Silver Wedding Anniversary For The Leslie Winks

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Wink celebrated their 25th Wedding Anniversary last Sunday at their home 9 miles northeast of Robert Lee. Fifty-five relatives and intimate friends were present for the barbecue dinner served at noon.

Attending "open house" festivities during the afternoon were 42 friends and neighbors. Mrs. Douglas Gartman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wink, presided at the punch bowl and cake was served by Mrs. A. D. Dumas, Jr., of Mareta, a sister of Mrs. Wink. Milburn Wink registered the dinner guests.

Present for the enjoyable occasion was Mrs. Wink's mother, Mrs. Mattie Tinkler of Robert Lee, and Mr. Wink's father, E. H. Wink of San Angelo. Also attending were three brothers and one sister of Mrs. Wink and Leslie's sister, Mrs. L. T. Moore III.

The couple received many wonderful gifts, including a set of silverware from their children.

Leslie Wink and Erma Tinkler were married Dec. 4, 1926, in San Angelo. They resided in the Wall community for 17 years. Eight years ago they purchased the Charlie Franklin place near Robert Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Wink and their children are active in community affairs and they have a wide circle of friends who extend congratulations. They have six children and three grandchildren.

At her Silver Wedding Anniversary, Mrs. Wink wore a black dinner dress. In arranging her attire she stood before the same mirror that she used 25 years ago.

U.S. Charges Commies 'Murdered' 5,500 American Prisoners of War

ATROCITIES—A wave of anger rolled across the United States with the grim announcement by Eighth Army officers that the Reds have killed about 5,500 Americans and 290 other U.N. prisoners of war. Civilian and senate reaction was immediate and brought demands the Korean truce negotiations be broken off and use of atomic weapons against the Communists.

Representative Crawford of Michigan summed up the average civilian's point of view by stating: "Let's get an answer from the Communists or let's quit negotiating and get tough and push the fight to a conclusion."

The atrocity report said the Chinese had killed 2,513 American prisoners, 40 British, 40 Turkish, 5 Belgian and 75 others of "unknown nationality". The remainder of the victims were slain by North Koreans before or after the Chinese entered the war. It was also estimated that the Chinese have killed at least 2,790 non-Korean prisoners and the North Koreans about 3,000.

The worst atrocity was blamed on the Chinese who killed 1,250 Americans near the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria between September 16 and 18, 1950.

The Eighth Army spokesman who released the atrocity story gave no reason for making it public at this particular time. One result, however, is expected to be the cementing of public opinion for a quick peace or an all-out fight using, if necessary, atomic weapons.

Immediately after the story was released there were reports of investigations into whether or not the death figures were correct. Latest reports indicated they might be revised upward.

PEACE TALKS—There was, however, every indication that a cease-fire might be in prospect for the Korean battle front and possibly an armistice by Christmas. Allied and Communist negotiators were reported nearing agreement on the latest U.N. proposal.

The Allied plan consisted of four points: (1) Hostilities to continue until an armistice is signed; (2) the present battle line to be a provisional cease-fire line; (3) this line to become final if a full armistice is reached within 30 days; and (4) if the armistice is not reached within 30 days, negotiations will start over by drawing a new cease-fire line based on whatever the battle line may be at that time.

The idea behind the Allies plan to gain a cease-fire now, but at the same time keeping the pressure on the Reds so the final armistice agreement could be negotiated.

Distrust between the Allies and Communists remains the biggest hurdle in any peace settlement.

POLITICS—As a general rule politicians have always been reluctant of putting down in black and white definite opinions on domestic and foreign policies, especially before an important election. Sen. Robert A. Taft, at the moment leading contender for the GOP nomination for president, is an exception to the rule.

The senator recently wrote a book setting forth his views concerning U.S. foreign policy which he entitled, "A Foreign Policy for Americans". Before next year's campaign is over it could be that Senator Taft will wish he had never had the inspiration or time for his literary effort.

The senator, charging that President Truman put "all kinds of political and policy considerations" ahead of his interest in liberty and peace, has started a cyclone in political circles that will grow as the election gets nearer.

Taft also says in his book, "If the present trend continues, it seems to me obvious that the President will become a complete dictator in the entire field of foreign policy and thereby acquire power to force upon congress all kinds of domestic policies which must necessarily follow."

In rebuttal, the Democrats are charging that Taft is still an isolationist and the same man who said in 1940: "War is even worse than a German victory."

