cream cheese, milk and seasoning. Add salt to slightly beaten eggs. Place dry bread crumbs on pie plate. Slice each tomato crosswise into fourths. Place one tablespoon of the cheese mixture on half of the slices. Top each with the other tomato slices. Place toothpick into middle of each "sandwich" to hold tomato slices together. Roll the tomato slices in the bread crumbs, dip in beaten egg and roll again in bread crumbs. Bake on a well-greased cookie sheet in a hot (400 degree) oven for 20 minutes.

Bread Griddle Cakes. (Makes 14 cakes)

2 cups dry bread crumbs
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup finely grated apple

Soak dry bread crumbs in milk to soften. Add salt, cinnamon and soda to bread crumb mixture. Blend thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and apple; mix well. Drop by tablespoon onto a hot greased griddle. Turn over and brown on both sides. Serve with syrup, honey or apple sauce.

Now that so many fresh fruits are in season, you'll certainly want to make good use of them. Fruits combine well with bread crumbs and give a nourishing finale to the lighter meals we are accustomed to eating in warmer weather. Here's a lovely dessert dressed up to fit a queen's table:

Baked Fresh Peach Macaroon. (Makes 6)

6 medium fresh peaches
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1/4 cup white corn syrup
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 cups coarse dry bread crumbs

Dip peaches in hot water to remove skin. Slowly combine beaten egg white and corn syrup, beating until blended. Add sifted brown sugar and bread crumbs. Cover peach with macaroon mixture. Place on a greased cookie sheet and bake in a moderate (350 degree) oven for 25 minutes.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Before reputting seal the wood with a coat of paint so that the oil in the putty will not be absorbed. Putty, if used over plain wood, may become dry and fall off.

A pair of tweezers is useful for plucking threads that have been caught in sewing-machine stitching.

Rub tin and iron utensils with unsalted fat and they're rust-proof for even a long period of rest.

Don't overcrowd the dishpan. Wash one pan at a time and you'll spare knobs and handles from useless dents and breakage.

For a good swinging - gate support, use an old wagon wheel buried and staked down so the hub is level with the ground. The gate is bolted to the axle, which is then placed in the hub.

Before dyeing a garment, it is best to remove all buttons, buckles, or other trimmings and rip out hems, pleats and linings so the dye can penetrate the fabric more evenly.

Allan Shivers Runs For Lt. Governor On Qualifications

Senator Allan Shivers, leading candidate for lieutenant governor, is seeking election to that office solely on the basis of his qualifications of wide training and experience.

In every way, Allan Shivers, the legislator, lawyer, farmer and World War II combat veteran, is exceptionally qualified for the No. 2 state office. As a state senator for a number of years, he established an excellent record of public service. A loyal Democrat and native Texan, he is a man of highest character and splendid personality. The majority of Texans believe he will reflect credit and honor on the State of Texas.

Shivers, a war veteran of two years overseas, during which time he earned 5 battle stars, did his best to make this a free country for a free people. He will continue that course as lieutenant governor.

He has conducted a dignified campaign, free of mud-slinging and personalities. His platform appeals to every Texan: Better farm-to-market roads, better salaries for school teachers, enlarged public safety facilities, a thorough public health program, redistricting of the state for legislative purposes, greater aid to the aged, real assistance to war veterans, reorganization of the pardon and parole system, a first class university for the colored, and equal responsibility from both labor and management. He is against a sales, state income or any form of new taxes.

Allan Shivers, will be the lieutenant governor of all the people. In addition to integrity sincerity and ability, he has a background of training and a record of public service already performed which gives him the right to ask for promotion.

DESERT ROSE

By ROLLIN BROWN

W.N.U. FEATURES

Deputy sheriff Jim Doane sets out to track down a gang of train robbers. After he meets Dolores Alvaro and Monte Garcia he suddenly resigns his office and goes to see Star La Rue, a rancher and former gambling house operator. Jim forces La Rue to give him the ranch that he obtained from Dolores' father by trickery. He then goes to the ranch and puts a new crew in charge. Next day he starts out with two horses and encounters a posse led by sheriff Flick. The posse is pursuing five horsemen. Jim cuts across the trail and discovers Dolores in hiding. By a ruse she seizes one of Jim's horses and dashes away. The posse gives up the hunt for the day.

