Royse City filmmaker second at UIL state contest

Shelby Doroshow, a junior at Royse City High School, recently won second place in the large school division of the state UIL Festival Film contest.

Her documentary, "Behind the Curtains," was selected from 192 films entered from across the state. Her winning documentary detailed the work behind the scenes of a summer theater musical production. Doroshow interviewed the actors throughout the production.

"It's truly such an honor. I had worked on the films for eight months," Doroshow said in a news release from the school district. She, her father, and her teacher, Steve Vaughn, attended the UIL Award Ceremony in Austin last week at the Paramount Theater.

"We got to see a lot of truly incredible films, but to watch my own films on a giant screen in a historical theatre was remarkable," Doroshow said.

This is not the first award the filmmaker has won. A few weeks ago, she won second place at the Dallas Library Teen Film Contest. She has also entered the national Toyota Drive 365 contest.

"She loves to make films and enter contests, she has a new project to work on every week" said Vaughn, her advanced video production teacher at RCHS.

Last fall, Doroshow was chosen from students from across the nation to be part of a national video documentary. The title of the documentary film is "No Limits: A New View of Disability." The production is sponsored by the Student Television Network, a national organization that supports and promotes high school video production programs.

"I just finished my part of the production. The leaders of the organization have since asked me to write the script for the entire production and I also made a trailer to promote the film," said Doroshow. "I spent months collaborating with the Partners in PE class at RCHS to produce a documentary about their students and how their disabilities do not hold them back."

In a few weeks, Doroshow will travel along with all of her advanced video team to the STN national competition in Anaheim, California, where her documentary will be shown for the first time. She will compete in convention recap and documentary events at nationals.

RCTV is celebrating its 10-year anniversary this school year. Over the past 10 years, RCTV has won seven national awards from STN. Each year, RCTV attends the STN national convention where they compete against 250 other schools in video production contests.

Students in the three-level program start with an intro class and advance to the top-level classes by their junior and senior years. Past students in the program have gone on to work professionally in video production. Several former students are working for their college production teams at both Texas A&M and the University of Texas.

Couple brings teamwork to RCP's 'Wedding Singer'

"The Wedding Singer" is opening at Rockwall Community Playhouse this week with a cast that includes the husband-and-wife team of D.G. and Ashley Reeves.

Still somewhat new to Rockwall, the couple met in California at a country-western dance club about 10 years ago. D.G. was stationed with the Navy as an aviation mechanic when he met his future wife. He was a meat-eating Texas boy and she was a hippie vegetarian, but they hit it off.

D.G. credits his "good ole Texas charm" as the key to winning Ashley's heart. However, after dating for two months, D.G. was deployed to Iraq for a year. The pair got to know each other through e-mails, sporadic phone calls and rare visits.

"He actually told me over the phone that he was going to marry me before he told me that he loved me," Ashley said.

Upon his return from Iraq, the couple married in Ventura, California, and moved to Rowlett with the encouragement of D.G.'s childhood friend, who worked as a firefighter in Dallas. The couple settled into a rental and had their daughter, Ambry.

They relocated to Rockwall on Dec. 15, 2015, less than two weeks before the duplex they were living in was hit by a monster tornado on Dec. 26. The garage and master bedroom were destroyed and the room that had been their daughter's bedroom was badly damaged.

"The house next door was just gone," Ashley said. "It was a God thing that we moved to Rockwall when we did."

D.G. works as a firefighter/paramedic at Station #26 in West Oak

Cliff.

"We're pretty fortunate at our station that everyone is in their early 30s, and we all have kids the same age," D.G. said.

The crew often takes family trips together. This year they are heading to Gulf Shores, Alabama.

D.G. auditioned for "The Wedding Singer" at the urging of his wife.

"Theater is important to Ashley, so I did it to make her happy. I expected to be cast as someone who moves trees around in the background," he said. D.G.'s last role on stage was Frank N. Furter in "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" at Sam Houston State University.

"My friend and I auditioned on a dare and ended up with the two leads," he said.

The wardrobe for his "Wedding Singer" character, Glen, is much more "Miami Vice" than lingerie.

Ashley is playing Linda in the show, and she balances rehearsals with her 40-hour work week as a hair stylist in Dallas and looking after the couple's two daughters, Ambry and Gentry.

A theatre lover since her teen years in Los Angeles, Ashley did hair and make-up for "The Wizard of Oz" at the Rockwall Community Playhouse before securing lead roles in "Dirty Rotten Scoundrels," "A Grand Night for Singing" and "Love, Loss and What I Wore." She was in her first trimester of pregnancy during her role in "Scoundrels" and remembers throwing up backstage after her solos. Her daughter, Gentry, was just 3 months old when rehearsals began for "Grand Night," and Ashley brought the baby with her to rehearsals.