AGAIN 'NO'—For the second time in as many weeks President Truman had occasion to say "no" to a proposal that he meet with Premier Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Plevin for a big four conference. The suggestion was made by President Vincent Auriol of France.

The President contended the United Nations is the forum in which the leaders of the world should work for peace. He added, however, he would be willing to confer with Stalin if the Soviet leader came to Washington.

On several occasions the President has given the same answer to such a proposition, expressing the opinion that agreements with the Russians are not worth the paper on which they are written.

MEAT SUPPLY—The small town housewife will resume her role as the dictator of prices of steaks, chops and roasts in the neighborhood butcher shop in the next few months. That is the opinion of prominent cattle producers and farmers in the midwest corn belt where cattle and swine are finished for market.

Stockmen base their reasoning on mounting livestock production in the nation, with federally inspected beef plants turning out beef at a higher rate than in any November in four years.

Housewife resistance to high prices is credited with already rolling back pork prices from 1 to 12 cents a pound below ceiling levels.

Gross farm income is reported higher this year than last because of the large numbers of animals marketed at higher prices, but net profits are reduced because of higher operating costs.

Also of concern to cattle producers is rising imports of foreign meat, some of which has not yet been placed on the market. This country's imports of pork and beef this year are breaking all former records. Pork imports are up 60 per cent over last year.

AUTO TOLL—The National Safety Council, which has geared its statistical service to a weekly basis, reported last week the death figure from automobile accidents has reached 995,600. The millionth death will occur during the third week of December, the NSC predicts.

"This tragic event would make a mockery of all that Christmas stands for," Ned H. Dearborn, council president said. "I appeal to everyone to drive and walk with extreme caution during the next few weeks. The millionth traffic death can be delayed if everyone does his part."

NEW TAXES—While vacationing in Florida, President Truman is reported to be working on another request to congress for increased taxes. The report states he will definitely ask for more money when the lawmakers come back to work in January. Only the amount of the increase is yet to be determined.

The report immediately drew the fire of Republicans and Democrats alike. Several stated they will not vote for any more taxes. And Senator George of Georgia, chairman of the powerful finance committee which handles tax measures in the senate, has already stated he will not vote for an increase "short of all-out war or a war crisis."

The lawmakers are well aware of the fact that 1952 is an election year and that a tax increase is always an unpopular measure.

UNITED NATIONS—Talk continued in the United Nations last week on disarmament with the Western powers outlining details of their plan and the Russians proposing one of their own, a dusted-off version of one that has been rejected by the West a number of times.

Not even the most optimistic member of the United Nations believed that anything other than talk would come from the proposed plans. The rival disarmament plans are attracting a great deal of space in newspapers in all parts of the world, but the general public seems to view them as propaganda.

SCRIPTURE: Deuteronomy 29-34.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Deuteronomy 30:11-20.

Hero's Farewell

Lesson for December 9, 1951

A moving picture company once conceived the idea of recording and putting on the screen all over the country what two opposing candidates were saying on various problems. It was enjoyable, or maddening, according to your political views, to observe the contrast. Both men read what they had to say, but their reading was entirely different.

Dr. Foreman

One man kept his eyes on his little desk, never made a gesture, never looked at the audience. It was not inspiring—just a middle-aged man reading to himself. Candidate B on the other hand never let his script come between him and his listeners; he kept his eye on them and unless one observed him carefully one would not notice that he was reading. (He won in a walk, too.) Now the way to get the true flavor of Deuteronomy, especially the chapters selected for this week, is to listen to some one read it who can read like Candidate B. For Deuteronomy is not a desk-book; it is mostly out-of-doors oratory.

After the Great Man, What?

A great hero, Moses, was taking leave of his people. In spite of all the grumbling and the rebellions, it is no exaggeration to say that for those people he stood in the place of God. He not only towered above his own generation, but he cast a light far into the centuries.

Yet the greatest of men must die. When it came time for him to say farewell it is hard to imagine the sinking of heart that all his people felt.

Before them lay the unknown; their whole course of life was about to change, in ways they could not foresee; with Moses gone, how could they face the future?

A Challenge

In the closing days of his life, Moses focussed his people's eyes on two things. First was the Law. Life is not lived by impulse and inspiration only. Life, to have power and meaning, must be a patterned life, clear and definite lines, a sense of direction. So Moses left behind him—not full details, these were for others to work out—the main lines of civic and social, as well as individual life, in the Law which God had made clear to him as the true "design for living."