CHAPTER VII

To Flick, the northeasterly direction of the trail, toward Maxmilla City, was ominous. He remembered what had transpired under his very nose in San Loreto. So at sundown he had split his men, the four one time Rancho Hermanos riders, led by Suarez, riding swiftly for the distant town. Flick himself, with the San Loreto deputy, intended to use the railroad from Sand Wells; arriving in Maxmilla City, he would gather more men and come down in a cross-maneuver.

Serious Situation Confronts Sheriff

Granting that the pursued were riding for the Maxmilla country, the move was as canny as could be wished.

"We'll get 'em," was Flick's dogged decision. "I'll show that outfit that there are some limits to what they can do!"

Doane was in Sand Wells that evening; he loped in leisurely, and arrived at the railroad station at about ten o'clock. He walked into Monte's office without bothering to knock, and surprised him over his instrument. He waited while Monte took down his message and turned off his key. Cigarettes were lighted, chairs tipped back against the wall.

"Well, senior el rancho," smiled Monte through the smoke. "You have been riding, I hear! Burning saddle-leather an' wearing down good horse flesh. An' all to what purpose, may I ask?"

"Por nada," said Doane bitterly. "Nothing."

"So? Not failure?" asked Monte, in mock surprise.

"Yes . . . failure," mumbled Doane. "Funny how a woman can show a man up."

"Or a girl," said Doane. "I did all I could, Monte. After your story, I couldn't do much less. No man could!"

"Meaning?" asked Monte, suddenly serious.

"Meaning anything," replied Doane. "I don't care. My end of this thing seems to have turned out to be simple blackmail and bluff. None the less, that bluff, with the two thousand I gave La Rue, called his bluff and won the deal. It was the only way I could touch La Rue . . . except the way the girl was going at it, taking back what she could get of her own . . . Uh . . . Monte, you remember a sealed envelope I gave you not so long ago to keep for Miss Alvaro?"

"I do. It is in safe keeping."

"Good! Flick's out for blood. Soon or late, he'll draw it; I know Flick. That's serious. Monte, you've got to get that envelope to Dolores without much delay. It contains La Rue's deed for Rancho Hermanos. The papers are made over to her through me. Savvy? The ranch is hers, legally and otherwise. There's also a signed statement from La Rue to the effect that all charges he made against her are groundless. There's not much time to waste, Monte. You can give her those papers, now. And tell her to take them and get on Rancho Hermanos land where she belongs; to put those vaqueros of hers back to work, and stay there. So far Flick hasn't a thing that'll touch her, except La Rue's complaints. And I guess that's about all I've got to say, Monte."

Monte studied Doane. He lighted a fresh cigarette. He smiled slightly. He said:

"From the first I say that I will come to like you in the end. Mees-tair deputy Jim Doane. Yes . . . jus' so, my frien'. Doane, you are a man! Or, as we Spanish say, caballero."

"Thanks, Monte. Gracias. Well, this finishes things. I'll be leaving Rancho de los Tres Hermanos by tomorrow. You might tell her that, Monte."

Monte rose gracefully, and as he bowed their hands met.

"There is jus' one thing," said Monte slowly. "I wish you had given this young lady her lesson. Why do you not rifle her to earth, if jus' for the fun of it, an' show her you can do it? My frien', I wish that you accomplish that first, before you go away."

"Why?"

"Oh, no reason," said Monte. "Only . . . well, there is difference between stealing some cattle that justice knows belong to the house of Alvaro an' . . . a train robbery, or this last affair at San Loreto. You see?"

"One look at the girl's face shows she's no thief," snapped Doane. "Flick has no proof. I don't know what the explanation of these other affairs is, but . . ."