D.G., who works one day on and two days off at the fire station, cares for his young girls while Ashley is on stage.

"He's amazing," Ashley said. "He's very hands-on. I'll come home and he'll be wearing a tiara. He'll do anything for his girls."

D.G. is equally complimentary about his wife's ability to be there for their family.

"She's a rock star," he said.

In addition to D.G. and Ashley Reeves, director Stacey Klutz has organized a cast that includes Joseph Burnam, Molly Pope, Tatianna Valentine, Wil Maxwell, Anthony Lamas, Shannon Souddress, Tina Smith, Prosper Inverness, Tyler Riddle, Vanessa Cooley, Gene Fields, Mary Duncan, Emily Maxwell, Aiden Valentine, Brandy Fields and Gabriel Chacon.

Performances are set for March 24-26 and 31 and April 1-2 and 7-9 (Fridays/ Saturdays 8 p.m. and Sunday matinees at 2 p.m.).

Tickets can be purchased online at rockwallcommunityplayhouse.org, by calling 972-722-3399 or at the box office 30 minutes before show time.

The theater is located at 609 E. Rusk, two blocks off the square in downtown Rockwall.

Multi-family apartment complex prompts concerns, over-population and safety

Rockwall Mayor Pro Tem Mike Townsend led the regular meeting, held Monday, March 20, 2017, of the City of Rockwall, Inc.

Six individuals spoke during the open forum. Five of the speakers addressed the issue of allowing the construction of a multi-family apartment complex on Discovery Boulevard between John King Blvd and FM 3549, near Rockwall Economic Development Corporation.

Leon Tuttle explained he's been a resident of Rockwall 45 years, spoke on the issue of ordinance Z2017-001 related to a zoning change from Light Industrial District to a Planned Development District for a multi-family apartment complex located east of the intersection of Discovery Boulevard and John King Blvd.

Tuttle expressed concerns about the magnitude of the apartment project as compared to the wishes of Rockwall citizens. He briefly described a citywide activist organization that was formed during the 1980s, in order to block the city government's plans to allow the building of multi-family condos along the I-30 corridor that would increase the number of units to approximately 50%.

Jan Johnson also spoke against ordinance Z2017-001. Johnson explained she was born on a farm located north of Rockwall on Highway 205, during a time when there was no asphalt on the road. Ms. Johnson broke into tears while saying, "I'm angry about what's happened to my town." She went on to strongly say, "What you have let happen to my town, and what you're voting for now!"

Johnson said she accepted the city allowing a few restaurants and other stores setting up in her town, and instructed the council members, "we don't have the infrastructure to handle this." She expressed concerns about congested traffic issues that lead to an increase in accidents.

Johnson expanded on problematic issues related to the city's growth and the need to build more schools. She said that the council is allowing for a significant population increase resulting in more traffic and infrastructure problems.

She boldly told the council, that after five generations of her family living in her town, she has considered moving from Rockwall because of the actions of past and present councils allowing "so much growth to happen without the infrastructure to handle it."

Bob Wacker spoke in favor of more population growth in Rockwall. In support, he read two paragraphs from a document that offered the "existing conditions of the city," by the City of Rockwall. According to the document, currently Rockwall is made up of 12% multi-family units, of which 42% are 30 years old. They are high occupancy and high rental units.

Bruce Foith also spoke against ordinance Z2017-001, and described personal feelings of shock when he learned the council was planning to allow 590 units on Discovery Blvd. He noted that traffic for 590 luxury apartments would be feeding into John King Blvd or 549. He said there would be too many cars for the area.

Foith strongly questioned the decision to replace "Light Industrial" with Planned Development District for a multi-family apartment complex. He also noted the possibly increase in the number of children to approximately 1200 that would be included in the traffic, along with future students walking to school or possibly bus traffic.

Foith said he was "really disappointed" the ordinance was approved on the particular property.

Gene Lambreth of Heath spoke in favor of ordinance Z2017-001. Lambreth said he has been an owner of the property at issue for about 18 years. He said the primary interest for the property has been for multi-family apartment units because there is so much flood plain on it, that it can't be used for anything else.

Lambreth said he did not know what to do with the property if its not used for this purpose.

Dedra Rowe, owner of a business in downtown Rockwall, spoke about the issue of the downtown park and restrooms design. She expressed concerns about the design being to "contemporary," and out of line with the multi-million dollar downtown renovation design. She said, "the rendering does not reflect the same look, nor the same materials."

On God's Word

by Timothy W. Burnett

Jesus' example of sonship living ...