But Moses does not simply pound it into people's ears: You shall, you must, these are the orders! He sets it out as a clear choice. He shows the people the alternatives: Life and Good on the one hand, Death and Evil on the other.

It is not an arbitrary thing. The reason for the Law is never "just because." The reason for the Law is that it is the way to live. You don't have to keep it, Moses says in effect; but if you choose to reject it, the end of the other road is Death.

This is true for individuals, it is true for nations.

A Song

ANOTHER legacy Moses leaves behind is a Song. We do not usually think of Moses as a poet, but Deut. 32 is ascribed to him. He knew people might forget the Law, but a Song they would not forget.

What Moses gave his people was no mere tuneless trash, but a grand hymn of faith. What Moses most of all wants his people to do, is not to remember him but to remember God. So after all the law is on the books, and all the speeches have been made, at the last he gives his people a Song, to remember God by.

Is it not so always? What are the parts of the Bible that mean most to all generations? Always the singing words of Psalm and prophet and gospel, the rhythm of Paul's chapter on Love, the majestic choruses of the Revelation. Though great men pass, though the mind forget the Law, the heart will not forget the Song.

RED STAR IS THE FIRST 3-WAY IMPROVED DRY YEAST

The STEERINGWHEEL

Published Weekly by Students of the Robert Lee Public Schools

Spotlight on Football Personalities

Our spotlight falls first on a boy 5' 11" tall with brown hair and brown eyes. This is his second year to letter and he played fullback on the Steers team this year. His name is Norman Roberts. His favorite pastimes are hunting, swimming, and football. His favorite foods are chicken and potatoes. He likes movies, especially westerns. He dislikes studying. His nickname is Screw.

YEAH, STEERS!

Our spotlight falls next on another second year letterman. He played center and left halfback. He is 5' 10" tall and weighs 185 lbs. He has brown hair and blue eyes and is named Addison Davis—or Add as every one calls him. His favorite food is chicken; his favorite color is brown. He likes fishing and hunting and dislikes school.

YEAH, STEERS!

Next we turn to the position of leftend on the Steers team. Billy Glenn Carwile played this position—and played it mighty well we might add. He is 5' 8½" tall and weighs 140 pounds. He has brown hair and brown eyes. He is also a second year letterman. These football boys must all like chicken because Billy Glenn also says that is his favorite food. His favorite color is blue and his favorite pastime is football. He dislikes having to study.

YEAH STEERS-

Another two year letterman is Bill Havins who played in the left half back position. He is 5'8" tall and weighs 135. He is especially good at receiving—and intercepting—passes. In fact, he is just a very valuable member of the Steers team. His favorite food is chicken fried steak and his favorite color is red. Track is his favorite sport and he says girls is his favorite pastime. He dislikes English and tennis.

Rightend position was played by another two year letterman—Garland Davis. He has brown hair and eyes, weighs 130 pounds, and is 5' 7" tall. His favorite colors are green and white and his favorite food is cherry pie. His favorite pastime is music and his favorite sport is swimming. He dislikes English and tennis.

The group that went to Abilene Christian College Saturday had a very interesting trip. Most of the students went to hear the debate given on the high school debate subject this year. The group also attended a three act play given by a group of college students and it proved to be very interesting.

It looks as if the High School will have some pretty good teams to enter the speech tournament this year. Mr. P. E. Webb, the Grammar School Principal, will coach the debate team. He is a very able teacher and is almost sure he will have a good team. Jack Brock will be in charge of declamation.

YEAH, STEERS!

Seen Monday after school were LaRue, Wilton, Billie Earl, and Claude.

Monday night Add and Wallace were seen at Peggy's. We hear they had fun.

Patsy, Billy Glenn, Trig, and Roy were seen Wednesday night.

Buddy, Barbara June, Billie Earl, and Marvin were seen Thursday night.

Seen Friday night were Billie Earl, Marvin, Kaleta, Garland, Jeffie Bobby, Patsy, Billy Glenn, Sylvia, Norman, Trig, Roy, Annelle, John, Sondra, and Buddy H.

Saturday night dates were Trig, Roy, Sondra, Buddy H., Peggy, Bill, Jennie, and Garland.

Sunday night at Angelo were Peggy, Bill, Jennie, Garland, Sylvia, Norman, and Ronnie.

