Loraine Down, Steers Meet Bronte in Final

By RONNIE BAKER

It started out like Friday the thirteenth at first for the Steers Friday night at Loraine, but their defense and offense kicked the black cat off the field, and in the third quarter shoved it under the Loraine bench.

An all-out team effort provided a margin of victory to race away from the Bulldogs after a tied up ball game at half-time. The blocking in this ball game was just too perfect for words. Although the Bulldogs made more first downs and yards rushing, the Steers made the most of everything else and showed the fans some exciting runs.

First Quarter

Loraine won the toss and elected to receive. Dodson boomed out of the end zone, and Loraine took over at the 20 yard line. On the third play, Rankin of Loraine cut over left tackle and went 62 yards before Williams knocked him out on the 15 yard line.

In 4 plays the Bulldogs busted over from the one, and with the try for extra points good, Loraine had a quick 8 to 0 lead.

Loraine kicked short to Hatch, and with a short return the Steers took over at the Robert Lee 43. On the third play, Robert Lee fumbled on the 47 and Loraine recovered.

In 7 plays, Loraine scored again, and the try for points failed, so the Bulldogs upped their lead to 14-0. Loraine kicked off deep to Thetford, who took it on the 25 yard line, and behind beautiful blocking went all the way back for a touchdown. Dodson busted through for the

Not to be outdone, the Freshman team came out in the second game to defeat the Silver Freshmen 22-0. In this game, Gary Parker scored two touchdowns, Randy Hall intercepted a pass and sprinted for the third.

Ronnie and Donnie Devoll each scored a set of extra points.

Tonight, Thursday, Silver is coming here to play the Dogies and the seventh and eighth graders will play the 5th and 6th graders in a game. These games are to begin at 6:30.—Marilyn Wallace, Reporter

GARY SAM WILLIAMS

Freshman Gary Sam Williams Steer of Week

Gary Sam Williams, who sparked the victorious Dogies in Junior High School was this week named Steer of the Week by his teammates following the Loraine game.

A Freshman, he plays end and defensive half back. Last week against Loraine he caught 2 passes and ran one intercepted pass for three touchdowns all together.

This is his first year in high school football and his work has been outstanding enough that he has played in every game of the season—a thing that doesn't usually happen to Freshmen.

Gary Sam is junior assistant scoutmaster in the explorer scouts, at 15. In addition to his athletics and scout duties he last month received his 3-year pen for steady Sunday school attendance at the Baptist church—not missing a Sunday in three years.

Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams of Robert Lee. His father played on the Steer team in 1930, and his brother, Sherman, was a Steer member a few years ago.

COUNTRYSIDE

By STERLING LINDSEY

The Agricultural Census will be starting in the county soon. Questionnaires will be placed in the rural mail boxes in the near future to get the program underway.

The Census Department urges each family to study and fill out their questionnaire with the best information available. All answers are kept confidential and the combined totals are vital to the agricultural industry.

If anyone should need help in answering any of the questions, the local census taker will be glad to assist when he calls on you.

Have you ever wondered how much meat is consumed by Americans each year? The figure is staggering. Beef leads the field in amount consumed, with pork running a distant second. Poultry meat is listed separately. It is third high on the list.

The average American is expected to eat 171.7 pounds of red meat and 38.0 pounds of poultry in 1964. Of this total, 99.0 pounds will be beef. Pork follows with 63.4 pounds. Lamb and mutton consumption is very low — only 4.5 pounds.

Since 1950 the per capita consumption of both poultry and beef has increased 54 per cent. Lamb has gained 15 per cent, while pork has fallen far behind, dropping 40 per cent in the past 15 years.

The Coke County Annual Stock Show has been set for January 11, at the show barn in Robert Lee. This leaves less than two months until the 1965 show season starts.

The 4-H Club members have quantity this year and we hope the quality will be evident when show day arrives. In all, 53 club members are feeding 187 animals. Not all of these will be exhibited at the County Show, but a high percentage will. The sheep and swine divisions are very likely to have the largest number of entries ever shown in the County Show.

The lateness of winter and the uncertainty of the screwworm has officials of the screwworm program concerned. Our latest report shows 23 cases, the high week of the year, stretching from the Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle. McCulloch and Schleicher Counties in our area had one case reported. We hope everyone will remain vigilant and send in any sample they may find in Coke County.

REMEMBER WHEN?

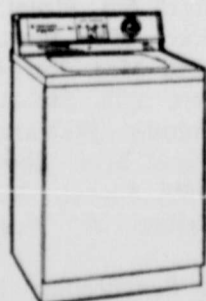

Nettleton Industrial Museum

"If you're under 40 you won't remember your grandmother straining her back over this old fashioned washing apparatus. It's hard to believe that a washing machine like this actually existed and yet this 1905 model was the first one put on the market. In only 59 years, washing machines have improved to the point of complete automation. All the modern young housewife of 1964 does is put the clothes and detergent in her automatic, press a button, set a dial, and forget it. Isn't modernization remarkable?"