"My frien', have you thought of those men riding with Dolores Alvaro?" asked Monte. "They are ol'-time vaqueros; riders from the ol' rancho, or sons of those men. Good men, hard riders, no fools! Those three I get you for the ranch . . . they are of these vaqueros, senior. They would throw down their lives at her feet. But do you not suppose they say to themselves sometimes: 'We are already outside the law, why not make more of it? Play big. Get some money as well as a few head of cattle!' My frien', do you suppose they do not ask being wide awake, with open eyes, in the daytime. For me days are hot an' drowsy, so a man may sleep; nights are cool, for his work an' his play. Awake in the daytime, I feel seek—or maybe so it is only too many cigarillos."

"Take a look north," said Doane suddenly. "Looks like something stirring along the skyline there. Too far away to be sure."

Languidly Monte looked through the glasses.

"Perhaps," he said, and gave the glasses back. "Or perhaps a little dust whirlwind. But one thing troubles me my frien'."

"What is that?"

"I will be frank. It is you!" said Monte. "I do not quite know what you intend to do."

"Do you need to ask?" Doane snapped. "A hundred thousand dollars in this robbery. Two bystanders shot, one dying. Nothing less than murder, that killing! Do you have to ask what I'm going to do about it, if I get the chance?"

"Jus' so," said Monte. "But I do not mean the four men, who did the robbery an' shooting. I mean about the one called accomplice—the fifth rider! If it turns out that way, what would you do about—her? Eh? I wonder about that."

"You love her too, Monte."

themselves that, eh? An' might that not draw a certain young lady into affairs that were far from her own choosing? Eh? Might it not?"

The telegraph instrument began to click. Monte listened for a moment, then turned like a cat and dropped into his chair. He began to write . . . When it was finished, Monte looked up. He lighted a fresh cigarette. Then he picked up the message, poker-faced, and handed it to Doane.

"For you," he said simply. "I will be gone for a little while, to get the day operator to take my place tonight. Perhaps you will wait for me to return, senior Doane?"

Doane read the telegram as Monte slipped through the door. His face went white as he read it:

Jim Doane
Rancho Tres Hermanos
c-o Sand Wells Siding
Maxmilla City
Cowman's
Mortgage and Loan Bank robbed tonight. Over $100,000 securities and cash gone. Four men and accomplice pulled job. Beat me to it. Hitting back for your country now. Two citizens wounded. One dying. I'm deputizing you again. Doane, don't fail me this time.

Sam Flick

The sleepy day-man came into the office and took Monte's place. But it was a full half-hour before Monte returned, two handsome pearl-handled guns in holsters at his hips. The tigerish grace of the one-time gambler's every movement had somehow become accentuated.

"Shall we go now?" he said quietly.

Two men sat on a rock butte that overlooked a vast expanse of country. The hour was shortly past noon. Heat devils shimmered across the hot landscape. Eastward there was a tiny finger whirlwind that dipped playfully at a desert ridge, swirling a thin column of powdery dust skyward. One of the men searched the north horizon with a pair of small binoculars. The other man smoked many cigarettes, and he talked.

"Nevaire," muttered Monte Garcia, conversationally, "have I liked

Time passed. Monte Garcia watched a tiny, flecked lizard that sunned itself on the hot surface of a boulder. He smiled interestedly when the lizard caught a fly.

"That little fellow is like us," considered Monte. "He waits—an' catches his fly. But again it is different"—and Monte laughed ironically—"the fly has no power to hurt the lizard!"

Doane passed the glasses to him again.

"Count 'em, Monte! See if I'm right."

For a long while now Monte gazed through the glasses. His face showed no emotion when he said, slowly: "Five! Five riders!"

"Yes," agreed Doane, after moments had passed.

He became engrossed in a new study, a second seeming line of dust just showing on the horizon. In time this took form, minutely but steadily, moving. It followed the first. The actual distance separating the two bands of riders was probably six or eight miles. The visual panorama of the binoculars was vast.

"Flick couldn't have lost much time getting on the trail last night," muttered Doane. "Looks like half the population of Maxmilla City in that posse with him."

Monte, too, studied the second line of dust for a long while, seeming to smile.

"Jus' so! We used to say at the gambling tables: 'Watch out for the unlucky player when the cards once turn to him.' It is a true saying, my frien'."