Seems like Kaleta, Shirley, and Billie Earl were pretty interested in Blackwell. How about it, girls?

YEAH, STEERS!

Norman, Donny, and Tommy went to the TCU—SMU game. We hear they had a swell time.

Seems like James Petty is filling out lately. Could it be from the 13 milk shakes?

Coach, Billy Glenn, and Lynn went to see the Wink-Albany game at Abilene Saturday. Have fun, kids?

Melva Dean and Junior seem to be getting along swell. Any way they are together lots lately.

We hear the kids who went to ACC Saturday had a lot of fun. But they were tired after the day ended.

Allen and Floy were seen Friday night.

W. T. and Johnnie Beth and Curtis and Thelma Jo were seen Saturday night.

He went west in 1917 and was located in the Imperial Valley for many years. Since 1942 he has resided at La Jolla, near San Diego. John has been employed in county work and with the police department, and owns a 140-acre ranch with 40 acres of irrigated crop land. Mrs. Adkins, who is a native of the Golden West, is employed at Consolidated airplane factory in San Diego.

The educational building of the Baptist church was the scene of a Thanksgiving supper given by the Mary Martha Class Thursday night, Nov. 29. The class invited their families as special guests for the occasion. The room was gayly decorated in a Thanksgiving manner. Games and contests were enjoyed after the supper by 40 adults and 20 children.

Gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lackey, who have moved to San Angelo. Mrs. Lackey was a member of the class.

Preserving Foliage

The beauty of autumn foliage can be preserved for winter bouquets. If you want to preserve a fresh spray of colorful leaves, lay them flat as possible on an old newspaper and apply a thin coat of fresh white shellac, making sure to cover the stems where they join the heavier twig. Allow to dry thoroughly and then repeat the process on the opposite side. A second or third thin coat of shellac will add to the stiffness of the leaf so that it will not break easily or curl.

Peppers
Good-quality fresh peppers, whether the sweet type or the hot type, should be fresh-looking, firm, and well-shaped.

Sandwich Filling
A hearty sandwich filling can be made from a combination of chopped cooked meat, green peppers, sweet pickles, horseradish, and prepared mustard.

YOUNG MOTHER IS TOP COOK

Depends on Active Dry Yeast for successful cookery

Young Mary and Julie admire the ribbons their mother has won in cooking contests. Mrs. W. J. This fine record makes Mrs. Walker one of the top winners at the Tulsa State Fair. And like so many top cooks, she swears by Fleischmann's Active

Dry Yeast. "It's the fastest and easiest ever," she says. "I count on this grand Dry Yeast for top-notch success!"

The holiday meals ahead call for plenty of yeast-raised goodies. They're so festive, so delicious . . . wholesome and nourishing, too! When you bake at home, use yeast. Mrs. Clift Hostess To Methodist Ladies

Mrs. Bruce Clift was hostess to the Women's Society of Christian Service Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Taylor read the scripture and led in the presentation of "Symbols That Live." The significance of the emblem of the society was explained by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Carter M. Dibrell, with Mrs. C. S. Brown acting as emblem bearer. The wreath is a symbol of victory, while the triangle represents the Holy Trinity. The world, made up of the two hemispheres, signifies the Fatherhood of God. The Cross is the center of Christian faith.

Mrs. Ray Lee gave the prayer. A solo, "Above the Hills of Time," was rendered by Mrs. Dibrell. Mrs. Brown gave the benediction.

Mrs. O. B. Jacobs, president, presided over the business session. Gifts were presented for the Ozona Community Center project. Reports of the various committees were given. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held December 17 at the home of Mrs. Marvin Simpson.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served to ten members and two guests.

SENIOR 4-H GIRLS

The Robert Lee Senior 4-H girls met at 2:15 Nov. 29 in the 8th grade room at the school house. Ten members and the sponsor, Gladys Waldrop, were present. Joyce King and Bennie Wyatt gave a demonstration on how to clean and shine shoes. We discussed and planned our Christmas party which will take place at our next meeting Dec. 11. Everyone drew names for the gift exchange. The meeting adjourned at 3 o'clock.—Joyce King, Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Nutt of San Angelo visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Young.

Crime in America

United States Senator

Philadelphia: Police Tactics In the City of Brotherly Love

In Philadelphia, one of the nation's largest, most efficiently organized numbers rackets flourishes—operating through "a politico-gambler-police tie-up that makes it impossible for any intruder to edge his way in from the outside."

