Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gartman

Gartmen's Receive 4-H Club Award

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gartman were honored recently for their years of service to 4-H Club work in Coke County. The Gartmans and other leaders of the 20 county Extension District VII, were recognized in Coleman on May 7 when rural cooperatives serving District VII hosted the banquet. The leaders recognized were presented framed certificates denoting their leadership. A citation was read as each leader received his or her certificate. The citation regarding Mr. and Mrs. Gartman read as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gartman of the Sanco Community in Coke County have been active in 4-H Club work for many years. Both are former members themselves and have given parental and leader assistance to five of their own children.

"Mrs. Gartman has been active with clothing and food projects the past three years. Mr. Gartman is a Stock Show Association board member and secretary, and has helped numerous 4-H Club members with swine and beef projects through the years. Coke County is proud of this family and fortunate to have them in the 4-H ranks."

The Gartmans were accompanied by Coke County Extension Agents Fay C. Roe and Sterling Lindsey and A. J. Roe Jr.

City to Close For Memorial Day

Most Robert Lee business firms and offices will be closed Monday in observance of Memorial Day. Some stations and cafes will remain open.

Places reporting to the Observer they will be closed are: Matthews Lumber, Bell Auto Parts, Snead's Pharmacy, Gordon's Variety Store, the courthouse, the city hall, West Way Grocery, the post office, Robert Lee State Bank, West Texas Utilities, Ivey Motor Co., Vaughan Chevrolet Co., Roach's Dry Goods, Key Feed Store, Bahlman Cleaners and Baker's Grocery & Market.

2 Scouts to Get Eagle Awards

Mike Davis and Jeff Eubanks will receive Eagle Awards at a Boy Scout Court of Honor Monday night, May 28, at 7:30 p.m. The program will be held in the Robert Lee School auditorium.

The prospective new Eagles are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Eubanks, respectively.

Eagles rank is the highest that can be attained in the Boy Scout program. Scoutmaster Gene Hinard said everyone has a cordial invitation to attend the Court of Honor, as these programs are always open to the public.

METHODISTS TO HAVE WEEKEND REVIVAL

The Rev. Jeff Walter, youth evangelist of the Ed Robb Evangelistic Team of Abilene, will conduct a weekend revival at the First United Methodist Church June 1, 2 and 3.

Everyone is invited to hear this young preacher and singer.

Schedule of services will appear in next week's paper.

Questionnaires Ask Opinions

Questionnaires were mailed out to Coke County citizens this week to determine their wishes on how federal revenue sharing funds should be used. The county has received approximately $60,000 in federal funds this year and is supposed to receive the same amount for five years.

Items listed on the card included a county wide water program, recreation centers, livestock show barn, library services and new fire trucks. Also a blank was left for any additional ideas anyone has on the matter.

Coke County commissioners' court has received requests from various groups to spend the money for different things, so the commissioners decided to take a poll and try to determine the wishes of the people.

County Judge W. W. Thetford asked that everyone fill out his card and return it as soon as possible.

1973 Senior Class Will

Last Will and Testament of the 1973 Senior Class of RLHS:

Bobby Mumford wills his elevator shoes to Carl Bagwell. They have the Mumford stamp on them.

A Look into the Future

The Date: April 7, 1983.
My Code Name: Roving Reporter.

Mission: To locate and report on activities of all members of the 1973 Senior Class.

Reason: Curiosity.

I had been employed by an educational program to survey a 10 year lapse of high school graduates which gave me a good opportunity for travel and renewing old friendships.

My best bet was to begin my search in Robert Lee, Texas. How time changes everything for there was a big sign on the San Angelo highway as I drove into town, "Billy Jack's and Walter's Liquor Store." This was one addition I hadn't expected! As I drove by the store I noticed Mary Lee McCoy tying her horse to the fire plug. I stopped to say hello—seems she was running late since she had taken to riding her horse everywhere. She explained that new cars were so expensive!

I had a little car trouble when I left town and luckily Bubba Duncan and Ricky Welkes were going to town and offered me a ride. During our ride I was informed that Bubba and Ricky had gone into partnership in the pig business. After they dropped me off at the Rent-A-Car Co., they had to hurry since they were already late for the pig sale.

Next I stopped off in Bronte to get a Coke. When I went into the City Cafe, I found Sterling Allen sitting in a booth furiously writing away on some scratch paper. I went over and talked to her and found out she was trying to compare all her notes for her new book, "Walden's Pond." While chatting with Sterling, I found out that Dee Anna Percifull was working at the new zoo in Bronte. She had taken a strange liking to the blue roadrunners and was taking very good care of them. I stopped by the zoo on my way to Abilene and Dee Anna was so embarrassed that she wasn't cleaned up when I came.