While reading through the accounts of Jesus' sufferings, it is only reasonable to ask why it's so important? Considering his Father raised him from the dead, and caused him to rest at His right hand of power and authority over all angels and mankind, it would seem to be irrelevant to spend time reading and learning about his encounters with the Jewish leadership and Roman government during his last days on earth.

Peter's letter brought out some extremely important truths that help to wrap our minds around this matter.

1 Peter chapter two starts by describing who God's children are, in Jesus the living Messiah and Son of the Creator. It describes where they stand as God's children.

It says in verse 2, "As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that you may grow thereby: If so be you have tasted that the Lord is gracious."

Next, we see the contrast between they who believe reasonable milk of God's word, and they who are disobedient to the words of truth.

The disobedient refers to people who do not believe the words about Jesus' death and resurrection. In context, it related to the Jews who were disobedient to the truth even after Jesus was raised from the dead. They were the same people who arranged for his death.

In verse 9 it perfectly describes God's people, "But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that you should show forth the praises of Him who has called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

Next, it says that as "strangers, we are to abstain from fleshly lusts. This is not primarily about sexual attraction, but about all things that people passionately lust for in life.

In the united States of America, many people are rightfully passionate about freedom and politics, but are soon drawn away from the spiritual matters of liberty that is in our Lord Jesus.

Opinions

Crises in America

by Timothy Buchanan
BarbWire

Just 60 days into his term as president, Donald Trump has brought to the attention of the public serious problems that must be rectified for the welfare of the nation. These are serious and troubling problems that are egregious, dangerous and unacceptable in the United States of America. Ultimately, correcting them will require a national outcry to shut them down.

Security Leaks

Since the November election, we have witnessed the illegal and criminal release of classified information by NBC and other news media. On January 5, 2017, NBC's Lester Holt broadcast information about a Top Secret Intelligence report prior to its presentation to president-elect Trump. Classified information about conversations involving General Flynn were illegally leaked by U.S. intelligence agencies to the media.

Just last week, MSNBC's Rachel Maddow illegally showed President Trump's 2005 federal income tax return, and on Friday, March 17th, NBC reported details of the Pentagon's Secret plan to defeat ISIS, requested by the president. Each of these leaks is a felony punishable by a prison sentence.

Contrary to the opinion of the media, the Constitution's First Amendment freedom of the press does not shield criminals who violate federal law. These leaks of classified and confidential personal information are dangerous breaches of the rule of law that cannot be tolerated. When national defense information is compromised, all Americans are put at great risk. The lives of our military men and women are maliciously put in grave danger by this lawlessness.

Judicial Corruption

Scripture warns, "You shall not pervert justice; you shall not show partiality"; yet, our courts are full of corrupt judges who supplant the Constitution with their personal political viewpoints. From U.S. District Judge James Robart in Washington to Judge Derrick Watson in Hawaii, both of whom have moved to pervert justice with reckless militant liberal kookery, our courts are in a shambles.

The Constitution gives every U.S. president unilateral authority to block anyone from entering the United States who he decides may pose a threat to national security or safety for any reason or no reason. Both of these reprobate judges have seized for themselves authority that they are not provided under the Constitution or in any federal statute. Congress has oversight of the courts, but has been reluctant to use that role to rid U.S. courts of judges who violate or exceed their authority.

Some may say that judicial activism cuts both ways—that conservative judges abuse their positions in a similar way—but it's a false charge. While their perspectives certainly differ from liberals, conservative judges, out of respect for the Constitution and their reputations, restrain themselves from taking on power to which they are not entitled.

Media Malpractice

In the past two months, America's news media have reported numerous false news stories repeatedly, even after they have been debunked. One of these is the so-called Russian election hacking. The origin of this fake story was the false and malicious accusation by Democrat candidate, Hillary Clinton, and nothing more.

The computers of the Democrat National Committee were not hacked. Rather, they were invaded through the negligence of Clinton pal, John Podesta, through a simple phishing scheme. Podesta fell victim to an email scam whereby he was directed to change his password. When he made the change, his password was stolen. Nevertheless, our national news media, which has become as credible in recent weeks as the Politburo in the former Soviet Union, repeated this lie incessantly through implication and deceit.

America has an informational crisis today. Sources of information that should be reliable are no longer trustworthy. Through numerous methods and schemes, they present carefully worded false information to the public. The radical liberal viewpoint habitually dominates every news story or is delivered to the exclusion of every sensible alternative.

President Trump was roundly criticized for pronouncing that the news media is the enemy of the American people, but he was right—they are the most pernicious of national security foes, deceiving the very people they pretend to inform. Destructive anti-American propaganda has replaced journalism and honest news reporting.