You too can gain the pleasure and satisfaction of push button washing. See your local appliance dealer right away."

Twenty Years Ago- a Story of War Time England

As we stood on the deck the major pointed to what looked like a cloud bank ahead and to the left. As the calm, emerald sea water lapped gently at the prow of the long, trim Christobal we had been with the convoy at sea 11 days, held up by the slow tankers that wallowed along. Now we had left the convoy. We looked in the direction the major pointed and, yes, there it was. A white object on the cloud bank which was to turn out to be the haze shrouded coast of southern England — land and trees and houses—after the long journey through the broad sea.

Soon we were anchored in the bay which is Plymouth, the harbor of old Plymouth from which the Mayflower sailed going the other way with the Pilgrims of some 320 years before. Now the sons of the Pilgrims had come back to England.

Pilgrims Come to England

It is still not a very big city, and the harbor still, no doubt, looked much the same as it did when the Pilgrims from the deck of the Mayflower looked out toward the sea and then looked back for the last time at the old town and native England.

It must have looked as peaceful in October 1944 as it had then except for the battered buildings one could see at the water front and back in the town, our first glimpse of what we in the months ahead would see all too often along the road of war.

Leek was another quiet town in the English Midlands, and the camp at Blackshaw Moor was soon to feel the cold blast of winter coming down across Britain from the North Sea.

D-Day was not far behind. Supplies were being piled up at Calais, and the Allied Armies were moving up to Antwerp.

The Brandbury Nose

Sometime in November with another American in uniform I looked down Piccadilly in London through the blackout. In the foggy night we kept from running into others largely through the little flashlights they carried. We stopped in front of a big theatre which had above it a sign, "The Brandbury Nose." It was one of those somewhat mediocre plays of legitimate theatre which had quite a run in London. We decided to go in and see it.

It was a big theatre and, apparently, had at one time been sort of an elite place, but bore some evidence of shabbiness now, and evidently the people attending it were not the fashionable people, or at least did not appear so. It was a sort of a stiff English thing—the play—but it portrayed something that had gone on for a long time in England. This young man had the "Brandbury nose," which was a family characteristic handed down from father to son—prominent, aristocratic.

As it had been in England for a long time the eldest son was supposed to do what the father had done. He might rebel against it, he might avoid it for some time, but eventually would fall in line with tradition and carry on.

Ferment of Change

As we walked away from the theatre I remarked to the officer who was my companion, "That play is more of a prophecy than it is a play. It marks the direction the young people of England are going to take, and you and I are going to see it happen. They have seen what America has done in business and war and they are not satisfied. There will be a change in England and you will see it."

We went on across the Channel, through France, Luxembourg, Germany and back. That was in October 1944. I was back in England on leave in the early spring of 1945. There had been a change in England. Churchill had been defeated and the Labor Party was in power. Why? Not because they didn't like Churchill.

At Camp Blackshaw Moore

there were several buildings built undoubtedly with material that the United States had furnished, but built according to the way the British built them. The concrete floor were two feet below the surface of the ground. The drain-pipes outside to take water away when it rained were about three inches in diameter and always clogged up—never any other way. So naturally when it rained the floor stood in pools of water.

Almost at every turn when the American Army and the British were working at something the Americans would run up against this statement by the British, "But this is the way we have always done it," and they thought that ended the argument. All through British industry, all through its military establishment, a country ruled more or less by its aristocracy gave in very grudgingly and slowly, and sometimes did not give in at all to any obvious improvement.

Getting Far Behind

The younger generation of Britains saw their country losing in war and losing in competitive industry before the march of other nations such as ours, less bound by tradition and not ruled by aristocracy. They saw a future in which they must change or starve. They had been short of iron with mountains of it in Canada.

The socialistic Labor Party was the only alternative offered them. Business and government was handed down largely from father to son, or kept within certain restricted classes. The war broke into that to some extent, but the Socialist leaders were able to make their point.

I picked up a London newspaper and read one of their most widely read columnists discussing where they were going and he did it in a typical British way by writing, "If Britain goes Communist, they will do it British, with a king and a Parliament and a Prime Minister."

Socialists Took Over

The new government took over medical care, it took over the coal mines, and intended to take over more business under government operation, but in the years that came on right after the war they had a lot of trouble going Communist British because the businesses operated by the government did not pay; so in a later election the socialist Labor Party was defeated and the Conservatives, which in Britain were more conservative than our conservatives in many respects, went back into office, an office they could have kept all along if they would have yielded enough ground to improved methods and less class distinction in government, in business, and less monopoly by old and established financial institutions.

