At 8 p.m. the timed running events will begin. These include barrel racing and pole bending.

Superintendent for the show will be Merle Griffin. Wayne Dunnam will be the announcer. Bob Gulley will be the arena director. Others who will be assisting include Gary York, Sterling Lindsey, Binks and Jerry McCutchen, Marshall and Sheri Millican, Bob Bolding, Lorene Brown, Eddie Sweeten, Jerry Parker, Wendell Lee, James Allen, Lendy Devoll, Foy Askins and Jim Skinner.

Ribbons and trophies will be presented by the Bronte and Robert Lee FFA Chapter Sweethearts, Marla Thompson and Elaine Millican.

The club members are anticipating a good show and invite the public to come and enjoy the show.

Mc's New Flag Pole Has Short Life

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McAdams are not too happy this week, and for good reason. They went to the trouble last Friday to erect a flag pole at their shop, Dawn's Floral, in keeping with Robert Lee's Bicentennial observance of flying the Stars and Stripes each day.

Over the weekend somebody knocked over the new pole and broke it off, leaving it lying nearby.

The McAdamses are offering a $25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the guilty persons.

Parker Recaptured After Prison Break

Danny Parker, 21, of Bronte was one of two inmates of the Oklahoma State penitentiary at McAlester who were captured Tuesday after their escape from the prison. Parker and Lonnie Johnson, 25, were taken into custody by a tactical squadron of the Oklahoma Highway Patrol and young female hostages they were holding were freed.

Parker is serving a term in the Oklahoma prison for forgery and was due for consideration for release in 22 months.

4-H Soil Judging Team Wins Fifth in State

Ira A. Bird

Pioneer Ira A. Bird 90 Year Old Honoree

By Mrs. Nolan Pentecost

Ira A. Bird was born Dec. 15, 1881, in a log cabin on the bank of Falls Creek eight miles from Hico in Hamilton County. When he was five years old his family moved to the part of Tom Green County which was two years later organized into Coke County. They settled near Yellow Wolf Creek in the little village of Sanco.

Mr. Bird grew up doing all the chores common to an early day family in the country. He attended a one room school, the lumber for which his father hauled in a wagon from Ballinger. When he was 17 years old he took the state examinations and received a First Grade Teacher's Certificate which was the best Teacher's Certificate at that time, and he started teaching his first school which was the Horse Mountain School north of Sanco while he was still 17.

He married Mary Maud Cosby from north of Big Spring when he was 18. When the grasshoppers ate everything in this country, even to the bark on the mesquites, they went to Big Spring where he secured a section of land by taking part in a

Mrs. Jacoby New County JP

When Mrs. W. E. (Opal) Jacoby took the oath of office of Justice of the Peace for Precinct 1 and was sworn in by County Clerk Winnie Waldrop on June 2, she became the first female judge for Coke County.

Judge Jacoby was appointed by Coke County Commissioners Court to succeed Judge Roy P. Ross who resigned the position after serving 16 years and five months as JP. Ross stated that he was resigning so he could have more time to spend with his wife who is ill with arthritis.

Mrs. Jacoby served nine years as Coke County sheriff's dispatch deputy and is familiar with requirements of a law enforcement officer. And, since the sheriff's office adjoints the justice of the peace office, she had several occasions to witness justice court trials and assist with post-trial procedures while serving as dispatch deputy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby and their two daughters moved to Robert Lee from Brady 13 years ago. Mr. Jacoby is retired from the SCS after 12 years as Chief Conservationist and now devotes his time to ranching interests.

Their two daughters are Mrs. John (Linda) Link of Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. Robert (Nancy) Jameson of Robert Lee. They have two granddaughters, Natalie and Stacie Jameson.

News from West Coke Nursing Home

By Mildred Sparks

Bertie Clift, who is 93, and Cleve Casey, who will be 91 in December with Ira A. Bird, were honored at the May Senior Citizens party. Attending from the nursing home with Bertie and Cleve were Bessie Walker, Pearl Childress, Ella Duncan, Dave Millican, Naomi Brown, Pearl Mayo, Lou Ella Bessent and Lettie McDonald. At the June party all those over eighty will be honored and we will really shine then.

Our happy birthday people this month were Viola Casey, Theodosia Smith, Mae Mullis and Naomi Brown. The Alpha Beta Phi Sorority gave us our party. They served delicious cake and punch, then stayed to play and sing for us. We thank you very much for coming.

Most of those attractive items made in Margaret Epperson's Arts and Crafts Class are sold as fast as they are made. This class meets each Tuesday except on Senior Citizens Day when we go to the party.

Our May church services were held by the following churches: Immanuel Pentecostal, Pecan Baptist, Northside Church of Christ and Robert Lee Baptist Church. Thursday is Bible study with Bro. Roy Epperson, except for an occasional replacement. Sadie Chumley was his able substitute for last Thursday.