A paralyzing attitude of apathy seems to hang like an ether mist over the police department. One judge who agitated—finally with some success—for stiffer action against the numbers racketeers, told the Senate Crime Committee frankly that the "big fry" just didn't seem to get caught.

Evidence indicated that Philadelphia is organized by the numbers operators into various geographical territories, each with its own "numbers bank." Public Safety Director Samuel H. Rosenberg told us he understood that was the way the racketeers operated. We questioned Rosenberg:

Q: Are you aware that it is common knowledge, in connection with gambling operation, that payments are made to police officers?
Rosenberg: I have never been able to prove that. We have asked for proof, and have never been able to obtain it!

One of his worst handicaps in administering the police department, the safety director stated, was the Philadelphia system of civil service regulations, "originally intended to be on the merit basis, but which have put us in an absolute straitjacket."

I was pleased, some months after our Philadelphia hearings, to hear that a long-desired city charter reform had been voted by the citizens. The victory was achieved despite the opposition of Mayor Bernard Samuel's administration, and, among other things, will set up machinery to take civil service out of politics.

The principal racket character we questioned was Harry Stromberg, alias Nig Rosen, a stocky, swarthy, balding man with intensely dark eyes and an annoying habit of repeating almost every question before giving an answer.

At the age of nine, the Russian-born Stromberg was sent to a reformatory as a juvenile delinquent. He has been arrested numerous times since, served time for attempted burglary, and admitted to us he had been a bootlegger and, more recently, a numbers operator and book-maker. It was evident from his grudging testimony that he had been the rackets king-pin in the city of Brotherly Love. Now, Stromberg argued, he was engaged in the dress manufacturing business in New York city. He insisted he had no connection with the rackets.

The nemesis of Stromberg in Philadelphia was the assistant superintendent of police in charge of detectives, white-haired George Richardson, who heaped vilification upon him.

Richardson asserted that Stromberg had run his part of the Philadelphia numbers racket by remote control from New York, after leaving Philadelphia around 1914 and still had a hand in Philadelphia rackets. Eight months earlier, Richardson had written the director of the Greater Miami Crime Commission: "Rosen has connections with the underworld throughout the entire nation. So far as the local mob is concerned, he is their undisputed leader and is commonly known as 'The Mahoff.' Among his followers his word is law."

Since testifying before us, Chief Richardson has been suspended from duty on a charge that he had forced the "confession" of a man who had been sent to the penitentiary for homicide. After 12 years in prison, the victim was found to be innocent and released.

Judge Joseph Sloane of the common pleas court told us that many of his colleagues on the bench were content merely to impose small fines and no jail sentences on persons pleading guilty of gambling offenses. In five years prior to 1950, we learned, out of thousands of gambling arrests, only two defendants actually had gone to jail. However, as our report summed up: "There has been a change in attitude on the part of judges since the committee held its hearings in Philadelphia. More and more jail sentences are beginning to be imposed and it is a fact reported by municipal authorities, that the numbers game is no longer as easy to carry on in Philadelphia..."

The committee took note of a local "cause celebre," which we regarded as "indicative of the tie-up of gamblers, politicians and police." Michael McDonald, a Philadelphia policeman, had arrested a numbers writer named Jack Rogers. While Rogers was being booked, McDonald said, one Mike

Loony Labor

A lunatic was nailing shingles on a wall. He was a very energetic and workmanlike maniac, wearing overalls with two large pockets. As he extracted the nails from one pocket he looked at them, hammering some in and throwing the rest away.

"Say, Wellington," said another inmate who sauntered by, "why are you throwing half the nails away?"

"Heads on the wrong end," was the curt answer.

"You dope," said the other, "what do you think the other pocket is for? Save those wrong ones for the opposite wall."

Affectionate Name

"Does your wife ever pay you any compliments?" asked the curious bachelor.

"Only in the winter," was the nonchalant answer.

"In the winter? How do you mean?"

"When the fire gets low, she says, 'Alexander, the grate!'"

They Learn Fast

Two little girls were playing. One pretended that she wanted to rent the other's playhouse.

"Have you any parents?" the playhouse owner asked.

"Yes, two," was the reply.

"I'm sorry," the small landlady said, "but I never rent to children with parents. They're so noisy and destructive."