By the time I got to Abilene, I was a little tired and felt I could use a little break from my busy schedule so I stopped off at the first nightclub I saw. While I was relaxing, the manager announced this was the moment for which we had all been waiting. As I was wondering what that could possibly be, Rudy Abalos suddenly burst onto the stage singing, "Jean, Jean!" After this sentimental song ended, Rudy announced he was humbly giving up his fabulous singing career to return to his first love, track. It seems he was determined to break his former record in the 220 yard dash even if it meant the end of his glamorous life as a star. Good luck, Rudy!

As I left Abilene, I decided I had had just too much to drink. About a mile from the highway stood an old fashioned shoe as big as a house. I decided to inspect it and to my surprise, it was an honest to goodness house. I knocked on the door and immediately Nita Gaye Williams, alias Copeland (seemed to appear before my eyes quicker than a wink. Children began streaming from everywhere and Nita told me she didn't want anything I was selling because she was sick of salesmen picking on her and besides, she never had a moment to spare because she had so many children she didn't know what to do!

Well, I decided I was tired of Texas so next I boarded a plane for Tennessee. While I was having my baggage checked, I just happened to bump into Debbie Hendry and Johnny Wolfe. As we talked, I learned neither had changed since the good ole days in RLHS because they were supposed to have been on the plane the day before but both had overslept. When I asked them why they were going to Tennessee, Johnny said he needed a little vacation since he gets awfully tired keeping his job at the furniture store and making nightly trips through San Angelo, Bronte and Ballinger visiting his female friends and trying to keep them happy.

When I got to Tennessee, I called the radio station to ask them to announce that I was trying to locate all the members of the 1973 Senior Class of Robert Lee High School. I was shocked when I heard Kathi Prince answer the phone! Kathi had been voted Most Likely to Succeed in her Senior year at RLHS and she certainly has. She now has her own business and also moonlights as a D.J. for KWFR.

After a week, I decided I wasn't going to have much luck in Tennessee, so one day I flew to Australia. After I found a motel, I signed up for a guided tour to see all the sights. As we walked through the Kangaroo Hide Factory, who should I see leaning over her boss' shoulder but Mrs. Rosanna Baykin Gallipoli! We asked the boss how she was doing and he told us she was fine and really was a fantastic little worker.

As we continued our tour, we passed a charming little dance school which was directed by Mrs. Daniel Franklin Percifull (formerly Jana Mauldin). The dance being performed was called the Funky Chicken or Jana's Mickey Mouse Special. The funny thing was that all 30 of the students seemed to have shiny tin grins and they all seemed to be calling their teacher — "Mother."

Next we went to the picture show for a little entertainment. The sound effects to the fizzling new movies were done by Mrs. John Hanna, formerly Debra Beal. After practicing all her sound effects in Mrs. Guerrant's homemaking class, Debra has finally won an academy award.

I boarded my flight from Australia to the Soviet Union. As I passed by the Quisenberry Packing Plant, I saw good ole Steve Meadows still campaigning for McGovern. Poor Steve, won't he ever learn?

Leaving the campaigning grounds I arrived in Moscow where I saw Jerry Wojtek. We talked at a local tavern where he informed me that he is still playing tennis with those buck toothed Communists and he was recently promoted to president of the King Arts Theatre.

After sitting in the hot sun at the tennis matches, I felt I should return to the United States.

I arrived in Austin where I was to visit the University of Texas. As I walked in the front door, I saw Harvey Wink talking with Mary Donley before her next class. Her fluttering eyelashes had completely overwhelmed him. When you're hot, baby, you're hot!

I left Austin for Bronte where I saw that J. D. Harmon had entered the train business. As I looked around and peeped into the next Box car, I saw Mandy Harmon serving coffee and frankfurters to all the passengers.

After my train arrived in San Angelo, I decided I needed to check on my income tax, so I dropped off at H. & R. Block. To my surprise, the efficient little secretary was Mrs. Jodelle Cole Block. She asked me if I had an appointment and then she looked up and recognized me. We chatted for quite a while about everything including her old pal, Sally Wright. It seems as though Sally had become a member of the Cole family after falling for Cliff and now she leads a very happy married life.

I decided to leave San Angelo and fly to Hawaii since I never had been there. The first night I arrived in Hawaii, my motel sponsored a clam bake and entertainment for their guests. The clam bake was very good but I nearly fell over when Darlene Brice came dancing out with the rest of the hula girls. She was wearing the traditional grass skirt and printed top and had flowers in her hair. Man, she really had the beat! Darlene and I talked for a long time and she tried to get me to move to Hawaii but I decided I was just too homesick for Robert Lee so I came home.

