When Brother Travis McNair accepted the position as pastor of the Methodist Church at Bandera I asked him to send me a copy of the "Bandera Bulletin" so that I could keep up with his activities.

I had just about decided that Brother Mc didn't want me to know what he was doing, but last week I received the "Bandera Bulletin," with ads on the FRONT PAGE! Thanks for getting us on the mailing list, Brother Mc.

R. L. Page, who lives in the Wildcat Community, has received over 20 inches of rain in the last two months. This is about what the average yearly rainfall is for Coke County.

FORMER RESIDENT WINS MISS CARLSBAD TITLE

Helen Carwile, a 21 year old college student who captivated audience, judges and fellow contestants alike, was crowned Friday night as Miss Carlsbad for 1962. She will compete in two weeks in the Miss New Mexico Pageant at Hobbs.

Miss Carwile is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Carwile, who was born and reared at Sanco, of 307 S. Eighth St.

Helen's mother, Verna Thomson Carwile, taught school for several years at Robert Lee and other community schools in Coke County.

Grandparents of Miss Carwile are Mrs. Fannie and the late J. L. Carwile Sr. of Sanco.

She has just finished two years at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, and plans to complete her college education at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

First runner-up was Robin Gay O'Flynn, sophomore at Colorado State University, winner of the evening gown and talent portions of the pageant. Second runner-up was Nina Sue Taylor, winner of the bathing suit contest phase.

In all ten girls competed in the first renewal in many years of the pageant. The beautifully staged revue, presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and directed by Miss Linda Ayeock, arrested the audience from the moment the curtain rose on a quiet tableau of the contestants until the tension-filled climax when the winner was named.

The other girls voted Miss Carwile the title "Miss Congeniality" in tribute to her personable charm.

Miss O'Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. O'Flynn, took top honors in the talent portion of the show with a presentation entitled "The Loveable Clown," an acrobatic dance in harlequin-like circus costume.

Miss Taylor, tanned and statuesque swim suit winner who celebrated her 19th birthday with her appearance in the pageant, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Taylor, 515 N. Fifth St.

Miss Carwile, whose stage presence and sparkling eyes caught attention of the near-capacity audience of about 1,000 persons, gave a stirring reading of a prize winning essay entitled, "What America Means to Me."

She majors in English at college while minoring in history and French. As a student at Carlsbad High School, she was a member of the National Honor Society, while at TCU she was on the Dean's Honor Roll. Miss Carwile is one of four sisters. All were born at Sanco. She plans to use an excerpt from the same patriotic essay in talent portion of the Miss New Mexico contest.

I noticed two examples last week of what deep breaking and fertilizing can do under certain conditions. We have experienced and probably will see in the future years in which fertilizer applications will give little or no benefit. Thus far this year, however, there is a marked difference in the two fields of cotton in question.

field in the Friendship community, left a few rows unfertilized. Possibly in the future the unfertilized cotton will gain in size and production, but at the moment vast difference in size and development of the plants — the fertilized rows are much further along. The cotton is approximately four weeks of age and is planted on a sandy and sandy loam soil.

Frank Percifull, of the Valley View Community, has a field with a similar contrast. One portion of the field was deep broke, another deep broke and fertilized, while a third portion received neither treatment. The portion that received both treatments is advanced over the other two areas. The portion that was deep broken only is ahead of the area with no treatments applied. The field looks like it contains cotton of three different ages. Frank's soil is a deep clay loam.

Certainly the portions in a year in which we had less moisture would not stand out so vividly but with conditions as they are we are anxious to know whether or not the differences will carry through the season and show a difference in yields.

Controlling insects on livestock and field crops is a common thing during this season of the year. Everyone is aware that all insecticides should be handled with precaution, but we often are less careful as we become accustomed to using a certain insecticide. Even though a person has never been affected from handling insecticides, they still have the ability to be toxic. Because they have never been toxic to the handler, regardless of how many times he has been exposed, does not mean the next time will be the same. All insecticides should be handled with care and the manufacturers precautions adhered to.

I received recently from the Extension Entomologist a Comparative mammalian toxicity, listing some of the more common insecticides. These ratings, determined primarily on rats, are indicative of how toxic the materials may be to warm blooded animals and does not indicate the effectiveness of the chemicals for controlling insects.

They are as follows:

TEPP — 1.2; Parathion — 3.0; Thimet — 3.7; Methyl Parathion — 9.25; Endrine — 10; Calcium Arsenate — 20; Delrov — 50; Nicotine — 50; Aldrin — 67; Toxaphene — 69; Dieldrin — 87; Lead Arsenate — 100; Lindane — 125; CO-Ral — 230; DDT — 280; Chlordane — 457; Dipterex — 500; Sevin — 540; Ronnel — 1740; Malathion — 2600.

The ratings of the above are as follows: Highly toxic — less than 50; moderately toxic — 50 to 500; slightly toxic — 500 to 5,000.

How about a Fair Break for Railroads?

we're asking your support for equal treatment by government of all carriers, including the railroads

The Association of American Railroads has drawn up a document called "Magna Carta for Transportation."

We're asking for public support of this common-sense statement on public transportation policy, hoping citizens will recognize that an entire industry that serves them is being deprived of its natural rights—and will want to help.

What to do? Ask your congressman to help restore to the railroads these "four freedoms":

- Freedom from discriminatory regulation
- Freedom from discriminatory taxation
- Freedom from subsidized competition
- Freedom to provide a diversified transportation service

 America's Largest Independent Telephone System

Symbol of Freedom

Back in 1776 in this month of July, the original 13 colonies wrote and signed a Declaration which established them as free and independent states.

In the 185 years since then, the United States of America has grown to 50 states and has become the most powerful Nation on earth.

But of more significance today, in a world filled with turmoil, it stands as a mighty bulwark against tyranny and the threat of oppression.

We of General Telephone join with all freedom-loving Americans in expressing humble pride in our heritage and the principles of liberty for which it stands.