She'll Try

A pessimist is a woman driver who's sure she can't park her car in a tight place. An optimist is a man who thinks she won't try.

THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

The committee inquired, too, into the underworld penetration of a Philadelphia steel fabricating concern, which we concluded had been accomplished through "political-influence." A numbers racketeer named Louis Crusco had bought his way into the Strunk Steel Co. by virtue, the committee inferred, "of his close association with the son of Philadelphia's mayor." Crusco was an old friend and neighbor of Richard Russell Samuel Sr., son of Mayor Samuel. The numbers man bought his interest in the company under extraordinary circumstances: he carried the purchase price, $34,000, in cash in a satchel to a stockholders' meeting. Richard Samuel, Jr., 19-year-old grandson of the mayor, accompanied Crusco and, according to the testimony of one stockholder who was selling out, "apparently was the mouth-piece for Mr. Crusco."

(LAST WEEK'S ITEMS)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fowler and daughters visited Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fowler at Crandall. Most of the family were together for a late but very nice Thanksgiving supper. On Saturday Sam and his family went to Grand Prairie and met Mary Ann Gartman, who accompanied them to Wichita Falls to visit "Waddy" Fowler who is stationed at Sheppard AFB. "Waddy" was given a 36-hour pass and the group enjoyed themselves at a motel in Wichita Falls. They motored over to Oklahoma and took pictures of the Red River and other scenes in that locality.

Donald Hamilton, who enlisted in the Navy last summer, left Sunday for sea duty between Japan and Korea. He is a member of the crew of the USS Alstede. The information was received in a telephone call Thanksgiving from Donald to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hamilton.

Mrs. J. C. Slaughter spent Thanksgiving in Sterling City with her daughter, Mrs. R. T. Caperton, and family. The Capertons recently moved from Bronte to Sterling City where R. T. purchased a Chevrolet agency.

Johnnie Beth Snead entertained a large group of young folks at a birthday party Friday night in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Snead, Jr.

Mrs. Willis Smith and sons, Royce and Willis Wayne and the latter's family, were Thanksgiving guests in the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Johnson, north of Bronte. Relatives from Waco also were present for the holiday occasion.

Stroud Roberts, who operated his mother's place north of Bronte the past year, has sold off his livestock and decided against further farm and ranch operations because of the drouth. He has taken a position with an oil field servicing company and is now at Bay City.

Robert Lee Shriners and their wives were in Abilene Saturday to attend a ceremonial. Those going included Messrs. and Meses. Fred McDonald, Jr., C. S. Brown, John Harvey, Bruce Clift, G. C. Allen and Bob Stephenson. Charlie Boecking of Bronte was one of the initiates.

Mrs. Charles Fowler and son, Dellwyn, of San Angelo spent Thanksgiving with the Sam Fowlers and were weekend guests of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wyatt and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCutchen. Charles was gone on a three-day trip to Waco attending an REA training school. He made a short visit with his parents Wednesday morning, on his way to work in the Sanco and Edith communities.

1951 may long be remembered as a pretty tough year because of moisture conditions in the state. It wasn't a good year for high production on most crops but H. C. Robinson of Rains county averaged 120 bushels of corn per acre on his eight acres and his contest acre produced 142.6 bushels.

The Wilton Scott and Henry Varnadore families left Monday for a visit with the Clell Varnadores at Mena, Ark.

Generally winter legumes, for the best results, should be planted by November 1. Time and soil moisture conditions are two factors that must now be considered by farmers who haven't yet planted winter legumes.

CORRECTION

Due to an unfortunate inadequacy of Texas law, I regret being unable to confirm the appointment of my campaign contributors as Deputy Dogcatchers. I have been advised that as Judge and Dogcatcher I will be "neither authorized nor required" to pick my own assistants. Strangely, there is no established precedent of a county judge serving in this dual capacity. Therefore, any appointment I might make would have no legal status. This is extremely embarrassing to me.

Pending further legal research, it is considered advisable therefore, considering official nature of the work, to confer the assistant dogcatcherships upon the county commissioners, at salaries to be adjusted by the right honorable commissioners court.

I hope to find the commissioners as capable as they are well recommended. I have been assured that they are upstanding men of the highest moral character and that the dogs will not be abused in any way.

Sincerely,

WE'LL put it up to you! There must be plenty of good reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.

There's the way Chevrolet saves. Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in the field and the savings go on and on with low operating costs.