The two men silently worked their way to the base of the butte. The hot sunlight slanted now with early afternoon. Two mounds and a pack animal were tied in a fringe of low mesquite shade. They watered the riding animals with a scant gallon or two from the pack tins. B-ankets were smoothed, saddles re-set and horsehair cinchas tightened. All this was done leisurely, as though for a pleasure trip. Doane once more rode the big roan animal.

They turned north, side by side, leaving the pack animal behind

Clean Milk Comes From Modern Barns

Well Constructed and Clean Mangers Urged

Concrete dairy barn floors and mangers will prove a big help in producing milk of high quality as well as reducing the amount of labor required. The U. S. public health service milk code provides that no dairy barn meets the requirements for producing high grade milk without a long-lasting, non-absorbent, sanitary floor such as concrete.

Forms are made of one-inch lumber, well braced. Concrete for the floor is made with five gallons of water per sack of portland cement when sand and gravel are moist. The mix should be plastic and workable, but not too sloppy nor too stiff.

Barn floors and mangers properly designed and built help assure clean, comfortable, healthy stock—high quality milk.

Build the manger curb first; then the litter alley and the manger. Leave holes in concrete for future stall equipment if not now available. Then build stall platforms. These will vary according to the kind of cattle. The mangers should be finished with a steel trowel. The concrete should be damp cured for at least five days before using

Know Your Breed

Guernsey

By W. J. DRYDEN

Valleywood Valiant Hero 235690, a grand champion Guernsey bull of registered performance.

The Guernsey breed originated on the small English channel island of Guernsey. The breed was brought to America as early as 1818.

The Guernsey is of medium size with fawn and white clearly delineated markings. Summary of 98,297 advanced registered records show the average production was 10,151 pounds of milk and 498 pounds butterfat. Some 53 animals produced over 1,000 pounds butterfat and 14 have lifetime records of over 100,000 pounds of milk.

Feeding Molasses to Salt Grass for Cows

Good stuff, the salt grass, Herefords say after they've sampled it. Photo—Food Mach. Corp.

Salt grass which cattle ordinarily will not eat may be covered with a solution of one-third water and two-thirds molasses. Power spray may be used economically with a 20-foot width.

Cattle fatten on the molasses and water combined with the grass, produce bigger and tastier steaks. Other similar uses may be devised for use of power sprays to meet individual requirements.

Gems of Thought

THERE are many good things which we can afford, regardless of our circumstances.—Benjamin Franklin.

It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.—Philip Bailey.

Let us look to our country and to our cause; elevate ourselves to the dignity of pure and disinterested patriots.—Henry Clay.

The noisy waves are failures, but the great silent tide is a success.—Phillips Brooks.

It is easy, but it is a fine thing, nevertheless, to be modest when one is great.—Voltaire.

Changing Character Of Outmoded Rocker

IN TODAY'S cramped living quarters there is little space for a rocker that neither harmonizes with antiques nor modern furniture. Yet, with the slight alterations shown here, such a chair may be made to seem at home with either type of furniture.

After the rockers have been removed, it may be made to change character to suit the material used for cushion and back covers.

This idea is from Home-Making Booklet No. 5 which also contains more than 30 pages of illustrated directions for other things to make from things on hand and inexpensive new materials. Readers may get a copy of Book 5 postpaid for 15 cents by writing to:

FLUSH KIDNEY URINE

Benefit wonderfully from famous doctor's discovery that relieves backache, run-down feeling due to excess acidity in the urine

People everywhere are finding amazing relief from painful symptoms of bladder irritation caused by excess acidity in the urine. DR. KILMER'S SWAMP ROOT acts fast on the kidneys to ease discomfort by promoting the flow of urine. This pure herbal medicine is especially welcome where bladder irritation due to excess acidity is responsible for "getting up at night." A carefully blended combination of 18 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams. Dr. Kilmer's contains nothing harsh, is absolutely non-habit forming. Just good ingredients that many say have a marvelous effect. All druggists sell Swamp Root.

We Sure Do Thank You

Having sold our feed store to David Keys, we wish to take this opportunity to thank our friends and customers for their splendid patronage since we started the business four years ago.

We expect to remain in Robert Lee, so don't think you are going to get rid of us just because we are going out of the feed business.

We know David will be successful. He is a fine young man and will treat you right.