The plane I flew home in was beautiful! I decided I wanted to take some Hawaiian flowers home with me so I went to the Aloha Flower Shop. It was here I found Vicki Conner busily working away on some leis. Vicki told me that about two years ago she had flown to Hawaii for a little vacation but her plane had crashed on a supposedly uninhabited island. She had been captured by a primitive tribe and therefore she learned their art of working with flowers. Vicki said they had been very nice to her, but she was glad to get back to civilization.

One day while I was driving around in Robert Lee, I looked down at my gas gauge and noticed I was driving on empty so I just pulled in at Ross's Conoco Station and who should come out to wait on me but Alex Costilla. During our conversation, I learned that he had gone into partnership with the owner of the station and was doing quite well in his new business. The more we talked the more I learned. It was through this conversation that I learned about Sid Burns. Sid is now the new Boy Scout leader in town. He said he was enjoying his new job and was becoming quite good at building fires with two sticks.

For relaxation, I went to Lake Spence for a little fishing. Before I began fishing, I decided to take a little tour of the lake. I drove up on Look-Out Point and saw a new McDonald's. The owner was Susan Prentice and when I inquired as to why she built her business out at the lake she replied, "It reminds me of my high school days."

Silver seemed to be the next best place to go. I was just toodling along and sightseeing when I saw a long tall Texan herding cattle. So I decided to stop my vehicle and have a little chit-chat with this dude. When I finally managed to get his attention, I was surprised to learn that this was Randy Flanagan! Boy! Had he ever changed from the last time I saw him. Randy is now a foreman for some cattle rancher from Odessa and seems to be quite happy.

On my way back to town, I decided I'd pay a visit to the Courthouse and all over the walls I saw posters and signs that read "Bobby Mumford for District Attorney!" I had no idea as to what was going on so I stopped off at one of the offices to inquire into this subject. It seems Bobby had been studying law for 10 years and had finally decide to see if he could score a few points by running for public office.

While I was downtown, I decided to check on my mail. I got a notice to call at the window for a package. The lady that handed my package to me seemed so familiar. Somehow I associated her with washing windows and mopping floors. Then it hit me—she was Jane Hughes! I asked her how she was doing and she told me she was so excited! She finally had been appointed postmistress of Robert Lee. I congratulated her because after all those years of hard work, she deserved a promotion.

As I was leaving the post office, a brown pickup filled with house appliances and furniture drove up. A lady with two small children got out. I immediately recognized Truda Service and her children. I was really happy to see Truda after so long but she told me she and Johnny were moving outside of San Angelo and start them a ranch. I wished her good luck and told her I had to leave.

I decided that it was time for me to leave Robert Lee and continue my search in other parts of the country. I had just two more people to look for in Robert Lee. I hunted for these two people everywhere and they just didn't seem to be around. I asked numerous people around town about Rena Mashburn but no one seemed to know anything about her. Finally I found out a little bit about where I could find her. Well, I would have liked to talk to her but someone saw her leave town in a Silver Streak of a car and I saw no more of her.

The only thing I could find out about Sheila Heck was that she had her life all Carved out for her. Don't get the idea that Sheila is all alone because her plans included another person and they are now living happily together in Kermit, Texas.

Next I made a quick stop in Washington, D. C. Man, I was getting exhausted so I decided that I would tour the White House for a refreshener. It was during this tour that I ran into Rudy Gloria. Would you believe that he has gone all the way from President of the Senior Class to President of the United States! He said his new job wasn't any different from his old one; he still had people on his back all the time. Rudy and I were having a very nice discussion when I walked his Librarian, Margie Sanchez. I asked Margie how she had gotten to be the President's librarian and she told me that Mrs. Carwile had recommended her for the job because of her training at the school library in Robert Lee. Margie seemed to like her work and I know she likes the pay because she has just bought herself a new Dodge Monaco. I knew it was time for me to be off so I wished them both good luck and headed out to continue my search.

By this time my car was pretty beaten up so I stopped off in Colorado to buy me a new car. The car salesman turned out to be Richard Bryan. It seems that all the cars were purple so I bought a purple car. Richard hadn't gotten married yet but he said life as a bachelor wasn't bad, no, not bad at all.