Because the media has violated the trust of the people, new media sources are replacing them, doing the jobs they refuse to do.

Required Notices

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST

Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC ("Oncor") publishes this notice that on March 17, 2017, Oncor filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") its Petition and Statement of Intent to Change Rates, a copy of which is kept at Oncor's office at 1616 Woodall Rogers Freeway, Dallas, Texas 75202. This notice is being published pursuant to Commission Procedural Rule 22.51(a)(1).

Oncor's rate filing, based on the system-wide financial results for a 12-month test year ending on December 31, 2016, adjusted for known and measurable changes, supports a net increase in transmission and distribution rates of approximately $317 million over adjusted test-year revenues, or approximately a 7.5% increase over adjusted test-year revenues of $4,214.2 million. Test-year revenues have been adjusted to normalize billing units, to remove the revenues associated with Oncor's Energy Efficiency Cost Recovery Factor, and to increase test-year revenues to reflect Transmission Cost of Service ("TCOS") and Transmission Cost Recovery Factor ("TCRF") adjustments. TCOS revenue was adjusted to include the September 15, 2016 interim update rates at 2016 Option 2 ERCOT 4CP. TCRF revenue was adjusted to equal the March 1, 2017 TCRF revenue requirement reflected on Line 2, Attachment A of Oncor's petition filed and approved in Docket No. 46616. If approved, the increased rates will be charged to Oncor's direct customers, all retail electric providers ("REPs"), in those portions of Oncor's service area under the original jurisdiction of the Commission. Each such REP is potentially affected by the proposed change. Depending on the REPs' actions, the end-use customer classes of such REPs are potentially affected by the proposed change. In addition, the result could be a change in Oncor's transmission cost of service rates, which would impact all load serving entities in the Electric Reliability Council of Texas. Oncor has requested an April 21, 2017 effective date for its proposed rate change.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings, in Docket No. 46957, Application of Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC for Authority to Change Rates, should notify the Commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Commission at (512) 936-7120 or (888) 782-8477. Hearing- and speech-impaired individuals with text telephones (TTY) may contact the Commission at (512) 936-7136. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is 45 days after the date the application was filed with the Commission.

Rockwall regular meeting ...

Rowe was disappointed that the city did not solicit input from the downtown merchants.

Foith came back to the podium to request a filibuster rule, and spoke to Lambreth's comments. Foith did not agree that there were no other options due to flood plain issues as expressed by Lambreth, and that commercial property could be built on the same land with more dirt used to solve the flood plain problem.

Councilman David White moved to approve ordinance Z2017-001, and Dennis Lewis seconded the motion. After the second, Lewis continued to offer discussion about his opinion that there is a need for more multi-family apartments in Rockwall.

Lewis addressed Foith's concerns about the safety of children by indicating that his children had to cross Highway 66 while walking to Reinhardt Elementary School. He went on to say that although he understands the concerns of child safety, we vote in favor of the ordinance.

Upon final approval, it is unknown whether the city will comply with state law related to publication of the required notice for ordinance Z2017-001.

The ordinance passed 4-2 upon the second reading, with Scott Milder and Kevin Fowler casting the opposing votes.

In other business, the council:

- Approved an amendment to the sign ordinance Section 32-366 Functional Standards Table.

- Approved 5-1, ordinance Z2017-004 to amend Section 4 Specific Use Permits to establish general regulations related to abandonment, expiration and revocation of Specific Use Permits, and expiration of period of one year for all Specific Use Permits and Conditional Use Permits issued by the City that are inactive, abandoned or pending. White cast the opposing vote.

- Approved the Fire Department Strategic Plan. John Hohenshelt spoke to the council about his involvement with the strategic plan. Hohenshelt expressed his disappointment with the City Manager Richard Crowley and Fire Chief Mark Poindexter for delays in establishing the strategic plan. He indicated that it's been nearly 18 months since start of the project. He went on to express a lack of understanding about why all the other departments completed the same task last calendar year. Milder agreed with Hohenshelt's concerns, and recommend passing on the agenda item until the next meeting.

- Approved authorizing the City Manager and the Fire Chief enter into an agreement with Medic Rescue Inc. as Rockwall County EMS, to allow the Fire Department to become a First Responder Organization.

- Approved the downtown park and restrooms design and funding. White moved to approve the design that was approved. The council then approved the funding.

- Approved a budget amendment for expenditure from the City's Tree Mitigation Fund in the amount of $36,000 to purchase and install landscaping materials in existing beds and medians, due to loss of foliage during recent drastic temperature changes and other damage.

- Approved appointments to fill a vacancy on the city's Architectural Review Board. The appointment will be filled by John Womble who will serve the remaining term to August 2018.