There are plenty more reasons why Chevrolet is America's favorite. Come in and let us show them to you.

Leftover Turkey Does a Delicious Encore
(See Recipes Below)

Serve Turkey Again?

HAVE ONE OF THOSE big turkeys for Thanksgiving? There are bound to be leftovers, but they can be delectable morsels that the family looks forward to having if you'll use some ingenuity.

Turkey need not get tiresome on the second and third time around if you prepare it differently than the roast bird served originally. Dress it up, serve with different accompaniments and the family will be thoroughly pleased. So will you, when you see how your ingenuity has changed a leftover into a real favorite.

Sometimes people get so tired of leftovers, they just throw away the last of them. Waste of food? They get so bored with the same taste, they don't care. Don't let it happen to you.

BIG, JUICY SLICES of turkey are first on the program, as long as you still have a half or most of the half left. Lay those slices on your prettiest platter, all along one side. On the other side serve a new and different relish in pear cups prepared like this:

- *Pears with Cranberry Sauce
- Cooked pear halves, canned or fresh
- 1 cup liquid from cooked or canned pears
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 cups fresh cranberries
- 1/2 lemon, sliced thin
- Few whole cloves

Place pear halves in refrigerator to chill while preparing the sauce. Combine pear liquid, sugar, cranberries, lemon and cloves in saucepan. Cook over moderate heat until berries pop, about 10 to 12 minutes. Cool in saucepan, then chill. To serve, fill pear hollows with cranberry sauce. Spoon some sauce over filled pears to give a pinkish tinge. Use a garnish and relish with meat.

Chicken Chow Mein
(Serves 4-6)

- 3/4 cup shredded onions
- 4 tablespoons fat
- 2 cups diced celery
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
- 2 cups bean sprouts
- 1/2 cup cooked or canned mushrooms
- 1 1/2 cups chick stock
- 1 teaspoon bead molasses
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/2 cup cold water
- Chinese noodles

Fry onions in fat until delicate brown. Add celery and cook 3 minutes. Add chicken, bean sprouts, mushrooms, chicken stock, molasses and soy sauce. Cook about 15 minutes. Blend cornstarch with cold water and add to chicken mixture. Cook for a few minutes, stirring, until thickened. Serve on top of Chinese noodles. Note.—Chopped turkey may be substituted for chicken.

- Turkey gravy

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Mix beaten egg yolks with milk and blend in with flour mixture. Mix with turkey, onion, carrot and melted fat. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in buttered baking dish in a hot (425°) oven about 25 minutes.

*Scalloped Turkey Supreme

Mix together 1/2 cup turkey or chicken broth with rice. Melt butter, add flour and blend well. Combine 1 1/2 cups turkey or chicken broth with milk and add to butter-flour mixture and cook, stirring, until thick. Add salt, pepper, ginger and turkey. Butter a large casserole and place a layer of rice on bottom, then turkey mixture. If desired, sprinkle with finely chopped pimiento, sliced mushrooms and slivered, blanched almonds. Repeat until all ingredients are used. Sprinkle top with buttered bread crumbs and paprika. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 30 minutes.

Molded Turkey Salad
(Serves 8)

- 2 1/2 cups cold cooked turkey, diced
- 3/4 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons gelatin
- 2 cups turkey stock
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup cream, whipped

Mix turkey, celery and pepper. Soften the gelatin in the cold stock and dissolve by bringing to the boiling point. Add to the first mixture and let stand until it begins to stiffen. Fold in the mayonnaise and whipped cream. Turn into a ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold onto a bed of lettuce hearts. Fill the center with mayonnaise to which has been added an equal quantity of whipped cream.

It's Wonderful the Way
Chewing-Gum Laxative
Acts Chiefly to

REMOVE WASTE
—NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions of folks have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the modern chewing-gum laxative. Yes, here is why FEEN-A-MINT's action is so wonderfully different!

Doctors say that many other laxatives start their "flushing" action too soon... right in the stomach where food is being digested. Large doses of such laxatives upset digestion, flush away nourishing food you need for health and energy. You feel weak, worn out.

But gentle FEEN-A-MINT, taken as recommended, works chiefly in the lower bowel where it removes only waste, not good food! You avoid that typical weak, tired, worn-out feeling. Use FEEN-A-MINT and feel your "peppy," energetic self! Get FEEN-A-MINT! No increase in price—still 25¢, 50¢ or only 10¢.