Dominoes as usual on Wednesday with our loyal friends from Southside Church of Christ. Besides dominoes they visit and occasionally play bingo. John Gross comes again on Monday to show slides with his Bible history class, which is growing more interesting with each session. He also helped this not too successful operator to show movies of Our Gang and Laurel and Hardy. Thank you, Bro. John Gross.

For our continued enjoyment and our delight our friends from Immanuel Pentecostal Church have entertained us twice this month as well as in April. We look forward to their coming again in June.

We have no new residents to report and I can add gratefully, no departures.

The cost of not saving keeps going up.

If you need cash and you haven't saved it, you have to borrow. And that means paying through the nose to use someone else's money.

So it makes sense to put away a few dollars of your own. One great way to do just that is by purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's an easy way to build a nest egg.

Now there's a bonus interest rate on all U. S. Savings Bonds — for E Bonds, 5 3/4% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 3/4% payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds. It's a lot better to be receiving interest on your own money than paying it out on someone else's.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

land rush. While homesteading their land they lived in a half dugout where Mrs. Bird cooked their food on a cow chip fire. Later they moved back to Sanco and still later to their ranch where he has lived ever since. Mrs. Bird died in 1968.

The Birds have two daughters, Mrs. Evelyn McKinley who lives with her father, and Mrs. Nolan Pentecost who ranches with her husband near her father.

Mr. Bird has been engaged in the ranching business all of his life, and has raised registered Hereford cattle for 58 years.

He was elected and served two terms as county commissioner of Coke County. He took the lead in establishing and carrying on the Sanco Camp Meeting for 22 years, and helped sponsor an annual Christian Youth Camp at Sanco for a number of years. He has always been active in community and church work and is a member of the Evangelical Methodist Church.

Mr. Bird has continued very active and alert through his 93 years, and still operates a small part of his ranch and runs a few sheep and very few head of cattle. He drives his car around the ranch, does a little yard work, reads a lot and remains interested in everything that goes on around him. He feels that keeping busy and interested in things is one secret to living a long and satisfying life.

Now that you've retired, put your savings to work.

Trade your E Bonds for H Bonds

Bought a lot of Series E Savings Bonds over the years? Well, you probably want to keep your nest egg intact. But retirement is the time when you need some extra income.

Here's how to get that income. Just exchange your E Bonds (in cash value amounts of $500 or more) for Series H Bonds. H Bonds pay out interest every six months by Treasury check mailed right to your door, and at a rate averaging 6% annually when held to 10-year maturity.

Just the thing for retirement, when you need steady income coming in.

You'll get a tax break on the exchange, too

When you exchange your E Bonds for H Bonds, your tax liability on your accumulated E Bond interest continues to be deferred. Right up until the H Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity (there's an optional 10-year extension privilege after original maturity).

The result? You get more for your money in the exchange. And when your H Bonds are redeemed, and you finally pay your deferred E Bond tax, it's at your lower post-retirement rate.

Get income as it's earned

Steady, dependable income. Twice a year. Or, if you prefer, get interest checks every month. Just buy an H Bond a month for six consecutive months. That way, you've got a regular income guaranteed.

Purchase $500 to $5,000

Your banker has exchange (as well as new purchase) applications for H Bonds. At face values of $500, $1,000 and $5,000. There's an annual purchase limit of $10,000 ($20,000 with a co-owner), but this won't apply if you're trading in E Bonds.

H Bonds. A good way to make sure your money won't retire when you do.

Take stock in America.

Buy Series H Bonds—
now averaging 6% when held,
to maturity of 10 years.

OLDTIMER VISITS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kyle Warren of Dallas and their grandson, John Duhe of Plano, stopped by the Observer office for a visit Monday.

Mr. Warren said he was born and raised here but left in 1931. He has been back a few times since then to visit old friends and look the town over. He said he grew up with the Brown kids.

As they left the Observer office, they were on their way to see Lake Spence for the first time.

Grazing Plans Needed For High Production

By Eph Cummins
Coke County Conservationist

Most ranchers in Coke County have a grazing system whether they realize it or not. Although their systems are doing an adequate job, most systems could be improved to yield more production. One way to improve their production is to develop a planned grazing system.

A planned grazing system is a system in which two or more pastures are rested from grazing in a planned sequence through the year or during the growing season of desired plants.

The purpose of a planned grazing system is to maintain or speed up improvement in plant cover on rangeland. Grazing systems enable ranchers to use the forage on all grazing units and to improve efficiency or grazing uniformly, using all parts of each grazing unit. This insures a dependable supply of forage throughout the grazing system and improves the habitat for wildlife.

To develop a system, all factors must be considered. Factors such as the size of the operation, number of pastures, number of livestock, climate, range sites, water facilities and many others that pertain to ranching.

Ranchers in Coke County are working closely with the Soil Conservation Service and are developing a system tailored to help meet their objectives. They know the results will be more forage and more livestock production.