Now the Labor socialists are back in office and proposing to nationalize the steel industry. But in Western Germany where the progress was not hindered by nationalization, and where those in government and in business were willing to move on the country has prospered and the Germans have taken markets that England lost the chance to take while they are playing with government ownership. While England is switching back and forth from private to public ownership, West Germany forges ahead.

So this is what came out of the blackout in London.

Could there be a lesson for us in that? It might be worth thinking about.

(What was war-time Germany like, and the German soldier? How did Hitler's National Socialism compare with national socialism as it developed in England and in the United States since then? A look at Germany 20 years ago might bring some of these questions into focus.)

Letter to Readers:

Dear Reader;

It was 20 years ago this October when the USS Christobel slipped into Plymouth harbor, a blacked out train rolled through the night across England and in the gray mist of early morning we stopped at Leek in the Midlands and took army buses a few miles out to Blackshaw Moor.

Much has happened in those twenty years, and what is happening now has a definite connection with what happened then.

During the election campaign questions have been brought up, issues discussed that did not have their beginning this year, or in any one administration or decade.

Would you like to go back with me to that October in England and take a look around.

It would take a book to tell our story of those months — it has been written, but not published.

There are times when we turn up with space without time left to go out and get more strictly local news, write it, and get it in type.

For those times we need something already written and ready, as timely as possible. For the 20th Veteran's Day since this happened, we thought it might interest you.

Sincerely,

Ulmer Bird

THDA Chairman "Proud to Make Report" of 100 Per Cent Participation

Mrs. R. L. Page, County THDA chairman, announced in the recent Home Demonstration Council meeting that club members had subscribed to the Messenger 100 per cent. "This is the first time in the 20 years of Home Demonstration Club work in Coke County that all the members will receive the club's official magazine," she said. "I am proud to make this report!"

The 1965 Committees of Council were announced by Mrs. Glenn Waldrop, Council chairman, as follows: yearbook—Mrs. Linzy McDorman, Mrs. R. L. Page and Mrs. Billy Joe Luckett; finance—Mrs. C. E. Arrott, Mrs. Finis Harmon and Mrs. Lowell Roane; 4-H—Mrs. Truman Parker, Mrs. Tom Schooler and Mrs. Pat Rives; E.E.E.—Mrs. Curtis Walker, Mrs. Sloan Boone, Mrs. J. C. Boatright, Mrs. Kenneth Reed, Mrs. J. M. Eubanks and Mrs. James Arrott; recreation—Mrs. Floyd Harmon, Mrs. Homer Phillips and Mrs. A. D. Fields.

Four clubs were represented in Council by 11 persons. Mrs. Billy Joe Luckett was introduced as a new member. She is president of the newly organized Bronte Zeta Delta Home Demonstration Club.

The council voted to send money gifts to Abilene State Hospital and to their "boy" at Austin State Hospital. These are annual Christmas contributions from the organization.

Mrs. Waldrop announced the annual Christmas party sponsored by Council for all Home Demonstration members has been set for Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 2:30 p.m. in the Community Center. Committees were appointed by the chairman.

The Coke County Stock Show concessions were discussed and committees were appointed.

Mrs. Fay C. Roe presented a report on her activities for the past month.

Mrs. C. E. Arrott, Bronte Senior Club, conducted recreation following the meeting.

The next regular meeting of the group will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Winters Ceremony Received Nurses Into Association

A press release from a Vocational Nurses Association on which an article printed in last week's Observer was based, was not clear.

The four ladies from Robert Lee in the capping ceremony at Winters were received into the organization, but have held their license as nurses since 1952.

The Winters capping was merely a ceremony of being received into the state nurses organization, as one of the ladies explained.

Mrs. Almedia Kresta, Mrs. Ethel Green, Mrs. Lois Smith and Mrs. Gladys Syble Pierce were not members of the group that have been taking nurses training here recently, but received their training under a doctor and a registered nurse and have had long service in the hospital here as licensed nurses.

Mr. and Mrs. Upton Mathers and children, Rodney, Kenneth, Delbert, and Sue Lyn, are now residents of Robert Lee. They live on Washington street in the former Ben Tubb home.

Our Home Circle

"An Old Fashioned Christmas" is the theme of a Christmas Foods Program to be given on Monday, November 30. The program will be presented by Miss Jimmie Temple, home economist, Lone Star Gas Co., San Angelo.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. and will be held in the County Courtroom. The public is invited.

A training meeting for leaders who are to work with 4-H members in Foods groups was held on Friday. Attending the meeting were Mmes. Maurice Duncan, James R. Pruitt, J. A. Weatherbee and Mert Donley, Silver; Ernest Ivey, C. E. McGuire and H. L. Grigg, Bronte; E. E. Eldred, W. H. Allen, James Craig, A. D. McClellan, Cumbie Ivey Jr. and Vic Conner, Robert Lee.