From here I traveled to Lubbock, Texas. It was here that I found Jamie Craig. Jamie is quite a busy lady these days. I was lucky that I found her when I did. Jamie has become leader of a band in Lubbock and hardly has any spare time. We had a very pleasant conversation in which she told me she had found the Key to Doug's heart. As we continued our conversation, she asked me if I had heard about Johnny Balderas. I said "no" so she filled me in about him. It seems Johnny has become a professor of English at Texas Tech. His specialty was themes and he always told each of his classes—"Quitters Never Win!" I was glad to hear about Johnny's success and wished I could go by and see him personally.

Before leaving Lubbock, I stopped off at the city zoo. I was strolling by the animals' cages when I came up on Becky Large. She was standing in front of the Jaguar cage as if she was in a trance. I tried to talk to her, but it was no use, so I gave up and came home.

Now that I have located each one of my classmates and know about their achievements my curiosity can settle down and quit bugging me. I am satisfied with my findings and am happy to announce that my mission is complete.

Mrs. Jack Lee Wallace

PAMELA KAY McMULLEN, JACK LEE WALLACE ARE WED SATURDAY IN ABILENE CEREMONY

Pamela Kay McMullen became the bride of Jack Lee Wallace Saturday, May 19, at 8 p.m. when they exchanged marriage vows at the Sewell Street Church of Christ in Abilene. A. C. Polk of the Farmer's Branch Church of Christ at Carrollton officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hertman L. McMullen of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallace Jr. of Robert Lee.

Candelabra and floral arrangements decorated the front of the church. A tall spiral candelabra was in the center with fern trees, arch candelabras and basket arrangements of white gladiolas, carnations and fugi mums on each side. Candles in brass holders were placed in the windows down the sides of the church.

Music was by a choral group from Abilene Christian College.

Miss McMullen was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of peau de soie with a reembroidered chantilly lace bodice, an empire waist, an over skirt of Miramist forming a short circular train, lantern sleeves with matching lace cuffs. She carried a cascade bouquet of stepanotis miniature carnations and baby's breath centered with a white japhette orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Patrick Steger of Houston, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Wallace and Susan Wallace of Robert Lee and Mrs. Jackie Smith of Gainesville, Fla., all sisters of the bridegroom. Jana McMullen, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore four length gowns of lilac titan crepe with dolman sleeves and deep purple trim at the waist. They carried rosegay bouquets of spring flowers and wore headpieces of deep purple bows and lilac net and tiny lily of the valley flowers.

Best man was Charles Bloodworth of Silver. Groomsmen were Jackie Smith of Gainesville Fla., Patrick Steger of Houston and Lonnie Bloodworth of Silver.

Ushers were Buddy Wallace, brother of the bridegroom, and Troy Millican, both of Robert Lee, and Carl Bloodworth of Valley Mills.

The reception was at the home of the bride's parents. Members of the houseparty were Miss Tina Morphis and Mrs. Larry Markham at the bride's table and Mrs. Les Cockran and Mrs. Buddy Malone at the groom's table. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Tommy Bibb and Miss Martha Campbell. Jana McMullen, sister of the bride, passed out rice bags at the reception.

For her traveling attire, the bride chose purple and white double knit sheath dress with white accessories and wore an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will live at 1624 North Fifth St., Abilene.

The bride is a graduate of Wythe High School and the Hendrick Memorial Hospital School for Medical Records Technicians. She is employed by Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Robert Lee High School and attended Angelo State University and Texas State Technical Institute in Waco. He will be employed by the Texas Highway Dept.

Are you
 renting
 land...
 when you should be
 money?

There are many good reasons why it takes some land of your own to be sure of a future in agriculture. You're always welcome to drop by our office and talk over the advantages of taking out a long-term mortgage on farm or ranch property. Right now could be the best time for you to start using borrowed money to buy land... instead of using your own money to rent or lease.

YOUNG MARINE PILOT KILLED IN CRASH

Memorial services for First Lt. Peter Kessler Williams, 24, were held May 15 in Crescent Park Baptist Church in Odessa. He was a Marine jet pilot and his plane crashed at sea while on a routine flight from the Marine Air Station at Beaufort, S. C.

Lt. Williams was born Nov. 19, 1948, in Oakland, Calif. He was a 1970 graduate of Texas A&M University.

Survivors include his wife, the former Beverly Millican, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Millican of Odessa; his parents, Cmdr. and Mrs. Peter A. Williams of Scottsdale, Ariz.; one brother, A1C Alec Williams of Scottsdale.

Among those attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Millican, Elaine and Pam Millican of Robert Lee, Jarrel Millican of Water Valley, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lacy and Mrs. Charles Blake of Houston.

Lunchroom Menu