I am happy to have these adults working with the 4-H girls. I still need other leaders if all the girls are to work in food groups. Volunteers are still needed.

Foods from the milk group generally the largest single item in the food budget if sufficient amounts are bought.

Homemakers can realize a saving by using fresh whole milk for drinking and evaporated and dry skimmed milk for cooking. Dry skim milk is convenient to use because it needs no refrigeration.

It costs less than one-third as much as whole milk and is, of course, higher in calcium and protein because of the absence of fat.

With the present milk prices, a family of two adults and two children using 22 quarts of milk a week could save approximately $1.78 a week by this allotment of milk. The reduction could be even greater if the milk drunk is one-half fresh and one-half dry. Buttermilk, made from the powdered milk is tasty and can be drunk and used in cooking.

Add this savings to the total savings realized by wise shopping—and watch it grow.

As a result of the latest revision of the National Research Council recommended dietary allowances, a slight change is being made in the daily allowance in the milk group. This should be good news to many of my readers who have the problem of not using enough milk.

Suggested amount of milk for children, pregnant and nursing women is now as follows:

- Children under 9 years of age—2 to 3 cups.
- Children 9 to 12 years of age—3 or more cups.
- Pregnant women—3 or more cups.
- Nursing mothers—4 or more cups.

extras, and the lead was cut 14 to 8.

Dodson kicked another one out of the end zone. Loraine took over at the 20 and ran two plays to run out the quarter.

Second Quarter

The Steers held at this series of downs, and with Loraine punting to the Steer 35 yard line, the Steers drove down to the 7 before fumbling again. Loraine drove only 22 yards before they fumbled also, on the 29, recovered by Wink.

Thetford, on first down, stepped back and hit Williams with a pass in the end zone for a T.D.—no extras, and the ball game was tied up 14-14. It stood this way at half time as Robert Lee had possession after an intercepted pass by Hatch.

Third Quarter

The Steers received at the second half. Thetford took it on his own 10 yard line, and with every Steer blocking someone, he went all the way again, 90 yards for another T.D. Vosburg crashed over for the extras, and the Steers led for the first time, 22-14. Williams did the kicking this time, to the 20, where it was returned to the 38 yard line.

At the 48, Askins knocked the ball loose and Sparks pounced on the fumble. In three carries, Wink and Gartman moved the ball 29 yards to the Loraine 19 yard line, where Thetford stepped back with lots of time and tossed to Williams at the 5, where he went in standing up for another T.D.

Gartman ran the extras, and the Steers led now 30 to 14.

The kick by Dodson carried deep, and with a return to the 15, the Bulldogs tried desperately to score again. They went to the air, and after two incomplete passes, Williams intercepted the 3d on the 40, and going down the sideline, he went all the way, never even being touched, because of the excellent blocking of the entire Steer club.

Thetford ran the extras, and the Steers now led by 38 to 14. Dodson kicked again out of the end zone. Loraine took over on the 20. On 3d down, 5 to go, the Bulldog quarterback tried a pass and was mobbed by the entire Steer line, with a loss of 11 yards. On the 4th and a bunch of yards to go, a bad snap from center caused the kicker to be stopped on the 5 yard line, with Robert Lee taking over.

On first down and goal to go, Vosburg busted through for the T.D. The try for extras was no good, and the Steers now led 44 to 14. Dodson kicked to the 20 yard line real high, and the Bulldogs managed only a 5 yard return. On this series, the 3d quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

From this point, the Bulldogs drove down to score, consuming much time. Their try for extras was good, and the score stood at 44 to 22.

After the kick, the two teams exchanged the ball on downs, and as the clock ran out the Steers had the ball on the 18 yard line, driving for another.

Only Undefeated 8-B Team, Steers Cinch Loop Lead

Robert Lee cinched the right to represent District 8-B in the bi-district when a last half rally ploughed Loraine under at Loraine Friday night of last week.

They face Bronte Longhorns here next Friday in the homecoming game for RLHS.

Undefeated and untied in district play, the Steers lead the loop, having marked up a victory over every other team in the district except Bronte and racked up a percentage that would give them the district title, regardless of the outcome here Friday, as fans here figure the standings.

Throughout the season, the locals have lost only one game—a non-conference to Eden, by a two point margin. They have added up a total of 323 points to their opponents 104 in 9 games played so far.

In 1962, the Steers tied Menard, lost to Ozona, lost the district by one touchdown at Loraine, with 7 won, 1 tied, and 2 lost for the whole season.

In 1963, they won all games except the last—Knox City in the bi-district.
